Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that an NCIC check be made in certain instances prior to the destruction of field files and records. It appears that your proposal is adequately covered in the Manual of Rules and Regulations which currently provides that files may be retained if required for evidentiary, intelligence, historical, or other reference purposes.

Although favorable action was not taken in this instance, the interest you expressed in submitting your idea to me is appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE: Suggests, in connection with the destruction of field files and records in those instances where an auxiliary office determines one of the subjects was a fugitive at the time the case was RUC'd, an NCIC check be made to determine if the subject is still in a fugitive status prior to destruction of the file. If subject still a fugitive, a copy of the printout should be placed in the file and it be retained intact for six more months. The Manual of Rules and Regulations currently provides that investigative files in all classifications in auxiliary offices may be destroyed when six months old provided the files are of no continuing value for evidence, intelligence, historical, or other reference purpose. Accordingly, an auxiliary office file wherein the subject(s) is still in a fugitive status has continuing value and should not be automatically destroyed merely because it is six months old. Training Division is of the opinion that suggestion not be adopted. Views attached.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that the FD-479 (Files and Records Destruction Order) be changed from white to pink, as with the FD-237 (Criminal Informant Review Sheet) or some other color not commonly used.

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

FD-479 is currently on plain white paper.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Use of FD-479 of a color not commonly used would enable it to act as a divider between individual files within a consolidated volume and would therefore allow a certain file within a consolidated volume to be more readily located.

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:dgc 8/24/76)

Attached suggestion from the Norfolk Office proposes that form FD-479 (Files and Records Destruction Order) be printed on colored paper. Suggester feels that the colored form would enhance the effort of locating a file within a consolidated volume.

OBSERVATIONS:

Currently many of our forms are printed in various colors and are located throughout the file(s). It therefore appears that to print form FD-479 on colored paper as suggested would serve no useful purpose and in fact would only be making change for the sake of change. Records Systems and Training Unit is of the opinion that the significance of suggestion does not warrant consideration for adoption.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend suggestion not be adopted.

SUBJECT: WARTIME INFORMATION SECURITY PROGRAM (WISP)
Destruction of Bureau Records - General

PURPOSE:

To have placed in instant file obsolete materials returned from Quantico until such time as they may be destroyed.

DETAILS:

In connection with emergency planning, and specifically with captioned program, formerly known as "Censorship Planning," certain materials for use in time of emergency were pre-positioned at Quantico. Included in these materials were "DAYREP" forms. A DAYREP was a form designed to record pertinent information concerning individuals involved in espionage and/or considered likely to be conduits for communication with hostile countries during wartime, for their possible inclusion on emergency watch lists. It has been determined that past arrangements for such action are no longer operative. Bureau letter 8/4/76 instructed Quantico to return the DAYREPs to FBIHQ for inclusion in instant file; they should be destroyed when the moratorium on the destruction of records relating to security matters is lifted. Quantico returned attached materials by routing slip dated 8/20/76. The enclosed materials are "~~Top Secret~~."

ACTION:

Records Management Division will file attached materials in this file until destruction is permissible.

SUBJECT: STATUS OF DESTRUCTION of Bureau OF FBIHQ RECORDS - General

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to keep the Director informed of the progress in the file destruction program of the Records Management Division.

DETAILS:

Since the partial removal of the Congressional restrictions on destruction of FBI records, the Records Management Division has resumed routine destruction tasks in those categories that have been approved by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). In accordance with the existing Congressional restrictions, the Bureau is still prohibited from destroying any material pertaining to domestic intelligence matters, extremist matters, racial matters, and foreign counterintelligence matters. Approval, however, is in the process of being obtained to destroy duplicate copies of this material providing they do not contain action statements on any particular copy that is not also on the original copy.

Since the resumption of our routine destruction we have destroyed the equivalent of 200 file cabinets of material that has been microfilmed. We must, however, maintain the microfilm copy of these records. This is a space saving expedient for those records that are relatively inactive. This basically applies to criminal cases that have been closed for more than 10 years.

There is attached for your information the categories of records that are scheduled for destruction and the approximate volume of records in each of the categories. We are giving this matter priority attention in order to properly dispose of obsolete material. In order to accomplish the destruction of the material indicated on the enclosure, except that which pertains to personnel records, it is extimated it will take approximately 6 months utilizing about 50 employees for these duties. For the destruction of material relating to Out-of-Service personnel files it is estimated it will take approximately 3 years for 30 employees since more detailed analysis is required for this material.

In addition to administrative and correspondence files this represents our basic Archival authority for FBIHQ records. As you know, our Records RetentionPlan is being reevaluated and each FBIHQ Division is recommending retention guidelines relative to their respective responsibilities. You will be advised separately regarding the analysis of the Records Retention Plan.

PURPOSE: To set forth for the assistance of the Records Management Division (RMD) comments and suggestions of the Intelligence Division (INTD) relating to the retention of files within the purview or the responsibility of INTD.

SYNOPSIS: INTD concurs with RMD contention that re-evaluation of retention requirements of FBIHQ file material is warranted. In addition to cost factors, indefinite retention of internal security/intelligence files deters our ability to extract and utilize file material relevant to current internal security/intelligence needs. Retention period as pertains to files in INTD work should be measured from the date of the last significant material in the file as opposed to date file administratively closed. It is also suggested RMD establish a system to appropriately flag files by category to indicate tentative date of destruction.

RECOMMENDATION: That this memorandum be referred to the RMD for its use and its proposed presentation to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for approval.

Memorandum to Mr. T. W. Leavitt
Re: Destruction of FBI Files

DETAILS: INTD concurs with RMD contention, as set forth in memorandum to Mr. Jenkins from A. J. Decker, Jr., dated 6/7/76 that a current re-evaluation of retention requirements of FBI file material is warranted. In addition to increasingly prohibited cost factors, our present indefinite retention of insignificant and less significant file material at FBIHQ deters our ability to readily extract and utilize file material relevant to our current investigative and intelligence responsibilities. While INTD generally supports the concept of systematic destruction of certain categories of files after periods of specified retention, the comments and suggestions set forth herein relate only to files/records within the purview of the INTD as relates to its investigative/intelligence responsibilities.

It should be noted in the instance of criminal-type substantive investigations customarily the period of file retention commences when the case is administratively closed. In the area of internal security/counterintelligence responsibilities, where investigations are frequently of an open end case with future analytical value, the retention period should be measured from the date of the last filed material recording relevant activity. It should be pointed out there are instances where files have been opened to administer or record intelligence-type material for over 30 years and these files are still utilized.

Policy Files - Current experience with Congressional investigative and oversight committees has demonstrated the necessity of indefinite retention of policy material such as that dealing with statutory interpretations, executive orders and directives, Department instruction, jurisdiction, certain liaison matters, particularly relating to internal security/extremist/counterintelligence investigations. This material must continue to be indefinitely maintained and where practical it should be segregated from files primarily regarding substantive investigations.

Material of Historical Significance - The retention of material based on its possible future historical value is basically a judgment decision, subject to critical hindsight. However, files relating to notorious individuals and highly publicized investigations (the Silvermaster ring, Rosenberg case, Hiss case, Colonel Abel investigation, certain Communist Party leaders such as William Z. Foster and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn), outlining unique or unorthodox investigative/counterintelligence techniques and those relating to key sources, defectors, illegals, intelligence personalities, should be indefinitely retained. In addition to the possible future need of this material for analytical research purposes, files of this nature regularly contain information of a policy and historical significance.

Termination of Intelligence Significance - Social-political factors may alleviate the need for the retention of specific files in whole areas of foreign intelligence interest. For example, with few exceptions, almost all the extensive FBI file holdings on World War II German American, Japanese-American, Nazi, Bund, Custodian Detention and Alien Control matters, could be immediately destroyed without harm to our ongoing or future intelligence needs. Also, excepting those of historical interest, files relating to our investigative/intelligence interests in South America and Central America during World War II (Special Investigative Services) could be destroyed based upon the radically altered social/political alignments.

On the other hand, many of our files dealing with personalities and organizations concerned with Soviet intelligence activities are vital to our analytical intelligence needs as long as the Soviet-bloc presents a military-economic-political intelligence threat to our internal security interests.

Files on Individuals - As regards the internal security-counterintelligence areas, files on individuals may be divided into three basic categories for retention purposes.

1. Investigations where derogatory information was not developed or insignificant to warrant expanded investigative scrutiny (destroy in five years), except in foreign counterintelligence matters (destroy in 20 years.)

2. Investigations where derogatory information has been developed but not deemed of prosecutive or continuing intelligence need (would include rank-and-file members of subversive/extremist groups) (destroy in 10 years).

3. Investigations with significant prosecutive or ongoing intelligence interest. These would include top functionaries and activists of certain subversive/extremist groups (destroy after 20 years or longer if any indication of historical or future analytical value). Known and suspected intelligence officers and important intelligence agents should be retained indefinitely.

It is believed a policy should be developed whereby significant information relating to subversive/extremist involvement of individuals could be, where practical, incorporated into organizational or topical files so appropriate indexing may be effected to meet future possible requirements under Executive Order 10450 (security-loyalty matters).

Organizational Files - Excepting instances where derogatory information is lacking or not confirmed, our files on subversive/extremist organizations and organizations of foreign counterintelligence interest should be retained for a period of 20 years and longer in the event they are deemed to have historical or future analytical value.

Informant, Source, Asset Files - Where an individual is considered for informant, source, asset use and subsequently not used or used on a restrictive basis, it is suggested the file be retained for only 10 years, unless unusual circumstances dictate otherwise.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this memorandum is to set forth the Office of Planning and Evaluation's (OPE) response to memorandum of A. J. Decker, Jr. to Mr. Jenkins, dated 8/2/76 in which it was requested that each FBIHQ Division review that memorandum to determine if a twenty-year searching criteria, as set forth in that memorandum can be established.

DETAILS

OPE defers to the user Divisions, the disposition of files pertaining to both investigative and administrative records.

OPE does feel that relative to file destruction perhaps consideration should be given to the management area involving file duplication throughout the FBI, plus the potential historical value of FBI investigative and administrative records.

August 24, 1976

To: A. J. Decker

Reference is made to the memorandum dated August 2, 1976, from A. J. Decker, Jr., to Mr. Jenkins captioned "Destruction of FBI Files." That memorandum recommended that each FBIHQ Division furnish a response to the Records Management Division by September 1, 1976, to the following two proposals:

(1) Twenty-year limit with regard to standard searches of Bureau Indices.

The External Affairs Division foresees no problems in the Records Management Division's adoption of such a 20-year policy regarding standard searches of Bureau Indices. On infrequent occasions, such as in handling inquiries concerning the "Gangster Era of the 1930s" or World War II espionage cases, it will be necessary for us to request the Service Unit to extend its search of Bureau Indices beyond the 20-year limit. However, the 20-year limit is entirely adequate for the vast majority of Indices searches for matters handled by the External Affairs Division.

(2) Destruction of certain categories of file material.

The External Affairs Division agrees that the majority of FBIHQ files could be destroyed either 10 years or 20 years after the last investigative report or other substantive item (such as a memorandum to the Justice Department) in those files. Exceptions to the general 10-year or 20-year destruction rule would be:

(1) Files of continuing administrative value, such as those relating to policy matters, FBI organizational changes, Departmental Orders, Presidential Directives, and the like.

1 - Mr. Moore

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED 5-19-81 BY 6383 VRT/ar

(2) Files pertaining to matters of continuing interest to authors, historians, and other citizens. These include files regarding notorious criminal gangs and gangsters of the 1920s and '30s; major espionage investigations of World War I and World War II; the 1950 Boston Brink's Robbery; widely publicized civil rights-type cases of the 1950s and '60s; and a limited number of other investigative matters concerning which inquiries are received virtually year after year.

(3) Matters of continuing controversy such as the Sacco-Vanzetti case, the alleged forewarning to the FBI about the Japanese plans to bomb Pearl Harbor; FBI wiretap policies and authority over the years; etc.

(4) The substantive case file for convicted persons who, it can reasonably be believed, are still serving their sentences in Federal penal institutions. As was exemplified by Kathryn Kelly (who was released on appeal bond in 1958 after being sentenced to life imprisonment in 1933 for kidnaping--and remains free), appeals requiring access to such substantive case files may be pressed at virtually any time by inmates of Federal penal institutions.

The External Affairs Division also assumes that ample notice will be given to appropriate Congressional Committees, to the Attorney General, and to the public prior to the institution of any new policies or procedures with respect to destruction of FBI files. Such public notice will serve to muffle, but not entirely silence, complaints and criticisms that the FBI is destroying files in order to circumvent the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts and/or to prevent disclosure of illegal acts committed by FBI Agents.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

Reference memorandum dated 8-2-76 from Mr. Decker to Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Steel to Mr. Fehl memorandum dated 6-30-76.

PURPOSE: To set forth the views of the Special Investigative Division relative to changing retention periods for Bureau files and proposed 20-year standards for searching.

SYNOPSIS: The Organized Crime Section would require an examination of some of its files on a case-by-case basis prior to destruction and would not object to a 20-year searching standard if exceptions were permitted. The Fugitive Section also approves 20-year standards for searching and file destruction programs, with major cases being examined by the substantive division. Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section opposes 20-year destruction of applicant-type files and would approve 20-year standards for searching with reservation to extend that period on a case-by-case basis as necessary. The 20-year destruction standard conflicts with a proposed Executive Order to replace EO 10450. The proposed draft, Section 13, (e) (iv), provides retention periods of 15 and 25 years after active investigation.

DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

RECOMMENDATION: That any guidelines regarding destruction be written in conjunction with Department of Justice standards under study, with the recent draft of the Executive Order to replace EO 10450, and with discretion in the substantive division to except certain files as necessary. "CONTINUED OVER"

DETAILS: The Organized Crime Section has no objection to a 20-year searching criterion for name searching and file review functions except where specifically requested.

With respect to the destruction of nonsubstantive, 92-AR files, it is suggested that, prior to their destruction, Organized Crime Section personnel should review these files to determine if they have extraordinary historical value and, should be retained indefinitely. The establishment of definitive criteria for the destruction of nonsubstantive 92-AR files is not possible, and any decision to destroy such files must be made by Organized Crime Section personnel on a case-by-case basis.

The Fugitive Section believes that the proposed 20-year searching standard as explained in referenced memorandum could be established without seriously hampering its investigative effectiveness. Of course, files of major investigations should not be destroyed without the approval of the substantive division.

FBI Headquarters is Office of Origin in applicant-type investigations and thus is the only location where results of complete background applicant-type investigations can be obtained.

In background applicant-type investigations numerous occasions arise where an individual has transferred to another agency or where update investigation is necessary to further evaluate continuing security clearances. The results of investigation conducted 15 years ago could not be duplicated due to lapse of time, destruction of files by other agencies and organizations, and inability to locate and interview persons who may still be able to comment or who are now deceased.

In connection with investigations under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 as amended, it is known that the security file maintained by the Energy Research Development Administration and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission is destroyed after 10 years if the individual has not continued employment in an area requiring "Q" clearance. In view of this, when an individual again is employed and requires "Q" clearance, the only current investigation would be an update investigation and copies of prior reports would again be forwarded to ERDA - NRC.

"CONTINUED OVER"

Early destruction of investigative results in applicant-type cases would be more costly than retention and storage of such material at Headquarters level.

Further, the collection of background information by the field is influenced by numerous retention policies of corporations, educational institutions, and public sources. Some organizations retain records for only a few years while others keep them in dead storage and prefer not to search them unless a special situation exists. Thus, much background information collected in early investigations would be irretrievable during a current inquiry.

The Department of Justice is currently studying the overall retention guidelines problem. Our efforts to define retention periods must be consistent with formulated guidelines.

A proposed Executive Order to replace EO 10450 provides in Section 13, (e) (iv), that "investigation reports prepared as provided by this Order shall be destroyed fifteen years after the last investigative activity unless they contain significant adverse information in which case they shall be retained twenty five years after the last investigative activity." The standard for file destruction should be prepared in recognition of this draft.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

PURPOSE:

To set forth the position of the counterintelligence sections of the Intelligence Division (INTD) and the internal security sections of the General Investigative Division (GID) regarding proposed new criteria for destruction of FBI file material and name searching.

SYNOPSIS:

INTD counterintelligence sections and GID internal security sections met on 8/18/76 concerning proposals to establish new file destruction and name search policies which were discussed in Decker to Jenkins memorandum, dated 8/2/76, (a copy of which is attached). All sections agreed that informant files pertaining to counterintelligence and internal security classifications should not be destroyed on an accelerated basis.

Internal security sections agreed that proposals for destruction of file material and a 20-year name search criteria which were set out in Decker to Jenkins memorandum, dated 8/2/76, were acceptable.

Counterintelligence sections agreed that indefinite retention of foreign counterintelligence file material and unrestricted name search were best for them.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the policy of indefinite retention of all FBI foreign counterintelligence file material be continued.

DETAILS:

On 8/18/76 a meeting of representatives of each section of the counterintelligence branch of the INTD and of the internal security branch of the GID was held regarding proposals set forth in Decker to Jenkins memorandum, dated 8/2/76, concerning the establishment of new criteria for file destruction and name searching.

Counterintelligence sections and internal security sections agreed that informant files should not be destroyed on an accelerated basis. The reasoning for retention of these files can be located in the addendum of the INTD to the Bailey to Decker memorandum, dated 6/21/76, captioned "Destruction of Field Informant Files" (a copy of which is attached).

CONTINUED - OVER

Internal security sections agreed that the proposals for destruction of file material and the 20-year name search criteria set out in Decker to Jenkins memorandum, dated 8/2/76, were acceptable to them. However, both sections noted that the applicant sections of Division 9 and Division 3 would be affected by such a change and should be consulted prior to establishing new destruction policies.

All INTD counterintelligence sections agreed that indefinite retention of foreign counterintelligence file material and unrestricted name search was the most desirable policy for them. Counterintelligence information may be collected in some cases and retained a number of years before it can be exploited. There does not appear to be a way in which we could readily segregate potentially valuable file material from that which has little or no potential value.

RE: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

Certain criteria for the destruction of obsolete file material in various categories follow:

1. A 20-year retention policy for files is feasible except for those having historical value because of high publicized investigations.

2. Exceptions to the 20-year destruction policy would be of those violations wherein a heinous crime such as murder is carried in the case character.

3. Each Division should be canvassed to identify those files of historical value.

The Civil Rights Section submits the following criteria for files which they supervise:

1. FBIHQ Investigative File - should be destroyed at such times as prosecution is barred by the Statute of Limitations, i.e., after 5 years, unless an appeal is pending. It is observed that copies of all reports reviewed by the Civil Rights Section are maintained in the office of origin and are also furnished to the Department. Bulet 4/27/76 instructed all field offices to maintain investigative files for 10 years.

2. Policy Files - should be kept indefinitely: subject to a stringent review by the Civil Rights Section every 5 years as to necessity for further retention.

3. Files of Historical Interest - a determination should be made by the Civil Rights Section when investigation is concluded as to whether a particular file is considered of historical significance. Thereafter, any files so retained should be reconsidered every 5 years. When such files are determined no longer of historical value, they should be destroyed with the concurrence of the National Archives as required by law.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

Reference Decker to Jenkins memorandum dated 8/2/76 requesting that each FBIHQ Division to: (1) determine if a 20-year file-searching criterion can be established; and (2) determine if the criteria for destruction of obsolete file material can be more clearly defined.

A survey of the Administrative Services Division disclosed that a 20-year searching criterion would pose no foreseeable problems as long as provision is made for special search requests for more than 20 years. Insofar as file destruction is concerned, since this would affect the various Sections in the Division in different ways, individual comments for each Section are set forth below.

Data Processing Section

The Data Processing Section (DPS) reiterates its position of deferring the formulation of a file destruction policy to the user Divisions.

The Intelligence Division's suggestion that file covers be flagged to indicate the proposed category and date of destruction should be considered along with the suggestion offered by DPS in its previous response on this matter. At that time, DPS indicated that the File Automated Control System (FACS) would offer the Records Management Division an excellent means of administering file destruction policy. The FACS system can be programmed to give automatic notification of when a file should be reviewed and/or destroyed. Furthermore, the automated General Indices system can also be programmed to purge all index records pertaining to those files which are to be destroyed.

National Crime Information Center Section

The National Crime Information Center (NCIC) Section has no objection to the proposal that FBIHQ searching be limited to file material generated since 1956 as no NCIC data existed prior to that date.

NCIC matters, which could reasonably be considered to be of historical interest beyond a ten or twenty-year period, are NCIC-related internal memoranda and correspondence with the Attorney General or the Deputy Attorney General relating to the establishment of policy.

Printing and Space Management Section

The proposals as set forth are reflective of our stated needs, in the area of administrative files relating to policy, contracts, etc., that might be needed for future reference to protect the financial, legal and other rights of the Government, being retained.

Our concern at this time must turn to the destruction of those files to be no longer retained and the index cards to be eliminated.

Current confidential trash destruction is performed within this Section, utilizing three personnel of the Printing, Warehousing and Supply Unit. The average daily volume handled, during the normal eight-hour workday, aggregates (at 750 pounds per hour) three tons or 756 tons annually over 252 workdays. The destruction of the 46 million index cards alone will approximate 104 tons over the current annual amount, equating with the need to destroy an additional one-half ton per day. This could only be accomplished by utilizing the facility on an overtime basis each day, at an estimated salary cost of $41.13 each day or $2,880 for six months. In addition, reimbursable costs for energy requirements and transporting the end product would increase. This estimate is for the destruction of the index cards alone.

The cost of destruction of the files will not be hazarded at this point as no base exists against which to estimate the volume involved. With this essential input of the Records Management Division, such an estimate, for personnel, time and costs, may be determined. Needless to say, this will be a monumental task and will of necessity require planning to effect the necessary destruction.

Memorandum for Mr. McDermott
Re: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

Property Procurement and Management Section

This Section believes that its needs are adequately provided for under the exception which is stated in the referenced memorandum as follows: "Generally it is agreed that certain administrative files relating to policy, contracts, etc., should be maintained because they document various policies and procedures regarding the transaction of public business and are needed for future reference to protect the financial and legal rights of the Government."

Uniform Crime Reporting Section

The Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Section relies on FBI files primarily for correspondence purposes. This Section responds to numerous inquiries for crime statistics by the general public and relies heavily on Bureau files to identify instances of prior correspondence, as well as background on the individuals making the inquiry. The UCR Section is in agreement that a 20-year searching criteria regarding matters relating to UCR within its correspondence responsibility is acceptable.

The "33" classification relates to UCR matters aside from general correspondence. On a periodic basis, the UCR Section has been requested by the Records Management Division to review and purge historical volumes of this classification. Contained within the UCR main file are memoranda and other documents relating to the policy, press releases, and other matters of historical import connected with the UCR Program. The initial volume of the 33 classification was created in 1930 and there are currently 235 volumes assigned to the classification. However, it should be noted the volumes up through 1950 are quite thin as extensive purging has been completed to that historical point. Matters relating to UCR from a policy and historical development standpoint contained within the 33 classification should remain the responsibility of the UCR Section for purging and destruction purposes appropriately coordinated with the Records Management Division.

RECOMMENDATION: That this memorandum be referred to the Records Management Division.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF Bureau Records - General
FBI FILES

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memorandum is to: (1) set forth the responses by other FBIHQ Divisions relative to my memorandum regarding captioned matter dated 6/7/76, (2) propose a new searching criteria of 20 years as a result of the basic analysis from these responses, and (3) set forth observations and recommendations of the destruction of certain categories of file material based upon the responses received from the substantive divisions.

SYNOPSIS: FBIHQ Divisions have provided a response regarding the destruction of file material relating to their respective areas of responsibility. Generally it is agreed that certain administrative files relating to policy, contracts, etc. should be maintained because they document various policies and procedures regarding the transaction of public business and are needed for future reference to protect the financial and legal rights of the Government. Additionally, policy files relating to various investigative matters, organizational files, certain major cases, and those files that have historical significance should be maintained. However, the various divisions indicate there are areas where a more realistic retention period could be established for investigative files and that obsolete material should be destroyed. Generally, files in criminal categories could be considered for destruction after they are 10 years old. Because of social-political factors, files relating to World War II activities could be considered for destruction. Files relating to internal security-extremist matters without foreign involvement such as Klan, Minutemen, Nation of Islam, Black Panther Party, antiriot and bombing matters could be considered for destruction after they are 10 years old. Certain organized crime files could be considered for destruction on a 10 or 20 year basis. The criteria regarding these matters must be more fully defined and developed in order to more readily identify obsolete material that can be considered for destruction. Generally, there was little or no need advanced for material more than 20 years old and, therefore, a new searching criteria is being proposed that would limit all FBIHQ searching to file material established from 1956 or within the past 20 years. A 20 year searching criteria, except for FOIPA matters and where specifically requested otherwise, would greatly streamline name searching and file review functions and could result in some immediate economies in the range of 50 employees or an approximate amount of $400,000 per year. Each FBIHQ Division is being requested to respond to the proposed 20 year searching criteria and to provide data that would be helpful to more specifically define and establish a criteria for file destruction in order that positive steps can be taken at the earliest possible time to seek the destruction of obsolete material from our files.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That each FBIHQ Division review this memorandum in detail to determine if a 20 year searching criteria can be established as set forth in the Details. You should direct your response to the Records Management Division by September 1, 1976, regarding this matter.

2. The substantive FBIHQ Divisions should review the material in this memorandum carefully to determine if the criteria for the destruction of obsolete file material in various categories can be more clearly defined so additional positive steps can be taken to seek its destruction. You should provide your response regarding this matter to the Records Management Division by September 1, 1976.

DETAILS:

RESPONSES BY ALL FBIHQ DIVISIONS
RELATIVE TO FILE DESTRUCTION

My memorandum of 6/7/76 proposed that each FBIHQ Division submit justification for the retention of files in their respective areas of responsibility for periods beyond 10 and 20 years or to suggest other retention periods. The substantive divisions basically involved include Division V, the Intelligence Division; Division VI, the General Investigative Division; and Division IX, the Special Investigative Division. Other divisions also provide comments relative to this matter. Summaries of the comments from nonsubstantive divisions that have responded to this matter follow.

II Training Division

The Training Divison suggested that the field be canvassed and consulted on the value of investigative files beyond a 10 or 20 year retention period.

XI Legal Counsel Division

The Legal Counsel Division questions the wisdom of destroying background investigations or counterintelligence files in 10 years or less. To do so denies the intelligence value of the information and undermines the Bureau's position with regard to the need for such investigations.

XII Administrative Services Division

The Administrative Services Division defers to the user divisions the disposition of investigative records. They indicate there are certain administrative files relating to policy, contracts, etc. that should be kept for longer than a 10 or 20 year period because it documents various policies and procedures regarding the transaction of public business and might be needed for future reference to protect the financial, legal, and other rights of the Government.

Comments from the substantive divisions who have the direct responsibility for investigative matter are listed below in the detail in which they were provided.

The following are the comments of Division V, the Intelligence Division.

The Intelligence Division concurs with the Records Management Division contention, as set forth in memorandum to Mr. Jenkins from A. J. Decker, Jr., dated 6/7/76 that a current reevaluation of retention requirements of FBI file material is warranted. In addition to increasingly prohibited cost factors, our present indefinite retention of insignificant and less significant file material at FBIHQ deters our ability to readily extract and utilize file material relevant to our current investigative and intelligence responsibilities. While the Intelligence Division generally supports the concept of systematic destruction of certain categories of files after periods of specified retention, the comments and suggestions set forth herein relate only to files/records within the purview of the Intelligence Division as it relates to its investigative/intelligence responsibilities.

It should be noted in the instances of criminal-type substantive investigations customarily the period of file retention commences when the case is administratively closed. In the area of internal security/counterintelligence responsibilities, where investigations are frequently of an open end case with future analytical value, the retention period should be measured from the date of the last filed material recording relevant activity. It should be pointed out there are instances where files have been opened to administer or record intelligence-type material for over 30 years and these files are still utilized.

Policy Files - Current experience with Congressional investigative and oversight committees has demonstrated the necessity of indefinite retention of policy material such as that dealing with statutory interpretations, executive orders and directives, Department instruction, jurisdiction, certain liaison matters, particularly relating to internal security/extremist/counterintelligence investigations. This material must continue to be indefinitely maintained and where practical it should be segregated from files primarily regarding substantive investigations.

Material of Historical Significance - The retention of material based on its possible future historical value is basically a judgment decision, subject to critical hindsight. However, files relating to notorious individuals and highly publicized investigations (the Silvermaster ring, Rosenberg case, Hiss case, Colonel Abel investigation, certain Communist Party leaders such as William Z. Foster and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn), outlining unique or unorthodox investigative/counterintelligence techniques and those relating to key sources, defectors, illegals, intelligence personalities, should be indefinitely retained. In addition to the possible future need of this material for analytical research purposes, files of this nature regularly contain information of a policy and historical significance.

Termination of Intelligence Significance - Social-political factors may alleviate the need for the retention of specific files in whole areas of foreign intelligence interest. For example, with few exceptions, almost all the extensive FBI file holdings on World War II German-American, Japanese-American, Nazi, Bund, Custodian Detention and Alien Control matters, could be immediately destroyed without harm to our ongoing or future intelligence needs. Also, excepting those of historical interest, files relating to our investigative/intelligence interests in South America and Central America during World War II (Special Investigative Services) could be destroyed based upon the radically altered social/political alignments.

On the other hand, many of our files dealing with personalities and organizations concerned with Soviet intelligence activities are vital to our analytical intelligence needs as long as the Soviet-bloc presents a military-economic-political intelligence threat to our internal security interests.

Files on Individuals - As regards the internal security-counterintelligence areas, files on individuals may be divided into three basic categories for retention purposes.

1. Investigations where derogatory informaton was not developed or insignificant to warrant expanded investigative scrutiny (destroy in five years), except in foreign counterintelligence matters (destroy in 20 years).

2. Investigations where derogatory information has been developed but not deemed of prosecutive or continuing intelligence need (would include rank-and-file members of subversive/extremist groups) (destroy in 10 years).

3. Investigations with significant prosecutive or ongoing intelligence interest. These would include top functionaries and activists of certain subversive/extremist groups (destroy after 20 years or longer if any indication of historical or future analytical value). Known and suspected intelligence officers and important intelligence agents should be retained indefinitely.

It is believed a policy should be developed whereby significant information relating to subversive/extremist involvement of individuals could be, where practical, incorporated into organizational or topical files so appropriate indexing may be effected to meet future possible requirements under Executive Order 10450 (security-loyalty matters).

Organizational Files - Excepting instances where derogatory information is lacking or not confirmed, our files on subversive/extremist organizations and organizations of foreign counterintelligence interest should be retained for a period of 20 years and longer in the event they are deemed to have historical or future analytical value.

Informant, Source, Asset Files - Where an individual is considered for informant, source, asset use and subsequently not used or used on a restrictive basis, it is suggested the file be retained for only 10 years, unless unusual circumstances dictate otherwise.

Internal Security/Extremist Files Without Foreign Involvement - Organizational and individual investigative or intelligence files relating to such transitory organizations as the Klan, Minutemen, Nation of Islam, Black Panther Party, etc., may logically be destroyed 10 years after the last reported relevant activity. Also included in the 10-year category for destruction would be such investigations as those relating to antiriot and bombing matters and Espionage-X cases, unless circumstances dictate otherwise.

It is suggested the Records Management Division consider establishing a system whereby file covers may be appropriately flagged to indicate proposed category of destruction and, where appropriate, the date of destruction. Such a system could be supported by a card file index which would insure systematic review and destruction of files within specific categories at the termination of appropriate retention dates.

The following are the comments of Division VI, the General Investigative Division:

The Records Management Division has requested our comments concerning retention periods for all FBIHQ files and impact this would have on FBI operations and responsibilities. Each Section in the General Investigative Division has reviewed and Name Check and Civil Rights Sections believe 20 year retention period is necessary for them to carry out their supervisory responsibilities.

Name Check Section had the following comments:

The FBI Headquarters' filing system originated and developed over the years based upon the concept that a strong central records system adequately indexed for full and facile retrievability of pertinent information (mostly indicating criminal, subversive or suitability factors) would assist the Government in maintaining the internal security of the nation, assist in solving crimes perpetrated by repeat offenders, and avoid situations where persons of unsavory or disreputable backgrounds could work their way into positions of trust with the Government. This American was rather fixed; that is, a person was born, educated and employed in a somewhat confined area, in most instances within the same state or geographic region. As society and living standards have developed, the shiftability or mobility of the average American has increased tremendously and with it, the changing of names, mores and other factors which could identify an individual with prior unfavorable information. Inasmuch as the question of identity is left begging in many instances, that is, in the absence of fingerprints, the FBI's practice of having volumes filled with old, perhaps outdated, data has really outlived itself due to the changes mentioned above. Accordingly, the name check program does not need information more than 20 years old assuming the period of a person's life between 20 and 40 years is the normal "make or break" stage, that is, the person is during this period well on the way to success or well seasoned as a criminal or subversive threat. Conversely, the files should be maintained for at least 20 years in order to be meaningful.

Accounting and Fraud and Criminal Sections of the General Investigative Division believe a 10 year destruction policy will be appropriate as it concerns handling of violations supervised by those Sections. They note that seldom, if ever, are our files over 10 years old meaningful as it concerns a criminal violation and believe their supervisory responsibilities to be appropriately handled with a retention policy of at least 10 years.

As it concerns individual major FBI investigations, the General Investigative Division believes the Substantive Division handling investigation should have the opportunity to decide whether or not that particular major investigative file should be destroyed when the destruction period arrives. We suggest the Records Management Division query Substantive FBIHQ Division as it concerns these major FBI investigations prior to destruction.

The following are the comments of Division IX, the Special Investigative Division:

The establishment of short retention periods for Bureau files because of the burdens of processing FOIA and PA requests invites the conclusion that short retention periods have a primary purpose of avoiding the intent of these statutes. Moreover, a short retention period would hamper the FBI in its ability to defend itself against unjust criticism and lawsuit in that we would be without the evidence to support our objectivity. Such criticisms have already been raised as our files have been opened to requesters. The first letter sent to a requester informing that due to our short retention, we have destroyed information about him might be expected to result in legislation establishing a 30, 40 or 50-year program of retention of files.

The Department of Justice is currently studying retention guidelines and there are specific retention guidelines set forth in several other areas. Our efforts to define retention periods must be consistent with these other guidelines.

For example, the PA, Section (C) (2) states that an accurate accounting of disclosure of a record must be retained for at least five years or the life of the record whichever is longer. Further, the latest (May, 1976) proposed revision of EO 10450 in Section 7 (j) states that reinvestigations of incumbents in positions of special trust may be conducted every five years. This proposed revision would also set forth standards for the control, release, use, and retention of reports (Section 13). Also, the Attorney General's Guidelines for FBI Information Gathering and Retention Policies sets forth proposed standards for the collection and retention of information. The several proposed drafts of these guidelines also deal with our background investigations for Congressional and Judicial positions and the retention of reports resulting from these investigations. We have furnished several memoranda to the Department concerning these guidelines, i.e. Cleveland to Adams memorandum dated 9/15/75; McDermott to Jenkins dated 9/8/75. We are now preparing an agreement to conduct background investigations for the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. This agreement would set forth standards for the dissemination and retention of reports of background investigations.

In view of these varying standards and the need to insure that our consideration of retention periods covers the above situations and other possibilities, reevaluation should include consideration of these several areas.

A short-term retention policy of 10 or 20 years is feasible only as it can be effectively shown that information beyond those years is of little or no value, a demonstration which has not yet been made. Our files are unique and singular and contain information which would not exist elsewhere. If destroyed it could be irretrievable. The study cited revealed that 77 percent of searching requirements are met from file data since 1956. A 23 percent utilization rate data over 20 years old is not insignificant and without a clearer demonstration such data possesses little or no utility, valuable data could be lost forever. No amount of saved square footage could compensate for destroyed information which could be pertinent to a current investigation.

The ten-year destruction program in the field affords little basis for justifying a shorter retention plan for FBIHQ since the field program is based on the availability of data at FBIHQ. To destroy FBIHQ files would undermine the basis for the field destruction program.

While aspects of FOIA/PA may be oppressive at the moment, this situation could abate considerably once controversial file reviews are settled. It is important that we not allow what may be short-term considerations to generate policies which may disadvantage the long-term investigative responsibilities of the Bureau.

While personnel savings may result, a short-term program should be defensible and justifiable on its own merits and any ancillary benefits should devolve from a sound policy and not form a basis for determining that policy. Furthermore, little personnel savings can be expected in other divisions since they are essentially engaged in managing current investigative activity and not in processing data over 20 years old.

As to organized crime files, in general, either a 10- or 20-year retention period for both substantive and nonsubstantive matters currently handled by this section is acceptable and cannot be foreseen as having a detrimental impact on future FBI operations. Certain nonsubstantive 92-AR biographical data on top hoodlums, trace the origins and development of organized crime in America, or represent the historical value and should be retained indefinitely. The Organized Crime Section believes that prior to their destruction nonsubstantive 92 files should be evaluated by this section to determine whether or not they should in fact be destroyed.

DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

PROPOSED SEARCHING CRITERIA

There is attached as an enclosure an analysis of FBIHQ searching requirements based on current criteria. This shows that name check requests account for over 90 percent of searching that applies to records more than 20 years old. This chart also indicates that 77 percent of all index searching requests are satisfied with references that have been established since 1956. In other words, this is material established in the last 20 years. The General Index contains approximately 59 million index references, however, 13 million references satisfy 77 percent of FBIHQ searching requirements. About one half of our 7,000 file cabinets of material pertain to files generated in the past 20 years.

In connection with the Name Check Program under Executive Order (EO) 10450, our surveys show that over 40 percent of the references that are listed under our current criteria pertain to files that were opened prior to 1956 or files that are more than 20 years old. It is our current practice to list all references that might pertain to the individual being searched, irrespective of the age of the file material.

An analysis of responses provided by FBIHQ Divisions regarding the retention of files in their respective areas of responsibility generally indicate there is little need for file material more than 20 years old. Exceptions would include files relating to policy matters, major cases and files of historical significance, certain organizational files, etc. Accordingly, it now appears timely to consider positive steps to adjust searching criteria for most FBIHQ matters, particularly as it relates to the Name Check Program since this program accounts for about 70 percent of all searching. This will be a significant step regarding the use of FBIHQ records, result in immediate economies, and serve as a guide in our continuing analysis of the value of retaining certain file material beyond a 20 year period.

It is, therefore, being proposed that all FBIHQ searching (except for FOIPA matters) be limited to file material generated within the past 20 years or since 1956. Index references prior to this time would not be considered in any searching requests unless there is a specific request to include material prior to that time.

This means that all searching would be limited to only 13 million cards in our index as opposed to the total 59 million. This should considerably expedite all searching since employees could arbitrarily eliminate all cards dated prior to 1956. This will also have a significant impact on the file review operation and will eliminate about 40 percent of the references now being reviewed. The total effect this would have to contribute to a more efficient operation can only be estimated. However, from the total amount of employees now involved in the searching and review operations it is estimated that the savings over a period of time with this type of searching criteria could amount to about 50 employees. Using an average of a GS-4, or about $8,000 per year per employee, the savings could amount to about $400,000 per year.

A further analysis of the responses by the various divisions indicates that in certain categories searching could be limited to material within the past 10 years. There are many subtleties involved and this would have to be carefully defined on a classification basis.

OBSERVATIONS REGARDING THE DESTRUCTION OF CERTAIN CATEGORIES OF FILE MATERIAL

The Intelligence Division advised that because of changing social-political factors, most investigative cases could be destroyed relating to World War II German-Americans, Japanese-Americans, Nazi, Bund, etc. without harm to ongoing or future intelligence needs. Also, files relating to investigative intelligence interests in South and Central America during Word War II (SIS) could be destroyed, except for those that would be of historical interest. Accordingly, an effort will be made to determine if files in these categories can be readily identified so the necessary steps can be taken to seek their destruction.

The Intelligence Division also indicated that internal security-extremist files without foreign involvement relating to the Klan, Minutemen, Nation of Islam, and Black Panther Party may logically be destroyed 10 years after the last report of relevant activity. Antiriot and bombing matters could also be included in this category. Accordingly, efforts will be made to determine if files in these categories can be readily identified in order that proper steps can be taken to seek their destruction.

The General Investigative Division has advised that the Accounting and Fraud and Criminal Sections believe a 10 year destruction policy would be appropriate for all violations supervised by those Sections. We currently microfilm all criminal matters more than 10 years old and destroy the original hard copy file material after it has been determined that the microphotographic copies are satisfactory duplicates of the original material. The comments by the General Investigative Division relative to criminal files indicate that such material could be destroyed without microfilming. This also indicates that all microfilmed criminal cases more than 10 years old could be destroyed. We currently have over 1.7 million cases that have been microfilmed.

The Special Investigative Division has indicated that certain organized crime files, except those relating to top hoodlums and those that trace the origin and development of organized crime, could be destroyed on either a 10 or 20 year basis. Accordingly, an effort will be made to determine if such files can be readily identified in order that the proper steps can be taken to seek their destruction.

The initial analysis regarding the responses from the various divisions indicates that a shorter retention period could be developed in many categories; however, care should be taken to insure that policy files, certain organizational files, those that would have historical significance or of a continuing value should not be destroyed. This would certainly be in line with Archival guidelines since we are obligated by law to seek authority for destruction of all obsolete file material and to retain that which has a continuing value or historical signifance. As previously indicated, there are many subtleties involved in the entire process and it may be difficult to readily identify files in the various categories as indicated above. Specific criteria and classifications must be developed. Therefore, this material is again being presented to each FBIHQ Division to determine if they can further refine and develop more specific and meaningful criteria that will aid and identify files that are of no continuing value.

The Records Management Division will also further pursue this matter to determine if such files as mentioned by the various FBIHQ Divisions can be readily identified as indicated above.

SUGGESTION

That UNSUB cases be destroyed by the Office of Origin when closed for five years in classifications 15, 26, 52, 70 and 87.

Or

If destruction rules remain 10 years, that Section 3C, Part II, item(d) be deleted or revised to retain index cards until cases ~~xxxx~~ destroyed.

The reason for this suggestion is that index cards have been removed on items of property according to the manual when 5 years old. FD-302 originals are being received from other offices and while files are still existent, they cannot be located without index cards.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) UNSUB cases are destroyed by OO when closed 10 years (MRR-II-3D page 13a) together with index cards. Because of the problem with FD-302s, we have discontinued destruction of index cards on items of property when 5 years old per MRR-II-3C page 5a).

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

If files are destroyed earlier than 10 years, filing space reclaimed earlier.

Suggestion #T92-76

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:dgc 9/13/76)

Attached suggestion from the Cincinnati Office proposes that Office of Origin (OO) be permitted to destroy UNSUB cases in classifications 15, 26, 52, 70 and 87 when five years old, otherwise change the Manual of Rules and Regulations to permit the retention of index cards on items of property until file is destroyed. Current Bureau regulations stipulate that index cards on certain items of property in UNSUB cases can be destroyed when five years old. Bureau regulations also provide for the destruction of OO cases and index cards relative thereto in all classifications when ten years old, and Auxiliary Office files and related index cards in all classifications when six-months old provided the case has no continuing value for evidence, intelligence, historical, or other reference purposes.

OBSERVATIONS:

The entire records retention and destruction program is currently under study by the Records Management Division and representatives of the National Archives and Records Services (NARS), General Services Administration, for the purpose of insuring that only those records of continuing value are being retained. It is anticipated that the results of this study will significantly impact the Bureau's policy on records holdings. It is therefore believed this suggestion should be held in abeyance pending the outcome of this study.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend suggestion be held in abeyance pending the outcome of aforementioned study.

Dear Miss [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that certain cases be destroyed by the office of origin when closed for five years, or if destruction rules remain ten years, the Manual of Rules and Regulations be revised. You may be interested to know that the entire records retention and destruction program is currently under study, and it is anticipated that the results of this study will have a significant impact on the Bureau's policy on records retention.

The thoughtfulness which prompted you to submit your idea to me is indeed appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE: Suggests UNSUB cases be destroyed by the office of origin when closed for five years in classifications 15, 26, 70, and 87; or, if destruction rules remain 10 years, that Section 3C, Part II, item 8.d., of the Manual of Rules and Regulations be deleted or revised to retain index cards until cases destroyed. The Records Management Division advises the entire records retention and destruction program is currently under study by the Records Managment Division and representatives of the National Archives and Records Services (NARS), General Services Administration, for the purpose of insuring that only those records of continuing value are being retained. It is anticipated that the results of this study will significantly impact the Bureau's policy on record holdings. In view of foregoing, Training Division recommends no further action on this proposal. Views attached.

SUBJECT: NARCOTICS MATTERS
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 8/30/82 BY SP4 ELW/ptc

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to propose the destruction of monthly field office statistics for the Narcotics Matters survey which was initiated in April 1976; to terminate the practice of placing this material on record for subsequent filing in the investigative files; and to establish disposition for this material.

DETAILS:

Reference is made to R. J. McCarthy memorandum to Mr. Fehl, dated 4/21/76, captioned "Narcotics Matters" wherein authority was granted to computerize narcotics accomplishment data received from all field offices on a monthly basis, beginning in April, 1976. In April, 1977, the printout will include comparative figures from FY 1976 to FY 1977 for month and FY to date.

Currently, three file volumes contain field office airtels providing data for this survey. The practice of retaining and continuing to accumulate this material does not appear to conform with sound records management in that valuable filing space is utilized for material which has no further research value. GSA regulations permit the destruction of source data files after determination is made by competent agency research personnel that the files have served all research purposes.

NARCOTICS MATTERS
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

It is therefore proposed that destruction of monthly airtels, after pertinent data has been extracted and placed on computer tape, be continued by the Administrative Services Division. The current practice of forwarding the original airtel to Records Management Division for processing and filing will be discontinued by the Special Investigative Division. Serials currently on record in file 62-115258 which contain monthly statistical accomplishment data will be destroyed in accordance with GSA regulations.

The monthly printout should be retained by the Special Investigative Division for at least one year or until comparative figures are available for the current and previous year. If a permanent record is desirable, the data should be collated and condensed into report form, bearing in mind that the printout will contain only the statistics for the current and previous year.

Immediate destruction of the recorded serials is permissible through authority granted in letter to the Director from the Attorney General, dated 4/7/76, which authorized resumption of the Bureau's routine record destruction program, with the exception of security and intelligence related records or those involved in litigation.

This matter has been coordinated with the Special Investigative and Administrative Services Divisions.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the practice of placing monthly airtels containing field office narcotics accomplishment data on record be discontinued.

2. That pertinent sections of file 62-115258 be referred to the Consolidation Unit, Records Management Division, for removal and destruction of above described airtels.

SUBJECT: SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE (SCI)

PURPOSE: Obstruction of Bureau Property - General

To advise of the Attorney General's approval that duplicate material be destroyed.

DETAILS:

By memorandum to the Attorney General dated 7/28/76, we advised the Attorney General of our definition of what was duplicate material. We had previously requested the Attorney General's approval for the destruction of this material since there was a question as to whether this material came within the moratorium of the SCI. The Attorney General had advised Chairman Daniel K. Inouye of his intention to authorize destruction of duplicate material.

By memorandum from Jack Fuller, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, to SA [redacted], Legal Counsel Division, dated 9/27/76 (copy attached), Fuller advised that the Attorney General had no objection to the destruction of duplicate material as described in the aforementioned Bureau memorandum.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Management Division take the necessary steps to reinstitute the destruction of duplicate material as described in the aforementioned Bureau memorandum.

SUBJECT: CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT

PURPOSE: Destruction of Bureau Property - General

The purpose of this memorandum is to request that a definite decision be made as to the disposition of equipment used on clandestine investigations at the time it becomes excess to the Bureau's needs.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Obtain the Laboratory Division's comments and recommendations regarding destruction of equipment used in clandestine investigations, and distinguish it from "off-the-shelf" equipment which, even though once used in very sensitive investigations, can now be traded in on replacement or other equipment without compromise of sensitive information.

Memo McMichael to McDermott
Re: Cannibalization and Destruction of Equipment

DETAILS:

As set forth in (attachment #1), nonexpendable clandestine equipment (serialized technical equipment) was destroyed at the FBI, Academy, Quantico, Virginia, on August 20, 1975. The destruction was completed by burning and burial.

The Bureau has been given authority to report its own excess personal property directly to the General Services Administration (GSA) by memorandum dated 2/2/76. This information is set forth in (attachment #2).

The Laboratory Division requested by memorandum dated 4/9/76 permission to cannibalize Moore tone control equipment for usable parts and the remainder destroyed as set forth in (attachment #3). At that time, this matter was discussed with Mr. [redacted], Chief, Materiel Management Unit, Department of Justice and he in turn discussed the matter with Mr. [redacted], Area Utilization Officer for Region 3 of GSA. It was determined that cannibalization is left up to the discretion of the agency. b6 b7C

Before this Section can feel sure that they are legally sound in permitting the Laboratory to destroy equipment of this type, more research is necessary by all concerned.

SUBJECT: PROPOSED DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
PROPERTY MANAGEMENT REGULATIONS
UTILIZATION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 8/30/82 BY SP4ELW/tc

Attached herewith from the Department of Justice is a proposed draft on Department of Justice Property Management Regulations. Mr. Lloyd A. Bastian, Director, Security and Administrative Services Staff, Office of Management and Finance, is suggesting that you informally review this proposal and he would appreciate your candid assessment. He also advised that after he receives your input he will revise and distribute throughout the Department of Justice for comment.

For a matter of record, the Bureau received a similar proposal from the Department of Justice in which you were advised of all the pertinent facts by memorandum to you dated 3/11/75 and also the Department was advised by memorandum from you to Mr. O'Donoghue dated 3/12/75. It appears that throughout this proposed draft the Department is suggesting that the bureaus within the agency handle their own excess property and the entire proposal is doing nothing but supplementing the Federal Property Management Regulations regarding disposal of same.

For your information, the present procedure for handling excess property is as follows: 1) A Standard Form 120 is prepared by the Procurement and Administrative Services Section and signed by the Supply Management Officer. 2) This is forwarded to the Department of Justice where they in turn prepare a Standard Form 120 reporting some of the property to the General Services Administration (GSA) and other portions of the property to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It should be noted that this is done after all bureaus within the agency have been contacted and it has been determined that they have no need for property in question. 3) After all action has been taken, the Bureau is advised by the Department either to transfer property to another Government agency, deliver property to GSA for sale, donate property to a local tax-supported body, such as the Police Department, City Fire Department, City Library, etc., sell property locally or dispose of property as scrap.

Memo McMichael to Walsh
Re: Proposed Department of Justice
Property Management Regulations
Utilization of Personal Property

The Department keeps a list of all property declared excess by the Bureau and reports directly to GSA. In this proposed draft they are suggesting as mentioned above that each bureau within the agency handle its own property which could perhaps expedite the disposition of same. It appears throughout this draft that they are recommending there be three individuals to handle all or in part the administration, coordination, control, disposition, keeping detailed property records and providing documentation regarding all excess property and these positions are as follows: Property Management Officer, Accountable Property Officer and Property Custodian. ...

It appears if this proposal were adopted, it would require at least one, if not two (one being an alternate), full-time employees to implement this procedure for the Bureau. It would also be necessary that both employees be given a course on all regulations regarding excess property by GSA.

RECOMMENDATION:

The Procurement and Administrative Services Section can see no objections to the proposed draft submitted by the Department of Justice regarding utilization of personal property. After this proposal has been finalized in the Federal Register, additional paper work will be submitted to implement the procedures and also request additional personnel that will be required to do the duties as required therein. Therefore, if you agree, a notation will be made to this effect on the 2-way memorandum forwarded to you from Mr. Bastian on an informal basis that this Bureau has no objections to the proposed draft.

SUBJECT: AUTHORITY TO REPORT EXCESS PERSONAL PROPERTY DIRECTLY TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

Attached is the original copy of memorandum dated 2/2/76 addressed to the Director from Mr. Pommerening, Assistant Attorney General for Administration, Department of Justice, delegating the authority to handle excess personal property directly to the Bureau.

This proposal was reviewed by the Bureau informally and a memorandum was directed to you on 9/4/75 in which you were advised that if this proposal was adopted, it would require at least one if not two full-time employees to implement this procedure for the Bureau. You were also advised that it would be necessary that a course be given to the employee(s) regarding excess property by the General Services Administration (GSA) when available.

Attached herewith is a proposed format to be used by the Bureau when forwarding excess property reports to bureaus within the Department. This is required for screening within the Department for 15 days.

A screening period of 60 to 90 days is required with GSA and if disposition is not made at this time, it is forwarded to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for a donation or a 15 day screening period.

If an additional employee is necessary after a complete evaluation, you will be advised.

Memo McMichael to Walsh
Re: Authority to Report Excess Personal Property Directly to the General Services Administration

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. This be made a matter of record that the Bureau has now been delegated complete authority for the disposition of excess personal property.

2. The attached format be approved in forwarding all excess personal property reports declared by the Bureau to all bureaus within the agency.

3. Position Classification perform an audit on the desk or position performing these duties. This is necessary due to increasing workload, contacting of all bureaus within the Department, GSA,other Federal, state and local agencies and perhaps in some cases local tax supporting agencies.

4. When a course is offered by GSA regarding excess property, permission be granted to send employee involved in this type of work to this school.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8/30/82 BY SP4 ELW/pte

The Laboratory is in possession of several pieces of old Moore tone control equipment. These are pieces of equipment that have been used by various field offices for control of their radio systems and have been replaced with newer equipment. This equipment is of a vintage such that new replacement printed circuit cards are no longer available from the manufacturer. Inasmuch as these units will not be used in the future by the Bureau, it is recommended they be cannibalized for usable parts and the remainder destroyed.

Also there are 10 filters and 15 tone transmitters on a frequency of 2805 Hz, part of the above equipment, which can no longer be used.

RECOMMENDATION:

If approved that units be cannibalized for useful parts, that units be removed from Laboratory inventory.

ADDENDUM PROPERTY PROCUREMENT AND MANAGEMENT SECTION

The matter of cannibalization has been discussed with Mr. [redacted], Chief, Materiel Management Unit, Department of Justice and he in turn discussed the matter with Mr. [redacted] General Services Administration. b6 b7C

Mr. [redacted] advised that cannibalization is left up to the discretion of the agency. Therefore, taking into consideration the equipment listed in this memorandum is of a vintage such that new replacement printed circuit cards are no longer available from the manufacturer, that permission be granted for the Laboratory Division to cannibalize this equipment for usable parts and the remainder destroyed. Appropriate inventory adjustments must be submitted accordingly.

RE: CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT
6/9/76

ADDENDUM OF LABORATORY DIVISION:GOV:mkw, June 22, 1976

The Radio Engineering Section has a frequent need to dispose of or recommend the disposal of technical equipment. In most cases the equipment is disposed of through surplus property channels.

In some instances equipment is deemed to be no longer economically feasible to repair while there is additional equipment of the same type still in service and replacement parts are difficult or impossible to obtain. In such cases it is in the best interests of the Bureau to cannibalize the excess equipment for spare parts to maintain the equipment still in service.

On other occasions it may be necessary to dispose of equipment that is primarily useful for the surreptitious interception of communications, such equipment being within the purview of Title 18, U.S.C., Section 2512. When this type of equipment becomes excess to our needs, it should be totally destroyed or retained as a source of spare parts. This policy should also apply to any equipment the nature of which may disclose sensitive information or compromise our electronic surveillance techniques.

Equipment that may have been utilized in connection with Bureau electronic surveillance installations but obtained as "off-the-shelf" equipment would not normally be destroyed.

CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION
OF EQUIPMENT

ST-131

After much research in existing regulations, in conversation with the Department and also GSA, it has been determined that cannibalization and destruction of equipment can be handled according to the discretion of the agency.

Equipment in many cases is of a vintage that new replacement parts are no longer available from the manufacturer. Therefore if cannibalization were permitted for usable parts and the remainder destroyed, a tremendous savings could be realized. It is requested that a definite decision be given this Bureau regarding this matter.

Dear Mr. Kelley: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

At its meeting on September 25, 1976, the AHA-OAH-SAA Joint Committee on Historians and Archives gave careful consideration to the report that your agency and other governmental law enforcement and intelligence units were destroying records obtained illegally. We deplore the unilateral destruction of such records without consultation with the appropriate authorities. GENERAL

The Joint Committee is composed of the executive directors and representatives of the American Historical Association, the Organization of American Historians and the Society of American Archivists.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Professor Mason:

8-26-82 CMK/ate

In reply to your letter of October 14th in which you expressed concern about the alleged unauthorized destruction of FBI records, I wish to point out that the FBI's Records Management Program, which includes the destruction and disposition of all FBI records, regardless of their source, is conducted in accordance with the provisions set forth in Title 44, Chapter 33 of the United States Code and Title 41, Chapter 101-11 of the Code of Federal Regulations. These requirements are very specific regarding the destruction and disposition of Government records, and such matters are closely coordinated with and approval is obtained from the National Archives and Records Service prior to the destruction of any record material.

Our Records Management Program, as approved by the National Archives and Records Service, is designed to facilitate the destruction of obsolete material and to insure permanent retention of those records that have historical and enduring value.

DATE: 10/12/76

FROM : A. J. Decker

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION AND SEARCHING CRITERIA

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is (1) to obtain approval to establish a new searching criteria at FBIHQ for immediate implementation and (2) to establish a basic file retention/destruction policy and guidelines subject to the approval of the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) as a result of responses received from all FBIHQ Divisions relative to my memorandum of 8/2/76.

SYNOPSIS:

Each FBIHQ Division provided specific information and justification for the retention of files in their respective areas of responsibility. Generally, the retention period would be: (1) 10 years for criminal files, (2) 20 years for security-related files, and (3) 15 years for nonderogatory applicant files and 25 years for derogatory applicant files. Substantive Divisions will have the option to selectively retain the files that have a continuing value for their respective responsibilities. As a result of the response provided by each Division, guidelines have been established for the permanent retention of those records that have a historical and enduring value and to identify those records that are no longer timely and relevant in order to facilitate the destruction of obsolete material in accordance with Federal regulations. Additionally, each Division advised that a 20 year searching criteria would be acceptable with the option to request older material when needed. The implementation of this policy will ultimately result in significant savings to the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That a search criteria of 10 years for criminal files and 20 years for other files as indicated in the attached classification list be approved for immediate implementation.

Will be fully implemented by 11-15-76

Memorandum to Mr. McDermott
FILE DESTRUCTION AND SEARCHING CRITERIA

DETAILS:

In accordance with the regulations set forth in Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 101, the FBI is in the process of reevaluating its Records Management Program as it relates to the disposition of records. Representatives from NARS have been contacted regarding this matter to determine if the Records Retention Plan can be revised to insure it is up-to-date and in accordance with current needs. Accordingly, there is a continuing process of identifying those records that are no longer timely and relevant so we can purge all obsolete material from our files. NARS has indicated it is desirable to pursue this goal so those records that have a historical and enduring value can be properly segregated for permanent retention.

In our effort to identify those records that have no continuing value to the Bureau's needs, all FBI Headquarters Divisions have been canvassed regarding this matter. Generally, they feel little need for records in the security classifications beyond 20 years old or in the criminal classifications beyond 10 years old, providing they can selectively retain that which they believe to have a continuing value to the operations of the Bureau.

FBI records support the Bureau's investigative and administrative needs and its obligation to act as a clearinghouse under Executive Order (EO) 10450 regarding the security of Government employees. Accordingly, in support of this need certain records will be maintained in order for the Bureau to successfully accomplish its basic missions and goals as an investigative agency. As a result of an analysis of the response provided by each Headquarters Division, the following policy is being proposed.

RECORDS TO BE RETAINED INDEFINITELY
BECAUSE OF THEIR HISTORIC OR ENDURING VALUE

1. Adequate and proper documentation
This will include records containing adequate and proper documentation of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures and essential transactions to furnish information necessary to protect the legal and financial rights of the Government and persons directly affected by the Bureau's activities.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 5-19-81 BY C383 VRI/Garrett

2. General guidelines:
Administrative and general policy files; contracts; policy files relating to various investigative matters such as statutory interpretations, executive orders and directives, Department instructions, jurisdiction, certain liaison matters, particularly relating to internal security/extremist/counterintelligence investigations; organizational files; certain significant major cases; and those files that have a historical significance.

3. Case file guidelines:
Cases selected for permanent retention must meet one or more of the following criteria for significance:

A. A case can be regarded as significant in terms of legal impact on statutes, rules or regulations or law enforcement policies;

B. An investigation or case can be regarded as significant in terms of actual or potential breakdown of public order (civil disturbance);

C. An investigation or case can be regarded as significant in terms of intensity of public interest expressed by (1) a demonstrated interest of a Congressional Committee or the Executive Office of the President or (2) a high degree of national media attention.

It is noted that the retention of files based on its possible future historical value is basically a judgment decision subject to critical hindsight. The following are examples only for future guidance.

Examples of historical cases
Files relating to notorious individuals and highly publicized investigations such as: The Silvermaster ring; Rosenberg case, Colonel Abel investigation; certain Communist Party leaders such as William Z. Foster and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn; key sources, defectors, illegals and intelligence personalities; certain biographical data on top hoodlums which trace the origins and developments of organized crime in America; files of notorious criminal gangs and gangsters of the 1920s and 1930s; Lindberg kidnapping; the Brinks Robbery; widely publicized civil rights-type cases of the 1950s and 1960s. Matters of continuing controversy such as the Sacco-Vanzetti case; the alleged forewarning to the FBI of Japanese plans to bomb Pearl Harbor and significant World War II cases.

INVESTIGATIVE RECORDS TO BE RETAINED
BECAUSE OF POSSIBLE LEGAL IMPLICATIONS

1. Files related to pending litigation.

2. Files for which there is a pending FOI/PA request.

3. Files of convicted persons who are believed to be still serving their sentences in Federal penal institutions. An example is Kathryn Kelly, who was released on appeal bond in 1958 after being sentenced to life imprisonment in 1933 for kidnapping, and today she remains free. Appeals requiring access to such substantive case files may be required at virtually any time by inmates of Federal penal institutions.

SELECTIVE RETENTION OF INVESTIGATIVE RECORDS

These records would be retained beyond basic time periods because of their continuing need to support the Bureau's investigative and administrative responsibilities. Files in this category relate to personalities and organizations concerned with Soviet intelligence activities and are vital to analytical intelligence needs as long as the Soviet-Bloc presents a military-economic-political intelligence threat to internal security interests; known and suspected intelligence officers and important intelligence agents; foreign counter-intelligence file material; pertinent security informant files; certain organizational crime files and applicant files relative to the security of government employees.

GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR FILES THAT CAN BE DESTROYED

Files in these categories would be eligible for destruction unless they met the criteria for further retention.

1. In criminal-type cases the period of file retention commences when the case is administratively closed.

2. In security/counterintelligence cases the retention period will be measured from the date of last filed material recording relevant activity.

3. Termination of Intelligence Significance
Social-political factors may alleviate the need for the retention of specific files in whole areas of foreign intelligence interest. For example, files relating to World War II German-American, Japanese-American, Nazi, Bund, Custodian Detention and Alien Control matters may be destroyed without harm to ongoing or future intelligence needs.

4. Files on Individuals - Internal Security - Counter-intelligence areas

   A. Investigations in which derogatory information was not developed or insignificant to warrant expanded investigative scrutiny (5 years); foreign counter-intelligence matters (20 years).

   B. Investigations where derogatory information has been developed but not deemed of prosecutive or continuing intelligence value such as rank and file members of subversive/extremist groups (10 years).

   C. Investigations with significant prosecutive or intelligence interest such as top functionaries and activists of certain subversive/extremist groups (20 years).

5. Organizational Files - subversive/extremist
These would be files on subversive/extremist organizations or organizations of foreign counterintelligence interest (20 years).

6. Informant, Source, Asset Files
Files on individuals considered for informant, source, asset use and subsequently not used or used on a restrictive basis (10 years).

7. Internal Security/Extremist Files Without Foreign Involvement Individual investigative or intelligence files relating to membership in such transitory organizations as the Ku Klux Klan, Minutemen, Nation of Islam, Black Panther Party, etc. (where no significant derorgatory information is shown), and antiriot and bombing matter cases (10 years).
8. All criminal cases (10 years); civil rights cases (5 years).
9. All applicant cases without derogatory information except current Bureau employees (15 years).
10. All applicant cases with derogatory information (25 years).
11. In privacy requests Section (c)(2) of the Privacy legislation states that an accurate accounting of disclosure of a record must be retained at least 5 years or the life of the record whichever is longer.

SPECIFIC GUIDELINES FOR IMPLEMENTATION

There is attached a list of all classifications of files relating to the FBI Central Records System as published in the Federal Register. Those without an asterisk () relate to criminal matters that can be considered for destruction in 10 years. Those with an asterisk () relate to applicant matters and will generally be retained for 15 years (nonderogatory) and 25 years (derogatory). Those with a double asterisk () are security related and include classifications relating to domestic intelligence, extremist, racial, and foreign counterintelligence which must be excluded from destruction at this time because of the Congressional request to retain files in these categories. The general retention of these files will be 20 years upon the conclusion of the moratorium.

The files in the criminal classifications will be limited to a 10-year search criteria since they will be eligible for destruction at that time. All others will be subject to a 20-year search criteria. All FOI/PA requests will be searched against all record material maintained. The option will be available to extend searching beyond 10 or 20 years when specifically requested.

Memorandum to Mr. McDermott
SEARCHING CRITERIA

Prior to the destruction of any record material that may be questionable as to its retention because of the various criteria set forth, the appropriate substantive supervisor will be contacted to insure the proper selective retention of records that have a continuing value.

This criteria will be continually reviewed, refined and revised as necessary to insure it remains responsive to FBI needs, and, at the same time, satisfy NARS' guidelines to retain essential records and destroy obsolete material. Each FBIHQ Division will make recommendations for changes as necessary consistent with their responsibilities.

OBSERVATIONS:

It is interesting to note that the implementation of these recommendations will have a very significant impact on the operations of the Records Management Division. For example, there are over 1,600 six-drawer file cabinets of material that currently relate to criminal files over 10 years old. This will result in a significant savings in space. There are over 1.7 million criminal cases more than 10 years old on microfilm that would be eligible for destruction. Also, there are about 2,600 six-drawer file cabinets of material that relate to security and other matters over 20 years old. While the Congressional moratorium precludes destruction of this material at this time, a more compact storage for these files, which will be seldom used, may be considered if it is determined that the effort and cost would save enough space to make the change worthwhile. This would leave about 2,800 file cabinets for active files. The change in searching criteria should ultimately require significantly less employees for searching and review functions. Additionally, only about 10 million index cards would be necessary for conversion of the automated index, allowing us to then seek a more compact storage for the remaining 49 million index cards which would be accessed on an infrequent basis. This will allow us to achieve an automated index earlier than previously anticipated. This also could ultimately result in significantly reducing the burdens and costs involved in FOI/PA obligations. The net result will be a considerable dollar savings to the Bureau. With approval, the Records Management Division will proceed without delay to achieve full implementation of this plan at the earliest possible time.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION Destruction of Bureau Records - General

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to obtain approval for representatives from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) to review a small sample of FBI files for the purpose of establishing firm guidelines relative to the material that would be retained for historical purposes.

DETAILS:

b7C

[redacted] of NARS telephonically advised this date that he and other representatives of NARS would like to meet with Records Management personnel on Tuesday, 11/16/76, to further resolve the Bureau's request regarding a revision to the Records Retention Plan so it will conform with the Bureau's newly proposed guidelines. In this regard, NARS would like to review files in certain classifications in order to satisfy themselves of the type of information that the Bureau will hold for historical reasons that will ultimately be accessioned to NARS. They would like to look at a sample of an individual's file and an organizational file recently closed in the following classifications. For criminal matters they specified classifications 29, 31, 44, 91 and 173; and in the security classification 65, 100, 105 and 157. In order to become familiar with our policy files they requested permission to review one 00 file in both the criminal and security classifications.

Review of these files by NARS will be cursory in nature and not an indepth page-by-page review. They feel this is essential in order to establish proper guidelines for those files that would meet the historical retention criteria. The representatives from NARS who would review these files have Top Secret clearance, and care will be taken to insure that informant data would not be revealed to them. This review would be conducted in the presence of Bureau employees. Granting this request to NARS would help expedite the Bureau's request for revision in the records retention policy, which will provide us with the authority to destroy obsolete material from our files.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20535

November 11, 1976

MEMORANDUM TO ALL BUREAU OFFICIALS AND SUPERVISORS

RE: NEW SEARCHING CRITERIA

As the result of a study conducted by the Records Management Division and information provided by all FBIHQ Divisions, new searching criteria were unanimously approved and will be implemented commencing Monday, November 15, 1976. This procedure will serve the needs of the substantive FBIHQ Divisions by providing information that is timely and relevant. Destruction of Bureau Property - general

Regular search requests will automatically be limited to 10 years in criminal classifications and 20 years in all other classifications. However, a search will be conducted beyond 10 or 20 years when specifically requested. FOI/PA requests will not be affected by this new searching criteria.

The following classifications will be limited to a 20-year search:

1, 2, 3, 14, 61, 62, 64, 65, 67, 77, 97, 98, 100, 102,

105, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 116, 117, 118, 121, 123,

124, 133, 134, 138, 140, 151, 155, 157, 161, 163, 170,

All other classifications will be limited to a 10-year search since most files in these categories are eligible for destruction after they have been closed for more than 10 years.

Supervisory personnel at FBIHQ should be cognizant of this change in order that responses to their requests will fulfill their needs.

SUGGESTION "Destruction of Bureau Property - General"

In view of the current ten-year destruction and six-month RUC programs, it is recommended that the criminal file consolidation program be discontinued, that files be retained in their original jacket and, in conjunction with this, that the inside of the file cover (FD-245) be modified so that pertinent data regarding subjects of the file can be recorded thereon, such as: FBI Number, date of birth, photograph, prosecutive information. (Suggested revised FD-245 attached.)

This suggestion would not apply to files in the security classifications.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-26-82 BY SP4ELW/rte

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Consolidation of criminal files after six months and destruction of the file cover (FD-245).

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

It is believed that a considerable (though unestimateable) savings in both clerical manpower and time would result from not having to assign personnel to the criminal file consolidation program. It would likewise save clerical time and file covers (FD-245) when reopening a case because the file would not have to be pulled from a consolidated volume and a new file cover (FD-245) prepared. The concurrent modification of the file cover (FD-245) would save both Agent time and provide ease of access when retrieving data which is frequently needed not only from closed files, but also routinely in pending cases. The current ten-year destruction vs. twenty-year destruction program has resulted in space saving which would compensate for the additional space required in retaining files in the unconsolidated state.

Would require modification of file cover (FD-245).

The suggestion has merit. The proposed recording of data could be done on a permanent top serial rather than the inside of the file cover if Headquarters feels consolidation of files should continue as at present.

ADDENDUM

FROM CHIEF CLERK [redacted]: It is felt elimination of consolidation of closed files (criminal only) after 6 months would be beneficial to the Chief Clerk's Office for its time-saving factor. Since implementation of the 10 year destruction and 6 month RUC destruction program of crminal files, the necessity of consolidating these files for space-saving reasons is somewhat relieved. Now, charging out a consolidated volume by the Correlation Section or the substantive desk for example, ties up sometimes many different files while one is being reviewed; adding serials to any of these consolidated files means taking the whole volume apart and there is a tremendous volume of serials to be added to closed files, including NCIC "hits", original 302's and 1A exhibits sent from auxiliary offices, etc.; reopening requires again taking the volume apart and charging out the reopened file as does destruction of one of the files in the volume; not to mention the time spent in consolidating in the first place. It is believed the savings in time and manpower derived from elimination of consolidation of closed criminal files over 6 months old would greatly overshadow any space acquired through such consolidation.

SUBJECT: MODEL OF PRESENT FBI HEADQUARTERS BUILDING

PURPOSE:

To recommend that the model of the J. Edgar Hoover FBI Building, presently being stored in the Special Projects Section (SPS) of the Scientific and Technical Services Division, be declared surplus and destroyed.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-26-82 BY SP4 ELW/pte

DETAILS:

Captioned model was originally made by an unknown commercial firm for use in a television documentary possibly done by CBS. This program was made during the period the building itself was under construction and apparently became surplus to the network during this period. Somehow, it was acquired by the District of Columbia National Bank, 9th and D Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C., and placed on display in their lobby for quite a few months. Ultimately, it was offered to the Bureau, accepted and trucked by us to the Old Post Office studio for storage. It is now stored in Room 1B210C of the SPS. It is in poor condition from abuse by the public while in the bank lobby and because of the numerous trips it has made since that time. To restore the model to displayable condition would require a great deal of labor as well as material.

A check with the Tour Unit of the External Affairs Division indicates that they have no plans to display the model, that a suitable site on the present tour route is not available from a traffic standpoint, and that maintenance would present a problem.

In view of the high cost of restoration and maintenance of this model and the relative little value it would have as a display item, it is suggested that it be declared surplus and destroyed.

Destruction of Bureau Property - Gen.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Files and index cards are destroyed in auxiliary offices six months after matter is RUCd.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Numerous times Subject resides in the territory of the auxiliary office and indices searches after the destruction date (six months) fail to disclose any investigation on Subject making indices practically meaningless. It is easier for an Agent who has handled a matter previously to handle subsequent leads than for it to be assigned to a different Agent everytime it reoccurs in an auxiliary office. At present supervisors have no way of knowing who accomplished leads in a particular matter if it is past the six month destruction date.

Disadvantages of suggestion

Files would have to be stored for five years instead of the present six months.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FILES

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide information regarding the status of file destruction.

SYNOPSIS:

Records Management Division employees met with representatives from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) on 11/16/76 regarding the Bureau's proposed change in the Records Retention Plan which provides for the destruction of files more than 10 years old if criminal and 20 years old for security-related matters. NARS representatives believe this is a reasonable and desirable approach. They will further review the Bureau's request and provide a meaningful definition for historical files that must be maintained indefinitely so this matter may be brought to an early conclusion. This would give the Bureau authority to destroy all obsolete material which is now contained in over 2500 file cabinets. The current authority for destruction is rather limited and is subject to the Congressional moratorium for security-related matters. However, since the partial lifting of the moratorium on 4/7/76, over 133 file cabinets of material have been destroyed, which represents over 27,000 files. This matter is being closely followed to insure appropriate resources will be utilized on this important matter by the time full approval from NARS is received.

b7C

DETAILS:

On 11/16/76, SA [redacted] and I met with representatives from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) regarding the Bureau's proposed change in the Records Retention Plan. The NARS representatives included Mr. Clarence F. Lyons, Jr., Chief of Legislative, Judicial and Fiscal Branch; his Assistant, [redacted], Appraiser, Federal Records Center. Generally, they believed that the Bureau's proposal for file retention (i.e., 10 years for criminal files and 20 years for security-related files) is reasonable and desirable. Their one concern was how to properly define the records that must be maintained for historical purposes which would ultimately be accessioned to Archives at the lapse of a specific time, such as 50 or 75 years. They wanted to provide the Bureau with reasonable guidelines for identifying historical files which met Archival requirements for permanent retention, but at the same time would allow the Bureau to destroy all obsolete records which are no longer timely and relevant to the Bureau's needs. In other words, they believed a simplified guideline is needed to eliminate a detailed file review or a complicated decision-making process and at the same time satisfy their needs.

They noted that informant data is frequently mentioned in files by a code symbol and that if informant files were destroyed because of the general age criteria, there would be no way to identify the informant for those files that are maintained for historical purposes. They were told that was precisely the Bureau's intention since informant data was given in confidence and it should remain that way. This would be one piece of the puzzle that historians would never know and that the Bureau had no intention of every providing Archives with such data. All NARS representatives agreed that this is a reasonable approach and that informant files most likely could be considered for destruction after they had been closed since they are administrative in nature and pertinent data had been incorporated into the proper case file.

They planned to further review the Bureau's request and were very enthusiastic about the Bureau's proposal, which will provide for the destruction of a large volume of obsolete material. They noted the previous retention plan required the maintenance of records that now exceed Archival needs.

DESTRUCTION OF FILES

The new proposal has the potential of destroying over 2500 file cabinets of material at FBIHQ; depending, of course, on the exact definition that will be provided by NARS for files which must be maintained for historical purposes. Also, the Bureau has the option of retaining those files beyond the prescribed time period if they serve a continuing need as an investigative reference. It is expected that NARS will resolve this matter within the next 30 days, which will then give the Bureau authority to apply the new criteria to criminal matters. The Congressional moratorium still applies to security-related files.

Our current authority for file destruction is rather limited due to the Records Retention Plan previously established by NARS and basically applies to: (a) cases in which there was no prosecution, (b) perpetrators of violations not developed, and (c) investigations revealed allegations were unsubstantiated or not within the FBI's jurisdiction. Also, it has been our policy to microfilm files in the criminal classifications after 10 years old and then destroy the original material. Duplicate copies of all material are also destroyed. Additionally, we have authority to destroy certain material in personnel files as set forth in the Federal Personnel Manual, which is common to all Government agencies. For field offices NARS has provided authority for the destruction of all investigative matters when closed since the field is required to forward to FBIHQ the originals, duplicates, or summarizations of substance of all significant aspects of pertinent investigative matters. However, this authority has not been completely delegated to the field since they have a need to maintain certain files for investigative reference. For this purpose, the field may destroy files after they have been closed for: (a) 6 months in auxiliary offices and (b) 10 years in office of origin. The destruction program, however, has been limited because of the current Congressional moratorium for security-related matters.

Since the lifting of the Congressional moratorium for file destruction on 4/7/76 (excluding security-related matters), over 133 file cabinets of material have been destroyed. 70 percent of this material is a result of destroying criminal files after they have been microfilmed. The balance relates to the destruction of Laboratory cases in which positive identification was not made, obsolete Bureau applicant files and obsolete material in out-of-service files. This has related to the destruction of over 27,000 files. During the past two weeks, the new proposed criteria has been applied to the 26 (ITSMV) classification, wherein they have identified over 1500 files for destruction. These, of course, will be held until final approval is received from NARS.

SUGGESTION

~~FORM~~

It is suggested that FD-478 (LIST OF FILES DESTROYED) be revised to delete 00 and 00 file number. Ten copies of proposed form enclosed.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Current practice is to review all files for 00 and 00 file number and record same on form. A Manual citation as such has not yet been recorded, however, reference is made to Bulet to Chicago dated 12/5/74, captioned DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS, SUGGESTION MATTER, a copy of which is also enclosed.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) The file destruction program is being greatly hindered by a form requiring recording of information which can serve no useful purpose in any way. Since index cards must be destroyed at the time related file material is destroyed, there is no way to "get back" to a name in the indices giving a file number for reference information from an 00. It is felt the original concept of the form had to do with a proposed program whereby index cards would not be destroyed; however, with the Privacy Act and Freedom of Information (continued)

None noted.

Act programs in full swing, index cards must be destroyed, thus rendering the form FD-478 not only nonpertinent but extremely time consuming for no logical reason.

The advantages and savings are employee time and at least a doubling of the speed and efficiency of the file destruction program which must need attention in all FBI field divisions due to a moratorium on same for more than a year's time.

The form as proposed would also allow space for recording of twice as many file numbers as on the FD-478 of 6/25/76, however, it is suggested that sufficient space be allowed between the lines for easy viewing when attempting to locate numbers of files destroyed. It is also suggested that the two-digit numbers on each line be deleted as they become somewhat confusing in the maze of numbers when the form is actually in use.

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:mjo 12/20/76)

Attached suggestion from the Richmond office proposes that form FD-478 (List of Files Destroyed), sample enclosed, be revised to delete "00" and "00 File #", and provide for the recording of additional file numbers.

OBSERVATIONS:

The Records Research Unit is in agreement with the suggestion to eliminate "00" and "00 File #" on form FD-478. On the other hand, the form was designed to facilitate and expedite recording destruction of a specific file number by merely crossing out the two digit number on the form that corresponds with the last two digits of the number of the file destroyed. This procedure requires recording only once at the top of the form the classification and complete file number within a given block of 100 files, i.e., 91-101; 87-7501; 100-201701, etc. Also by limiting each form to a block of 100 numbers provides for a chronological recording of file numbers resulting in ease of locating same should the need arise. To expand the form to accommodate recording additional numbers as suggested would add confusion and work to maintaining a record of files destroyed.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Recommend that suggestion to eliminate columns "00" and "00 File #" from form FD-478 be adopted. That suggestion to revise the form to allow for the recording of additional numbers not be adopted.

ECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
SUGGESTION MATTER
BUDED 12/18/74

Reference is made to SAC Memorandum 52-74 (A), dated 11/5/74, with caption, "Destruction of Field Files and Records." On page three of this memorandum, item E. states: "Two lists containing the numbers of files stroyed should be maintained. One list will be filed in front of each respective ssification in the closed files section; the other list will be maintained in an ministrative file created specifically for this purpose."

A suggestion is under consideration at FBI Headquarters whereby the closed form would be used for this purpose. By use of carbon paper, two pies could be prepared for filing as noted above. By having this form for use, eld offices could correspond directly with the office of origin in the event formation in a destroyed file is needed. The suggesters feel that the retention file fronts as required by the Manual of Rules and Regulations is impractical s many field offices consolidate their closed files and the fronts are not available the time of destruction.

You are requested to thoroughly review this matter and submit your omments to the attention of the Suggestion Desk, Training Division by the close f business 12/18/74.

TO : ~~Mr. Decker~~

DATE: 12/8/76

FROM : J. W. Awe

SUBJECT: ARCHIVAL AUTHORIZATION FOR DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS — General

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memorandum is to advise receipt of approval from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for destruction of erroneous record material and propose a means by which this matter will be resolved.

DETAILS: Based on W. L. Bailey memorandum to Mr. Decker, dated 9/17/76, request for authority to destroy records maintained at FBIHQ and the LA Field Office was forwarded to NARS as the result of erroneous information detected through the response to an FOIPA request. The requester was informed of the length of time involved in the legal destruction process and the LA Office was requested to forward all pertinent file material and index cards, including material which had been disseminated.

By routing slip, dated 10/21/76, NARS returned our request bearing approval of the Acting Archivist of the United States and the stipulation that index cards will be retained for accountability. Since the Fraud Against the Government (FAG) case file on which the request was based will be destroyed in entirety, provisions have been made for retention of index cards through indexing the FOIPA case file.

Records have now been received from the LA Office with the exception of documents furnished to the U.S. Attorney, Los Angeles (USA, LA). In lieu of returning this material, AUSA, LA, assumed the option of retaining pertinent reports and requested that a letter be prepared at FBIHQ to verify the inaccuracies and, noting particularly, the fact that the criminal records pertain to one [redacted] AUSA, LA, advised that the explanatory letter would subsequently be filed with the retained reports. b6 b7C

It is suggested that investigative files of FBI employees, which files are maintained with the personnel files where the employees are assigned, be destroyed when 10 years old the same as any other file in which the Bureau is office of origin.

Current practice

When an employee enters on duty in a Field Division the Manual of Rules and Regulations (Part II, Section 3, page 10, item D, 3, e) states the investigative file is to be maintained with the personnel file while the employee is assigned in that particular Division. In some instances the investigative file has been destroyed prior to the transfer of an employee to a Division where investigation was conducted if the investigative file was 10 years old prior to the transfer. However, in many instances (especially with clerical employees) the investigative file is maintained much longer than the 10 years and is removed from the personnel files only when an employee resigns, retires or is transferred.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

The only advantage is the saving of space. Since personnel files are maintained in special fireproof cabinets, the saving of space would also be a saving in the purchase of such cabinets.

Disadvantages of suggestion

None known as investigative files of employees would be destroyed routinely when 10 years old the same as any other file in which the Bureau is office of origin. It is felt after 10 years there is practically no occasion when an investigative file would be of value or even referred to.

(The use by the United States of my suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States. I understand that I will be considered for any justified award only if my suggestion is adopted within two years after submission.)

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:mjo 12/20/76)

Attached suggestion from the Butte office proposes that investigative files of FBI employees be destroyed when 10 years old.

OBSERVATIONS:

Current regulations provide for the destruction of investigative files when 10 years old in auxiliary office in those cases in which the Bureau is office of origin. This includes investigative files of FBI employees. Therefore, it is believed that existing instructions are sufficiently clear to permit the destruction of files as suggested.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Recommend that suggestion not be adopted in view of existing instructions regarding destruction of investigative files.

Suggestion #123-77

ADDENDUM: PLANNING AND INSPECTION DIVISION CEM/imt 12/21/76

Planning and Inspection Division recommends that this suggestion be adopted. In fact, this Division would favor a policy of destroying the field investigative files of Bureau employees after one year if consistent with archival requirements. It is our understanding that if all pertinent information is on file at a central location such as FBIHQ in the case of Bureau Applicant Matters, archival approval could be obtained to destroy auxiliary office files on a more timely basis.

ADDENDUM OF FINANCE AND PERSONNEL DIVISION AES:dam 12/20/76

The Finance and Personnel Division believes that this recommendation has merit and should be adopted. It is felt that the basis for adoption is in the conformity of file destruction rules rather than the possible space saving which might occur. It is pointed out that field investigative files of Bureau employees are destroyed under the ten-year rule in offices other than where the employee is assigned. Therefore, this rule should be followed in the office where the employee is assigned as the employee's Headquarters file contains all results of investigation conducted on the employee.

THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY, ET AL
V. EDWARD LEVI, ET AL., USDC, DC
CIVIL NO. 76-2205 - FILE DESTRUCTION of Bureau Property

The Department has advised of a lawsuit by the Black Panther Party (BPP) which was filed in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia on December 1, 1976, against FBI Director Kelley and other defendants. The Department has advised that in connection with this lawsuit all documents which in any way relate or which might potentially relate to this matter be preserved pending the outcome of this litigation. Records in this category are currently governed by the Congressional moratorium on destruction. However, in connection with your existing authority to destroy files in field offices, great care should be taken to insure that no files are destroyed which contain the BPP in the caption of the case or the BPP as a subcaption to any individual investigation irrespective of classification. This restriction will remain in effect until you are advised to the contrary.

It has additionally been noted that the following individuals are listed as plaintiffs in this lawsuit and the restriction for destruction would also apply to them. This would include any files wherein these individuals may be cross referenced into any other investigative file. Therefore, you should prepare a search slip on these individuals to insure that all files or any references relating to them are maintained.

NOTE: Suggests that investigative files of FBI employees, which files are maintained with the personnel files where the employees are assigned, be destroyed when 10 years old, the same as any other file in which the Bureau is office of origin. The Planning and Inspection Division recommends that suggestion be adopted. In fact, this division would favor a policy of destroying the field investigative files of Bureau employees after one year if consistent with archival requirements. The Records Management Division recommends that suggestion not be adopted in view of existing instructions regarding destruction of investigative files. Current regulations provide for the destruction of investigative files when 10 years old in auxiliary office in those cases in which the Bureau is office of origin. This includes investigative files of FBI employees. Therefore, it is believed that existing instructions are sufficiently clear to permit the destruction of files as suggested. Training Division agrees with the Records Management Division that (Part II, Section 3, Page 13a, of the Manual of Rules and Regulations) existing instructions regarding this suggestion are clear and recommends that no further action be taken. SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF PRODUCTION RECORDS OF RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 9-22-82 BY SP4 EJW/gmh

ORIGINAL FILED IN 66-1835-79

PURPOSE:

To report that production records of each unit in the Records Management Division dating back to 1951 will be destroyed with the exception of those pertaining to the last two years (1975-76). Henceforth, these production records will be destroyed by the Personnel Records Unit each January after they become two years old.

DETAILS:

Miss [redacted] File Supervisor, Personnel Records Unit, determined that since January, 1951, monthly production records in the Records Management Division have been retained and suggested that such records be destroyed when they become two years old. Inquiry has determined that these records are seldom, if ever, referred to by officials and supervisors at Headquarters. The only exception would be inspections, where on one occasion the records were reviewed for the immediate past two years because there had not been an inspection for almost that period of time. Since each employee's production is closely followed monthly and appropriate administrative action recommended promptly, there is no useful purpose to be served in retaining these records beyond a period of time that could reasonably be expected to be useful in answering inspection questions. Destruction of these records with the exception of the immediate past two years would save 8 cubic feet of space and would not be in violation of any moratorium or archival regulation. Miss [redacted] has been orally commended for her suggestion.

NOTE: Suggests that FD-478 (List of Files Destroyed) be revised to delete office of origin and office of origin file number. The proposed revision would also allow space for recording of twice as many file numbers. The Records Management Division recommends that suggestion to eliminate "OO" and "OO File #" from FD-478 be adopted; however, this division recommends against revising the form to allow additional numbers. The present form is limited to a block of 100 numbers and provides a chronological recording of file numbers resulting in ease of locating same should the need arise. Training Division agrees that the "OO" and "OO File #" should be eliminated from FD-478, and upon approval, this letter will act as authority for the Forms Management Desk, Training Division, to make the appropriate revision when the present supply of this form has been exhausted. SUBJECT: Cannibalization and Destruction of Equipment

Reference your memorandum dated September 28, 1976, subject as above.

The Federal Property Management Regulations (FPMR), 41 CFR 101-43.315-2, discusses the methods of obtaining reliable information on the availability of excess property.

When the need for excess property cannot be reasonably foreseen, the actions prescribed in FPMR 101-43.315-2(a), (b) and (c) should be met in a formal or informal manner to the extent possible prior to cannibalization.

In cases where future requirements can be foreseen, such as the discontinuance of a major assembly or line of products by a manufacturer, the provisions of FPMR 101-43.315-2(d) must be met. This will provide the General Services Administration an opportunity to locate usable excess prior to cannibalization, without the pressure normally associated with exigencies.

In any event, a statement supporting the removal of an item from property records must be in accordance with Condition 6 of my August 26, 1976, memorandum.

I trust the above references and amplification provide the guidance you requested.

SUBJECT: ADMINISTRATIVE ADVANCEMENT CARDS

PURPOSE: To recommend that Administrative Advancement Cards maintained by Movement be discontinued.

DETAILS: Since approximately 1955 Special Agent Annual Performance Ratings (currently over 8,000 in number) have been routed to Movement where they are reviewed to determine if the Agent is interested, available and qualified for Administrative Advancement. When an Agent is so interested, available and qualified a 3" x 5" card (sample copy attached) is prepared and updated annually upon receipt of his performance rating. The cards are maintained in alphabetical order and additionally indicate office of assignment.

Efforts to locate memoranda authorizing this administrative procedure were unsuccessful. The exact purpose of the cards is unknown but in all liklihood they were used in some way to facilitate the selection of personnel for advancement to FBIHQ.

Currently no reports are generated from the cards and there are no recalled instances by Movement personnel for any requests for information from the cards. There is therefore no known purpose for maintaining the cards. As you are aware, those Agents interested, available and qualified for administrative advancement may now be identified through automated records.

RECOMMENDATION: That the Administrative Advancement Cards maintained by Movement in room 6148 be discontinued and that the mail flow be appropriately adjusted to preclude Movement receiving Agent performance ratings in the future.

SUGGESTION

That index cards for cases "RUC'd" by auxiliary offices not be destroyed at the time that the investigative files are destroyed.

DE-32

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Index cards for "RUC'd" cases are destroyed six months after the case is "RUC'd". Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 13c (6/28/76)

REC 61 66-3386-125

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) Allows for subsequent information retrieval. At present, after six-month destruction, an indices search would be negative, and therefore, misleading, in that it suggests that the name or organization checked had not been subject to FBI investigation in the past. The retention of an index card portrays a more complete picture of actual circumstances, even though the file has been destroyed and it allows for subsequent communication with the former "OO" to retrieve past investigative results, e.g., pictures, accomplices, associates, etc. While files may be retained at the agent's discretion, for stated reasons, it is not always clear at the time a case is RUC'd" what value the information contained therein may have at a future date. Annual savings unknown.

Dear Mr. Becker:

Your suggestion regarding the destruction of certain field office index cards has been received. You may be interested to know, the same proposal has been considered several times in the recent past, and it was decided the destruction period as set forth in instructions to the field should not be changed.

The interest you displayed in giving me the benefit of your thoughts on this matter is indeed appreciated.

The suggestion that files and index cards be retained rather than destroyed after 6 months is contrary to instructions contained in Bulet to SAC, Albany and all offices 3-3-76, and McDermott to Jenkins memo 4-5-76 titled "Destruction of Field Files and Records" wherein a change in the Manual of Rules and Regulations was approved thereby providing for the destruction of index cards at time related file material is destroyed. SUGGESTION That attached form, captioned "Background Data Request," which is self-explanatory in nature, be adopted for field use.

Bulet to Albany and all offices, 3/3/76, captioned "Destruction of Field Files and Records," authorizes destruction of auxiliary office files six months after a case is last referred upon completion to office of origin, except in certain stipulated instances. Vast majority of auxiliary office files do not warrant exemption and are destroyed after six months.

Beginning in October, 1976 (six months after receipt of Bulet 3/3/76) auxiliary offices began receiving leads in files which had been destroyed under six-month rule. Leads were not accompanied by necessary background or descriptive data, necessitating correspondence with office of origin to obtain same, prior to coverage of leads. This form enables auxiliary offices to expeditiously request needed data without expending typist or stenographic time and effort.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Auxiliary offices must now request needed data via telephone, teletype or written communication such as airtel or letter. Destruction of Bureau Property - Memo

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (Include basis for estimate) By using handprinted form, needed background material can be requested from office of origin by auxiliary office supervisor immediately upon determination that former case file in matter has been destroyed. Notation by supervisor on incoming communication that FD- was sent constitutes necessary record of action. Requests for background data now normally handled by case Agent upon receipt of new case by dictating teletype, airtel or letter. Use of form would save 3-5 days time in getting request to office of origin; at least three pieces of stationery; stenographic/typist time; time expended by rotor clerk in serializing and filing outgoing request. Annual savings unknown.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Master assignment cards are used as a tickler for file destruction since 12/74.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Prior to ruling for master assignment cards being utilized as ticklers for file destruction, all files are reviewed for destruction. At the time files are being reviewed and destroyed the FD-478 is appropriately marked, at this time, if unable to destroy a file because of age, a date could be inserted next to file number on the FD-478. The FD-478 control file could be reviewed on an annual basis for file destruction. This would eliminate reviewing all consolidated files prior to 12/74 each year for file destruction.

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:mk 2/10/77)

Attached suggestion from the Tampa Office proposes that form FD-478 (list of files destroyed) be revised to provide a column for recording "date file can be destroyed." Present policy provides that master assignment card (FD-1c or FD-1d) is to be used as a tickler and set up according to date file will be eligible for destruction (ten years in office of origin cases and six months in auxiliary office cases). When files are pulled on tickler in connection with the file destruction program, the file is reviewed and if pertinent activity has transpired subsequent to the original closing/RUC date the tickler is reset for a more appropriate period. In those instances where a case has been reopened the most recent assignment card supercedes the earlier one.

OBSERVATIONS:

The Records Systems Section (RSS) is of the opinion that the present procedures of identifying through the tickler system files that satisfy the destruction criteria is far more efficient than that suggested in that it is significantly less cumbersome and time consuming to maintain. Cases that would be closed/RUD'd today might be reopened tomorrow and closed/RUC'd again which would result in the date on FD-478 having to be changed continually. For those cases closed/RUC'd prior to December 1974, which are to be retained beyond the period currently specified in the field file destruction criteria, it is believed that it would be more efficient and practical to prepare a three by five index card indicating subject, file number, and date file will be eligible for destruction. The three by five card will then serve as a tickler and be set up according to date file can be destroyed. It is felt that suggestion does not warrant favorable consideration for adoption.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Recommend that suggestion not be adopted.

NOTE: Suggests that Form FD-478 (list of files destroyed) be revised to provide a column for recording "date file can be destroyed." The Records Systems Section, Records Management Division, is of the opinion that the present procedures of identifying through the tickler system files that satisfy the destruction criteria is far more efficient than that suggested in that it is significantly less cumbersome and time consuming to maintain. This division recommends that suggestion not be approved, and Training Division agrees. Views attached.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that consideration be given to the elimination of Form FD-479. My suggestion is that a block stamp be utilized which would contain a synopsis of information presently appearing on Form FD-479 and that the destruction order be stamped on the reverse side of file jacket or on the top serial if file is consolidated. b6 b7C

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

For each case that is closed or RUC'd an FD-479 is prepared by the Case Agent and included as the top serial in the file.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

1. Substantial savings in paper and printing costs. Los Angeles usage of this form is approximately 37,500 copies per year at an estimated annual cost of $2,000.

2. Agent time saved in form preparation.

When case is closed, stamp would be placed on the inside of file cover. When file is consolidated at a later date, the information would have to be transferred to the top serial of the file. This would mean losing the agent and supervisor's original initials which is felt necessary to place responsibility on the agent. As new mail is added to the file the serial with the stamp on it would no longer remain the top serial and thus easily overlooked.

SUGGESTION

It is suggested that all auxiliary office files be retained for a five-year period and then destroyed, as that is the normal statute of limitations. Any auxiliary files that are to be maintained for a longer period should be maintained only on specific instruction of OO or the field supervisor where the file is maintained. This would completely eliminate the necessity of sending original Fd-302s, agents' notes and exhibits to origin when a case is RUC'd. This current practice creates a tremendous administrative burden on the Chief Clerk's Office, the field supervisor, and the case agent himself, and due to the complexity of the situation, creates the possibility of a clerical mistake which could be fatal to the prosecution of the case.

Destruction of Bureau Records

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Current auxiliary office cases when RUC'd require all original Fd-302s, agents' notes and evidentiary exhibits be forwarded to origin as enclosures, per Manual of Rules and Regulations, III, Section 3, pages 13a, para. e thru page 13c.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

It eliminates the need for forwarding original Fd-302s, agents' notes and evidentiary exhibits to origin upon RUCing a case, thereby saving the enclosure clerical time involved in performing these functions and also saving agent's time, in that he does not necessarily have to initial the Fd-302 before forwarding copies to origin. Also saves time in that origin would not have to exhibit agents' notes that are retained and other exhibits that normally would have been exhibited in the reporting field office. It also eliminates the necessity for the receiving office supervisor to initial the extra piece of mail involved and should significantly decrease mail volume. It also

None. However, it is noted these files will require shelf space, which is already available and the need will not expand because files will be routinely and uniformly destroyed at the end of ten years in origin cases and five years in auxiliary cases.

(The use by the United States of my suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States. I understand that I will be considered for any justified award only if my suggestion is adopted within two years after submission.)

keeps available to the auxiliary office background information which in the event future investigation is required and could be particularly helpful in fugitive matters, which often run well beyond six months. Also, under the Freedom of Information and Privacy Act instruction, any substantive file from which documents are processed and released to a requester must not be destroyed under the six-month destruction rule pertaining to auxiliary field office records; these files are to be maintained for five years. Since each office would have a large number of requests for information from auxiliary field office files, it is believed a five and ten year destruction rule on all substantive files would be more realistic and uniform. It is felt this change would save considerable clerk, agent and supervisory time.

Recommendations and Comments of Division Head:

It has been the experience of this office that the current procedures for file destruction have taken up a considerable amount of administrative time insuring that originals of FD-302s, evidence, etc. is submitted to the Office of Origin when in fact a very small percentage of these things are actually used in a court of law.

However, I am confident that the study which changed our file destruction procedures took this into consideration. If it did, I do not recommend the adoption of suggestion. However, if the administrative handling of these matters was not taken into serious consideration, I feel that the auxiliary office file destruction program should be looked at one more time with this in mind.

TO : Mr. McDermott

DATE: 3/17/77

FROM : A. J. Decker, Jr.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION AND SEARCHING CRITERIA

Reference Decker to McDermott memorandum dated 10/12/76 which sets forth new criteria for searching and destruction of files over 20 years old in security-related matters and 10 years in criminal matters.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to (1) adjust the searching and retention criteria according to user division needs and (2) obtain approval to send the attached SF 115 to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for their approval which will establish a new Records Retention Plan for FBI files and provide broad authority for disposition of these files.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 8-20-91 BY 6383 VRT/MJ

DETAILS:

After consultation with members of NARS, a basic plan has been developed which adjusts the Records Retention Plan they established in 1969. Basically this will allow for the destruction of criminal files over 10 years old and security-related files over 20 years old with the provision that certain material outlined by NARS must be retained indefinitely for historical value for ultimate accession by them.

The Criminal Investigative Division indicated criminal files may be destroyed after they are 10 years old. The Intelligence Division advised certain foreign counterintelligence file material should be retained indefinitely and specifically requested that classifications 65 and 105 not be systematically destroyed. However, should certain material in these classifications be identified that is no longer considered timely and relevant, the Intelligence Division will be consulted and their concurrence obtained prior to destruction. The Special Investigative Division advised that in connection with FBI responsibility under Executive Order 10450 security-related and applicant classifications should be retained for at least 30 years.

Memorandum to Mr. McDermott
SEARCHING CRITERIA

In view of the needs presented by the substantive divisions, the FBI will adopt the policy of retaining criminal files for 10 years and security and applicant-related files for 30 years. Search criteria will be adjusted to conform with retention criteria.

Attached as an enclosure to the SF 115 is the classification list identifying the 191 categories of files in the Central Records System indicating which are security and applicant-related.

Attached as an enclosure to this memorandum is an SF 115 relative to this matter which is self-explanatory that will be sent to NARS for their final approval of the FBI's proposed change in the Records Retention Plan. This will also be made available to the Department in a separate communication so they will be aware of the Bureau's plans in this regard. This will also give the Department an opportunity to provide this information to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence to insure they would have no objection to this plan before it is implemented. Additionally, it is intended that this SF 115 after approval by NARS will be added to the "Retention and Disposal Section" of the "Central Records System" as printed in the Federal Register in accordance with the Privacy Act.

It is noted that the authority for the destruction of file material that will be granted as shown in the SF 115 is broader than what will actually be used. This will allow us to adjust to shorter retention periods in the future by merely advising NARS of our intention without going through the complicated procedure of adjusting a Records Retention Plan. The longer retention period for certain categories is based upon substantive division needs.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the retention plan as set forth be approved.

This System consists of one numerical sequence of subject matter files, an alphabetical index to the files, and a supporting abstract system to facilitate processing and accountability of all important mail placed in file. For example, all information on a given subject matter or case is channeled into one file. In order to facilitate control of the file and accommodate multiple subject(s) matters, a numbering system is used to indicate: (a) general classification and nature of violation, (b) the individual case file in this category, and (c) serialization of individual pieces of mail in the file. For instance, the number 7-100-10 on a piece of mail indicates it is the 10th piece of mail in the 100th file assigned to the Kidnaping (7) classification. Selection Procedures:

(For existing closed files that meet age criteria) Files with 5 or less volumes would generally not apply under the criteria for a significant investigation or case and will be destroyed after a review, to insure compliance with criteria, by an experienced employee. Files more than 5 volumes will be reviewed by seasoned employees using their best judgment in applying the criteria for destruction or retention. A quality control spot check will insure a high degree of reliability in judgment.

(For future closed files)
At the time a file is closed, the case agent will provide a recommendation regarding retention in accordance with this criteria. This recommendation will be subject to reevaluation prior to disposition to insure initial appraisal has remained accurate.

Files will be selected and designated for permanent retention if they meet one or more of the following criteria for significance:

1. The investigation or case has significant impact on law enforcement policies or procedures, agency rules or regulations, or investigative and intelligence techniques;

2. The investigation or case involves an actual or potential breakdown of public order (civil disturbance) of major proportions;

(6) Investigative files which, if maintenance is continued, would conflict with provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a (e) (1), (5), and (7).

Disposition: DESTROY regardless of age if found to be irrelevant to FBI operations, information is not timely, or retention is not justified or warranted. Files will be evaluated on an individual basis.

D. Items other than those described above under 1a, 1b and 1c.

(1) Transitory documents such as airtels, teletypes, memoranda, etc., the substance of which has been included in prosecutive summary reports or other permanent communications which provide the basis for retention according to the prescribed disposition of the respective file.

CONFIDENTIAL

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

Disposition: DESTROY after action has been taken and transitory document no longer serves a useful purpose.

(2) Reference index cards which permit access to secondary names indexed in a communication that are not considered to be the main subject of the communication. De-indexing and the destruction of these cards would make the names nonretrievable once it is determined they no longer serve a useful purpose whereas continued maintenance of the file and retrievability of the file under its main caption is essential for FBI needs or Archival requirements. This would be particularly true where continued maintenance of such reference index cards would conflict with the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a (e) (7).

Disposition: DESTROY after it is determined such references no longer serve a useful purpose or their continued maintenance would conflict with the provisions of the Privacy Act.

NOTE: Separate authority has been granted for the destruction of field office records on the basis that the records are contained in Headquarters files in whole, substance, or summarization. Destruction resulting from this disposal schedule will not compromise current authority granted for the destruction of field records.

Time periods for retention were selected to meet current needs; however, this criteria will be reevaluated from time to time to ensure that information maintained is essential and relevant. Adjustments may be needed in the future, especially as it relates to: (1) the FBI's obligation under Executive Order 10450 for the Security of Government Employees and (2) future Department of Justice guidelines for information gathering and retention policies for investigative data.

CONFIDENTIAL

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods) CONFIDENTIAL	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

The following classifications are excluded from disposition standards for criminal, security and applicant investigative files. That National Archives and Records Service will, upon examination, apply separate criteria for disposition in these classifications: 1, 32, 33, 39, 43, 62, 63, 64, 66, 67, 80, 91, 94, 98, 100, 105, 122, 188 and 191. A supplemental SF 115 will be submitted regarding these classifications after the National Archives and Records Service determines specific retention guidelines which will then allow for the destruction of obsolete material in these classifications.

A copy of this request is being made available to the Department of Justice for the Attorney General's information so he will be aware of the FBI's Retention Plan. This will enable the Department to also make this data available to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence before the plan is implemented to insure no data is destroyed for which there is a Congressional interest. Additionally, particular care will be taken to be sure no material is destroyed for which there is pending litigation or otherwise restricted because of a special request.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION AND SEARCHING CRITERIA

Reference Decker to Jenkins memorandum dated August 2, 1976, and Awe to Decker memorandum dated November 19, 1976, which set forth new criteria for searching and destruction of files of 20 years in security related matters and 10 years in criminal matters.

PURPOSE: To set forth specific needs of the Special Investigative Division (SID) with respect to searching and destruction criteria in order to fulfill our responsibilities under Executive Order 10450 (EO 10450).

SYNOPSIS: The 20-year searching and destruction criteria restrict FBI ability to discharge our responsibilities as set forth in EO 10450. The Communist Party was very active in the late 1940's and early 1950's, and the 20-year criteria removes all records of that activity from consideration in EO 10450 investigations. Since about 30 percent of all EO 10450 searches are eliminated by the 20-year criteria, a substantial risk is incurred, especially with respect to very sensitive positions, such as applicants and employees of CIA, military, and FBI. Privacy Act guidelines do not conflict with a longer criteria since the test is one of relevancy, which is primarily an adjudicative function automatically denied if the information is destroyed. The Civil Service Commission (CSC), the primary name check contributor, and the agency with overall Government employment responsibility, advised by letter dated December 8, 1976, that in its view, there are important considerations concerning the use of dated loyalty information. CSC advised it believes destruction criteria should be a conscious decision on the part of the administration, the agencies involved, and the intelligence community.

Re: File Destruction and Searching Criteria

CURRENT BUREAU POLICY: Current Bureau Policy just instituted, provides that criminal files be destroyed after ten years of no activity, and security related files after 20 years of no activity. Searching criteria are now 20 years for security related and 10 years for criminal, with provisions for extended searches upon request. Traditionally, we have searched without regard to time criteria.

RECOMMENDATIONS: That a searching and destruction criteria no less than 30 years for security related files be implemented in all matters covered by EO 10450.

ADDENDUM: GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION: KVH:enm 1/17/77

General Investigative Division does not concur with the recommendations for searching and destruction criteria of 30 years set forth above but does concur with the recommendation for the searching criteria as set forth in Decker to McDermott memo dated 10/12/76, captioned, "File Destruction and Searching Criteria."

DETAILS: EO 10450 directs the FBI, upon receipt of inquiries from other Government agencies, to furnish them information contained in our central files and the files of our Identification Division, which bears upon the suitability and/or loyalty of Government employees. EO 10450 describes the type of information which is to be furnished.

Prior to EO 10450, which was issued on April 27, 1953, EO 9835, issued March 21, 1947, set forth similar standards for Government employment and delegated similar responsibilities to the FBI. Both of these orders were issued at a time when Communist Party activity in the United States was at its heighth and when our investigations, as well as Congressional inquiries, were extensive. The specific purpose of both orders was to control Government employment; i.e., to insure that the Federal Government employed persons who were of unswerving loyalty. Of course, that purpose is the same today, and the obligations imposed by EO 10450 are no less than our obligations were in March, 1947.

A 20-year criteria for searching and file destruction draws a line which not only excludes 29.75 percent of all name searching requests under EO 10450, but also excludes a historical period of the heaviest Communist Party activity in the United States. Omitting almost 30 percent of all such searches obviously restricts our ability to adjust the scope of our investigations to determine the applicant's character, associates, reputation, and loyalty--particularly when the limitation excludes the time period mentioned above.

A Government employee who was aged in his twenties in 1946, is today in his fifties, and is far more likely to be in a sensitive position or seeking a sensitive position than ever before. Similarly, applicants for Government employment today will have parents, relatives, references, or associates, who may have been involved in Communist Party activities in the late 1940's and early 1950's. These applicants will be subjected to a different scope of investigation in each instance where prior activities on the part of a relative, for example, are established. It is important to note that the purpose of the investigation, and therefore the scope, is to resolve whether a loyalty issue exists--to prove or disprove its existance so the adjudicating officer in the proper office can make an objective determination.

Under current procedures, a Government employee who is employed in a nonsensitive position is the subject of a National Agency Check Investigation (NACI) and not a full field investigation. However, when he moves into a sensitive position, he is subjected to a full field investigation and must provide complete background information. This results in an additional NACI which includes another check of FBI files. Further, all persons applying for sensitive positions are subject to a full field investigation including a NACI no matter what their age when they applied for the position. This procedure includes all Presidential appointments, as well as the employment of persons by the CIA, the military agencies, and FBI applicants. In sum, a 20-year searching and destruction rule and the resulting loss of 30 percent of the information, will result, presumably, in missing information on the most sensitive positions of our Governement about 30 percent of the time. This result is hard to square with the FBI's specifically delegated responsibilities under EO 10450.

An additional question pertinent to establishing searching and destruction criteria is raised by the Privacy Act of 1974. Section (e) (1) states that each agency that maintains a system of records shall "maintain in its records only such information about an individual as is relevant and necessary to accomplish a purpose of the agency required to be accomplished by statute or by executive order of the President." The Office of Management and Budget guidelines note that the Act recognizes that agencies need to maintain information about individuals to discharge their responsibilities effectively. As we have pointed out in our prior memorandum, if information is not sought or if it is destroyed, there can be no question about its relevance, nor of its retrievability. Again, the question of an adjudication of the employee, whether favorable or unfavorable, will remain unanswered because of the absence of information.

On December 2, 1976, members of the CSC, Bureau of Personnel Investigations, and FBI Headquarters representatives from SID and Records Management Division met to discuss the possible effects of the destruction and searching criteria on CSC operations and to determine how useful is the information currently being furnished to CSC. The opinion of CSC was sought by SID because of the more than 300,000 name searches initiated by it each year, and because EO 10450 specifically delegates to CSC overall responsibility to maintain the employment program for the Federal Government. CSC's views are set forth in the enclosed letter dated December 8, 1976.

In conclusion, SID feels that the 20-year searching and destruction criteria impose unnecessary restrictions on the use of information available to discharge our responsibilities under EO 10450. As we have previously stated, while some personnel and cost savings may result from a more accelerated criteria, we should not allow what may be short-term considerations to generate policies which may work to the disadvantage of our long-range investigative responsibilities. In this case, these responsibilities encompass the loyalty of each Government employee.

SID recommends that a searching and destruction criteria no less than 30 years for security related files be implemented in all matters covered by EO 10450. These matters include:

(1) All Special Inquiries (161)
(2) Loyalty of Government Employees and United Nations Employee Investigations, including CSC referral cases (138, 140, 151)
(3) Name Checks
(4) National Agency Check Investigations (all SF-85's and 86's)
(5) Departmental Applicant Investigations (77)
(6) Nuclear Regulatory Commission and Energy Research and Development Administration Investigations (116)
(7) Maintenance Employee Investigations (77)
(8) Bureau Applicant Investigations (67)

ADDENDUM: Intelligence Division JRW:ded 1/31/77

The Intelligence Division does not concur with any proposed searching and destruction criteria, either of a 30 or 20 year duration, which does not provide for retention of valuable and potentially valuable foreign counterintelligence information in the 65 and 105 classifications.

The Records Management Division (RMD) has proposed that with certain limited exceptions all "security related" files be destroyed after a period of 20 years. The exceptions insofar as foreign counterintelligence material is concerned deal with cases which, at the time of proposed destruction, are deemed to be of either major or historical significance.

INTD regards destruction of irrelevant and outdated file material as desirable. However, it should be noted that foreign counterintelligence classifications 65 and 105, contain a significant amount of information that is neither major case material nor of historical value but that is of actual or potential value to the investigative operations of the INTD. An example of such a case might be of an intelligence officer who visits the United States as an exchange student and who is relatively young. Information concerning this subject would be placed in a 105 case file. When this officer leaves the United States the case would be closed and the file would lie dormant. In the event that subject returned to the United States after 20 years, the results of the initial investigation would be of importance and should be available. In addition, it is not inconceivable that such a subject might come to the attention of another member of the U. S. Intelligence Community after 20 years, in which case that Agency would reasonably expect the FBI to provide support.

There is a significant amount of material contained in classifications 65 and 105 which is not readily segregable from that which is irrelevant and outdated. INTD believes, therefore, that file material in the foreign counterintelligence classifications 65 and 105 should not be systematically destroyed after 20 years unless procedures ensure that material of actual or potential value is retained.

INTD recommends that foreign counterintelligence file material in the 65 and 105 classifications be retained indefinitely.

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (JWA:evp 2/16/77)

The Records Management Division (RMD) has reviewed the data set forth by the Special Investigative Division (SID) in G. R. Steel memorandum to Mr. Fehl dated 1/5/77 and the addendums to this memorandum by the General Investigative Division (GID) and Intelligence Division (INTD) as it relates to the file destruction and searching criteria. Briefly, the current Bureau approved searching/destruction criteria provides that criminal files be destroyed after 10 years of no activity and security-related files after 20 years of no activity with the provisions for extended searches upon request and that files of a continuing value would be maintained beyond the periods indicated. The SID recommends that a searching/destruction criteria of no less than 30 years be established for security-related files for all matters covered by Executive Order (EO) 10450. The GID recommended the Bureau continue with current policy for 10 and/or 20 years for criminal and security-related matters. The INTD indicated that file material in the foreign counterintelligence classifications 65 and 105 should not be systematically destroyed after 20 years unless procedures insured that material of actual or potential value is retained. INTD further recommended that foreign counterintelligence file material in the 65 and 105 classifications be retained indefinitely in order for them to fulfill their responsibilities.

The RMD is clearly a service division and does not in any way want to establish policy as to what user divisions need. This must be established by each of the user divisions. However, the RMD is obligated under the law (41 CFR 101-11) to seek destruction of obsolete material that is no longer considered timely and relevant to FBI needs and to preserve that for which there is a continuing need, including those files that have a historical value for their ultimate accession to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). To this end RMD is trying to establish a uniform criteria to insure we maintain in our files that data which is essential for the Bureau to accomplish its missions and goals and at the same time insure obsolete material is disposed of promptly. In regard to the SID's need for data beyond the 10 and 20 year rule, RMD sets forth three basic observations.

1. EO 10450 is silent as to how long material must be maintained for record purposes. While the Department has been working on guidelines relative to this matter, there is no indication this will be resolved by the Department in the near future. Civil Service in their letter did not specifically say how long they desired the Bureau to keep information other than the Bureau's decision should be a conscience one since it could affect the intelligence community. In this regard, it would seem reasonable that Civil Service or other agencies requesting information beyond the 10/20 year criteria should provide a reasonable degree of justification and to demonstrate that such information in the past has proven to be beneficial and that successful results were obtained by using the information with a significant degree of frequency. Civil Service has indicated this would be hard to do, especially in view of today's environment, i.e., what seemed important 10 or 20 years ago is interpreted differently today.

2. If the requesting agencies can support a justifiable need for the "older" information, then perhaps they should be asked to share in the costs. Name Checks and investigations for other agencies are now done on a reimbursable basis; and if we are required to maintain information solely for this purpose, it seems reasonable that the large costs of continuing this burden should be equally shared by the requesters including the burdens under FOI/PA. It seems this would be particularly true if the Bureau can demonstrate this information is no longer needed for the Bureau's investigative needs. All 59 field offices conduct their investigative work successfully by only having reference to investigative material in their respective offices no longer than 10 years for both criminal and security categories. However, they do maintain certain files longer than that if they serve a continuing need for investigative references. With this in mind, it then becomes more difficult for FBIHQ to support justification for records beyond what the field feels they need for investigative references. Justification, of course, in the past has been EO 10450. The continued cost of maintaining large volumes of records just for this reason is extremely high and perhaps if other agencies had to share in this particular cost they may feel the "older information does not contain the value they though it had.

3. On 2/9/77 a representative from NARS presented the Bureau with a draft of information which will alter the current Records Retention Plan and, thereby, give the FBI the authority to destroy obsolete material substantially the same as proposed in Awe to Decker memorandum dated November 19, 1976. The NARS draft proposal provides the Bureau with the authority to set its own time criteria as to how long records from the "Central Records System" would be maintained before they would be scheduled for destruction. Their only interest is to insure that those records that have a historical significance will be maintained indefinitely to be ultimately accessioned to NARS. While the complete authority to initiate the destruction program does not have final approval we now know that NARS is in agreement with the Bureau's general proposal which must now be finalized and submitted to them for final authority. In this regard a separate communication will be submitted to obtain broad Archival authority for the destruction of obsolete material. This does not mean we will be obligated to destroy material for which NARS has authorized as long as it serves a continuing need in order for the Bureau to accomplish its missions and goals, but we should attempt to define the specific areas where material must be kept beyond a certain time frame for our needs and clearly define this material so we may proceed to destroy that which is no longer needed.

If SID and INTD believe they must have certain material beyond the basic 10/20 year criteria they should establish definitive guidelines, perhaps by classification and then topic or category within the classification, that must be maintained since it is generally known there is a considerable amount of obsolete material that would be found in either the 100 or 105 classifications that could be destroyed.

The following relates to the NARS' draft proposal for permanent retention:

A. All supervision policy and procedure files, including 00 files for each classification.

B. Files must be selected and designated for permanent retention if they meet one or more of the following criteria for significance:

1. The investigation or case has a significant impact on law enforcement policies or procedures, agency rules or regulations, or investigative and intelligence techniques.

2. The investigation or case involves an actual or potential breakdown of public order (civil disturbance) of major proportions.

3. The investigation or case directly involves (a) a subversive or extremist organization, with or without foreign connections, or (b) a person or persons holding a major leadership position within such an organization.

4. The investigation or case directly involves a person, element, or organization whose activities are deemed to pose a substantive and compelling threat to the conduct of national defense or foreign policy.

5. The investigation or case is significant in terms of intensity of public interest, expressed by (a) a demonstrated interest of a congressional committee or the Executive Office of the President, or (b) a high degree of national media attention.

NARS may define additional criteria for retention in the following classifications: 1, 32, 33, 39, 43, 62, 63, 64, 66, 67, 80, 91, 94, 98, 100, 105 and 102. Until they review selected material in these classifications, no destruction will be implemented in these classifications. These matters will be handled separately with NARS in order to arrive at a clear understanding as to what must be maintained for their purposes, at the same time, allow us to destroy nonessential, obsolete material in these classifications.

During recent inspection of the Birmingham Division, it was further recommended that Birmingham examine the necessity of retaining the Top Hoodlum Photographic Album, the special indices on the United Klans of America, Inc., and the gambling indices. Information to which these indices pertain is also retrievable through the Birmingham general indices and current use does not justify retention.

In view of the above, FBIHQ authority is requested for the destruction of these special indices, namely:

NOTE: ReBHlets to Bureau 10/18/76 and 2/23/77 requesting authority to destroy special indices that have outlived their usefulness. These indices are considered administrative tools for the field and per Manual of Rules and Regulations can only be set up with Bureau authority. While there are no instructions requiring Bureau authority to destroy these indices, it appears to be only sound records management that authority for destruction of these indices should be secured from the source (Bureau) granting this authority. Therefore BH is being authorized to destroy these indices. In view of no specific instructions regarding destruction of special indices, upon approval of this communication Records Management Division will initiate appropriate manual changes, to require Bureau authority be secured on a UACB basis for destruction of special indices.

There are no Archival or Congressional moratorium restrictions that would preclude destruction of these special indices. Coordinated with Planning and Evaluation.

SUGGESTION
When an Auxiliary Office case is RUC or an Office of Origin case is closed, no destruction notation be made on the RUC or closing communication and no FD 479 be prepared when file will be destroyed under the six-month and 10-year rules respectively. Therefore, a destruction notation will be made or an FD 479 will be prepared only when the file is to be retained for some specific reason.

Destruction of Bureau Records General

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)
According to Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part III, Section 3, Page 13a, the Case Agent will either note the appropriate destruction rule on the file copy of closing or RUC communication referring it to the office of origin, or note that it should be retained plus the appropriate justification for retention; Form FD 479 is used for this purpose.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (Include basis for estimate)
This would do away with most of the destruction notations on the closing serials and the preparation of FD 479.

Recommendations and comments of Division Head
I agree with the above suggestion inasmuch as there appears to be no purpose in an Agent's making a notation on a closing communication or preparing an FD 479 when he desires the file to be destroyed in accordance with Bureau policy (6-month and 10-year rules); however, such a notation or FD 479 should be made when he desires the file to be retained beyond the destruction period in order that he may set out the period for which he desires it to be retained and his justification for same.

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:mk 6/6/77)

It is proposed in attached suggestion from the Sacramento Office that when Auxiliary Office cases are RUC'd or an Office of Origin case is closed, no destruction notation be made on the RUC or closing communication and that no form FD-479 (files and records destruction order) be placed in file when file will be destroyed under the six-month and ten-year rules respectively. That a destruction notation be made and/or FD-479 be prepared only when the file(s) is to be retained beyond the normal destruction period. Current rules and regulations stipulate that the case Agent will either note the appropriate destruction rule on the file copy of the communication closing the case or referring it upon completion (RUC) or else note that it should be retained plus appropriate justification for such retention. Form FD-479 may be used for this purpose. This procedure permits the Chief Clerk's Office to automatically destroy files that satisfy the destruction criteria without returning the file to the supervisor unless additional material is received between the time the case is closed or RUC'd and the actual date for destruction.

OBSERVATIONS:

The Records Systems Section (RSS) is of the strong opinion that the Chief Clerk's Office should not arbitrarily destroy files that have not been authorized for destruction by the case Agent and/or Agent Supervisor inasmuch as the case Agent and Agent Supervisor are logically in the best position to determine the potential value of the case. To destroy files otherwise could result in the premature destruction of material that significantly impacts investigative operations. The current policy requiring the Agent to note destruction and/or retention period on RUC/closing communications or execute form FD-479 reflecting this information serves as an absolute flag for the Chief Clerk's Office to either destroy or retain files without having to return the file(s) to the Agent Supervisor for further review. RSS believes that the current policy provides a more efficient management tool for controlling and managing the file destruction/retention program and therefore should be continued.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend suggestion not be adopted.

BUREAU GENERAL

(B) DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS - Current rules indicate that index cards must be destroyed when related file material is destroyed. The practice generally followed has been to destroy the file(s) retaining only those serials and/or pages of serials where-upon indexing has been accomplished. Immediately thereafter the file number of each file destroyed is recorded on Form FD-478 (list of files destroyed) in order to provide a permanent record of files that have been destroyed in accordance with the Bureau's regular and ongoing destruction program. Subsequent to destroying the file and on a project basis commensurate with available manpower, the serials are used as a means of locating and purging the index cards for destruction.

To insure that all offices utilize the most expedient and efficient procedure you should, by employing the aforementioned procedure, vigorously pursue the destruction of all files in your office that meet the current file destruction criteria set forth in the Manual of Rules and Regulations and Bureau airtel dated 4/27/76 captioned as above.

In the event a request is received in your office under the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts, and a check of the general indices reveals the existence of an index card, and subsequent check fails to produce a file, the "list of files destroyed" will provide a means of identifying a file that has been destroyed and permits you to respond to the requester that file has been destroyed in accordance with the Bureau's file destruction program. Manual changes are forthcoming.

ReCARlet dated 4/5/77.

In connection with the destruction of index cards Foreign Operations Policy Manual, Section 6L, Item 2, page 13, as revised on 10/30/74 states "index cards for files destroyed should be retained." SAC Memorandum 52-74(a) dated 11/5/74 and Manual of Rules and Regulations Part II, Section 3d, Item 8D(3), 6/28/76, both state that index cards should be destroyed when files are destroyed. These two communications concern field office files and not Legal Attache Office files.

Bureau letter dated 6/28/76 to all Legats specifically advises Legats to follow the file destructions program as outlined in the Foreign Operations Policy Manual, Section 6.

As stated in the Foreign Operations Policy Manual and reaffirmed by above letter to all Legats dated 6/28/76, index cards should not be destroyed by Legal Attaches.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re FBIHQ letter to all Legats, 6/28/76.

This letter concerns the destruction of index cards related to files and serials destroyed under captioned program.

The Foreign Operations Policy Manual, Section 6L, Item 2, on Page 13, with a revision date of 10/30/74, states "Index cards for files destroyed should be retained, thereby affording a future file reference for any necessary Bureau indices check."

SAC Memorandum 52-74(A) dated 11/5/74, Item c, Page 3, states "Index cards relating to the case should be retained for 20 years and then destroyed as encountered."

Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3D, Item 8D(3), Page 13A, with a revision date of 6/28/76, states "Destroy all field office indices cards at time related field office file is destroyed."

FBIHQ is requested to advise Caracas and other Legats which regulation concerning destruction of index cards relates to Legal Attache Offices; particularly, are index cards to be destroyed and if so, when?

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion regarding destruction notations and the use of Form FD-479 in certain instances. After evaluation, it is believed that our current procedures provide a more efficient management tool for controlling and managing the file destruction/retention program; and therefore, should be continued.

Although favorable action was not taken in this instance, the interest you expressed by submitting your proposal to me is indeed appreciated.

Memorandum J. H. Skaggs to Mr. Long

RE: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

DETAILS: A document and vouchering technique known as a "blue slip" was established prior to 1920 to provide additional security to certain sensitive and/or confidential payments to informants, sources and/or commercial firms when it was necessary to protect the identity of the payee and/or the payor (Bureau). The original blue slips and supporting receipts or copies thereof are being retained permanently.

In 1954, after an accumulation of approximately 60 drawers of blue slips dating back to 1916, it was approved that blue slips over 5 years old be placed on microfilm and the original documents destroyed (Memorandum P. G. Travers to Mr. Glavin dated 2/16/54). The microfilm project commenced in 1954 and continued into 1957, but was discontinued as a result of an adverse court decision wherein original receipts in support of certain payments were not available and an attempt to introduce copies of receipts as evidence was rejected. At the time of termination blue slips covering payments thru calendar year 1949 had been placed on microfilm.

In late 1974, as a result of a space and security survey and after it was determined that documents reproduced from microfilm would be acceptable for court purposes, it was approved that we proceed with the microfilming of blue slips and destroy those original documents previously microfilmed (Memorandum C. D. Neudorfer to Mr. Decker dated 11/18/74). This destruction project has been completed. During the destruction of previously microfilmed documents it was determined that any prompt and accurate retrieval of payment documents from microfilm records would require that a detailed sophisticated indexing procedure be established. It was also determined that microfilm equipment with the needed indexing and retrieval capability was not available in Bureau inventory. In view of this, 3M Company representatives were contacted and it was determined that equipment with the needed capabilities would require an outlay of approximately $75,000.00. In addition to the above, it was concluded that a five (5) phase process consisting of document separation and preparation; document microfilming; microfilm processing; microfilm review and indexing and original document destruction would be needed to handle this project. Surveys indicated that initially approximately two million documents, at least 5 years old, would be microfilmed, indexed and destroyed to bring this project up to date and that annually, thereafter, a lesser number of documents would be microfilmed, indexed and destroyed to keep the project current. It was also approved that, in view of the senitive nature of the documents involved, this project would only be handled internally by Bureau personnel. This can be accomplished, however, the expenditure of funds and manpower will be substantial and it is believed that this expenditure of funds and manpower may not be necessary.

Memorandum J. H. Skaggs to Mr. Long

RE: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

In this regard, it should be noted that in the past the Bureau has been occasionally requested to furnish original receipts for informant payments for use in preparation of and/or introduction in court proceedings. These receipts have been furnished when available. On a number of occasions receipts have not been available inasmuch as the informant had refused to provide any receipt. On those occasions the Bureau has furnished a notarized tabulation of payments. Thusfar, those notarized tabulations have been acceptable and it is felt that such a tabulation would suffice if the original receipts and/or a copy thereof were unavailable due to authorized destruction. Any required tabulation of payments could be prepared from other available records (informant payment ledger pages) which are retained at FBIHQ on a permanent basis.

In addition to the above, it is believed that the documents in question (blue slips and receipts) serve no archival or historical value and that such are in reality only supporting documentation to substantiate an expenditure of appropriated funds and, as such, should be destroyed in accordance with the established destruction schedule applicable to other voucher and payment records. Agencies are required to retain original vouchers and supporting receipts for audit by the General Accounting Office (GAO). After audit or earlier if storage space is limited these original vouchers and receipts are forwarded to the Federal Records Center where such are stored for a period of 6 years 3 months from the end of the fiscal year (FY) covered and then routinely destroyed (e.g. 1976 FY - destroy 9/30/82). It is also believed that blue slips and receipts would have been destroyed in accordance with the above schedule had they not been separated from the original payment voucher due to the sensitive nature of the information set forth thereon.

In view of the above, it is felt that the retention of blue slips and receipts or copies thereof is not necessary or legally required and that the Bureau should consider the feasibility of destroying such documents without microfilming and, if approved, request legal authority to support that action. On 9/30/77, approximately 350 cubic feet of records could be destroyed.

SUBJECT: MICROFILMING BLUE SLIPS
Destruction of Blue Slips

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 9-22-82 BY SP4 EJW/JK

Mr. [redacted], Agent Supervisor of the Voucher Unit, suggested to the Administrative Division's Streamlining Committee that blue slips (used for confidential payments) over 5 years old be placed on microfilm and the originals destroyed. There are approximately 60 drawers of blue slips dating back to 1916, filed in Room 7106 in the Identification Building.

As blue slips are annually audited by the General Accounting Office, this matter of microfilming our blue slips was discussed with Mr. Allen N. Humphrey, Chief of the Records Management and Services Branch of the Office of the Administrative Service, GAO, for the purpose of determining what approval is necessary to microfilm blue slips and to destroy the originals. Mr. Humphrey advised that there is no objection to the microfilming of blue slips and he stated that the procedure to be followed would be execution of [illegible] Form 115, identified as the Request for Authority to Dispose of Records. According to Mr. Humphrey, one copy of Form 115 is forwarded to the General Accounting Office which will be acknowledged by their letter to the Bureau authorizing us to microfilm the blue slips. This is not final authority as it is necessary that the original of Form 115 and 4 copies be executed and sent to the Archives, who in turn furnishes copies of this form to GSA and Congress for their respective approval. Mr. Humphrey indicated that this approval, if desired by the Bureau could be extended to allow the Bureau to microfilm the blue slips on a continuing basis without the necessity of obtaining approval every time the microfilming is done.

Mr. Frank Waikart of the Records Section advised that the following information is necessary in the execution of Form 115: (1) a description of the material to be destroyed, (2) period covered by the material to be destroyed, and (3) the volume of the material to be destroyed. Mr. Waikart felt that under (1), description of material, it would suffice to state on Form 115 something to the effect as follows: "memorandum covering payment of expenses in connection with investigations performed."

From past experience, it has been noted that the need for blue slips over 5 years old is rare and the microfilm could be used in the event such blue slips were requested to be reviewed.

RECOMMENDATION

That Bureau approval be granted to microfilm blue slips over 5 years old and the originals destroyed so that the Form 115 can be executed in order to get the approval of GAO, CSA and Congress.

If final approval is granted for the microfilming of blue slips it is recommended that an employee of the Voucher Unit be present when the microfilming is being done in order to place the blue slips in the desired chronological order.

It is felt by the Records Section that a test should be made to determine if the blue slips are of suitable material for microfilming before any large project is set up to accomplish same as recommended in this suggestion.

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for their analysis and consideration.

Re Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, Page 25; Bureau airtel dated 4/27/76, captioned "DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS."

Re instructions call for retention of material in "security classifications." The 174 classification, according to the Manual of Rules and Regulations, is such a classification and accordingly, such material may not be marked for normal destruction at the time the case is closed. A review of Dallas 174 cases clearly indicates that the vast majority of 174 classificationscases (origin and auxiliary office) involve isolated criminal activities and cannot be even remotely construed as being "security" related.

To consolidate file destruction program in Dallas and preclude time consuming reviews at later date, Dallas requests FBIHQ reconsider current policy insofar as it pertains to non-security type 174 cases.

WASHINGTON (AP) -- THE FBI MAY SOON GET RID OF HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF FILES ON INDIVIDUALS AND ORGANIZATIONS THAT ATTRACTED FBI ATTENTION ONLY BECAUSE THEY PARTICIPATED IN SOME SORT OF POLITICAL PROTEST.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT AND FBI OFFICIALS SAID MONDAY THEY ARE CONSIDERING HOW TO DISPOSE OF MANY OF THE 6.5-MILLION FILES THE BUREAU HAS COLLECTED ON CITIZENS AND GROUPS.

BUT WILLIAM SCHAFFER, A DEPUTY ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL, SAID THAT UNDER THE LAW, "THE FBI JUST CAN'T DISPOSE OF THE FILES UNILATERALLY."

HE SAID DEPARTMENT AND FBI OFFICIALS ARE CONFERRING WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES TO DETERMINE WHAT CAN BE DONE.

THE LAW SETS DOWN PROCEDURES FOR GOVERNMENT AGENCIES, INCLUDING THE FBI, TO TRANSFER HISTORIC RECORDS TO THE ARCHIVES AND GIVES ARCHIVISTS A ROLE IN DETERMINING WHAT MUST BE PRESERVED AND WHAT CAN BE DESTROYED.

THE ISSUE AROSE AT A HOUSE JUDICIARY SUBCOMMITTEE HEARING. SOME COMMITTEE MEMBERS CRITICIZED THE FBI FOR HOARDING VOLUMES OF FILES HAVING NOTHING TO DO WITH CRIMINAL ACTIVITY.

IN RESPONSE TO COMMITTEE QUESTIONS, DEPARTMENT AND FBI OFFICIALS SAID THEY ARE RECEIVING AN AVERAGE OF 68 REQUESTS EVERY WORKING DAY FROM INDIVIDUALS SEEKING FBI RECORDS UNDER THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT.

MORE THAN 6,000 REQUESTS ARE PENDING AND THE BUREAU HAS ASSIGNED 375 EMPLOYES TO PROCESS THEM, SAID JAMES M. POWERS, THE FBI OFFICIAL IN CHARGE OF HANDLING THE REQUESTS.

HE SAID THE FBI HOPES TO ELIMINATE THE BACKLOG BY SEPT. 30.

SUBJECT: ARCHIVAL AUTHORIZATION FOR DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to request approval to forward the attached Standard Form 115 to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for authority to destroy original and microfilmed blue slips and supporting documentation after a retention period of 6 years and 3 months.

DETAILS:

Reference is made to J. H. Skaggs memorandum to Mr. Long, dated 6/9/77, captioned "Destruction of Bureau Records," wherein Bureau authority was granted to destroy, after a period of 6 years and 3 months from the end of the fiscal year covered, original and microfilmed blue slips and supporting documentation.

Archival authorization was sought and granted in 1954 to microfilm and, in turn, destroy the original blue slips. This procedure was determined to be costly and administratively burdensome in that equipment for the project would require an estimated expenditure of $75,000 and entail a complex indexing procedure to permit retrieval. The currently approved retention period appears to satisfy Bureau needs and audit purposes and, if circumstances dictate, tabulation of payments can be reconstructed from permanent records.

Attached are the appropriate number of completed Standard Form 115 containing our disposal request. Due to the sensitive nature of the subject matter, this request will be forwarded to NARS through the Department.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter and enclosures be forwarded to the Department for subsequent action by NARS.

INSTRUCTIONS

General Instructions:

Use Standard Form 115 (obtainable from supply depots of the Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration) and the continuation sheet Standard Form 115a (obtainable from the Records Disposition Division, Office of Federal Records Centers, National Archives and Records Service, Washington, D.C. 20408) to obtain authority to dispose of records or to request permanent retention of records. Detach the fifth copy from the set and keep as your reference copy. Submit the first four copies of the set to the National Archives and Records Service. One copy will be returned to the agency as notification of items that are authorized for disposal. Items withdrawn or not approved for disposal will be so marked. Each SF 115 requiring Comptroller General concurrence must be accompanied by a notification of approval from GAO.

Specific Instructions:

Entries 1, 2, and 3 should show what agency has custody of the records that are identified on the form, and should contain the name of the department or independent agency, and its major and minor subdivisions.

Entries 4 and 5 should help identify and locate the person to whom inquiries regarding the records should be directed.

Entry 6 should be signed and dated on the four copies by the agency representative. The number of pages involved in the request should be inserted.

Box A should be checked if the records may be disposed of immediately. Box B should be checked if continuing disposal authority is requested or if permanent retention is requested. Only one box may be checked.

Entry 7 should contain the numbers of the items of records identified on the form in sequence, i.e., 1, 2, 3, 4, etc.

Entry 8 should show what records are proposed for disposal.

Center headings should indicate what office's records are involved if all records described on the form are not those of the same office or if they are records created by another office or agency.

An identification should be provided of the types of records involved if they are other than textural records, for example, if they are photographic records, sound recordings, or cartographic records.

An itemization and accurate identification should be provided of the series of records that are proposed for disposal or retention. Each series should comprise the largest practical grouping of separately organized and logically related materials that can be treated as a single unit for purposes of disposal. Component parts of a series may be listed separately if numbered consecutively as 1a, 1b, etc., under the general series entry.

A statement should be provided showing when disposal is to be made of the records, thus:

If immediate disposal is requested of past accumulations of records, the inclusive dates during which the records were produced should be stated.

If continuing disposal is requested for records that have accumulated or will continue to accumulate, the retention period may be expressed in terms of years, months, etc., or in terms of future actions or events. A future action or event that is to determine the retention period must be objective and definite. If disposal of the records is contingent upon their being microfilmed, or otherwise reproduced or recorded on machine readable media, the retention period should read: "Until ascertained that reproduced copies or recordings have been made in accordance with GSA regulations and are adequate substitutes for the paper records." Also, the provisions of FPMR § 101-11.5 should be observed.

Entry 9 should be checked if samples are submitted for an item. However, samples of the records are not required unless they are requested by the NARS appraiser. If an item has been previously submitted, the relevant job and item number should be entered.

Entry 10 should be left blank.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
LEGAT, MADRID

Re: Bureau airtel, June 28, 1976.

Legat recently had to give an estimate of classified material on hand to the Regional Security Officer (RSO) of the Embassy in Madrid.

Subsequently, Legat was contacted by the RSO and asked if there was any way possible to reduce the volume of classified material since in the event of an emergency, it would be most difficult, if not impossible, to destroy all the classified material in the Embassy.

Legat explained that at this time, due to restrictions imposed on us, it would be impossible to reduce the volume and on the contrary, it would be more likely the volume would increase unless these restrictions are lifted.

The RSO requested that Legat do everything possible to reduce the volume.

REQUEST OF BUREAU:

Bureau advise if the Attorney General is considering lifting the moratorium and if not, would the Bureau consider allowing the transfer of this material from the Legat Office to the Bureau for storage.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF MONTHLY FIELD ADMINISTRATIVE REPORTS OF BUREAU PROPERTY

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memorandum is to request authority to destroy monthly field administrative reports which are older than the year prior to the current fiscal year.

DETAILS: In the past, the Budget and Accounting Section has retained on file three years of the monthly field administrative reports. GSA regulations authorize destruction of working papers one year after close of the fiscal year covered by the budget. Currently there are on file six fiscal years plus the current year.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That authority be granted to destroy monthly field administrative reports which are older than the year prior to the current fiscal year.

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (CMG:chs 7/6/77)

The Records Management Division has reviewed the proposed destruction of monthly field administrative reports one year after close of the fiscal year covered by the budget and concurs with the conclusions of the Budget and Accounting Section, Finance and Personnel Division. The proposed retention period is consistent with GSA Regulations and the Bureau's Record Control Schedule, maintained by the Records Branch, will be adjusted accordingly.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES Bureau Records - gen.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to: (1) record basic conclusions regarding file destruction as a result of a conference held on 5/31/77 with representatives from the Associate Director's Office, investigative divisions, Planning and Inspection Division, Records Management Division and Legal Counsel division and (2) adopt as Bureau policy the conclusions reached at this conference that relate to amendments to approved file destruction.

SYNOPSIS:

A conference recently held between personnel from the Associate Director's Office and other divisions concerning various aspects of the new proposed "Prosecutive Report" also considered the Bureau's file destruction policy. It was generally concluded that field office files that have been closed for 5 years in the criminal classifications and 10 years in the applicant- and security-related classifications should be destroyed. Six months would continue to apply to Auxiliary Office files except for those wherein the Bureau is origin and certain other exceptions. It was agreed that it would be mandatory for the field to destroy files at the conclusion of this time period since references to relevant old material could be obtained by checking central indices at FBIHQ. It was further agreed that the 5-year destruction rule would also be applied to all criminal files at FBIHQ. Bureau approval is requested to adopt the reduced new retention periods. However, this policy will not be fully implemented until concurrence is received from NARS and the Attorney General. The field will be advised separately of the lifting of the moratorium which authorizes the destruction of certain files as currently approved by NARS. A copy of the revised Records Retention Plan (approved by Decker to McDermott memorandum dated 3/17/77) pending at NARS, with proposed amendments to effect the changes set forth in this memorandum, is enclosed.

CURRENT BUREAU POLICY:

The Bureau has approved by A. J. Decker memorandum to Mr. McDermott dated 3/17/77 the basic file destruction policy for FBIHQ files and by airtel to all offices dated 4/27/76 the basic file destruction policy for all field offices. For FBIHQ the rule is 10 years for criminal files and 30 years for applicant- and security-related files. For field offices the rule is six months for Auxiliary Offices and 10 years for Office of Origin files with the provision that the field or Headquarters can selectively retain beyond the general retention period those files that would be of continuing value for investigative reference. These plans have not been implemented for security- and applicant-related matters for field offices because of the moratorium on the destruction of this material and final approval is needed from NARS before implementation at FBIHQ. The attached SF-115 has been forwarded to NARS and explains in detail the criteria for selection of historical files that must be maintained indefinitely. Classification list attached to the SF-115 defines applicant- and security-related files noting that all others are criminal or administrative in nature.

The proposed change to current policy basically involves changing the retention period for criminal files from 10 years to 5 years for both Headquarters and the field and to provide for mandatory destruction of field office files at the prescribed time.

Memorandum to Mr. Decker
DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

DETAILS:

On 5/31/77 a conference was convened in Mr. Held's conference room for the purpose of discussing various aspects of the new "Prosecutive Report" which will be applicable to select criminal classifications. Attendees at this meeting were Messrs Adams, McDermott, Feeney and Mack of the Associate Director's Office, along with Mr. Moore, Criminal Investigative Division; Mr. Colwell and Mr. Scott, Planning and Inspection Division; Mr. Monahan, Special Investigative Division; Mr. Fulton, Intelligence Division; Mr. Davis, Legal Counsel Division; Mr. Awe, Records Branch and Mr. Hannigan, FOIPA Branch of the Records Management Division.

At this meeting considerable discussion took place regarding the Bureau's file destruction policy and the fact that considerable problems may be encountered in connection with FOIPA matters if the field retained data that was not also contained in FBIHQ files. The Legal Counsel Division pointed out that because of litigation matters it would be essential to retain in field offices all documents that were generated regarding a case at least 5 years after the case has been closed and this would include any transitory documents such as airtels, memos, etc., even though the substance of the data from these communications were later incorporated in a report or other document which was subsequently forwarded to FBIHQ.

The investigative divisions believed that the retention of information in criminal investigative files if retained for 5 years would satisfy their responsibilities. The Special Investigative Division and the Intelligence Division advised that security- and applicant-related files should be maintained for at least 10 years in the field. Additionally, since the Office of Origin in applicant matters is FBIHQ, all Auxiliary Office material in this category would have to be retained for 10 years. All participants agreed, however, that the destruction for field files (6 months for Auxiliary Office, 5 years for criminal matters, 10 years for applicant-and security-related matters) should be mandatory, i.e., those files in which no significant or relevant information has been placed in file for the time periods indicated. Any need for background information beyond these time periods can be obtained by requesting a FBIHQ central indices search.

This committee additionally agreed that a 5-year rule for all criminal matters could be applied for all FBIHQ files. The committee also suggested that a 20-year rule be be applied to FBIHQ applicant (67 classification) files, i.e., those applicants who were never hired but the file contains investigative data. This will also apply to the background investigation regarding any out-of-service personnel. As a matter of information all Bureau applicant files that did not result in an appointment and do not contain investigative data are destroyed after they are two years old based upon current Archival authority. Certain material that is not required as set forth in the Federal Personnel Manual for out-of-service personnel files is being destroyed one year after the employee's services have been terminated in accordance with current Archival authority. NARS has previously indicated that they will evaluate certain classifications at a later time (as set forth in the attached SF-115) which includes the 67 classification.

While this plan still poses an FOIPA problem because the field will still retain certain data not contained in FBIHQ files, FOIPA obligations will be met by requesting Office of Origin to forward to FBIHQ those documents not previously sent. The mandatory destruction by Auxiliary Offices would eliminate the need to canvass all 59 field offices on FOIPA requests for any data they may have that would not also be contained in FBIHQ files. Additionally, if the last communication in FBIHQ files is more than 5 and/or 10 years old (depending on classification) there will be no need to check with Office of Origin on a FOIPA request because of the mandatory destruction for field files.

The field continues to maintain certain other data for which there is no reference in FBIHQ files. This basically involves (1) unknown subject cases closed administratively, (2) cases in which prosecution was declined and closed administratively, and (3) those matters closed administratively because of unfounded allegations or the complaint did not result in a violation over which the Bureau has jurisdiction. There is no FOIPA problem for this information if retained separately in the field and this is clearly explained in the Federal Register in accordance with the Bureau's System of Records.

DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

The Bureau is in receipt of a letter from the Attorney General dated June 6, 1977, lifting the current moratorium (as a result of Senate Resolution 21, 94th Congress) on the destruction of Bureau files in accordance with the existing authority from NARS. The Attorney General advised, however, that while the existing records destruction plan is undergoing review he wanted to review any new plan before it is implemented.

Accordingly, the Records Management Divsiion will prepare appropriate communication advising the field they can resume normal file destruction as currently approved by NARS. This will allow the field to destroy all Auxiliary Office files (except those in which the Bureau is Office of Origin) 6 months after they have been RUC'd and all Office of Origin files after they have been closed for more than 10 years. The current regulation allows the field to selectively retain that information they think would be of continuing value to them for investigative reference. Now that the moratorium has been lifted, the only restriction for destruction for the field offices will be those files in litigation and for which there is a Congressional interest.

A separate communication will be forwarded to the Department regarding the revised Records Retention Plan which has been forwarded to NARS and other changes that are approved herein. There is attached for information (1) a copy of the revised Records Retention Plan previously approved by A.J. Decker memorandum to Mr. McDermott dated 3/17/77 captioned File Destruction and Searching Criteria that has been forwarded to NARS for their final approval; (2) an amended SF-115 that will be forwarded to NARS for information regarding field office file retention; and (3) an amended SF-115 that will be forwarded to NARS for their approval, adjusting the retention period for FBIHQ criminal files from 10 years to 5 years. You will note that attached to Item #1 is a classification list designating the applicant- and security-related classifications. All others will be considered criminal or administrative.

It should be noted that Item #1 in the above paragraph clearly defines the categories of historical files that must be maintained and ultimatley accessioned to NARS. Additionally, it should be noted that there are many subtleties in our records system; and, therefore, there will be various exceptions to the general destruction policy (i.e., extended retention by Auxiliary Offices of all "IO" fugitive data, etc.) that will be specifically set forth in the various rules and guidelines that will be incorporated into the manual.

Memorandum from J. W. Awe to Mr. Decker dated 6/16/77
Re: Destruction of FBI Files

ADDENDUM, LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION, JRD:kg, 6/24/77

Legal Counsel Division has no objection from a legal standpoint to adoption of the reduced file retention periods recommended in the attached memorandum. Legal Counsel continues to have some reservations, which were expressed in the conferences concerning this matter, as to whether a five-year retention period for criminal files is sufficient to meet the routine needs of the investigative divisions; however, we will defer to the opinion of the user divisions in this regard.

With regard to the retention of "transitory documents" [described under D(1) on page 5 of the attached SF-115], we understand that airtels, memoranda, etc. contained in an investigative file are not included within this description. Specifically, it is our understanding that approval of this memorandum will not authorize the destruction of "transitory documents" prior to the destruction of the investigative file in which they are contained.

Memorandum from J. W. Awe to Mr. Decker dated 6/16/77
Re: Destruction of FBI Files

ADDENDUM, SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION, WCE:maf, 6/28/77

The Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section (ES & SIS), Special Investigative Division (SID), opposes Recommendation Number 2, which would provide a 5 year retention period for all criminal files for FBI Headquarters instead of the current 10 year retention period.

In Decker to Jenkins memorandum dated 8/2/76 entitled "Destruction of FBI Files," a statistical analysis of total searching requests was provided. It indicated that 77% of all searches are satisfied by the most recent 20 years of FBI Headquarters references. Of this percentage, 62.8% of the searches are name searching requests under Executive Order (EO) 10450, Security Requirements for Government Employment. In conjunction with EO 10450, the Name Check Section of SID receives in excess of 21,000 name searches per month from CSC alone, and 9000 per day from all EO 10450 sources.

Section 14, of EO 10450 delegates to CSC responsibility for the implementation of the Order and Section 14 (b) directs all departments and agencies to cooperate with CSC in facilitating the accomplishment of its responsibilities. By destroying files 5 years or older, we will be eliminating the vast number of the 77% of searches which fall within the last 20 years. Consequently we will be furnishing CSC and other Government agencies only a fraction of the information which we have previously furnished concerning applicants and employees in the Federal Service.

Such unilateral action without notification to these agencies and individuals responsible violates the directive set forth in Section 14, and contravenes our practice of having consulted with CSC concerning retention of Security and Applicant files.

Memorandum from J. W. Awe to Mr. Decker dated 6/16/77
Re: Destruction of FBI Files

ADDENDUM, SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION, WCE:maf, 6/28/77

Furthermore, CSC has been designated by the Office of Management and Budget to provide a second draft of a revised EO 10450 and has a deadline of late August, 1977. The most recent draft of a revised EO 10450 set retention standards of 15 and 25 years after latest investigative activity, depending on whether the reports contained significant adverse information. Since the FBI is a primary source of information under this program, and since we are being consulted by CSC on the redraft, it is incumbent upon us to notify CSC of our intention and to determine the impact such a reduced schedule will have.

Finally, Section 13 of EO 10450 requires the Attorney General (AG) to render to the heads of departments and agencies such advice as may be requisite to establish and maintain the employee-security program. The impact of the five year rule upon the Federal employee-security program should be specifically called to the attention of the AG for his opinion on whether it meets established criteria under EO 10450.

RECOMMENDATIONS: That FBI Headquarters retain the current ten year rule for destruction of criminal files until we have notified and consulted with the CSC and AG.

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (JWA:evp 7/8/77)

The Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section (ES&SIS) of the Special Investigative Division (SID) opposes 5 year retention period for all criminal files and instead favors a 10-year retention period. Their objection is based upon the fact that a significant amount of information would not be furnished to the Civil Service Commission (CSC) and other Government agencies if the reduced retention period is developed. For example, 77 percent of all searching is satisfied by references generated within the past 20 years and over 9,000 name check requests are processed each day from all Executive Order (EO) 10450 sources. They recommend that CSC and the Attorney General be consulted before a 5-year retention period is placed into effect.

The Records Management Division (RMD), through a further statistical analysis, has concluded that of the 9,000 daily name check requests only 2,000 of them involved a security search wherein both criminal and subversive references are listed. This includes all forms 85 and 86. About 7,000, or the balance of name check requests, receive a "short" search, which means they are limited to subversive references only. The criminal aspect of these searches is handled through Identification Division records. RMD statistical analysis further indicates that about 80 percent of all searching received a "No Record." This percentage, applied to the 2,000 searches, would leave about 400 daily name checks with records which must be reviewed. Of this, about one third result in being idents and about one half of all references are criminal. Accordingly, from the 9,000 name check forms received daily an average of 66 forms per day receive ident criminal data, most of which could probably be established through Identification Division records as it relates to arrest data. Therefore, if viewed in this perspective, the amount of data not furnished to the CSC or other agencies if the 5-year plan is adopted becomes less significant.

There is a general indication that the CSC would not object to the destruction of criminal files more than 5 years old since basic usable data in adjudicating cases is available to them through the arrest records in the Identification Division. Furthermore, there is a general indication that the CSC would not object to eliminating all "see" reference data for all information more than 20 years old. This is based upon the concept of being "timely and relevant" and the fact that any significant and meaningful data of more than 20 years old would be contained in main file references.

It is important for the Bureau to expeditiously resolve this matter in order to establish a meaningful file retention policy that is responsive to the Bureau's needs and, therefore, RMD offers the following recommendations.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section, SID, contact the officials at CSC at the earliest time practical in order to bring an early resolution to this matter. Specifically it should be determined if:

a. CSC would object to a 5-year retention period for criminal files noting that basic information for adjudicating cases is available through the arrest data of the Identification Division; and

b. Determine if the CSC would object to not listing "see" reference data more than 20 years old on the basis that such data is no longer "timely and relevant." Data of sufficient consequence relating to applicant and security information more than 20 years old would be available through mail file references.

On 7/21/77, Civil Service Commission (CSC) representatives, including [redacted] met with FBIHQ Section Chiefs James Awe, Records Management Division, and Carl Hurst and Karl Hetherington, Special Investigative Division. CSC representatives advised that if the FBI file destruction is implemented in accordance with the Archives standards, CSC would not object to a 5-year retention period for criminal files.

Concerning elimination of searches resulting in "see" references older than 20 years, CSC advised that they would like to further consider the possible effects of this policy before furnishing their opinion. They will recontact Section Chief Awe or an associate in the Records Management Division concerning "see" references. CSC agreed to 10-year criminal search and 20-year subversive search on SF-85s.

1.	Description of content & arrangement of records The FBI utilizes a "Central Records System" of maintaining its investigative, personnel, applicant, administrative, and general files. This System consists of one numerical sequence of subject matter files, an alphabetical index to the files, and a supporting abstract system to facilitate processing and accountability of all important mail placed in file. For example, all information on a given subject matter or case is channeled into one file. In order to facilitate control for the file and accommodate multiple subject(s) matters, a numbering system is used to indicate: (a) general classification and nature of violation, (b) the individual case file in this category, and (c) serialization of individual pieces of mail in the file. For instance, the number 7-100-10 on a piece of mail indicates it is the 10th piece of mail in the 100th file assigned to the Kidnapping (7) classification. The FBI has 191 classifications in its basic filing system.	CONFIDENTIAL	DECLASSIFIED BY APY E&W/gmk ON 9-22-92 per main release

They pertain primarily to the Federal violations over which the FBI has investigative jurisdiction. However, included in the 191 classifications are personnel, applicant and administrative matters to facilitate the overall filing scheme. Attached as an enclosure is the classification list identifying the 191 classifications.

The records contained in this system are utilized by the FBI in support of its mission to conduct investigations within its jurisdiction and for various administrative purposes. Information from these files is disseminated to appropriate Federal, State, local, and foreign agencies and to private citizens and Congressional offices where the right and need to have access to this information exists. (S) U

The "Central Records System" is explained in further detail as a system of records (System 002) in the Federal Register, Volume 41, Number 181, dated 9/16/76 (Page 39997) which was published in accordance with the Privacy Act and amended in Volume 42, Number 4, dated 1/6/77 (Page 1313).

A. Administrative files for permanent retention

In the beginning of each classification there is a double zero (00) file for the purpose of collecting in one place all policies and procedures that refer to that particular classification or violation category. For example, in the Kidnaping (7) classification there will be a 7-00 file that will be filed prior to any case numbers within that classification. B. Investigative files for permanent retention

Files for significant investigations or cases, selected by the Records Management Division in conjunction with those having direct supervisory responsibility for the category involved, according to the criteria listed below. It is noted the criteria is general in nature and selection is basically a matter of informed judgement.

Selection Procedures:

(For existing closed files that meet age criteria) Files with 5 or less volumes would generally not meet the criteria for a significant investigation or case and will be destroyed after a review, to insure compliance with criteria, by an experienced employee. Files more than 5 volumes will be reviewed by seasoned employees using their best judgement in applying the criteria for destruction or retention. A quality control spot check will insure a high degree of reliability in judgement. The disposition of the file governs disposition of index cards.

(For future closed files)
At the time a file is closed, the case agent will provide a recommendation regarding retention in accordance with this criteria. This recommendation will be subject to reevaluation prior to disposition to insure initial appraisal has remained accurate.

Files will be selected and designated for permanent retention if they meet one or more of the following criteria for significance:

1. The investigation or case has significant impact on law enforcement policies or procedures, agency rules or regulations, or investigative and intelligence techniques;

CONFIDENTIAL

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

CONFIDENTIAL

2. The investigation or case involves an actual or potential breakdown of public order (civil disturbance) of major proportions;

3. The investigation or case directly involves a full-field investigation for: (a) a subversive or extremist organization, with or without foreign connections; or (b) a person or persons holding a major leadership position within such an organization;

4. The investigation or case directly involves a person, element, or organization whose activities are deemed to pose a substantial and compelling threat to the conduct of national defense or foreign policy.

5. The investigation or case is significant in terms of intensity of public interest, expressed by (a) a demonstrated interest of a Congressional committee or the Executive Office of the President, or (b) a high degree of national media attention.

Disposition: PERMANENT. Offer for transfer to National Archives and Records Service 75 years after closing.

C. Investigative files other than those described above under Items 1a and 1b.

1. Criminal investigative cases and supporting retrieval devices after 10 years of no relevant activity, including microfilmed cases.

Disposition: DESTROY 10 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

CONFIDENTIAL

GPO : 1975 O - 570-367

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods) CONFIDENTIAL	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

2. Security investigative files with supporting retrieval devices after 30 years of no relevant activity. (See attached classification list).

Disposition: DESTROY 30 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

3. Applicant investigations and supporting retrieval devices after 30 years of no relevant activity. (See attached classification list.)

Disposition: DESTROY 30 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

4. Investigative files, in which the subject requests disposal because continued maintenance would conflict with provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 USC 552a (e) (1), (5), and (7).

Disposition: DESTROY regardless of age if found to be irrelevant to FBI operations, information is not timely, or retention is not justified or warranted. Files will be evaluated on an individual basis.

D. Items other than those described above under 1a, 1b and 1c.

1. Transitory documents such as airtels, teletypes, memoranda, etc., the substance of which has been included in prosecutive reports or other permanent communications which provide the basis for retention according to the prescribed disposition of the respective file.

CONFIDENTIAL

GPO : 1975 O - 579-387

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

CONFIDENTIAL

Disposition: DESTROY after action has been taken and transitory document no longer serves a useful purpose.

NOTE: Separate authority has been granted for the destruction of field office records on the basis that the records are contained in Headquarters files in whole, substance, or summarization. Destruction resulting from this disposal schedule will not compromise current authority granted for the destruction of field records.

Time periods for retention were selected to meet current needs; however, this criteria will be reevaluated from time to time to ensure that information maintained is essential and relevant. Adjustments may be needed in the future, especially as it relates to: (1) the FBI's obligation under Executive Order 10450 for the Security of Government Employees and (2) future Department of Justice guidelines for information gathering and retention policies for investigative data.

The following classifications are excluded from disposition standards for criminal, security and applicant investigative files. National Archives and Records Service will, upon examination, apply separate criteria for disposition in these classifications: 1, 32, 33, 39, 43, 62, 63, 64, 66, 67, 80, 91, 94, 100, 105, 122, 188 and 191 and any other classification created hereafter. A supplemental SF 115 will be submitted regarding these classifications after the National Archives and Records Service determines specific retention guidelines which will then allow for the destruction of obsolete material in these classifications.

A copy of this request is being made available to the Department of Justice for the Attorney General's information so he will be aware of the FBI's Retention Plan. This will enable the Department to also make this data available to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence before the plan is implemented to insure no data is destroyed for which there is a Congressional interest. Additionally, particular care will be taken to be sure no material is destroyed for which there is pending litigation or otherwise restricted because of a special request.

The provisions of this schedule do not supersede the retention standards of Federal Records Schedule 14, Items 16-30, developed by Department of Justice and General Services Administration Legal Counsel, for records relating to the administration of the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts.

In the attached classification list the applicant-related classifications are identified by one (*) and the security-related classifications by two (); all other classifications are criminal-related or administrative in nature.

STANDARD FORM 115
Revised April, 1975
Prescribed by General Services Administration
FPMR (41 CFR) 101-11.4

INSTRUCTIONS

General Instructions:

Use Standard Form 115 (obtainable from supply depots of the Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration) and the continuation sheet Standard Form 115a (obtainable from the Records Disposition Division, Office of Federal Records Centers, National Archives and Records Service, Washington, D.C. 20408) to obtain authority to dispose of records or to request permanent retention of records. Detach the fifth copy from the set and keep as your reference copy. Submit the first four copies of the set to the National Archives and Records Service. One copy will be returned to the agency as notification of items that are authorized for disposal. Items withdrawn or not approved for disposal will be so marked. Each SF 115 requiring Comptroller General concurrence must be accompanied by a notification of approval from GAO.

Specific Instructions:

Entries 1, 2, and 3 should show what agency has custody of the records that are identified on the form, and should contain the name of the department or independent agency, and its major and minor subdivisions.

Entries 4 and 5 should help identify and locate the person to whom inquiries regarding the records should be directed.

Entry 6 should be signed and dated on the four copies by the agency representative. The number of pages involved in the request should be inserted.

Box A should be checked if the records may be disposed of immediately. Box B should be checked if continuing disposal authority is requested or if permanent retention is requested. Only one box may be checked.

Entry 7 should contain the numbers of the items of records identified on the form in sequence, i.e., 1, 2, 3, 4, etc.

Entry 8 should show what records are proposed for disposal.

Center headings should indicate what office's records are involved if all records described on the form are not those of the same office or if they are records created by another office or agency.

An identification should be provided of the types of records involved if they are other than textural records, for example, if they are photographic records, sound recordings, or cartographic records.

An itemization and accurate identification should be provided of the series of records that are proposed for disposal or retention. Each series should comprise the largest practical grouping of separately organized and logically related materials that can be treated as a single unit for purposes of disposal. Component parts of a series may be listed separately if numbered consecutively as 1a, 1b, etc., under the general series entry.

A statement should be provided showing when disposal is to be made of the records, thus:

If immediate disposal is requested of past accumulations of records, the inclusive dates during which the records were produced should be stated.

If continuing disposal is requested for records that have accumulated or will continue to accumulate, the retention period may be expressed in terms of years, months, etc., or in terms of future actions or events. A future action or event that is to determine the retention period must be objective and definite. If disposal of the records is contingent upon their being microfilmed, or otherwise reproduced or recorded on machine readable media, the retention period should read: "Until ascertained that reproduced copies or recordings have been made in accordance with GSA regulations and are adequate substitutes for the paper records." Also, the provisions of FPMR § 101-11.5 should be observed.

Entry 9 should be checked if samples are submitted for an item. However, samples of the records are not required unless they are requested by the NARS appraiser. If an item has been previously submitted, the relevant job and item number should be entered.

Entry 10 should be left blank.

PURPOSE:

To present for the Director's approval recommendations concerning file destruction policy which resulted from extensive review by all impacted FBIHQ divisions and as set forth in detail in the attached memorandum J. W. Awe to Mr. Decker dated 6/16/77.

DETAILS:

The memorandum attached contains recommendations dealing with the destruction of FBI files. In the interest of establishing a policy, it was recommended that a 5-year retention period for criminal files and 10 years for security- and applicant-related files for field offices be approved and that the destruction of these files be mandatory at the time periods indicated. It was further recommended that the 5-year period for all criminal files be approved for FBIHQ with the provision for the selective retention of those files so designated by supervisory personnel if they serve a continuing need and those categories of files that have been selected by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) which are historical in nature and ultimately be accessioned to them. This basically includes, in addition to all policy and procedure files for each classification, files or cases which (1) have significant impact on law enforcement policies; (2) involve actual or potential breakdown in public order; (3) involve subversive or extremist organizations and major leaders; (4) involve activities posing a substantive and compelling threat to the conduct of national defense or foreign policy; and (5) and is highlighted by intense public interest, as expressed by a Congressional committee, the Executive Office of the President or national media attention.

DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

The attached memorandum with the addendums have been reviewed by all divisions having an interest in the destruction or retention of FBI records and has been the subject of conferences with other agencies such as the Civil Service Commission and NARS. Procedures and counterarguments to the recommendations set forth above have been discussed in conferences and all matters relating thereto have been resolved by interested parties.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. The Director approve a 5-year retention period for criminal files and 10 years for security- and applicant-related files (previously approved) for field offices and that destruction of these files be mandatory.

I believe 5 years may be too short. Consider 5 years for Bufiles and 10 years for the field - Consider & advise - Agree to retention by (2) procedure above of files specially chosen.

TO THE DIRECTOR:

The Director noted on attached memo of 7/29/77, in connection with recommendation 1, that he felt the 5-year retention period for both Headquarters and field files may be too short; consider 5 years for Bureau files and 10 years for the field; consider and advise. The Director agreed to the second recommendation as to the procedure for files to be retained beyond the normal retention period.

We believe the 5-year retention period should be consistent between Headquarters and the field. The 5-year rule only applies to criminal files and not security or applicant files. This matter of destruction of criminal files was the subject of lengthy discussions and deliberations of concerned personnel and it was their recommendation as well as ours that the 5-year rule be uniformly implemented in both Headquarters and the field. The basic argument for consistency in the retention of criminal files between field and Headquarters is the application of FOIPA requests. If we were to retain files in the field for a longer period of time than retained at Headquarters, this would result in an unnecessary burden in processing FOIPA requests in the field.

Accordingly, we strongly believe the Director should also approve the 5-year rule for criminal files in the field.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

ORIGINAL FILED IN 190-122-2

PURPOSE:

To request the attached communication and enclosures be furnished to all field offices and Legats to advise that the moratorium on destruction of records has been rescinded and to set forth file destruction procedures to insure no files involved in litigation or under House study are destroyed.

SYNOPSIS:

The Attorney General has granted approval to resume the FBI records destruction program with the exception of those records involved in and related to litigation and those records the House Select Committee on Assassinations has asked to be preserved. Pending civil actions have been identified and grouped for transmittal to all field offices for searching and preservation of pertinent records. Field offices, Legats, and FBIHQ will insure that all files involved in litigation are preserved until final disposition and also insure that future cases involving litigation will also be identified and retained.

DETAILS:

You will recall, the moratorium on file destruction was effected on 1/29/75, upon receipt of correspondence from U. S. Senate Leadership Hugh Scott and Mike Mansfield who requested retention of all files and documents which might relate to an investigation and study of Government operations with respect to intelligence activities as set forth in Senate Resolution 21. On 4/7/76, we were successful in gaining approval to pursue our destruction program in areas other than matters involved in litigation, domestic intelligence, extremist, racial, and foreign counterintelligence matters, and on 9/27/76, destruction of exact duplicate records in all categories.

By letter dated 6/6/77, the Attorney General advised the moratorium on the destruction of records is no longer in effect; therefore, the Bureau could begin to destroy obsolete records in connection with the Records Retention Plan that has been established by National Archives and Records Service (NARS). However, the Attorney General pointed out his approval was subject to the following conditions: preservation of all records relating to cases in litigation and preservation of those records the House Select Committee on Assassinations has asked to be retained. Accordingly, we may now pursue file destruction in our field offices according to the retention period of ten years for Office of Origin files and six months for Auxiliary Office files. In order to make a responsible effort to insure no data is destroyed that is involved in litigation, either at FBIHQ, field offices and Legats, Legal Counsel Division has prepared some basic information regarding each individual pending civil action.

Legal Counsel memoranda to the Assistant Director, Records Management Division, captioned "File Destruction" and dated 6/7/77 and 6/21/77, contain lists of 166 pending civil actions assigned in Information and Privacy Acts Litigation Unit (IPAL) as of 5/31/77, and 241 assigned in the Civil Litigation Unit, Legal Counsel Division (CL), as of 6/10/77, respectively. Enclosures to these memoranda identified the subject, whether it be an individual or organization, aliases, identifying data, and related subjects. In this regard, we must be certain that any data relating to plaintiffs, defendants, and subject matter is retained, providing it can be established the information is identical with the particular person or organization involved with the specific litigation. The litigation frequently involves certain specific activities and individuals for which related data could exist in many files.

For the purpose of preserving these files in accordance with the Attorney General's directive, a chart form has been designed to furnish these cases to the field offices for searching, identification, and preservation. A letter has been prepared to instruct all field offices and Legats on the procedure to follow to insure that pertinent files are excluded from destruction and that a control file is established in the 197 (Civil Actions; Claims Against the Government) classification to maintain forms and any related search slips on litigation matters until disposition is received from FBIHQ.

According to referenced memorandum, dated 6/21/77, Legal Counsel Division will advise Records Management Division of all new civil actions as they are received and all civil actions as they are dismissed by format established herewith. Accordingly, Legal Counsel Division should take necessary steps to identify those civil action matters received subsequent to 5/31/77 (IPAL) and 6/10/77 (CL), and advise the Records Management Division. Instructions to field offices and Legats will be handled by Records Management Division.

Files relating to civil actions maintained at FBIHQ will also be identified and appropriately stamped to insure that records in this category are excluded from destruction.

This matter has been coordinated, in substance, with the Civil Litigation and Information and Privacy Acts Litigation Units, Legal Counsel Division, and the Congressional Inquiry Unit, Special Investigative Division.

Suggestion #542-77

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:mk 9/8/77)

It is proposed in attached suggestion from the Mobile Office that form FD-479 (Files and Records Destruction Order) be revised to permit this form to be used as an RUC or closing communication in those instances where it is not necessary to prepare an outgoing communication reflecting RUC/closing status of a case. Suggester feels this procedure would eliminate the need to prepare two communications, (1) the RUC/closing communication and (2) form FD-479 which certifies that the file can be destroyed within a prescribed period of time and/or retained beyond the normal destruction period.

OBSERVATIONS:

The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3D, a, page 13a, stipulates that "the case Agent will either note the appropriate destruction rule on the file copy of the communication closing the case or referring it on completion (RUC) or else note that it should be retained plus appropriate justification for such retention. Form FD-479, Files and Records Destruction Order, may be used for this purpose". The option provided in above cited regulation eliminates the need to prepare two communications as indicated in suggestion. It is therefore the opinion of the Records Management Division that suggestion does not merit favorable consideration for adoption.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend suggestion not be adopted.

PURPOSE: To recommend that 337 Fingerprint Correspondence Manual of Instructions with assigned numbers 500 through 837 be destroyed.

DETAILS: Fingerprint Correspondence has 837 Section Manuals of Instructions assigned to the Section. These manuals were assigned to the Section when the personnel complement was well over 900 employees. Because of the decrease in personnel, due to work being performed by Automation Units, it is felt Fingerprint Correspondence no longer needs these manuals to continue to operate.

Destruction of Bureau Records general

Your suggestion has been received that Form FD-479 be revised in a particular manner. The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3D, page 13a, stipulates: "The case Agent will either note the appropriate destruction rule on the file copy of the communication closing the case or referring it on completion (RUC) or else note that it should be retained plus appropriate justification for such retention. Form FD-479, Files and Records Destruction Order, may be used for this purpose." It is believed this regulation eliminates the need to prepare two communications as indicated in your proposal; therefore, it is not being approved.

Although favorable action was not taken in this instance, I appreciate the interest you expressed by submitting it to me.

FILE DESTRUCTION

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Reference is made to your letter of June 6, 1977, authorizing the destruction of files pursuant to the current National Archives and Records Service (NARS) plan. In accordance with your request, great care will be taken to insure that no files will be destroyed that relate to matters in litigation or records which the House Select Committee on Assassinations has asked to be retained. These have been carefully cataloged prior to advising our field offices in this matter.

As you are aware, the existing Records Retention Plan has been undergoing review and, after considerable consultation with representatives from NARS, a new plan has been developed which is pending final approval with the Archivist. A copy of this plan which is self-explanatory is attached. For your information the Archivist has advised that prior to approving this plan he had disseminated copies to certain Congressional committees for their advice and counsel because of the possible public interest in these records. This included the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration, the Committee on House Administration, the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs and the House Committee on Government Operations. The only Committee that indicated an interest was the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration which requested additional time for review and is expected to respond to the Archivist by September 15, 1977, after which the Archivist intends to approve this plan.

Subsequent to submitting this plan to the Archivist, the Civil Service Commission advised that, in connection with the Security of Government Employees under Executive Order 10450, the FBI's criminal investigative records that are more than five years old are no longer considered timely and relevant to their needs. A careful review has determined there is no need to retain these records beyond five years.

Therefore, reducing the retention period on criminal files maintained at Headquarters from ten years to five years will be sought from the Archivist after our currently pending request is approved. Essential criminal information is available through arrest records in the Identification Division.

After final approval from the Archivist has been received, the new plan (as set forth in the enclosure) will be implemented on October 1, 1977, unless instructions to the contrary are received from you. In addition, the Archivist has now approved a five-year retention period for criminal investigations maintained in field offices since field office records have previously been appraised by the Archivist as being "non-Archival." This authorization would also be implemented with your approval. Efforts will be continued to further evaluate and refine the FBI's Records Retention Plan to insure that we do not maintain records that are obsolete to our needs.

NOTE: Based on A. J. Decker memorandum to Mr. McDermott captioned "File Destruction and Searching Criteria" dated 3/17/77, wherein approval is granted to submit our completed Standard Form 115 to NARS and the Attorney General for approval. While this plan is pending approval at NARS, it is anticipated they will approve it as submitted without further changes since they have noted their corrections on a draft of this plan previously provided to them. The Attorney General in his letter of 6/6/77 requested that he have an opportunity to review the new plan before it is implemented. Pursuant to authority contained in 44 U.S.C., Section 3303a, the Archivist has referred the plan to Congressional committees for advice and counsel.

	"Central Records System"
1.	Description of content & arrangement of records The FBI utilizes a "Central Records System" of maintaining its investigative, personnel, applicant, administrative, and general files. This System consists of one numerical sequence of subject matter files, an alphabetical index to the files, and a supporting abstract system to facilitate processing and accountability of all important mail placed in file. For example, all information on a given subject matter or case is channeled into one file. In order to facilitate control for the file and accommodate multiple subject(s) matters, a numbering system is used to indicate: (a) general classification and nature of violation, (b) the individual case file in this category, and (c) serialization of individual pieces of mail in the file. For instance, the number 7-100-10 on a piece of mail indicates it is the 10th piece of mail in the 100th file assigned to the Kidnapping (7) classification. The FBI has 191 classifications in its basic filing system.

They pertain primarily to the Federal violations over which the FBI has investigative jurisdiction. However, included in the 191 classifications are personnel, applicant and administrative matters to facilitate the overall filing scheme. Attached as an enclosure is the classification list identifying the 191 classifications.

The records contained in this system are utilized by the FBI in support of its mission to conduct investigations within its jurisdiction and for various administrative purposes. Information from these files is disseminated to appropriate Federal, State, local, and foreign agencies and to private citizens and Congressional offices where the right and need to have access to this information exists.

The "Central Records System" is explained in further detail as a system of records (System 002) in the Federal Register, Volume 41, Number 181, dated 9/16/76 (Page 39997) which was published in accordance with the Privacy Act and amended in Volume 42, Number 4, dated 1/6/77 (Page 1313).

A. Administrative files for permanent retention

In the beginning of each classification there is a double zero (00) file for the purpose of collecting in one place all policies and procedures that refer to that particular classification or violation category. For example, in the Kidnaping (7) classification there will be a 7-00 file that will be filed prior to any case numbers within that classification. Each time there is a basic change in policy or procedure regarding this category the document indicating the change will be placed in this file.

DISPOSITION: PERMANENT. Offer for transfer to National Archives and Records Service after files are 75 years old.

B. Investigative files for permanent retention

Files for significant investigations or cases, selected by the Records Management Division in conjunction with those having direct supervisory responsibility for the category involved, according to the criteria listed below. It is noted the criteria is general in nature and selection is basically a matter of informed judgement.

Selection Procedures:

(For existing closed files that meet age criteria) Files with 5 or less volumes would generally not meet the criteria for a significant investigation or case and will be destroyed after a review, to insure compliance with criteria, by an experienced employee. Files more than 5 volumes will be reviewed by seasoned employees using their best judgement in applying the criteria for destruction or retention. A quality control spot check will insure a high degree of reliability in judgement. The disposition of the file governs disposition of index cards.

(For future closed files)
At the time a file is closed, the case agent will provide a recommendation regarding retention in accordance with this criteria. This recommendation will be subject to reevaluation prior to disposition to insure initial appraisal has remained accurate.

Files will be selected and designated for permanent retention if they meet one or more of the following criteria for significance:

1. The investigation or case has significant impact on law enforcement policies or procedures, agency rules or regulations, or investigative and intelligence techniques;

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

2. The investigation or case involves an actual or potential breakdown of public order (civil disturbance) of major proportions;

3. The investigation or case directly involves a full-field investigation for: (a) a subversive or extremist organization, with or without foreign connections; or (b) a person or persons holding a major leadership position within such an organization;

4. The investigation or case directly involves a person, element, or organization whose activities are deemed to pose a substantial and compelling threat to the conduct of national defense or foreign policy.

5. The investigation or case is significant in terms of intensity of public interest, expressed by (a) a demonstrated interest of a Congressional committee or the Executive Office of the President, or (b) a high degree of national media attention.

Disposition: PERMANENT. Offer for transfer to National Archives and Records Service 75 years after closing.

C. Investigative files other than those described above under Items 1a and 1b.

1. Criminal investigative cases and supporting retrieval devices after 10 years of no relevant activity, including microfilmed cases.

Disposition: DESTROY 10 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

2. Security investigative files with supporting retrieval devices after 30 years of no relevant activity. (See attached classification list).

Disposition: DESTROY 30 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

3. Applicant investigations and supporting retrieval devices after 30 years of no relevant activity. (See attached classification list.)

Disposition: DESTROY 30 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

4. Investigative files, in which the subject requests disposal because continued maintenance would conflict with provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 USC 552a (e) (1), (5), and (7).

Disposition: DESTROY regardless of age if found to be irrelevant to FBI operations, information is not timely, or retention is not justified or warranted. Files will be evaluated on an individual basis.

D. Items other than those described above under 1a, 1b and 1c.

1. Transitory documents such as airtels, teletypes, memoranda, etc., the substance of which has been included in prosecutive reports or other permanent communications which provide the basis for retention according to the prescribed disposition of the respective file.

Four copies, including original, to be submitted to the National Archives

STANDARD FORM 115-A

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

Disposition: DESTROY after action has been taken and transitory document no longer serves a useful purpose.

NOTE: Separate authority has been granted for the destruction of field office records on the basis that the records are contained in Headquarters files in whole, substance, or summarization. Destruction resulting from this disposal schedule will not compromise current authority granted for the destruction of field records.

Time periods for retention were selected to meet current needs; however, this criteria will be reevaluated from time to time to ensure that information maintained is essential and relevant. Adjustments may be needed in the future, especially as it relates to: (1) the FBI's obligation under Executive Order 10450 for the Security of Government Employees and (2) future Department of Justice guidelines for information gathering and retention policies for investigative data.

The following classifications are excluded from disposition standards for criminal, security and applicant investigative files. National Archives and Records Service will, upon examination, apply separate criteria for disposition in these classifications: 1, 32, 33, 39, 43, 62, 63, 64, 66, 67, 80, 91, 94, 100, 105, 122, 188 and 191 and any other classification created hereafter. A supplemental SF 115 will be submitted regarding these classifications after the National Archives and Records Service determines specific retention guidelines which will then allow for the destruction of obsolete material in these classifications.

A copy of this request is being made available to the Department of Justice for the Attorney General's information so he will be aware of the FBI's Retention Plan. This will enable the Department to also make this data available to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence before the plan is implemented to insure no data is destroyed for which there is a Congressional interest. Additionally, particular care will be taken to be sure no material is destroyed for which there is pending litigation or otherwise restricted because of a special request.

The provisions of this schedule do not supersede the retention standards of Federal Records Schedule 14, Items 16-30, developed by Department of Justice and General Services Administration Legal Counsel, for records relating to the administration of the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts.

In the attached classification list the applicant-related classifications are identified by one (*) and the security-related classifications by two (); all other classifications are criminal-related or administrative in nature.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

PERSONAL ATTENTION

The Attorney General, by letter dated 6/6/77, informed FBIHQ that the moratorium on file destruction has been lifted and indicated his approval for the FBI to resume the file destruction program. However, he specifically instructed that all records in litigation and those records which the Select Committee on Assassinations has asked to be retained must be preserved. By Bureau teletypes 11/24/76 and 1/5/77, captioned "House Select Committee on Assassinations," you were furnished instructions concerning the preservation of records in which the Committee has specific interest. These subjects have again been identified and are set forth in attached one-page enclosure. Additionally, enclosed are 407 individual documents which identify cases involved in Civil Litigation (CL) and/or Information and Privacy Acts Litigation (IPAL) that must be preserved in accordance with the Attorney General's directive. It is to be noted pages 129 and 221 carry continuation page A, and page 332 carries continuation pages A through K for a total of 420 pages. In this regard, it is essential that any data relating to the plaintiffs, defendants, subject matter and/or requester be retained, providing it can be established that information is identical with the particular person or organization that is involved with the specific litigation. This list will assist you in identifying corresponding and related cases in your office that must be preserved.

In order to be sure that no case file(s) is destroyed involving these matters, you should conduct a thorough search of your general indices on each name, organization, publication, etc. relative to each civil action. It is to be noted that in certain cases the topic matter must be searched, such as "Illegal Opening of Mail", etc. An exception to the mandatory search will be those instances where the "Attorney General, Edward M. Levi, Griffin B. Bell, Clarence M. Kelley, Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Investigation, and/or variations/abbreviations thereof, i.e., AG, E. Levi, Levi, G. Bell, Bell, C. Kelley, Kelley, C.M.K., DOJ, FBI, etc.," is indicated as defendants it will not be necessary to search. Upon completion of search, those case files containing information that can be positively identified as being identical to the person or organization involved must be appropriately marked for preservation and excluded from destruction until the litigation has been resolved. This applies to auxiliary offices, office of origin, and Legats. FBIHQ case files relating to this material are likewise excluded from destruction.

Once all searches have been completed and, where necessary, files appropriately marked for retention, you should establish a control file in the newly created 197 classification (Civil Actions or Claims Against the Government) wherein the enclosed documents with any related search slips attached thereto are to be filed alphabetically by case title and maintained until disposition is received from FBIHQ.

To facilitate this effort and establish uniform procedures throughout the field, you should immediately arrange to procure rubber stamps with one quarter (¼) inch high letters that read as follows:

1) DO NOT DESTROY - PENDING LITIGATION

2) DO NOT DESTROY - PRESERVE FOR SELECT COMMITTEE ON ASSASSINATIONS

Where applicable, the appropriate stamp, using red ink, is to be affixed to the outside of the file cover. Should a file(s) be contained in a consolidated volume, the stamp should be placed on the top serial of the particular file(s) within the consolidated volume. In the event a case file(s) is involved in more than one litigation the appropriate stamps and date of applicable Bureau communication are to be likewise affixed to the file(s) for each separate litigation.

In addition to above, destruction rules concerning auxiliary office files have been modified to require that Top Ten cases and those cases containing identification orders, Wanted Flyers, and/or Check Circulars relative to the subject(s) must be retained, in addition to the six-months RUC rule, six months beyond the date cancellation notices for these items are received.

Further, destruction rules have been amended to permit destruction of Security and Administrative Index (this refers to Security Index cards and ADEX cards). Also, index cards which relate to Law Enforcement Bulletins are to be destroyed providing the Bulletins are five years old and have been destroyed.

Receipt of this communication grants authority to resume file destruction program pursuant to above and in accordance with instructions contained in Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, Pages 13 through 15c. Legal Attaches should pursue file destruction program in accordance with instructions set forth in Foreign Operations Policy Manual, Section 6, Item L 2. You will be advised separately as matters currently pending litigation are dismissed and/or as new litigation matters are received.

You should afford file destruction program your immediate attention in order to insure that all obsolete material is destroyed so as to recapture as soon as possible much needed and very costly file storage space.

Where appropriate, manual changes will be forthcoming.

SUBJECT: CANNIBALIZATION OF UNREPAIRABLE SPEEDGRAPHIC AND TOPCON CAMERAS

PURPOSE:

To obtain Bureau authorization to cannibalize certain unrepairable Speedgraphic and Topcon Cameras for parts.

DETAILS: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - General

The following listed Speedgraphic and Topcon Cameras are unrepairable and it is requested that these cameras be cannibalized and used for parts to repair and maintain other cameras in current use; thereby effecting the greatest economy and utilization of the equipment currently on inventory. Parts are unavailable for these cameras from any source. This cannibalization will be accomplished with reference to the attached form which was prepared by the Property Procurement and Management Section of the Administrative Services Division.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is requested the Bureau authorize this cannibalization to be done in accordance with the attached sheet and its conditions.

The following is necessary for the cannibalization and destruction of equipment.

The Department approves of cannibalization of property for the purpose of obtaining parts to repair a like item, provided all of the following conditions are met:

1. Repair of the broken or worn parts is not possible.

2. Required parts are not available from other units previously cannibalized.

3. Required parts are not available from Government excess.

4. The parts are not available from commercial or Government supply sources or it is not practical to obtain the required parts from commercial sources because of obsolescence, excessive price or extraordinary leadtimes.

5. The benefit realized from cannibalization exceeds the estimated trade-in or sale value of the unit being considered for cannibalization.

6. A signed statement, approved by a reviewing official, indicating the actions taken to verify the above conditions is made part of the file supporting the removal of the cannibalized item from property records, and such information is made available upon request, to General Accounting Office and Departmental auditors.

RE: SEARCHING CRITERIA

Reference is made to Memorandum to All Bureau Officials and Supervisors dated 11/11/76 entitled "New Searching Criteria" wherein you were advised that a 10-year criteria would be utilized for criminal references and a 20-year criteria for all other classifications. With further analysis as to the retention of certain categories of files, it has been determined that searching criteria should be further modified according to current needs.

Accordingly, regular search requests will automatically be limited to 5 years in criminal classifications and 20 years in all other classifications. The 20-year search will be extended to 30 years on Civil Service Standard Form 86, Bureau Applicants and Marital Status forms. However, a search will be conducted beyond 5 or 20 years when specifically requested. FOI/PA requests will not be affected by this revised searching criteria.

The following classifications will be limited to a 20-year search:

1, 2, 3, 14, 61, 64, 65, 67, 77, 97, 98, 100, 102,

105, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 116, 117, 118, 121,

123, 124, 133, 134, 138, 140, 151, 155, 157, 161,

168, 170, 185, 191

Depending on the type of search requested, all other classifications will be limited to a 5-year search since they are being proposed for destruction after they have been closed for more than 5 years. Although final approval from the Archivist is required before file destruction is implemented, searching criteria is now being changed to be compatible with the proposed retention period. This will be responsive to current needs.

Supervisory personnel at FBIHQ should be cognizant of this change in order that responses to their requests will fulfill their needs.

Re: Destruction of Field Files and Records; American Civil Liberties Union...; Alliance to End Repression...

As you are aware, there are two currently pending civil suits in the United States District Court, in the Northern District of Illinois, captioned as above, wherein the investigative activities in "domestic intelligence" matters by the Chicago Field Office are being scrutinized. The suits have been consolidated for purposes of discovery. Both of these suits are filed as class actions with the classes certified as follows:

> "The class represented by plaintiff individuals consists of all residents of the City of Chicago and all other persons who are physically present within the City of Chicago for regular or irregular periods of time, who engage in or have engaged in lawful, political, religious, educational, or social activities and who, as a result of these activities, have been, are now, or hereafter maybe, subjected to or threatened by alleged infiltration, physical or verbal coercion surveillance or dossier collection, maintenance and dissemination by defendants or their Agents."

> "The class represented by organizations consists of all organizations located or operating in the City of Chicago who engage in or have engaged in lawful, political, > religious, educational or social activities and who, as a result of these activities, have been, are now, or hereafter maybe, subjected to or threatened by alleged infiltration, physical, or verbal coercion surveillance or dossier collection, maintenance and dissemination by defendants or their Agents."

The American Civil Liberties Union lawsuit alleges a conspiracy among FBI personnel, 113th Military Intelligence Group personnel, and Chicago Police Department personnel from 1966 to the present time. The Alliance lawsuit alleges a conspiracy among FBI personnel, the Department of Defense personnel, CIA personnel, and Chicago Police Department personnel commencing not later than 1/1/66.

During a recent visit to the Chicago Field Office by SA [redacted] Civil Litigation Unit, Legal Counsel Division, SA [redacted] was advised by SA [redacted], Legal Instructor, Chicago Field Office, that some confusion existed as to whether "domestic intelligence" files and records could be destroyed in the Chicago Field Office. Inasmuch as these civil suits are "class actions" involving every investigation of a domestic intelligence nature in the Chicago Field Office since at least 1/1/66 (and potentially prior to that date), and in view of the previous order of the United States District Court prohibiting Federal defendants from destroying or altering "any documents or data in their possession, custody, or control that are or may be relevant to this litigation," the Chicago Field Office is instructed not to destroy any records or files relating to domestic intelligence investigations. In order to assure compliance with the Court's order, a very liberal interpretation should be given to the term "domestic intelligence" and where doubt arises, the question should be resolved in favor of retaining the record. The enclosures herewith should be utilized as a guide to determine if a particular matter relates to "domestic intelligence."

I find your request for permission to perform this bastardly act totally repugnant. What do you have to hide! It is obvious to me that the aforementioned files constitute a great source of embarressment to you & the F.B.I. As a law-abiding, tax paying citizen, I demand that you make the facts of the Cointelpro program public.

Mr Kelly, due to this latest crime committed by you & your organization of anti-Christs upon the american public, I have now made up my mind to fight the F.B.I. and everything they stand for. As it now stands, I must presume that you are taking your instructions from the KGB. But, who am I.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

Dear Mr. [redacted]

In reply to your letter of September 29th regarding possible destruction of FBI files, I assure you that disposition of all FBI records, regardless of their source, is carried out in strict accordance with the very specific provisions set forth in Title 44, Chapter 33, of the United States Code, and in Title 41, Chapter 101-11, of the Code of Federal Regulations. We in the FBI closely coordinate these matters with the National Archives and Records Service, and we have a comprehensive program in force to facilitate the destruction of obsolete material and the permanent retention of historically valuable records. After appropriate time has elapsed, those records deemed to hold historical value are ultimately transferred to the National Archives where they are available for research purposes.

I also wish to advise you that information regarding this Bureau's Counterintelligence Program has been furnished to the public in the past.

FROM : J. W. Awe

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to note receipt of (1) GSA Bulletin FPMR (Federal Property Management Regulations) B-72 which contains authority to perform amendments, either by correcting or expunging information, in response to requests made pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 and (2) General Records Schedule #14 which establishes disposition of FOIPA correspondence. Both documents are attached.

DETAILS:

As a result of the influx of FOIPA requests, we have accumulated a large volume of records which require corrections or expunctions under the Privacy Act of 1974. Records Branch has been unable to make amendments required under the Act in view of the restrictions imposed by 44 U.S.C., Chapter 33, regarding destruction of Government records. The possible conflict between the Privacy Act requiring this action and Title 44 which restricts destruction of records was discussed with the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) and they agreed that an FPMR Bulletin should be issued to establish authorization and limitations for the amendments. This authority permits corrections or expunctions of data elements up to, but not including, an entire record. We will be permitted to delete words, phrases, sentences, paragraphs, pages, or serials. Submission of Standard Form 115 will be required for destruction of a total record. The Field Coordination and Appeals Unit of the FOIPA Branch has and will continue to determine the exact data elements to be corrected and/or expunged and refer all file material to the Consolidation Unit of the Records Branch for action.

File material will include the substantive case file, copies of excised file material furnished to the requester, and any field office files which might be forwarded to FBIHQ for this purpose. The Consolidation Unit will complete necessary expunctions, including the removal and destruction of any index cards or abstracts. Similar expunctions or corrections required for personnel files will be referred to the Personnel Records Unit for action.

Additionally, we have received General Records Schedule #14 which provides authority to dispose of correspondence related to FOIPA requests after specific retention periods. Schedule #14 basically permits destruction of correspondence and supporting documents, after two years, with the exception of appealed cases which must be retained for five years. The Schedule also describes the records that are determined to be of permanent value. This destruction will be coordinated with the the FOIPA Branch. It is interesting to note that we have accumulated over 9,000 files in the 190 (FOIPA) classification, 331 sections in the FOIPA general file, 62-115530, and correspondence filed in an unknown number of substantive case files.

RECOMMENDATION:

That record amendments and destruction be pursued in accordance with the authority contained herewith.

August 10, 1977

GSA BULLETIN FPMR B-72
ARCHIVES AND RECORDS

TO : Heads of Federal agencies

SUBJECT: Disposal of Federal records in response to requests made pursuant to the Privacy Act

1. Purpose. This bulletin transmits guidelines designed to ensure agency compliance with Federal records disposal requirements when responding to requests to amend a record under provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974.

2. Expiration date. This bulletin will remain in effect until superseded or canceled.

3. Background.

a. Chapter 33 of title 44, United States Code, sets forth procedures for the disposal of records of the United States Government. Section 3314 of title 44 provides that no records of the Government shall be alienated or destroyed by a Federal agency except in accordance with chapter 33. Under this chapter, Federal records may not be destroyed unless such disposal is approved by the Archivist of the United States, as delegate of the Administrator of General Services. Procedures for obtaining the necessary approval are contained in FPMR 101-11.406.

b. The Privacy Act permits an individual to examine records maintained in a system of records by Federal agencies. The individual may also request that records containing inaccurate, out-of-date, or misleading information be amended by correcting or expunging the information. An agency may agree to amend a record, or the individual may institute judicial action to try to compel an agency to amend a record.

c. Since there has been some misunderstanding concerning disposal of Federal records in response to requests made pursuant to the Privacy Act, it is necessary to specify which records may be destroyed and how it is to be accomplished. Records already accessioned into the National Archives are exempted from the Privacy Act provision allowing individuals to request that records relating to them be amended. Most provisions of the Privacy Act apply only to those systems of records which are under the legal control of the originating agency; e.g., an agency's current operating files or records stored at a Federal records center.

d. The guidelines listed in paragraph 4 are designed to clarify the provisions of the Federal Records Act and the Privacy Act as they relate to the destruction of records as a result of requests for amendment.

ENCLOSURE

4. Guidelines. The disposal of records in response to requests from individuals to amend records under the Privacy Act must be carried out in accordance with chapter 33 of title 44, United States Code,and FPMR 101-11.406. Adherence to the following guidelines will ensure that these requirements are met.

a. Data elements within a record may be amended or removed if the agency agrees to the amendment, whether or not the records are scheduled as permanently valuable. A data element is a small piece of information such as a block of information on a form; e.g., a change in a block of information on Standard Form 50, Notification of Personnel Action. Destruction of an entire record is not permitted without prior authorization even if the record consists of only one page.

b. Authorization for early destruction of records or files which have been scheduled for eventual disposal or which are unscheduled may be obtained by submitting a Standard Form 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to General Services Administration (NCD), Washington, DC 20408.

c. Authorization for destruction of records or files which have been designated for permanent retention as part of the National Archives of the United States in a NARS approved agency records schedule or Part II of a Retention Plan will not be given.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 14

Informational Services Records

This schedule covers certain records pertaining to informational services performed by Government agencies in their day to day affairs and in their relations with the public; including records created in administering Freedom of Information Act and Privacy Act programs. Except as otherwise specified in individual items, it applies to copies of these records wherever located in an agency. Items 2 and 6 apply only to files maintained in the office responsible for the operation of the informational activities of the agency or subdivision thereof. Items 16 through 20 describe the files accumulated in carrying out the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, and items 25 through 30 describe the files created in administering the provisions of the Privacy Act.

These records consist of inquiries, replies, and related correspondence; and in the case of FOIA and Privacy Act files, reports and appeal case files; and administrative background material for formal informational releases. Closely related records such as certain records relating to budget presentation, and printing, duplicating and distribution are covered by other general records schedules. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Service before applying these disposition instructions.

By direction of the Attorney General, I have been requested to destroy all reports with respect to character investigations conducted by the FBI on all sitting Federal judges and on the Attorney General. This would also include the destruction of any administrative inquiry reports and criminal investigative files.

It is understood that you retain originals on all of these files, and it is felt there is insufficient need for us to retain our copies.

If you see any problem, I would appreciate your advice as soon as possible so that we may begin our destruction process.

DESTRUCTION OF CERTAIN FBI
AND OTHER REPORTS

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

By memorandum captioned as above, dated September 20, 1977, you advised of your intention to destroy certain files on sitting Federal judges and on the Attorney General. You requested to be advised of any problems raised by the proposed file destruction.

The proposed destruction of your copies of the reports described in your memorandum appears to be a matter within your discretion assuming that you have determined that the Records Disposition Schedule of the Department would allow such destruction.

One point should be made concerning the destruction of these reports. Your memorandum indicates that you are relying on the fact that the FBI has the original copies of all of these reports. At this time this assumption is correct, although some of these documents may have been reduced to microfilm. However, by memorandum to the Attorney General dated September 15, captioned "File Destruction" you were advised of a new Records Disposition Schedule developed by the FBI after consultation with representatives from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). That plan, which is currently pending approval with NARS, would authorize the destruction of FBI Headquarters applicant type investigative files after thirty years and the destruction of FBI Headquarters criminal files after ten years. Although certain records which meet NARS criteria as being of sufficient historical interest may be retained beyond these periods, informal contact with NARS has indicated that there is no assurance that all background investigations of Federal judges would be retained. Additionally, as was explained in detail in our memorandum to the Attorney General of September 15, 1977, after approval of the pending

Records Disposition Schedule, we intend to seek authority to further reduce the retention period for FBI Headquarters criminal files to five years.

Therefore, you should not rely on the FBI to retain copies of these reports indefinitely and, in fact, under our proposed record retention plan it is possible that such records could be destroyed while a judge is still on the bench.

NOTE: This responds to a memorandum from the Associate Attorney General, dated 9/20/77, advising of the Department's intention to destroy certain categories of investigative reports. This response was coordinated with the Records Management Division and the Special Investigative Division.

Memorandum

TO : The Attorney General

DATE: September 15, 1977

FROM : Director, FBI

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION

Reference is made to your letter of June 6, 1977, authorizing the destruction of files pursuant to the current National Archives and Records Service (NARS) plan. In accordance with your request, great care will be taken to insure that no files will be destroyed that relate to matters in litigation or records which the House Select Committee on Assassinations has asked to be retained. These have been carefully cataloged prior to advising our field offices in this matter.

As you are aware, the existing Records Retention Plan has been undergoing review and, after considerable consultation with representatives from NARS, a new plan has been developed which is pending final approval with the Archivist. A copy of this plan which is self-explanatory is attached. For your information the Archivist has advised that prior to approving this plan he had disseminated copies to certain Congressional committees for their advice and counsel because of the possible public interest in these records. This included the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration, the Committee on House Administration, the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs and the House Committee on Government Operations. The only Committee that indicated an interest was the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration which requested additional time for review and is expected to respond to the Archivist by September 15, 1977, after which the Archivist intends to approve this plan.

Subsequent to submitting this plan to the Archivist, the Civil Service Commission advised that, in connection with the Security of Government Employees under Executive Order 10450, the FBI's criminal investigative records that are more than five years old are no longer considered timely and relevant to their needs. A careful review has determined there is no need to retain these records beyond five years.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds Regularly on the Payroll Savings Plan

Therefore, reducing the retention period on criminal files maintained at Headquarters from ten years to five years will be sought from the Archivist after our currently pending request is approved. Essential criminal information is available through arrest records in the Identification Division.

After final approval from the Archivist has been received, the new plan (as set forth in the enclosure) will be implemented on October 1, 1977, unless instructions to the contrary are received from you. In addition, the Archivist has now approved a five-year retention period for criminal investigations maintained in field offices since field office records have previously been appraised by the Archivist as being "non-Archival." This authorization would also be implemented with your approval. Efforts will be continued to further evaluate and refine the FBI's Records Retention Plan to insure that we do not maintain records that are obsolete to our needs.

SUGGESTION

1 Destruction of Bureau Records - Jus.

It is recommended that serious consideration be given that the six months rule for destruction of files in an auxiliary office be modified to except fugitive cases from this rule or to make provisions where the rule in fugitive cases does not apply until six months after the fugitive has been apprehended.

This could be facilitated by auxiliary offices very easily by making a "Z" inquiry in National Crime Information Center (NCIC) on fugitive cases when the tickler for destruction comes up and if this inquiry shows the subject is still in a fugitive status, a new tickler be set for a six month period.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Six months destruction on all cases in all auxiliary offices.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

To keep auxiliary offices from continually recontacting the Office of Origin in the event new leads are set out by the Office of Origin and the auxiliary office has already destroyed the file and returned photographs to the Office of Origin.

This suggestion has obvious merit. Experience has shown that many leads are received on fugitive cases in which the files have been destroyed requiring additional reproduction and contact with office of origin.

Suggestion #6-78

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:mk 10/5/77)

It is proposed in attached suggestion from the Albuquerque Office that the six-months destruction rule for all auxiliary office (AO) files be modified to require that fugitive cases be retained for six-months after the fugitive has been apprehended. Suggester feels that proposed procedure would eliminate the need for AO to continually contact Office of Origin (OO) in the event new leads are set out by OO after AO file has been destroyed.

Current regulations stipulate that AO investigative files in all classifications are to be destroyed when six-months old except top ten cases and those cases containing identification orders, wanted flyers, and/or check circulars relative to the subject(s) which must be retained, in addition to the six-months rule, six months beyond the date cancellation notices for these items are received. Additionally, any case may be retained if it is considered to have value for evidentiary, intelligence, historical, or other reference purposes.

OBSERVATIONS:

The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 4, pages 13, 14, and 15, sets forth instructions concerning leads and the responsibility of the office setting out leads. Specifically, preparation of communications designed to set out leads should set out concise, general, summary and background of matter. (Information which will prepare reader's minds so that he will be able to decide as to the subsequent action desirable.) Communication should set forth any descriptive data necessary, action taken, new developments, or other facts upon which the recommendations are based. Additionally, communications should set forth instructions, recommendations, or leads listed in numerical order. In view of existing instructions, the Records Systems Section is of the opinion that if instructions concerning leads and lead information are adhered to, there will be no need to retain AO files for a period greater than that currently provided. It is therefore felt that suggestion does not warrant favorable consideration for adoption.

RECOMMENDATION:

Recommend that suggestion not be adopted.

suggestion #6-78
ADDENDUM OF PLANNING AND INSPECTION DIVISION: RLH:dc, 10 11 '77

The Planning and Inspection Division feels that the Criminal Investigative Division and Records Management Division would be in the best position to comment on and evaluate the effects of this suggestion and defers to them.

PID submits the following as observations and it would recommend against adaption of the suggestion for the following reasons:

(1) To make an exception to the destruction criteria for fugitive cases in an auxiliary office until 6-months after a fugitive has been apprehended would create another unnecessary administrative tickler system in each field office. The same reasons set forth in this suggestion for changing the destruction criteria in auxilliary offices could apply to many of the Bureau's classifications and if approved these exceptions would soon become the rule. The Records Management Division when it evaluates the disposition program at FBIHQ and in the field would be in the best position to determine if changes in the disposition criteria are needed.

(2) In addition, past surveys have indicated that approximately 80 to 90 percent of all fugitives are apprehended within the first 6-months, thus if the suggestion is adopted NCIC "z" inquiries would be negative approximately 80 to 90 percent of the time and the new tickler system would be being set up for relatively few cases.

(3) Current instructions in the Manual of Rules and Regulations Section IV appear to be adequate and require that sufficient detail be submitted in communications that set out leads for auxilliary offices.

Suggestion #6=78

ADDENDUM: CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION RC:can 10/6/77

Criminal Investigative Division (CID) has reviewed suggestion number 6-78 submitted by the Albuquerque Division and believes that the proposal to exempt the fugitive matters in the six months destruction rule allowing auxiliary offices the benefit of not destroying fugitive cases until six months after the subject has been apprehended and is worthy of adoption. Therefore, CID recommends that this suggestion be approved. If approved, the Records Management Division should prepare any necessary instructions or manual changes that might be required.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that the six-month destruction rule for all auxiliary office files be modified in a particular manner. After evaluation, your proposal is not being approved. The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 4, pages 13, 14, and 15, sets forth instructions concerning leads and the responsibility of the office setting out leads, and it is believed that if the present instructions concerning leads and lead information are adhered to there would be no need to retain auxiliary office files for a period greater than that currently provided.

Although favorable action was not taken in this instance, the thoughtfulness you expressed by submitting your idea to me is appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Memorandum

TO : The Attorney General

DATE: September 15, 1977

FROM : Director, FBI

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION

Reference is made to your letter of June 6, 1977, authorizing the destruction of files pursuant to the current National Archives and Records Service (NARS) plan. In accordance with your request, great care will be taken to insure that no files will be destroyed that relate to matters in litigation or records which the House Select Committee on Assassinations has asked to be retained. These have been carefully cataloged prior to advising our field offices in this matter.

As you are aware, the existing Records Retention Plan has been undergoing review and, after considerable consultation with representatives from NARS, a new plan has been developed which is pending final approval with the Archivist. A copy of this plan which is self-explanatory is attached. For your information the Archivist has advised that prior to approving this plan he had disseminated copies to certain Congressional committees for their advice and counsel because of the possible public interest in these records. This included the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration, the Committee on House Administration, the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs and the House Committee on Government Operations. The only Committee that indicated an interest was the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration which requested additional time for review and is expected to respond to the Archivist by September 15, 1977, after which the Archivist intends to approve this plan.

Subsequent to submitting this plan to the Archivist, the Civil Service Commission advised that, in connection with the Security of Government Employees under Executive Order 10450, the FBI's criminal investigative records that are more than five years old are no longer considered timely and relevant to their needs. A careful review has determined there is no need to retain these records beyond five years.

Therefore, reducing the retention period on criminal files maintained at Headquarters from ten years to five years will be sought from the Archivist after our currently pending request is approved. Essential criminal information is available through arrest records in the Identification Division.

After final approval from the Archivist has been received, the new plan (as set forth in the enclosure) will be implemented on October 1, 1977, unless instructions to the contrary are received from you. In addition, the Archivist has now approved a five-year retention period for criminal investigations maintained in field offices since field office records have previously been appraised by the Archivist as being "non-Archival." This authorization would also be implemented with your approval. Efforts will be continued to further evaluate and refine the FBI's Records Retention Plan to insure that we do not maintain records that are obsolete to our needs.

The captioned records destruction schedule, presently undergoing Congressional review, will after final approval act as our authority to effect the destruction of an entire investigative file. It will not authorize the destruction of a partial investigative file.

Destruction of [redacted] and [redacted] material can be effected pursuant to the authorization contained in FPMR Bulletin B-72 issued by the General Services Administration on April 10, 1977.

Concerning the next step in these two cases, the material relating to [redacted] can be destroyed at any time and we are awaiting your decision and your response to Mr. [redacted] request.

In the [redacted] case, we would recommend that destruction be postponed until such time as all current litigation is brought to a final resolution. This would be in keeping with the Attorney General's approval of the May 4, 1977, destruction schedule, in view of the fact that it is conceivable the records containing the [redacted] material to be destroyed could become involved in present litigation.

DRAFT EXECUTIVE ORDER ON FBI BACKGROUND INVESTIGATIONS

Reference is made to your memorandum dated September 28, 1977, in which you solicited our comments and suggestions concerning captioned matter. We have reviewed the proposed Executive Order (EO) entitled "Establishing Procedures For Background Investigations Conducted By The Federal Bureau of Investigation" and our comments and suggestions follow:

Promulgation of this EO would terminate the FBI from conducting background investigations at the request of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare or other departments concerning individuals being considered for positions of trust and responsibility.

Section 1 of this EO does not provide for any procedures concerning internal file reviews (name check requests) conducted by the FBI. It appears that some procedures need to be established in this EO for the summaries and reports which are furnished by the FBI in response to name check requests.

Section 1 limits our field investigations solely to the suitability of the individual being considered for appointment. Section 1 as written fails to provide that the FBI ascertain facts and information relevant to the appointee's suitability and trustworthiness for clearance for access to information classified under the provisions of EO 11652 and where necessary for clearance for access to compartmented information in accordance with the standards set forth in Director of Central Intelligence Directive 1/14.

Section 2 requests the FBI to conduct investigations for purposes described in Section 1. At the time a request is made for investigation it should be clearly indicated into which category the investigations fall, i.e., Presidential appointment, staff, National Security Council, etc. It is not clearly set out that we will be advised as to the nature of the request.

Section 3 allows for no review of summaries or reports of FBI field investigations for a clearance determination. The clearance deficiency contained in this section is similar to the clearance deficiency noted in Section 1.

Section 4 of this EO fails to describe the FBI's retention policy as to our summaries or reports. It is felt that a sentence needs to be added to Section 4 to cure this matter. This sentence should state that the information obtained during field investigations conducted by the FBI will be retained at FBI Headquarters and FBI field offices in accordance with the FBI Records Retention Plan.

The provision in Section 4 requiring the official who requested the investigation to furnish the FBI written certification that the summaries or reports have been destroyed and a record of all persons who reviewed the summaries or reports and the date on which review occurred to be furnished with the certification appears to place an undue and costly burden on the FBI. Each department or agency in the Executive Branch of the Government is required under the Federal Records Act to manage the retention and disposal of records in its possession.

The Archivist has the responsibility and authority to make decisions concerning the disposal of investigative records under the Federal Records Act, 44 U.S.C. 3301 et. seq. It is suggested that the provision in Section 4 be phrased in a manner to fix responsibility for the destruction and furnishing of a record of all persons who reviewed our documents and the date on which review occurred on the interested department or agency through their respective Records Retention Plan after concurrence with the Archivist.

Consideration should be given for this EO to have a provision stating that the Attorney General shall issue guidelines to implement this EO.

Deputy Assistant Attorney General
Office of Legal Counsel

NOTE: Mary C. Lawton Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLC, DOJ, by memorandum, 9/28/77 requested views and comments re EO draft concerning FBI background investigations conducted for White House, DOJ, NRC and Secretary of Energy. EO restricts individuals who may request investigations and requires destruction of FBI summaries or reports (S/R) furnished after appointment decision is made. EO lacks destruction procedure for S/R furnished per name check requests. Sections 1 and 3 limit scope of investigation and use of S/R solely to suitability for appointment and no provision for use to make clearance determinations. Section 2 unclear that we will be advised as to nature of request. Section 4 should included info re FBI Records Retention Plan. Section 4 provision re written certification that S/R have been destroyed and record of date and identities of all persons who reviewed same, as written, places undue and costly burden on us. Archivist has responsibility and authority re disposal of investigative records. Provision re destruction and furnishing record of date and reviewers identities should be affixed on interested department or agency through their Records Retention Plan after concurrence with Archivist. SID coordinated this response with Records Management Division.

SUBJECT: CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT

PURPOSE: Form FD-519 Destruction of Bureau Property General

That an FD-form number be established to implement a policy to account for any property cannibalized or destroyed as set forth in the Department of Justice Property Management Regulations, Title 41, Subpart 128-43.50.

DETAILS: V-1 DE-70 ST 114 REC-7 66-3286-12

The Department of Justice has advised the Bureau that specific information on the attached proposed form is required when cannibalizing or destroying equipment. To fulfill the Department's instructions, it is felt that this information should be placed on a Bureau form. At the time an office requests that they be permitted to cannibalize or destroy equipment, the Property Procurement and Management Section will respond either negatively or positively. If the response is positive the office will be advised to complete the proposed form which will be made a part of the correspondence regarding same. Provision for cannibalization is included in the FBI Accounting Systems Manual approved by the Government Accounting Office and the Department of Justice. A space is also provided on the Data Adjustment Form (FD-514) for information regarding the automation of nonexpendable inventory.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the proposed form be approved.

REQUIREMENTS AND CERTIFICATION FOR CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT

REQUIREMENTS

Cannibalization and destruction of equipment for the purpose of obtaining parts to repair a like item is permitted after Bureau authority is granted and when all of the following conditions are met:

1. Repair of the broken or worn parts is not possible.

2. Required parts are not available from other units previously cannibalized.

3. Required parts are not available from Government excess. (Government excess means any personal property under the control of any Federal Agency which is not required for its needs and the discharge of its responsibilities, as determined by the head thereof.)

4. The parts are not available from commercial or Government supply sources or it is not practical to obtain the required parts from commercial sources because of obsolescence, excessive price or extraordinary leadtimes.

5. The benefit realized from cannibalization exceeds the estimated trade-in or sale value of the unit being considered for cannibalization.

6. A signed statement, approved by a reviewing official, indicating the actions taken to verify the above conditions is made part of the file supporting the removal of the cannibalized item from property records, and such information is made available upon request, to General Accounting Office and Departmental auditors.

CERTIFICATION

The conditions, as set forth above, have been met to the best of my knowledge with regard to the equipment listed on the attached memorandum and/or FD-500, dated_____. This equipment should therefore be removed from inventory and the parts will be used for the repair and maintenance of similar equipment.

Memorandum to Mr. Monahan
Re: Senstudy 75: Houstudy

DETAILS: By memorandum from R. J. Gray to Mr. T. W. Leavitt, dated 6/9/77, material pertaining to captioned files was moved from the Intelligence Division to the CIU of the SID, Room 8988. This action was to provide temporary storage of the material, some of which could be useful in connection with current review of the Kennedy and King assassination investigations by the House Select Committee on Assassinations (HSCA). After four months the HSCA has displayed no interest in FBI material previously furnished to the Senate and House Intelligence Committees. CIU clerical time has been expended with work totally unrelated to the HSCA review because assistance is necessary to help other Divisions of FBIHQ locate information in the Senstudy and Houstudy files.

Because of historical significance and a continuing need for access to these files by various Divisions at FBIHQ, it is believed that Senstudy and Houstudy material should be moved to a permanent storage area and maintained under custody of the RMD.

The index to the Senstudy and Houstudy material consists of approximately 12,500 cards referring to proper names, newspaper clippings, Bureau communications and miscellaneous subject matter. Many of these cards are duplicative or serve no useful purpose. Prior to transfer of material to RMD, if approved, these index cards should be reviewed by designated representatives of Divisions 5, 6 and 9 to destroy those unnecessary cards. The remaining cards can then be more easily consolidated into the central records system by RMD. The CIU will coordinate review of the index with Divisions 5 and 6. Divisions 5 and 6 should, in an addendum to this memorandum, designate representative(s) to handle review.

ADDENDUM CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION (CID) PEN:pjm 11/15/77

The CID concurs in that it should participate in this review of Senstudy/Housstudy index cards under the overall supervision of the Congressional Inquiry Unit of the Special Investigative Division. In this regard, SA [redacted] is designated as the CID participant. b6 b7C

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974;
PROCEDURE FOR HANDLING REQUESTS TO CORRECT OR EXPUNGE RECORDS MAINTAINED BY FIELD OFFICES

Re airtel to SAC, Albany dated 3/21/77, captioned, "Privacy Act of 1974; Procedure for Handling Requests to Correct or Expunge a Record."

As pointed out in referenced airtel, individuals may request correction and amendment of their records pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 (Title 5, United States Code, Section 552a (d)(2)). Also pointed out was, when the field office maintains the same information as FBI Headquarters (FBIHQ), the office would be requested to submit the original records to FBIHQ for destruction or correction. As stated at that time, this procedure could be subject to change in the future where increased volume would require the field to destroy or correct their own records rather than sending them to FBIHQ.

Effective 1/1/78, field offices and legats will be required to destroy or correct their own records. To help facilitate this, FBIHQ will be utilizing a new form, 4-728 Instructional Sheet, copy attached. This instruction sheet sets out the specific files or serials on which total destruction, partial expunction, or specific corrections are to be made. This instruction sheet is to be completed within 10 working days of its receipt and returned to FBIHQ for permanent retention in the Records Branch, Bufile 66-3286. Manual changes will follow.

SUBJECT: DEFENSE PLANS
FORMER SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

PURPOSE: Destruction of Bureau Property General

To dispose of copies of the Defense Plans for Special Investigative Division which was abolished January 1, 1978 and functions transferred to Records Management and Criminal Investigative Divisions.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1.) Defense Plans Coordinators, Criminal Investigative Division and Records Management Division, review for pertinent information which would require revision of Defense Plans of those divisions. Upon completion, destroy copies of Defense Plans, Special Investigative Division.

Memorandum D. Ryan to Mr. Bassett
RE: DEFENSE PLANS
FORMER SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

2.) That Extra Duty Supervisor, Criminal Investigative Division, destroy copy number eight (8) "Defense Plans, Special Investigative Division."

3.) That Defense Plans Coordinators, Technical Services Division, former Special Investigative Division and Records Repository, Quantico, destroy remaining copies of Defense Plans, Special Investigative Division.

DETAILS:

By memorandum J.J. McDermott to Mr. Held dated November 25, 1977 regarding Headquarters reorganization, the Special Investigative Division was abolished effective January 1, 1978 with two sections being transferred to Criminal Investigative Division and one section transferred to Records Management Division.

Ten copies of the Defense Plans for the Special Investigative Division were in existence. Original contained in Bureau files, six copies within the Division and one copy maintained by the following: (1) Defense Plans Coordinator, Technical Services Division; (2) Records Repository, Quantico; (3) Extra Duty Supervisor, Criminal Investigative Division.

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974;
MAINTENANCE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION IN VIOLATION OF
Destruction of Bureau Property - General

The purpose of this memorandum is to bring to your attention an apparent problem which has been created by the specific language in the FBI's records destruction schedule, approved by the Attorney General, and GSA Bulletin FPMR B- 72, issued by the General Services Administration on August 10, 1977. A copy of each of these douuments is attached.

The language in both of these documents seems to prohibit the FBI from initiating destruction or expunction action in those cases where the retention of personal information maintained in the FBI's central records system is determined to be violative of the Privacy Act of 1974, specifically, Subsections (e)(1), (5) and (7), prohibiting the maintenance of information by an agency which is unnecessary or irrelevant to accomplish an authorized purpose of the agency; information which is inaccurate, irrelevant, untimely or incomplete; and information describing the exercise of a right guaranteed by the First Amendment unless meeting certain criteria.

FBI

The exact language creating this apparent conflict with the law is found in the "Request For Records Disposition Authority," submitted by this Bureau on May 4, 1977, Item C.4., i.e., "investigative files, in which the subject requests disposal because continued maintenance would conflict with provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5USC552a (e)(1), (5), and (7)," and GSA Bulletin FPMR B- 72, dated August 10, 1977, paragraph 4, "Guidelines. The disposal of records in response to requests from individuals..." This, then, would preclude the voluntary disposal of records determined to be violative of the Act where no specific request for disposal of the records has been submitted by the individual record subject.

In view of the above, it is requested you consider advising the National Archives and Records Service that this language, ordered into our records destruction schedule by that agency, conflicts with the Privacy Act of 1974 and should be deleted; or, in the alternative, provide this Bureau with direction relative to the appropriate means to dispose of personal information maintained in our central records system, the retention of which we determine to be in violation of the Privacy Act, but for the destruction of which we have received no specific request.

Your early attention to this matter will be appreciated.

DECLASSIFIED COPY LOG

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to note receipt of copies of correspondence exchanged between the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence and the Department concerning the end of the moratorium on destruction of records.

DETAILS:

By routing slip, Mary C. Lawton, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel, provided a copy of a letter dated 12/21/77, directed to the Attorney General from Daniel K. Inouye, Chairman, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, and the response from Ms. Lawton dated 1/12/78. Senator Inouye advised that all agencies previously bound by the moratorium on destruction could resume normal destruction programs but that any changes in records maintenance or destruction procedures be brought to the attention of the Select Committee. Ms. Lawton commented that the FBI records disposal schedule has not yet received final approval and that continued retention of obsolete records was creating severe administrative problems. Copies of correspondence attached hereto.

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

On July 17, 1976 I requested that the moratorium on destruction of intelligence and investigative records originally requested by Senators Mansfield and Scott be extended through December 17, 1976. No further extensions have been formally requested. Therefore, all agencies maintaining records pursuant to the moratorium may return to normal records destruction policies.

I would request that any changes in records maintenance or destruction procedures affecting intelligence or investigations which have been promulgated since the moratorium was instituted as well as any future changes in procedures be brought to the attention of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence.

Aloha,

Honorable Daniel K. Inouye

Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Thank you for your letter of December 21, 1977 concerning termination of the moratorium on records destruction.

Pursuant to earlier communications with you on this subject and discussions with your staff, the Federal Bureau of Investigation submitted a revised records destruction plan to the Archives on May 4, 1977. A copy of that plan is attached for your information.

Approval of the plan has been delayed. While agreeing in substance, the National Archives and Records Service submitted the proposed plan to the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration and the House Administration Committee. Additional information copies have been furnished to the Senate Committee on Government Affairs and the House Committee on Government Operations. We understand that representatives of the FBI have discussed the plan with members of your staff as well.

The desire of Archives to hear from the committees prior to granting final approval is apparently the reason the plan is not yet in effect. We are most anxious to resume destruction of obsolete records the continued retention of which is creating severe administrative problems.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to record receipt of GSA Bulletin FPMR (Federal Property Management Regulations) B-74 (attached) regarding disposal of Federal records in response to requests made pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974.

DETAILS:

Reference is made to my memorandum to Mr. Decker, dated 10/5/77, wherein I noted receipt of FPMR Bulletin B-72 which granted authorization to perform various expunctions on original records in response to requests made pursuant to the Privacy Act. FPMR Bulletin B-72, dated 8/10/77, has been cancelled and is superseded by FPMR Bulletin B-74, dated 1/17/78.

The new Bulletin is designed to broaden the authority for expunctions to include amendment, removal and/or destruction of a document with related attachments if the agency agrees to such action.

Series of records and individual files that have either been approved by NARS (National Archives and Records Service) for future disposal or for which disposition has not been authorized will continue to require submission of Standard Form 115. Our current procedure of submitting separate requests for destruction of files pursuant to the Privacy Act will not be altered by the new authority.

James Megronigle, Director, Planning and Analysis Division, NARS, was contacted to clarify the authority of the new Bulletin as it would relate to our files. Mr. Megronigle concurred that our file would be the equivalent of the file

SUBJECT: Disposal of Federal records in response to requests made pursuant to the Privacy Act

1. Purpose. This bulletin transmits revised guidelines designed to ensure agency compliance with Federal records disposal requirements when responding to requests to amend a record under provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974.

2. Expiration date. This bulletin will remain in effect until superseded or canceled.

ALL FBI INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 9/10/03 BY AUC 60290 BCE/DCG/gmw

3. Background.

a. Chapter 33 of title 44, United States Code, sets forth procedures for the disposal of records of the U.S. Government. Section 3314 of title 44 provides that no records of the Government shall be alienated or destroyed by a Federal agency except in accordance with chapter 33. Under this chapter, Federal records may not be destroyed unless disposal is approved by the Archivist of the United States, as delegate of the Administrator of General Services. Procedures for obtaining the necessary approval are contained in FPMR 101-11.406.

b. The Privacy Act permits an individual to examine records relating to him maintained in a system of records by Federal agencies. The individual may also request that records containing inaccurate, out-of-date, or misleading information be amended by correcting or expunging the information. An agency may agree to amend a record, or the individual may institute judicial action to try to compel an agency to amend a record.

c. Since there has been some misunderstanding concerning disposal of Federal records in response to requests made pursuant to the Privacy Act, it is necessary to specify which records may be destroyed and how destruction is to be accomplished. Records already accessioned into the National Archives are exempted from the Privacy Act provision allowing individuals to request that records relating to them be amended. Most provisions of the Privacy Act apply only to those systems of records which are under the legal control of the originating agency; e.g., an agency's current operating files or records stored at a Federal records center.

ENCLOSURE

d. The guidelines listed in paragraph 4 are designed to clarify the provisions of the Federal Records Act and the Privacy Act as they relate to the destruction of records as a result of request for amendment.

4. Guidelines. The disposal of records in response to requests from individuals to amend records under the Privacy Act must be carried out in accordance with chapter 33 of title 44, United States Code, and FPMR 101-11.406. Adherence to the following guidelines will ensure that these requirements are met.

a. Data elements within a document or file item (a document with related attachments) may be amended or removed if the agency agrees to the amendment. A data element is a piece of information recorded on a document; e.g. block 3, date of birth, on Standard Form 50, Notification of Personnel Action.

b. Removal and destruction of an entire document or file item is permitted if the agency determines that compliance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(d)(2) requires such removal and destruction.

c. A Standard Form 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, must be submitted to the General Services Administration (NCD), Washington, DC 20408, in order to effect immediate destruction of:

(1) A series of records or file units (folders) within a series which have been approved by NARS for some eventual disposition, or

(2) Any records series or file units for which disposition has not been authorized.

5. Cancellation. GSA Bulletin FPMR B-72 of August 10, 1977, is canceled.

SUBJECT: PRIVACY ACT OF 1974;
PROCEDURE FOR HANDLING REQUESTS TO CORRECT OR EXPUNGE RECORDS

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to record the proposed Records Branch procedure for handling requests for expunction/ destruction pursuant to regulations of the Privacy Act of 1974 and to identify the controls necessary to maintain accountability for corrections performed.

DETAILS:

Reference is made to airtels to SAC, Albany, dated 3/21/77 and 12/21/77, captioned as above, which set forth guidelines to field offices on procedures to expunge or destroy records upon receipt of Form 4-728, Instructional Sheet (copy attached), pursuant to the Privacy Act. Field offices were instructed to complete the designated expunctions and return Form 4-728 to FBIHQ within 10 working days. The Field Coordination and Appeals Unit, FOIPA Branch, has advised recipient agencies and field offices of necessary expunctions on a limited basis. However, due to the volume of requests now pending and the numerous corrections involved that appear to be more closely aligned with Records Branch functions, the Records Branch will perform the tasks associated with Privacy Act destruction/ expunction/corrections. Under this procedure, the Field Coordination and Appeals Unit, FOIPA Branch, will complete Form 4-727 (copy attached) noting the specific action to be taken and forward to a predesignated employee of the Consolidation Sub-unit, Records Branch, for action.

From information extracted from Form 4-727, designated employee will complete action on files maintained at HQ, prepare Form 4-728 to advise field offices and Legats of action to be taken, and prepare appropriate correspondence to advise Government agencies to which records were disseminated of action taken.

Memorandum Awe to Mr. Bassett
PRIVACY ACT OF 1974;
PROCEDURE FOR HANDLING REQUESTS
TO CORRECT OR EXPUNGE RECORDS

Files maintained at FBIHQ will require the following action pursuant to Privacy Act requests:

(1) Total destruction - Separate Archival authorization is required and will be sought since HQ and field office files may not meet destruction criteria.

(2) Partial expunctions (i.e. words, phrases, serials) - Authority contained in 66-3286-1252. (No additional authorization required.)

(3) Corrections - Letters of explanation provided by the requester to correct original records in file. File cover will be stamped to note correction.

(4) Serial removal - Serial removed for return to submitting agency at their request. Permanent serial charge-out will be inserted to insure integrity of files.

Each category will require review of file, index cards, abstracts, excised documents, note on "yellow", and copies directed to other files to insure that all records have been corrected.

Similar action will be required for official personnel files on a limited basis and each case will be handled separately.

Upon completion of action, all copies of completed Forms 4-728 signed by appropriate employee, and copies of correspondence to other Government agencies will be assembled as an enclosure to Form 4-727 and filed in the respective 190 (FOIPA) classification file for a trial period of six months.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

GENERAL C.O.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to note the proposed transfer of obsolete publications to the Library of Congress.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 9-23-82 BY SP4 EJW/MK

Information from Bulky Pgs. 8155, 9703, 10242 is declassified per Approp Agency's letr dtd 3-3-86 SP8BTJ/COL 8-22-86 211,847

DETAILS:

By way of background, R. D. Cotter memorandum to Mr. C. D. Brennan, captioned "Publications - Records Branch, Files and Communications Division" (66-3286-1077) and dated 6/11/71, recommended transfer to the Library of Congress of some 200 five-drawer cabinets of publications filed in the alphabetical section of the publication files. The material had been reviewed by the Domestic Intelligence Division which designated retention periods or other disposition. This recommendation ultimately resulted in the recovery of 186 five-drawer, legal-size cabinets. Subsequently, publications filed in the numerical section (by file number 61-7550 sub 2 through 61-7594 sub 2) were compiled for disposition.

By memorandum W. L. Bailey to Mr. McDermott, dated 4/9/76 and captioned as above, Archival authorization was sought to destroy some 30 six-drawer, legal-size cabinets of numerical publications dated from 1866 that were recorded in the compilation. This material included military intelligence summaries, studies on Soviet propaganda and espionage, Communist Party history, foreign propaganda, travel and political activities, and foreign and domestic intelligence reports. Quantico was not able to accept the material for the library due to lack of space. Authorization was granted to dispose of these records on 6/10/76; however, the Library of Congress learned through the National Archives and Records Service that we no longer had a need to retain these publications and expressed an interest in receiving them.

The publications were subsequently reviewed by the Intelligence Division for transfer to the Library of Congress and were designated for destruction, retention or transfer. Although no further action was taken due to the Congressional moratorium on destruction, contact has been maintained with the Exchange and Gift Division at the Library of Congress.

The numerical publications have now been reviewed and disposed of or packed for transfer and the alphabetical publications are current with the previously specified retention periods. This action has resulted in the recovery of 30 six-drawer legal-size cabinets and 70 boxes have been prepared for transfer. Mr. [redacted] of the Exchange and Gift Division has been contacted and arrangements have been completed to transfer these records to the Library of Congress on 3/28/78.

Transferred 3/28/78

In addition, 76 reels of 35 mm microfilm containing copies of the Daily Worker and Sunday Worker were destroyed. The publications were dated from 1/13/24 to 9/27/54 and were of no reference value.

SUBJECT: SECURITY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES PROGRAM DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY

PURPOSE: To propose the discontinuance of the quarterly report entitled "Employees Security Statistics" presently being prepared by the Investigative Statistics Subunit (ISS), Cost Analysis Unit, Budget and Accounting Section, Administrative Services Division.

DETAILS: From the inception of the Security of Government Employees Program (approximately 1955) various types of statistics have been compiled. The original source data is received from the Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section, Criminal Investigative Division (CID). The data is keypunched on cards from which statistical reports are generated. The input for this program was very voluminous in the initial years and in subsequent years has substantially decreased. During the past year, the volume of input has decreased to the point that seldom is any input received. In view of the insignificant volume of data presently being received pertaining to this report, it appears same could be prepared manually by the CID without difficulty if determined necessary. The Security of Government Employees Program replaced a program entitled "Loyalty of Government Employees." The Loyalty of Government Employees Program generated voluminous data which was also keypunched on cards. Presently there are two cabinets consisting of 44 trays of cards representing the input of these programs. The data contained on these cards is permanently recorded on tapes in the possession of the Technical Services Division. Upon discontinuance of this report said cards in possession of the ISS will be destroyed.

This proposal was coordinated with Carl W. Hurst, Jr., Section Chief, Employees Security and Special Inquiry Section, Criminal Investigative Division, who concurred with recommendations.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS. GENERAL

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise that [redacted] Washington Bureau of the Los Angeles Times, requested a copy of our Records Disposition Schedule, which is pending with the Archivist, and to recommend that a copy be given to him.

D. C.

DETAILS:

On 3/7/78, [redacted] Washington Bureau of the Los Angeles Times, called in relation to our records destruction program and wanted to know if he could obtain a copy of our Records Disposal Schedule, which is now pending with the Archivist. I told him that since this was a pending matter, I was not sure if it could be released; however, I would find out and let him know.

By way of background, Mr. [redacted] was at the Bureau in the latter part of January, 1978, to discuss FOIPA matters and Bureau status on file destruction. At that time, I gave him a brief tour of the records operation and discuss with him in general terms the proposed file destruction program which was pending approval of the Archivist. He was also told that the Archivist intended to approve the pending request for the destruction of certain categories of obsolete files after he received the advice and counsel from the Committee on Rules and Administration of the Senate and the Committee on House Administration of the House of Representatives. The provision for referring this matter to the Congress is set forth in USC, Title 44, Section 3303a.

The FOIPA Branch has advised that this schedule would be released under any request for it under the provisions of the Freedom of Information ACT. It is a general consensus of opinion that there should be no objection in providing this schedule to Mr. [redacted] since it has been widely distributed to various committees of the Congress. There is attached a copy of this schedule which, if approved, may be disseminated to Mr. [redacted] by the Public Affairs Office.

	"Central Records System"
1.	Description of content & arrangement of records The FBI utilizes a "Central Records System" of maintaining its investigative, personnel, applicant, administrative, and general files. This System consists of one numerical sequence of subject matter files, an alphabetical index to the files, and a supporting abstract system to facilitate processing and accountability of all important mail placed in file. For example, all information on a given subject matter or case is channeled into one file. In order to facilitate control for the file and accommodate multiple subject(s) matters, a numbering system is used to indicate: (a) general classification and nature of violation, (b) the individual case file in this category, and (c) serialization of individual pieces of mail in the file. For instance, the number 7-100-10 on a piece of mail indicates it is the 10th piece of mail in the 100th file assigned to the Kidnapping (7) classification. The FBI has 191 classifications in its basic filing system.

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

They pertain primarily to the Federal violations over which the FBI has investigative jurisdiction. However, included in the 191 classifications are personnel, applicant and administrative matters to facilitate the overall filing scheme. Attached as an enclosure is the classification list identifying the 191 classifications.

The records contained in this system are utilized by the FBI in support of its mission to conduct investigations within its jurisdiction and for various administrative purposes. Information from these files is disseminated to appropriate Federal, State, local, and foreign agencies and to private citizens and Congressional offices where the right and need to have access to this information exists.

The "Central Records System" is explained in further detail as a system of records (System 002) in the Federal Register, Volume 41, Number 181, dated 9/16/76 (Page 39997) which was published in accordance with the Privacy Act and amended in Volume 42, Number 4, dated 1/6/77 (Page 1313).

A. Administrative files for permanent retention

In the beginning of each classification there is a double zero (00) file for the purpose of collecting in one place all policies and procedures that refer to that particular classification or violation category. For example, in the Kidnaping (7) classification there will be a 7-00 file that will be filed prior to any case numbers within that classification. Each time there is a basic change in policy or procedure regarding this category the document indicating the change will be placed in this file.

DISPOSITION: PERMANENT. Offer for transfer to National Archives and Records Service after files are 75 years old.

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

B. Investigative files for permanent retention

Files for significant investigations or cases, selected by the Records Management Division in conjunction with those having direct supervisory responsibility for the category involved, according to the criteria listed below. It is noted the criteria is general in nature and selection is basically a matter of informed judgement.

Selection Procedures:

(For existing closed files that meet age criteria) Files with 5 or less volumes would generally not meet the criteria for a significant investigation or case and will be destroyed after a review, to insure compliance with criteria, by an experienced employee. Files more than 5 volumes will be reviewed by seasoned employees using their best judgement in applying the criteria for destruction or retention. A quality control spot check will insure a high degree of reliability in judgement. The disposition of the file governs disposition of index cards.

(For future closed files)
At the time a file is closed, the case agent will provide a recommendation regarding retention in accordance with this criteria. This recommendation will be subject to reevaluation prior to disposition to insure initial appraisal has remained accurate.

Files will be selected and designated for permanent retention if they meet one or more of the following criteria for significance:

1. The investigation or case has significant impact on law enforcement policies or procedures, agency rules or regulations, or investigative and intelligence techniques;

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

2. The investigation or case involves an actual or potential breakdown of public order (civil disturbance) of major proportions;

3. The investigation or case directly involves a full-field investigation for: (a) a subversive or extremist organization, with or without foreign connections; or (b) a person or persons holding a major leadership position within such an organization;

4. The investigation or case directly involves a person, element, or organization whose activities are deemed to pose a substantial and compelling threat to the conduct of national defense or foreign policy.

5. The investigation or case is significant in terms of intensity of public interest, expressed by (a) a demonstrated interest of a Congressional committee or the Executive Office of the President, or (b) a high degree of national media attention.

Disposition: PERMANENT. Offer for transfer to National Archives and Records Service 75 years after closing.

C. Investigative files other than those described above under Items 1a and 1b.

1. Criminal investigative cases and supporting retrieval devices after 10 years of no relevant activity, including microfilmed cases.

Disposition: DESTROY 10 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

2. Security investigative files with supporting retrieval devices after 30 years of no relevant activity. (See attached classification list).

Disposition: DESTROY 30 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

3. Applicant investigations and supporting retrieval devices after 30 years of no relevant activity. (See attached classification list.)

Disposition: DESTROY 30 years after no relevant activity or after administrative needs have been served, whichever is later.

4. Investigative files, in which the subject requests disposal because continued maintenance would conflict with provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 USC 552a (e) (1), (5), and (7).

Disposition: DESTROY regardless of age if found to be irrelevant to FBI operations, information is not timely, or retention is not justified or warranted. Files will be evaluated on an individual basis.

D. Items other than those described above under 1a, 1b and 1c.

1. Transitory documents such as airtels, teletypes, memoranda, etc., the substance of which has been included in prosecutive reports or other permanent communications which provide the basis for retention according to the prescribed disposition of the respective file.

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

Disposition: DESTROY after action has been taken and transitory document no longer serves a useful purpose.

NOTE: Separate authority has been granted for the destruction of field office records on the basis that the records are contained in Headquarters files in whole, substance, or summarization. Destruction resulting from this disposal schedule will not compromise current authority granted for the destruction of field records.

Time periods for retention were selected to meet current needs; however, this criteria will be reevaluated from time to time to ensure that information maintained is essential and relevant. Adjustments may be needed in the future, especially as it relates to: (1) the FBI's obligation under Executive Order 10450 for the Security of Government Employees and (2) future Department of Justice guidelines for information gathering and retention policies for investigative data.

The following classifications are excluded from disposition standards for criminal, security and applicant investigative files. National Archives and Records Service will, upon examination, apply separate criteria for disposition in these classifications: 1, 32, 33, 39, 43, 62, 63, 64, 66, 67, 80, 91, 94, 100, 105, 122, 188 and 191 and any other classification created hereafter. A supplemental SF 115 will be submitted regarding these classifications after the National Archives and Records Service determines specific retention guidelines which will then allow for the destruction of obsolete material in these classifications.

A copy of this request is being made available to the Department of Justice for the Attorney General's information so he will be aware of the FBI's Retention Plan. This will enable the Department to also make this data available to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence before the plan is implemented to insure no data is destroyed for which there is a Congressional interest. Additionally, particular care will be taken to be sure no material is destroyed for which there is pending litigation or otherwise restricted because of a special request. The provisions of this schedule do not supersede the retention standards of Federal Records Schedule 14, Items 16-30, developed by Department of Justice and General Services Administration Legal Counsel, for records relating to the administration of the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts. In the attached classification list the applicant-related classifications are identified by one (*) and the security-related classifications by two (); all other classifications are criminal-related or administrative in nature.

SUBJECT: GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE (GAO) REVIEW OF FBI OPERATION-INDICES

PURPOSE: Destructions of Bureau Records

The purpose of this memorandum is to obtain approval for the sending of the two attached communications.

DETAILS:

By letter dated 1/27/78, Congressman Preyer was furnished our initial response to actions we were taking in regard to the GAO Report on FBI indices. A memorandum from Glen E. Pommerening, Director, Internal Audit Staff, dated 1/26/78, advised that Office was responsible for coordinating a responsive statement to Appropriations and Government Operations Committees of both Houses.

The attached communication to Congressman Preyer advises him the Department's statement is being furnished to the House Committee on Government Operations. Preyer's Committee is a Subcommittee of the Government Operations Committee. It would seem superfluous to send the same information to both the full Committee and the Subcommittee. The memorandum to the Department sets forth a summary of actions we have taken in response to the GAO recommendations for forwarding to Congress.

Washington, D. C. 20408

Dear Dr. Rhoads: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY GENERAL

I have received your letter of March 20, 1978, in which you requested that members of your staff have the opportunity to review the current schedule for field office file destruction and the manner in which the approved schedule is being applied. You noted that a number of recent news articles have been critical of the FBI File Destruction Program.

I would like to assure you that the manner in which our File Destruction Program has been conducted is in complete compliance with the schedule you have approved. There has been no change in FBI procedures that would alter the basic concept for which approval was granted. However, I want you to be assured that the FBI intends to cooperate with you and your staff in any way possible to facilitate your review of this matter.

Special Agent James W. Awe, Section Chief, Records Systems Section, Records Management Division, has the responsibility for file destruction matters and he has already been in touch with Mr. Thomas W. Wadlow of your staff regarding this matter.

Dear Mr. Webster:

I write on behalf of a constituent, who has asked for information about reports that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has requested or obtained authority from the National Archives to destroy old files of information on individuals. My constituent states that such "blanket approval" would lead to the destruction of valuable records, of interest to the individuals involved as well as of interest to those who monitor the Bureau's activities.

I would appreciate any information which you could provide to me on this subject.

FROM : J. W. Awe

SUBJECT: ARCHIVAL AUTHORIZATION FOR
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PURPOSE: "Destruction of Bureau Records"

The purpose of this memorandum is to gain approval to forward our disposal request to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for destruction of NCIC and Computerized Criminal History (CCH) transaction (LOG) tapes after six-years.

DETAILS:

Reference is made to F. E. Torpey memorandum to Mr. Cochran, dated 3/22/78 and captioned "Retention of NCIC and NCIC Computerized Criminal History (CCH) Transaction Tapes," which established a six-year retention period for both NCIC and CCH transaction tapes. Over 2,800 NCIC transaction tapes have been created since the inception of NCIC in January, 1967, and over 500 NCIC CCH transaction tapes have been created since CCH went on-line in November, 1971. The indefinite retention period previously observed for the log tapes has provided a file of all message activity; however, it has now been determined that a six-year retention period is adequate to serve current and future Bureau needs. By addendum, dated 3/7/78, Legal Counsel Division recommended the six-year retention period for both NCIC and NCIC CCH transaction tapes.

Federal regulations (41 CFR 101-11.210-1) require Federal agencies to establish standards for proper disposition of machine-readable records. In order to schedule the above-described records, the appropriate number of copies of Standard Form 115 has been prepared for submission to NARS.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION - FBIHQ DESTRUCTION OF BUFILE PROPERTY

PURPOSE:

To record results of statistical analysis on files potentially eligible for destruction.

DETAILS:

During the week of May 22, 1978, a survey was made to determine approximately the volume of files that would be eligible for destruction according to the proposed criteria pending with the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). This survey indicates by classification the approximate number of cabinets that will be eligible for destruction. There would be a total of 3,110 cabinets of files that could be destroyed according to the 10- and 30-year criteria that had been proposed. The attached data is self-explanatory.

RECOMMENDATION:

For information.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS — General

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide, for record purposes, copies of correspondence exchanged between the Archivist and the American Historical Association (AHA) regarding FBI file destruction practices.

DETAILS:

On 6/21/78, Thomas W. Wadlow, Director, Records Disposition Division, National Archives and Records Service (NARS), furnished copies of correspondence, dated 5/22/78 and 6/20/78, exchanged between Mr. Mack Thompson, Executive Director of the AHA, and Dr. James B. Rhoads, Archivist of the United States, as the result of a specific incident of field office file destruction. The substance of the correspondence related to the concern generated by the AHA for current FBI field office file destruction practices, the application of the currently-pending Records Disposal Schedule for files maintained at Headquarters, and the oversight NARS will provide in the implementation of this Schedule.

Copies of the correspondence, which are self-explanatory, are attached herewith.

Dear Mack:

Thank you for your letter of May 22, 1978. We have been in touch with [redacted] and are aware of his concern over the disposition of Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) investigative records. We regret the untimely destruction of the field office files related to his research. Although such files have been authorized for disposal since 1946, we are undertaking an extensive review of these records by the Director of the Records Disposition Division and two senior staff members to insure that our judgment concerning their lack of research value remains valid.

b7C

In connection with the FBI headquarters records, we share the AHA view that the sheer volume of the records poses a major problem. We understand the FBI headquarters central records system contains more than six million folders representing more than 60,000 cubic feet of records. The cost to the taxpayers for storing this quantity of records is substantial. The FBI, in developing a schedule for the disposition of these records, is adopting a records management approach we have encouraged every Federal agency to follow. On the other hand, we are aware of the opinion that destruction of any FBI records will diminish the documentary record relating to FBI investigative and intelligence practices. In view of these conflicting interests I referred the proposed schedule to appropriate congressional committees for review and possible comment.

It is our considered judgment that the proposed schedule for disposition of FBI headquarters case files contains appropriate archival standards for insuring the preservation of FBI records having enduring historical or other research value. Under the schedule, administrative files for each classification of the FBI central records system (a classification is a particular category of matters over which the FBI has investigative jurisdiction) are designated for permanent retention and will be offered for transfer to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) when 50 years old. These administrative files document the establishment of the classification and each basic change in policy, procedure, instruction, or guideline for that particular classification or investigative category.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
DATE 9/10/03 BY AUC 60290 BCE/DCG/MW

66-3286 -

In addition, the schedule outlines procedures for designating selected investigative case files for permanent retention and eventual transfer to NARS. It provides that files will be selected and designated for permanent retention if they meet one or more of the following criteria:

1. The investigation or case has significant impact on law enforcement policies or procedures, agency rules or regulations, or investigative and intelligence techniques;

2. The investigation or case involves an actual or potential breakdown of public order (civil disburbance) of major proportions;

3. The investigation or case directly involves a full-field investigation for: (a) a subversive or extremist organization, with or without foreign connections; or (b) a person or persons holding a major leadership position within such an organization;

4. The investigation or case directly involves a person, element, or organization whose activities are deemed to pose a substantial and compelling threat to the conduct of national defense or foreign policy;

5. The investigation or case is significant in terms of intensity of public interest, expressed by (a) a demonstrated interest of a Congressional committee or the Executive Office of the President, or (b) a high degree of national media attention.

These criteria are based on our recommendations to the FBI and are designed to preserve those investigative files of greatest interest to historians and other reseachers.

Once the schedule is approved, the FBI assumes responsibility for applying it to the records. Frankly, we have neither the resources nor the detailed knowledge of the agency's activities necessary to implement the schedule on a file by file basis. Moreover, the application of records control schedules to records is legally an agency records management function (41 CFR 101-11.401-5). Although NARS does not exercise the function for agencies, our oversight of agency records management activities includes the proper application of records control schedules. I can assure you that we will exercise this oversight responsibility as soon as the schedule is approved.

We already have informed the staff of the FBI Records Management Division of our interest in monitoring the application of the schedule and have received assurances of their cooperation. It is our understanding that FBI staff members having the necessary knowledge of the agency's investigative activities will be applying the schedule to the investigative files.

I appreciate your interest in these records and I hope that this explanation will resolve any concern that you may have felt about this proposed records schedule.

Sincerely,

Bert

Dear Burt:

One of our members, [redacted] has brought to our attention a case of destruction of some specific records in an FBI field office and raised the more general issue of the intention of the FBI to destroy many of the old files deposited at its headquarters. The FBI plan to dispose of its files has, I understand, been forwarded to the National Archives, as is required, and you in turn are seeking the advice of Congress in the matter.

At its meeting earlier this month the AHA Research Division considered both the particular case and general concern brought to us by Mr. [redacted] b6 b7C Members of the Division and the AHA realize that neither the National Archives nor any federal agency can be expected to retain all of its records. Nonetheless, we are profoundly concerned that there may be some massive destruction of FBI records without their first being thoroughly and professionally reviewed for their future historical value. I stress the word "professionally," for the selection of material to be retained should be the responsibility of trained archivists and historians, not untrained clerks or agents in the FBI.

Mr. [redacted] initially contacted us about the destruction of FBI records pertaining to Clifford Durr in Alabama. At this point there may be nothing that can be done about this loss of research material, which I understand was not a result of any action on the part of the National Archives. Nevertheless, this specific case does sharpen the issue of the proposed plan for the more general and larger scale destruction of FBI records in Washington

I would appreciate your keeping the AHA informed about any disposition of the FBI records. Furthermore, I would like to receive a schedule for any proposed or approved destruction of these records.

In closing, let me reiterate the AHA's considerable interest in the preservation of important historical records of one of our nation's most pervasive and powerful government agencies.

Honorable Henry S. Reuss
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C. 20515

Dear Congressman Reuss:

Your letter of May 15th on behalf of one of your constituents inquiring about the destruction of FBI files has been received.

I believe your constituent's inquiry was prompted by a recent newspaper article which specifically stated that the files being considered for destruction are those inactive criminal files in our various field offices throughout the Nation. As also stated in the article, material of substance from those files will be maintained in our central Headquarters here in Washington.

The disposition of all FBI records, regardless of their source, is carried out in strict accordance with the very specific provisions as set forth in Title 44, Chapter 33 of the United States Code, and in Title 41, Chapter 101-11 of the Code of Federal Regulations. We closely coordinate these matters with the National Archives and Records Service and have a comprehensive program in force to facilitate the destruction of obsolete material and the permanent retention of historically valuable records. The Code of Federal Regulations, cited above, requires that records no longer of current use be disposed of promptly. After the passage of appropriate time, those records deemed to have historical value, and thus preserved under the same citation, are transferred to the National Archives where they are available for research purposes.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION
Destruction of Bureau Records - General

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memorandum is to set forth data relative to file destruction as a result of meeting with various staff members from the Senate Judiciary Committee.

SYNOPSIS: Staff members of the Senate Judiciary Committee have under consideration the Bureau's request to destroy certain obsolete Headquarters files that are more than 10 years old for criminal files and 30 years old for security and applicant files. In order to answer their many questions, Section Chief J. W. Awe of the Records Management Division, and Mr. Thomas W. Wadlow of the National Archives and Records Service appeared before the staff members on 8/25/78. On 8/29/78 they were given a tour of the records operations to further clarify questions they had. Their main concern was criticism they may get for approving the request because of the controversial nature of FBI files. They also expressed concern over FBI clerical employees being able to properly interpret NARS criteria for the selection of historical files and that perhaps historians should be engaged for this process. They thought alternative solutions should be considered.

RECOMMENDATION:

None, for information. You will be advised of further developments.

FBI/DOJ

DETAILS: On 8/24/78 [redacted], a staff member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, requested that I appear before various Committee staff members on 8/25/78 to answer questions regarding the FBI's pending request for disposition authority for Headquarters files. This relates to our May 4, 1977, request to destroy obsolete files that are more than 10 years old in the criminal categories and 30 years old in the security and applicant categories. Mr. [redacted] said that Thomas W. Wadlow, who is the director of the Records Disposition Division of the National Archives and Records Service (NARS), would also be present to answer questions that pertained to NARS responsibility on the destruction of records. [redacted], of the Legal Liaison and Congressional Affairs Unit, Legal Counsel Division, appeared with me before the staff members. b6 b7C

I explained to the staff members the Bureau's records procedures, the magnitude of the records system, how it was extensively used, and the Bureau's responsibility for providing information to other Executive Branch agencies in connection with the National Agency Check Program. I also explained a reason for submitting our request to destroy obsolete records that are no longer timely and relevant to our needs and that a request of this nature was in compliance with the regulations that are set forth in Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 101-11. Mr. Wadlow, of NARS, confirmed that this request was appropriate and desirable, that the Archivist was in favor of the plan, and the criteria for identifying historical files was established by NARS. The staff members had many questions regarding file destruction which were answered and they indicated they would perhaps have more questions in the future. I told them the FBI intended to cooperate with them in every way possible and I extended to them an opportunity to see the records operations which might help clarify many questions they have.

On 8/29/78, [redacted] of the Committee, advised that she and several other staff members would like the opportunity to see the Bureau's records operations. Accordingly, I met with members of the staff that afternoon, provided them with a tour of the records operations and further answered their questions. Other staff members that attended were [redacted] and [redacted]. Also included was [redacted] who is on the staff of Senator Edward M. Kennedy; [redacted], personal staff of Senator Charles M. Mathias; and [redacted] who is a legal aid to Senator Howard M. Metzenbaum. b6 b7C

It was explained to the staff members that the Bureau had a realistic space problem and, therefore, an interim request for authority to destroy criminal files in the categories of (a) Selective Service matters, (b) Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicles, and (c) Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property would allow us to recover space for about 400 file cabinets and that files in these categories should not be controversial. Certain staff members indicated that Selective Service matters would be controversial; and that if it was learned the FBI was destroying matters in this category, there would be many civil libertarians that would protest and would try to advise all citizens who had been investigated by the FBI for Selective Service matters to request their files prior to destruction so they could determine if they had been abused by the FBI investigation and perhaps initiate a law suit.

Staff members also were concerned about potential criticism from historians and thought that some arrangement should be made to have historians review the files prior to any authorized destruction. It was again explained to the committee members that Mr. Wadlow from NARS had very strongly emphasized that NARS acted as the Government's historian and that members from his staff were qualified historians and that it was their responsibility under the law to determine what Government documents were to be preserved for historical purposes and that the criteria established by NARS was more than adequate for this purpose.

The staff members indicated this may be true, but this approach did not consider the political realities and the criticisms that would be voiced at the destruction of FBI files. They indicate they could not recommend to their senators a plan that would be controversial and place them in a position of receiving criticism from the news media. They again emphasized that the review of files by outside historians would prevent any possible criticism of approving file destruction. They thought that it would not be sufficient to merely have FBI clerks review files and make a determination as to which should be preserved for historical purposes.

I again emphasized to them that Mr. Wadlow of NARS previously told them the proposed procedure was quite adequate and he thought that veteran clerical personnel would be a better judge in applying the historical criteria than even members from NARS. Additionally, NARS would monitor and spot check any file destruction process. The staff members thought alternative solutions should be considered.

There is attached as an enclosure a copy of the pending request for disposition authority for Headquarters records which includes, on page 3, the historical criteria which is of concern to the staff members of the Committee. Additionally, there is enclosed a copy of our interim request for the three criminal classifications.

OBSERVATIONS: 1. It appears that the controversy is really between NARS and the staff members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and it is rather unlikely that the criteria for historical files can be simplified any more than it is.

2. The Bureau has a realistic space problem and if approval is not forthcoming in the immediate future to destroy certain obsolete records, consideration will have to be given for placing these records on microfilm or in a secondary storage area.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

This suggestion relates to destruction rules. According to the M.A.O.P., Part II, Section 2 - 4. 5. 6. currently a moratorium exists on destruction of security-related files; however, when moratorium lifted, according to M.A.O.P. reference, security files will be destroyed in auxiliary office in six months. If suggestion implemented, the handling of original surveillance logs will be forwarded to office of origin when matter is RUC'd, as is currently being done in criminal matters relative to FD-302s and original signed statements.

Re: Suggestion #400-78, August 7, 1978

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:bpr 8/29/78)

The Phoenix Office has proposed in attached suggestion that the original copy of surveillance logs prepared by Auxiliary Office (AO) be forwarded to Office of Origin (OO) at time case is placed in RUC status and a duplicate copy be retained in the AO file.

OBSERVATIONS:

The Records Systems Section (RSS), Records Management Division (RMD), concurs with suggestion that AO forward to OO the original surveillance logs. However, RSS is of the opinion that the logs should be forwarded to OO at the time the file is reviewed for destruction rather than when RUC'd. This procedure will acoomplish the objective of preserving original material that is significantly relevant to the OO case and at the same time eliminate the need to duplicate such material for retention in AO file.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Recommend that a modified version of suggestion be adopted to require AO to forward to OO original surveillance logs at time AO reviews file for destruction rather than at time file is placed in RUC status.

APPROVED: Adm. Serv. Crim. Inv. Ident. Intell. Laboratory Legal Coun. Plan. & Insp. Director Assoc. Dir. Dep. AD Adm. Dep. AD Inv. Tech. Svcs. Training Public Affs. Off.

2. If recommendation #1 is approved, it is recommended that the Manuals Desk be furnished a copy of this suggestion and addendum for the purpose of modifying the MAOP as indicated below:

MAOP, Part II, 2-4.5.6, (1), page 304, add "Original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, latent finger print reports, surveillance logs, and IA exhibits having evidentiary value and contained in files destroyed pursuant to the six-month rule are to be forwarded to Office of Origin."

APPROVED: Adm. Serv. Crim. Inv. Ident. Intell. Director Assoc. Dir. Dep. AD Adm. Dep. AD Inv. Plan. & Insp. Public Affs. Off.

NOTE: Procedure for instituting manual change was coordinated with the Manuals Desk in the event recommendations are approved.

Suggestion #400-78

Re: Suggestion of SA Steve D. Evans,
Phoenix Division, dated 8/7/78

ADDENDUM: INTELLIGENCE DIVISION DVK:en 8/23/78

This suggestion affects the procedure concerning the retention of original surveillance logs by the Office of Origin (OO) when the surveillance is conducted in an auxiliary office (AO). The suggestion recommends such logs be forwarded at the time the case is RUC'd to the OO. If this suggested procedure is in line with policies and procedures of the Records Management Division, Intelligence Division (INTD) interposes no objection to the change as long as there is a copy maintained by the AO. This is to insure that, in the event the surveillance subject reappears in AO territory, as is often the case in counterintelligence investigations, the AO will be able to refer back to its previous surveillance experience with the subject.

DATE: 7/12/78

FROM : Legal Counsel

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION
Destruction of Bureau Files - Gen.

PURPOSE: To furnish Records Management Division (RMD) the following information:

1) The titles of 83 new civil actions assigned in the Civil Litigation Unit (CLU) from 1/31/78 through 5/29/78. Enclosure Number 1.

2) A list of 38 civil actions previously furnished or furnished in enclosure number 1 above, to RMD which have been closed in the CLU from 1/31/78 to 5/29/78. Enclosure Number 2.

SYNOPSIS AND DETAILS: As a result of a conference held on 5/31/77, between RMD and Legal Counsel Division (LCD) it was decided that the CLU and Information and Privacy Act Litigation Unit (IPAL) would provide a list of pending civil actions for use by the RMD in determining which records should not be destroyed in connection with the Bureau-wide file destruction program. Attached are the following:

1) The titles of 83 new civil actions assigned in the CLU from 1/31/78 through 5/29/78. Enclosure Number 1.

2) A list of 36 civil actions previously furnished or furnished in enclosure number 1 above, to RMD which have been closed in the CLU from 1/31/78 to 5/29/78. Enclosure Number 2.

RE: FILE DESTRUCTION

The CLU will continue to advise RMD of the opening and closing of pending civil actions so that RMD can keep the Field advised concerning what documents need to be preserved in connection with civil actions and what documents can be destroyed in connection with the Bureau-wide file destruction program. The list of closed cases contains the page number assigned by RMD to the civil actions in previous letters and routing slips from the Director to all Field Offices. When no page number is indicated the omission is due to the fact that the case was closed before the Field was advised of its existence.

RECOMMENDATION: That RMD utilize the 2 enclosures to instruct the Field concerning what documents must be preserved due to pending litigation and what documents may be destroyed under applicable file destruction rules.

SUBJECT: PROCEDURES FOR PERFECTING REQUESTS TO CORRECT, AMEND OR DESTROY RECORDS IN THE FBI CENTRAL RECORDS SYSTEM

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memo is to describe the procedures to be followed when handling requests for correction, amendment, or destruction of documents in the central records system pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974, Title 5, U. S. Code, Section 552a (d)(2).

DETAILS: The Privacy Act provides that individuals may request correction, amendment, or destruction of their records.

Information maintained in the FBI central records system, to the extent it is subject to exemption pursuant to Title 5, U. S. Code, Section 552a (j)(k), is exempt from the correction and amendment provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974; however, it is the policy of this bureau to consider each such request on an individual basis in order to reach an equitable determination consistent with the best interests of both the individual and the Government.

Where we consent to amend a record on request, any one or more of the following actions might be required:

(1) Total destruction - Separate NARS authorization will be sought, since headquarters and field office files may not meet automatic destruction criteria.

(2) Partial expunction (i.e., words, phrases, serials) - authority contained in 66-3286-1285. (No additional authorization is required.)

(3) Corrections - Letters of explanation provided by the requester to correct original records in file. File cover will be stamped to note correction.

(4) Serial removal - Serial removal for return to submitting agency at their request. Permanent serial change-out will be inserted to insure integrity of files.

Each category will require review of file, index cards, abstracts, excised documents, note on "yellow", and copies directed to other files to insure that both the original and all derivative records have been corrected.

Similar action will be required for Official Personnel Files and each case will be handled separately.

The Field Coordination and Appeals Unit, FOIPA Branch, will advise recipient agencies and field offices of necessary expunctions on limited basis. However, designated employees of the Consolidation sub-Unit and Personnel Records, in compliance with the following procedures, will effect the actual amendment or expunction action.

(a) Procedures for making the requester's letter a matter of record:

(1) Requester's incoming letter and any enclosures, along with our response, are to be individually serialized (red serial) and filed in the requester's 190 file.

(2) Copies of these serialized letters are to be filed in the designated, substantive Bufiles as green serials.

(3) The outside of the jacket is to be stamped "correction serial" _____. This is to insure that future dissemination will include corrected data as well as the original data.

(4) When an individual submits a formal "Statement of Disagreement", thru the Department of Justice, copies will be disseminated to all prior recipients of the records being affected.

(5) Certain corrections may be required on the serials or main files, to which the letters are added. These changes will be minor in nature, such as birth date, birth place, street address, etc.

(b) Procedures for making a correction, amendment, and/or total destruction action.

(1) Requester's incoming letter and enclosures, along with our response are to be individually serialized (red serial) and filed in the requester's 190 file.

(2) The litigation print-out sheet is to be reviewed to insure there is no pending litigation involving the requester.

(3) Amendment or destruction action requested on the worksheet form 4-727 is taken.

(4) Form 4-728 will be sent to inform the appropriate field divisions of what action was taken at FBI Headquarters. The field office must comply with this action if the office still maintains the document(s) or file(s). Insure that the 190 Bureau file number and subject's name are on the form. When this form is returned to FBI Headquarters it must be given a red serial. These 4-728's, as incomings, require a white and blue abstract.

All outside, prior recipients of the records being affected must be apprised of our action, either by OF-10 memorandum if a federal agency, or by letter if outside the federal community. These outgoing memos or letters must be given a red serial, and require a yellow and pink abstract. File the yellow in the 190 when completed.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Your suggestion has been received that certain material prepared by an auxiliary office be forwarded to the office of origin at the time the case is placed in Referred-Upon-Completion status and that a duplicate copy be retained in the auxiliary office. After evaluation, I am pleased to advise you that a modified version of your proposal has been approved, and manual changes will be forwarded to the field in the near future which will require the auxiliary office to forward this material to the office of origin at the time the auxiliary office reviews the file for destruction rather than at the time the file is placed in Referred-Upon-Completion status.

The interest you displayed by submitting your idea to us is indeed appreciated.

NOTE: In relation to Foreign Counterintelligence (FCI) matters, suggests the original surveillance logs prepared by auxiliary offices (AO) be forwarded to the office of origin (OO) when matter placed in RUC status and a xerox copy be retained in the AO file. The Intelligence Division interposes no objection to this suggestion as long as there is a copy maintained by the AO if this suggested procedure is in line with policies and procedures of the Records Management Division. The Records Systems Section (RSS), Records Management Division, concurs with suggestion that AO forward to OO the original surveillance logs. However, RSS is of the opinion the logs should be forwarded to OO at the time the file is reviewed for destruction rather than when RUCd. This procedure will accomplish the objective of preserving original material significantly relevant to the OO case, and at the same time, eliminate the need to duplicate such materi for retention in AO file. The Records Management Division recommends a modified version of suggestion be adopted to require AO to forward to OO original surveillance logs at time AO reviews file for destruction rather than at time file is placed in RUC status and that appropriate manual changes be made as set out in addendum from Records Management Divisior In view of the foregoing, it is recommended that modified version of this suggestion be approved, and based on this suggestion, appropriate manual changes be made. SUGGESTION

In office of origin files where stops were placed, after files closed under the 5 and 10 year rule have satisfied all other requirements, destroy file and at the same time, remove stops. As alternatives:

(1) Rules should be changed to allow retention of files where stops have been placed.

(2) Format of stop cards changed to contain sufficient data to handle hits after files have been destroyed.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts)

Investigative files are destroyed per MAOP: Part II 2-4.5, pages 302-314.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Standardizing of destruction practices throughout field under new destruction rules. Destruction of files as early as possible. It is noted that in some limited cases it may be desirable to maintain stop notices after the five year rule.

SUGGESTION NUMBER 455-78 dated 9/22/78

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:bjr 10/4/78)

It is proposed in attached suggestion from the Cincinnati office that "stops" be removed when office of origin (00) files are destroyed pursuant to the five- and ten-year destruction rule. As alternatives to proposed procedure it is suggested that rules should be changed to allow for retention of files when "stops" have been placed and that the format of the "stop card" be changed to permit the recording of sufficient data to handle "hits" after files have been destroyed.

OBSERVATIONS: Existing instructions contained in the Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines, Part II, 10-7.4, (1) page 1050, stipulates that "It is the direct responsibility of the 00 to remove all stops on individuals or property when a determination has been made that they are no longer needed." It therefore follows that if the determination has been made to destroy a file because it lacks enduring investigative value beyond five or ten years, any related "stop" should be removed because it too lacks enduring value. Bulet to SAC, Albany and all offices 5/8/78 captioned "Destruction of Field Files and Records" established policy and procedures to permit the retention of files beyond the five- and ten-year destruction period in those instances where the field considered it essential to retain a file because of its enduring investigative value. Therefore, if the determination was made to retain a file beyond the prescribed destruction period, logically, related "stop cards" would be retained if in the opinion of the 00 they are still needed. Suggested alternative to change the format of the "stop card" is not relevant since stop cards should not be retained after the related file has been destroyed.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Recommend suggestion not be adopted since existing policy adequately covers the points raised therein.

REQUIREMENTS AND CERTIFICATION FOR CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT

REQUIREMENTS

Cannibalization and destruction of equipment for the purpose of obtaining parts to repair a like item is permitted after Bureau authority is granted and when all of the following conditions are met:

1. Repair of the broken or worn parts is not possible.

2. Required parts are not available from other units previously cannibalized.

3. Required parts are not available from Government excess. (Government excess means any personal property under the control of any Federal Agency which is not required for its needs and the discharge of its responsibilities, as determined by the head thereof.)

4. The parts are not available from commercial or Government supply sources or it is not practical to obtain the required parts from commercial sources because of obsolescence, excessive price or extraordinary leadtimes.

5. The benefit realized from cannibalization exceeds the estimated trade-in or sale value of the unit being considered for cannibalization.

6. A signed statement, approved by a reviewing official, indicating the actions taken to verify the above conditions is made part of the file supporting the removal of the cannibalized item from property records, and such information is made available upon request, to General Accounting Office and Departmental auditors.

CERTIFICATION

The conditions, as set forth above, have been met to the best of my knowledge with regard to the equipment listed on the attached memorandum and/or FD-500, dated 9-28-78. This equipment should therefore be removed from inventory and the parts will be used for the repair and maintenance of similar equipment.

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF RECORDS

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 9-23-82 BY SP4 EZW/BAK HEAFORD

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide a response to the recommendations made to the Records Management Division (RMD) by the Office of Planning and Evaluation (OPE) in their report on "Disposition of Records" dated 7/31/78.

DETAILS: Destruction of Bureau Property - General

OPE conducted an evaluation of the status of file destruction procedures for both field and Headquarters to determine if destruction is being handled effectively and in compliance with current Government regulations. In connection with this evaluation, OPE set forth six recommendations which are listed below, each followed by comments by RMD.

Recommendation (1): As soon as the current records retention plan as submitted to NARS (National Archives and Records Service) is approved the RMD should prepare a written detailed action plan for implementation. This would update the limited action plan that was prepared in December, 1977. This plan should be submitted to the Deputy Associate Director - Administrative and list alternative procedures to bring disposition activities to a current status at the earliest possible date.

Comments by RMD: The RMD will prepare a detailed action plan to implement records disposition as soon as the current Records Retention Plan submitted to NARS is approved. It is possible that the criteria that were listed in the Plan as submitted could be changed, which precludes preparation of a detailed plan at this time.

EX-106

OCT 6 1978

Recommendation (2): That the RMD continue to reassess their current disposition procedures and prepare a written updated working guide of these procedures for the benefit of employees to be assigned to this activity. These procedures should be streamlined and tie into the overall action plan of the RMD for disposition matters.

Comments by RMD: RMD agrees that our current procedure should be changed since it is not efficient for a high volume operation. File destruction authority at FBIHQ has previously been limited to unknown subject cases, cases of unfounded allegations, etc, and, therefore, was conducted on a limited basis. Since a new schedule has been submitted to NARS for authority to destroy a considerable amount of obsolete material on a broader basis, it was determined it would not be productive to continue the file destruction program on the limited authority we now have. Although file destruction is considered a high priority program, it was determined that employees should be used on other priority work until authority is received from NARS to proceed with file destruction in a fashion that will be more meaningful.

RMD agrees the procedures previously used would not be applicable once authority is received from NARS to proceed on a much broader basis. Action is being taken to improve procedures that were previously used in an effort to streamline the whole process which will eliminate many redundant functions. An updated working guide will be prepared that will tie into the overall action plan for disposition matters. Alternate procedures will be considered and the most viable option will be selected to insure this program, when approval is granted from NARS, will proceed in the most effective manner consistent with the guidelines that will ultimately be approved.

Recommendation (3): That the Disposition Unit, RMD, set up appropriate work level statistics or other management aids that will enable the supervisor to continually assess employee efforts and also show the current status of disposition matters.

Comments by RMD: RMD will establish appropriate work level statistics that will allow us to effectively assess employee efforts and current status for disposition matters. In this regard, RMD has made an estimated projection of work level statistics and how the program should progress. This estimate is included as Appendix A in the OPE report. The chart shows projected milestones, cumulative progress and estimated costs. Once actual experience is gained, a more detailed analysis will be possible, which will allow for a more realistic projection for the entire program.

Recommendation (4): That the RMD consider placing the appropriate FOIPA, Name Check, or Litigation stamp on the front of each file that has been affected by this type of activity. It is noted that FOIPA has implemented this procedure and RMD should coordinate for uniformity the placing of these stamps on the file fronts.

Comments by RMD: RMD has considered the placing of stamps on file covers to indicate certain instructions pertaining to the file similar to the FOIPA stamp now being placed on file covers. The FOIPA stamp indicates that material in the file is being processed and the date the material was copied from the file is placed with the stamp. Although the 190 classification is the audit trail for FOIPA matters, the original material must also be maintained in the event of subsequent appeal. Accordingly, the FOIPA stamp indicates the file must be maintained beyond the date indicated on the cover of the file.

The use of an appropriate stamp to indicate the dissemination of record material has been considered; however, there are many complex facets involved. In order to determine the most effective procedures, RMD will give this matter proper attention to insure that an adquate procedure is developed and will so advise OPE by memorandum.

A similar procedure has been considered for all matters in litigation but it was determined that because of the complexities with litigation matters it would not be practical to utilize the stamp procedure. As an alternate method, an automated procedure has been developed that will more effectively serve the same purpose to insure no files are destroyed that are involved in litigation matters. Experience has indicated there are many additions and deletions to the ever-expanding litigation list and, therefore, we find it would be too cumbersome to keep track of litigation matters by stamping file covers. If and when we receive authority to destroy Headquarters files, we will have an updated list as a reference point for litigation matters.

Recommendation (5): That the RMD consider automating the necessary information (file numbers, next eligible date file could be destroyed, etc.) on those files that are presently reviewed but must be retained, so that in the future a computer printout will be able to tell us what files are to be reevaluated to see if they meet the current disposition criteria. This would apply to all files retained for whatever reason.

Comments by RMD: The RMD has reviewed a number of files in the 26 classification applying the proposed destruction criteria to determine what problems would be encountered. At the time this was started it was anticipated that early approval for file destruction would be received from NARS. During this process a list was made of those files that meet the criteria for destruction, together with those files that must be retained. After this process was completed for the 26 classification it was determined that the employees working in the Disposition Unit should be engaged in other priority work until the disposition schedule is approved by NARS. It is conceivable the criteria could be changed and to continue this process with another classification might not be meaningful. It has since been determined that it appears rather unlikely that we will receive authority for file destruction in the near future. Therefore, it would not be practical to automate the limited list we now have.

However, the RMD agrees with OPE's recommendations on developing an automated system that would indicate those files that must be retained, together with other data that would allow us to more effectively track file disposition matters. If and when we receive authority to destroy Headquarters files, the RMD will request the Technical Services Division, by memorandum, to determine the feasibility of establishing such a program consistent with the availability of their resources and the priority with which they must dedicate their resources. Perhaps this can be done with a minor modification to the existing File Automated Control System (FACS) program. This program now contains microfilmed files, bulky enclosures, etc. The additional data regarding file destruction could possibly be added to this program.

Recommendation (6): Inasmuch as NARS has indicated that the FBI is not to destroy any file in the fugitive deserter 42 classification due to the extensive fire at the Federal Records Center in St. Louis, Missouri, the RMD should consider determining from NARS and the Federal Records Center the feasibility of transferring pertinent materials from our 42 classification files to the Federal Records Center in St. Louis. It is noted that there are presently 287 cabinets in the 42 classification, 76 of which are presently eligible for destruction.

Comments of RMD: The 42 classification is part of our disposition schedule pending with NARS. If and when this is approved, we will be able to proceed as indicated in the recommendation. We have over 400 cabinets that would be eligible for destruction in the Selective Service (25), Interstate Transportation of Stolen Motor Vehicles (26), and Interstate Trasnportation of Stolen Property (87) classifications. We have submitted an interim request to NARS for the destruction of this material thinking that these matters are not controversial and NARS would grant approval. However, this schedule has also been forwarded to Congress for consideration. My memorandum of 8/31/78 set forth the problems that are being encontered in an attempt to gain approval for the destruction of these matters. Possibly the same will be ture for the 42 classification. However, we will submit separately to NARS a request for disposition authority for the 42 classification consistent with what was submitted for all Headquarters files in May of 1977. If approved, we will then proceed with the destruction of obsolete material in this classification and forward to NARS the pertinent material that would help them reconstruct certain military records that were destroyed in the extensive fire at the St. Louis Federal Records Center.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be forwarded to the Planning and Inspection Division, attention OPE. The RMD will proceed as indicated above.

SUBJECT: Destruction of Bureau Property - General DISPOSITION OF FBI FIELD OFFICE INVESTIGATIVE FILES

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide for record purposes the draft of the report on the disposition of FBI field office investigative files which was prepared by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS).

DETAILS:

By memorandum dated 6/14/78, I provided the tentative schedule which NARS planned to use for their review of records procedures relative to the field office file destruction program. The review consisted of visits to the Chicago, New York, and Washington Field Offices; comparison of field office and Headquarters files for content; examination of pertinent FBI manuals and inspection reports; and interviews with appropriate personnel. NARS completed the draft of their report and furnished it to me on 12/5/78 for review. While some minor notations were made, the report confirms the fact that our destruction procedures are adequate. Through this review, NARS concluded that field office investigative files do not appear to have sufficient historical or other research value to warrant permanent retention by the Federal Government.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) Current rules require the list of destroyed files (FD-478) be maintained in front of each respective classification in the closed file section. Another (Con't. on Page 2.)

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) (1) Per current rules, numerous files from varying classifications are destroyed each month under a tickler system using the original assignment card. San Antonio is averaging over 125 files per month destroyed per this system. Pulling the destroyed file list for each classification affected from the closed files, recording the file number of the destroyed file, and refiling the lists at various locations is extremely time consuming. It would be a relatively easy task if all the lists for each classification were maintained at one central location in an administrative file.
(2) Several lists of files to be located for mail or special projects are handled each week in the RASU. Having one central list of destroyed files provides a faster and easier check to determine if any of the files on the search list are destroyed.

(3) The maintaining of two separate lists, as authorized by the current rule, is very time consuming and could possibly lead to confusing errors. Maintaining one list is quicker, easier, and less prone to error. Further, if the list is centrally located instead of scattered throughout the closed file section, it can be more efficiently used. In most offices, especially the smaller ones, there should be little or no loss of time or efficiency in having to move from the classification involved to the central list to determine if a particular file is destroyed.

RE: Suggestion #107-79

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:ssj 1/17/79)

It is proposed in attached suggestion from the San Antonio Office that field offices be given the option of maintaining their "list of files destroyed" (FD-478) either in front of each respective classification in the closed file section or in an administrative file created specifically for this purpose, or both. The administrative file, if used, would be centrally located in or near the closed files.

OBSERVATIONS:

Current rules require that the "list of files destroyed" (FD-478) be maintained in front of each respective classification in the closed file section. At the option of each office another list (copy) may be maintained in an administrative file created specifically for this purpose. The Records Management Division is of the opinion that existing policy for maintaining a record of files destroyed is superior to suggested procedure. Maintaining all lists in one file as suggested could result in the entire record of files destroyed being inadvertently misplaced or destroyed. Distribution of the destruction lists to the respective classifications pursuant to existing policy substantially reduces the risk of all records identifying files destroyed becoming lost or misplaced.

Recommend suggestion not be adopted.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memorandum is to record procedure of filing abstracts containing authority for files destroyed to insure the integrity of our abstract system.

DETAILS: It has been an established policy in our file destruction program to insert in our filing scheme, an identifier containing file number or scope, date, and authorization for destroyed files. While this procedure appears to be adequate, an additional practice is being instituted to further insure accountability and integrity in the file and abstract systems due to civil litigation matters.

Effective immediately, an abstract containing file number or scope, date, and authorization will be placed in the drawer at the time abstracts to destroyed files are removed.

Field office procedure requires that a listing of destroyed cases be filed at the beginning of each classification. This practice has been considered for use at Headquarters but was determined to be impractical due to the volume of records maintained.

RE: Memorandum Colwell to Bassett, 12/27/78
DESTRUCTION OF DOUBLE
ZERO FILES SUGGESTION

ADDENDUM OF RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (TBD:evp 1/12/78)

By memorandum from L. Colwell to Mr. Bassett 12/27/78 captioned "Destruction of Double Zero Files Suggestion" it was proposed that instructions regarding destruction of double zero (OO) files be formulated.

OBSERVATIONS: Inasmuch as legal and archival requirements to permanently retain this type of information is satisfied by permanent retention at FBIHQ, there is no requirement to maintain it in the field; however, it would be virtually impossible to determine by age critera which information should be retained or destroyed. Additionally, it should be pointed out that the volume of material in OO files in the field is so small that any space that might be recouped by destruction would be insignificant when weighed against the documentation of the historical evolution of respective violation categories it provides. Although, as mentioned above, corresponding information is maintained at FBIHQ, the convenience of maintaining material in the field could be of immeasurable value to the field for reference and research purposes. This is one convenience which costs the Bureau almost nothing.

RECOMMENDATION: That no action be taken to change the present policy requiring the permanent retention of material in OO files.

Memorandum

TO : Inspector JOHN D. GLOVER DATE: 12/8/78

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF OO FILES

During the review of the OO files of Squad I, I noticed there were some serials that dated as far back as 1937 (See 94-00).

The Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures does not specifically deal with the destruction of OO files.

I seriously doubt the value of preserving most OO serials not specifically prohibited from being destroyed for one reason or another, and I feel perhaps valuable space could be recovered if a destruction policy relative to OO files could be established.

I recommend that this matter be referred to records management for adjudication.

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF FBI FIELD OFFICE INVESTIGATIVE FILES
Destruction of Bureau Records-General

Reference is made to J. W. Awe to Mr. Bassett, memorandum 12/12/78, above captioned, which provided for record purposes, a draft of the report on the disposition of FBI Field Office investigative files prepared by the National Archives and Records Services (NARS).

Purpose:

The purpose of this memorandum is to place on record a copy of NARS' final report recently furnished to FBIHQ.

Details:

In mid 1978, NARS conducted a study of the current Records Schedule for FBI Field Office investigative files and the procedures for its application to the records to determine whether any revisions to the schedule and the procedures were necessary. The study was conducted because of NARS' responsibility for oversight of records management practices in Federal agencies and its concern over the appearance of a number of newspaper and magazine articles critical of the current Records Control Schedule for FBI Field Office investigative files.

Enclosed is a copy of the final report which concludes that the procedures established by the FBI for implementing aforementioned schedules do not deviate from the retention standards approved by NARS for these records.

DISPOSITION OF FBI FIELD
OFFICE INVESTIGATIVE FILES

The report also concludes that no change need be made in the current standard for retention of Field Office investigative files. However, it does recommend that the FBI revise the wording of the retention standards in its current schedules for such files in order to more clearly define the retention periods and document more fully that disposal is governed by the expiration of fixed retention periods. The Records Management Division concurred with this recommendation and has submitted to NARS for approval, a revised schedule.

PURPOSE:

To advise that the captioned firearm is going to be cannibalized and destroyed.

DETAILS:

The captioned firearm was received from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF) on 1-12-79 as excess property of that agency. Furthermore, the firearm falls under the guidelines set forth in the Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures, Part II, Section 2-4.4.4, and is subject to destruction. The captioned firearm is also in poor and unserviceable condition and is only suitable for parts.

Attached are copies of form FD-519 for cannibalization and destruction of equipment.

REQUIREMENTS AND CERTIFICATION FOR CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT

REQUIREMENTS

Cannibalization and destruction of equipment for the purpose of obtaining parts to repair a like item is permitted after Bureau authority is granted and when all of the following conditions are met:

1. Repair of the broken or worn parts is not possible.

2. Required parts are not available from other units previously cannibalized.

3. Required parts are not available from Government excess. (Government excess means any personal property under the control of any Federal Agency which is not required for its needs and the discharge of its responsibilities, as determined by the head thereof.)

4. The parts are not available from commercial or Government supply sources or it is not practical to obtain the required parts from commercial sources because of obsolescence, excessive price or extraordinary leadtimes.

5. The benefit realized from cannibalization exceeds the estimated trade-in or sale value of the unit being considered for cannibalization.

6. A signed statement, approved by a reviewing official, indicating the actions taken to verify the above conditions is made part of the file supporting the removal of the cannibalized item from property records, and such information is made available upon request, to General Accounting Office and Departmental auditors.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 9-23-82 BY SP4 cgw/9 mr

CERTIFICATION

The conditions, as set forth above, have been met to the best of my knowledge with regard to the equipment listed on the attached memorandum and/or FD-500, dated 1-12-79. This equipment should therefore be removed from inventory and the parts will be used for the repair and maintenance of similar equipment.

SUBJECT: MANDATORY APPLICATION OF GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULES-DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - Genera

C

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise all Headquarters Divisions that mandatory application of the General Records Schedules has been approved by the President and that each Division will be canvassed to insure that we are in compliance with the new regulation.

DETAILS:

DECLASSIFIED BY AUC 60290 BCE/DCG/ymw
ON 9/10/03

On 10/10/78, the President approved Public Law 95-440 which amended Section 3303a (d) of Title 44, United States Code, to make application of the General Records Schedules, as approved by the Archivist of the United States, mandatory in all Federal agencies. Agencies have previously been permitted to use the Schedules at their discretion. Copies of Federal Property Management Regulations, Temporary Regulation B-2, dated 1/11/79, and Public Law 95-440, effecting this policy change, are attached.

The General Records Schedules (copy attached) consist of 22 separate schedules for records which are common to several or all agencies and are divided by administrative function, all with specific retention periods. The Schedules have been successfully applied to the destruction of applications for Bureau employment which did not result in appointment and to requests for informational literature, and copies of replies thereto, which are not processed or filed in the Central Records System.

Memo Awe to Bassett 3/15/79
MANDATORY APPLICATION OF GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULES-
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

It is conceivable that our needs would require retention periods that will exceed the period authorized in the Schedules. In that event, Standard Form 115, "Request for Records Disposition Authority", will be prepared for submission to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) to request retention periods more responsive to our needs. The Schedules also require submission of disposal schedules to identify records having permanent archival value. Generally, records created prior to the establishment of recordkeeping standards are considered to have historical value and disposal is prohibited.

Each Headquarters division is requested to provide the name(s) of knowledgeable personnel, by routing slip, to the Records Systems Section, Records Management Division (RMD), for the purpose of assisting RMD in determining satisfactory retention periods for records currently maintained. Each Division is being furnished separately, for review, the Schedule(s) applicable to its specific functions.

Field office records will also be reviewed to determine whether the mandatory retention periods are adequate for field office operations or if additional retention is necessary. This matter will be handled separately.

Upon completion of this review, appropriate disposal schedules for Headquarters and field offices will be forwarded to NARS for action.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Headquarters Divisions provide the name(s) of knowledgeable personnel by routing slip to the Records Systems Section, RMD, in order to implement the mandatory application of the General Records Schedules as outlined above.

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Mrs. [redacted]
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Indianapolis, Indiana

Dear Mrs. [redacted]

I have received your suggestion that the practice of stripping investigative files at the time a case is completed and referred to the office of origin be eliminated. After evaluation, it is believed that instructions contained in the Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures, Part II, 2-4.5.7(4) are sufficiently clear to govern the stripping of closed files. The manual states: "Copies of serials in all office of origin cases must be destroyed within six months after files have been closed." There is no inference in this citation that auxiliary office files must be stripped.

The interest which you displayed by submitting your idea to me is appreciated although favorable action was not taken in this instance.

NOTE: Suggests practice of stripping investigative files at the time a case is completed and referred to the office of origin (RUC'd) in those classifications wherein the files are mandatorily destroyed six months after being placed in RUC status. The SAC, Indianapolis, states instructions in the Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP), Part II, 2-4.5.7(4) should be sufficient guidance for operation of the field offices. The Records Management Division concurs with the comments and recommendations of the SAC. The manual citation states: "Copies of serials in all office of origin cases must be destroyed within six months after files have been closed." There is no inference in this citation that auxiliary office files must be stripped. Views attached.

SUGGESTION

Eliminate the practice of "stripping" investigative files at the time a case is completed and Referred to the Office of Origin (RUC'd) in those classifications wherein the files are mandatorily destroyed six months after being placed in RUC status.

Destruction of Bureau Records

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) At time employee RUC's file, copies of serials are destroyed; employee then notes on top serial "File Stripped," initials and date; even though file will be destroyed in six months per MAOP, Part II, 2-4.5.3, p. 303.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate) It is anticipated that annual savings by implementation of this suggestion could result in an approximate savings of $37,563.98. This figure was reached by using Indianapolis average of approximately 160 RUC cases per month, times number of field offices, times an average cost of 39 cents per file to be stripped. The 39 cents-per-file cost was arrived at by estimates of time to strip files by Rotor Clerks of the Indianapolis Division, times the salary for a GS-4, Step 1, employee. As many Rotor Clerks obviously occupy positions higher than a Step 1 in the GS-4 pay series, it is likely that the overall annual savings will exceed the estimate set forth above.

Disadvantages of suggestion None known.

Recommendations and comments of Division Head Suggestion would have merit if the procedure for stripping auxiliary office files was a Bureau requirement. Due to space problems some field offices may find it advantageous to continue stripping auxiliary office files. RE: Suggestion #210-79

ADDENDUM OF THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (RMD)(TBD:ssj 3/6/79)

It is proposed in attached suggestion from the Indiannapolis Office that the practice of stripping investigative files at the time a case is completed and referred to the office of origin (RUC'd) be eliminated. The elimination of this practice would affect auxiliary office files only that are subject to the six-month destruction rule.

OBSERVATIONS:

The Records Systems Section (RSS), RMD, concurs with the comments and recommendations of the Special Agent in Charge, Indiannapolis Division, and is in agreement that the instructions set forth in the MAOP part II, 2-4.5.7 (4) are sufficiently clear to govern the stripping of closed files. Aforementioned manual citation states that "Copies of serials in all office of origin cases must be destroyed within six months after files have been closed". There is no inference in this citation that auxiliary office files must be stripped. RMD is therefore of the opinion that no change need be made in existing instructions concerning the stripping of investigative files.

Recommend suggestion not be adopted.

RECORDS DISPOSITION PROGRAM

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Reference is made to Order DOJ-2710, which establishes a program for the disposition of records of the Department of Justice in accordance with existing Federal regulations.

Copies of three separate disposal schedules which are under consideration by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) are attached herewith for the information of the Administrative Programs Management Staff, Records Management Group. The comprehensive disposal schedule, dated May 4, 1977, encompasses the investigative files of this Bureau and includes the criteria for identifying cases of historical value for permanent retention. This schedule was referred to various Congressional committees by the Archivist in accordance with 44 U.S.C. Section 3303a(c) and is currently in a pending status with the Senate Committee on the Judiciary.

In response to your request, [redacted] b6 b7C

1. PURPOSE. This order establishes a program for the disposition of records of the Department of Justice (DOJ) in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 3102 and the General Services Administration Federal Property Management Regulations.

2. SCOPE. This order applies to all components of the DOJ.

3. PROGRAM OBJECTIVES.

The basic objectives of the records disposition program are:

a. The timely and systematic removal of records deemed temporary by the creating component, the Department and the Government for later destruction by the Department or a Federal Archives and Records Center.

b. The designation of permanent records having sufficient historical and archival values to warrant immediate or later transfer to the National Archives for permanent preservation.

4. RESPONSIBILITIES.

a. Office of Management and Finance. The Records Management Group (RMG), Administrative Programs Management Staff, Office of Management and Finance shall:

(1) Establish records disposition policy and standards for the DOJ.

(2) Act as liaison with the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for Department program direction.

(3) Secure necessary approvals for the destruction of records of the Offices, Boards, Divisions and Bureaus.

(4) Provide assistance and advice on records disposition matters to officials throughout the Department.

(5) Evaluate the Department's program periodically to ensure its operation at peak efficiency.

b. Offices, Boards, Divisions and Bureaus. Each Office, Board, Division and Bureau shall:

(1) Implement policy and standards for records disposition set forth in guidance published by the Department and the General Services Administration (Federal Property Management Regulations).

(2) Submit all requests for records disposition authority (Standard Form 115) to NARS via RMG.

(3) Ensure timely removal from office space and equipment of noncurrent records.

(4) Encourage the use of Federal records centers as storage facilities for records with reduced reference activity.

(5) Ensure that records of archival value are identified properly for eventual transfer to NARS.

(6) Establish a central point for approval or disapproval of all requisitions for filing equipment by evaluating need and by checking compliance with authorized records disposition instructions.

(7) Provide adequate staff to carry out program responsibilities.

(8) Ensure that program staff are adequately trained in coordination with RMG.

5. DESIGNATION OF RECORDS DISPOSITION LIAISON.

Each Office, Board, Division and Bureau shall designate a records disposition liaison officer to serve as the primary contact point for the component, including its field offices, and advise RMG in writing of the name of that individual.

Dear Congressman Rodino:

In April 1976, the FBI implemented a revised files destruction policy and the Bureau told its field offices to eliminate records of criminal cases that had been closed more than ten years. On August 31, 1977, the period was reduced to five years. In a recent agreement between the Department of Justice and the National Archives and Records Service (NARS), "official" sanction has now been given to the destruction of auxillary FBI field office files which are more than six months old.

The destruction of FBI files poses a serious threat to the public's right-to-know. For example, the report recently released by the National Archives and Records Service states that there are no significant files located in the field offices that are not duplicated and preserved in the FBI's Washington national headquarters. However, as revealed in the Martin Luther King assassination investigations, field office files, found to contain crucial information in the case, were not duplicated at the FBI's national headquarters. Had these files been destroyed, Americans would have been forever denied access to information - information which they have a right to know.

To cite an example where destruction of files did in fact occur, the research and legal staff engaged in the Rosenberg case discovered 42 files, running into thousands of pages of documents, which the FBI admits to having destroyed. These files were destroyed despite the order of August 1, 1975 by the Federal District Court in Washington enjoining the FBI from destroying any files in the Meeropols' request. It was recently learned that this order was not disseminated to the FBI's field offices until a year later. It is highly probable that we will never know the full extent or even the number of files and documents which existed on the Rosenberg-Sobell case.

ENCLOSURE

It is difficult to refute the contention that hundreds of thousands of files with solid information are being destroyed under this new policy.

We urge you and the other members of your Committee to request of the FBI and Department of Justice that they immediately stop destruction of FBI files. We also urge that your Committee deny approval to the Bureau's request to destroy the central files at FBI headquarters in criminal cases after they are ten years old.

We would be willing to discuss with you possible alternatives to the destruction of files.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD
FILES AND RECORDS

Destruction of Bureau Prop

PURPOSE: To obtain approval of attached airtel to SAC, Chicago, instructing Chicago not to destroy any records or files in certain classifications.

SYNOPSIS & DETAILS: Captioned civil actions, which have been certified as class actions, seek injunctive and declaratory relief against the Federal defendants as a result of an alleged course and pattern of conduct which includes, inter alia, use of infiltrators and informers, surreptitious entries, electronic and physical surveillance, and disruption and intimidation of plaintiffs in the exercise of their First Amendment rights.

In July, 1976, the Court entered an Order prohibiting defendants "from destroying or altering, or permiting to be destroyed or altered, any documents or data compilations of any kind...in their possession, custody or control that are or may be relevant to this litigation." (Pretrial Order Number 3, Paragraph 7).

Re: AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION, et al., v.
CITY OF CHICAGO, et al. . .

By airtel dated 9/22/77, Chicago was instructed not to destroy any records or files in classifications determined to be security related and marked  on a then current list of classifications.

Plaintiffs sought, as class discovery, production of all FBIHQ and Chicago Field Office (CFO) files pertaining to 748 individuals and organizations identified in a list attached to Plaintiffs' First Set Of Interrogatories And Document Requests to Defendants Levi, Kelley and Held. In an Order entered on 4/27/78, the Court limited such discovery to a systematic sampling of CFO files in 15 specifically enumerated classifications, including 62, 66 and 176. The Court further limited discovery concerning the 748 individuals and organizations to 50 individuals and 25 organizations to be selected by the plaintiffs.

By letter dated 11/2/78, [redacted], one of the attorneys for the ACLU plaintiffs, wrote counsel for the Federal defendants concerning a 9/27/78 article in the Wall Street Journal concerning the destruction of FBI files more than five years old. [redacted] noted that although the FBI had placed non-destruction notices in named plaintiffs' files the same was not true of potential class discovery documents. In response, he was advised of the moratorium on destruction of files in security-related classifications and furnished a copy of the 9/22/77 airtel directed to Chicago. b6 b7C

Following public disclosure of the fact that former Bureau official Robert L. Shackelford had destroyed "47 file drawers of FBI files relating to, inter alia, FBI burglaries," plaintiffs sought production of whatever information Federal defendants have concerning the contents thereof.

Assistant Director
Records Management Division
Re: AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION, et al., v.
CITY OF CHICAGO, et al. . .

The Court ordered compliance with this discovery request in February, 1979.

By letters dated 4/26/79 and 6/7/79 (copies attached), Mr. [redacted] noted additional concerns regarding FBI file destruction, including the fact that the non-destruction directives previously furnished to him prohibited destruction only in "security-related classifications." At page 2 of the 4/26/79 letter he lists 12 classifications which, he believes, contain or may contain information relevant to captioned litigation, but which are not categorized by the FBI as "security-related classifications." It is noted that three of those classifications, 62, 66 and 176, fall within the purview of the 4/27/78 Order, supra.

b7C

On 6/27/79, following a pretrial conference at Chicago, Illinois, [redacted] Counsel for the Federal defendants, [redacted] Legal Counsel Division and [redacted] Records Management Division, met with [redacted] and other attorneys for the plaintiffs to discuss several matters, including FBI file destruction. Mr. [redacted] termed the meeting a conference in compliance with local Rule 12(d) to attempt settlement of discovery disputes prior to presentation of same to the Court for resolution. [redacted] was advised that we would respond to the requests set forth in his letter of 4/26/79.

Legal Counsel Division shares the concern of Records Management Division that a moratorium on file destruction by the Chicago Field Office in additional classifications may set an undesirable precedent. However, Legal Counsel Division strongly believes that in the context of this particular litigation compliance with plaintiffs' non-destruction requests is advisable.

Assistant Director
Records Management Division
Re: AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION, et al., v.
CITY OF CHICAGO, et al. . .

There can be no doubt that the current non-destruction Order in this litigation covers files in those classifications listed by Mr. [redacted] should such files contain information which may be relevant to the litigation. In fact, we have already produced to the plaintiffs numerous files in many of those classifications either in response to particular discovery requests or through Court-ordered class discovery. b6 b7C

Should we not agree to the non-destruction of CFO files in certain classifications as requested by plaintiffs, we will certainly be faced with a motion by the plaintiffs that the Court order such non-destruction. Legal Counsel Division firmly believes, based on personal dealings with counsel for the plaintiffs and the history of this litigation, that the end result of such a motion could be an Order prohibiting destruction of any files or records in the CFO.

It is noted that captioned litigation was recently assigned to United States District Judge Thomas R. McMillen following the retirement of Judge Kirkland. We have pending before Judge McMillen, and ready for filing, several motions of utmost importance to this litigation. To take the issue of file destruction in certain arguably relevant classifications before Judge McMillen could, in the opinion of Legal Counsel Division, severely damage Federal defendants' chances for favorable rulings on more important issues. b6 b7C

Although Mr. [redacted] also expressed his concern regarding destruction of FBIHQ files in the same classifications, Legal Counsel Division, at this time, plans only to advise him that there is no destruction of relevant FBIHQ files taking place. Should approval for such destruction be forthcoming from Congress, Legal Counsel Division would oppose a similar moratorium on FBIHQ destruction as that proposed in the attached airtel, citing the limitation of class discovery to CFO files and burdensomeness.

Assistant Director
Records Management Division
Re: AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION, et al., v.
CITY OF CHICAGO, et al.

considered "security related classifications" contain information which may be relevant to the allegations in captioned litigation and that such files may be destroyed by the Chicago Field Office. Special Agent [redacted] Principal Legal Advisor, Chicago, attended this meeting with counsel for the Federal defendants and representatives of Legal Counsel Division and Records Management Division.

The classifications to which Mr. [redacted] referred are 25, 40, 62, 63, 66, 135, 137, 140, 161, 173, 176 and 177. b6 b7C

As a result of the discussion with Mr. [redacted], and to avoid any potential violation of paragraph seven of Pretrial Order No. 3 prohibiting destruction of or alteration of documents or data that are or may be relevant to this litigation, Chicago is instructed not to destroy any files in the above listed classifications pending resolution of captioned litigation.

Dear [redacted]

I am disappointed that you have made no reply whatsoever to my letter of April 26, 1979, concerning FBI file destruction (copy enclosed). Unless you reply and we are able to work out a reasonable arrangement before June 21, when the agenda is due for the Pretrial Conference presently scheduled for June 27, ACLU plaintiffs will proceed to file an appropriate motion to compel production of all FBI and Justice Department documents relating to file destruction policies and to supplement the protective order against file destruction previously entered in this case.

I remind you of your responsibility under local Rule 12(d) of this District to make reasonable efforts in good faith to resolve discovery disputes before they are presented to the Court for resolution.

I have discussed this matter with Alliance plaintiffs' attorney, [redacted] and he is in complete accord.

Sincerely,

Re: ACLU, et al. v. City of Chicago, et al.

Dear [redacted]

This letter concerns FBI file destruction. As a preliminary note, I remind you that Pretrial Order No. 15, ¶(4), required you to produce all possible information concerning the apparently voluminous files destroyed by FBI official Robert Schackelford, within 30 days of the January 31, 1979 Pretrial Conference. To my knowledge no such information has yet been provided. I trust that you will do so promptly.

I have reviewed the documents* you produced concerning FBI file destruction policy. They appear to fall short of providing adequate protection against destruction of evidence, in at least the following respects:

*Teletype, Director to all SAC's, 1/16/78; Airtel, Director to SAC, Chicago, 9/22/77, with two enclosures.

1. The no-destruction directive refers only to "Field Files and Records." What directives prohibit routine and extraordinary (e.g., Schackelford) destruction of FBI Headquarters files relevant to this class action?

2. The directive prohibits destruction only in "security-related classifications" as defined by the FBI. However, much relevant evidence already produced in this lawsuit consists of files from other classifications. Files not yet produced from these classifications must not be destroyed. At a minimum, relevant files (whether Headquarters or Field Office) in classifications 25, 40, 62, 63, 66, 135, 137, 140, 161, 173, 176 and 177 must be protected.

3. The directive covers only "file destruction and index card purge and destruction." What directives prohibit destruction of particular documents within files? In my review of FBI files produced to date, I have discovered that nearly all have had many of the serialized documents within them destroyed. Effective procedures to stop this destruction are essential.

4. Similarly, what directive prevents destruction of duplicates or "flimsies"? These may contain handwritten notes of great evidentiary value. (Press reports indicate that some of the documents destroyed by Schackelford included "flimsies" containing evidence not appearing on originals or other copies.) Destruction of this evidence, too, must be prevented.

5. After receiving the two documents from you, I received from other sources a memorandum from the FBI Director to all SAC's dated 8/15/77, entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records." Are there any other Headquarters or Chicago Field Office documents concerning file destruction policy or practice? If so, please produce them.

6. The documents indicate several changes in FBI file destruction policies in 1977-78. Clearly plaintiffs need to be apprised, not only of any changes since the 1/10/78 document, but also of future changes as they occur. What procedures do you suggest to ensure that both you and we are kept abreast of any changes?

7. To avoid unnecessary disputes over whether destruction of particular files or documents violates Pretrial Order No. 3, ¶7 of this case, I believe it is important that whatever understanding we reach concerning these matters (including protective procedures designed to prevent file destruction) be entered as an agreed Order in this case.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Dear Congressman Hughes:

In response to your letter dated May 17, 1979, I have enclosed information which outlines present FBI policy relative to destruction of files and traces the development of that policy.

Bureau Records - Gen L

We appreciate the concern expressed relative to the King and Rosenberg files; however, no FBI files are destroyed for the purpose of denying access, and all document destruction has been conducted in accordance with guidelines established and approved by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). The FBI retains records to meet its investigative and administrative needs and requirements. I am satisfied that the Central Records System at FBI Headquarters does contain all substantive information necessary to discharge our responsibilities and to satisfy NARS requirements for preservation of historical information. This position has been substantiated by a recent NARS survey and report concerning the retention of destruction of FBI field office files.

I trust that this information will be helpful. If you have further inquiry, please contact

NOTE: Response to Congressman William J. Hughes (New Jersey) in his letter, dated May 17, 1979, which encloses a letter with multiple signatures dated May 9, 1979. Congressman Hughes requests information regarding present FBI policy relative to destruction of files. He also requests FBI explanation for accusation in letter he enclosed to the effect that there have been delays in furnishing field offices with policy decisions as well as implication that files have been intentionally destroyed to deny public access. This letter was coordinated with Emil P. Moschella, Chief, Legal Liaison and Congressional Affairs Unit, Legal Counsel Division.

DISPOSITION OF FBI RECORDS

The dispostion of FBI records is controlled by regulations of the National Archives and Records Service (NARS), General Services Administration. Title 44, Chapter 33, Section 3301, et seq., of the U. S. Code defines record and nonrecord material, and Section 3302 directs the Administrator of General Services to promulgate regulations regarding procedures for destruction and standards for reproduction of records. Approval for the destruction of record material is sought on the basis that the records lack investigative, intelligence, historical, or research value; that the destruction would not affect current or future operations of the Bureau; or that microphotographic copies are satisfactory duplicates of the original material, as is the case when recorded matter is microfilmed prior to destruction. Requests are forwarded directly to NARS (previously through the Department of Justice). If the Archivist approves our request, we will proceed accordingly.

Additional guidelines for maintenance and destruction of records are included in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 41, Chapter 101, entitled "Federal Property Management Regulations" which is issued by the General Services Administration. FBI records support the Bureau's investigative and administrative needs and its obligation to act as a clearinghouse under Executive Order (EO) 10450 regarding the Security of Government Employees. Accordingly, in support of this need, the destruction of investigative records or records of substance at FBIHQ has not previously been sought. In other words, the records were needed in the transaction of current business in accordance with FBI responsibilities as prescribed by law (including EO 10450) and for investigative reference. Destruction therefore, has been limited to certain nonessential records, i.e. cases in which there was no prosecutive action undertaken; perpetrators of violations were not developed during the investigation; and investigation revealed allegations were unsubstantiated or not within the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI.

DISPOSITION OF FBI RECORDS

A revised records retention plan is pending with NARS to facilitate, on a broader basis, the disposal of records no longer timely and relevant to FBI needs. The proposed guidelines provide for the permanent retention of records having historical and enduring value and the destruction of obsolete records. Generally for FBIHQ, the retention period will be (a) ten years for criminal files and (b) thirty years for applicant-and security-related files.

Following is a description of the file destruction program which contains policy relating to the destruction of field office files.

Historical criteria do not apply to field offices since they are required to forward to FBIHQ the originals, duplicates, or summarizations of substance of all significant aspects of pertinent investigative matters. Initially, Archival authorization was granted in March, 1946, to permit the destruction of closed files in field offices and a retention period of 25 years was established within the FBI. This policy remained in effect until April, 1959, when the retention period was reduced to 20 years. Following an extensive study of field office file retention needs, field offices were delegated authority in November, 1974, to destroy investigative files after 10 years in the office of origin (controlling office) and 5 years in the auxiliary (or lead) office. Pursuant to a letter to the FBI dated January 27, 1975, from the Joint U. S. Senate Leadership, all previously approved record destruction programs were temporarily suspended. This was in accordance with Senate Resolution 21 of the 94th Congress because of the Senate's extensive interest in domestic intelligence and foreign counterintelligence activities of Executive Branch agencies, including the FBI. By letter dated April 7, 1976, from the Attorney General, the FBI was authorized to renew the routine program of file destruction in accordance with prior authorization of NARS. The Attorney General advised, however, that the FBI should specifically exclude from destruction at that time those matters relating to domestic intelligence, extremist, racial, and foreign counterintelligence and that great care should be taken to insure that no documents involved in litigation are destroyed and that the destruction program leaves intelligence and security files intact. The Attorney General provided this authorization after conferring with various members of Congress to insure that no files would be destroyed in which there was a continuing Congressional interest. By letter dated June 21, 1976, Daniel K. Inouye, Chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, requested continuation of the moratorium on the destruction of records as previously set forth by Senators Mansfield and Scott in their letter of January 27, 1975. The request, however, was limited to those files of a security nature as described in the Attorney General's letter of April 7, 1976. Authority for the destruction of duplicate material for security-related files was sought and subsequently granted by the Attorney General on September 27, 1976, based on the provision that the copy was exact and contained no action statements. By letter dated June 6, 1977, the Attorney General authorized resumption of the FBI's NARS approved destruction program with the exception of all records relating to cases in litigation and records which the House Select Committee on Assassinations had asked to be retained. To date, these files are being identified and the destruction program previously authorized has not yet been implemented at FBIHQ. In accordance with the request of January 27, 1975, from the Joint United States Senate Leadership all previously approved record destruction programs were temporarily suspended. Pursuant to the authorization from the Attorney General of April 7, 1976, the field was instructed on April 27, 1976, to resume destruction of files excluding intelligence and security files and matters in litigation and records which the House Select Committee on Assassinations had asked to be retained. On August 31, 1977, NARS approved destruction of criminal files by the office of investigative origin closed in excess of five years and on October 28, 1977, the field was so advised.

PURPOSE: To recommend changes in the LAM which will bring it into conformance with the Defense Plans Manual (DPM).

DETAILS:

REASON FOR CHANGE

Evacuation and/or destruction of files and equipment during an emergency information contained in the LAM is outdated. The changed text, included herein, will bring this important information into conformance with the DPM. The second revision contained herein changes the date for review of Department of State emergency plans. This review is to insure that FBI interests and requirements are met.

CHANGED TEXT

2-19.2 Evacuation and/or Destruction of Files and Equipment

In the event of an emergency, the Legal Attache must be prepared to evacuate or destroy files and equipment pertinent to that office. It should be clearly understood that records should not be destroyed unless it is absolutely necessary. The following priority is to be followed in connection with either evacuation or destruction:

The Honorable Edward Boland
Chairman
Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence
U.S. House of Representatives
H 405 Capitol Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Congressman Boland:

In April 1976, the FBI implemented a revised files destruction policy and the Bureau told its field offices to eliminate records of criminal cases that had been closed more than ten years. On August 31, 1977, the period was reduced to five years. In a recent agreement between the Department of Justice and the National Archives and Records Service (NARS), "official" sanction has now been given to the destruction of auxillary FBI field office files which are more than six months old.

The destruction of FBI files poses a serious threat to the public's right-to-know. For example, the report recently released by the National Archives and Records Service states that there are no significant files located in the field offices that are not duplicated and preserved in the FBI's Washington national headquarters. However, as revealed in the Martin Luther King assassination investigations, field office files, found to contain crucial information in the case, were not duplicated at the FBI's national headquarters. Had these files been destroyed, Americans would have been forever denied access to information - information which they have a right to know.

To cite an example where destruction of files did in fact occur, the research and legal staff engaged in the Rosenberg case discovered 42 files, running into thousands of pages of documents, which the FBI admits to having destroyed. These files were destroyed despite the order of August 1, 1975 by the Federal District Court in Washington enjoining the FBI from destroying any files in the Meeropols' request. It was recently learned that this order was not disseminated to the FBI's field offices until a year later. It is highly probable that we will never know the full extent or even the number of files and documents which existed on the Rosenberg-Sobell case.

It is difficult to refute the contention that hundreds of thousands of files with solid information are being destroyed under this new policy.

We urge you and the other members of your Committee to request of the FBI and Department of Justice that they immediately stop destruction of FBI files. We also urge that your Committee deny approval to the Bureau's request to destroy the central files at FBI headquarters in criminal cases after they are ten years old.

We would be willing to discuss with you possible alternatives to the destruction of files.

Dear Mr. Chairman:

In response to your letter dated May 22, 1979, I have enclosed information which outlines present FBI policy relative to destruction of files, and traces the development of that policy. For your information, a copy of the letter you enclosed with multiple signatures dated May 9, 1979, was also furnished to us by Congressman William J. Hughes (New Jersey) who, likewise, posed questions regarding our policy for file destruction.

We appreciate the concern expressed relative to the King and Rosenberg files; however, no FBI files are destroyed for the purpose of denying access, and all document destruction has been conducted in accordance with guidelines established and approved by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). The FBI retains records to meet its investigative and administrative needs and requirements. I am satisfied that the Central Records System at FBI Headquarters does contain all substantive information necessary to discharge our responsibilities and to satisfy NARS requirements for preservation of historical information. This position has been substantiated by a recent NARS survey and report concerning the retention or destruction of FBI field office files.

Re: FBI Record Destruction Program

Dear Sirs:

We write this letter as attorneys on behalf of individuals and organizations representing diverse endeavors and interests in the fields of scholarly research, education, art, science, labor, civil rights and civil liberties, religion, politics, and in the areas of race, ethnic and social rights and relations. They and we have learned with dismay and concern of the FBI's Record Destruction Program which is now in process, resulting in the destruction of massive numbers of investigative files and other records in the FBI's field offices.

66-3286-

ENCLOSURE

F.C.I.A.

Some of the individuals and organizations in whose behalf we write have requested files under the Freedom of Information Act and have learned that the files have been destroyed either prior or subsequent to their request. Others have learned of the destruction of requested files notwithstanding orders of United States Courts enjoining the FBI from destroying them. All will be requesting field office files now and in the future in furtherance of their endeavors and interests.

We know from facts acquired, experience and research that the FBI field offices files constitute a unique source of information not otherwise obtainable either from FBI headquarters files or anyplace else. These records are of great historical value to our clients and the general public. They contain evidential informational and functional data which reflect the nature of the information amassed as well as methods, procedures and orientation of the FBI over the period of its existence. The research, social and political value of these records of the FBI field offices are of the greatest importance, requiring preservation. The destruction of these files and records would constitute the destruction of a vital portion of history which the people are entitled to have.

From knowledge and experience obtained in the course of FOIA requests and litigation and from researching of files obtained, it is a clear and unequivocal fact that the quantity, quality and nature of the files in the FBI's field offices are of even greater scope and significance than the files in FBI headquarters which have their own unique contents as well. Not only do the files in the field offices have a greater quantum of documents and facts than headquarters but it is these files alone that contain the primary evidentiary source material, exhibits and other data not found elsewhere, as well as the manner and authority for acquisition. There are thousands of files in the FBI field offices which have no counterparts at headquarters.

A review of the present FBI field office Record Destruction Program and the files and records of NARS bearing thereon as well as the proposed program of destruction of headquarters records, compels us to conclude they are violative of the Archival Administration Act, the Federal Records Management Act, the Disposal of Records Act, the Freedom of Information Act and the Privacy Act as well as the Constitutional rights of our clients. We have read the NARS report issued in December of 1978. It is clear that the conclusions set forth are totally in error obviously based upon inaccurate and incomplete facts derived from a most limited and inadequate review of the FBI files and destruction program.

It is evident that already all too many unique records of great historical, research and legal value have already been destroyed over the past few years and that process is continuing day by day. To permit the continuance of such destructive practices is unconscionable.

In behalf of the persons and organizations referred to above, we have been authorized and directed to commence an action in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia to enjoin the FBI's Record Destruction Program. We anticipate filing this action sometime in the latter part of June, 1979. To avoid any further irreparable damage pending the filing of the action and the resolution of the issue by the United States District Court, we request, in the national interest, that you immediately cease and desist and hold in abeyance the entire FBI Record Destruction Program. Such action on your part can cause no injury or prejudice to the FBI, the National Archives, the General Services Administration or the Department of Justice. On the other hand the destruction of a unique record is final and irreversible. It would be tragic were you to continue with this program only to have it later determined that the destruction was unlawful and contrary to the national interest.

It is a fact that the FBI's Record Destruction Program constitutes an all too effective means of frustrating, eviscerating and in effect de facto repealing the FOIA.

We ask that you immediately communicate with each and every one of the 59 field offices of the FBI and its eleven foreign liaison offices and direct them to immediately cease and desist from any further destruction of any FBI records in their custody, care or control pending further determination of the matter by the United States Courts.

In view of the emergent nature of the situation I would appreciate your advising me forthwith of your intentions with respect to our request set forth herein.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

This responds to your letters of May 28, 1979, to Mr. Joel W. Solomon, former Administrator of General Services, Dr. James B. Rhoads, Archivist of the United States, and Mr. Thomas W. Wolfe, Director of our Records Disposition Division, regarding disposal of Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) field office investigative files.

The disposal of all Federal records is governed by the Records Disposal Act of 1943, as amended. While we respect your opinion regarding the value of the FBI field office investigative files, it should be noted that the destruction of these records was first authorized in 1946, when the Congress of the United States, through its Joint Committee on the Disposition of Executive Papers, approved their disposal on a continuing basis. At that time, the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) appraised the field office investigative files and determined they did not have sufficient historical or other value to warrant permanent retention by the Federal Government. Since that time we have reevaluated the records on several different occasions, most recently in an exhaustive study completed in late 1978. On each occasion we have concluded that no change is needed in the basic retention standard providing for disposal of the records. Our most recent reevaluation involved a systematic examination and comparison of investigative files maintained in three different field offices with those records maintained at the headquarters level. This study determined that the headquarters files do contain field office accounts detailing the conduct and results of substantive investigations and do provide a more complete account of such investigations than the scattered and fragmentary field office files.

The volume of Federal records requires NARS to appraise records in terms of records series rather than in terms of individual documents or isolated files. The NARS appraisals of field office investigative files have been based on this records series approach. A record series consists of folders, documents, or other file units arranged systematically in accordance with a filing scheme or maintained as a unit because they relate to a particular function, subject, or activity. At the end of Fiscal Year 1978, roughly 295,000 cubic feet of investigative files were maintained at FBI field offices. In arriving at the conclusion that this series of records did not merit permanent retention, NARS recognized that some field office files do contain unique materials. Contrasted with the documentary content of headquarters files, however, we have concluded that documentation unique to field office files does not have sufficient value to warrant permanent retention by the Federal Government.

ENCLOSURE

The National Archives and Records Service has, as its legislative mandate, responsibility for preserving the permanently valuable records of the Federal Government and making these records available to the public. Our experience amply demonstrates, however, that we cannot perform this task by attempting to collect every bit of unique information produced by the Federal Government. Rather, we must seek to identify and preserve the central core of documentary materials that has the most enduring value for future research purposes. Our actions in the appraisal of records of the FBI, both headquarters and field, have been guided by these considerations.

We have not received any evidence indicating that the FBI is maintaining and disposing of its field office investigative files in violation of the statutes and regulations governing maintenance and disposition of records. In fact, our most recent evaluation of these records noted that the FBI procedures for implementing its schedules did not deviate from the retention standards approved by NARS for the records. Moreover, the actual application of the schedule to the records conformed fully with the procedures set forth by the agency. You may be assured, however, that we will make all necessary inquiries and insist on corrective action if we have any indication that the FBI, or any other Federal agency, is not complying with the regulations governing records disposition and files maintenance.

In summary, we do not plan to modify our previous determination that FBI field office investigative files do not have sufficient value to warrant permanent retention by the Federal Government. Accordingly, we will not comply with your request that the implementation of these disposal schedules be halted.

Sincerely,

JAMES E. O'NEILL
Acting Archivist

Dear Mr. [redacted]

Your letter of May 28, 1979, captioned, "FBI Record Destruction Program," requests that I issue an instruction to end destruction of records located in FBI field offices and FBI foreign liaison offices.

The FBI's Central Records System was constructed to satisfy the investigative and administrative needs of the FBI. When those needs have been satisfied, the destruction of obsolete and inactive records is sound records management practice. It is the rational and reasonable alternative to the high cost of maintaining, storing, and servicing records which no longer meet the needs of the FBI. In addition, a proper and practical file destruction program is mandatory for all Federal agencies.

The criteria for destruction of FBI files has been coordinated very closely with the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) and policy for file destruction conforms to Title 44, United States Code, and various guidelines established by NARS, including Part 101-11, Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations. Inasmuch as our reporting procedures require the field offices to furnish the original, copies, or summaries of all pertinent investigation to FBI Headquarters, we are satisfied that proper controls are exercised for preservation of historical information. Likewise, as set forth in the December, 1978 report NARS released as a result of their detailed analysis of the FBI's field office file destruction program, NARS is satisfied that all reasonable efforts are being taken to preserve information of historical interest.

NOTE: Response to letter from addressee who also represents other parties in litigation involving various aspects of the FBI Central Records System. His letter indicates he will seek injunction against FBI File Destruction Program involving field office files inasmuch as he claims there is considerable material destroyed which is unique to the field office file and is therefore historical. Mr. [redacted] also requests that the Director "cease and desist" further file destruction pending determination by U.S. Courts. Attached for information is National Archives and Record Service (NARS) response to Mr. [redacted] letter which sets forth position that FBI destruction schedules are sound and will not be halted.

SUBJECT: DISPOSITION OF RECORDS

Destruction of Bureau Property - Genera

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide an update to the recommendations made to the Records Management Division (RMD) by the Office of Planning and Evaluation (OPE) in their report on "Disposition of Records."

DETAILS:

By memorandum J. W. Awe to Mr. Bassett, dated 9/13/78 (copy attached), RMD responded to six recommendations proposed by OPE in relation to their evaluation of RMD file destruction procedures. At that time, approval of our comprehensive disposal schedule by the Senate Committee on the Judiciary was believed to be forthcoming. The schedule is currently pending with the Judiciary Committee and, while the recommendations would enhance the overall destruction program, our comments, with the exception of Recommendation (6), are basically unchanged. The Disposition Unit has been disbanded, personnel have been assigned to other areas and the destruction program has virtually come to a halt.

In response to Recommendation (6), RMD has submitted a disposal schedule to destroy records over ten years old

Dear Senator Moynihan:

This is in response to the correspondence we received from you on June 11, 1979. You asked for comments concerning the two letters you enclosed. Mr. [redacted] asked you to oppose the FBI's "proposed ban on turning over files," and Dr. [redacted] expressed opposition to the proposed moratorium and file destruction program. b6 b7C

The FBI is committed to the objective of public disclosure aimed toward the goal of an informed citizenry. A moratorium would not abolish the Freedom of Information Act. It would strengthen the protection of valid law enforcement interests.

In discharging our investigative responsibilities, the Bureau has always relied, as we must, on citizen cooperation. We have found that there are those from a cross section of society who are refusing to furnish information because of their fear of disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act. These are not merely uncooperative professional confidential informants. They include Federal judges, private citizens, businessmen, and officials of municipal, state, federal and even foreign governments. The moritorium is designed to minimize the risks to those who provide information to the FBI.

FBI File No. 66-HQ-3286 Destruction of Bureau Records
Section 29

August 17, 1979

Honorable Bill Archer

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

Dear Congressman Archer:

Your letter of July 25th enclosing a copy of [redacted] letter to the President has been referred to me for acknowledgment. b6 b7C

As Judge Webster stated on the "Face the Nation" program, our file destruction policy is a matter of record and has the approval of the Archivist of the United States. The specific provisions are set forth in Title 44, Chapter 33 of the United States Code, and in Title 41, Chapter 101-11 of the Code of Federal Regulations. We closely coordinate these matters with the National Archives and Records Service and have a comprehensive program in force to facilitate the destruction of obsolete material and the permanent retention of historical valuable records. The Code of Federal Regulations cited above, requires that records no longer of current use be disposed of promptly. After the passage of appropriate time, those records deemed to have historical value, and thus preserved under the same citation, are transferred to the National Archives where they are available for research purposes.

We are not destroying files at the present time at FBI Headquarters, where most of our files are located. As Director Webster pointed out, the files that we do want to destroy, for good business management reasons, are in the field, and are largely copies of documents currently on file at FBI Headquarters.

Dear Congresman Roybal:

We have apreciated your answering our letters, and were sorry we could not attend the Glasell Park Senior Citizens lunch at which you spoke last week.

One of our concers at present is the admitted destroying of historical and political documents by FBI Director William Webster (Congressional testimony) It is evident that he is affraid of past and curent illegal activities being revealed.

The Freedom of Information Act is in danger as he does not want to release files until 10 years old, and has already destroyed files shortly over 5 years. Thus he is working to destroy the Information Act.

We urge you to support this Act by apposing the FBI's proposed illegal ban on turning over files.

PURPOSE: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

To obtain approval of attached letter setting forth names of Bureau personnel and their security clearance for entry to a U. S. Army facility which will provide equipment for destruction of technical equipment.

DETAILS:

A memorandum Harward to Mr. Cochran dated 9/10/76 recommended use of equipment at a local army facility to destroy excess Bureau technical equipment, copy attached, which was approved.

The army has advised that they will require a letter setting forth the Security clearances of FBI personnel who will participate in these destruction procedures.

Attached letter, in response to this request, lists Bureau personnel involved in this project as well as their clearances.

RECOMMENDATION:

That attached letter to the Army Security Detail at Harry Diamond Laboratories, 2800 Powder Mill Road, Adelphi, Maryland, 20793, showing security clearance for Bureau personnel involved in this project be approved.

SUBJECT: EXCESS TECHNICAL EQUIPMENT-
CONFIDENTIAL DISPOSAL

Concerning captioned matter there are attached 21 pages of the 0-50 surplus property form setting forth equipment that is excess to the needs of the Radio Engineering Section. Because of the sensitive nature of these items they must be disposed of in a confidential manner. In this connection it has been determined that the United States Army has available machinery which will destroy this type of material. It would appear that this could be an acceptable method for handling this matter.

The disposal of this equipment must occur as soon possible inasmuch as the space i.e. 1B056, 1B058, and 1B being used for its storage is scheduled for major construction beginning soon after 9/28/76.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That equipment listed, on attached forms, be destroyed by use of United States Army facilities, providing an on sight inspection by personnel of Administrative Services Division and Laboratory confirm acceptability of destruction procedures.

Reference is made to memorandum from W. E. Harward to Mr. Cochran dated 9/16/76 captioned "Excess Technical Equipment - Confidential Disposal." Regulations regarding destruction of equipment are mentioned in Federal Property Regulations Subpart 101-45.5; U. S. Code, Titles 18 and 44, Sections 2512 and 3301-3314; Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Title 28, Subpart M and Section 17.74-17.77. All of these regulations have been reviewed and the matter has been discussed with Mr. [redacted] Office of Management and Finance, Department of Justice. This Section feels that we are proper in destroying property in question. b6 b7C

The United States Army facilities can provide the necessary equipment to destroy this property. The Laboratory has advised they have personnel that can witness and sign for this destruction. The Property Procurement and Management Section also has personnel available to witness and sign for destruction. These signatures should appear on all originals of 0-50. It will be necessary to contact Printing and Space Management Section to arrange transportation. Recommend this request be approved and returned to this Section for handling in its entirety.

J. J. Casper CONFIDENTIAL DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY

NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS
SUGGESTION 352-71 SUBMITTED BY
MR. [redacted] MEXICO CITY OFFICE GENERAL

SYNOPSIS

Suggests foreign offices in order to conserve space and keep volume of files within manageable levels be authorized to destroy newspaper clippings when they are no longer needed. After the case Agent completes his file review and report or other communication to the Bureau, he could then indicate the clippings which could be destroyed. Until destruction, clippings could be retained by fastening them to a file back and placing them in a folder. If the clipping should be needed at a later date, it could be obtained from the morgue of the newspaper involved.

Domestic Intelligence Division recommended approval due to space limitation in these offices. Crime Records had no observations since it has no responsibility for the retention of this material. Training and Inspection Divisions have discussed this matter and feel a survey should be made of Bonn, Paris and Rome to obtain their opinions regarding such a procedure and if any pertinent problems would be involved.

RECOMMENDATION: That the attached letter be approved for forwarding to Bonn, Paris and Rome for their views and that final action with regard to the suggester be held in abeyance pending the results of the survey. His idea has been acknowledged by prior letter.

Memo Casper to Mohr
Re: Newspaper Clippings
Suggestion 352-71 Submitted by
Mr. [redacted] Mexico City Office

b6

DETAILS

CONFIDENTIAL

SUGGESTION: That foreign offices in order to conserve space and keep volume of files within manageable levels be authorized to destroy newspaper clippings when they are no longer needed. After a case Agents completes his file review and report or other communication to the SOG, he could then indicate the clippings which could be destroyed. Until destruction, clippings could be retained by fastening them to a file back and placing them in a folder. [Mexico City Office has previously been authorized to retain FD-306s (Cover Sheet for Informant Report or Material) in this manner.] If the clipping should be needed at a later date, it could be obtained from the morgue of the newspaper involved.

CURRENT PRACTICE: The suggester states that at present, newspaper clippings are mounted on paper, searched, indexed and serialized for the file. The majority of the newspaper clippings retained in this office are placed in "A" volumes of the substantive files. A review of the provisions of the Manual of Instructions, Manual of Rules and Regulations, Foreign Operations Policy Manual and FBI Handbook for Special Agents does not, according to the suggester, disclose regulations which would prohibit the proposed procedure. The Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 15, permits destruction of police school newspaper clippings after two years.

ADVANTAGES: Mr. [redacted] advises authority to destroy newspaper clippings on an accelerated basis, after they have served their purpose, would save a substantial amount of filing space. According to a survey of the Mexico City Office files, it is anticipated that one file cabinet would be saved by this procedure.

OBSERVATIONS: Legat Nischwitz, Mexico City, stated the idea appeared to have merit and should be considered there would certainly be a savin[illegible] in clerical time involved.

Domestic Intelligence Division observed that it appeared newspaper clippings maintained after an investigation has been completed only serve to take up valuable space in Legat offices. Provided information in the clippings has been reported to the Bureau there appears no valid reason to maintain them beyond that time. As proposed by Mexico City, these clippings are available at a later date from newspaper morgues and could be obtained if the need arises. As a spacesaving measure, this Division recommended the idea receive favorable consideration.

b6
b7C

Crime Records Division stated it is responsible for initial distribution of newspaper clippings from the field. It has no responsibilities concerning the retention of clippings in the field and has no pertinent observations for this suggestion.

Training Division has discussed this procedure with the Inspection Division and it has been decided the views of three foreign offices should be obtained to ascertain how they are handling these clippings at the present time, the amount involved, and the procedures in effect. When these replies are received, we will have a better idea of the problems involved with respect to certain aspects of this suggested system.

SUGGESTION MATTER

A suggestion is under consideration at the Bureau whereby foreign offices would be authorized to destroy newspaper clippings when they are no longer needed in order to conserve space and keep the volume of files within manageable levels. When a case Agent completes his file review and report or other communication to the Bureau, he could then indicate the clippings which could be destroyed. Until destruction, clippings could be retained by fastening them to a file back and placing them in a folder. If the clipping should be needed at a later date, it could be obtained from the morgue of the newspaper involved.

You are requested to advise the procedures in this regard now in use in your office. Are newspaper clippings mounted, searched, indexed and serialized for the substantive file? If so, how would the proposed system affect accountability for this material. Would these clippings be considered work paper-type information which could be destroyed as proposed without the need for indexing and serializing them? If such a procedure were placed into effect, how much space would be saved in your office of assignment? You should forward your views and recommendations to the attention of the Suggestion Desk, Training Division, by the close of business January 4, 1971.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS
FEDERAL GOVERNMENT
GENERAL

Dear Congressman Roybal:

Your July 30th communication on behalf of your constituents, [redacted], has been received. b6 b7C

With respect to the concern of your constituents, the disposition of all FBI records, regardless of their source, is carried out in strict accordance with the very specific provisions as set forth in Title 44, Chapter 33 of the United States Code, and in Title 41, Chapter 101-11 of the Code of Federal Regulations. We closely coordinate these matters with the National Archives and Records Service and have a comprehensive program in force to facilitate the destruction of obsolete material and the permanent retention of historically valuable records. The Code of Federal Regulations, cited above, requires that records no longer of current use be disposed of promptly. After the passage of appropriate time, those records deemed to have historical value, and thus preserved under the same citation, are transferred to the National Archives where they are available for research purposes.

Let me assure Mr. and Mrs. [redacted] that, as evidenced by the more than 19,000 final responses to Freedom of Information Act requests made last year alone, the FBI is committed to the principle of full disclosure of information to which the public has a right. At the same time, we wish to insure that legitimate law enforcement needs are protected and the proposals made to the Congress to modify the Freedom of Information Act address both these concerns. b6 b7C

REQUIREMENTS

Cannibalization and destruction of equipment for the purpose of obtaining parts to repair a like item is permitted after Bureau authority is granted and when all of the following conditions are met:

1. Repair of the broken or worn parts is not possible.

2. Required parts are not available from other units previously cannibalized.

3. Required parts are not available from Government excess. (Government excess means any personal property under the control of any Federal Agency which is not required for its needs and the discharge of its responsibilities, as determined by the head thereof.)

4. The parts are not available from commercial or Government supply sources or it is not practical to obtain the required parts from commercial sources because of obsolescence, excessive price or extraordinary leadtimes.

5. The benefit realized from cannibalization exceeds the estimated trade-in or sale value of the unit being considered for cannibalization.

6. A signed statement, approved by a reviewing official, indicating the actions taken to verify the above conditions is made part of the file supporting the removal of the cannibalized item from property records, and such information is made available upon request, to General Accounting Office and Departmental auditors.

CERTIFICATION

The conditions, as set forth above, have been met to the best of my knowledge with regard to the equipment listed on the attached memorandum and/or FD-500, dated _____. This equipment should therefore be removed from inventory and the parts will be used for the repair and maintenance of similar equipment.

Dear Sir:

I am quite disturbed that the FBI is destroying the files of citizens who have been involved in different organizations and in various causes not to the government's liking.

The Freedom of Information Act of 1966(strenghthened in 1974) makes it possible for citizens to request their files. The FBI has used all sorts of delaying tactics to prevent these people from receiving their files. Now the FBI is destroying files that are more than five years old, although refusingtto send files under ten years to those who request them.

These files are part of our national resources. I urge you to halt the further destruction of these files.

Dear Senator Hayakawa:

Your communication of September 5th on behalf of Ms. [redacted] has been received.

With respect to Ms. [redacted] Calif. concern, the FBI's file destruction policy is a matter of record and has the approval of the Archivist of the United States. The specific provisions are set forth in Title 44, Chapter 33 of the United States Code, and in Title 41, Chapter 101-11 of the Code of Federal Regulations. We closely coordinate these matters with the National Archives and Records Service and have a comprehensive program in force to facilitate the destruction of obsolete material and the permanent retention of historically valuable records. The Code of Federal Regulations cited above, requires that records no longer of current use be disposed of promptly. Dear Gerry:

I understand that the Freedom of Information Act, passed in 1966 and strenghthened in 1974, is presently under attack, that the FBI does not wish to release files until they are ten years old--and yet has begun to destroy files that are not more than five years old.

The Freedom of Information Act has made it possible for citizens who have been active in many organizations and for many causes to find out just how the government has tried to interfere with their constiutional rightz.

The Freedom of Information should be strenghthened even further. The FBI must turn files over to citizens who request them without using all sorts of delaying tactics.

I should appreciate hearing from you when you get back to Congress on this matter. I know that you are always forth - right in responding to questions and letters from your constituents.

Sincerely yours,

[redacted]

This is in response to letter dated September 12, 1979, from Vincent A. Lobisco, Assistant Director, Records Management, Administrative Programs Management Staff/OMF, which enclosed the proposed disposition schedule for nonpublic records maintained pursuant to the Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S.C. 844(b)(1).

The proposed disposition schedule has been reviewed and this Bureau concurs with the contents and proposed retention periods.

NOTE: The proposed schedule provides a retention period of 50 years after expiration of term of probation for fingerprint or nonpublic records which are forwarded to and maintained within the Department. We are providing the Department our concurrance. This matter has been coordinated with the Identification Division. Copies of referenced letter and proposed schedule are attached.

Dear Ms. [redacted]

Judge Webster has received your August 22nd letter concerning the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and the FBI's policy on destruction of files and he has asked me to respond to you. BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

Your concern appears to be prompted by the FBI's proposed moratorium on the release of certain files under the Freedom of Information Act, which was included in Judge Webster's proposals submitted to Congressional oversight committees at their request. These proposals are designed to refine the Act, not repeal it. In an effort to explain the basis of the proposed moratorium, it must be realized that the FBI must rely on public confidence and cooperation in order to function effectively as an investigative agency. It is, therefore, a matter of utmost importance that we maintain a confidential relationship with informants and others who do not wish to be identified as sources of information. To underscore the value of informants, for example, last year we obtained over 2,600 convictions and had over $200 million in recoveries as a result of information provided by informants.

REC-65 66-3286-1334

We have found, however, that because of their fear of disclosure under the FOIA, many informants, as well as ordinary citizens, are reluctant to provide information crucial to the solution of crimes. Therefore, we have proposed a seven-year moratorium on the disclosure of the contents of investigative files compiled for law enforcement purposes so that we can minimize the risk to those who provide information to the FBI. There would be obvious exceptions to the proposed moratorium, perhaps in cases of national interest or in instances when sufficient cause for waiver could be demonstrated.

Ms [redacted]

Our proposal also provides that FBI records be divided into two categories. Our most sensitive information, that pertaining to foreign intelligence, foreign counterintelligence, organized crime and terrorism would be exempt from mandatory disclosure under the FOIA, but would be governed by Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 50.8, which provides for access to files over 15 years old and of historical interest. All other FBI records would fall within category two and be subject to the FOIA's mandatory disclosure provisions.

Let me assure you that the FBI will not use the moratorium in concert with a file destruction program to frustrate the FOIA. Our records management program, which includes the destruction of files, is conducted in strict compliance with Title 44, Chapter 33, of the U. S. Code; Title 41, Chapter 101-11, of the Code of Federal Regulations; and guidelines closely coordinated with National Archives and Records Service. We are not destroying files at the present time at FBI Headquarters, where most of our files are located. The files that we do want to destroy, for good business management reasons, are in the field, and are largely copies of documents currently on file in FBI Headquarters.

In closing, let me assure you that, as evidenced by the more than 19,000 final responses to FOIA requests made last year alone, the FBI is committed to the principle of full disclosure of information to which the public has a right. At the same time, we wish to insure that legitimate law enforcement needs are protected. These requests are handled on a first-come, first-served basis and I can assure you we do not use delaying tactics. Before we release material, it must be given a line-by-line review and this is a very time-consuming procedure. We are continuing to work with the Department of Justice on legislative proposals being drafted by that Department for submission to Congress.

Sincerely yours,

/S/

William L. Bailey
Assistant Director

FROM : P. L. Andrews

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to recommend a solution to an undesirable situation which currently exists in the 66 classification relating to the previously-maintained "Alphabetical Administrative Files."

DETAILS:

The 66 classification currently contains file charge-outs (copies attached) bearing the legends "THIS FILE PERTAINS TO FBI ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS AND IS FILED IN THE ALPHABETICAL SECTION BY NAME" and "THESE FILES PERTAIN TO ADMINISTRATIVE MATTERS AND HAVE BEEN CONSOLIDATED INTO PERSONNEL FILES." The Alphabetical Section is no longer in existence and positive attempts should be made to completely remove these guides from the files since they have created confusion and wasted effort over a 25-year period.

According to a memorandum for Mr. Hoover, dated 5/23/22, M. C. Bartley noted that the "Administrative Files" consisted of 748 separate jackets pertaining to FBI personnel or field offices and included correspondence related to travel, space, transfer and leave matters. F. W. Waikart memorandum to Mr. Nichols, dated 1/11/51, approved the destruction of Numbering Unit abstracts to the Administrative Files since the practice of preparing the abstracts was discontinued in 1941. W. G. Eames memorandum to Mr. Nichols dated 11/23/56, approved the destruction of the "Alphabetical Administrative Files," with the exception of certain categories which would be integrated into the Official Personnel Folder (OPF). Copies of these memoranda are attached.

It appears that all factors of this integration/destruction process was methodically documented and handled, with the exception of the related index card(s) which leads the file-reviewer to the above described charge-outs.

In order to remove the related index cards from the General Index, the above-described charge-outs will be replaced with permanent "DESTROYED" charge-outs by authority of this memorandum and the attached listing of file numbers will provide guidance to the various units having access to the files and General Index. Due to the age of the cards, they should be confined to the "Inactive" index and, when encountered, should be removed and forwarded to the Index Unit for destruction.

Since records of a temporary nature have been destroyed and permanent records have been integrated into the OPF, no special authorization will be required for the disposal of the index cards. Material of relevance will be accessible through the OPF and related index cards.

RECOMMENDATION

That temporary charge-outs and index cards for "Administrative Files" be removed from the General Index and replaced and/or destroyed as outlined above.

Memorandum for Mr. Hoover.

The "Administrative Files" at present consist of 748 separate jackets, the subjects being an agent, an accountant, a clerk in a field office, or a field office. The material in these files is correspondence with regard to transportation requests, vouchers, office space, postoffice boxes, leaves of absence, fixing of headquarters, permission to leave headquarters, telephone bills, telegraph bills, auto hire bills, ice and laundry bills, requests for supplies, and letters transferring agents from one office to another.

The work incident to filing this material is exactly the same as for other correspondence. The letters must be read, numbered and recorded. This class of work is not heavy, only three and one-half drawers in a steel filing cabinet being sufficient to hold them.

Respectfully,

M. C. Bartley

An inspection of the abstracts of the 66 classification shows that considerable space in that classification is taken up with abstracts of the Agents' and employees' administrative files. The policy apparently changed in 1941 and alphabetical files were used thereafter and no abstracts made. The present administrative material for Agents is filed in alphabetical folders while administrative material for clerks goes into their personnel files.

Miss [redacted] supervisor of the Numbering Unit, advises that these abstracts are rarely if ever referred to. At this date even the files sections they represent are quite inactive. Destruction of these abstracts would do no possible harm to our service to the Bureau and should provide at least two more cabinets for further expansion in the 66's. Room is needed particularly for the new files being opened on confidential informants.

If approved the Numbering Unit could readily carry out this destruction through careful inspection of the abstracts and the subject matter thereon, and thus insure that no other type of 66 abstract is destroyed since the employees' files are interspersed with other types.

It is clear that Bureau policy of long standing is not to destroy Bureau abstracts. However, it is believed that making exception of this material would cause no future difficulties and on the contrary it would have distinct advantages.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the abstracts in the Numbering Unit representing material in old administrative files, which abstracts were discontinued in 1941, be removed and destroyed.

SUBJECT: ALPHABETICAL ADMINISTRATIVE FILES - PERSONNEL RECORDS UNIT RECORDS BRANCH

As you know, all administrative types of mail relating to Bureau employees are now filed in the individual personnel files. Previously it was the practice to file this mail alphabetically by employee in separate individual files referred to as "alphabetical administrative files," however since 1946, this particular type of mail has been filed in the personnel files of clerical employees and since July 1, 1951, in the personnel files of Special Agents.

In 1952, we had 104 file cabinets containing an estimated 30,000 administrative files of which approximately 30,000 related to out-of-service personnel. On 12-31-52 the Executives Conference approved the destruction of all correspondence in the out-of-service administrative files with the exception of those categories of correspondence shown on the attached list (67-80002-525). The correspondence retained was integrated into the out-of-service personnel file.

At the present time, we have 24 4-drawer cabinets maintained in the Personnel Records Unit containing administrative types of mail dated prior to July 1, 1951, concerning in-service personnel. These files are very infrequently used, occupy valuable space and equipment which could be utilized to better advantage and in conformance with good records management procedures, it is proposed that consideration be given to the destruction of all material in these files with the exception of those categories shown on the attached list. The material which should be retained will be integrated into the employee's personnel file.

Archival authority is not necessary to destroy this type of material.

67-80 000-1954

Personnel are not available at the present time to perform this operation; however, if the recommendation is approved, it will be done as soon as personnel are available.

FROM : P. L. Andrews

SUBJECT: DEPARTMENTAL REQUEST FOR BACKGROUND INVESTIGATIONS ON SITTING FEDERAL JUDGES

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide data in response to an informal request by the Department to furnish background investigations on sitting Federal judges in order to make their files complete.

DETAILS:

During informal meetings held with personnel of the Records Research Staff on 6/13/79 and 9/17/79, Vincent A. Lobisco, Administrative Programs Management Staff, and Robert M. Yahn, Records Management Group, Office of Management and Finance, discussed the concept of recovering background investigations from Bureau files on sitting Federal judges and the manpower, duplication, and other costs involved. It appears that during a major file destruction program, the Department's "B files," or that segment of the files containing the background investigations, were destroyed. Subsequently, the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) designated the entire file on sitting judges as "permanent" and the Department is now attempting to recover the background records. An inquiry by the Associate Attorney General, dated 9/20/77, regarding the proposed destruction process and our response of 10/4/77 (attached), was mentioned.

Memo Andrews to Bailey
RE: DEPARTMENTAL REQUEST FOR BACKGROUND INVESTIGATIONS ON SITTING FEDERAL JUDGES

Mr. Lobisco and Mr. Yahn acknowledged the correspondence and advised that NARS had detected the loss during recent record scheduling. They had suggested to NARS that the background investigations in Bureau files be declared "permanent" which would slightly alter our major disposal schedule now pending with the Senate Judiciary Committee; however, NARS preferred to accession the files as one package. They indicated that approximately 850 files would require reconstruction.

At our suggestion, Mr. Yahn forwarded the names of 25 judges in order for us to gain some insight on the time and cost involved. It is estimated that the cost of searching, identifying and duplicating this material would be $12,000 over a six-month period with the use of two employees. The Accounting and Budget Analysis Unit, Budget and Accounting Section, Administrative Services Division, has been contacted regarding this matter.

It was noted that the background investigations are generally confined to the 77 classification and copies of serials are already in file, therefore, eliminating the duplicating process. On the other hand, the release would be stamped on the original document as for dissemination and a five-year retention period would be required.

Mr. Lobisco and Mr. Yahn requested that we furnish cost statistics and problem areas which we have encountered for their discussions with NARS.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter to the Department showing results of the above survey and retention restriction be approved and sent.

DESTRUCTION OF CERTAIN FBI
AND OTHER REPORTS

By memorandum captioned as above, dated September 20, 1977, you advised of your intention to destroy certain files on sitting Federal judges and on the Attorney General. You requested to be advised of any problems raised by the proposed file destruction.

The proposed destruction of your copies of the reports described in your memorandum appears to be a matter within your discretion assuming that you have determined that the Records Disposition Schedule of the Department would allow such destruction.

One point should be made concerning the destruction of these reports. Your memorandum indicates that you are relying on the fact that the FBI has the original copies of all of these reports. At this time this assumption is correct, although some of these documents may have been reduced to microfilm. However, by memorandum to the Attorney General dated September 15, 1977, captioned "File Destruction" you were advised of a new Records Disposition Schedule developed by the FBI after consultation with representatives from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). That plan, which is currently pending approval with NARS, would authorize the destruction of FBI Headquarters applicant-type investigative files after thirty years and the destruction of FBI Headquarters criminal files after ten years. Although certain records which meet NARS criteria as being of sufficient historical interest may be retained beyond these periods, informal contact with NARS has indicated that there is no assurance that all background investigations of Federal judges would be retained. Additionally, as was explained in detail in our memorandum to the Attorney General of September 15, 1977, after approval of the pending

Records Disposition Schedule, we intend to seek authority to further reduce the retention period for FBI Headquarters criminal files to five years.

Therefore, you should not rely on the FBI to retain copies of these reports indefinitely and, in fact, under our proposed record retention plan it is possible that such records could be destroyed while a judge is still on the bench.

NOTE: This responds to a memorandum from the Associate Attorney General, dated 9/20/77, advising of the Department's intention to destroy certain categories of investigative reports. This response was coordinated with the Records Management Division and the Special Investigative Division.

SUBJECT: Destruction of Certain FBI Investigative and Other Reports

By direction of the Attorney General, I have been requested to destroy all reports with respect to character investigations conducted by the FBI on all sitting Federal judges and on the Attorney General. This would also include the destruction of any administrative inquiry reports and criminal investigative files.

It is understood that you retain originals on all of these files, and it is felt there is insufficient need for us to retain our copies.

If you see any problem, I would appreciate your advice as soon as possible so that we may begin our destruction process.

ON SITTING FEDERAL JUDGES

GENERAL

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY -

As a result of informal meetings with Mr. Lobisco and Mr. Robert A. Yahn regarding the need to recover background investigations on sitting Federal judges, we requested the names of 25 judges in order to determine the time and cost involved to complete and furnish this data on approximately 850 judges. We have completed the sampling and are furnishing the results for your further discussions with representatives of the National Archives and Records Service.

We have estimated that, by assigning two employees we could complete the project well within six months at a cost of $12,000. Although no major problems were encountered during the sampling, clarification was required to identify exact documents since an occasional criminal investigation or similarly unrelated background investigation would surface. That facet appears to be resolved at this point. The remaining area of concern would relate to the continued retention for five years for files from which documents are released, in the event that our pending disposal schedule is approved. The continued retention would not impose a serious hardship, however, since the proposed retention period is 30 years and many of the files would not have reached their maturity.

I am hopeful that this information is adequate for you to reach a final determination. In the event we can be of further assistance, do not hesitate to contact us. 1979

SUBJECT: ~~CANNIBALIZATION OF~~ UNREPAIRABLE PHOTOGRAPHIC EQUIPMENT

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL

PURPOSE:

To obtain Bureau authorization to cannibalize certain unrepairable photographic equipment consisting of cameras, lenses, and miscellaneous photographic accessories.

DETAILS:

The attached list of photographic equipment is unrepairable and it is requested that this equipment be cannibalized and used for parts to repair and maintain other equipment in current use; thereby, effecting the greatest economy and utilization of the equipment currently on inventory. Parts are unavailable for the equipment from any known source which could be utilized for repair of this equipment at an economically feasible cost. Equipment listed without GPN numbers was received from the field and we have been unable to locate any in the records available to us.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is requested that the Bureau authorize the cannibalization of the listed photographic equipment.

Pursuant to the Attorney General's instructions of 6/6/77 that all files related to pending litigation must be preserved, Legal Counsel Division has provided Records Management Division (RMD) with pertinent information regarding pending civil litigation and Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts litigation cases. RMD has subsequently provided this information to field offices and Legal Attaches for appropriate searching and identification. A similar process is conducted at Headquarters.

To insure that all pertinent subjects related to the cases are duly recorded, two individual attachments which have previously been forwarded for searching and retention purposes are attached herewith for record processing.

of this program and responsibilities of the respective components. The document is self-explanatory and a copy is attached herewith.

Our comments regarding DOJ 2710 were previously sought and, on 4/16/79, we furnished the Office of Management and Finance copies of three disposal schedules which are currently in a pending status. DOJ 2710.9 requires that future requests for disposition authority (Standard Form 115) be directed to the Records Management Group (now Records and Publications Staff) as opposed to the previous policy of submitting our requests directly to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). Mr. Yahn did make an exception to this requirement for individual cases related to the Privacy Act of 1974 which will continue to be submitted directly to NARS.

Order

DOJ 2710.9

July 10, 1979

Subject: RECORDS DISPOSITION PROGRAM

1. PURPOSE. This order establishes a program for the disposition of records of the Department of Justice (DOJ) in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 3102 and the General Services Administration Federal Property Management Regulations.

2. SCOPE. This order applies to all components of the DOJ.

3. PROGRAM OBJECTIVES. The basic objectives of the records disposition program are:

   a. The timely and systematic removal of records deemed temporary by the creating component, the Department and the Government for later destruction by the Department or a Federal Archives and Records Center.

   b. The designation of permanent records having sufficient historical and archival values to warrant immediate or later transfer to the National Archives for permanent preservation.

4. RESPONSIBILITIES.

   a. Office of Management and Finance. The Records Management Group (RMG), Administrative Programs Management Staff (APMS), Office of Management and Finance shall:

      (1) Establish general records disposition policy and standards for the DOJ.

      (2) Act as a liaison with the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for Department program direction.

(3) Review all requests for records disposition authority (Standard Form 115) which are originated by Offices, Boards, Divisions and Bureaus and submit them to NARS for approval.

(4) Provide assistance and advice on records disposition matters to officials throughout the Department.

(5) Evaluate the Department's program periodically to ensure its operation at peak efficiency.

b. Offices, Boards, Divisions and Bureaus. Each Office, Board, Division and Bureau shall:

(1) Implement policy and standards for records disposition set forth in guidance published by the Department and the General Services Administration (Federal Property Management Regulations). Submit any supplementary program guidance to RMG for review prior to issuance (Offices, Boards, and Divisions only).

(2) Submit all requests for records disposition authority (Standard Form 115) to NARS via RMG.

(3) Ensure timely removal from office space and equipment of noncurrent records.

(4) Encourage the use of Federal records centers as storage facilities for records with reduced reference activity.

(5) Ensure that records of archival value are identified properly for eventual transfer to NARS.

(6) Establish a central point for approval or disapproval of all requisitions for filing equipment by evaluating need and by checking compliance with authorized records disposition instructions.

(7) Provide adequate staff to carry out program responsibilities.

(8) Ensure that program staff are adequately trained in coordination with RMG.

5. DESIGNATION OF RECORDS DISPOSITION LIAISON. Each Office, Board, Division and Bureau shall designate a records disposition liaison officer to serve as the primary contact point for the component, including its field offices, and advise RMG in writing of the name of that individual.

DETAILS: Referenced memorandum advised that the article appearing in the Washington Post on Friday, 1/11/80, dealing with file destruction was incorrect in its content. The Honorable Harold H. Greene, Judge, U. S. District Court, Washington, D.C., issued a temporary injunction on the destruction of all FBI files and records effective 1/10/80. This order evolved from the Civil Action Suit #79-1655, filed by the American Friends Service Committee, et al., v. William H. Webster, et al. V-16 DE-57 66-3286-1343

The Washington Post article stated "Greene said that from 1946 to 1976 not a single Archives employee saw any FBI documents before they were destroyed." While this statement is part of the opinion issued by the Judge, it is without further clarification and, therefore, misleading and incorrect.

On page 8 of the opinion, it is stated "The Archivist took action with respect to FBI records on four occasions during that 30-year period" (1946 - 1976). On page 9, the opinion further states "During that entire period, neither in connection with the approval of the various plans and schedules, nor during the interim years, did a single employee of the Archives see a single FBI file."

As indicated above, the issue before the court dealt with only four occasions wherein the Archivist took action and, therefore, the opinion of the court is correct in that no employee of the Archives reviewed the files. It is noted, however, that a footnote in the opinion advised that there were several minor actions concerning the destruction of administrative materials. The Post article taken out of context would imply that no NARS employee had ever seen a single FBI file over a period of 30 years. Memoranda contained in Headquarters files and previously reported in referenced memorandum clearly show that NARS employees during this 30-year period did, in fact, see FBI files that were not a matter of issue before the court in this particular case.

It is, therefore, the conclusion of the Records Management Division that the opinion of Judge Greene is correct as it deals with the four occasions of NARS action over the 30-year period. However, the Washington Post article taken out of context and without clarification is incorrect. Testimony given by Mr. James W. Awe, former Section Chief, Records Management Division, during the hearing supported the fact that NARS employees had during the questionable period reviewed files in several instances, however, dates and individuals involved could not be recalled by the witness.

"American Protective League" indicates that NARS representatives examined records contained in 11 cabinets and took approximately one-fourth of a drawer of records as a representative sample suitable for preservation. During a time frame of 1969-1971, a study was conducted by representatives of NARS in making an evaluation of Records Management Programs of the Department of Justice (DOJ) including the FBI. During this study, representatives were furnished access to records for their review and appraisal. This is substantiated by memorandum dated 4/23/70, from Mr. Tavel to Mr. Mohr captioned "General Services Administration Evaluation of DOJ Records Management Program.

In 1978, NARS representatives conducted a study for the specific purpose of resolving three issues.

1. Application of current disposal authority for field office investigative files
2. Reporting requirements and the FBI Central Records System
3. Headquarters and field office investigative files: a comparison. Visits to three major FBI field offices (New York City, Chicago, and Washington, D. C.) covered a full range of investigative matters - criminal, security and applicant cases followed by a subsequent review of FBIHQ files of the same cases resulting in a detailed comparison of the records for each case.

The conclusions of this study were reported in December 1978 and are as follows:

1. The FBI program for disposition of field office investigative files conforms fully with the disposition instuctions approved by NARS.
2. Although FBI reporting procedures vary according to type of investigation, the procedures do provide for submission of full accounts of field office actions in substantive investigations.
3. On the basis of examination of the records, FBI field offices investigative files do not have sufficient historical or other research value to warrant permanent retention.

In view of the above, it is the opinion of Records Management Division that the attached newspaper article is incorrect and slanted.

A detailed analysis and review of the temporary restraining order on file and records destruction will be made by the Legal Counsel Division and submitted by separate memorandum.

Judge Blocks FBI From Destroying 30 Years of Documents in Archives

By Kenneth Bredemeier
Washington Post Staff Writer

A federal judge here yesterday blocked the FBI and National Archives officials from destroying as many as a billion FBI documents the agency has collected over the last 30 years, many of them records that historians, alleged victims of FBI abuses, and others say should be preserved.

District Court Judge Harold H. Greene said that U.S. archivists over the last three decades, despite a congressionally approved mandate, have abdicated their authority to review FBI documents before the FBI destroys them.

The judge found that the FBI has destroyed millions of files without the required review to see if the documents are of historical interest or valuable to people trying to prove they were wronged by some FBI action.

The judge gave the FBI, Archives officials and other federal recordkeepers 90 days to consult with historians and others, devise a plan to review the FBI documents, and get it approved by Greene before any further destruction of documents.

Greene ruled in a case brought by 11 civil-liberties, religious, peace and historian groups as well as 40 individuals, including Daniel Ellsberg, who leaked the Pentagon Papers, author Jessica Mitford, activist Angela Davis, and Michael and Robert Meeropol, sons of executed spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

One of their lawyers, Marshall Perlin of New York, said the intent of the suit was "not to save every scrap of paper," but rather to systematically review documents before they are lost forever.

He said that among the 750 million to one billion FBI documents are World War II Selective Service case files, political surveillance records, and papers dealing with the FBI's illegal wiretapping and "black bag" break-ins.

Greene said that from 1968 to 1978, not a single Archives employee saw any FBI documents before they were destroyed. "All decisions were made on the basis of representations of the FBI—representations which . . . were in some respects incorrect, and in all respects unverified," the judge said.

Some Archives officials testified at a hearing that they were capable of acting on FBI document-destruction plans without seeing the papers to be destroyed.

"The court finds those representations to be wholly incredible," Greene said.

Re: PROCEDURES FOR PERFECTING REQUESTS TO CORRECT, AMEND OR DESTROY RECORDS IN THE FBI CENTRAL RECORDS SYSTEM

Information maintained in the FBI central records system, to the extent it is subject to exemption pursuant to Title 5, United States Code, Section 552a (j)(2) and (k)(2), is exempt from the correction and amendment provisions of the Privacy Act. However, it is the policy of this bureau to consider each such request on an individual basis in order to reach an equitable determination consistent with the best interests of both the individual and the Government.

Where we agree to amend a record on request, any one of the following actions may be required:

(1) Total destruction - Separate National Archives and Records Service (NARS) authority must be obtained, where headquarters and field office files do not meet automatic destruction criteria.

(2) Partial expunction (i.e., words, phrases, serials) - authority contained in Federal Personnel Manual Records Bulletin - 74(B-74)(66-3286-1285). No additional authorization is required.

(3) Notation of dispute - Letters of explanation provided by the requester concerning original records in file. File cover will be stamped to note serial containing the notation of dispute.

(4) Serial removal - Serial removal for return to submitting agency at their request. Permanent serial charge-out will be inserted to insure integrity of files.

Each category will require review of files, index cards, abstracts (in records prior to 10/16/79), excised documents, note on "yellow", and copies directed to other files to insure that both the original and all derivative records have been corrected, amended, or destroyed.

Similar action will be required for Official Personnel Files, and each case will be handled separately.

Re: PROCEDURES FOR PERFECTING REQUESTS TO CORRECT, AMEND OR DESTROY RECORDS IN THE FBI CENTRAL RECORDS SYSTEM

The Field Coordination and Appeals Unit, FOIPA Branch, will continue to advise recipient agencies and field offices of necessary corrections, amendments, or destructions on limited bases. However, designated employees of the Consolidation subunit and Personnel Records, in compliance with the following procedures, will effect the actual correction, amendment, or destruction action.

(a) Procedures for making the requester's notation of dispute a matter of record.

(1) Requester's incoming letter and any enclosures, along with our response, are to be individually serialized into AIMS (red serial) and filed in the requester's 190 file.

(2) Copies of the serialized letters are to be filed in the designated substantive Bufiles as green serials, after serialization into AIMS.

(3) The outside of the jacket is to be stamped "File contains notation of dispute, substance of which must be included with any disclosure of the disputed information." The purpose of this notation is to bring to the attention of any reviewer that disputed information has been filed and must be taken into account. This is a requirement of subsections (c)(4) and (d)(4) of the Privacy Act.

Certain corrections may be required on the serials or main files, to which the letters are added. These changes will be minor in nature, such as birth date, birthplace, street addresses, etc.

(b) Procedures for amendment, and/or total destruction action.

(1) Requester's incoming letter and any enclosures, along with our response are to be individually serialized into

CONTINUED - OVER

AIMS (red serial) and filed in the requester's 190 file.

(2) The litigation printout sheet is to be reviewed to insure there is no pending litigation involving the requester.

(3) Amendment or destruction action requested on the worksheet, form 4-727, is taken.

(c) Pursuant to subsections (c)(4) and (d)(4), all prior recipients of the affected record must be notified of the notation of dispute, amendment, or destruction action taken. This will be complied with by utilization of form 4-728, memorandum, or letter.

(1) Form 4-728 should be utilized to inform the appropriate field division(s) of the action(s) taken at FBIHQ. The field division(s) must comply with this action if the division still maintains the document(s) or file(s). Insure that the 190 Bureau file number and subject's name are on the form. When this form is returned to FBIHQ it must be serialized into AIMS as a red serial.

(2) All outside, prior recipients of the affected records must be apprised of our action. In these instances, a memorandum will be utilized if the prior recipient is a Federal agency, and a letter will be utilized if the agency is outside the Federal community. These outgoing memoranda or letters will be serialized into AIMS as red serials.

pertaining to requests for and issuance and destuction of badges and identification cards for support and service personnel. The correspondence is accumulated through the exchange of correspondence between FBIHQ and field offices, generally through the use of Forms FD-464, FD-523, 7-152a, r/s FD-4, and Optional Form 10. The correspondence has been routinely processed and sent to Bureau file 62-12846. The Property Procurement and Management Section has questioned the need to retain records of this nature.

General Records Schedule #11, Item 4, (copy attached) provides for the disposal of this material. Through the use of this authority, correspondence will be destroyed after credentials are accounted for. Initially, field offices, with the exception of Alexandria, Baltimore, Newark, New York, and WFO, were advised by airtel, 8/3/79, on procedures to follow on the issuances of new credentials. Copies of all outgoing communications have been placed in file. One copy will be retained with above exceptions noted thereon and the remainder removed from file and destroyed. Proper notation of the disposal will be affixed to the retained communication. Hereafter, correspondence of this nature will be retained within the Property Procurement and Management Section or the Special Projects Section until credentials are accounted for. In addition to above outgoing communications, Index Subunit, RMD, will remove and destroy correspondence which has accumulated relative to this program.

Property Procurement and Management Section and the Special Projects Section are reminded, however, that any destruction of FBI records is prohibited as result of preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene and all records should be retained until this matter is resolved.

ITEM NO.	DESCRIPTION OF RECORDS	RECOMMENDED METHOD OF FILING	AUTHORIZED DISPOSITION
	b. Receipts, indices, listings and accountable records.	Conform to agency practice.	Dispose after all listed credentials are accounted for.
5.	Requests for building and equipment maintenance services, excluding fiscal copies.	Numerically by control or requisition number.	Dispose 3 months after work performed or requisition cancelled.

Item 1. These are routine files with related data reflecting the activities of the service operation group in administering its internal management and operation. Policy documentation is normally reflected in files at higher administrative levels. The records are maintained a sufficient period to satisfy administrative needs and have no other significant values.

Item 2. These files accumulate in the process of assigning and utilizing agency space. Reports are submitted to General Services Administration as directed by the Federal Property and Administrative Service Act of 1949, and GSA Real Property Management Regulation No. 3. Administrative needs have been met after the lapse of period indicated and the value of summary records held by the General Services Administration reflecting Government-wide trends and policies must be determined separately.

Item 3. The memoranda, completed questionnaires, forms and reports are accumulated in the compilation of directory service listings and are of temporary value after issuance or publication of listing. They are held long enough to satisfy administrative needs.

Item 4. These records relate to the issuance of and accountability for identification credentials, issued to individuals. The credentials themselves and the related control records have little value after they have served their immediate purpose.

Item 5. Requests for maintenance service normally originate in the operating units. Their purpose is served and they have little further value when the services which they request have been performed or the request has been cancelled.

at Headquarters and in the field offices. Accordingly, on 1/11 and 14/80, all offices were advised to discontinue all destruction programs. The Opinion issued by Judge Greene requires the FBI to observe this moratorium on destruction until the FBI and NARS have formulated a records retention plan and disposal schedules for both Headquarters and field office files and the submissions are approved by the Court. In order to initiate this project, NARS has furnished a copy of their action plan (attached herewith) which is self-explanatory.

Basically, the NARS appraisal will encompass a review of all file classifications, the policy files in each classification, and the investigative and administrative manuals. The Headquarter's examination is scheduled for 3/31/80 - 6/27/80 and the field office review for 7/7/80 - 8/22/80. Eight appraisers and a team leader will review the records and discuss their findings with three consultants (historians/archivists). Through concerted efforts by the FBI and NARS, the retention plan and disposition schedules will be submitted to Judge Greene in January 1981.

Efforts are being made to insure that security clearances for the appraisers are adequate; that informant, financial, and tax data will be restricted; that knowledgable personnel will be available to assist the appraisers; and that this operation is completed to the satisfaction of all concerned parties. You will be advised of important aspects of this review as they occur.

1. N briefs consultants and appraisers on their functions and responsibilities

2. LR provides briefing on status of court case, including order and opinion of the court

3. FBI provides briefing on its method of operation and its recordkeeping system

4. NC provides briefing on the proposal for developing a retention plan and disposition schedule for FBI records

J. Consultants review proposal and provide comments/concurrence on procedures for appraising FBI records — Apr 23-May 2

K. N approves final proposal — May 2

II. Implementing the program

A. Program requirements

1. Retention plan and disposition standards will cover headquarters and field office records (note that the FBI Central Records System, which covers investigative records, also incorporates administrative and facilitative records)

2. Retention plan and disposition schedule will take classification by classification approach to records (FBI Central Records System has 209 primary classifications of records)

3. Appraisers will examine headquarters and field office records within each classification

4. Investigative records appraised as permanently valuable will include, at a minimum, "office or origin" files in the field as well as headquarters files

5. The criteria and procedures for selection of cases for permanent retention will permit only minimal discretion of FBI personnel in applying the criteria and making the selection

B. Actions by [redacted]S appraisers in developing a retention plan for FBI records

1. Receive a briefing from GSA and FBI representatives (see I above for detail) — Mar 6-7

2. Survey the Central Records System — Mar 10-21

a. Review FBI investigative and and administrative manuals for understanding of procedures for creating, maintaining, and disseminating records

b. Examine administrative ("00") files within each classification of the Central Records System for information on function and content of the system's 209 classifications

3. Review the demand for FBI records, particularly demand under Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts — Mar 24-28

4. Examine headquarters and field records (as many individual files as are necessary for obtaining an accurate appraisal) for each of the 209 classifications of the Central Records System

a. Examine headquarters files on classification by classification basis using four two-person teams of appraisers — Mar 31-June 27

(1) Ca. 115 classifications involve routine appraisals and each each will require examination by only one team of appraisers (29 classifications per team): completion will take 15 workdays — Mar 31-Apr 18

(2) Ca. 73 classifications involve difficult appraisals but each will require examination by only one team of appraisers (18 classifications per team): completion will take 25 workdays — Apr 21-May 23

(3) Ca. 21 classifications involve complex appraisals, given controversial content and massive volume of records, and each will require examination by two teams of appraisers (10 classifications per team): completion will take 25 workdays — May 27-June 27

b. Review preliminary findings and recommendations with consulting historians/archivists	June 30-July 3
c. Examine field records at three different field offices (classifications involving difficult or complex appraisals will be examined at two or three field offices, while remaining classifications will be examined at only one field office)	July 7-Aug 22
(1) Washington, DC - each of 208 classifications require examination (52 classifications per team): completion will take 25 workdays	July 7-Aug 8
(2) New York City - ca. 58 classifications require examination (15 classifications per team): completion will take 5 workdays	Aug 11-15
(3) Los Angeles - ca. 57 classifications require examination (15 classifications per team): completion will take 5 workdays	Aug 18-22
d. Review findings and recommendations with consulting historians/archivists	Aug 25-29
e. Collect necessary documentation during examination of records to support appraisal judgments of a classification by classification basis (e.g., volume of records at headquarters and field, number of files examined, types of cases within the classification, content of files, etc.)
5. Compare, through use of FARC professional staff, "auxiliary office" and "office of origin" field office files for same cases to determine whether contents of "auxiliary office" files duplicate contents of "office of origin" files (ca. 30 percent of field office files, in terms of volume, are "auxiliary office" files)	July 7-Aug 22
6. Draft the following documents	Sep 2-Oct 10

a. [redacted]ention plan for headquarters [redacted]d field office records, fully justifying and documenting appraisal judgments for each classification of the Central Records System and incorporating provisions for conducting periodic inspections of the FBI's retention program for permanently valuable records (FPRM 101-11.403-4(e))

b. A report outlining the retention plan and describing the project of compiling it

7. Submit report and retention plan to consulting historians/archivists and Advisory Council subcommittee for comments/concurrence — Oct 14-31

8. Submit report and retention plan to N for approval and transmittal to FBI — Nov 3-7

C. Actions by FBI in developing a records disposition schedule based on NARS retention plan — Nov 10-Dec 19

1. Establish following elements of the disposition schedule

a. Retention periods for temporary records

b. Provisions for offering permanent records for transfer to NARS once they reach a specific age

c. Specific procedures for implementing any provisions of retention plan providing for selection of permanently valuable records

2. Submit disposition schedule to NARS for review and concurrence

D. Submission of retention plan and disposition schedule to Judge Harold H. Greene, United States District Court, for approval — Jan 1981

ELSUR; DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

PURPOSE:

To obtain approval to submit an appropriate schedule to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) to allow the destruction of FBIHQ ELSUR Index cards that specifically and only relate to field office files subject to destruction.

SYNOPSIS:

Archival authorization has previously been secured for field office criminal records over five years old, security-related records over ten years old, and auxiliary office records over six months old. It appears that separate authority should be sought for ELSUR records to specifically define the retention period for field office files and indices and the FBIHQ ELSUR indices. A ten-year retention period is being requested for all ELSUR records including those related to criminal investigations.

RECOMMENDATION:

That, upon approval of this memorandum, the attached copies of Standard Form 115 be returned to the Records Branch for subsequent referral to NARS and the attached letter to the Department be approved and sent.

Memorandum F. L. Andrews to Mr. Bailey
RE: ELSUR; DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

DETAILS:

In October, 1966, the Director instructed field offices to prepare two special index cards on all persons monitored electronically since 1/1/60, and forward one of these index cards to FBIHQ. The index cards forwarded to FBIHQ are now reposed in what is known as the FBIHQ ELSUR Index. In November, 1966, as a result of an opinion of the Department of Justice (DOJ), names of persons mentioned or discussed were likewise indexed. The practice of indexing the names of persons mentioned or discussed was discontinued as a result of a later reversing opinion of the DOJ.

As time went on, instructions have been sent out to the field requiring other ELSUR index cards be made identifying persons targeted in wiretaps and microphone surveillances as well as identifying locations and/or telephones targeted and those persons owning, leasing or licensing premises monitored. Each and every one of the above-described index cards, be they overhear; mentioned; principals or proprietary interest cards, are cards prepared in field offices in duplicate and thereafter one copy is sent to FBIHQ. All of these ELSUR Index cards maintained at FBIHQ access records that are maintained in field offices. These ELSUR Index cards were not ever intended to nor are they used to access FBIHQ files. The useful purpose of these cards is to enable FBIHQ to quickly identify a field office or field offices in reference to a given name, that should be contacted to determine if in fact the person that is subject of an inquiry was of electronic surveillance interest or monitored in the field. By having a copy of each card at FBIHQ, the necessity of contacting all field offices each time a court raises a question is eliminated. In other words these FBIHQ ELSUR Index cards are a duplication of each initial reference in each field office and therefore an extension of the field office ELSUR Indices.

On 7/13/79, Deputy Assistant Attorney General Robert L. Keuch orally authorized the destruction of field office ELSUR records and tapes unless otherwise restricted from destruction because of litigation, court order, Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts review or appeal provided those records are more than ten years old regardless of whether in the area of National security, consensual, Title III or criminal intelligence. Mr. Keuch agreed that the Title III records cannot be destroyed until procedures are established in the near future to insure the statutory requirements regarding destruction are thoroughly defined and thereafter implemented. Mr. Keuch's opinion is being confirmed in writing.

Title 18, United States Code (USC) Section 2518(8) in referring to the destruction of the contents of any wire or oral communications intercepted according to that statute states that none of the contents of the intercepted communications, original court orders or original applications for orders can be destroyed unless ordered by the issuing or the denying judge and must be kept in any event for ten years.

As a result of the discussions with Mr. Keuch coupled with the above-cited provisions of Title 18, USC Section 2518(8), Mr. Keuch has indicated that destruction of field files and records regarding ELSUR matters should be limited to those files and records ten years old or older provided they are not otherwise restricted from destruction by law, litigation or otherwise. This ten-year rule would apply to all ELSUR records including those related to criminal investigations. It is noted that the previous field file and records destruction program regarding criminal files and records was five years for origin and six months for auxiliary offices.

The current publication in the "Federal Register" cites the ELSUR Index as a system of records of the FBI where in actuality the ELSUR Index is only a specific means to access the central records system (in the field) and identify those files containing ELSUR information. All ELSUR records in the field are maintained as a part of an investigative file and are not separate records in and of themselves.

In the event the ten-year plan for destruction of ELSUR files and records becomes a reality, it will be incumbent upon each field office destroying those records to likewise destroy the ELSUR Index cards in that office.

By the same token, it becomes necessary to have the field office purging ELSUR Index cards send the purged cards to FBIHQ to use them to purge the companion cards maintained at FBIHQ. Failure to do so would leave index cards in the FBIHQ ELSUR Index that would lead a searcher to no existing record. It is understood that the purge and destruction of those ELSUR Index cards maintained at FBIHQ only ten years old or older would be in violation of current destruction regulations pertaining to Headquarters records and files.

No accurate estimate of the volume of the index cards at FBIHQ and in the field nor of the volume of the files and records in the field containing ELSUR information liable for eventual destruction is possible at this time. This is due to the fact that short of a file-by-file review in the field, those files containing ELSUR information are not identified until they are otherwise subject to review for destruction. It is noted, however, that FBIHQ ELSUR indices constitute 27.4 cubic feet of records.

In order to insure compliance with existing regulations, it is necessary to obtain NARS' approval to amend the field office destruction authority and to destroy the FBIHQ ELSUR index cards that are companion to and therefore a duplication of those references being destroyed in the field. In order to secure authorization, the appropriate number of copies of Standard Form 115 have been completed and are attached herewith for submission to NARS. We do not anticipate immediate approval of the attached disposal schedule; however, receipt of the schedule will alert NARS to a situation which could be addressed during their forthcoming review of FBI files and records and considered a part of any retention/ destruction plan that is established.

The Deputy Attorney General
Attention: Mr. Robert L. Keuch

April 15, 1980

Director, FBI

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS:
ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE
(ELSUR) MATTERS

This will confirm an oral opinion by Deputy Assistant Attorney General Robert L. Keuch on July 13, 1979, furnished to Supervisory Special Agent [redacted] Records Management Division, FBI Headquarters (FBIHQ). On the above date Mr. Keuch advised that, as a result of the termination of the project involving FBI review of prior responses to Department requests involving the search of FBI ELSUR records, the FBI should at this time address the matter of retention of ELSUR records in FBI field offices. b6 b7C

Mr. Keuch stated it was his opinion that no ELSUR records otherwise eligible for destruction should be destroyed until more than ten years old. This would serve to standardize the destruction of ELSUR records field-wide. Mr. Keuch noted that Title III requires retention for ten years and thereafter destruction can only occur with the permission of the court. He noted the Department has already ruled no National Security tapes or related ELSUR records can be destroyed unless more than ten years old.

Mr. Keuch was advised that ELSUR records which are related to pending litigation, or are under Freedom of Information or Privacy Act review or otherwise being subjected to review by Congress will not be destroyed until such time as authorized.

In addition, a discussion followed as to the proper method to destroy Title III tapes and records since the FBI now has a few more than ten years old. Mr. Keuch requested a suggested procedure be provided by the FBI for the destruction of those records and he, at the same time, would generate a review of the law within the Department with emphasis toward standardizing the destruction procedure involving Title III tapes and records Government-wide.

Pursuant to the opinion of Mr. Keuch, the FBI will begin the destruction of ELSUR records in the field more than ten years old according to accepted guidelines provided by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS). The FBI is presently contacting NARS to obtain disposal authority for the ELSUR records. We do not anticipate immediate approval of the disposal schedule; however, receipt of the schedule will alert NARS to a situation which could be addressed during their forthcoming review of FBI files and records and considered a part of any retention/destruction plan that is established. ELSUR records involved in pending litigation, being reviewed pursuant to Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts requests, or involving National Security matters or otherwise restricted from destruction will not be destroyed. Title III records will not be destroyed until specific guidelines are adopted for the destruction of such records.

The Deputy Attorney General

NOTE: In early 1978, as a result of internal audits conducted at Headquarters and in the field, a concern was developed that the ELSUR indexing in the past had been less than complete. The New York Office inspection in April, 1978, confirmed this suspicion, and a series of discussions were then held with Mr. Keuch in an effort to resolve whether legal damage could have, or did in fact, result.

A lengthy course of action was agreed upon between the FBI and Mr. Keuch and the final phase of the course of action included reviewing all of the previous requests from the Department involving the searching of records pertaining to electronic surveillance.

This final phase was addressed as a project and is the project referred to in this memorandum. The results of that project were furnished to Mr. Keuch by memorandum dated July 30, 1979, and that memorandum was provided to Mr. Keuch to confirm his opinion on July 13, 1979, that the project be discontinued, inasmuch as after completion of more than 40 per cent of the total project, no errors were identified in previous responses.

Confirmation of the opinion of Mr. Keuch was not submitted earlier in order to address questions raised internally regarding the ability of the FBI to respond to matters currently in litigation or in future litigation, particularly as litigative matters pertaining to file destruction. Questions raised internally have been resolved, therefore, it is timely to forward memorandum to Mr. Keuch.

RECORDS DISPOSITION PROGRAM

Reference is made to Order DOJ 2710.9A which establishes a program for the disposition of records of the Department of Justice in accordance with current Federal regulations. The Order has been reviewed and this Bureau concurs with the contents.

In connection with the Order, attached herewith, for the information of the Records Management Group, Records and Publications Staff, is a copy of the disposal schedule relating to Uniform Crime Reporting records which was previously delivered directly to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) and is now awaiting final refinements by NARS personnel. A separate disposal schedule which relates to Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records is attached for submission to NARS.

sex and race; and law enforcement employees assaulted or killed by population group. 14 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION: Past issues are available through the U.S. Government Printing Office. A limited number of issues will be retained indefinitely for reference purposes.

B. The Quarterly UCR reports (preliminary release).

Published quarterly to provide crime trends in the U. S., regions, counties and cities and crime counts within cities with 100,000 or more inhabitants. Since the releases are followed by the annual publication, lengthy retention periods are unnecessary.

DISPOSITION: Destroy with exception of current and previous year.

C. "Crime in the United States" manuscript.

Prepared by UCR in handwritten copy, typed copy, and data processing printouts with proof/edit symbols. Manuscript is used by the Government Printing Office to compile the annual publication and returned. 5 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION: Retain 5 years after publication of annual and destroy.

D. UCR handbook

Published to aid contributors to the UCR Program in the preparation of Uniform Crime Reports. Publication is revised and reprinted whenever significant changes in definitions became effective. Related records include the manuscript. Less than 1 cubic foot.

7. ITEM NO	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO	10. ACTION TAKEN

DISPOSITION of handbook: Limited number retained indefinitely for reference value.

DISPOSITION of manuscript: Retained until subsequent edition is printed.

E. The Return A reports.

Contains the number of offenses reported to local law enforcement, the number later proved to be unfounded, the number of actual offenses, the number of offenses cleared by arrest and the number of offenses cleared wherein persons under 18 years of age were involved. Actual offense and clearance data are entered into the FBI Data Processing (DP) System and printed onto quarterly and yearly record cards. Offense data are printed in quarterly releases and the annual publication. The clearance data are reported in the annual publication. 56 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION of Return A reports: Retain 18 months and destroy.

DISPOSITION of record cards: Microfilm after 30 months and destroy.

F. Supplementary Homicide Reports (SHR)

Used to collect data concerning murder victims and offenders, weapon used, relationship of victim to offender, motives, justifiable/unfounded homicides and manslaughters by negligence. Data regarding murders is recorded in the FBI/DP system and reported in the annual publication. 28 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION: Hardcopy material is destroyed after 18 months; data is stored on magnetic tape indefinitely.

G. Supplement to Return A reports.

Used to collect more detailed information regarding the number of actual offenses reported on the Return A which include the value of property stolen and recovered. Age, Sex, and Race (ASR) of Persons Arrested reports collect detailed arrest statistics concerning persons arrested by local law enforcement agencies. The Law Enforcement Officers Killed or Assaulted (LEOKA) reports collect the number of local police officers killed or assaulted. The data detail the type of weapon used in the assault, the type of assignment the officer was on at the time of assault, the type of activity in which the officer was engaged and whether the officer was injured. The data collected in Return A, ASR, and LEOKA are entered into the FBI/DP system and printed in the annual publication. Summary record cards are printed annually for each agency's report. 386 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION of reports: Destroy hard-copy material after 18 months.

DISPOSITION of summary record cards: Microfilm and destroy after 30 months.

H. The Law Enforcement Employees report.

Used to collect the number of full-time law enforcement employees by male/female, sworn officers, and civilians. The data are entered into the FBI/DP system and printed in the annual publication. 8 cubic feet.

DISPOSTION: Destroy after 2 years; data for each agency are stored indefinitely on magnetic tape.

I. Population Source Data.

Used to estimate the population of local and county agencies on an annual basis. Estimates are entered into the FBI/DP system. 17.5 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION of source data: Retain for 3 years and destroy.

DISPOSITION of populations ascribed to contributing agency: Microfilm after 30 months and destroy in conjuction with disposition of Return A.

J. Correspondence.

Correspondence with local law enforcement agencies concerning uniform crime reports and records. Material dated from 1930 and is valuable for reference purposes. 56 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION: Retain indefinitely.

K. "Assaults On Federal Officers" publication.

Annual publication initiated in 1972 provides an analysis of the assaults on certain officers and officials of the United States Government to illustrate the hazards facing personnel involved in the enforcement of our laws, the protection of officials, and the prosecution and confinement of law violators. Through the study, agencies may adopt procedures to reduce the frequency of potentially dangerous situations and become more alert to their existence. Information is obtained through reports of investigations conducted by the FBI, the Department of the Treasury, and the United States postal service.

DISPOSITION of annual publication: Retain indefinitely for reference value.

7. ITEM NO	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. SAMPLE OR JOB NO.	10. ACTION TAKEN

DISPOSITION of manuscript: Camera-ready copy destroyed after publication is printed.

DISPOSITION of source documents: Destroy upon distribution of publication. Source documents are copies of reports maintained at FBI, Treasury and Postal Services.

L. "Bomb Summary" publication.

Annual publication first published in 1972 to provide meaningful information on bombing crimes. Information is gathered from FBI field offices and, in the absence of a Federal violation, dependence is placed with the public safety agencies which advise the FBI when such attacks occur. Backup data include the manuscript and Form FD-436 which is used to collect bomb data. 3 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION of annual publication: Retain indefinitely for reference value.

DISPOSITION of manuscript: Camera-ready copy destroyed after publication is printed.

DISPOSITION of Form FD-436: Retain indefinitely for reference value.

M. "Law Enforcement Officers Killed" publication.

Published annually since 1972 to alert law enforcement personnel to types of potentially dangerous situations to aid in the prevention of further line-of-duty deaths. Nearly 15,000 law enforcement agencies contribute monthly to the UCR program and supply preliminary data concerning law enforcement officers killed. FBI field offices report incidents occurring within their jurisdictions and Legal Attache offices provide data on the death of US law enforcement officers on duty abroad. Related records include manuscript and source documents. 10 cubic feet.

DISPOSITION of annual publication: Retain indefinitely for reference value.

DISPOSITION of manuscript: Camera-ready copy destroyed after publication is printed.

DISPOSITION of source documents: Retain indefinitely for reference value.

N. Manual of Police Records.

A concise outline of basic record procedures to provide a guide to law enforcement administrators who are establishing a police records system for the first time or as reference to law enforcement officials seeking to improve on existing recordkeeping tasks. The Manual provides an outline on the records pertinent to complaints, investigations, arrests, dispositions, and closely related matters. Revisions are made only as significant progress is made in the field of police records. Related record is the manuscript. Less than 1 cubic foot.

DISPOSITION of publication: Retain indefinitely for reference value.

DISPOSITION of manuscript: Retained for the most recent issue.

DOJ 2710.9A

Subject: RECORDS DISPOSITION PROGRAM

1. PURPOSE. This order establishes a program for the disposition of records of the Department of Justice (DOJ) in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 3102 and the General Services Administration Federal Property Management Regulations.

2. SCOPE. This order applies to all components of the DOJ.

3. CANCELLATION. DOJ Order 2710.9 is cancelled.

4. DEFINITION OF TERMS.

   a. Records. As defined in the Records Disposal Act of 1943 (now 44 U.S.C. 3301), ". . . books, papers, maps, photographs, machine readable materials, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by an agency of the United States Government under Federal law or in connection with the transaction of public business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by that agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the Government or because of the informational value of data in them. . . ."

   b. Disposition. As described in 41 CFR 101-11.102-5, "provisions. . . made to insure that records of continuing value are preserved but that records no longer of current use to an agency are promptly disposed of or retired. Effective techniques for accomplishing these ends are the development of records control schedules; the transfer of records to records centers and to the National Archives; the microfilming of appropriate records; and the disposal of valueless records."

5. PROGRAM OBJECTIVES. The basic objectives of the records disposition program are:

   a. The timely and systematic removal of records deemed temporary by the creating component, the Department and the Government for later destruction by the Department or a Federal Archives and Records Center.

b. The designation of permanent records having sufficient historical and archival values to warrant immediate or later transfer to the National Archives for permanent preservation.

6. RESPONSIBILITIES.

a. Justice Management Division. The Records Management Group (RMG), Records and Publications Staff (RPS), Justice Management Division shall:

(1) Establish general records disposition policy and standards for the DOJ.

(2) Act as a liaison with the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for Department program direction.

(3) Review all requests for records disposition authority (Standard Form 115) which are originated by Offices, Boards, Divisions and Bureaus and submit them to NARS for approval.

(4) Provide assistance and advice on records disposition matters to officials throughout the Department.

(5) Evaluate the Department's program periodically to ensure its operation at peak efficiency.

b. Offices, Boards, Divisions and Bureaus. Each Office, Board, Division and Bureau shall:

(1) Implement policy and standards for records disposition set forth in guidance published by the Department and the General Services Administration (Federal Property Management Regulations). Submit any supplementary program guidance to RMG for review prior to issuance (Offices, Boards, and Divisions only).

(2) Submit all requests for records disposition authority (Standard Form 115) to NARS via RMG.

(3) Ensure timely removal from office space and equipment of noncurrent records.

(4) Encourage the use of Federal records centers as storage facilities for records with reduced reference activity.

(5) Ensure that records of archival value are identified properly for eventual transfer to NARS.

(6) Establish a central point for approval or disapproval of all requisitions for filing equipment by evaluating need and by checking compliance with authorized records disposition instructions.

(7) Provide adequate staff to carry out program responsibilities.

(8) Ensure that program staff are adequately trained in coordination with RMG.

7. DESIGNATION OF RECORDS DISPOSITION LIAISON. Each Office, Board, Division and Bureau shall designate a records disposition liaison officer to serve as the primary contact point for the component, including its field offices, and advise RMG in writing of the name of that individual. Changes in designation should be reported as soon as possible.

Subject : DESTRUCTION OF PROTECTION TAPE RECORDINGS STORED IN THE SIGNAL ANALYSIS UNIT

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

PURPOSE: To request authorization to destroy tape recordings that are being maintained in the Signal Analysis Unit.

DETAILS: On a yearly basis, the Signal Analysis Unit (SAU) receives approximately 1800 tape recordings from the FBI and other Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies for examination. Usually, the SAU case examiner makes a protection copy of the submitted recording which is stored in the SAU. This protection copy will be used as the next best evidence if anything happens to the original recording as it is being returned to the contributor or to refresh the memory of the case examiner before trial.

At the present time, the SAU has several thousand magnetic tape recordings that are protection copies of tape recordings that have been submitted for examination by various contributors.

Experience indicates that after four years these tape recordings are not normally required. It is being recommended that the SAU be authorized to destroy all of these tape recordings that are over four years old on an annual basis.

RECOMMENDATION: That the SAU be authorized to destroy all protection tape recordings that are over four years old on a yearly basis.

Re: DESTRUCTION OF PROTECTION TAPE
RECORDINGS STORED IN THE SIGNAL
ANALYSIS UNIT

ADDENDUM: LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION (LCD), 3/11/81, CER:

The Technical Services Division (TSD) recommendation to destroy all protection tape recordings that are over four years old, if approved, would be in violation of the preliminary injunction (enjoining the destruction of all FBI files and records) which was issued by Judge Harold H. Greene on 1/10/80, in the case captioned American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al., Civil Action Number 79-1655 (U.S.D.C., D.C.).

These "protection copies" are the only copies that the FBI maintains; they were created in connection with official FBI investigations/examinations; and they constitute documentary materials within the definition of "record" in 44 U.S.C. 3301. They should, therefore, remain incorporated in the FBIHQ Central Records System and be subject to appraisal by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) prior to any destruction being requested. This appraisal is being conducted pursuant to the 1/10/80 Court Order, described supra.

RECOMMENDATION: That the protection tape recordings be furnished to Records Management Division and treated as permanent records subject to appraisal by NARS.

DESTRUCTION OF PROTECTION TAPE
RECORDINGS STORED IN THE SIGNAL
ANALYSIS UNIT

ADDENDUM OF RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (RMD)(RWS:evp 3/23/81)

In accordance with Legal Counsel Division's addendum dated 3/11/81 to instant memorandum, the tapes being retained by the Signal Analysis Unit will be made a bulky enclosure to instant memorandum and stored on the bulky ramp, RMD. The National Archives and Records Service (NARS) will take up the destruction of the tapes described in instant memorandum with the NARS appraisal team who are presently visiting FBIHQ and a four-year retention schedule will be requested. It is anticipated that NARS will develop retention schedules for all FBI records and that after the submission of disposition schedules by FBIHQ to Judge Greene, a records destruction program wil be resumed.

SUBJECT: FILE DESTRUCTION OF [redacted] RECORDS CIVIL ACTION CASES

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide data regarding pending litigation cases for record purposes.

RECOMMENDATION:

None. For record purposes.

APPROVED: [redacted]

DETAILS:

Pursuant to the Attorney General's instructions of 6/6/77, that all files related to pending litigation must be preserved, Legal Counsel Division has provided Records Management Division (RMD) with pertinent information regarding pending civil litigation and Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts litigation cases. RMD has subsequently provided this information to field offices and Legal Attaches for appropriate searching and identification. A similar process is conducted at Headquarters.

To insure that all pertinent subjects related to the cases are duly recorded, an attachment which has previously been forwarded for searching and retention purposes is attached herewith for record processing.

Memo R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Finzel
DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS;
NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS SERVICE (NARS)
APPRAISAL OF FBIHQ AND FIELD RECORDS

DETAILS:

On 2/2/81, Dr. Charles Dollar, Director of the Office of Program Development, NARS, telephonically contacted me to advise that the Archivist desired a new plan for the appraisal of FBIHQ and field records for submission to U. S. District Judge Harold Greene, Washington, D. C., in order to comply with Judge Greene's Opinion and Order dated 1/10/80. Dr. Dollar stated that the Archivist desired a more detailed plan than had been previously developed by NARS in early 1980. Dr. Dollar requested to personally meet with me at FBIHQ in order to discuss the methodology for the conduct of the NARS appraisal.

On 2/3/81, I met with Dr. Dollar at FBIHQ. Also present were [redacted] Chief of the Records Research Staff and Miss [redacted] Records Management Division Archivist and Historian. Dr. Dollar stated that the Archivist had set a 4/1/81 deadline for the development of an appraisal plan for submission to Judge Greene. Dr. Dollar stated that if Judge Green approved the appraisal plan, NARS hoped to commence their appraisal by 4/15/81. Dr. Dollar noted that the Archivist considered that an impartial, professional NARS appraisal of FBI records was one of the most important tasks ever undertaken by NARS, in that the credibility and authority of NARS were at stake. I informed Dr. Dollar that the FBI was extremely desirous of assisting NARS in any way possible in their appraisal of FBI records and the development of a records retention schedule. I pointed out to Dr. Dollar that the long delay by NARS in commencing with their appraisal, which had been caused by NARS' adamant stand over access to Internal Revenue (IRS) and Grand Jury (6E) information contained in our files, had caused considerable hardship and expense, both to FBIHQ and the field. As an example, I informed Dr. Dollar that, because of security considerations, it had been necessary to retire a large volume of inactive records holdings to FBIHQ, which normally would be eligible for destruction, from certain Legal Attache Offices situated in sensitive locations. Dr. Dollar stated he was sympathetic to the FBI's position and promised to do everything possible to expedite the NARS appraisal of our records holdings and the development of a retention schedule acceptable to the court which would permit us to resume destruction. Dr. Dollar advised that a seven member NARS task force had been formed to develop the methodology for the development of an appraisal plan.

Dr. Dollar requested that the task force be provided a general briefing on the FBI's Central Records System and afforded an appropriate tour of Records Management Division's filing and mail processing subunits. He also requested that statistical data be compiled with regard to the volume of records at FBIHQ by classification and also the total number of cases in each classification. A briefing and tour was arranged for Dr. Dollar and his task force for the afternoon of 2/5/81.

On 2/5/81, Dr. Dollar and his task force visited FBIHQ. After introductory remarks by Inspector-Deputy Assistant Director Bresson, Dr. Dollar and his group were afforded a briefing of the FBI's Central Records System and were given a tour as requested (see copy of program attached). The statistical data requested by Dr. Dollar on 2/3/81 was presented to him (see copy attached). Dr. Dollar presented a list of questions prepared by the NARS task force regarding the FBI's Central Records System (copy attached), which were answered and explained at length. Dr. Dollar requested that similar statistics (i.e., volume of records by classification and number of cases by classification) be obtained for each field office. I agreed to obtain this data for Dr. Dollar, and the appropriate teletype (copy attached) was sent to all SACs and Legats on 2/6/81. Dr. Dollar also requested that the task force be furnised with the number of drawers by letter in the inactive and active index. I agreed to secure this information and furnish same to Dr. Dollar at a later date. Finally, Dr. Dollar asked to borrow a copy of instructions utilized by employees of the Classifying Subunit. I agreed and furnished same to Dr. Dollar on 2/9/81.

Dr. Dollar and members of the task force were most appreciative of the briefing and tour. Prior to his departure from FBIHQ, I reminded Dr. Dollar that, regardless of the disposition of the question of access by NARS to IRS and Grand Jury information contained in FBI files, all files selected for review by NARS in connection with the appraisal would be pre-screened by FBI employees and the identities of all sources, assets and informants contained in these files would be masked. Dr. Dollar advised that this arrangement was acceptable to NARS.

Federal Bureau of Investigation

Washington, D.C. 20535

November 24, 1980

MEMORANDUM TO ALL SPECIAL AGENTS IN CHARGE:

(A) DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Reference is made to Bureau teletypes dated January 11 and 14, 1980, ordering an immediate and total suspension of all record destruction programs as the result of the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene, U.S. District Court, District of Columbia, on January 10, 1980. The order has been modified somewhat and limited destruction authority for certain administrative records is now being granted. Receipt of complete destruction authority is not anticipated until final resolution of pending litigation which entails the review by the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) of Headquarters and field office files, including administrative records which remain under restriction.

Record categories have been reviewed and greatly expanded to derive full benefits from the modified order. Retention periods have also been adjusted in some instances to conform with retention periods authorized by the General Services Administration and the revisions should be observed. Manual changes are being prepared to denote the modifications; however, the changes are not complete due to the composite nature of the records and the limited authority granted. Therefore, this communication and BUAirtel, 5/30/80, captioned "Destruction of Field Files and Records," regarding the disposition of physical evidence, should serve as the only guides and authority to engage in a destruction program until the litigation is completely resolved.

All records filed in Bureau Classifications 1 through 213 are subject to review by NARS and, with the exception of the administrative records set forth hereafter, should not be destroyed. Records relating to certain personnel

Re Bureau airtel (66-3286, SUB B), dated May 30, 1980, entitled "DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS".

Captioned case opened May 13, 1977. Subsequent investigation led to trial in which both subjects were convicted and sentenced.

During the course of the investigation, business records were subpoenaed from one [redacted] in Vallejo, California, who was believed to be fence for the stolen property. The contributor of the documents, Mr. [redacted], was never brought to trial and the documents have been determined by the AUSA, Seattle, as not being needed for further investigative purposes and no longer have evidentiary value.

b7C

Since an agreement was not made for the return of the documents at the time they were subpoenaed, nor has Mr. [redacted] made a specific request for the return of the documents, the question arises as to their proper disposition.

The records consist of the following:

b7C

1. Appointment sheet;
2. Three (3) cancelled checks totalling $950.00;
3. Service records;
4. Asset purchases, 1977;

REASON FOR CHANGE

By memorandum R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Bailey, 7/30/80, captioned "Application of the General Records Schedules - Records Management," authority was granted to reestablish field office policy concerning disposition of employees' personnel files maintained in the field offices. Current policy permits destruction of employees' personnel files after 90 days unless separation resulted from disciplinary action. Certain papers were removed from the file and forwarded to FBIHQ for permanent retention. DE-45

RE: PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL
OF ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS
AND PROCEDURES (MAOP)

In order to establish uniformity for the disposition of the files and comply with Federal regulations, personnel files of employees who have separated from service or transferred to other Government agencies should be forwarded to FBIHQ after a retention period of 90 days. Upon receipt at FBIHQ, all records duplicated in the Official Personnel Folder (OPF) will be destroyed immediately and nonduplicative records will be integrated into the OPF. Current policy regarding retention of files of employees who transfer between offices is not altered. This matter has been coordinated with the Administrative Services Division.

Appropriate contact was made with [redacted] Manuals Desk, on 5/9/80. b6 b7C

CHANGED TEXT

MAOP, Part I, Section 20-4(2), page 228, should be deleted and replaced with the following:

(2) When an employee transfers to FBIHQ or becomes an SAC, the personnel file is sent to FBIHQ. The file of an employee who resigns or retires should be retained for 90 days and then sent to FBIHQ for final disposition. The file of a permanent or temporary indefinite employee leaving for military service is maintained in the field office inasmuch as employees have certain mandatory restoration rights and may return to that office, and because, in their absence, they have a right to be considered for promotions that arise. The file should thus be available for review for qualifications. Upon notification from FBIHQ that an employee no longer has restoration rights, the file is to be forwarded to FBIHQ.

MAOP, Part II, Section 2-4.2.1(4)(a), page 285, should be deleted and replaced with the following:

(a) Employees' personnel files: If the investigative file on the employee is in the field office to which the employee is assigned, such file is to be maintained with the personnel file. Both files are then to be kept under lock and key under the supervision of the SAC. Personnel file shall be sent to FBIHQ when an employee is designated SAC or transfers to FBIHQ. File of employee who resigns or retires shall be retained 90 days and then sent to FBIHQ where duplicate records will be destroyed immediately and nonduplicative records will be integrated into the Official Personnel Folder. When permanent or temporary indefinite employee leaves to enter the military service, retain file in field office. Upon notification from the Bureau that restoration rights of an employee have expired, the personnel file is to be forwarded to FBIHQ. The investigative file is to be maintained in the closed files section in the field office and disposed of in accordance with the regulations governing the disposition of investigative files in the 67 classification.

MAOP, Part II, Section 2-4.5.15(3), page 311, should be deleted and succeeding items renumbered.

Electronic Surveillance (Elsur Indices), JUSTICE/FBI-006: This item is revised to more accurately describe the nature of the item. The modifications to the system notice constitute amplifications rather than an alteration or expansion of the scope of the records. The clarifications incorporated into the system notice have been italicized for public convenience. The text reprinted below reflects these modifications.

JUSTICE/FBI—006

System name: Electronic Surveillance (Elsur) Indices.

System location: Federal Bureau of Investigation, J. Edgar Hoover Bldg., 10th and Pennsylvania Ave., NW., Washington, D.C. 20535. Those field offices which have conducted electronic surveillances maintain this index. See appendix to System 002.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Individuals who have been the targets of direct electronic surveillance coverage by the FBI, who have participated in conversations monitored by an FBI electronic installation, or who have been known to have owned, leased, or licensed premises on which the FBI has conducted an electronic surveillance, and names of persons mentioned during conversations between persons being monitored. Not all field office electronic surveillance indices contain this last category of individuals.

Categories of records in the system: The Elsur Indices are maintained on 3 x 5 cards, where set forth the name of each person monitored or the proprietor of premises on which an electronic surveillance was conducted by the FBI since January 1, 1960, a file number to identify the electronic surveillance, the date the conversation occurred, the location of the field office which conducted the monitoring, and the address and/or telephone number where the electronic surveillance occurred.

Authority for maintenance of the system: The Elsur Indices were created in October, 1966, at the instructions of the Department of Justice. The authority for the maintenance of these records is Title 5, Section 301, USC, which grants the Attorney General the authority to issue rules and regulations prescribing how Department of Justice information can be employed. Title 18, USC, Section 2519, also sets forth recordkeeping requirements.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: The Elsur Indices are utilized: (1) To respond to judicial inquiries about possible electronic surveillance coverage of witnesses, defendants, or attorneys involved in Federal court proceedings, and (2) To enable the Government to certify whether a person regarding whom court-order authority is being sought for electronic coverage has ever been so covered in the past. The actual users of the indices are always employees of the FBI.

Release of information to the news media: Information permitted to be released to the news media and the public pursuant to 28 CFR 50.2 may be made available from systems of records maintained by the Department of Justice unless it is determined that release of the specific information in the context of a particular case would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

Release of information to Members of Congress: Information contained in systems of records maintained by the Department of Justice, not otherwise required to be released pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552, may be made available to a Member of Congress or staff acting upon the Member's behalf when the Member or staff requests the information on behalf of and at the request of the individual who is the subject of the record.

Release of information to the National Archives and Records Service: a record from a system of records may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Service (N.A.R.S.) in records management inspections conducted under the authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: he records are maintained manually on 3 x 5 cards.

Retrievability: Names are indexed alphabetically. Telephones monitored are indexed by telephone number. Locations monitored in which a person has been known to have a proprietary interest are indexed by address.

Safeguards: They are maintained in a guarded room at all times, with a special locking system for off-duty hours when they are not in use.

Retention and disposal: Until advised to the contrary by the Department, the courts or Congress, these indices will be maintained indefinitely.

System manager(s) and address: Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D.C. 20535.

Notification procedure: Same as the above.

Record access procedures: Inquiry addressed to Director, FBI, Washington, D.C. 20535.

Contesting record procedures: Same as the above.

Record source categories: See Category of Individual.

Systems exempted from certain provisions of the act: The Attorney General has exempted this system from subsections (c) (3) and (4), (d), (e) (1), (2) and (3), (e)(4) (G), (H), (e) (5) and (8), (f), (g) and (m) of the Privacy Act pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (j). Rules have been promulgated in accordance with the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553 (b), (c) and (e) and have been published in the Federal Register.

REPLY TO ATTN OF: SAC, Oklahoma City (66-90)

SUBJECT: ~~CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT~~
Destruction of Bureau Property

TO: Director, FBI
Attention: Property Accounting Systems Unit

On 6/20/80 Oklahoma City received a teletype from FBIHQ requesting a same day reply regarding security files that were housed in a combination lock safe.

Two sound [redacted] agents and one special agent who was a former U.S. Army lock expert worked on the safe, but were unsuccessful in their attempts to open same.

Due to the urgency of the teletype, prior Bureau authority could not be obtained before demolishing the safe.

This safe was constructed with concrete and mesh walls and very little steel, so there is nothing to be salvaged. Bureau authority is requested to take the safe to a local dump.

Enclosed are two copies each of FD-500 and FD-519, as well as the FD-514.

REQUIREMENTS AND CERTIFICATION FOR
CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT

REQUIREMENTS

Cannibalization and destruction of equipment for the purpose of obtaining parts to repair a like item is permitted after Bureau authority is granted and when all of the following conditions are met:

1. Repair of the broken or worn parts is not possible.

2. Required parts are not available from other units previously cannibalized.

3. Required parts are not available from Government excess. (Government excess means any personal property under the control of any Federal Agency which is not required for its needs and the discharge of its responsibilities, as determined by the head thereof.)

4. The parts are not available from commercial or Government supply sources or it is not practical to obtain the required parts from commercial sources because of obsolescence, excessive price or extraordinary leadtimes.

5. The benefit realized from cannibalization exceeds the estimated trade-in or sale value of the unit being considered for cannibalization.

6. A signed statement, approved by a reviewing official, indicating the actions taken to verify the above conditions is made part of the file supporting the removal of the cannibalized item from property records, and such information is made available upon request, to General Accounting Office and Departmental auditors.

CERTIFICATION

The conditions, as set forth above, have been met to the best of my knowledge with regard to the equipment listed on the attached memorandum and/or FD-500, dated 6/24/80. This equipment should therefore be removed from inventory and the parts will be used for the repair and maintenance of similar equipment.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL
~~PARTIAL RESUMPTION OF RECORD~~ ~~DESTRUCTION PROGRAMS~~

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide guidelines to the Technical Services Division (TSD) on records which may now be destroyed and those which continue to be restricted by the Court relative to the preliminary injunction issued by U. S. District Court Judge Harold H. Greene on 1/10/80.

SYNOPSIS:

Headquarters divisions have observed a moratorium on record destruction in response to preliminary injunction issued by Judge Greene on 1/10/80. The Court Order has been modified and Headquarters divisions are being provided with specific guidelines in order to initiate a limited destruction program.

Memorandum R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Finzel
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS
PARTIAL RESUMPTION OF RECORD
DESTRUCTION PROGRAMS

DETAILS:

Bureau teletype, 1/11/80, advised FBIHQ and all offices to immediately suspend all destruction programs pursuant to the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene, U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, on 1/10/80 in civil action "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.) Civil Action No. 79-1655."

On 2/20/80 and 4/3/80, Judge Greene issued modified orders which would permit destruction of records pursuant to certain General Records Schedules (GRS), 22 schedules which provide authorized retention periods for administrative records common to most Federal agencies. In addition, the modified orders addressed requests for relief in specific areas in which record maintenance imposed an administrative burden. The latter category was presented to the Court in the form of individual affidavits.

Legal Counsel memorandum to the Director, dated 8/15/80, provided the current status of the litigation and authorized the Records Management Division (RMD) to initiate a limited destruction program for records applicable to the GRS.

Therefore, in accordance with this authority, TSD may pursue a limited disposal program as outlined below, including action approved by Judge Greene in response to the individual affidavits. Retention periods which are not responsive to the needs of TSD due to inadequate or excessive retention or which deviate from established Bureau policy, should be brought to the attention of RMD, Records Systems Section, in order to secure proper authorization from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) to extend/reduce the retention periods. Accurate statistics should be maintained for records destroyed for inclusion in the annual record count.

For informational purposes, categories of records which continue to be restricted from destruction are also noted. Archival authority has either been withdrawn or the records are subject to review by NARS prior to any issuance of disposal authority. In any event, the records should be preserved.

FBI/DOJ

Memorandum R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Finzel
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS-
PARTIAL RESUMPTION OF RECORD
DESTRUCTION PROGRAMS

DETAILS:

Bureau teletype, 1/11/80, advised FBIHQ and all offices to immediately suspend all destruction programs pursuant to the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene, U.S. District Court, District of Columbia, on 1/10/80 in civil action "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.) Civil Action No. 79-1655."

On 2/20/80 and 4/3/80, Judge Greene issued modified orders which would permit destruction of records pursuant to certain General Records Schedules (GRS), 22 schedules which provide authorized retention periods for administrative records common to most Federal agencies. In addition, the modified orders addressed requests for relief in specific areas in which record maintenance imposed an administrative burden. The latter category was presented to the Court in the form of individual affidavits.

Legal Counsel memorandum to the Director, dated 8/15/80, provided the current status of the litigation and authorized RMD to initiate a limited destruction program for records applicable to the GRS.

Therefore, in accordance with this authority, RMD may pursue a limited disposal program as outlined below, including action approved by Judge Greene in response to the individual affidavits. Retention periods which are not responsive to our needs due to inadequate or excessive retention or which deviate from established Bureau policy, should be brought to the attention of the Records Systems Section in order to secure proper authorization from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) to extend/reduce the retention periods. Accurate statistics should be maintained for records destroyed for inclusion in the annual record count. Field offices will be advised by separate communication.

For informational purposes, categories of records which continue to be restricted from destruction are also noted. Archival authority has either been withdrawn or the records are subject to review by NARS prior to any issuance of disposal authority. In any event, the records should be preserved.

EXEMPTED FROM COURT ORDER

ALL DIVISIONS MAY PROCEED WITH DESTRUCTION OF FOLLOWING RECORDS:

EMPLOYEE RECORD CARDS- Index used for informational purposes.	GRS #1, Item 6. Destroy on separation or transfer of employee.
SUPERVISOR'S PERSONNEL FILES - Records on individual employees duplicated in or not appropriate for the Official Personnel Folder (OPF), including production records and Notice of Tardiness.	GRS #1, Item 18a. Review annually and destroy superseded documents; or destroy all documents relating to an individual employee 1 year after separation or transfer.
LEAVE RECORDS - T&A Registers; Number One Registers; Number Two Registers; Leave Accounting Listings; Leave Requests; SF-71s; Doctors Certificates; Record of Absences for Illness (FD-304).	GRS #2, Items 3,8,9. Destroy when 3 years old.
SERVICE LISTINGS - Correspondence, forms, and other records relating to the compilation of directory service listings, assignment charts, and routing slips.	GRS #11, Item 3. Destroy 2 months after issuance of listing. (Request has been submitted to reduce retention to "Destroy after distribution")

RECORDS SYSTEMS SECTION

Consolidation Unit

Destruction of entire files and related material pertaining to individual Privacy Act requests is permitted as well as 13 pending requests for partial expunction of file material, pursuant to established procedures. Bureau teletype, 1/11/80, advised FBIHQ and all offices to immediately suspend all destruction programs pursuant to the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene, U.S. District Court, District of Columbia, on 1/10/80 in civil action "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.) Civil Action No. 79-1655."

On 2/20/80 and 4/3/80, Judge Greene issued modified orders which would permit destruction of records pursuant to certain General Records Schedules (GRS), 22 schedules which provide authorized retention periods for administrative records common to most Federal agencies. In addition, the modified orders addressed requests for relief in specific areas in which record maintenance imposed an administrative burden. The latter category was presented to the Court in the form of individual affidavits.

Legal Counsel memorandum to the Director, dated 8/15/80, provided the current status of the litigation and authorized Records Management Division to initiate a limited destruction program for records applicable to the GRS.

Therefore, in accordance with this authority, the above Headquarters Divisions may pursue a destruction program as outlined below. Since the records maintained within those Divisions are minimal, specialized, and/or potentially historical, destruction authority is limited to the administrative records maintained by all divisions. Accurate statistics should be maintained for records destroyed for inclusion in the annual record count.

For informational purposes, categories of records which continue to be restricted from destruction are also noted. Archival authority has either been withdrawn or the records are subject to review by NARS (National Archives and Records Service) prior to any issuance of disposal authority. In any event, the records should be preserved.

Memorandum R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Finzel
RE: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS-
PARTIAL RESUMPTION OF RECORD
DESTRUCTION PROGRAMS

EXEMPTED FROM COURT ORDER

ALL DIVISIONS MAY PROCEED WITH DESTRUCTION OF FOLLOWING RECORDS:

EMPLOYEE RECORD CARDS- Index used for informational purposes.	GRS #1, Item 6. Destroy on separation or transfer of employee.
SUPERVISOR'S PERSONNEL FILES - Records on individual employees duplicated in or not appropriate for the Official Personnel Folder (OPF), including production records and Notice of Tardiness.	GRS #1, Item 18a. Review annually and destroy superseded documents; or destroy all documents relating to an individual employee 1 year after separation or transfer.
LEAVE RECORDS - T&A Registers; Number One Register; Number Two Registers; Leave Accounting Listings; Leave Requests; SF-71's; Doctors Certificates; Records of Absences for Illness (FD-304).	GRS #2, Items 3,8,9. Destroy when 3 years old.
SERVICE LISTINGS - Correspondence, forms, and other records relating to the compilation of directory service listings, assignment charts, and routing slips.	GRS #11, Item 3. Destroy 2 months after issuance of listing. (Request has been submitted to reduce retention to "Destroy after distribution")

RESTRICTED FROM DESTRUCTION

OFFICE OF CONGRESSIONAL AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS (OCPA)

Records created or received in OCPA should continue to be retained in view of the historical significance of the records of the Research functions and the restrictions which continue to govern the records of the Correspondence/ Tours functions. The records will be subject to review by NARS prior to the issuance of disposal authority.

TRAINING DIVISION

Training Division should continue to insure that training and audio-visual records are retained for review by NARS.

INTELLIGENCE DIVISION

Authority to delete information from FBI records pursuant to minimization procedures set forth in orders of the United States Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court (USFISC), as set forth in Edward J. O'Malley affidavits of 1/23/80 and 3/7/80, has not been granted and records should not be destroyed.

Authority to destroy classified document receipts, relating to the receipt and issuance of classified documents, governed by GRS #18, a restricted schedule, is withdrawn and records should be retained for review by NARS.

Authority to destroy files and indices maintained as administrative aids will be determined by the NARS review. A listing of the indices appears in the "Federal Register" as part of the Central Records System and the records should be retained for the NARS review.

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

Authority to destroy files and indices maintained as administrative aids will be determined by the NARS review. A listing of the indices appears in the "Federal Register" as part of the Central Records System and records should be retained for the NARS review.

LABORATORY DIVISION

Authority to destroy the Evidence Control Index will be established during the NARS review and records should be retained.

PLANNING AND INSPECTION DIVISION

Authority to destroy working papers associated with inspections of Headquarters divisions and field offices is governed by GRS #16, a restricted schedule, and records should continue to be retained for review by NARS.

RESTRICTED FROM DESTRUCTION - ALL DIVISIONS

RECORDS OF THE CENTRAL RECORDS SYSTEM

All records filed in classifications 1 - 212 are subject to review by NARS, are restricted by court order, and should not be destroyed. (Exceptions: Files related to Privacy Act requests and records of the Official Personnel Folder)

EXEMPTED FROM COURT ORDER

ALL DIVISIONS MAY PROCEED WITH DESTRUCTION OF FOLLOWING RECORDS:

EMPLOYEE RECORD CARDS Index used for informational purposes.	GRS #1, Item 6. Destroy on separation or transfer of employee.
SUPERVISOR'S PERSONNEL FILES Records on individual employees duplicated in or not appropriate for the Official Personnel Folder (OPF), including production records and Notice of Tardiness.	GRS #1, Item 18a. Review annually and destroy superseded documents; or destroy all documents relating to an individual employee 1 year after separation or transfer.
LEAVE RECORDS T&A Registers; Number One Register; Number Two Registers; Leave Accounting Listings; Leave Requests; SF-71s; Doctors Certificates; Record of Absences for Illness (FD-304).	GRS #2, Item 3, 8, 9. Destroy when 3 years old.
SERVICE LISTINGS Correspondence, forms, and other records relating to the compilation of directory service listings, assignment charts, and routing slips.	GRS #11, Item 3. Destroy 2 months after issuance of listing. (Request has been submitted to reduce retention to "Destroy after distribution")

PERSONNEL AND SPACE MANAGEMENT BRANCH
Special Agent Transfers and Traffic Management Unit

TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION RECORDS
(DISPOSAL PERMITTED BY GRS #9)

This schedule covers records pertaining to the movement of goods and persons under Government orders. The record keeping involved in the movements centers around bills of lading, transportation requests, vouchers, and associated records, including those prescribed by Title 5 of the General Accounting Office Policy and Procedures Manual.

1. FREIGHT FILES

Records relating to freight consisting of export certificates, transit certificates, demurrage car record books, shipping documents pertinent to freight classification, memorandum copies of Government or commercial bills of lading, shortage and demurrage reports, and all supporting documents; and including records relating to the shipment of household goods.

a. Issuing office memorandum copies other than those identifed in 1d.	Destroy when 3 years old.
b. All other copies	Destroy when 1 year old.
c. Registers and control records.	Destroy when 3 years old.
d. Records on international shipments of household goods moved by freight forwarders.	Destroy 6 years after the period of the account.

2. LOST OR DAMAGED SHIPMENTS FILES

Schedules of valuables shipped, correspondence, memoranda, reports, and other records relating to the administration of the Government Losses in Shipment Act.	Destroy when 3 years old.

PERSONNEL SECTION

CIVILIAN PERSONNEL RECORDS

Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Service for possible permanent retention before these disposition instructions may be applied.

CAUTION should be exercised to insure that the following records are retained in accordance with the modified orders issued by Judge Greene:

> Conflict of Interest; Personnel Counseling records including interviews and analyses and records relating to the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Program; Standards of Conduct files; Grievance, Disciplinary, and Adverse Action files; Personal Injury files and temporary records relating to promotions. Destruction of these record categories is authorized by GRS #1, Items 25 through 28 and 31 through 33, which continue to be governed by the 1/10/80 Order. Pertinent records should be preserved for the NARS review.

Official Personnel Folders

Personnel Records Unit, Records Management Division, is being authorized to proceed with purge functions as they relate to files of Out-of-Service clerical personnel and applications for employment which did not result in appointment. The program will be conducted pursuant to established guidelines and above restrictions will be applied. Certain "Special files" will be purged according to previously granted authority; however, the majority will be retained for the NARS review due to the nature of the files and their historical potential.

Directives, Forms and Manuals

All records related to Bureau-issued directives, forms, manuals and supporting papers continue to be restricted by Court Order (GRS #16) and records should be preserved for review by NARS.

(Disposal Permitted by GRS #1)

DETAILS: By letter dated 5/6/80, the Justice Management Division was advised that DOJ Order 2710.9A had been reviewed and that this Bureau concurred with the contents. The records disposition liaison officer was also designated.

Upon receipt of DOJ Order 2710.9, dated 7/10/79, and prior to receipt of instant Order, Robert M. Yahn, Records and Publications Staff, Justice Management Division, was telephonically contacted regarding the procedure for submitting requests for records disposition authority (SF-115) for individual Privacy Act requests. On both occasions, Mr. Yahn advised that, for the sake of expediency, individual requests related to the Privacy Act should continue to be submitted directly to the National Archives and Records Service.

A copy of approved DOJ Order 2710.9A, dated 8/6/80, which is self-explanatory, is attached.

Subject: RECORDS DISPOSITION PROGRAM

1. PURPOSE. This order establishes a program for the disposition of records of the Department of Justice (DOJ) in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 3102 and the General Services Administration Federal Property Management Regulations.

2. SCOPE. This order applies to all components of the DOJ.

3. CANCELLATION. Order DOJ 2710.9 is cancelled.

4. DEFINITION OF TERMS.

   a. Records. As defined in the Records Disposal Act of 1943 (now 44 U.S.C. 3301), ". . . books, papers, maps, photographs, machine readable materials, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by an agency of the United States Government under Federal law or in connection with the transaction of public business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by that agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the Government or because of the informational value of data in them. . . ."

   b. Disposition. As described in 41 CFR 101-11.102-5, "provisions. . . made to insure that records of continuing value are preserved but that records no longer of current use to an agency are promptly disposed of or retired. Effective techniques for accomplishing these ends are the development of records control schedules; the transfer of records to records centers and to the National Archives; the microfilming of appropriate records; and the disposal of valueless records."

5. PROGRAM OBJECTIVES. The basic objectives of the records disposition program are:

   a. The timely and systematic removal of records deemed temporary by the creating component, the Department and the Government for later destruction by the Department or a Federal Archives and Records Center.

b. The designation of permanent records having sufficient historical and archival values to warrant immediate or later transfer to the National Archives for permanent preservation.

6. RESPONSIBILITIES.

a. Justice Management Division. The Records Management Group (RMG), Records and Publications Staff (RPS), Justice Management Division shall:

(1) Establish general records disposition policy and standards for the DOJ.

(2) Act as a liaison with the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for Department program direction.

(3) Review all requests for records disposition authority (Standard Form 115) which are originated by Offices, Boards, Divisions and Bureaus and submit them to NARS for approval.

(4) Provide assistance and advice on records disposition matters to officials throughout the Department.

(5) Evaluate the Department's program periodically to ensure its operation at peak efficiency.

b. Offices, Boards, Divisions and Bureaus. Each Office, Board, Division and Bureau shall:

(1) Implement policy and standards for records disposition set forth in guidance published by the Department and the General Services Administration (Federal Property Management Regulations). Submit any supplementary program guidance to RMG for review prior to issuance (Offices, Boards, and Divisions only).

(2) Submit all requests for records disposition authority (Standard Form 115) to NARS via RMG.

(3) Ensure timely removal from office space and equipment of noncurrent records.

(4) Encourage the use of Federal records centers as storage facilities for records with reduced reference activity.

(5) Ensure that records of archival value are identified properly for eventual transfer to NARS.

(6) Establish a central point for approval or disapproval of all requisitions for filing equipment by evaluating need and by checking compliance with authorized records disposition instructions.

(7) Provide adequate staff to carry out program responsibilities.

(8) Ensure that program staff are adequately trained in coordination with RMG.

7. DESIGNATION OF RECORDS DISPOSITION LIAISON. Each Office, Board, Division and Bureau shall designate a records disposition liaison officer to serve as the primary contact point for the component, including its field offices, and advise RMG in writing of the name of that individual. Changes in designation should be reported as soon as possible.

Memorandum R. P. Finzel to Mr. Colwell
RE: PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL
OF ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS
AND PROCEDURES (MAOP)

St. Louis, Mo., and enclosed a copy of FPMR Bulletin B-40, dated 9/21/73, which set forth criteria for records to be retained. The memorandum noted that Tom Wadlow, Records Disposition Division, Archives and Records, General Services Administration, had been contacted regarding disposal of field office records. Mr. Wadlow advised that, if the field offices had forwarded the records to Headquarters, the Headquarters record would be considered as the record copy and field offices could destroy their files in accordance with existing authority. Field offices were furnished these instructions by SAC Memorandum 55-73, dated 12/4/73 (66-04-3964).

FPMR Bulletin B-98, dated 4/28/80 (attached), cancelled Bulletin B-40 and authorized Federal agencies to resume disposal of the previously restricted records. Due to pending litigation which prohibits destruction of investigatory records, field offices are not being delegated this authority. However, to preserve the integrity of our manuals, it appears that this restriction should be deleted from the MAOP.

Appropriate contact was made with [redacted] Manuals Desk, ASD, on 9/29/80. b6 b7C

CHANGED TEXT

MAOP, Part II, Section 2-4.5.2, page 303, should be deleted.

SAC MEMORANDUM

An SAC memorandum is not being prepared since implementation of this authority is prohibited by pending litigation.

GSA BULLETIN FPMR B-98
ARCHIVES AND RECORDS

TO: Heads of Federal agencies

SUBJECT: Disposal authorization covering military service records

1. Purpose. This bulletin reinstates disposal authorizations that were withdrawn by GSA Bulletin FPMR B-40. All Federal agencies may resume disposal of these records in accordance with approved disposition schedules.

2. Expiration date. This bulletin contains information of a continuing nature and will remain in effect until canceled.

3. Background. A fire at the National Personnel Records Center (Military Personnel Records Building), St. Louis, Missouri, in July 1973, destroyed service records of former members of the Armed Forces. GSA Bulletin FPMR B-40 directed Federal agencies to suspend indefinitely the disposal of any records that could be used to reconstitute records of military service in the U.S. Army for individuals discharged between November 1, 1912, and December 31, 1959, and in the U.S. Air Force between September 18, 1947, and December 31, 1963. The records collected as a result of that bulletin increased the Center's reconstruction capability and the freeze on disposals can now be lifted.

4. Cancellation. GSA Bulletin FPMR B-40 is canceled.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - PARTIAL RESUMPTION OF RECORD DESTRUCTION PROGRAMS

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide guidelines to the Office of Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Affairs and the Financial Management Branch, Administrative Services Division (ASD), on records which may now be destroyed and those which continue to be restricted by the Court relative to the preliminary injunction issued by U.S. District Court Judge Harold H. Greene on 1/10/80.

SYNOPSIS:

Headquarters divisions have observed a moratorium on record destruction in response to preliminary injunction issued by Judge Greene on 1/10/80. The Court Order has been modified and Headquarters divisions are being provided with specific guidelines in order to initiate a limited destruction program. Due to the volume of records maintained within ASD, the Personnel and Space Management Branch is being advised separately.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the EEO Officer and Financial Management Branch, ASD, for appropriate action.

FBI/DOJ

Memorandum R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Finzel
RE: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS-
PARTIAL RESUMPTION OF RECORD
DESTRUCTION PROGRAMS

DETAILS:

Bureau teletype, 1/11/80, advised FBIHQ and all offices to immediately suspend all destruction programs pursuant to the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene, U.S. District Court, District of Columbia, on 1/10/80 in civil action "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.) Civil Action No. 79-1655."

On 2/20/80 and 4/3/80, Judge Greene issued modified orders which would permit destruction of records pursuant to certain General Records Schedules (GRS), 22 schedules which provide authorized retention periods for administrative records common to most Federal agencies. In addition, the modified orders addressed requests for relief in specific areas in which record maintenance imposed an administrative burden. The latter category was presented to the Court in the form of individual affidavits.

Legal Counsel memorandum to the Director, dated 8/15/80, provided the current status of the litigation and authorized the Records Management Division (RMD) to initiate a limited destruction program for records applicable to the GRS.

Therefore, in accordance with this authority, ASD may pursue a limited disposal program as outlined below. Retention periods which are not responsive to the needs of ASD due to inadequate or excessive retention or which deviate from established Bureau policy, should be brought to the attention of RMD, Records Systems Section, in order to secure proper authorization from the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) to extend/reduce the retention periods. Accurate statistics should be maintained for records destroyed for inclusion in the annual record count. The Personnel and Space Management Branch is being advised by separate communication.

For informational purposes, categories of records which continue to be restricted from destruction are also noted. Archival authority has either been withdrawn or the records are subject to review by NARS prior to any issuance of disposal authority. In any event, the records should be preserved.

EXEMPTED FROM COURT ORDER

ALL DIVISIONS MAY PROCEED WITH DESTRUCTION OF FOLLOWING RECORDS:

SUBJECT: PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL OF ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS AND PROCEDURES (MAOP)
Destruction of Bureau Property
General

PURPOSE:

The purposes of this memorandum are to issue an appropriate Memorandum to All Special Agents in Charge to advise of a change in records destruction policy based on modified orders issued by Judge Harold H. Greene, U.S. District Court, District of Columbia (U.S.D.C., D.C.), on 2/20/80 and 4/3/80, which will permit field offices and Legats to implement a limited destruction program for administrative records and to recommend revisions in the MAOP to coincide with this action.

RECOMMENDATION:

That, upon approval of manual changes and SAC Memorandum, instant memorandum be referred to the Manuals Desk, Administrative Services Division (ASD), for appropriate action.

DETAILS:

REASON FOR CHANGE

It is necessary to change Bureau policy regarding the destruction of certain administrative records.

Bureau teletypes, 1/11 and 14/80, advised FBIHQ and all offices to immediately suspend all destruction programs based on the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene, U.S.D.C., D.C., on 1/10/80 in civil action, "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.) Civil Action No. 79-1655." On 2/20/80 and 4/3/80, modified orders were issued by Judge Greene which would permit destruction of certain administrative records. Legal Counsel memorandum to the Director, dated 8/15/80, authorized the Records Management Division to proceed with destruction of these records since the plaintiffs' appeal time for the modifications had expired. Accordingly, Headquarters Divisions were delegated authority to initiate limited destruction programs, based on the General Records Schedules (GRS) and individual affidavits, by memoranda dated 9/12/80, which were subsequently approved.

A review of administrative records maintained by field offices has been completed and records identified as being within the scope of the modified orders are being enumerated within authorized and defined retention periods as a guide for field office destruction programs. Retention periods have been amended in certain instances to comply with authorized retention periods as set forth in the GRS. Destruction of substantive file material in response to Privacy Act requests has not been addressed inasmuch as this matter was handled separately by Airtel to all SACs, dated 10/29/80.

Field offices are being advised that, due to the limitations of the destruction authority, pertinent sections of the MAOP cannot be completely revised and, therefore, the attached SAC Memorandum and BUAirtel, 5/30/80, captioned "Destruction of Field Files and Records", regarding the disposition of physical evidence, will serve as the only guides to authorized record destruction programs. Manual revisions, although fragmentary, are being recommended for records coming within the scope of the modified orders to preserve the integrity of the Manual. Additional revisions to Section 2-4.5 of the MAOP will be required upon resolution of pending litigation. b6 b7C

(2) Itinerary, FD-330

(3) Circulars, flyers related to charity campaigns, recreational matters, open season for health benefits, blood donor program.

(4) Copies of SF-50 (3-634) documenting individual personnel actions.

(5) Credentials - Papers related to identification credentials, including receipts, indices, listings, and accountable records. Destroy when all listed credentials are accounted for.

(6) Telecommunications - Tapes of outgoing messages. Destroy after transmission.

(7) Channelizing memoranda in criminal cases and security cases must be destroyed following submission of reports or following submission of LHM in nonprosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases. In addition, in domestic security matters, channelizing memoranda may be destroyed following preparation of an "investigative insert" for later inclusion in an LHM or report.

(8) Channelizing memoranda in security cases must be destroyed when the contents have not been included in a report or LHM because the information is of no value to the report or LHM. In destroying these memoranda, be guided by the following instructions:

(a) The Agent, at the time he/she dictates the report or the LHM in nonprosecutable espionage and nationalistic tendency cases, is to prepare a memorandum (form

List channelizing memoranda to be destroyed because they are of no value to the report or LHM by file and serial number. This memorandum should indicate that pertinent information contained in the serials to be destroyed was incorporated in the report or the LHM, or in security cases was not included because the information was of no value to the report or LHM.

(b) The cover pages accompanying the report or the cover document accompanying the LHM will list the file and serial number of the original informant reports or master channelizing memoranda [except in cases concerning reports or LHM prepared by Legal Attaches since Legat sources are not usually available for testimony.]

(c) In the case of multiple volumes, the destruction memorandum should be prepared by the Agent in sufficient numbers so that one copy will appear in each volume of the multiple volume file being stripped.

(d) Prior to destruction, the Agent's recommendations are to be reviewed and approved by the supervisor at the time he/she reviews and approves the report or the LHM.

(e) Employee destroying the channelizing memoranda must place date of destruction and his/her initials on the destruction memorandum. Thereafter, this memorandum will be filed in the case as a permanent record of the serials destroyed.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

(f) Channelizing memoranda based on confidential investigative techniques may be destroyed after submission of LHM or report. The cover pages of the report or the cover document of the LHM must record the exact location in the office files of the original information.

(g) Channelizing memoranda of translations of foreign language newspapers and periodicals may be destroyed provided the original translation is maintained in the main file of the publication concerned.

(h) Channelizing memoranda from other offices may be destroyed provided the communication of transmittal and one copy of the channelizing memoranda are retained in your office. The cover pages to the report or the cover document to the LHM should list field office and the file number in which the original recording is located, as well as location in your files of the retained copy.

(9) Do not destroy channelizing memoranda in the following instances: The original recording; serial one of a file regardless of its nature; serials containing indexing. It would appear that if indexing was necessary to channelizing memoranda, such indexing would only be done in the main case file as set forth in the title of the communication; serials showing "action" information: e.g., opening, closing, posting, or instructions given by a supervisor to an Agent concerning the case.

(10) The destruction of these channelizing memoranda should be subject to close supervisory control to insure that all pertinent information contained in these memoranda is reported in the investigative report or the LHM.

DETAILS:

During the morning of 1/14/81, Congressman Don Edwards, Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Civil and Constitutional Rights, contacted SA Emil Moschella, Office of Congressional and Public Affairs, in order to ascertain the identity of the FBI official knowledgeable regarding current FBI records destruction regulations. SA Moschella referred Congressman Edwards to SA Scherrer.

Times" regarding the destruction of COINTELPRO material contained in FBI records. Congressman Edwards advised that the "Los Angeles Times" apparently was preparing an article on the COINTELPRO and the fact that the FBI had not, as a matter of policy, destroyed COINTELPRO material contained in FBI files had surfaced. Congressman Edwards requested a brief summary of current FBI records destruction regulations. SA Scherrer pointed out to Congressman Edwards that, at present, all previously approved National Archives and Records Service (NARS) destruction of FBI investigative records has been suspended since 1/10/80, based on an Opinion and Order of U. S. District Judge Harold Greene on the same date. Additionally, SA Scherrer explained to Congressman Edwards that it would be necessary for NARS to conduct an extensive re-appraisal of FBI records holdings, both at FBIHQ and the field, in order to develop new retention schedules for submission to Judge Greene for his review and approval. SA Scherrer also called Congressman Edward's attention to the fact that the vast majority of COINTELPRO material contained in FBI records is filed in security classifications and that no FBI records in these classifications had been destroyed since 1/16/78, based on a self-imposed FBI moratorium on destruction of such material due to the discovery proceedings in the Felt, Gray, Miller cases. SA Scherrer also explained to Congressman Edwards that, based on the Attorney General's instruction of 6/6/77, all FBI files and records related to pending litigation, Congressional interest or FOIPA requests have not been destroyed. In conclusion, SA Scherrer emphasized to Congressman Edwards that the FBI had not promulgated a policy of not destroying COINTELPRO material contained in our files.

Congressman Edwards expressed his appreciation for the information provided and indicated he would re-contact SA Scherrer through the Office of Congressional and Public Affairs should additional questions arise.

DATE: 2/2/81

FROM : SAC, SAN DIEGO (66-3286) Sub B

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re Bureau letter to all SACs, dated 5/30/80.

Title 18, USC, Section 2518, specifies that the contents of any wire on oral communications that were intercepted "Shall not be destroyed except upon an order of the issuing judge or denying judge and in any event shall be kept for ten years." United States Attorney's Office, San Diego, advised that because of Judge Greene's preliminary injunction, no applications ordered destruction of Title III tapes should be made without authority of the Justice Department.

Because of the above, the Bureau is requested to contact Department and advise whether application for court ordered destruction of Title III tapes kept longer than ten years may be made.

Destruction of Bureau Property - General

Subject : PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL OF ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS AND PROCEDURES (MAOP)

PURPOSE: To recommend that the MAOP be changed to accurately reflect retention/destruction period for Form FD-150 (Recap of Cost of Operation and Accrued Milage of Bureau-Owned Motor Vehicles), and FD-111 and FD-111a (Semiannual Motor Vehicle Report).

DETAILS:

REASON FOR CHANGE

By memorandum R. P. Finzel to Mr. Colwell 11/7/80 captioned as above, Part II, Section 2-4.5.12(23), page 309, was inadvertently changed to reflect that Form FD-150 (Recap of Cost of Operation and Accrued Milage of Bureau-Owned Motor Vehichle) is to be destroyed when three years old. Form FD-150 is used to recap cost of operation for individual vehicles and is retained in the individual car file. The retention period for car files is four years after vehicle leaves custody by sale, transfer, donation, or exchange; therefore, the above MAOP citation regarding the three year destruction of Form FD-150 is incorrect inasmuch as the form is an integral part of the car file and should be retained for the life of the file. Forms FD-111 and FD-111a (Semiannual Motor Vehicle Report) should have been identified as the forms to be destroyed when three years old. The FD-111 and FD-111a is prepared semiannually and the original forwarded to FBIHQ. The copy maintained in a control file in the field is of no value beyond the three year period and can be destroyed persuant to general records schedule #10, item #3.

Required contact has been made with the Manual Desk, Administrative Services Division, for necessary coordination and assistance prior to the preparation of this memorandum.

JOHN DOE v.
WILLIAM H. WEBSTER, et al.
(U.S.D.C., D.C.C.)
COURT OF APPEALS NO. 77-2011

Reference is made to your letter, captioned as above, dated July 29, 1980.

b6

This communication sets forth a detailed explanation as to why, after considering Mr. [redacted] suggestions in the above-referenced letter, the Identification Division (ID) continues to believe that expunction of conviction-set-aside (CSA) records is the most appropriate method of compliance with the decision of the court in the above-captioned case. Briefly stated, the ID points out the risk of inadvertent disclosure during employment and licensing inquiries at state and local agencies, and the resulting harm that might be caused from the acquisition of only partial information by the inquirer. The cumbersome and time consuming method of providing the total record to those agencies entitled to it is also mentioned.

Particular emphasis is given to the fact that only approximately 400 CSA certificates per year are involved. This fact coupled with the small rate of recidivism among those receiving CSA certificates diminishes the importance of maintaining the records when balanced against the harm that might result from disclosure of the information.

ENCLOSURE

Assistant Attorney General

The ID concludes with a discussion of the availability of the same information through other sources, and the extensive cost involved in implementing the approach suggested by Mr. [redacted] Our Technical Services Division concurs with the ID suggestion for reasons stated infra. b6 b7C

The position of the Legal Counsel Division (LCD) is also in accord with that of the ID. As long as there exists a clear possibility that information regarding the conviction may be disseminated, inadvertently or otherwise, the express intent of the court in this case will be frustrated. As the court stated, "The plain fact is that - irrespective of notations and certification - unless the slate is wiped clean in such a way that the FBI will not disclose, and the youthful ex-offender whose conviction was set aside may legally deny, the existence of that previous conviction, he will almost inevitably and forever bear its stigma in terms of both social relationships and economic opportunities. Anything less leaves him at best only slightly better off than if his conviction had never been set aside at all." Doe v. Webster, 606 F.2d 1226 (D.C.C. 1979), at p. 1239-1240.

The primary concern of the Department appears to be the permanent loss of the record, which might prove useful in future law enforcement investigations. According to a footnote of the opinion, numerous district courts do not share this concern, in that many are cited as viewing section 5021 as authorizing expunction. Ibid., n. 47 at p. 1237. Nor was the Doe court averse to the general idea of records being expunged, as evidenced in that portion of the opinion beginning on page 1235, dealing with the federal record-keeping laws. The court was concerned with the fact that there might be some legitimate law enforcement interest in the CSA records, but the primary emphasis was on insuring that the records not be "disseminated to anyone, public or private, for any other purpose (than a bona fide criminal investigation)." Ibid. at p. 1244. The suggested system of sending out a caveat to all inquiring agencies to the effect that more information is available would protect the law enforcement interest, but not the interest of the ex-offender, about whom the court was primarily concerned.

When this is considered in conjunction with the fact that the information is available from other sources, as pointed out in more detail later, and the indication that occasions when the information might be needed would be extremely rare, the concern over expunging the FBI record should be assuaged.

Assistant Attorney General

The following represents the basis for the belief by the ID that CSA records should be expunged:

By memorandum from Assistant Director - Legal Counsel to the Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division - Appellate Section, dated February 26, 1980, captioned as above, the DOJ was requested to authorize expunction of identification record entries representing convictions under the Federal Youth Corrections Act (FYCA) when the conviction is later set aside. By memorandum from [redacted] Attorney, Appellate Section, Criminal Division, to John A. Mintz, Assistant Director - Legal Counsel, dated July 29, 1980, the DOJ responded to our memorandum. b6 b7C

The [redacted] memorandum stated that the DOJ did not agree with the FBI request because (a) expunction of the CSA entries would deprive law enforcement of such information in bona fide criminal investigations; (b) the Department would be deprived of information it needs in determining future FYCA eligibility; and (c) "we should not unnecessarily yield prerogatives that the court permitted." Accordingly, the DOJ proposed that CSA entries be deleted from any responses to employment and licensing inquiries. The DOJ further proposed that arrest fingerprint cards and other criminal justice inquiries be answered by deleting CSA entries and adding a caveat to the record advising that additional information was available if the inquiry was in connection with a bona fide criminal investigation. The agency would then have to make another request for the complete record, certifying that it was in connection with such an investigation.

The ID has serious reservations about implementing the procedure suggested by the DOJ. It would cause identification records bearing the caveat to be placed in the files of state central criminal history records repositories as well as the files of state and local law enforcement agencies where they might be revealed in response to employment and licensing inquiries. Many of these agencies allow Federal agencies access to their files for employment and licensing purposes. The ID is aware that the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) and the Defense Investigative Service (DIS), two agencies which conduct the vast majority of employment and licensing inquiries for the Federal Government, review the files of state and local criminal justice agencies. Even though OPM and DIS would not receive CSA information from the ID, they may be alerted to this information during a state or local agency records check when the agency files contain an FBI identification record bearing the caveat. Further, although state and local criminal justice agencies are not authorized to furnish information from FBI identification records in response to non-Federal employment and licensing inquiries, such information may be disclosed inadvertently.

The release by a state or local criminal justice agency of information from an FBI identification record bearing the caveat could result in harm to an applicant if the inquirer presumes from the caveat that there are additional arrests and does not receive the complete facts, i.e., there was an arrest and conviction but the subject's good conduct resulted in the conviction being set aside. The ID is concerned over the possibility of lawsuits aginst the FBI when identification record information is obtained in this manner and the applicant is denied employment.

A record bearing the caveat can also harm the subject whose name arises during a law enforcement inquiry. The caveat may lead a criminal investigator reviewing the record to presume the individual has a more serious record than actually exists. This may result in detrimental action against the record subject. The mere fact that the record is unusual will call attention to it, contrary to the intent of the Doe decision which seeks to protect those who earn CSA treatment.

Another problem with the DOJ's proposal is the added time for an agency entitled to the complete record to receive it. First, the fingerprint card submission or other request will be answered with the restricted record and the caveat. The recipient will then have to make a second request for the CSA information. Several additional weeks will elapse before the full record is obtained. In the meantime, the record subject may be in custody pending a bail determination, or awaiting a prosecutive determination. Here again the intent of Doe will be frustrated.

The DOJ argues that law enforcement would be deprived of CSA information for bona fide criminal investigative purposes if our proposal to expunge such entries is adopted. It is pointed out that the ID receives only approximately 400 CSA certificates each year. Recipients are persons who have demonstrated exemplary conduct which earned them early termination of confinement or probation. Officials of the Administrative Office of United States Courts (AOUSC) have advised they maintain no data on recidivism by persons receiving CSA certificates; however, very few individuals who receive certificates become repeat defendants in the Federal judicial system. Since many of these persons will never again become involved in the criminal justice process as a suspect or defendant, there will be no later need for their records to be disseminated. The futures of all who earn the CSA certificate should not be unnecessarily jeopardized for the small benefit gained by having these records available.

Mr. [redacted] memorandum states the DOJ would be deprived of information needed to determine future FYCA eligibility if the ID procedure were adopted. It is acknowledged that ID records would provide the most comprehensive check to determine if a person has a prior conviction. However, the same information may also be available through the U.S. Probation Office where the individual was supervised or the Bureau of Prisons if the individual was confined. The AOUSC maintains limited records concerning CSA matters, and may be able to identify persons who have been handled under the FYCA. Further, in view of the AOUSC statement that very few persons obtain the certificates become repeat offenders in the Federal judicial system, there will be minimal need for this information.

The DOJ argues that we should not unnecessarily yield prerogatives the court permitted. Given the serious problems encountered in trying to follow the court's instructions, the ID still believes expunction is the most judicious course of action when the danger of harm to the record subject and the possibility of lawsuits against the FBI are balanced against the small benefit to be derived from maintaining the records. If this means yielding certain prerogatives permitted by the Court, then it seems a small price to pay for protecting individual rights.

A final objection to the DOJ's proposal is the cost and effort of implementing and maintaining the new system. The DOJ's memorandum suggests that a simple coding procedure can be implemented to provide automated response for CSA records. While it is agreed that the necessary programming can be accomplished, it is estimated that it will take three man-months to identify and make the necessary changes to the functional specifications and six man-months to program, check out, and document all changes to the existing AIDS programs. The ID believes that this is an extensive and costly undertaking and should not be characterized as a simple programming change.

Based on all the considerations involved, the ID strongly believes that the procedures recommended by the DOJ should not be adopted.

The Technical Services Division (TSD) agrees with both the ID and the DOJ that CSA information should not be disseminated for employment and licensing purposes. Dissemination of

Assistant Attorney General

CSA information in response to all criminal fingerprint card submissions is considered most desirable in serving the needs of the criminal justice community; however, given the constraints imposed by the DOJ proposed procedure, any dissemination would be impractical. The proposed procedures are likewise impractical in regard to the exchange of records from the NCIC Computerized Criminal History file. TSD, therefore, concurs with the recommendation of the ID.

In view of the above, the Department is requested to reconsider the recommendation that CSA records be expunged.

If there are any questions, please contact Special Agent [redacted] at FTS 324-4532 or Special Agent Kenneth Arnold at FTS 324-5454.

Attention: Ms. [redacted]
Assistant United States Attorney

NOTE: This letter requests that the DOJ reconsider its position with regard to the disposition of Conviction-Set-Aside records under the Federal Youth Corrections Act. The Department previously rejected our proposal that all such records be expunged. This letter relates the basis for the Identification Division's continued belief that expunction is most consistent with the Doe Court's decision. With regard to the statements in the first paragraph of Page 4 pertaining to the AOUSC, Mr. Kenneth Arnold, Section Chief, I.D., advised that this information was provided to him by a representative of that Court during a telephone conversation. He could not recall the name of the individual to whom he spoke.

Subject : [redacted] DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

PURPOSE: To provide a legal analysis of the Federal Youth Corrections Act (FYCA), Title 18, United States Code (USC), Section 5021(b), upon which a policy can be developed by Records Management Division (RMD) for processing expungement orders, pursuant to the FYCA, such as arose in connection with captioned subject.

66-3286-1964X

SYNOPSIS: By memorandum from R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Bailey, dated 7/10/80, RMD requested guidance from Legal Counsel Division (LCD) regarding the proper disposition of file material following the receipt of a court order calling for the expunction of the criminal record of an individual afforded treatment under the FYCA, Title 18, USC, Section 5021(b). It is the opinion of LCD, that future dissemination of records concerning the arrest and/or conviction of any individual afforded expunction under the FYCA must be limited to bona fide law enforcement agencies for bona fide law enforcement purposes, which would not include an investigation for the purpose of determining an individual's suitability for employment with a law enforcement agency. It is LCD's opinion that the [redacted] Order in question did not intend to require expunction in accordance with Title 21, USC, Section 844(b)(2) but only used this statute as an analogy when discussing the authority of a federal court to expunge a criminal record.

7 AUG 27 1981

RECOMMENDATION: That dissemination of arrest and conviction information subject to court ordered expungement under the FYCA be limited to inquiries from law enforcement agencies for bona fide law enforcement investigative purposes, not to include an investigation to determine suitability for employment.

Memo LC to A[redacted] RMD
Re: [redacted]

DETAILS: By memorandum from R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Bailey, dated 7/10/80, RMD requested guidance from LCD regarding the proper disposition of file material following the receipt of FYCA expungement orders such as the one which arose in connection with captioned matter. Attached is a copy of an order from the United States District Court for the Southern District of Illinois calling for the expunction of the "criminal record" of [redacted], who was afforded treatment under the FYCA. 1/ While the [redacted] Court notes that expunction is not explicitly mentioned in the FYCA, the Court bases its authority for this expunction on its "inherent power to expunge a criminal record if, in the particular case, expunction would further the purposes of the Youth Corrections Act." Based upon a previous recommendation from LCD, RMD has segregated the [redacted] file from the central records files in order to prevent dissemination of information from this file until a policy for handling FYCA orders is implemented. LCD believes that a policy for handling such cases is necessary in order to comply with the legislative intent of the FYCA and all future FYCA orders.

The Congressional purpose of the FYCA was to prevent young offenders from becoming habitual criminals and "to help the offender get a job and keep him from having to be turned down by a prospective employer because of the fact that he has had a conviction." 2/

1/ Title 18, USC, Section 5021 (1970). In full, the statute provides:

(a) Upon the unconditional discharge by the division of a committed youth offender before the expiration of the maximum sentence imposed upon him, the conviction shall be automatically set aside and the division shall issue to the youth offender a certificate to that effect.

(b) Where a youth offender has been placed on probation by the court, the court may thereafter, in its discretion, unconditionally discharge such youth offender from probation prior to the expiration of the maximum period of probation therefore fixed by the court, which discharge shall automatically set aside the conviction, and the court shall issue to the youth offender a certificate to that effect.

2/ Hon. Orie L. Phillips, Chief Judge, U.S. Court of Appeals, Tenth Circuit, before the Senate Committee on the Judiciary on S.1114 and S.2609, 81st Cong., 1st Sess., (1949) p. 70.

3/ Correctional System for Youth Offenders: Hearings on S.1114 and S.2609 Before a Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary, 81st Cong., 1st Sess., 1 (1949). What is now referred to as section 5021 was originally section 5025.

Although the Congressional purpose of the FYCA is clear, just what is encompassed by the term "set aside" contained in Section 5021(b) is not clear from the legislative history as there was only limited discussion of this term in the Committee hearings. What remarks were made did little to dispel the doubt surrounding the term "set aside". 3/ Because of the lack of documentation of the Congressional intent behind Section 5021, the courts have had the task of defining the proper implementation of the statute. This has resulted in the meaning of the "setting aside" of a conviction still continuing to cause controversy among the federal courts which do not agree on the construction to be given Section 5021. 4/ The meaning and effect of "set aside" has been variously interpreted by federal courts and described as "expunged", "sealed", "vacated", "wiped out" or "pardoned".

United States v. McMains 5/ was the first case to deal directly with the expunction of conviction records under the FYCA. In McMains the Court concluded that Congress did Probation, Sept., 1975 at 31, with Cough, The Expungement of Adjudication Records of Juvenile and Adult Offenders: A Problem of Status, 1966 Wash. U.L.Q. 147. Language used by courts when only parenthetically referring to the effects of Section 5021 upon the records of an ex-offender is often ambiguous. Language which appears to indicate that the provision acts to expunge both the conviction and the youth's criminal record has been used by several courts. See, Cox v. United States, 473 F.2d 334, 336, 340n.4 (4th Cir. 1973); United States v. McDonald, 481 F.2d 513, 525 (D.C. Cir. 1973) (dissenting opinion); United States v. McDonald, 386 F.Supp. 587, 589 (D.N.H. 1975); United States v. Bailey, 343 F.Supp. 76, 78 (W.D. Mo. 1971); United States v. Caviness, 239 F.Supp. 545, 553 (D.D.C. 1965). Other courts, however, have used language indicating that Section 5021 expunges only the record of conviction. See United States v. Mollet, 510 F.2d 625, 628 (9th Cir. 1975); Brager v. United States, 527 F.2d 895, 897n.1 (8th Cir. 1975); United States v. Bronson, 449 F.2d 302, 305 (10th Cir. 1971); United States v. Prianos, 403 F.Supp. 766, 769 (N.D. Ill. 1975); United States v. Borawski, 298 F.Supp. 198, 200 (E.D. N.Y. 1969).

5/ 540 F.2d 387 (8th Cir. 1976).

not intend Section 5021 of the FYCA to remove a youth's record from public scrutiny, but intended instead to compromise the rehabilitative goals of the FYCA in favor of "the important societal interest served by criminal record keeping" and held that the FYCA does not authorize or empower a federal court to expunge a criminal record of one whose conviction has been "set aside". 6/

After McMains, the Sixth Circuit in United States v. Doe 7/ also held that Section 5021 did not authorize expunction, but stated that the setting aside of a person's conviction should be noted on all records. Previously, in United States v. Fryer 8/ the Sixth Circuit had referred to the FYCA as an "expungement" statute. The Sixth Circuit distinguished this apparent conflict by a difference in the definition of the term "expungement". The Fryer Court equated expunction with vacating the judgment of a conviction, whereas in Doe, expunction meant the destruction or erasure of records. The Doe Court went on to say that the FYCA is an expunction statute in that it annuls convictions. 9/ Thus, consistent with Fryer, the conviction may not be used in later prosecutions, but it is not erased and remains available to law enforcement agencies.

The District of Columbia Circuit has considered the subject of expunction on several occasions. In 1962, the Court of Appeals in Tatum v. United States 10/ stated in dictum that section 5021 of the FYCA allowed the expunction of both "the conviction and the record". 11/ This dictum was followed by Stevenson v. United States 12/ where the Court noted that it could spare an ex-offender the burden of a lifelong criminal record by setting aside the conviction. 13/ The District Court for the District of Columbia in United States v. Glasgow 14/ stated the purpose of the Act, as mentioned above, and in dictum suggested that the records of the ex-offender could be sealed, thereby freeing him of the taint of conviction. 15/ Doe v. Webster 16/ is the first case in which a federal court of appeals has found that Section 5021 authorizes expunction of a conviction record. This Court examined the reasoning of McMains and United States v. Doe and then parted with their precedent. the Webster Court did not find it fatal that Congress did not specifically use the word "expungement" in Section 5021. This Court's reading of the legislative history of the FYCA led it to conclude that there was nothing which would indicate that the term "set aside" did not mean expunction; and in fact the Court found support in some statements contained in the legislative history such as: "wiped out . . . the conviction", 17/ "completely set aside the conviction so that (the person) will not have a criminal record staring him in the face", 18/ and that "this law blots out (the person's) sentence and lets (him) go without any stigma . . .", 19 to indicate that expunction was the proper remedy.

The Webster Court was unpersuaded by the government's arguments that expunction was barred by the record-keeping power vested in the Attorney General. 20/ Congress can limit

20/ The government cited 28 USC, Section 534 (1976) as authorizing the retention of records by the Attorney General. Section 534 provides in pertinent part:

534. Acquisition, preservation, and exchange of identification records; appointment of officials

(a) The Attorney General shall

(1) acquire, collect, classify, and preserve identification, criminal identification, crime, and other records; and

(2) exchange these records with, and for the official use of, authorized officials of the Federal Government, the States, cities, and penal and other institutions.

(b) The exchange of records authorized by subsection (a)(2) of this section is subject to cancellation if dissemination is made outside the receiving departments or related agencies.

the record-keeping power of the Attorney General, as evidenced by a recently enacted statute expressly authorizing the expunction of the records of certain federal drug offenders. 21/ It is only logical that Congress, which conferred the record-keeping power on the Attorney General may limit the power as it later sees fit. Courts have also intruded into this power by the equitable expunction of criminal records in extra-ordinary circumstances. 22/ The Webster Court found that Section 5021 was a statutory exception to the power of the Attorney General and that, in any case, the Court's inherent equity power to expunge records could be invoked to override the statute.

The Webster Court incorporated into its interpretation of the FYCA a balancing of governmental law enforcement needs against the individual ex-offender's right to privacy. The Court defined "expunction" to mean a separate storage of the conviction records which may be used only "in the course of a bona fide criminal investigation". 23/ The Court reasoned that this type of "expunction" will not burden law enforcement agencies and yet will afford individual ex-offenders maximum protection. The Court stated that law enforcement agencies would have complete access to arrest records, and that the conviction records will be available in a "bona fide criminal investigation". The Court found that the interests of the ex-offender and law enforcement could both be protected by this form of "expunction".

The plaintiff in Webster also sought the expunction of his arrest records. Such expunction is not within the scope of Section 5021 of the FYCA, as by its language, 5021 provides only for setting aside of convictions. However, under the FYCA a "conviction" is a judgment, a verdict, or plea of nolo contendere. 24/ This definition precludes any construction of Section 5021 that might include arrest records in those records which are set aside under the Act. So, the decision as to whether the plaintiff's arrest records should be expunged rested upon the Webster Court exercising its equitable power of expunction. The Court employed the test of whether federal law enforcement interests outweigh the plaintiff's right of privacy, the outcome of which depends on the facts of each particular case. The Webster Court found that the governmental interest in law enforcement outweighed the plaintiff's right to privacy, and held the arrest records could not be expunged because no extraordinary circumstances such as a constitutional violation were at issue. The Court noted that persons arrested but not convicted are not entitled to expunction as a matter of course, and that a convicted person should not gain any advantage solely by virtue of his conviction. This reasoning is supported by precedent. The District of Columbia Circuit has found on numerous occasions that arrest records may not be expunged absent statutory authority. 25/ Other circuits are largely in agreement with the D.C. Circuit. 26/

Recently, two federal district courts have followed the basic reasoning of the Doe v. Webster Court. However, unlike the Doe v. Webster Court, they have concluded from a review of the FYCA legislative history that Section 5021 not only implicitly authorizes, but requires expungement of a youth's arrest records, as well as his conviction records. United States v. Thomas A. Henderson 27/ and United States v. John Doe. 28/ Both Courts state that a federal court has the inherent power to expunge a youth's arrest record where expungement would further the purposes of the FYCA. The basic difference between these cases and Doe v. Webster is that they chose to read the phrase "set aside the conviction" very literally, while the Doe v. Webster Court chose to interpret the word "conviction" narrowly so as to exclude the arrest record from the expungement remedy. The Henderson Court noted that federal and state courts have often recognized that the word

27/ 482 F.Supp. 234 (D. N.J. 1980).

28/ 496 F.Supp. 650 (D. R.I. 1980).

"conviction" is of equivocal meaning. In United States v. Cody 29/ the Court stated that what constitutes a conviction "varies according to the purpose for which its definition is sought". 30/ Even courts which have not explicitly addressed this issue have in actuality looked to the intent of a particular statute in order to derive a definition for the word "conviction". 31/

It should be noted that although both courts in United States v. Henderson and United States v. John Doe ordered "expungement" of both arrest and conviction records, they specifically referred to "expungement" as the remedy fashioned by the District of Columbia Circuit in Webster. 32/ The Henderson Court extensively discussed the Government's investigative need to maintain criminal records and stated that this remedy would adequately accommodate both the interests of the law enforcement community in record-keeping and the youthful offender's interest in freedom from the taint of a criminal conviction.

29/ 529 F.2d 564, 566n.3. (8th Cir. 1976).

30/ See also, People v. Fabian, 192 N.Y. 433, 449 (1908); DeVeau v. Braisted, 5 N.Y. 2d 236, 242 (1959); Richetti v. New York State Board of Parole, 300 N.Y. 357, 360 (1950).

31/ E.g., Quershi v. Immigration and N. S. Dept. of J. of United States, 519 F.2d 1174, 1175-76 (5th Cir. 1975) (looks to Congressional intent of "conviction" in 18 USC, 1251(a)(5); Zabanazad v. Rosenbery, 306 F.2d 861, 861-62 (9th Cir. 1962) (determines that a violation of 11530 of the California Health and Safety Code is a "conviction", and therefore warrants deportation); Postma v. International Bro. of Teamsters, Etc., Local 294, 229 F.Supp. 655, 658 (N.D. N.Y.), add'd, 337 F.2d 609 (2nd Cir. 1964) (construes the word "conviction" as used in 29 USC, 504); United States v. Lee, 227 F.Supp. 450 452 (D. N.D. 1964) found a court-martial conviction to fall within the ambit of the term "conviction" as used in 15 USC, 902(e)).

32/ The text of Webster's remedy is as follows:

The set-aside must be actual: the conviction records must be physically removed from the central criminal files and placed in a separate storage facility not to be opened other than in the course of a bona fide criminal investigation by law enforcement authorities and where necessary for such an investigation. These records may not be used by appellees FBI for any other purpose, nor may they be disseminated to anyone, public or private, for any other purpose.

Once notified of the entry of a set-aside order, appellees and their agents will be required to respond in the negative to any and all inquiries concerning the set-aside conviction. Similarly, the ex-offender whose conviction is or has been set aside under section 5021, may legally reply in the negative to any and all inquiries concerning his former conviction.

The United States v. John Doe Court ordered:

> 1. Once a district court issues its order setting aside a conviction under section 5021 and transmits that order to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, it will not be sufficient for the Identification Division of that Bureau merely to enter the words "set aside" on its records. The set-aside must be actual: the conviction records and the arrest records must be physically removed from the central criminal files and placed in a separate storage facility not to be opened other than in the course of a bona fide criminal investigation by law enforcement authorities and where necessary for such an investigation. These records may not be used by the government for any other purpose, nor may they be disseminated to anyone, public or private.
> 2. Once notified of the entry of a set-aside order, the government and its agencies will be required to respond in the negative to any and all inquiries concerning the set-aside conviction and arrest records. 33/

The Webster decision prescribes a system of segregation of identification records for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). This restriction, which is short of expungement in its purest sense, serves the interests of rehabilitation without denying law enforcement agencies access to a criminal record. Several cases have held that a court can shape a remedy in equity in the absence of a specific statutory remedy. Thus a court can shape relief in the form of something less than actual expunction by ordering records sealed and prohibiting disclosure of their contents. 34/

Thus, the FBI must not only comply with FYCA expunction orders for identification records but must insure that information concerning an ex-offender's arrest and conviction is not disseminated so as to negate the purpose of the FYCA.

33/ The wording of this order was taken from Doe v. Webster, supra, at 1244, except as to that portion pertaining to arrest records.

34/ 424 U.S. 693, 47 L.Ed. 2d 405 (1976).

The above court decisions agree that the purpose of "setting aside" the conviction record is to protect the youthful ex-offender from the social stigma and loss of economic opportunity that accompanies the status of an "ex-con" label. The courts agree that the intent of the FYCA, as indicated throughout its legislative history is to afford individuals processed under the FYCA an opportunity to gain employment and reintegrate into the productive segment of society; although, in providing this protection, these courts recognize the legitimate law enforcement interests of the Government in keeping criminal records and the statutory duty of the FBI to maintain these records. 35/

Thus, it is LCD's opinion that RMD must insure that information concerning the conviction of captioned subject, as well as any other individual whose record is "set aside" or "expunged" under the FYCA pursuant to a federal court order, is not disseminated other than to a bona fide law enforcement agency for a legitimate law enforcement investigative purpose. Such a purpose would not include an investigation to determine suitability for employment by a law enforcement agency. 36/ Furthermore, LCD is of the opinion that dissemination of information concerning an individual's arrest should likewise be restricted, to a legitimate law enforcement agency for a legitimate law enforcement investigation when a court order commands expunction of both an individual's conviction and arrest records.

LCD notes that the FBI and the Appellate Section of the Criminal Division, Department of Justice (DOJ) are currently discussing various methods by which the Identification Division (ID) can comply with set aside orders pursuant to the FYCA directing expungement of Identification records or the arrest and conviction information they contain. See, memorandum from the Director to the Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, captioned "John Doe v. William H. Webster, et al., dated 11/4/80, copy attached.

35/ United States v. Rosen, 343 F.Supp. 804 (S.D. N.Y., 1972). Only where the "original arrest was unlawful, or a statute directs the court to expunge." United States v. Seasholtz, 376 F.Supp. 1288 (D. Okla. 1974), or where equity requires the expungement to effect the requirements of justice, United States v. Doe, 556 F.2d 391 (6th Cir. 1977), will a court order a record expunged.

36/ See, 482 F.Supp 234.

Memo LC to), RMD
Re: [redacted]

The ID is concerned with the risk of an inadvertent disclosure during an employment or licensing inquiry by a state or local agency and so desires the identification record to be physically destroyed. The primary concern of the DOJ appears to be the permanent loss of the record which might prove useful in future law enforcement investigations.

The position reached in this memorandum is not inconsistent with the point of view of the ID because the records here are the raw investigative files of the FBI, which are not normally available to state or local agencies as are the ID's records. We thus conclude that while the ID may, out of an abundance of caution, find it more prudent to completely destroy the identification records, we do not think that this solution is required by the law for the investigative records. Thus, LCD recommends that the investigative records maintained by the Records Management Division which are the subject of a set aside order pursuant to the FYCA not be destroyed but rather be completely segregated from the main investigative files.

DETAILS:

GSA Bulletin FPMR (Federal Property Management Regulations) B-111, dated 7/7/81 (copy attached), authorizes a reduced retention period of six years and three months after period covered by the account for all GAO site audit records.

We have previously observed the split retention period of 10 years, three months, after period covered by account for records created prior to Fiscal Year 1976 (July 1, 1975), and six years, three months, after period covered by account for records created after Fiscal Year 1975 (June 30, 1975). GAO has now ruled that the "six-year" limitation applies to all site audit records, regardless of date.

RE: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

Modification to the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. July 7, 1981

GSA BULLETIN FPMR B- 111
ARCHIVES AND RECORDS

TO: Heads of Federal agencies

SUBJECT: Revision of General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1

1. Purpose. This bulletin announces an amendment to General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, Accountable Officers' Accounts Records, item 1, Accountable Officers' Accounts.

2. Expiration date. This bulletin contains information of a continuing nature and will remain in effect until canceled or superseded.

3. Background. At the request of the National Archives and Records Service, the General Accounting Office (GAO) reevaluated the effect of the General Accounting Office Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-604) that reduced the statute of limitation on claims brought before the Comptroller General from 10 years to 6 years. Initially, GAO believed that a corresponding reduction in the retention period could be made for its extremely voluminous site audit records. In fact, a request was approved in 1975 establishing a 6-year standard. Shortly after this schedule was processed, however, GAO determined that the reduced statute of limitations was not retroactive. Consequently, a new schedule was approved providing for the current split retention period. Site audit records created before FY 1976 are destroyed after 10 years while those created after FY 1975 may be destroyed after only 6 years (GRS 6, item 1a). GAO now has ruled that the 6-year limitation applies to all site audit records, regardless of date.

4. Explanation of change. The current description of site audit files in GRS 6, item 1a, will not change. However, the disposition instruction is modified by deleting the standards in items 1a(1) and 1a(2). All site audit files now are governed by the disposition instruction to "Destroy 6 years and 3 months after the period covered by the account."

5. Action. Make the necessary pen-and-ink changes to GRS 6, item 1a, and cite this GSA bulletin as authority.

Subject: ~~DISPOSITION OF OFFICIAL PERSONNEL FOLDERS (OPF)~~
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL

On January 2, 1981, the Archivist of the United States approved a disposal schedule which will permit the proper disposition of OPFs maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). The disposal schedule was submitted to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) to note records which were determined by the FBI to be permanently valuable or disposable and the folders were subsequently appraised by NARS. Since the FBI retains the folders of separated personnel (FPM Supplement 293-31, subchapter S5, section S5-9a.), we have delayed implementing action on this matter until you were properly apprised of our intentions.

Pursuant to the approved disposal schedule, records of historical value will be transferred to the National Archives at the conclusion of designated retention periods. The proposed transfer of records is consistent with the requirements of the pending action "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.) Civil Action Number 79-1655".

The remaining OPFs and service record cards will be destroyed according to the retention periods authorized by General Records Schedule #1. Immediate implementation is not anticipated due to the current immaturity of the records and restrictions placed on certain temporary records by the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene on January 10, 1980.

NOTE: Based on R. W. Scherrer memo to Mr. Finzel, dated 1/21/81, captioned, "Archival Authorization for Destruction of Bureau Records," which attached the disposal schedule approved by the Archivist of the United States and permits us to transfer OPFs of historical value to the National Archives and destroy the remaining records. Referenced memorandum noted that, since the OPFs are a system of records of the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) and the Federal Personnel Records Center generally destroys OPFs after designated periods, action would be held in abeyance until OPM was properly notified of our plans. We have advised OPM that we will proceed with the transfer of historical OPFs to the National Archives but that the destruction process will be held in abeyance due to the current immaturity of the records and restrictions placed on temporary records filed in the OPFs.

RE: PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL
OF ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS
AND PROCEDURES (MAOP)

DETAILS:

REASON FOR CHANGE

By memorandum R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Finzel, 8/26/81, captioned "Destruction of Bureau Records," authority was granted to apply a reduced retention period of six years, three months, after period covered by the account, to all GAO site audit records pursuant to GAO ruling. We have previously observed split retention periods of 10 years, three months, after period covered by account for records created prior to Fiscal Year 1976, and six years, three months, after period covered by account for records created after Fiscal Year 1975. By memorandum J. D. McKenzie to Mr. Finzel, dated 8/17/81, captioned "New Agents' Training Records, Freedom of Information - Privacy Acts (FOIPA)" approval was granted to destroy New Agents' Training Unit class books after retention of one year. Implementation is permitted in both instances pursuant to modifications to the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene on 1/10/80.

Appropriate contact was made with [redacted] Manuals Desk, Administrative Services Division, on 8/25/81. b6 b7C

CHANGED TEXT

MAOP, Part II, Section 2-4.5.9 (1), page 307, should be deleted and revised as follows:

(1) Field Support Account - Including cancelled checks, bank statements, check stubs, and bank passbooks. Destroy six years, three months, after period covered by account.

MAOP, Part II, Section 2-4.5.16 (11), page 312, should be inserted as follows:

(11) New Agents' Training Unit class books.

PERSONAL ATTENTION

MEMORANDUM TO ALL SPECIAL AGENTS IN CHARGE:

RE: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

The General Services Administration has authorized Federal agencies to apply the retention period of "six years, three months, after period covered by the account" for all General Accounting Office's (GAO) site audit records. Field offices were previously authorized to use the split retention period of ten years, three months, after period covered by account for records created prior to Fiscal Year 1976 (July 1, 1975), and six years, three months, after period covered by account for records created after Fiscal Year 1975 (June 30, 1975). GAO has now ruled that the "six-year" limitation applies to all site audit records, regardless of date. Field offices may, therefore, apply the newly authorized retention period to destruction of Field Support Account records.

Modification to the preliminary injunction issued by Judge Harold H. Greene on January 10, 1980, permits the disposal of records of this nature.

FBI PARTICIPATION IN DISCOVERY IN THE KEARNEY CASE AND THE GRAY, FELT, AND MILLER CASES

Bureau Property - General

The FBI has observed a moratorium on the destruction of files of a security nature since January 16, 1978, as a result of contact with Mary C. Lawton, former Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel, in connection with the Kearney case. By letter dated April 12, 1978, Ms. Lawton advised former Deputy Associate Director John J. McDermott that an attempt would be made to limit the number of field office files involved in discovery in the Gray, Felt, and Miller cases in order to permit a normal destruction program in the field offices. No further action was taken in this regard and the restriction imposed by the Department has remained in effect.

As you are aware, the trial of former Associate Director W. Mark Felt and former Assistant Director Edward S. Miller commenced on September 15, 1980. Messrs. Felt and Miller were later convicted by jury, fined by the presiding judge, and later pardoned by President Reagan. The trial of former Acting Director L. Patrick Gray was severed from the Felt-Miller case in early 1979 and prosecution was dropped in December, 1980.

It now appears to be timely to request an official termination of this moratorium. While the pending action, "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.) Civil Action Number 79-1655," will continue to limit destruction of investigative records pending court approval, the National Archives and Records Service will now consider approval of requests for court-ordered file destruction pursuant to modified orders issued by Judge Harold H. Greene. Termination of the moratorium, established on January 16, 1978, will permit record destruction in these instances and will administratively remove a restriction which no longer serves a purpose.

NOTE: By teletype dated 1/16/78, all offices were advised to suspend all record destruction in security-related classifications for discovery in the Kearney case. By letter dated 4/12/78, Mary C. Lawton advised former Deputy Associate Director John J. McDermott that the Department would attempt to limit the field office files involved in discovery in the Gray, Felt, and Miller cases to permit normal destruction programs in most of the offices. No action was taken in this regard and the restriction remains in effect. We are requesting an end to this moratorium which no longer serves a useful purpose. Destruction of Bureau Property
General

This is in response to DOJ Order 2710 which establishes procedures for executing an order of the court to seal or expunge records when such an order is not covered by the Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S.C., Section 844.

The Identification Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has no policy for sealing arrest records and resolves the issue in favor of expungement. The Records Management Division has no policy to permanently seal records of the central records system, but has temporarily sealed records while awaiting final disposition authority.

Item 5c. of DOJ 2710 directs the responsible U.S. Attorney to transmit a certified copy of a court order to each individual, agency, or component which might maintain a record on the defendant. This procedure would defeat the purpose of the centralized concept. Direct contact between the U.S. Attorney and FBI Headquarters would be most suitable to insure that all involved field offices and Headquarters are cognizant of and in complete compliance with the order of the court.

NOTE: Referenced DOJ Order 2710 places responsibility on the U.S. Attorneys' Office for executing court orders to seal or expunge records unrelated to juvenile drug offenders and not specifically covered by 21 U.S.C., Section 844. Proposed Change in Records Center Accessioning Policy

Date: 2 SEP 1981

To: Bureau Records Officers

From: Vincent A. Lobisco
Assistant Director
Records Management
Records and Publications Staff

The National Archives and Records Service (NARS) has proposed a change to its current policy for accessioning agency records to its records center system. Please review the attached memorandum, dated August 27, 1981, and advise my office no later than September 8, 1981 of any adverse impact such a change would have on your records operations. We will prepare a Departmental reply to NARS. Questions on this subject may be referred to Robert M. Yahn of my staff at 724-6043.

MEMORANDUM FOR ALL AGENCY RECORDS OFFICERS

Because of recent budget cuts and severe space problems throughout the records center system, the Office of Federal Records Centers is re-examining its current accessioning policy. At present that policy allows us to accept all scheduled records with a retention period in the records centers of one year or more. The change we are considering would limit our accessions to those records that would remain in our centers at least three years before their scheduled disposal.

While this change would result in considerable savings to us by reducing the volume of our annual accessions by about 15%, it is felt that the impact on agencies should not be too severe. Data we have obtained from our NARS-5 computer system indicates that for most agencies, the annual volume is small, particularly when dispersed among many offices.

However, while this change could prove beneficial to NARS, we realize there may be factors of which we are unaware and this change therefore might have a negative impact on your own operation. Before we make a final decision we would like your comments on how your agency would be affected if this new policy is adopted. Please provide this information to us no later than September 15, 1981, so that your comments can become part of our determination of a future course of action.

If you have any questions or feel you need further information on this matter, please call me on 724-1614.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN RECORDS CENTER ACCESSIONING POLICY

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU PROPERTY - GENERAL

This is in response to your letter, dated September 2, 1981, with attachment, which requested comments regarding the proposed change in policy by the National Archives and Records Service which will require that records accessioned for storage in the records centers remain there for at least three years before their scheduled disposal.

The proposed policy will have no adverse effect on storage of Federal Bureau of Investigation records in the records centers.

66-3286-1367X

NOTE: By letter dated September 2, 1981, Vincent A. Lobisco, Assistant Director, Records Management, Justice Management Division, requested comments regarding a proposed policy change which would limit accessions to the records centers to records requiring storage for at least three years. Attached letter, dated August 27, 1981, from G. N. Scaboo, Acting Assistant Archivist for Federal Records Centers, provided rationale for the proposed changes. FBI records stored at the Washington National Records Center are stored in excess of the proposed three-year minimum period and we are advising Mr. Lobisco that the policy change would have no adverse effect on our record transfers. Referenced communications are attached for information.

DETAILS:

GSA Bulletin FPMR B-112, dated 8/5/81 (copy attached), notifies Federal agencies that disposal of employee medical records has been suspended in view of conflicting retention periods established for the records. Additionally, the Interagency Task Group on Federal Employee Medical Records has recommended significant changes in the structure, maintenance, and disposition of the records.

My memorandum, dated 1/21/81, captioned, "Archival Authorization for Destruction of Bureau Records," provided the disposal schedule relating to General Records Schedule (GRS)#1 which was approved by the Archivist and permitted us to destroy employee medical records in accordance with disposition of the Official Personnel Folder (OPF). A revised retention period as noted in Item 3c. of attached bulletin, i.e., "duration of employment plus thirty (30 years)" could drastically effect disposition of the OPFs. Upon receipt of the approved revision, necessary adjustments will be made.

GSA BULLETIN FPMR B-112
ARCHIVES AND RECORDS

TO: Heads of Federal agencies

SUBJECT: Suspension of disposal of employee medical records (General Records Schedule 1, item 21)

1. Purpose. This bulletin notifies agencies that the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) has temporarily withdrawn application of the disposition provisions of General Records Schedule (GRS) 1, item 21, relating to individual employee health case files.

2. Expiration date. This bulletin contains information of a continuing nature and will remain in effect until canceled.

3. Background.

a. Executive Order 12196, issued to provide direction for the implementation of section 19 (Federal employee occupational safety and health programs) of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 668), requires the head of each Federal agency to comply with all health and safety standards issued under section 6 as promulgated at 29 CFR 1910.

b. Section 3303a of title 44 U.S.C. makes application of the General Records Schedules, as approved by the Archivist of the United States, mandatory for all Federal agencies.

c. There is a conflict between 29 CFR 1910.20(d)(i), which provides that employee medical records "shall be preserved and maintained for at least the duration of employment plus thirty (30 years)," and the disposition standard for GRS 1, item 21, Individual Employee Health Case Files ("Destroy 6 years after last entry").

d. In addition, Interagency Task Group on Federal Employee Medical Records, jointly sponsored by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) and the Department of Labor (DOL), has recommended significant changes in the structure, maintenance, and disposition of Federal employee medical records, which would render the current GRS standard insufficient.

4. NARS action. NARS will work with OPM and DOL to develop new descriptions and disposition instructions for employee medical records for inclusion in the GRS. A subsequent GSA bulletin will announce the approved revision.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN RECORDS CENTER WITHDRAWAL POLICY ~~Destruction of Bureau Records~~ General

This will respond to your letter, dated September 17, 1981, with attachment, in which the National Archives and Records Service requested comments regarding proposed deadlines for returning entire cartons of agency records which have been withdrawn from the records centers.

The establishment of deadlines for withdrawn records would require no modifications to the current procedures of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

NOTE: Based on letter from Vincent A. Lobisco, Justice Management Division, dated 9/17/81, with attached letter, dated 9/10/81, from G. N. Scaboo, National Archives and Records Service, which requested comments on a proposal to establish a time limit for which agency records may be withdrawn from the records centers. We are advising the Department that the proposal would not affect our current withdrawal procedures. FBI PARTICIPATION IN DISCOVERY IN THE KEARNEY CASE AND THE GRAY, FELT, AND MILLER CASES

By letter dated September 1, 1981, with attachments, I requested that consideration be directed toward administratively terminating the moratorium on destruction of security-related records which the Federal Bureau of Investigation has observed since January 16, 1978, in response to captioned matter.

Completed copies of Request for Records Disposition Authority (SF 115) have been submitted to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for destruction of complete files pursuant to court orders and to provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 and we anticipate immediate approval. While the pending status of the action "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et. al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.) Civil Action Number 79-1655" would continue to prohibit destruction of investigative files until final resolution of the case, Judge Harold H. Greene has modified his original order of January 10, 1980, to exclude destruction of records related to court order and the Privacy Act.

Your further consideration of this matter would be appreciated. Relief from the moratorium would permit us to take action on records which have been approved for disposal by NARS and by the Court.

Reference is made to my memoranda dated December 18, 1981, and September 1, 1981, which requested that consideration be given to administratively terminate or modify the moratorium on the destruction of security-related records, which has been observed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation since January 16, 1978, in connection with captioned matter.

For your information, I am attaching copies of four separate Standard Form 115 (Request for Records Disposition Authority), which were approved by the Archivist of the United States. Since the files approved for destruction by the Archivist of the United States are security related, no disposition action may be taken by the Federal Bureau of Investigation until the moratorium, previously mentioned, is lifted or modified by the Department.

General

Dear Mr. Webb:

This is in reference to your letter of January 26, 1982, which was directed to [redacted] Justice Management Group, Justice Management Division, Department of Justice, and which referred to five cases that were ordered expunged pursuant to the Federal Youth Corrections Act.

Please be advised that although the Department of Justice has not given final approval to an order outlining a procedure for handling cases expunged pursuant to the Federal Youth Corrections Act, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has developed a standard procedure for processing such records.

Thus, pursuant to your request, the records of the individuals named in your communication have been purged from the files of the FBI's Identification Division. Additionally, the investigative files that refer to these individuals have been physically removed from the FBI's central criminal files to insure that information concerning the ex-offenders' arrests and convictions is not disseminated so as to negate the purpose of the Federal Youth Corrections Act.

Mr. Dan K. Webb

NOTE: Based on receipt of Form JMD-95, dated 2/24/82, from the Justice Management Division, ordering expungement of records pursuant to Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S.C., Section 844(b)(2), although subjects of court orders were being afforded treatment under the Federal Youth Corrections Act (FYCA). In response to request by the Records Management Division, the Legal Counsel Division (LCD) provided a legal analysis of the FYCA, 18 U.S.C., Section 5021(b), by memorandum dated 4/22/81 (66-3286-1364X) and recommended that pertinent records be segregated from the central records system and disseminated only to bona fide law enforcement agencies for legitimate law enforcement investigative purposes. We are stating our position with the U.S. Attorney in view of our reluctance to dispose of legitimate investigative files without positive definition or clarification and the prospects of obtaining archival authorization and court approval for destruction under these uncertain conditions. [redacted] who coordinates the expungement orders in the Justice Management Division, was contacted on 2/18/82. Ms. [redacted] was sympathetic with the problem and supportive in our effort to resolve the matter with the U.S. Attorney, Chicago. This matter is being closely coordinated with the Legal Research Unit, LCD.

SYNOPSIS AND DETAILS:

As a result of the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al. v, William H. Webster, et al., U.S. District Court, Washington, D. C., Civil Action Number 79-1655, the FBI has been enjoined from destruction of administrative and investigative files since January, 1980. In complying with orders of the Court in the above-mentioned civil matter, the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) and the FBI prepared and submitted a detailed retention plan and disposition schedule to the Court for approval on 11/9/81.

FBI/DOJ

After approval by the Court, the FBI will be bound by the provisions of the retention plan and disposition schedule. The critical space problems at FBIHQ and in the field resulting from the records destruction prohibition requires the prompt resumption of a records destruction program after authority is received from the Court. The NARS review of FBI records was the most extensive undertaking of its kind ever conducted by that agency. The resulting retention plan and disposition schedule are exceptionally complex and complicated.

Previously, the FBI had been generally authorized to destroy administrative and investigative files by administrative, criminal and subversive categories with few exceptions and/or restrictions. The field and Legat destruction programs were administered by individual field and Legat offices with minimal direction from FBIHQ. The new retention plan and disposition schedule developed by NARS will require continuous FBIHQ direction and control with regard to the destruction of field and Legat records. In addition, the new retention plan and disposition schedule will require that the FBI maintain a wide variety of administrative and investigative records for eventual transfer to NARS. The new retention plan and disposition schedule call for the retention of certain investigative and administrative records by classification, utilizing a statistical sampling procedure. All multi-volume files at FBIHQ, the field and in Legat offices in specified classifications will have to be retained and prepared for transfer to NARS. Also, specific criteria to identify exceptional cases have been established by NARS and these records also must be retained and prepared for transfer to NARS. The corresponding field records must be combined with multi-volume FBIHQ files for retention and transfer to NARS. The reverse is also true. Corresponding index cards from FBIHQ and the field related to files that must be permanently retained and ultimately transferred to NARS must be recovered and also transferred to NARS for retrieval purposes. Prior to the transfer of any FBI records to NARS, there must be a review for classification. In addition, records permanently transferred to NARS must be thoroughly reviewed in order to protect the identity of FBI informants or assets.

The foregoing activity will be continuing and ongoing. No FBI files, with the exception of World War I era records, have ever been transferred to NARS. In addition, no significant destruction of FBIHQ records has ever taken place.

Memorandum R. W. Scherrer to AD, RMD
RE: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS;
CREATION OF A RECORDS DISPOSITION AND ARCHIVAL SUBUNIT
RECORDS SYSTEMS SECTION
RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (RMD)

Personnel selected to carry out the destruction and archival retention of FBI records, in addition to having a broad RMD background, must also have the ability to analyze and interpret the subject matter under consideration for destruction and/or transfer to NARS. Personnel must also have the ability to work with a minimum of supervision. A preliminary RMD analysis of the proposed Disposition and Archival Specialist position leads to the belief that the incumbent should occupy the position of a GS-7 analyst with promotional opportunities through GS-9, after necessary experience has been obtained and performance has been demonstrated. Due to the huge amounts of FBIHQ, field and Legat records involved, RMD believes a targeted staffing level for the new Record Disposition and Archival Subunit should be fixed at 25 employees. RMD will be in touch with the Administrative Services Division for guidance and assistance in developing required position descriptions.

PIRATED MOTION PICTURE FILMS, VIDEO CASSETTES AND SOUND RECORDINGS APPEAR TO FALL WITHIN THE BROAD DEFINITION OF DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE. AS ALL OFFICES ARE AWARE, THE DISPOSITION OF DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE RETAINED BY THE FBI IS GOVERNED BY ORDERS ISSUED JULY 28, 1981, AND AUGUST 26, 1981, BY U.S. DISTRICT JUDGE (USDJ) HAROLD H. GREENE IN THE CIVIL MATTER "AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE, ET AL. V. WILLIAM H. WEBSTER, ET AL." U.S. DISTRICT COURT, WASHINGTON, D.C., CIVIL ACTION NUMBER 79-1655. SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE AFOREMENTIONED ORDERS ISSUED BY JUDGE GREENE WERE SET FORTH IN REBUTEL.

THE CIVIL DIVISION, U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, WILL SEEK CLARIFICATION FROM JUDGE GREENE AS TO WHETHER PIRATED MOTION PICTURE FILMS, VIDEO CASSETTES OR SOUND RECORDINGS SEIZED BY THE FBI ARE CONSIDERED TO BE DOCUMENTARY OR PHYSICAL EVIDENCE. UNTIL CLARIFICATION OF THIS ISSUE IS RECEIVED FROM JUDGE GREENE, ALL OFFICES SHOULD ADHERE TO THE INSTRUCTIONS SET FORTH IN REBUTEL CONCERNING THE DISPOSITION OF DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE.

INFORMAL INQUIRY BY FBIHQ WITH SEVERAL FIELD OFFICES ESTABLISHED THAT PIRATED MOTION PICTURE FILMS, VIDEO CASSETTES AND SOUND RECORDINGS WERE BEING DISPOSED OF BY COURT ORDER AS PROVIDED IN TITLE 17, U.S. CODE, SECTION 506(B), INASMUCH AS THE SEIZED MATERIAL WAS CONSIDERED BY THE U.S. ATTORNEY AND THE USDJ TO BE PHYSICAL EVIDENCE. CIVIL DIVISION, U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, DESIRES TO ASCERTAIN THE NUMBER OF INSTANCES WHEREIN PIRATED MOTION PICTURE FILMS, VIDEO CASSETTES OR SOUND RECORDINGS WERE DISPOSED OF BY FIELD OFFICES UNDER THE PROVISION OF TITLE 17, U.S. CODE, SECTION 506(B), OR BY OTHER MEANS DURING THE PAST YEAR. ACCORDINGLY, EACH OFFICE SHOULD PROVIDE THIS INFORMATION TO FBIHQ BY TELETYPE UNDER THE ABOVE CAPTION MARKED FOR THE ATTENTION OF SA ROBERT W. SCHERRER, SECTION CHIEF, RECORDS SYSTEMS SECTION, RMD. RECORDS DISPOSITION

This is in response to your memorandum dated April 16, 1982, which noted the policy change regarding storage of records in the Federal records centers and the proposed change that would limit accessions to records with established date of disposition.

The policy changes will have no immediate application to storage of Federal Bureau of Investigation records.

NOTE: Referenced communication notes that, effective 10/1/82, Federal records centers will accept records for storage only if the records will remain in the center for at least three years before their scheduled disposition and a proposed change to limit storage to records which have established dates of disposition. We are advising that the policy changes will have no immediate application. Referenced communication; related correspondence from George N. EXPUNGEMENT OF RECORDS
PURSUANT TO THE PRIVACY ACT

Destruction of Bureau Property

In response to your April 13, 1982, memorandum, the following comments are set forth concerning captioned matter:

The proposed revision of GSA Bulletin FPMR B-74 with regard to Privacy Act expungements provides that data elements or file items may be amended, expunged or removed from a file without the submission of SF-115, provided the following conditions are met: (1) The individual requests such action; (2) The agency agrees to the action; and (3) The affected record is scheduled for destruction by a National Archives and Records Service (NARS)-approved agency schedule or by a General Records Schedule. Since all destruction authority for FBI investigative files has been withdrawn by the Archivist of the United States during the pendency of the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al., U.S. District Court, Washington, D. C., Civil Action Number 79-1655, the FBI would be precluded from amending or expunging any material from investigative files in connection with a Privacy Act request. The FBI processes numerous requests for amendment, correction and partial expungement of data contained in investigative files. Requests for such partial amendments, correction and expungements have been received by the FBI in a ratio of 4 to 1 vis-a-vis total destruction of material contained in investigative files.

It is the opinion of the FBI that the requirement for the submission of SF-115 for each and every partial amendment, correction or expungement will be a burdensome procedure, not only for the FBI, but for NARS. It is obvious that the requirement for the submission of SF-115 to NARS and the subsequent review of material to be partially amended, corrected or expunged by NARS will cause considerable delay in the resolution of the Privacy Act request. Such delays may well result in civil litigation against the Government by the Privacy Act requester. It is believed that some discretionary authority should be afforded to the FBI to correct or amend minor items of information contained in investigative files that would obviously have no historical or other value.

Should you have any questions on this subject, please contact Special Agent R. W. Scherrer, Section Chief, Records Systems Section, Records Management Division at 324-4185.

Destruction of Bureau Records General

Subject : ~~RETENTION/DESTRUCTION OF FBI INVESTIGATIVE RECORDS~~ RELATED TO NATIONAL SECURITY

PURPOSE: To present for your consideration a problem which arises from the continuing moratorium imposed by the Department of Justice on FBI destruction of national security related records.

RECOMMENDATION: That LCD review this matter and, if appropriate, correspond directly with both the Criminal and Civil Divisions, DOJ in order to resolve the issues.

DETAILS: Attached are two memoranda, one from OLC and the other from Civil Division, wherein the Department is interposing objections to the destruction of national security related FBI records. While we share the Department's interest in preserving records relevant to pending civil or criminal litigation, in our judgement such a moratorium is much too broad. It prevents us from disposing of records which have been determined to be of no further investigative value, the destruction of which has been specifically requested by the record subject pursuant to his or her rights under the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a (d)(2). As you are aware, the Act prohibits us from maintaining records which are not relevant and necessary to an authorized purpose of the FBI, and, where describing rights guaranteed by the First Amendment, records which are not pertinent to nor within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity.

In June of last year, Judge Harold Green of the U. S. District Court here in Washington modified a previous court order to the extent he would permit destruction of records pursuant to the Privacy Act, where the records are made available for and destruction approved by the National Archives and Records Service. NARS has agreed to this, and has provided us authority in several cases for such destruction. All of these cases, now numbering approximately 35, are being maintained under secure conditions until such time as this matter is resolved.

The Department is concerned primarily with records relevant to the discovery process in the Kearney, Gray, Felt and Miller cases, as well as those which relate to various organizations, e.g., The Black Panther Party, National Lawyers Guild, et al. None of our records relating in any way to these matters or to any organization, whatsoever, are ever destroyed. The only records considered for destruction pursuant to the Privacy Act are those which involve individual citizens, who have been the subject of old, mostly domestic security or CPUSA investigations, not related in any way to the organizations identified in the Department's memorandum. It is believed we have enough legal and investigative experience to determine ad hoc those records which might relate to pending civil or criminal proceedings.

Consequently, we suggest that LCD advise the Department that it is our intention to go forward with our records destruction procedures under the Privacy Act, subject to individual review and approval by NARS. If you think it appropriate, we certainly would not object to providing each individual case to LCD for its own review and approval.

RETENTION/DESTRUCTION OF FBI INVESTIGATIVE RECORDS RELATED TO NATIONAL SECURITY
DESTRUCTION of Bureau Records

Reference is made to a memorandum from the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) to the Department of Justice (DOJ) Office of Legal Policy (OLP) dated December 18, 1981; a memorandum from Mr. John J. Farley, III, Director, Torts Branch, Civil Division, DOJ, to Mr. Larry L. Simms, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, OLP, dated March 8, 1982; and to a memorandum from Mr. Larry L. Simms to Mr. Thomas H. Bresson, Deputy Assistant Director, Records Management Division, FBI, dated March 26, 1982.

Each of the above referenced memoranda spoke to the issue of whether to lift the DOJ-imposed moratorium on the destruction of security-related investigative records which has been in effect since January 16, 1978. It was the opinion of the DOJ that at present, the moratorium should not be lifted. The purpose of this memorandum is to clarify the FBI's request and to request reconsideration of your opinion in order to permit the destruction of a limited number of FBI documents.

As you know, the DOJ asked that the FBI not destroy any security-related investigative records on approximately January 16, 1978, because of the criminal investigation and prosecution of former FBI officials Gray, Felt, Miller and Kearney. Since that time, the FBI has abided by that moratorium and has refrained from destroying any security-related investigative records.

However, it is our belief that the moratorium should be modified to permit the destruction of certain security-related investigative records which are the subject of perfected Privacy Act requests. We are not asking that the entire moratorium be lifted at this point. Although we question whether the retention of the moratorium is warranted at this time, we believe that the injunction prohibiting the FBI from "destroying or otherwise disposing of" documents in the possession of the FBI as a result of American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.C.), Civil Action Number 79-1655, moots the issue. We also believe that when the retention and disposition plan submitted to the Court in the American Friends Service Committee case is approved by that Court, the moratorium will effectively be removed since the disposition of FBI records will be governed by that plan.

However, the issue which now confronts the FBI and prompts this memorandum is that the FBI is currently in possession of approximately thirty-five perfected Privacy Act requests which require the destruction of certain FBI records. These Privacy Act expunction requests concern security-related files but are in no way related to any pending litigation, either civil or criminal.

As you know, the Privacy Act of 1974 permits an individual to request an agency to correct information contained in that agency's files which the individual believes is not accurate, relevant, timely or complete. Although the FBI has exempted certain of its investigative files from that provision of the Privacy Act pursuant to Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations (C.F.R.), Section 16.96, the FBI still as a matter of agency discretion responds to requests for the correction of its records where the FBI agrees the information is no longer relevant or necessary to the FBI's purposes. As mentioned before, the FBI is currently in possession of thirty-five such requests where administratively the FBI agrees with the individual requester that the information is no longer necessary and should be deleted from FBI files. It is the FBI's position that in these instances, destruction or correction of the records is appropriate and will best serve the interest of the FBI in avoiding unnecessary litigation by administratively agreeing to destroy or correct the file.

Currently, however, under the DOJ moratorium imposed on the destruction of security-related investigative records, the destruction of the records in question is not permitted. Should the moratorium be modified to permit the destruction of these records, it is the belief of the FBI that the interests of the individuals involved and the interests of the FBI will be better served.

Assistant Attorney General
Civil Division

It should also be noted that the injunction in American Friends Service Committee, which prohibits the FBI from destroying or otherwise disposing of most documentary records, would permit the destruction of the records in question. On April 3, 1980, Judge Harold H. Green modified his injunction to permit the FBI to destroy certain records which are the subject of perfected Privacy Act requests or court orders.

In summary, we agree that no records relating to any pending civil or criminal action should be destroyed. Further, though we question the necessity of retaining the entire moratorium, we believe it appropriate at this time to modify the moratorium insofar as it prohibits the FBI from responding to the perfected Privacy Act requests which it has now on hand and which may come into its possession. Such a modification of the moratorium will not lessen the ability of the FBI to respond to any civil or criminal case now pending, while on the other hand, will allow the FBI the latitude it needs in handling Privacy Act requests for the destruction of material which it is no longer necessary to maintain in FBI files.

NOTE: This memorandum is written at the request of RMD, who had earlier corresponded with DOJ and DOJ indicated it appeared LCD had not earlier been apprised of the effort to modify the moratorium. This memorandum requests DOJ to modify the moratorium on destruction of security-related investigations to allow only for the destruction of certain records which are the subject of perfected Privacy Act requests.

Destruction of Bureau Records

PURPOSE: To recommend that the Inspection Division contact the General Accounting Office (GAO) and institute liaison procedures relating to the User Fee System.

General

DETAILS: On 6/28/82, the Contract Review Board, chaired by Executive Assistant Director (EAD) Colwell, met concerning the procurement of various ADP equipment to support the Identification Division User Fee System. The Board examined records which would be created and the necessity for the retention of the records. Various financial information will be generated by the User Fee System, and Federal Regulations require that GAO audit these records prior to their destruction. EAD Colwell directed that the GAO be contacted and requested to institute immediate audits so that records could be retained for as short a period of time as is permissible.

RECOMMENDATION: That the Inspection Division contact the GAO and institute procedures to ensure that records supporting the User Fee System may be disposed as quickly as possible.

~~QUESTIONNAIRE REGARDING THE~~ ~~RECORDS DISPOSITION PROGRAM~~
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS GENERAL

By letter dated November 5, 1982, Dr. Robert M. Warner, Archivist of the United States, provided a questionnaire pertaining to the records disposition program for use by the Appraisal and Disposition Task Force, National Archives and Records Service (NARS).

The completed questionnaire for this Bureau is attached for your review and final action.

NOTE: By letter dated 11/5/82, Robert M. Warner, Archivist of the United States, provided a questionnaire to assist a Task Force appointed to evaluate the records disposition efforts of Federal agencies and the subsequent performance of records appraisal and disposition functions by NARS. On 11/17/82, Richard Jacobs, Task Force Chairman, was contacted regarding the status of the disposition program of the FBI and informed that our responses would deviate somewhat from the normal pattern as the result of efforts devoted to, and restrictions resulting from, pending litigation. Mr. Jacobs indicated that such a response would be useful to the Task Force and encouraged completion of the questionnaire. A copy of referenced letter and our response are attached.

QUESTIONNAIRE FOR AGENCY RECORDS OFFICERS
About The Government Records Disposition Program

ATTACHMENT

#8 Contact is maintained primarily with the Records Disposition Division; however, as the result of the preliminary injunction issued on January 10, 1980, by the U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, the FBI halted all record destruction until a retention plan and disposition schedule for FBI records were prepared by NARS and the FBI and approved by the Court. During the course of the review and appraisal of records and subsequent discovery, constant contact has been maintained with employees assigned to various components of NARS, including Presidential Libraries and the National Archives. Efforts, however, have been devoted to the NARS appraisal of FBI records. The FBI also participated with NARS personnel in a review of records stored in Washington Federal Records Center pursuant to congressional mandate.

#16 Schedules are normally reviewed on a timely basis for revisions and/or clarification. All authority for records disposal has been withdrawn for record categories other than fingerprint records as the result of pending civil action.

#18 Disposition authority contained in seven full schedules and one partial schedule of the General Records Schedules was withdrawn as the result of pending civil action. The remaining schedules are being applied, however.

#23 As noted in #21, SF 258 was submitted on October 21, 1982 for permanent record group but response cannot be evaluated at this time. The disposition schedule now pending with the Court has identified numerous record categories for transfer to the National Archives after designated retention periods.

Memorandum to Agency Records Officers:

I have appointed a Task Force on appraisal and disposition to review the current records disposition efforts of the Federal Government and the performance of records appraisal and disposition functions by the National Archives and Records Service. In making this evaluation we want to benefit from your knowledge and views about the current program.

Therefore, we are sending the enclosed questionnaire to formally designated records officers of cabinet departments and their administrations, bureaus and services as well as independent agencies.

If, as the records officer of your agency, you have assigned major records disposition duties, such as writing new records schedules, to a member of your staff, we ask that such staff members also complete copies of the questionnaire.

Please complete the questionnaires as soon as possible. It will only take a few minutes of your time. If you wish to provide further comments on the appraisal and disposition activities of NARS and the Federal Government, feel free to include them in your response.

Please send your completed questionnaires to:

Richard Jacobs (NN)
Chairman, Appraisal and

Please return the questionnaires by November 30, 1982. If you have any questions about this matter, Mr. Jacobs' phone number is 523-3130.

Subject : ARCHIVAL AUTHORIZATION FOR DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to gain approval to forward a disposal request to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) to expunge "see" references in order to complete a pending Privacy Act request.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached copies of SF 115 be referred to NARS for action.

DETAILS:

As you are aware, the Civil Division of the Department of Justice has modified the moratorium on the destruction of security-related material, which became effective on 1/16/78, to permit destruction of record material resulting from Privacy Act expungement requests. Authority to destroy entire files has been granted on numerous occasions and our submissions to NARS are current.

RE: ARCHIVAL AUTHORIZATION FOR
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

NARS has, however, withdrawn a broad authority to perform expungements on serials and/or portions thereof which was distributed throughout the Federal Government as FPMR Bulletin B-74. Until that authority is more clearly defined, restricted and approved, partial expungements and serial deletions will be handled by submission of SF 115 to NARS. We are currently maintaining a three-year backlog of partial expungements.

Attached herewith are the appropriate number of copies of SF 115 to obtain authority to complete our most urgent request. The remaining requests will be submitted on a timely basis.

The Contract Review Unit plans to destroy contracts which have been stored for some 20 years and are disposable after 6 years and 3 months after final payment. Contracts which do not meet the disposal requirements (dated subsequent to August, 1976) will be forwarded to RMD for filing and all indexing will be noted on the individual transmittal cover letters to permit retrieval. In the future, contracts will be sent to file when they are inactive or closed.

66-3941 V-28 DE-121

On an annual basis, the Contract Review Unit will conduct reviews of, and destroy, the contracts eligible for destruction, request RMD to remove the related index cards/entries from the maunal/automated indices, and place a notation on the transmittal document in file that the attachment has been destroyed.

DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS: GENERAL
NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS SERVICE (NARS)
APPRAISAL OF FBIHQ AND FIELD RECORDS

A permanent injunction in the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al., v. William H. Webster, et al., U. S. District Court, Washington, D. C., Civil Action 79-1655, has precluded the destruction of certain administrative and all investigative files since January 10, 1980. You were previously advised that a Disposition Schedule and Retention Plan were developed by NARS and the FBI and submitted to the Court on November 9, 1981; however, to date, the presiding Judge has not approved the Disposition Schedule and Retention Plan. The combined Disposition Schedule and Retention Plan constitute the most complex and detailed records destruction and retention program ever devised for any Government agency. Pending a decision by the presiding Judge, the U. S. Government filed appeals in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Washington, D. C., challenging the status of the plaintiffs to maintain the above-mentioned Civil Action, and also challenging the authority of NARS personnel to access Internal Revenue Service, Title III and Federal grand jury information contained in FBI files. These appeals were consolidated and oral arguments were heard by a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Panel on April 25, 1983. A decision by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals is anticipated in the early fall, 1983. Pending action by the presiding Judge to lift the permanent injunction or a favorable ruling by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, destruction of FBI administrative records/files is limited to those described in Memoranda to All SACs numbered 39-80 and 21-83, dated 11/24/80, and 5/31/83, respectively. Destruction of other administrative files and investigative files is not possible at this time.

RE: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS;
NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS SERVICES (NARS)
APPRAISAL OF FBIHQ AND FIELD RECORDS

In response to inquiries by several field offices, the following is a summary of the proposed Disposition Schedule and Retention Plan which is provided to acquaint field office personnel with the proposed retention/destruction policy for FBI records. The complexity of the program requires that all future records disposition programs be coordinated and controlled by FBIHQ, which will require a substantial commitment of Records Management Division resources. The previously established retention periods of six months for auxiliary office files and five and ten years for office of origin criminal and security files will no longer apply.

In conducting an extensive review of FBI files and records, NARS identified certain categories within each classification which, after a retention period of 30 or 50 years, will be removed from the custody of the FBI and placed in the National Archives for permanent retention. These records document the functions, policies, and operations of the FBI and have been judged to have permanent historical value. NARS has estimated that approximately 20,000 cubic feet of FBIHQ records and 30,000 cubic feet of field office records will be removed to the National Archives for permanent retention. This 50,000 cubic feet total exceeds 5,500 6-drawer, letter-sized cabinets of records. Prior to transfer to the National Archives, all records will be subjected to a classification review for national security information. This review will be conducted at FBIHQ.

Only after all permanent records are identified will a destruction program commence. The criteria established by NARS for permanent field office records are:

(1) Exceptional cases - Equivalents of cases identified at FBIHQ by NARS due to the research interest and historical value of the contents. The composite collection of cases was suggested by NARS' outside consultants and/or identified during the review of files;

(2) Multisection/serial cases originating at both FBIHQ and field offices and their respective equivalents;

(3) An informational or evidential sample which will generally be the equivalent of the FBIHQ selection. The sampling procedure will also be applied to records originating in ten field offices;

(4) Classifications designated as permanent in their entirety in Office of Origin, Auxiliary offices or selected offices; and

(5) All related index cards.

After permanent records have been identified and forwarded to FBIHQ and a determination has been made that no litigation, pending FOIPA requests, administrative or investigative needs exist, field destruction will be accomplished after retention periods of:

(1) 20 years - Security and applicant files in Office of Origin;
(2) 10 years - Criminal files in Office of Origin; and
(3) 1 year - Files of Auxiliary offices.

Legal Attache office permanent files include exceptional cases identified at FBIHQ, multisection/serial cases within certain classifications, or certain entire classifications maintained by Legal Attache Offices in Hong Kong and Mexico City. Basically, destruction of Legal Attache records will be accomplished after one year, if no retention restrictions exist.

Due to the quasi-sensitive nature of the pending litigation, NARS has not made the FBI aware of the exceptional cases or sample cases selected for permanent retention and most likely will not do so until resolution of the civil action. Consequently, additional research will be required to identify pertinent files upon receipt of this data and some delay is anticipated in forwarding instructions to field offices for action.

Through the automated file inventory system, FBIHQ has the capability to identify multisection cases and will initiate a program to identify corresponding field office files; however, the identification of multiserial cases will require a file-by-file review by each field office. At the present time, field offices should maintain a current status on litigation cases which are periodically received from FBIHQ for searching and retention of pertinent files.

The foregoing represents an overview of the proposed retention/destruction program of FBI records to familiarize all personnel with the elementary provisions of the program and is not intended to serve as authorization to commence destruction.

Any questions regarding the foregoing should be directed to SA Robert W. Scherrer, Section Chief, Records Systems Section, Records Management Division.

Subject : STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)

66-1631

Re memorandum of C. S. Banner to Mr. Stames dated 2/1/83, entitled "Study of Civil File Purge Project."

PURPOSE: To report results of a study of the Civil File purge project conducted 2/1/83 through 6/3/83, and furnish recommendations regarding this purge project.

SYNOPSIS: Instant study was predicated upon referenced memorandum. Enclosed is a report entitled "Identification Division Study of Civil File Purge Project - 6/17/83," by SA John M. Jones, Chief, Latent Fingerprint Section (LFPS), ID. The initial purge of the Civil File unofficially began in July 1970, to gain badly needed space. Fingerprint cards for persons 75 years of age and older, plus National Defense fingerprint cards, were purged from the Civil File for future destruction. In a two-month period, 4.2 million fingerprint cards and about one million index cards were purged. Since that time, with necessary approval from other Government agencies and the Archivist of the United States, the ID has purged the Civil File only when personnel resources have been available to do so. From July 1970 to 1973, there were 31,772,553 fingerprint cards purged from the file. On 7/12/73, a major fire occurred at the National Personnel Records Center - Military, St. Louis, Missouri. As a result, the Archivist of the United States directed all agencies to suspend indefinitely disposal of any records useful to reconstitute records of military service in the U.S. Army for individuals discharged between 11/1/12 and 12/31/59, and U.S. Air Force between 9/18/47 and 12/31/63. As a result, the ID suspended destruction of all military fingerprint cards except for those known to be deceased. That policy remains in effect to date. Some small amount of purging has continued in the Civil File each year until as of 2/28/83, a total of 52,926,189 fingerprint cards and just over 18,000,000 index cards had been purged. Currently, there are 104,327,819 index cards filed in 1,347 cabinets. The fingerprint cards are filed in 3,769 cabinets. If the Archivist of the United States were to lift his suspension on destruction of military records, it is estimated that 1,410,718 fingerprint cards and index cards for individuals 75 years of age could be purged. If the ID could also rid itself of the Old Armed Forces File, an additional 8,733,000 fingerprint and related index cards could be purged. It is estimated that as many as 22 million consolidations could be made in the Civil File and that a similar number of fingerprint and index cards could be purged. However, this is costly and time-consuming for it requires the services of trained Fingerprint Examiners. Calculations indicate that to purge Card Index-Civil File alone using current purge criteria would require 47 work years of effort and as many as 56,019,949 index cards could be purged. It would take about eight workdays to train the employees to perform this purge of index cards and anywhere from 32 to 320 could effectively work at this task at anyone time if their services could be spared. For a one-year period, the daily average of name searches conducted in the Civil File was 295 while the number of fingerprint card searches by characteristic was four. Currently, 62 Fingerprint Examiners have been purging fingerprint cards in the Civil File since 3/10/83, and they purged 831,403 cards in March and 1,140,204 cards in April, 1983. At the present rate of this purge, they should complete it by about 7/8/83. The Old Armed Forces contain some fingerprint cards of persons born 113 years ago. If the 75 years of age criteria for purging were applied to this file, an estimated 46 percent of the cards could be purged. There is still some active requests for searches in this file and based upon two-month statistics, it is costing the FBI about $197.11 for each tentative identification effected in this file, based upon salaries alone. There are about 1,400 rolls of microfilm that are of no value and should be destroyed. The fingerprint cards in file are misfiled and the entire file should be segregated by a 55 year of age breakdown and the file rehabilitated. This would cut searching time in half. Also, consideration should be given to purging U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service fingerprint cards relating to those who applied for adjustment of status, asylum, and naturalization. If the entire Civil File was purged and realigned, it is estimated that a total of 14,609 square feet could be saved and the file would be more effective than at present. Various schedules are included to assist in calculating the different spans of time it would require for various different numbers of trained support employees to efficiently complete purging tasks in the Civil File.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the ID forward to Mr. Robert M. Warner, Archivist of the United States, National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, 8th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20408, an appropriate communication citing that a decade has passed since the fire occurred at the National Personnel Records Center - Military, on July 12, 1973, which in turn caused a withdrawal by that office of authority to dispose of any records that may be used to reconstitute records of military service in the U.S. Army (including Army Air Service, Army Air Corps, and Army Air Force) for individuals discharged between 11/1/12 and 12/31/59, and in the U.S. Air Force between 9/18/47 and 12/31/63, and requesting him to review this matter to determine if the situation has changed over the past 10 years enough to permit him to rescind the withdrawal of authority to dispose of these specific military records or by our purging those effected service cards of persons over 75 years of age and sending them to the National Personnel Records Center - Military, St. Louis, Missouri, as we cannot tell from the fingerprint cards the date of discharge from military service.

Approved - 6/23/83

(2) That the ID management attempt to, at this time, divest itself of the Old Armed Forces File because of its limited utility (the Veterans Administration is the primary user) and high-cost burden to maintain and operate.

Approved 6/23/83

(3) If recommendation number 2 above is approved, that the communication to Mr. Robert M. Warner, Archivist of the United States, include a request for his concurrence to permit the FBI-ID to dispose of the Old Armed Forces File either by destruction or by transferring that file to the National Personnel Records Center - Military, St. Louis, Missouri.

Approved 6/23/83

(4) It is recommended that the ID forward to the Commissioner, United States Immigration and Naturalization Service (USINS), 425 I Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20536, an appropriate communication to seek the USINS approval to purge and destroy all applicant fingerprint cards (FD-258) in ID's Civil File for individuals who, in the past, had these fingerprint cards submitted seeking adjustment of their status, asylum, or for naturalization purposes.

Approved 6/23/83

(5) If recommendation number 4 is approved and USINS approval is received to purge the fingerprint cards from the Civil File, then it is recommended that such fingerprint cards (and related index cards thereto) be purged from the "Applicant" segment of the Civil File.

Approved 6/13/83 f

(6) In the event that recommendation number 1 and 2 above are not approved for any reason, it is then recommended that the ID proceed to purge the Old Armed Forces File and the "Military" segment of the Civil File of all fingerprint cards and related index cards of individuals 75 years of age and older excluding Army Air Service, Army Air Corps, and Army Air Force, and the U.S. Air Force. This means that all Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard fingerprint cards for persons over 75 years of age could be purged and could represent as many as 3 to 4 million records that could be purged.

NA

(7) It is recommended that the Old Deceased Master Microfilm File located on the 10th Floor, Harkins Building, be disposed of promptly, with the approxiamtely 1,400 rolls of mircrofilm therein, being sent through proper channels to recover whatever silver content there is on the backing to that film.

Approved 6/13/83 f
Check if GSA review ordered first.

(8) It is recommended that the ongoing purge of the fingerprint cards in the Civil File of persons 75 years of age or older be continued until it is completed in mid-July, 1983, as an estimated 1,102,000 fingerprint cards will be purged before this particular effort is completed. Also, a trained crew is in place and is purging this part of the file at a rate of approximately 2.4 fingerprint cards per minute per employee assigned to this task.

approved 6/13/83
dependent on availability of personnel. f

(9) At the conclusion of the purge in recommendation number 8 above, it is recommended that the available support personnel performing that purge be given the necessary training (about 8 workdays) and that a concentrated effort be mounted to purge the Card Index-Civil File of the millions and millions of useless index cards therein for which there is no longer any fingerprint cards on file. This particular effort is without a doubt the foremost productive purge that can be done as it will not only dispose of over 50 million worthless index cards but, it will make the file more efficient and effective, inasmuch as, there are about 73 name-search requests for each fingerprint card search by characteristic performed. Ideally, Card Index Section trained personnel should handle this task, however, it currently appears that it is highly unlikely that any substantial numbers of such employees could be spared from current work until possibly after the Card Index automated name file conversion of persons born 1/1/29, forward, is completed in the next 1 1/2 years or so; therefore, if Fingerprint Examiners become available because of automation in the form of ATS-II in the Technical Section, they should be used on this card index purge project.

Approved 6/13/63 J
CI-Civil file need be our #1
purge target.

(10) After completion of recommendation number 9 above, it is recommended that a concerted effort be made in Card Index-Civil File to locate two or more index cards in file for the same individual regardless of what the reason he was fingerprinted. These index cards would be paper clipped together and taken to the fingerprint card file where the applicable fingerprint cards can be consolidated. If a military card is involved, it should be made master and retained. The other fingerprint cards and index cards would be permanently purged from file and destroyed.

Approved 6/13/63

MEMORANDUM FROM J. M. JONES TO MR. STAMES
RE: STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)

(11) It is recommended that once recommendation number 10 above is completed, as well as the end result of recommendations numbers 1, 5, 6, and 8 is known and handled, that the fingerprint cards in the Civil File be reviewed and the year of birth be indicated in blue in the upper right corner of the card above the fingerprint classification to make future purging and file rehabilitation more efficient and effective.

approved in principle - Long term recommendation

(12) It is recommended that at the same time that recommendation number 11 above is being done, that the fingerprint cards be broken into two different subfiles by age with those persons less than 55 years of age in one part and those persons 55 years of age and older in the other part. This would permit the Fingerprint Examiner in the future to search a fingerprint card in about half the time it currently takes because he/she would only have to search through about half the total number of cards now being searched.

Same as #11

(13) It is recommended that as recommendation number 12 above is being performed, the Fingerprint Examiner doing the task resequence the fingerprint cards into the proper Henry Fingerprint Classification ensuring that all the fingerprint cards are in the proper segment of the file and in the proper sequence within that segment according to sex, the reason the person was fingerprinted, the persons age, and the proper order of fingerprint classification sequence.

Same as #'s 11, 12

(14) It is recommended, in the event that the ID cannot get sufficient numbers of support employees to volunteer to go to the Harkins Building to perform the purge of the Civil File, that a special shift be instituted similar to that being used at other Federal agencies wherein the employees work four nine-hour days, Monday through Thursday, then eight hours on Friday. The second week in the pay period would follow with four nine-hour days, Monday through Thursday, and the following Friday would be a nonworking day giving the employee a three-day weekend every other weekend.

We will get sufficient numbers of employees to perform Civil File purge.

MEMORANDUM FROM J. M. JONES TO MR. STAMES
RE: STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)

DETAILS: Instant study of the Civil File was predicated upon an informal memorandum of SA Conrad S. Banner, Inspector-Deputy Assistant Director (Operations), Identification Division (ID), to Mr. Nick F. Stames, Assistant Director, ID, dated 2/1/83, entitled, "Study of Civil File Purge Project." This study was to determine answers to such questions regarding the Civil File as: What purging remains to be accomplished? What limitations have been placed on purging by the Archivist -- by the Federal Records Center due to the fire at St. Louis in 1973? -- and others? What skills are needed to conduct the fingerprint card purge? -- the name-index card purge? The numbers of employees that can be productively utilized in such tasks? et cetera.

From its inception in 1924 to about 1930, the ID dealt strictly with criminal fingerprint record processing. In 1930 greater responsibilities were added and noncriminal fingerprint cards were turned over to the ID to maintain. The first such records were from the military branches. On 7/1/32, the Civil Service Commission turned over 140,278 noncriminal fingerprint cards. It was in 1934 that the ID began receiving personal identification fingerprint cards from private citizens for retention on file. Also, that same year, the War Department (U.S. Army) commenced sending applicant fingerprint cards to the ID for record checks. The U.S. Navy followed suit in 1936 as did the U.S. Marine Corps. By 1939, the ID Civil Files included Federal and civilian agencies' employees, the War Department, Navy, Marine Corps and the U.S. Coast Guard. The fingerprint cards were all filed in one file regardless if they were criminal or noncriminal in nature. The index cards were filed together also. By 1939, the fingerprint card holdings of the ID had reached 10 million. On 7/1/39, the noncriminal fingerprint cards and index cards were separated from the criminal records and the Civil File was established. World War II brought a phenomenal growth rate to the Civil File and from 1940 to 1946 the ID's file increased from 13.2 million fingerprint cards to over 100 million cards. By 1957 there was 115 million fingerprint cards in the ID files. It was on 7/1/57, that the ID adopted a policy of returning to the contributor all non-Federal applicant fingerprint cards submitted in connection with local licensing and employment. This policy remains in effect at the present time. In 1966, Fingerprint Correspondence Section began photocarding index cards for use in the Civil File. For 36 years prior to that time these cards were typed and alias index cards were produced if two versions of the name were on the fingerprint card. Between February 1970, and October 1971, the National Army Fingerprint File in the Civil File was microfilmed.

In July 1970, badly needed space for file expansion purposes was gained by purging for future destruction the civil fingerprint and index cards of persons 75 years of age and older taken in connection with National Defense work during World War II. In a two month period, over 4.2 million of these fingerprint cards and about 1 million index cards were purged. In January 1971, the ID contacted several different pertinent government agencies to seek their concurrence and approval to purge and destroy fingerprints of persons 75 years of age and older from the Civil File. All necessary approvals were obtained including that of the Archivist of the United States on 6/10/71. In 1970, the Congress of the United States approved the FBI's budget for Fiscal Year (FY) 1972. This included a specific request for 274 full-time employees for the ID to perform the proposed purge of the Civil File. However, in the Fall of 1971 the President of the United States in his economy program cut 182 of these employees. The remaining 92 was all that was subsequently approved and even that number was not received. Also, those that were received could not be fully committed to this specific task. However, assistance was gained in purging when in the first half of FY 1972 a court decision in the "Menard" cases temporarily suspended the processing of most of the non-Federal applicant fingerprint cards. The freed up employees were switched to assisting in the Civil File purge for only a few months. From July 1970, to 1973, there were 31,772,553 fingerprint cards pulled from file using the 75 years of age criteria and by also purging the old National Defense fingerprint cards. The corresponding index cards were not removed, however, because of the lack of personnel to perform the task.

On 7/12/73, a major fire occurred at the National Personnel Records Center - Military, St. Louis, Missouri, and an estimated 20 million records were destroyed. On 7/27/73, the Assistant Archivist of the United States visited the ID and discussed the FBI's civil military fingerprint card file. He was very optimistic at the time about being able to restore 98 percent of the destroyed records through secondary sources. He indicated that a check of the FBI's military fingerprint card records would probably only be necessary in cases where no records could be located elsewhere. Subsequently, the Archivist of the United States directed all agencies to suspend indefinitely disposal of any records that may be used to reconstitute records of military service in the United States Army (including Army Air Service, Army Air Corps, and Army Air Force) for individuals discharged between 11/1/12, and 12/31/59, and in the U.S. Air Force between 9/18/47, and 12/31/63. This included records containing information verifying date of service, physical injuries, and mental impairment. As a result, the Bureau issued SAC Letter 55-73(B) to this effect. That suspension of record destruction remains in effect to date. There is no indication of any attempt to lift this suspension in the last tenyears and as a result the ID has not purged a military record unless the individual was deceased.

Some small amount of purging continued in the Civil File each year over the ensuing years but, no large concentrated effort was put forth again because of the lack of personnel. However, by 2/28/83, a total of 52,926,189 fingerprint cards had been purged from the Civil File but, only slightly over 18,000,000 index cards had been purged. The various kinds of noncriminal fingerprint cards purged from file are not kept by actual count but, are estimated based upon a percentage of the make up of that file. Therefore, the figures given in the ID's Work Status Report are not actuals but are best estimates.

MEMORANDUM FROM J. M. JONES TO MR. STAMES
RE: STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)

Currently the Card Index-Civil File is comprised of 1,347 cabinets with 97,719 drawers. There are 1,806 empty drawers available for expansion purposes. Thus, 95,913 drawers are in use and Recording Section statistics indicate that there are 104,327,819 index cards for the Civil File. An estimated average of 1,100 index cards is filed in each drawer. The fingerprint cards are filed in 3,769 cabinets. There are 2,734 four-drawer cabinets and 1,035 five-drawer cabinets. The total number of drawers is, therefore, 16,111 which includes 660 drawers holding the Old Armed Forces File. Most of these drawers are full or about full. A full drawer holds an estimated 5,700 cards while an about full drawer has about 5,100 cards filed in it. Military cards are thinner than other fingerprint cards which average about 100 to an inch. The military cards comprise 49.2 percent of the number of cards in the entire Civil File and their average thickness equates to about 156 to the inch. Using this data plus sampling the data of the average number of fingerprint cards purged per cabinet drawer, it was projected that the number of fingerprint cards that will be purged, if the 75 years of age purge is completed, could be 4,750,000 at the most. This does not include the military fingerprint cards. A sampling was then done of the military cards and it is estimated that providing the Archivist of the United States would lift his suspension on the destruction of military prints another 1,410,718 military cards could be purged. Further, if the FBI is also permitted to purge or otherwise rid itself of the records in the Old Armed Forces File it would remove 8,733,300 fingerprint cards. This would mean that a total of 10,144,018 additional fingerprint cards could be purged from the Civil File.

Prior estimates, which appear valid, were located concerning the number of records that could be purged via consolidations. When those numbers were added with the 2,000,000 additional projected consolidations put in file in the last decade, it indicates that an estimated 22,000,000 consolidations could exist in the Civil File. It is estimated, therefore, that 22,000,000 fingerprint cards and related index cards could be purged by effecting consolidations in the Civil File. However, this method is costly and time-consuming for it requires trained Fingerprint Examiners to actually pull from file and compare the fingerprints.

Using actual figures of the number of support employees assigned and index cards purged during the month of April 1983, it was calculated that to purge the Card Index-Civil File by use of current purge criteria and trained employees would require 1 hour 14 minutes per index card drawer or approximately 47 work-years of effort. A schedule is set out showing the ratio of employees and the differing times it would take to perform this specific task. The total number of index cards purged from July 1970, through the end of April 1983, was 19,812,269.

The usage of the Civil File is set forth and the number of name-search requests and fingerprint card searches by fingerprint characteristics for a one-year period is included. From 5/1/82, through 4/30/83, their was 74,620 name-search requests and 1,038 fingerprint card searches. Thus, the daily average of name searches is 295 and the daily average of fingerprint searches is four per workday. The ratio is about 73 name searches to one fingerprint search. With this in mind, it appears that the most economical approach would be for the ID to concentrate its efforts in purging the index cards rather than continuing to purge fingerprint cards as we have been doing for the last 13 years. For example, presently the ID has 62 support employees from Technical Section purging fingerprint cards and 11 employees from Card Index Section purging index cards. Great strides are, however, being made in the current fingerprint card purging process, which was increased in effort on 3/10/83. During March 1983, there were 831,403 fingerprint cards purged and in April 1983, an additional 1,140,204 cards were purged. The Fingerprint Examiners performing this purge averaged approximately 2.4 cards purged per minute. If this effort of purging is continued at the current level, it can be anticipated that the 75 years of age purge of the fingerprint cards in the Civil File will be completed by about 7/8/83.

The statistics concerning the present activity and use of the Old Armed Forces File is set forth. Also, a sampling of the age of the individuals whose fingerprints are in this file was conducted. This disclosed that some individuals with fingerprints in this file have dates of birth going back 113 years to 1870. Three percent of the file had individuals with dates of birth over 100 years ago and 46 percent were born prior to 1909 making them purgable under the 75 years of age purge criteria. The current activity for two months in this file was: In January 1983, there were 375 name searches and 16 tentative identifications. There were 42 fingerprint characteristic searches and 18 identifications. In April 1983, there were 532 name searches and 22 tentative identifications. There were 19 fingerprint characteristic searches and 5 identifications. Four full-time support employees are assigned to this unit and based upon their combined salaries alone and the anticipated activity in this particular segment of the Civil File for the next year, it will cost the FBI about $197.11 for each tentative identification effected in the Old Armed Forces File. The preponderance of the identifications effected are for requests from the Veterans Administration.

A file was located containing about 1,400 rolls of microfilm of old deceased master fingerprint cards. This file was placed in this cabinet in 1969 and has not been accessed once in the past 10 years. A cursory review of the film revealed that the subject's fingerprint card had been marked "deceased"in 1954. This particular file is of no value and should be disposed of.

A computation was made to forecast the numbers of support personnel that could be productively utilized in the purging project in both the Technical and Card Index-Civil File. The card index file purge is somewhat complex in that there are numerous different kinds of index cards from numerous contributing agencies that qualify to be pulled and destroyed because the fingerprint cards have already been purged. Page 37-40 of instant report sets out this data. It will take about eight workdays at the minimum to properly train the employees on how to perform this purge. For each 25 employees purging there should be two supervisory employees and five other employees checking the work for accuracy. Thus, groups of 32 are most desirable. Employees from the Card Index Section, ID, are most desirable because of their prior experience and their lesser grade structure. However, Technical Section Fingerprint Examiners can easily adapt to this task. It is estimated that if 32 employees are assigned to the task, it would take them one year, nine months, one week, and two days to complete this purge. The work area and available space would, however, permit up to 320 or more employees to be assigned and the entire purge could be completed in a little over two months' time. Any multiple number from 32 to 320, therefore, could be utilized in this particular purge and as many as 56,019,949 index cards could be purged. The fingerprint card purge by the 75 years of age criteria was 75.4 percent completed as of 6/3/83. If the same 62 employees continue on this task, they will have purged an additional 1,102,000 fingerprint cards as of 7/8/83. This would raise the total purged since July 1970, to a grand total of 57,235,009.

The condition of the fingerprint card file is very poor as there are untold numbers of misfiled cards. This entire file is in need of a file rehabilitation. At the same time this is being performed, the file should be divided by age into two separate segments. One segment for individuals under 55 years of age and another for those from 55 to 75 years of age. If this were done, it would reduce the searching time of a fingerprint card by fingerprint characteristic by one half and the same effect would be achieved in locating and pulling fingerprint cards tentatively located via name searches. The year of birth should also be entered in the upper right corner of the card so that future file rehabilitation would be more quickly performed and age purging would be more easily done. It is estimated that this file rehabilitation would require 50 Fingerprint Examiners one year, seven months, and three weeks to complete. The file space and work area is such that as many as 250 or more Fingerprint Examiners could be assigned this task. If 250 employees were to work at the file rehabilitation, it could be completed in approximately four months' time.

In looking to the future some 15 years or more ahead, the Civil File may well be the only practical source for training and giving new Fingerprint Examiners on-the-job experience in manual sequencing, searching, and maintenance of a fingerprint card file.

A prognosis was made of the possible space savings that could result from purging and realigning the entire Civil File and it broke down as follows: Should the ID divest itself of the Old Armed Forces File a savings of 3,600 square feet of space could be saved. Should the ID receive necessary approval to purge the military fingerprint cards of those persons over 75 years of age an additional 1,410,718 cards would be destroyed. This would bring the total purged since January 1983 to 6.5 million cards. It takes 260 four-drawer fingerprint cabinets to hold that number of cards and that number of cabinets require 2,092 square feet of space. Thus, 2,092 square feet could be saved.

MEMORANDUM FROM J. M. JONES TO MR. STAMES
RE: STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)

The Card Index-Civil File purge could produce a savings of 8,293 square feet of space if the entire file was realigned.

Further, the ID as of January 1982, changed its policy and no longer retains U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (USINS) fingerprint cards on file. A sampling of the "Applicant" segment of the Civil File disclosed tha 17.2 percent of that segment is USINS cards. This then equates to 1,904,214 USINS cards on file. Should the ID change its policy of retaining these old USINS cards and obtain approval from the USINS to purge them, a total of 77 fingerprint cabinets could be emptied, freeing up 624 square feet of space. Thus, the total space that is possible to be saved by purging and realignment in the Civil File of the ID is 14,609 square feet.

It should be noted that by a Bureau teletype dated 1/11/80, all Special Agent in Charge and Legats were advised that pursuant to a preliminary injunction issued by U.S. District Court Judge Harold H. Greene, District of Columbia, on 1/10/80, all FBI file destruction programs in effect at that time were to be immediately suspended. However, by a subsequent memorandum ofR. W. Scherrer to Mr. Finzel dated 9/12/80, entitled "Destruction of Bureau Records, Partial Resumption of Record Destruction Programs," it, among other things, clarified this by stating "destruction of Federal applicant and employment fingerprint cards after individual reaches 75 years of age; destruction of criminal justice fingerprint cards after individual reaches 80 years of age with transmittal sheets from which data have been transferred to permanent record; and destruction or return upon request, of fingerprint cards, transmittal sheets, and other records when court orders require their deletion, expungement or return are permitted."

DETAILS:

By Bulet dated 7/27/83, all SACs and Legats were requested to forward all files in the 61 (Treason or Misprision of Treason) classification over 50 years old, along with related index cards, to FBIHQ for transfer to NARS with the HQ permanent record collection.

All offices have responded and, with the exception of El Paso and San Francisco, all responses were negative. El Paso file, 61-6, and San Francisco files 61-1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 15, 16, 17, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 41, 42, and 43 were detached for classification review and inclusion with the FBIHQ record collection.

The responses were retained and are filed as an enclosure to this communication.

We are still in process of gathering and boxing approximately 9 containers of old "closed" files. Due to shortage of personnel and other work requirements, this is not expected to be accomplished until sometime later this year. In addition to the approximately 38 linear feet of "closed" files referred in LONtel, we are expecting to forward another 10-15 linear feet accumulated in past year.

Date 12-7-83

From : J. F. Risdon

Subject : STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)
Destruction of Bureau Records Cenes

Reference is made to memoranda from J. F. Risdon to Mr. Stames dated 10-6-83, 10-21-83, and 11-17-83 and captioned as above.

PURPOSE: To report that 8.7 million fingerprint cards and corresponding name index cards and 3,294 rolls of microfilm of the National Army have been destroyed.

DETAILS: By letter dated 8-23-83 to Mr. Harry N. Walters, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, Veterans Administration (VA), the ID advised the VA of its intention to purge some 8.7 million fingerprint cards referred to as the Old Armed Forces File. It was pointed out to the VA that on 7-14-75 the then Acting Archivist of the United States, James E. O'Neill, gave the FBI authority to destroy original master fingerprint cards forwarded to the FBI ID by military services when individuals reach 80 years of age or when administrative need for records has been met, whichever is earlier. The VA, by letter dated 11-7-83 concurred on our proposal to purge the aforementioned records and thanked us for the opportunity to comment on our proposal.

The number of fingerprint cards and name index cards to be destroyed were broken down into the following branches of the military services:

Army	6,500,000
Marine Corps	280,000
Navy	1,953,300
Total	8,733,300

The 3,294 rolls of microfilm represent approximately 3,425,760 fingerprint cards previously destroyed.

The above described fingerprint cards occupied 136 five-drawer cabinets and the name index cards occupied 18 seventy-two-drawer cabinets. The 3,294 rolls of microfilm occupied 4 ten-drawer cabinets. All of the cabinets occupied 3,022 square feet of floor space at the Harkins Building.

Memorandum from J. F. Risdon to MR. STAMES
RE: STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)

Destruction of all of the above records and microfilm was completed as of 12-2-83. The cards were destroyed in an incinerator operated by the Government of the District of Columbia, Department of Environmental Services, located at 3200 Benning Road, Washington, D.C. The microfilm was delivered to the Photographic Processing Unit, Laboratory Division, Room 1B903, J. Edgar Hoover Building, for silver salvage and destruction.

Empty Old Armed Forces cabinets will be used as expansion cabinets in the Civil File to replace worn-out cabinets in the Civil File. Any worn-out cabinets will be surplused. The 3,022 square feet of space that will be freed up after removal of the cabinets will be used to expand the civil female file and for sequencing work space.

RECOMMENDATION: None, for information.

Subject : REQUEST FOR DESTRUCTION OF FBI PROPERTY

PURPOSE: To recommend the destruction of photographic equipment declared excess to the needs of the Laboratory Division.

DETAILS: On 10/28/83 the Laboratory Division declared equipment listed on the attached FD-508s, Excess Supplies and/or Equipment Reports, excess to the needs of the Division.

The Federal Property Management Regulation 101-45.504(A) states in part "Property may be abandoned or destroyed by an executive agency . . . without public notice upon a written finding by a duly authorized official thereof, approved by a reviewing authority, that the immediate abandonment or destruction of the property is necessary . . . because of the expense and difficulty of its care and handling."

After an evaluation of this property, it has been determined that due to the age, condition, and original acquisition cost of the property, it is apparent that the property has no commercial resale value and the cost of its continued care and handling would exceed any proceeds from a sale. It is, therefore, requested that the property be destroyed in accordance with FPMR 101-45.504.

RECOMMENDATION: That the Property Procurement and Management Section coordinate the destruction of this property with the Laboratory Division.

PURPOSE: Destruction of Bureau Propert

To request authorization for the cannibalization of one item of photographic equipment assigned to the PPU of the SPS. General

DETAILS:

The PPU has on-hand one paper processor in which the main frame has rusted beyond repair and not suitable for surplusing or cannibalization. However, most of the parts are in good condition therefore making it well worth while to cannibalize for parts. Most parts in this processor will be interchangeable with the new processor being purchased. The processor is a Pako Hipak SN 01884, G# 00161891 purchased 1/23/75.

RECOMMENDATION: V-147 DE-188 66-3286-1389X

That approval be granted for the cannibalization of parts and the destruction of the main frame on the processor described above. If such approval is granted, appropriate Bureau form FD-519 will be completed.

ADDENDUM: PROPERTY PROCUREMENT AND MANAGEMENT SECTION (PPMS), ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DIVISION (ASD), 11/14/83, JCD:dlb

A review of the Property Accounting System has revealed that the Printer, (UNKNOWN), Property Number 00161891, Serial Number 7884, was received on 2/20/75 at an acquisition cost of $10,098.80. Inasmuch as parts can be retrieved from this processor and utilized as replacement parts for a new processor being purchased, the Property Accounting Systems Unit , PPMS concurs with the recommendation of the Laboratory Division to cannibalize this equipment for parts and destroy the remainder. This action is in conformance with current Justice Property Management Regulation 128-43.5000.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the Laboratory Division cannibalize the Paper Processor and destroy the remaining salvage pieces.

APPROVED:

REQUIREMENTS AND CERTIFICATION FOR
CANNIBALIZATION AND DESTRUCTION OF EQUIPMENT

REQUIREMENTS

After Bureau authority is granted cannibalization and destruction of equipment for the purpose of obtaining parts to repair a like item is permitted when all of the following conditions are met:

1. Repair of the broken or worn parts is not possible.
2. Required parts are not available from other units previously cannibalized.
3. Required parts are not available from Government excess. (Government excess means any personal property under the control of any Federal Agency which is not required for its needs and the discharge of its responsibilities, as determined by the head thereof.)
4. The parts are not available from commercial or Government supply sources or it is not practical to obtain the required parts from commercial sources because of obsolescence, excessive price or extraordinary leadtimes.
5. The benefit realized from cannibalization exceeds the estimated trade-in or sale value of the unit being considered for cannibalization.
6. A signed statement, approved by a reviewing official, indicating the actions taken to verify the above conditions is made part of the file supporting the removal of the cannibalized item from property records, and such information is made available upon request, to General Accounting Office and Departmental auditors.

CERTIFICATION

The conditions, as set forth above, have been met to the best of my knowledge with regard to the equipment listed below and on FD-508, dated memo 11/14/83. This equipment should therefore be removed from inventory and the parts will be used for the repair and maintenance of similar equipment.

SUGGESTION
That Form FD-519 be revised. The revision of Form FD-519 (copy of revised and previous form attached) contains information required by the Department of Justice Property Management Regulations. The revised form will minimize employee time required to research necessary correspondence dealing with the destruction and cannibalization of FBI property. The revision will also eliminate possible employee errors such as closing out the wrong file due to common nomenclatures and deleting the wrong property from the automated Property Accounting System. Some reports have property or serial numbers that can be matched; however, some do not have property or serial numbers. The reports that have no property or serial numbers, but have common nomenclatures, are easily confused with other reports, and as a result, the wrong report is closed out. To resolve this problem, numerous files (approximately 110 volumes) must be

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)
Having the report number will save time when looking for items because comparing property or serial numbers and nomenclatures will not be required, they will also maintain the integrity of the automated Property Accounting System. With the report number, there will be less chance of making a costly error that may later cause problems. Substantial savings will be recognized because less time will be spent researching files to obtain information for destruction or cannibalization of one item and no costly errors will be made.

researched to locate the misplaced document. Since the previous form lacks specific information to document who authorized the cannibalization and destruction of property, an additional line item can capture and document General Services Administration (GSA) authorization for cannibalization and destruction of property. In view of the fact that 95 percent of destruction or cannibalization of FBI property is authorized by GSA, this documentation should be captured and retained as part of the file.

nomenclatures is necessary. Inasmuch as numerous items have common standard nomenclatures without serial numbers, it is difficult to determine if the correct property has been cannibalized or destroyed and could result in the deletion of an item from the Property Accounting System that is still in the office. Approximately 20,000 items are declared excess annually, and in the event of an error, it is understandable that searching through the volumes of files to correct the error would be time consuming.

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS - GENERAL

Reference is made to memorandum from J. M. Jones to Mr. Stames dated 6-21-83, captioned as above, and memoranda from J. F. Risdon to Mr. Stames dated 10-6-83, 10-21-83, 11-17-83, and 1-20-84, captioned as above.

PURPOSE: To report the progress of the Civil File Purge Project and the accomplishments of recommendations set forth in memorandum of J. M. Jones dated 6-21-83.

SYNOPSIS: Recommendations 1 through 4, 7, and 8 have been completed. Recommendation 5 recommended the purge of the USINS fingerprint cards and related index cards. Since 10-4-83 we have purged 212,000 cards. Recommendation 6 concerned performing an age purge of the Old Armed Forces file in the event approval for destruction of that file was not received and an age purge of the cards in the "Military" section of the Civil File. The entire Old Armed Forces file was destroyed and purging of the cards in the "Military" portion of the Civil File will be accomplished in the ongoing purge. Recommendation 9 recommended the purging of the millions of useless index cards from the Name Index Section Civil File. Since 8-17-83 we have purged 20,330 drawers and 8,207,632 cards. Recommendation 10 recommended the consolidation of two or more index cards on the same individual and the corresponding fingerprint cards in the Technical Section Civil File. This recommendation will be acted upon last due to the number of personnel and time it has been estimated that it will take to accomplish this project. Recommendation 11 recommended that the year of birth be indicated in blue in the upper right corner of the fingerprint cards in the Technical Section Civil File. Recommendation 12 recommended that the fingerprint file be broken into two different subfiles by age. Recommendation 13 recommended resequencing of the fingerprint cards by classification. It should be noted that the 80+ segment of recommendation 6 and recommendations 11, 12, and 13 can be accomplished at the same time. Recommendation 14 recommended that a special shift be instituted for the Civil File Purge Project in the event a sufficient number of employees do not volunteer to go to the Harkins Building. At the present time we have a sufficient number of volunteers.

Memorandum from J. F. Risdon to MR. STAMES
RE: STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION

RECOMMENDATION: None, for information.

APPROVED:

Director	Adm. Servs.	Laboratory
Exec. AD-Adm.	Crim. Inv.	Legal Coun.
Exec. AD-Inv.	Ident.	Off. of Cong. & Public Affs.
Exec. AD-LES	Inspection	Rec. Mgmt.

DETAILS: Recommendations 1 through 4, 7, and 8 of referenced J. M. Jones memorandum have been completed.

Recommendation 5 recommended that we purge the USINS fingerprint cards and the related index cards if approval were received from USINS. That approval was granted by USINS letter dated 10-4-83. Since the approval and as current workload would permit, we have had four individuals work on the USINS purge. We have purged 212,000 cards as of 5-16-84 and will continue this purge as workload permits.

Recommendation 6 recommended that in the event recommendations 1 and 2 were not approved for any reason, the Identification Division (ID) proceed to purge the Old Armed Forces file and the "Military" segment of the Civil File of all fingerprint cards and related index cards of individuals 75 years of age and older with the exception of those records needed to reconstruct records destroyed by fire at the National Personnel Records Center, St. Louis, Missouri. GSA Bulletin FPMR B-98 dated 4-28-80 gave us authority to reinstitute our purge of military records and the Veterans Administration, by letter dated 11-7-83, concurred on our proposal to purge the Old Armed Forces file. The entire Old Armed Forces file was completely purged and destroyed as of 12-2-83. The purging of the 80+ Military fingerprint cards and corresponding index cards in the Civil File is to be accomplished in the ongoing Civil File Purge Project. It is to be noted that with regard to military fingerprint cards, the Archivist of the United States has approved the destruction of cards of individuals who are 80 years of age or when administrative need for records has been met, whichever is first.

Recommendation 9 recommended that at the conclusion of the fingerprint card purge, the available support personnel performing that purge be given necessary training (about eight workdays consisting of one day of classroom training and seven days of on-the-job training) and that a concentrated effort be mounted to purge the Name Index Section Civil File of the millions and millions of useless index cards. The Name Index Section did not have available manpower for this project so the Fingerprint Examiners assigned to the fingerprint card purge were afforded the necessary eight workdays of training and the purge was initiated on 8-17-83. On 3-9-84 the Name Index Purge was stopped due to the heavy current workload in the ID, and on 3-12-84 19 Fingerprint Examiners were transferred back to the Technical Section of the ID to help eliminate the heavy current workload. The remaining 30 Fingerprint

IDENTIFICATION DIVISION

Examiners were utilized to handle the current workload in the Technical Section Civil File, and on 4-9-84 we began receiving Iranian prints to process on an expedite basis. These employees assisted in the searching of the Iranian prints. Between 1-1-84 and 4-30-84 we purged 8,431 drawers and 2,725,147 cards. From 8-17-83 to 5-16-84 we purged 20,330 drawers and 8,207,632 cards. We have 52,955 drawers left to be purged.

Recommendation 10 recommended that after recommendation 9 was completed, a concerted effort be made in the Name Index Section Civil File to locate two or more index cards in file for the same individual regardless of what the reason he or she was fingerprinted. These index cards would represent consolidations in the Civil Fingerprint File and would make it possible for us to purge additional fingerprint cards and index cards from our Civil File. It is recommended that this recommendation be acted on last inasmuch as it has been estimated that it will take 200 personnel approximately nine years to complete this project in the Civil Fingerprint File and 20 personnel approximately nine years to finish this project in the Civil File of the Name Index Section.

Recommendation 11 recommended that fingerprint cards in the Civil File be reviewed and the year of birth be indicated in blue in the upper right corner of the card so future purging and file rehabilitation would be more efficient and more effective.

Recommendation 12 recommended that the fingerprint file be broken into two different subfiles by age, and at the same time recommendation 13, which recommended resequencing of the fingerprint cards by classification, would take place.

It should be noted that the 80+ segment of recommendation 6 and recommendations 11, 12, and 13 can be accomplished at the same time. These recommendations will be acted upon when the Name Index Section Purge and USINS purge have been completed.

Recommendation 14 recommended that a special shift be instituted for the Civil File Purge Project in the event a sufficient number of support employees do not volunteer to go to the Harkins Building. At the present time, the Technical Section has a sufficient number of volunteers to accomplish the Civil File Purge Project. At this time it is believed that it is not necessary to establish a special shift.

Another memorandum will be submitted to you in September 1984, advising you of the progress of the Civil File Purge Project.

IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)

Reference is made to memorandum from J. M. Jones to Mr. Stames dated 6-21-83, captioned as above, and memoranda from J. F. Risdon to Mr. Stames dated 10-6-83, 10-21-83, 11-17-83, and 12-7-83, captioned as above.

PURPOSE: To report the progress of the Civil File Purge Project and the accomplishment of recommendations set forth in memorandum of J. M. Jones dated 6-21-83.

DETAILS: Recommendations 1 through 4, 7, and 8, of referenced J. M. Jones memorandum have been completed.

Recommendation 5 recommended that we purge the USINS fingerprint cards and the related index cards if approval be received from USINS. That approval was granted by USINS letter dated 10-4-83. Since the approval and as current workload would permit, we have had four individuals work on the USINS purge. We have purged 202,878 through the end of December and will continue this purge as workload permits.

Recommendation 6 recommended that in the event recommendations 1 and 2 were not approved for any reason, the ID proceed to purge the Old Armed Forces file and the "Military" segment of the Civil File of all fingerprint cards and related index cards of individuals 75 years of age and older with the exception of those records needed to reconstruct records destroyed by fire at the National Personnel Records Center. GSA Bulletin FPMR B-98 dated 4-28-80, gave us authority to reinstitute our purge of military records and the Veterans Administration, by letter dated 11-7-83, concurred on our proposal to purge the Old Armed Forces file. The entire Old Armed Forces file was completely purged and destroyed as of 12-2-83. The purging of the 80+ Military fingerprint cards and corresponding index cards in the civil files is to be accomplished in the ongoing Civil File Purge Project. It is to be noted that with regard to military fingerprint cards, the Archivist of the United States has approved the destruction of cards of individuals who are 80 years of age or when administrative need for records has been met, whichever is earlier.

Memorandum J. F. Risdon to MR. STAMES
RE: STUDY OF CIVIL FILE PURGE PROJECT
IDENTIFICATION DIVISION (ID)

Recommendation 9 recommended that at the conclusion of the fingerprint card purge, the available support personnel performing that purge be given the necessary training (about eight workdays) and that a concentrated effort be mounted to purge the Name Index Section Civil File of the millions and millions of useless index cards. The Name Index Section did not have available manpower for this project so the Fingerprint Examiners assigned to the fingerprint card purge were afforded the necessary eight workdays of training and the purge was initiated on 8-17-83. As of 1-13-84, 5,814,459 index cards have been purged. There remain 59,582 index card drawers to be purged as of 1-13-84. At the beginning of this project it was estimated that it would take 11 months to complete but with the interruption caused by work on the Beirut disaster, it is estimated this project will not be completed until the end of September or October, 1984.

Recommendation 10 recommended that after recommendation 9 was completed, a concerted effort be made in the Name Index Section Civil Files to locate two or more index cards in file for the same individual regardless of what the reason he or she was fingerprinted. These index cards would represent consolidations in the Civil Fingerprint File and would make it possile for us to purge additional fingerprint cards and index cards from our Civil Files. It is recommended that this recommendation be acted on last inasmuch as it has been estimated that it will take 200 personnel approximately 9 years to complete this project in the Civil Fingerprint Files and 20 personnel approximately 9 years to finish this project in the Civil Files of the Name Index Section.

Recommendation 11 recommended that fingerprint cards in the Civil File be reviewed and the year of birth be indicated in blue in the upper right-hand corner of the card so future purging and file rehabilitation would be more efficient and more effective.

Recommendation 12 recommended that the fingerprint file be broken into two different sub-files by age, and at the same time recommendation 13, which recommended resequencing of the fingerprint cards into the proper Henry Fingerprint Classification, would take place.

It should be noted that recommendations 11, 12, and 13 can be done at the same time. These recommendations will be acted upon when the Name Index Section purge, USINS purge, and Military purge have been completed.

Recommendation 14 recommended that a special shift be instituted for the Civil File Purge Project in the event a sufficient number of support employees do not volunteer to go to the Harkins Building. At the present time, the Technical Section has 38 Fingerprint Examiners and three Supervisory Fingerprint Examiners assigned to the Civil File Purge Project. At this time, it is believed that it is not necessary to establish a special shift.

ReBuairtel to All SACs, 4/17/84, captioned as above.

ReBuairtel provided instructions for preservation of additional multisection/multiserial cases in the field offices and responded to specific inquiries generated as the result of previous instructions issued in regard to record preservation.

This communication will complete the function of identifying historical cases pending resolution of the American Friends Service Committee litigation, with the exception of an "exceptional category" of records. The instructions for the exceptional group will be forthcoming upon completion of the identification process at FBIHQ. Instant communication includes an attachment to assist you in identifying permanent records maintained within your office. The attachment is divided into two categories: (1) multisection cases and (2) cases, regardless of volume, further explained in this communication. Again, you are requested to identify, stamp, and preserve certain records in your office and, as instructed, determine the FBIHQ file number(s) and notify FBIHQ accordingly. You are not required to review the cases listed on the attachment for the FBIHQ file number(s) and you need not provide listings of file numbers destroyed with your response.

PERMANENT CASES/MULTISECTION CASES FROM THE ATTACHMENT

Previous communications provided an attachment with permanent records identified at FBIHQ and instructions to retain corresponding field office records, regardless of volume. The attachment to instant airtel contains separate instructions for classifications in this category, i.e., identification of cases, regardless of their volume, and identification of multisection (2 or more sections) cases. Classifications on the attachment are divided as follows, and a review for the corresponding FBIHQ file number(s) is not required:

OFFICE OF ORIGIN CASES ONLY. IDENTIFY MULTISECTION (TWO OR MORE SECTIONS) CASES WHICH APPEAR IN THE FOLLOWING CLASSIFICATIONS ON THE ATTACHMENT AND STAMP FOR PRESERVATION AS NOTED HEREIN. YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO STAMP ANY CASES WITH LESS THAN TWO CONSECUTIVE SECTIONS FOR THIS CATEGORY.

This will acknowledge previous discussions and recent conversations with members of my staff regarding your interest in the preservation or creation of copies of preappointment background investigative reports on 712 Federal judge candidates. Copies of the reports will complete the specific file collection of the Office of the Attorney General (OAG).

The Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule prepared by the National Archives and Records Service and the Federal Bureau of Investigation provide for disposition of the records containing the background investigative reports.

I want to assure you that we will comply with your request for assistance in reconstructing the OAG files prior to implementing our disposition instructions. At the present time, the name searches are completed and the pertinent files have been identified.

Please do not hesitate to contact SA Robert W. Scherrer of my staff at 324-4507 if we can be of further assistance.

By letter dated 3/31/81, Walter R. Wilson, Director, Records and Publications Staff, Justice Management Division (JMD), provided a listing of 712 Federal judge candidates to assist the FBI in identifying pertinent records regarding the candidates and to preserve copies of the background investigative reports. The reports will assist the Office of the Attorney General in reconstructing their file collection which had previously been destroyed.

On 8/21/84, Mr. Robert M. Yahn, JMD, was contacted regarding possible additions to the listing, and he advised that the list was complete. A master listing of the pertinent file numbers has been prepared and will be maintained in the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit for future reference and action.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Destruction of Bureau Records-General

It is anticipated that in the near future Judge Harold H. Greene, U.S. District Court, District of Columbia, Washington, D. C., will take action to resolve litigation in the civil matter "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al.," Civil Action Number 79-1655. Resolution of the civil action, supra, and approval of the FBI's Records/Disposition Plan will allow destruction of certain files and records. To illustrate, upon approval of the Plan, the field will be able to destroy Auxiliary Office files when one year old, and "zero" files when three years old in the majority of the classifications. Immediate implementation of this phase of the Plan, when approved, will give the field offices much-needed relief from overcrowded file storage conditions and possibly eliminate the need to acquire additional equipment and/or space for file storage purposes.

To ensure that all offices will be in a position to proceed with implementation of the Records Retention/Disposition Plan when approved, the following situation is being brought to your attention:

Bulet to SAC, Albany, and all offices, 8/15/77, captioned as above, provided instructions and guidelines for identifying and marking for preservation, files and records involved in litigation. This project has been in effect since 1977, is ongoing and is likely to continue indefinitely.

MAILED 16 AUG 07 1984 FBI

FBIHQ is aware that personnel constraints and day-to-day priority investigative and administrative activity have encumbered a number of offices from keeping current with marking for preservation files and records involved in litigation. It is imperative that this project be in a current status before the field, Legats and FBIHQ can embark on any future file destruction program. Therefore, it is suggested that every effort be made to bring this work into a current status as soon as possible.

RE: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES
AND RECORDS

You are reminded that the ban on file destruction has not been lifted to date; therefore, no destruction of files and records can take place at this time. This communication is intended to serve as a reminder of the aforementioned project which must be completed before any destruction Plan is placed into effect. You will be kept apprised of pertinent developments.

NOTE: This communication is being directed ~~of~~ to all field offices and Legats for the purpose of alerting them of the need to bring into a current status the above-mentioned project work in preparation for implementation of the FBI's Records Retention/Disposition Plan once it is approved by the court. Current information indicates that the court may take action by the end of calendar year 1984 to resolve the "American Friends Service Committee" litigation. Resolution of the litigation will permit implementation of the file destruction program and permit the immediate destruction of certain categories of files which will give all offices some relief from the overcrowded file storage conditions.

Subject : CLOSED FILES STORAGE FACILITIES
Destruction of Bureau Records

REFERENCE: Your memorandum dated 8/22/84 to Mr. MONROE entitled "Closed Files Storage Facilities." General

PURPOSE: To advise you of the initiatives which the FBI or the Attorney General might take to relieve the administrative burden of Judge GREENE's permanent injunction.

SYNOPSIS: The initiatives available are very limited. This conclusion was reached in discussions between LCD and VINCENT GARVEY and [redacted], Civil Division, DOJ. A status hearing before Judge GREENE, which should be scheduled for mid-October, 1984, should indicate Judge GREENE's thinking and, therefore, influence future initiatives.

b6
b7C

DETAILS: The options considered are as follows:

1. Stipulation: The parties could agree that there are records which can be destroyed immediately. However, due to plaintiffs' desire for broad discovery, the disadvantages of a "quid pro quo" stipulation would outweigh any short term benefit.

66-3286

Mr. GARVEY noted that a stipulation to eliminate the most satisfactory areas of the Records Retention Plan (1977 Plan) would allow plaintiffs to challenge the balance of the 1977 Plan as inadequate. Mr. GARVEY also stated that any stipulation "would encourage Judge GREENE to decide on a piecemeal basis" thereby incurring "further delays and removing the effect of the severity of the administrative burden argument in inducing Judge Greene to promptly reach a final decision."

RE: CLOSED FILES STORAGE FACILITIES

2. Writ of Mandamus. This is an extraordinary remedy used to compel public officials to act. Mr. GARVEY stated that there was "no way" that DOJ would consider mandamus to hasten judicial resolution as it is too extreme and would alienate Judge GREENE, even assuming the Court of Appeals would ever consider this.

3. Administrative Burden Argument. Judge GREENE has not favorably received this argument to date. Mr. GARVEY stated this argument can now be raised to negate attempts for continued discovery.

DOJ has suggested that the FBI update the adverse financial, personnel and spacial impact of Judge GREENE's ruling.

4. "In-house" measures. RMD is prepared to increase personnel levels to implement the 1977 Plan. Supplemental budgetary and hiring approvals will be sought immediately following Judge GREENE's ruling.

LCD is reviewing the issue of attorney's fees. It is anticipated that this issue will be raised at a status conference. If attorneys' fees are merited, this should be related at the appropriate moment to avert judicial rebuke.

LCD is coordinating agreement with NARS as to how Grand Jury material under Fed.R.Crim.P. 6(e) should be handled.

5. Background. This memo is the product of LCD meetings with Messrs. [redacted] and Garvey, DOJ. Mr. [redacted] noted a status conference should be set for mid-October, 1984. This matter was also discussed with Section Chief Scherrer, RMD.

MR. MONROE 8/22/84

LEE COLWELL

CLOSED FILES
STORAGE FACILITIES

It is my understanding we have approximately 20,000 square feet of space in the JEH Building that could be freed-up when the order issued by Judge Greene prohibiting the destruction of files is lifted. I am asking that we prepare an impact statement as to how much storage space presently being occupied by closed files would be made available for use in the Hoover Building once that order is lifted.

In recent coversations with Assistant Director Lee Laster in New York, I was advised that approximately half of one floor (the 27th floor), amounting to approximately 12,000 or more square feet, could be retrieved in the New York Division alone. I ask that we survey the field for similar estimates, but to include New York with the survey.

I then would like an informative memorandum prepared for me to the Director setting forth options and recommendations for the Director to consider in talking to the Attorney General regarding initiatives that might be taken by the Department with the Court in order to seek relief for the FBI in connection with Judge Greene's order.

I would ask that you complete this review within the next 60 days and provide a report to me.

APPRAISAL OF FBIHQ AND FIELD RECORDS
BUDED: 8/16/85

ReBuairtel to all SACs, dated 5/29/85, captioned as above.

ReBuairtel provided instructions for preservation of exceptional cases (including auxiliary office cases) maintained in field offices, as identified through review of cases maintained at FBIHQ which NARA has evaluated as exceptional.

An attachment has been prepared for each field office, and you are requested to affix the rubber stamp "X, DO NOT DESTROY, HISTORICAL VALUE, NATIONAL ARCHIVES," to file covers of cases listed on your attachment. You are not required to conduct a further review of your files. Again, it is unnecessary to affix the stamp to a file which has previously been identified as exceptional, and FBIHQ has attempted to eliminate repetition by excluding duplicate exceptional cases.

All offices are requested to advise FBIHQ, Attention: Records Section, Records Management Division, Room 5935, that action has been completed by COB 8/16/85. You are reminded that no record destruction will be authorized until permanent records are identified and the litigation program is current and files appropriately stamped to avoid inadvertent destruction.

Order

DOJ 2710.10

Oct. 3, 1984

Subject: FEDERAL COURT ORDERS FOR THE DISPOSITION OF OFFICIAL RECORDS OTHER THAN UNDER THE CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES ACT

1. PURPOSE. This order establishes the procedure to be followed for executing a Federal court order to seal or expunge records when such an order is NOT covered by the Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S.C. 844.

Destruction of Bureau Records

2. SCOPE. This order applies to all U.S. Attorneys' Offices, the Criminal Division, the U.S. Marshals Service, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Drug Enforcement Administration, the Justice Management Division (JMD), and any other component known to have records that might relate to the case.

General

3. DEFINITIONS.

   a. Seal. Fastened up in any manner so as to be closed against inspection of its contents.

   b. Expunge. To destroy, delete or obliterate; it implies not a legal act, but a physical destruction; to blot out; to efface designedly, to strike out wholly. As it applies to this order, the expungement of records is not to be greater or less than specified in the order.

4. RESPONSIBILITY. The U.S. Attorneys' Office will be responsible for executing court orders to seal or expunge records not specifically covered by 21 U.S.C. 844. The recipients of court orders directing sealing or expungement of official records not within their purview should forward such requests to the responsible U.S. Attorney's Office.

5. RECORDS DISPOSITION AUTHORITY. In accordance with 44 U.S.C. 3314, no records of the Government shall be destroyed or otherwise alienated from the Government without prior approval of the Archivist of the United States.

6. OBTAINING RECORDS DISPOSITION AUTHORITY. A Standard Form 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority (SF-115), must be submitted to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) through the JMD, Records Management Services, when the court order affects records that are:

   a. Designated for permanent retention by an existing approved SF-115.

   b. Unscheduled and disposition has not been authorized by NARS.

7. SEALING AND EXPUNGEMENT OF RECORDS. Form DOJ-499, Court Ordered Disposition of Official Records, will be used to initiate sealing or expungement of official records as directed by the court. This form will also provide a record that such action has been completed. Upon receipt of a certified copy of the court order to seal or expunge official records, the responsible U.S. Attorney shall:

   a. Complete Part I - Defendant Information and Part II, Section 1 and 3, of Form DOJ-499. Appendix 1 illustrates use of the form.

   b. Transmit a copy of Form DOJ-499 and a certified copy of the court order to each individual, or the headquarters office of each agency or component (Federal, state or local), known to the Assistant United States Attorney (due to specific information provided by the defendant or due to specific copies of related records contained in the file) to be maintaining a record to which the order for sealing or expungement applies.

   c. Ensure that all copies of Form DOJ-499, with Part II, Section 2, completed by the addressee, have been returned to the U.S. Attorney.

8. MULTIPLE DEFENDANTS. If a court order is issued for a case in which there are two or more individuals named as defendants, all recordation identifying the defendant named in the order shall be sealed or expunged, as ordered, from the records of any co-defendants.

9. ACTION. The U.S. Attorney's Office shall seal or expunge its own records including the original and all copies of Form DOJ-499, as required by the court order.

10. AVAILABILITY. Copies may be obtained through normal supply channels from the Department's Warehouse Services Section. Form SF-115 may be obtained through the General Services Administration Supply Store.

ReBuairtels to all SACs, dated 3/8, 4/17, and 6/20/84 and 5/29, 7/9, and 8/2/85, and Buairtel to all SACs and Legats, dated 11/26/84, captioned as above.

Referenced communications furnished instructions to assist in identifying historical records and provided historical case numbers as determined from the review of FBIHQ files. Instant airtel will update the program and resolve discrepancies which have been detected and verified with NARA since issuance of the initial instructional directives.

A complete listing of file classifications included in reBuairtels 3/8, 4/17, and 6/20/84, and their respective instructions are set forth hereafter and will require updating from approximately March, 1984, unless the instructions are altered due to discrepancies or all action was completed upon receipt of initial communication. Classifications which require a review for FBIHQ file numbers (or subject matter if file number is unknown) and subsequent notification to FBIHQ are identified by (*); classifications which have revised instructions due to discrepancies are identified by () and may require a more thorough review. Any additional historical records identified through the review should have the legend, "DO NOT DESTROY, HISTORICAL VALUE, NATIONAL ARCHIVES," affixed to the file cover.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re: Legat, Mexico City, letter dated August 22, 1985, and Memorandum to All Special Agents in Charge, Number 39-80, dated November 24, 1980; captioned as above.

Since issuance of referenced directive, a discrepancy was noted in the retention period established therein for supporting documents to the Field Support Account (FSA) and in the retention period set forth in the FSA Guide. The matter was resolved in favor of the retention period in the FSA Guide; however, the reduced retention period was not delegated in order to avoid fragmented disposition authorities.

Mexico City is requested to hold proposed destruction of additional FSA records in abeyance until resolution of pending litigation, at which time reduced retention periods consistent with the FSA Guide, page 16, which clarifies the retention periods for disposable documents, will be delegated.

APPROVED:

NOTE: Based on Legat, Mexico City, letter dated 8/22/85, which requested specific retention periods for supporting documents of the FSA, which appear in the FSA Guide. The retention period of three years as opposed to the six years/three months set forth in referenced SAC Memorandum was resolved with the General Accounting Office and the revised retention period of three years will be delegated upon resolution of pending American Friends litigation to conform with the FSA Guide.

Subject : DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

ReMemo To All Special Agents in Charge number 39-80 dated November 24,1980.

Page 2 of referenced memo sets forth criteria for destruction of Field Support Account records. Specific items not mentioned includes the supporting documents including but not limited to vouchers, receipts and cover sheets of the actual expense account. Copies of these documents were forwarded to the Bureau at the time of reimbursement.

If these records could be destroyed this would eliminate thirty six incles of linear feet in our storage area in Mexico City.

Request of the Bureau

The Bureau is requested to advise if supporting documents to the FSA can also be destroyed in accordance with referenced memo.

ACTION MEMORANDUM

Destruction of Bureau Records
General

66-3286-1373

Reference is made to the memorandum dated March 8, 1982 from Mr. John J. Farley, III, Director, Torts Branch, Civil Divison, Department of Justice (DOJ), to Mr. Larry L. Simms, Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel, DOJ (copy attached).

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) requests that the moratorium of January 16, 1978, which prohibits the destruction of security related records, be rescinded. This moratorium was self-imposed by the FBI at the suggestion of Miss Mary Lawton, DOJ, in view of discovery proceedings which were pending in 1978 against former FBI employees Gray, Felt, Miller and Kearney. These individuals were also defendants in a civil action which arose out of the Weather Underground and Weather Fugitive investigations (Judith Clark, et al. v. United States, et al. 78 Civ. 2244 MEL (S.D.N.Y.)).

DE-297 66-3286-1402X

Charges against Mr. Kearney were dropped on April 15, 1978 by nolle prosequi. On March 26, 1981 the indictments concerning Messrs. Felt and Miller were dismissed by reason of a Presidential pardon. The parallel civil action in Judith Clark was settled on August 19, 1983. The perjury proceeding involving Mr. Gray was deemed insufficient to warrant prosecution on October 7, 1975.

Any disposition of the security related files at issue is currently subject to a permanent injunction granted in American Friends, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al., 79 Civ. 1655 (D.D.C.). However, in a Memorandum dated December 20, 1985, the Honorable Harold H. Greene,

United States District Judge, again approved the FBI's Records Retention and Destruction Schedule (PLAN), with limited exceptions. Judge Greene reiterated his finding set forth in a Memorandum Order dated June 20, 1985 in which he upheld "the general thrust of the plan as appropriate under law."

The Memorandum of December 20, 1985 ordered the FBI to incorporate limited modifications into its PLAN and directed that the National Archieves and Records Administration review the files of two FBI field offices to evaluate the historical significance of their files for purposes of retention. Judge Greene concluded his ruling by stating "the plan as so amended will promptly be approved, and the injunction...will be lifted" (emphasis added).

In light of Judge Greene's recent rulings, it is anticipated that the permanent injunction in American Friends will be lifted within the immediate future and that the FBI will be allowed to process its documents under the PLAN.

In his letter of March 8, 1982, Mr. Farley notes his concern regarding the proposed destruction of security related files which might have an adverse impact on the ability of the Torts Branch "to defend the governmental and individual interests we represent in these lawsuits." While Mr. Farley's concern is well-taken, the FBI has implemented a number of procedural safeguards, the purpose of which is to ensure that security related files will not be destroyed prior to the final resolution of each lawsuit.

The FBI has instituted procedures which are intended to computerize main case files; this system was instituted for the purpose of ensuring that the names and identifying data regarding subjects and persons having investigative value to the FBI are properly recorded in the computerized records systems of both FBI Field Offices and FBI Headquarters (FBIHQ). After a lawsuit is commenced, FBIHQ is to inform each field office involved that appropriate files are to be preserved until further notice from FBIHQ. This information is then to be computerized and periodically reviewed and updated.

Acting Assistant Attorney General
Civil Division

Eventual destruction would commence only after a final order is entered and after all rights of appeal have been exhausted. Even then, FBI personnel will review each file to ensure strict adherence to the destruction guidelines which have been promulgated by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for security-related classifications. Files relating to the most prominent security-related lawsuits would most likely be preserved regardless, under NARA's guidelines concerning the retention of cases of historical significance.

The FBI is anxious to resume an approved records management program of security related files. It is the opinion of the FBI that the lifting of the moratorium is necessary for the execution of the judicially approved PLAN.

Disposition will also be coordinated with LCD which will analyze the impact of dispositon on pending and/or potential litigation.

SUBJECT: FBI - Document Destruction

Your memorandum of February 11, 1982, requests our comments on the Bureau's proposal to lift a moritorium on the destruction of certain security-related records. This moritorium was imposed by your office in view of the pendency of criminal proceedings against former FBI officials Kearney, Gray, Felt and Miller.

First of all, the criminal case against Messrs. Felt and Miller remains "pending" since an appeal has been filed. Moreover, the above individuals currently are defendants in a civil suit pending in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York captioned Judith Clark, et al. v. United States, et al., 78 CIV 2244 MEL (S.D. N.Y.), which arises out of the Weather Underground and Weather Fugitive investigations. This case is primarily handled by the United States Attorney. That office should be consulted fully before any documents are destroyed. It might be noted, however, that it is likely that any documents retrieved in connection with the criminal cases would be deemed relevant to the related civil case, in view of the broad relevancy concept embodied in the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Aside from the above, you should be aware that this Division handles several cases which challenge national security investigations conducted by the Bureau over the years. These include investigations of the Black Panther Party, National Lawyers Guild, Socialist Workers Party,

Mem AD-LC to AAG-OLC
1-15-86 RJD:lmh

Jewish Defense League, Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice, Students for a Democratic Society, East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives and numerous other groups. We are concerned that any destruction of security-related records might hinder our ability to defend the governmental and individual interests we represent in these lawsuits. It is perhaps significant to note that the Legal Counsel Division of the FBI, with which we work closely in defending these cases, does not appear to have been consulted on the question of resuming destruction. Its view would be helpful.

At the present time we are inclined to recommend against destruction of any security-related documents. At the very least, in the event the Bureau is permitted to commence normal destruction of records, provision should be made to ensure that this Division is advised in advance of any proposed destruction in order that our litigation interests and obligations might be protected. Various document retrieval and destruction programs notwithstanding, the destruction of relevant documents of potential evidentiary value could adversely impact on presently pending cases, particulary when they are subject to non-destruct orders.

To provide details of a records destruction program of folders maintained in the Personnel Records Subunit (PRS) for Bureau applicants who were never employed for both Special Agent and support positions.

DETAILS:

The PRS currently maintains approximately 157,000 folders for Bureau applicants who were never employed for both Special Agent and support positions. The earliest application noted is dated in 1922. The folders are eligible for destruction after 2 years pursuant to General Records Schedule (GRS) #1, Item 15, and Judge Greene's modified order of 4/3/80, in the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al v. William H. Webster, et al, which removed the previous temporary restriction for destruction of these records. It is noted that Title 44, U. S. Code, Section 3303a (2)(b), contains the following statement, "....and schedules promulgated by the Archivist under Subsection d of this Section shall be mandatory" (emphasis added). Title 44, U. S. Code, Section 3303a (2)(d) indicates, "The Archivist shall promulgate schedules authorizing the disposal, after the lapse of specified periods of time of records of a specified form or character common to several or all agencies if such records will not at the end of the periods specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research or other value to warrant their further preservation by the U. S. Government....." The aforementioned citations to Title 44, U. S. Code, Section 3303a, pertain to the GRS.

The records occupy 2,720 linear feet of space in the PRS mobile shelving units alone with more recent application folders maintained in letter-sized cabinets, and are accessible by duplicate index cards filed in the HQGI and the PRS; a PRS manual abstract system; and the automated HQGI.

Two concerns precluding earlier destruction were recently resolved, i.e., destruction of SA applications due to the Hansen suit and FOIPA considerations. Assistant Director Sharp, Administrative Services Division, advised that he had consulted the Legal Counsel Division regarding the destruction of the SA applications in light of the Hansen suit and expressed no interest in folders predating 1970. A cutoff date for applications dated 1/1/70, was established. Assistant Section Chief [redacted] FOIPA Section, advised that FOIPA maintained no backlog on requests and that searching and file retrieval are conducted upon receipt of requests. b6 b7C

A review of folders from a shelf selected at random revealed that 92 percent of the folders were eligible for destruction. The remaining 8 percent consisted of SA applications dated subsequent to 1/1/70; folders containing FOIPA correspondence, the destruction of which continues to be restricted by American Friends; and name check dissemination (yellows or stamps) less than 5 years old which must be retained pursuant to the Privacy Act. An audit trail has been established for the name check items, by date, and for the folders containing FOIPA correspondence, thereby permitting retrieval and destruction at the conclusion of 5 years/resolution of American Friends. An updated litigation listing for the 67 classification is received biweekly and its contents reviewed with the folders proposed for destruction. No folders have been noted to be involved in litigation as yet.

Based on the destruction estimate of 92 percent, 2,500 linear feet of shelving space would be recovered. Based on one index card per folder (145,000 - 92 percent of 157,000), a minimum of 73 drawers or 1 1/3 54-drawer index cabinets would be recovered from both the HQGI and the PRS index. A greater recovery is anticipated due to the numerous cards generated for applicants with aliases. Based on the 145,000 figure, 427 drawers or 8 54-drawer index cabinets containing related abstracts and numbering cards will be recovered in the PRS. A number of entries exceeding 145,000 will be deleted from the automated HQGI.

A listing of destroyed files (numbers only) will be created for the PRS and the program will be closely coordinated with that subunit. Retained files will be returned to the shelves with adequate space to integrate the retained folders maintained in the cabinets and allow removal of the cabinets to the In-Service area of the PRS to ease the crowded conditions there.

The National Archives and Records Administration has expressed an interest in receiving folders on prominent individuals, such as former President Richard M. Nixon, who submitted applications for employment. Folders of this type will be appropriately stamped for ultimate transfer to the National Archives.

Memorandum from Mr. R. E. Scherrer to Mr. Monroe dated November 6, 1985

Re: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

ADDENDUM: LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION (LCD) 7/24/86 FRC:dsm

This addendum sets forth the position of LCD regarding the proposed records destruction program for applicant (both Special Agent and support) folders from 1922 through December 23, 1969. Destruction of the subject folders would be consistent with current orders under American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.D.C.), Civil Action No. 79-1655.

In his Order dated April 3, 1980, Judge HAROLD H. GREENE modified the temporary injunction of January 10, 1980 regarding the destruction of FBI records and ruled that this injunction "shall not apply to General Records Schedules (GRS) . . . and Items 1-24 . . . of GRS No. 1."

GRS No. 1, item 15 provides authorization for the destruction of employment applications (Standard Form 191) and related records upon receipt of an Office of Personnel Management "inspection report or when these records are 2 years old, whichever is earlier." As 2 years have elapsed since the creation of the subject applicant folders, destruction would be authorized under American Friends and GSA statutes. However, for reasons explained below, LCD urges destruction be limited at the present time to files in the 1922 - 1950 time frame.

On November 11, 1985, Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Civil Litigation Unit II, Legal Counsel Division contacted Department of Justice attorney [redacted] Civil Division, regarding the proposed destruction of Bureau applicant folders. Mr. [redacted] is DOJ attorney assigned to and responsible for the EEO lawsuit, Christine A. Hansen v. William H. Webster, (U.S.D.C., D.D.C.), Civil Action No. 84-3026. Mr. [redacted] informed SSA [redacted] that he desired that the FBI retain the applicant files mentioned in the attached memorandum until a conclusive judicial ruling was forthcoming in Hansen. Summary judgment and dismissal motions were pending in the Hansen suit. Although he recognized that the likelihood is remote, Mr. [redacted] was concerned that it might become necessary to conduct a review

b7C

ADDENDUM: LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION (LCD) 7/24/86 FRC:dsm

or statisticial analysis of applicant files as part of the judicial proceedings either in response to discover or for our own defense of the suit. For these reasons, he asked that the FBI delay the proposed destruction of applicant files until a judicial decision was rendered in the Hansen case.

On June 30, 1986, U.S. District Judge Joyce Hens Green entered a Memorandum Opinion and Order with respect to the pending motions for summary judgment. Following this decision Mr. [redacted] informed SSA [redacted] on July 18, 1986, that he had discussed this matter with his supervisory officials in DOJ and that DOJ had no objection to the FBI commencing destruction of files in the 1922 - 1950 time frame. Once a decision with respect to the possible appeal of this Hansen decision is made, authority to destroy the files from 1951 forward will be addressed. LCD will keep RMD advised of developments as they occur.

Memorandum from R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Monroe
Re: Destruction of Records
National Archives and Records Administration (NARA)
Appraisal of FBIHQ and Field Office Records

Due to the successful outcome of the initial venture, NARA was apprised of our interest in obtaining the sample case numbers in the 95, 115, 116, 120, 140, and 163 classifications.

By letter dated 1/9/85, Dr. James E. O'Neill, Director, FBI Appraisal Project, provided the printouts for the sample cases for the foregoing classifications, with the exception of the 116 classification. The latter classification bears an instructional discrepancy which must be resolved prior to selection of the sample. Dr. O'Neill's letter and enclosures, as well as the computer printout prepared by the Technical Services Division for the 42 classification, are attached for record purposes.

DETAILS:

Pursuant to the Attorney General's instructions of 6/6/77, that all files related to pending litigation must be preserved, Legal Counsel Division has provided Records Management Division (RMD) with pertinent information regarding pending civil actions, including actions brought pursuant to the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts. RMD has subsequently provided this information to field offices and Legal Attaches for appropriate searching and identification. A similar process is conducted at Headquarters.

To ensure that all pertinent subjects related to the cases are fully recorded, an attachment which has previously been forwarded for searching and retention purposes is attached herewith for record processing.

2. That Form FD-493 be prepared with an original and ~~one~~ two yellow copies with carbon insert and that instructions concerning use of the form be placed on the reverse side of the original.

3. In those instances where no record at FBIHQ is located concerning name check requests or the file destruction program, recommend that the Records Management Division (RMD) appropriately mark the FD-493 and return it to the submitting office.

4. If the request concerns the field file destruction program and a search of FBIHQ indices and files identifies the office of origin and related file number(s), recommend that RMD appropriately mark the FD-493, list the pertinent information thereon and return the original to the submitting office. The yellow copy of the form should be placed in the FBIHQ file that corresponds with the field office of origin file.

5. If the request is for a name check and a search of FBIHQ indices and files identifies information that is identical or possibly identical with the individual/organization of interest to the field, recommend RMD appropriately mark the FD-493, list pertinent references thereon and forward the form to the substantive FBIHQ division (Criminal Investigative Division (CID) or Intelligence Division (INTD)) for review and reply to the submitting field office.

6. Recommend that the CID and INTD respond by addendum to instant memorandum concerning the proposed revision and use of Form FD-493 and procedures for handling at FBIHQ name check requests from the field.

DETAILS:

In a recent meeting at FBIHQ the Special Agents Advisory Committee voiced concern over the turnaround time between the field and FBIHQ of name check requests for review of headquarters indices and/or files to determine if information exists in the Central Records System that is identical or possibly identical to individual(s)/organization(s) of interest in field investigative matters. The Agents noted that there have been instances where responses have exceeded 40 days.

Presently, name check requests from the field for a review of FBIHQ indices and files are forwarded by an appropriate communication (memorandum, letter, airtel, teletype, etc.) to the substantive FBIHQ division for action. Upon receipt, personnel of the substantive FBIHQ division prepare indices search slips requesting a review of FBIHQ general indices. The search slips are forwarded to the RMD for appropriate action. The turnaround time for searching the FBIHQ General Index and returning the indices search slips to the substantive FBIHQ division by RMD is between five to seven work days. It should be noted that frequently it is necessary for personnel of a substantive FBIHQ division to review FBIHQ files in order to prepare a response to the field. For this reason, requests for review of the FBIHQ General Index and files and responses to the field may be delayed.

In an effort to improve upon these procedures and enhance FBIHQ responses to name check requests from the field, the RMD proposes that Form FD-493 be revised (see sample attached) for use by the field when requesting FBIHQ to review headquarters indices and/or files for information concerning the field file destruction program and/or name check requests.

Memorandum from C. P. Monroe to Mr. Revell
RE: FIELD OFFICE REQUEST FOR REVIEW OF
FBIHQ INDICES AND FILES -
FIELD FILE DESTRUCTION PROGRAM;
NAME CHECK REQUESTS

Form FD-493 was initially designed in 1976 for exclusive use by the field in connection with the field file destruction program to ascertain the file number and office of origin of an investigation to facilitate reconstruction of records by an auxiliary office which had destroyed its investigative file after being closed for a six-month period pursuant to then existing destruction criteria. The FD-493 was not designed for the purpose of the field submitting a name check request to FBIHQ. RMD believes that proposed revision of FD-493 for use by the field in requesting a review of information not limited to the file destruction program will improve the utility of the form and enhance FBIHQ responses to the field, particularly responses concerning name check requests. Use of the revised form will, in those cases where no record at FBIHQ is located and/or the request concerns the file destruction program, allow RMD to return the properly executed form directly to the requesting field office. In those instances where identical or possibly identical information concerning a name check request is located as a result of a review of the FBIHQ General Index, the form listing the pertinent references will be forwarded to the substantive FBIHQ division (CID or INTD) for review and reply to the field.

The CID and INTD are being requested to respond by addendum to the above proposal to revise Form FD-493 for use by the field when making name check requests and the procedures for handling same at FBIHQ.

Memorandum from C. P. Monroe to Mr. Clarke, dated 11/19/85
RE: FIELD OFFICE REQUEST FOR REVIEW OF
FBIHQ INDICES AND FILES -
FIELD FILE DESTRUCTION PROGRAM;
NAME CHECK REQUESTS

ADDENDUM: CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION; CIO;MYS; 3/14/86

CID has reviewed a C. P. Monroe memorandum to Mr. Clarke dated 11/19/85, which recommends certain revisions to the FD-493. The revisions are proposed in order to increase the forms utility enabling field offices to make name check requests and request review of files to identify information which is identical or possibly identical to specified individuals/ organizations. The recommended revisions to the FD-493 will, in the opinion of CID, permit more efficient handling of field office name check and file review requests at FBIHQ and therefore, CID concurs with the recommendations.

CID does however, propose one additional revision to the FD-493. Currently, substantive Sections in CID are requested to perform name check requests and thereafter file reviews by airtel, teletype or other appropriate communications. These communications frequently contain information in addition to the identifying information currently specified on the proposed FD-493. CID recommends that the revised FD-493 provide space on the front of the form to permit the requesting office to provide any additional information which may assist the substantive Section in conducting a thorough file review. If insufficient space exists on the front of the form, space should be provided on the back of the form with a check-off block on the front.

RECOMMENDATION: That the Records Management Division, in addition to the proposed revisions to the FD-493 set out in C. P. Monroe memorandum to Mr. Clarke dated 11/19/85, provide space on the revised FD-493 to allow field offices to submit "Other Identifying Information" which will permit a more efficient review of files at FBIHQ.

Memorandum from C. P. Monroe to Mr. Clarke, dated 11/19/85
Re: Field Office Request for Review of
FBIHQ Indices and Files -
Field File Destruction Program;
Name Check Requests

ADDENDUM: INTELLIGENCE DIVISION (INTD), TJW:glh, 4/1/86

INTD has received a C. P. Monroe memorandum to Mr. Clarke, dated 11/19/85, which recommends revisions to Form FD-493 (Headquarters Record Review Request).

INTD agrees with the proposal which would enable field offices to make name check requests and request review of files to identify information which is identical to specified individuals/organizations. This revision should provide more efficient handling of field office name check and file review requests at FBIHQ and INTD agrees with the recommendation.

INTD would request, however, that the term "Security" under the Limit Search category be changed to read "Intelligence." INTD believes that this would further clarify the search area for FBIHQ personnel.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Management Division accept the proposed revisions of FD-493 as set out by the C. P. Monroe memorandum to Mr. Clarke, dated 11/19/85, with the additional change incorporated of the replacement of the word "Security" with "Intelligence" in the section designated Limit Search.

UNRECORDED COPY FILED IN 66-19249-

THIS LENGTHY LITIGATION WAS MOST COMPLEX AND HAD MANY ISSUES WHICH HAD TO BE RESOLVED BY THE GOVERNMENT. THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA) AND RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION (RMD) VISITED SEVERAL FIELD OFFICES AND EXAMINED NUMEROUS FBIHQ AND FIELD FILES. IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE RMD, NARA PROMULGATED A DETAILED RECORDS RETENTION PLAN AND RECORDS DISPOSITION SCHEDULE WHICH WERE FILED WITH THE COURT.

EACH OFFICE HAS PREVIOUSLY BEEN PROVIDED WITH DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS BY THE RMD TO PREPARE FOR THE IMPLEMENTATION OF A FILE DESTRUCTION AND ACCESSION PROGRAM. SPECIFICALLY, BY LETTER DATED 8/1/84, TO ALL SACS AND LEGATS UNDER THE ABOVE CAPTION, THE RMD NOTED THAT THE IDENTIFICATION AND MARKING FOR PRESERVATION OF FILES AND RECORDS INVOLVED IN LITIGATION MUST BE KEPT IN A CURRENT STATUS BEFORE THE FBI COULD COMMENCE A FILE DESTRUCTION PROGRAM.

IN THE NEAR FUTURE, THE RMD WILL PROVIDE SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING THE DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS THAT QUALIFY FOR DESTRUCTION AT THIS TIME. THE DESTRUCTION PROGRAM WILL INITIALLY FOCUS ON AUXILIARY OFFICE FILES. HOWEVER, UNTIL INSTRUCTIONS AND AUTHORITY TO IMPLEMENT A FILE DESTRUCTION

PROGRAM ARE RECEIVED FROM FBIHQ, NO DESTRUCTION OF ANY OF YOUR OFFICE RECORDS MAY BE INSTITUTED.

THE RMD IS APPRECIATIVE OF THE ASSISTANCE RENDERED BY THE FIELD TO ASSIST IN THE SUCCESSFUL RESOLUTION OF THIS CIVIL SUIT.

BT

NOTE: All SACs and Legats are being advised of resolution of the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al v. William H. Webster, et al, U.S. District Court, District of Columbia. The Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule, which have been approved by the Court, will permit the destruction of FBIHQ records that are not restricted by the provisions of the Records Retention Plan and Records Disposition Schedule as follows:

FBIHQ Records		Field Office Records
Security	- 30 years	Auxiliary Office	- 1 year
Criminal	- 20 years	Security	- 20 years
		Criminal	- 10 years

The Records Management Division and the National Archives and Records Administration estimate that the pending auxiliary office files comprise approximately 60 percent of the field file population. Accordingly, there will be meaningful immediate relief to the field in recovering space through a file destruction program.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Re Buteletype, 9/22/86, captioned as above.

During the course of litigation in the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al v. William H. Webster, et al, restrictions on the disposition of documentary evidence were imposed by Judge Greene, the presiding judge in the aforementioned civil matter.

One aspect related to the destruction of seized, subpoenaed or voluntarily contributed documentary evidence which had no further prosecutive or administrative value to the Government. Pursuant to Judge Greene's orders, such documentary evidence could only be returned to the owner at his or her request provided the appropriate U. S. Attorney concurred. In many instances, the owner of seized, subpoenaed or voluntarily contributed documentary evidence refused to accept the return of the documentary evidence. Prior to the 9/9/86, dissolution of the injunction, the FBI was required to retain this documentary evidence and not permitted to destroy same.

Effective immediately, you are authorized to destroy all documentary evidence which your office has been retaining pursuant to the foregoing set of circumstances.

An appropriate notation regarding the destruction should be placed on the corresponding FD-192 and a notation that the U. S. Attorney or Assistant U. S. Attorney concurred with the destruction of the documentary evidence.

Should you have any questions concerning the foregoing, do not hesitate to contact SA Robert W. Scherrer, Section Chief, Records Section, Records Management Division, at FBIHQ, extension 2307.

Memorandum from R. W. Scherrer to Mr. McCreight
Re: Destruction of Records
National Archives and Records Administration (NARA)
Appraisal of FBIHQ and Field Office Records

Legal Counsel memorandum to the Director, dated 9/26/86, has provided the authority to proceed with a record disposition program, based on resolution of American Friends and approval of the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule prepared by the FBI and NARA and presented to the Court on 11/9/81. The Schedule provides explicit instructions for disposition of the foregoing records, although primary consideration was directed to the investigative, applicant, and general files of the central records system, including records of the field offices and Legats. The latter category permits destruction of security/applicant cases after 30 years and criminal cases after 20 years at FBIHQ; after 20 years for security/applicant and 10 years for criminal cases in Office of Origin; and after 1 year in auxiliary offices and Legats, after permanent records have been identified and preserved and appropriate restrictions applied.

Guidelines have been prepared to encompass the records maintained by, or under the control of, FBIHQ divisions, with the exception of the Legal Counsel Division, which maintains no records. In the event that determination is made that the records should be maintained for reduced/extended periods, the Records Management Division will submit a formal request to NARA. Restrictions, such as pending litigation and administrative needs, should be considered prior to application of any destruction authority, and destruction of record categories created subsequent to 1981 should be held in abeyance for appraisal by NARA.

Disposition of records pertaining to budget papers; directory service; access, control, maintenance, and accountability of classified documents; research and development records; and emergency planning records may be a consideration for all HQ divisions; therefore, the following destruction/retention guidelines have been prepared as a general category:

Budget Records Maintained Outside of FBI Central Records System

Budget related records maintained outside of the FBI's central records system span the period 1939 to the present and comprise approximately 300 feet of material. In the files accumulated between 1939 and 1979, records relating to budget formulation are intermixed with documents pertaining to budget execution, reflecting the fact that until 1979 both budget preparation and execution were performed by a single organizational unit of the Bureau. In 1979, however, a Budget Formulation and Presentation Unit was established to handle budget formulation while budget execution was left to an Accounting and Budget Analysis Unit; each unit maintains files documenting the execution of its mission and, therefore, records relating to budget formulation and budget execution are no longer intermixed. Files accumulated between 1939 and 1972 are in inactive storage in a basement storeroom adjacent to the Director's garage. These records are arranged chronologically by year and thereunder by subject. More recent records are maintained in offices of Budget and Accounting Section and its component units. Current files are maintained in three-year blocks, which are arranged alphabetically by subject and thereunder chronologically by year.

Records relating to budget preparation document the initial formulation of the FBI's budget and the revisions it undergoes in the course of its review by the Department of Justice, the Office of Management and Budget and finally, the Congress. Included are such materials as memorandums prepared by component units of the FBI outlining their programs and needs for the coming budget year; memorandums that document high level decisions made within the Bureau concerning budget questions; and records accumulated in connection with OMB and Congressional hearings, such as copies of bills and committee prints, internal FBI memos concerning the status of the FBI appropriation bill, and, most important, copies of printed and near print submissions of a formal nature containing FBI budget requests and related narrative explanations and justifications. Since 1979, the Budget Formulation and Presentation Unit has used the files plan enclosed as Attachment 1—most of its records are filed under "Congressional Affairs and Estimates," "Office of Management and Budget," and "Spring Planning Estimates."

Records relating to budget execution are a mass of fiscal accounting type documents, such as ledgers, vouchers, apportionment and reapportionment schedules, reports on the status of obligations, reconciliations, and similar materials, which document the allocation and disbursement of appropriated funds.

Staff of the Budget Formulation and Presentation Unit and the Accounting and Budget Analysis Unit insist that all of the 300 feet of records they control are copies and that the original documents can be found in the Central Records System. Examination of records maintained in current files areas tends to confirm this contention, as most of these documents are photocopies. However, the older materials stored in the basement of the Hoover Building contained a high proportion of original material, including documents and exhibits prepared for Director Hoover in connection with his appearances before Congressional committees and memorandums from component units of the FBI prepared at the start of the budget cycle. It is difficult to state with certainty whether or not copies of any or all of these older materials can be found in the Central Records System. However, an examination of samples of those 66 and 62 case files that most closely relate to budget matters (62-40772, House Appropriations Committee; 62-18217, Bureau of the Budget/OMB; 66-18000, FBI Budget and Accounting Procedures, and two 66 files on Appropriations), suggests that the older budget records in inactive storage do contain unique documents.

Regardless of the question of duplication in the central records system, there is no reason why records relating to budget execution need to be retained permanently. These records are next to impossible to use for secondary research purposes, and, more important, sufficient data on how agences spend funds is available in budget formulation records. For these reasons, all agency budget execution records are scheduled for disposal in General Records Schedules 5 and 6. FBI fiscal accounting records do not differ significantly from the records of other agencies and, therefore, the relevant items of the GRS should govern their disposition. The disposition instructions contained in the GRS should apply to budget execution records maintained outside of the FBI's Central Records System and also to those segments of classification 66 that pertain solely to budget execution (i.e., 66-18147, Reconciliation of General Ledgers).

On the other hand, budget formulation records maintained outside of the Central Records System should be retained permanently. First, as noted above, there is not complete duplication between these records, particularly those predating 1973, and the appropriate 62 and 66 case files of the Central Records System. Second, budget preparation records outside of the Central Records System are more conveniently arranged for reference purposes so that many, if not most, researchers interested in FBI budget matters should be able to locate the information they need in these files and will not have to plow through the fragmented 62 and 66 case files that pertain to budget formulation. This would be particularly true of researchers interested in how much money the FBI requested for specific programs in a given year or time period and the justifications they used—researchers interested in the dynamics of the budget process, such as the Bureau's relationship with OMB and congressional committees, will find interesting material in these records, but they definitely will need to consult the relevant 62 and 66 files.

As noted at the outset, in records accumulated before 1979, budget formulation records are intermixed with fiscal accounting-type documents. The FBI should cull out these disposable materials before permanent budget preparation records are transferred to the National Archives. This would eliminate material of no value and would significantly decrease the volume—about half of the pre-1979 files consist of disposable records relating to budget execution.

Draft Disposition Instructions

Budget formulation files: PERMANENT. Cut off files every 3 years. Offer records to NARS in 3-year blocks ~~30~~ 50 years after cut off.

Budget execution files: TEMPORARY. Dispose of in accordance with relevant items of General Records Schedules 5 and 6.

Note 1: Records predating 1979 contain a mixture of permanent and temporary records. FBI will apply the above disposition standards before offering permanent records to NARS.

Note 2: Records predating 1973 are arranged chronologically by fiscal year. Permanent budget formulation records predating 1973 should be offered to NARS when ~~30~~ 50 years old.

DETAILS: By letter dated 1/15/86, to the Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel, the Legal Counsel Division expressed the need to resolve the self-imposed moratorium on the destruction of security-related records in anticipation of the resolution of the American Friends action. The moratorium has been observed since 1/16/78 in view of the discovery proceedings which were pending against former FBI employees, Messrs. Gray, Felt, Miller and Kearney, and relief was necessary to fully implement the Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule. By Order and Memorandum dated 9/8/86, in the American Friends action, the Plan was accepted by the Court.

Memorandum from R. W. Scherrer to Mr. McCreight
Re: Moratorium on FBI Records Destruction

By Memorandum to Section Chief Robert W. Scherrer, Records Section, Records Management Division, dated 11/6/86 (copy attached), Mary C. Lawton, Counsel for Intelligence Policy, Office of Intelligence Policy and Review, advised that representatives of the FBI and Departmental entities agreed that the FBI could begin implementing the Records Disposition Schedule. Ms. Lawton addressed the destruction of duplicate tapes of Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court-approved electronic surveillances and requested to be kept advised on FBI internal procedures and guidance on this matter. This aspect will be handled by the Records Section.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

ReButel 9/22/86, captioned as above, advising that the injunction issued on 1/10/80 in the civil matter "American Friends Service Committee, et al v. William H. Webster, et al," U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, was vacated by Order and Memorandum filed in the U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, 9/9/86.

Resolution of the foregoing litigation now makes it possible for the field to destroy the following records as specified:

CASE ASSIGNMENT CARDS

Original closed/RUC'd case assignment cards, FD-1C and FD-1D, are to be filed in classification and file number order by year and month closed/RUC'd. Destroy on a monthly basis after each inspection plus one year.

Duplicate closed/RUC'd case assignment cards (green for office of origin and pink for auxiliary office) are to be filed in classification and file number order behind the name of the employee to whom the case was assigned. Duplicate assignment cards may be destroyed after each inspection. However, the SAC may authorize a longer retention period if desirable.

The foregoing instructions are applicable to the manual case assignment cards only. The case management information presently being captured in the Field Office Information Management System (FOIMS) is not to be purged or deleted at this time except in those instances where it is necessary to modify and/or delete an incorrect record. The FOIMS data is classified as "machine readable" records, which will be the subject of a future evaluation by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for the purpose of developing a Disposition Schedule for such records. You will be advised separately regarding retention/disposition policy for machine readable records.

It is to be noted that instructions set forth in the Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP), Part II, Section 2-4.5.3(2), page 303, concerning the use of master assignment cards as ticklers for the file destruction program are no longer valid inasmuch as the current Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule requires that the entire closed files population be reviewed to identify and mark for preservation and eventual transfer to the NARA files having historical or research value. Consequently, date for file destruction cannot be determined until this exercise is completed.

ALIAS/FALSE IDENTIFICATION

Buairtel to SAC, Albany and all offices, 12/29/77, captioned "Undercover Activities; Use of Alias/False Identification," established policy concerning the use, control and maintenance of alias/false identification. Further, BUairtel, supra, stipulated that "the destruction of false identification when no longer needed must be reported to FBIHQ promptly and a certification made in field office control file by appropriate personnel that destruction was accomplished."

Buairtel to all SACs, 6/16/80, entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records" suspended the destruction of alias/false identification as a result of the 1/10/80 order issued in the above-mentioned American Friends Service Committee litigation. Inasmuch as the foregoing litigation has been resolved, you may now dispose of alias/false identification in accordance with instructions set forth in the aforementioned 12/29/77 BUairtel to SAC, Albany and all offices.

DUPLICATE FIELD FILES IN RESIDENT AGENCIES

When the investigative matter to which the duplicate field office file pertains is closed/RUC'd the duplicate file in the resident agency is to be promptly forwarded to the field headquarters city office where a serial-by-serial match is to be made with the original file. Any serials in the duplicate file that bears "action" notations, i.e. notations issuing instructions, notations requesting action be taken, notations of certification that action was taken, etc., not appearing on the original file copy of the serial must be matched with and filed adjacent to the original serial. Remaining serials in the duplicate file not bearing notations, supra, may be destroyed. The employee destroying duplicate copies of serials is to initial and date the top (last) serial in the original file and note thereon that extra copies have been purged and destroyed pursuant to instructions set forth in this communication.

EXTRA/DUPLICATE COPIES OF SERIALS IN INVESTIGATIVE AND ADMINISTRATIVE FILES

Extra/duplicate copies of serials in investigative files that do not bear "action" notations, as described in the above paragraph, may be purged and destroyed at the time the case is closed/RUC. Extra/duplicate copies of serials in administrative files may be destroyed at any time. Again, particular care should be taken to ensure that copies of serials bearing "action" notations not recorded on the original serials are retained along with the original file copy. It is reiterated that the employee destroying extra/duplicate serials is to initial and date the top (last) serial in the original file and note thereon that extra copies have been purged and destroyed pursuant to instant communication.

SERIALS/INDEX CARDS PURGED PURSUANT TO PREVIOUSLY AUTHORIZED DESTRUCTION PROGRAM - MATERIAL NOT DESTROYED DUE TO THE 1/10/80 INJUNCTION REFERRED TO ABOVE

Serials/Index cards purged for destruction pursuant to the authorized destruction program predating the aforementioned 1/10/80 injunction, may now be destroyed. If only the serials were purged, and because of other priorities the corresponding index cards were not removed from the general indices, it will not be necessary to purge the indices at this time. In other words, the serials may be destroyed without purging from the general indices the corresponding index cards. However, the SAC may, at his/her discretion, require that the indices be purged.

To aid in tracking space recovered as a result of the Field File Destruction Program, it is requested that each field office maintain in an appropriate control file a continuing record of the cubic feet of material destroyed. To assist in computing cubic feet of record material stored in various and sundry equipment, you may refer to the "table of equivalence" set forth in Memorandum to all SACs number 33-82, dated 8/31/82, Paragraph (C), pages four and five.

Airtel to All SACs
Re: Destruction of Field Files and Records

In addition to above, several field offices have made inquiry concerning the marking of bulky exhibits for permanent retention and eventual transfer to the NARA and/or the disposition/destruction of documentary bulky exhibits. You are referred to Buairtel 4/17/84 entitled "Destruction of Records; National Archives and Records Service (NARS) Appraisal of FBIHQ and Field Office Records" for specific instructions regarding the marking of bulky exhibits for permanent retention. Buairtel 9/25/86 entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records" addresses the disposition/destruction of documentary evidence and provides specific guidance regarding same.

Should you have questions concerning the foregoing matters, you may direct them to FBIHQ, Attention: Records Management Division, Records Section, Records Research Unit, extension 4844.

NOTE: The injunction issued on 1/10/80 in the civil matter "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al." U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, was vacated by Order and Memorandum filed in the U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, 9/9/86. Hence, resolution of this litigation permits the destruction of the material identified herein. Destruction/retention of case assignment cards and alias/false identification is governed by General Records Schedule number 23, item 5. Destruction of duplicate field office files created to support resident agencies and destruction of extra/duplicate copies of serials in investigative and administrative files is governed by Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations, subpart 101-11-101-3. Destruction of serials/index cards purged pursuant to previously authorized file destruction program may now be destroyed pursuant to provisions of the current FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule. This has been coordinated with Doctor [redacted], Archivist, NARA.

Subject: Disposal of Site Audit Records

The correct disposal authority for the disposition of accountable officers' files, also commonly known as site audit records, is General Records Schedule 6, item 1a(2), which provides for their destruction 6 years and 3 months after the period covered by the account. This authority applies to site audit records whether they are stored in federal records centers (FRC) operated by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) or maintained by the creating agency in its own space.

Each year we advise NARA that they may destroy site audit records stored in FRCs in accordance with GRS 6, item 1a(2), without obtaining our concurrence. (See enclosure 1.) Recently, we granted federal agencies the same authority regarding site audit records stored in their space. (See enclosure 2.) However, regardless of where they are stored, site audit records must not be destroyed if they are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions. In such cases, the relevant records must be retained until the action has been completed. In addition, the agency creating the records has responsibility for suspending their scheduled destruction, including notifying NARA, if they are stored in a federal records center.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please call me on 275-3830.

Dear Mr. Peterson:

In keeping with our policy of annually approving the destruction of records at the Federal Records Centers which are scheduled under General Records Schedule 6, Item 1a (2), we are sending this letter of disposal authority for those records that become eligible for destruction for the period up to and including March 1987. Such destruction is, of course, still subject to any applicable court imposed restrictions.

FEDERAL RECORDS OFFICERS:

SUBJECT: SITE AUDIT RECORDS

As you know, site audit records are extremely voluminous. For this reason, federal agencies transfer their site audit records to federal records centers (FRC) operated by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) when they become inactive. Before 1979, FRCs would seek GAO concurrence prior to the destruction of any agency site audit records in their physical custody. Each year since 1980, however, GAO has given blanket authority for their destruction with the understanding that no records pertinent to pending claims or other litigation would be destroyed until the litigation was resolved.

A number of agencies do not store all of their site audit records in FRCs. As these become eligible for destruction, the creating agency seeks concurrence from GAO before destroying their files. Since these concurrences are invariably given and since we routinely provide blanket approval for the destruction of the vast majority of site audit records stored in FRCs, we have modified our current procedure. Effective immediately, GAO approval is no longer required for the disposal of site audit records (original copies of accountable officers' files) retained in agency space. Agencies can apply General Records Schedule 6, item 1a(2), i.e., destroy 6 years and 3 months after period covered by account, to these records as they become eligible for destruction. However, any records involved in pending claims or other litigation shall not be destroyed until the litigation is resolved.

This change will be included in the next revision of Title 8 of the GAO Policy and Procedures Manual for Guidance of Federal Agencies. For further information, please contact Norma Stapleson of my staff on 275-3830.

Re: Buairtels to all SACs, dated 5/29, 7/9 and 8/2/85.

ReBuairtels provided all offices with computer printouts identifying file numbers which encompassed an exceptional record category developed by NARA during captioned appraisal in 1981. Reairtels also instructed that files listed on the printouts, supra, be stamped "X, DO NOT DESTROY, HISTORICAL VALUE, NATIONAL ARCHIVES." This action has been completed by office of origin and FBIHQ advised of same. To establish the exceptional category, NARA selected individuals, organizations, and other subject matter that appeared in the FBI Annual Reports and in appraised case files which suggested future research potential due to historical value. The selection was reinforced by scholars, historians, outside consultants and a group of archivists who were not associated with the captioned appraisal, but who were experienced with the appraisal and disposition of records. Subsequently, FBIHQ files were reviewed to identify the office of origin and a limited number of auxiliary office file numbers for the exceptional category which appear on the aforementioned printouts.

MAILED 18 NOV 05 1986 FBI

DE-100 66-3286-1416

Due to the Memorandum and Order filed on 9/9/86 in the American Friends civil action, all office of origin and auxiliary office files related to the exceptional category must be retained, wherever located. You are therefore requested to review the attachments to reairtels and, from the review of the office of origin files listed thereon that have not been destroyed pursuant to a previously authorized destruction program, determine all auxiliary offices involved and advise the auxiliary office(s) to stamp for permanent retention their corresponding case file if not destroyed pursuant to a previously authorized file destruction program. The auxiliary office file covers should be affixed with the stamp "X, DO NOT DESTROY, HISTORICAL VALUE, NATIONAL ARCHIVES."

Re: Destruction of Records
National Archives and Records Administration (NARA)
Appraisal of FBIHQ and Field Records

You are requested to expedite completion of this identification/notification process, and advise FBIHQ when action is completed. This communication does not constitute authority to initiate a file destruction program, only further preparation toward that goal. Instructions to preserve office of origin and auxiliary office files for the Interesting Cases category, another phase of preparation, will be forthcoming.

NOTE: Based on the 9/9/86 Memorandum and Order issued by Judge Harold H. Greene in the American Friends civil action which requires preservation of all "named exceptional" cases, wherever located. All office of origin file numbers and a limited number of auxiliary office file numbers from the "named exceptional" category were previously furnished to field offices, and all offices are now being requested to identify and notify auxiliary offices to ensure that corresponding extant cases will be preserved for permanent retention.

PRE-APPOINTMENT BACKGROUND INVESTIGATION REPORTS ON FEDERAL JUDGES

DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS GENERAL

Reference is made to a request of Vincent A. Lobisco and Robert M. Yahn of the Justice Management Division (JMD) in June, 1979, concerning the need to reconstruct a collection of background investigative reports on 712 Federal sitting judge candidates to complete the file series of the Office of the Attorney General (OAG). Messrs. Lobisco and Yahn requested assistance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in reconstructing the record series, and provided a listing of the 712 candidates. In 1981, Walter R. Wilson, Director, Records and Publications Staff, JMD, proposed that the reconstruction take place when the judge(s) left the bench, at which time copies of the background investigative reports would be requested from the FBI and transferred to the records center by the OAG.

The injunction which prohibited destruction of FBI records was dissolved by the U. S. District Court for the District of Columbia on September 8, 1986, in the civil action American Friends Service Committee, et al v. William H. Webster, et al. The approved FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule, prepared by the National Archives and Records Administration and the FBI, permits destruction of substantive applicant files after thirty years. In order to avoid inadvertent destruction of the substantive files prior to duplication, the entire collection has been reconstructed.

The Deputy Attorney General

The records are being transferred herewith in twenty-one cartons and an inventory to the cartons is attached. It should be noted that we were unable to locate the material requested on five of the candidates, namely, W. J. Brennan, Jr.; W. C. Chestnut; J. Fisher; P. J. McCormick; and S. F. Reed.

NOTE: Based on informal meetings and correspondence generated since June, 1979, the substance of which pertained to reconstruction of investigative reports on 712 sitting Federal judge candidates. The record series was destroyed by the Department based on the assumption that the original records maintained by the FBI were the only official records. Thereafter, the collection was declared permanent by the Archivist, and JMD requested FBI assistance in reconstructing the collection. In order to avoid destruction prior to duplication and to eliminate any delays in our destruction program, duplication of the background investigations was completed and 21 cartons of the material are being forwarded to the Office of the Deputy Attorney General.

By way of a 11/6/85 memorandum from R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Monroe, captioned as above, RMD proposed a records destruction for folders of Bureau applicants (SA and support) who were never employed by the FBI. RMD proposed the destruction of such records from 1922 until 1/1/70. In an addendum, dated 7/24/86, LCD, after discussing this proposal with the Departmental attorney handling the [redacted] suit in U.S. District Court, expressed no objection to the destruction of applicant files from 1922-1950. However, because of the fact that the civil suit was still pending in U.S. District Court, LCD

DETAILS:

The PRS currently maintains approximately 157,000 folders for Bureau applicants who were never employed for both Special Agent and support positions. The earliest application noted is dated in 1922. The folders are eligible for destruction after 2 years pursuant to General Records Schedule (GRS) #1, Item 15, and Judge Greene's modified order of 4/3/80, in the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al v. William H. Webster, et al, which removed the previous temporary restriction for destruction of these records. It is noted that Title 44, U. S. Code, Section 3303a (2)(b), contains the following statement, "....and schedules promulgated by the Archivist under Subsection d of this Section shall be mandatory" (emphasis added). Title 44, U. S. Code, Section 3303a (2)(d) indicates, "The Archivist shall promulgate schedules authorizing the disposal, after the lapse of specified periods of time of records of a specified form or character common to several or all agencies if such records will not at the end of the periods specified, have sufficient administrative, legal, research or other value to warrant their further preservation by the U. S. Government....." The aforementioned citations to Title 44, U. S. Code, Section 3303a, pertain to the GRS.

FBI/DOJ

Memorandum from R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Monroe
Re: Destruction of Bureau Records

The records occupy 2,720 linear feet of space in the PRS mobile shelving units alone with more recent application folders maintained in letter-sized cabinets, and are accessible by duplicate index cards filed in the HQGI and the PRS; a PRS manual abstract system; and the automated HQGI.

Two concerns precluding earlier destruction were recently resolved, i.e., destruction of SA applications due to the Hansen suit and FOIPA considerations. Assistant Director Sharp, Administrative Services Division, advised that he had consulted the Legal Counsel Division regarding the destruction of the SA applications in light of the Hansen suit and expressed no interest in folders predating 1970. A cutoff date for applications dated 1/1/70, was established. Assistant Section Chief [redacted], FOIPA Section, advised that FOIPA maintained no backlog on requests and that searching and file retrieval are conducted upon receipt of requests. b6 b7C

A review of folders from a shelf selected at random revealed that 92 percent of the folders were eligible for destruction. The remaining 8 percent consisted of SA applications dated subsequent to 1/1/70; folders containing FOIPA correspondence, the destruction of which continues to be restricted by American Friends; and name check dissemination (yellows or stamps) less than 5 years old which must be retained pursuant to the Privacy Act. An audit trail has been established for the name check items, by date, and for the folders containing FOIPA correspondence, thereby permitting retrieval and destruction at the conclusion of 5 years/resolution of American Friends. An updated litigation listing for the 67 classification is received biweekly and its contents reviewed with the folders proposed for destruction. No folders have been noted to be involved in litigation as yet.

Based on the destruction estimate of 92 percent, 2,500 linear feet of shelving space would be recovered. Based on one index card per folder (145,000 - 92 percent of 157,000), a minimum of 73 drawers or 1 1/3 54-drawer index cabinets would be recovered from both the HQGI and the PRS index. A greater recovery is anticipated due to the numerous cards generated for applicants with aliases. Based on the 145,000 figure, 427 drawers or 8 54-drawer index cabinets containing related abstracts and numbering cards will be recovered in the PRS. A number of entries exceeding 145,000 will be deleted from the automated HQGI.

-2- (CONTINUED-OVER)

A listing of destroyed files (numbers only) will be created for the PRS and the program will be closely coordinated with that subunit. Retained files will be returned to the shelves with adequate space to integrate the retained folders maintained in the cabinets and allow removal of the cabinets to the In-Service area of the PRS to ease the crowded conditions there.

The National Archives and Records Administration has expressed an interest in receiving folders on prominent individuals, such as former President Richard M. Nixon, who submitted applications for employment. Folders of this type will be appropriately stamped for ultimate transfer to the National Archives.

Memorandum from Mr. R. E. Scherrer to Mr. Monroe dated November 6, 1985

Re: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

ADDENDUM: LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION (LCD) 7/24/86 FRC:dsm

This addendum sets forth the position of LCD regarding the proposed records destruction program for applicant (both Special Agent and support) folders from 1922 through December 23, 1969. Destruction of the subject folders would be consistent with current orders under American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. (U.S.D.C., D.D.C.), Civil Action No. 79-1655.

In his Order dated April 3, 1980, Judge HAROLD H. GREENE modified the temporary injunction of January 10, 1980 regarding the destruction of FBI records and ruled that this injunction "shall not apply to General Records Schedules (GRS) . . . and Items 1-24 . . . of GRS No. 1."

GRS No. 1, item 15 provides authorization for the destruction of employment applications (Standard Form 191) and related records upon receipt of an Office of Personnel Management "inspection report or when these records are 2 years old, whichever is earlier." As 2 years have elapsed since the creation of the subject applicant folders, destruction would be authorized under American Friends and GSA statutes. However, for reasons explained below, LCD urges destruction be limited at the present time to files in the 1922 - 1950 time frame.

On November 11, 1985, Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Civil Litigation Unit II, Legal Counsel Division contacted Department of Justice attorney [redacted], Civil Division, regarding the proposed destruction of Bureau applicant folders. Mr. [redacted] is DOJ attorney assigned to and responsible for the EEO lawsuit, Christine A. Hansen v. William H. Webster, (U.S.D.C., D.D.C.), Civil Action No. 84-3026. Mr. [redacted] informed SSA [redacted] that he desired that the FBI retain the applicant files mentioned in the attached memorandum until a conclusive judicial ruling was forthcoming in Hansen. Summary judgment and dismissal motions were pending in the Hansen suit. Although he recognized that the likelihood is remote, Mr. [redacted] was concerned that it might become necessary to conduct a review

b7C

ADDENDUM: LEGAL COUNSEL DIVISION (LCD) 7/24/86 FRC:dsm

or statisticial analysis of applicant files as part of the judicial proceedings either in response to discover or for our own defense of the suit. For these reasons, he asked that the FBI delay the proposed destruction of applicant files until a judicial decision was rendered in the Hansen case.

On June 30, 1986, U.S. District Judge Joyce Hens Green entered a Memorandum Opinion and Order with respect to the pending motions for summary judgment. Following this decision Mr. [redacted] informed SSA [redacted] on July 18, 1986, that he had discussed this matter with his supervisory officials in DOJ and that DOJ had no objection to the FBI commencing destruction of files in the 1922 - 1950 time frame. Once a decision with respect to the possible appeal of this Hansen decision is made, authority to destroy the files from 1951 forward will be addressed. LCD will keep RMD advised of developments as they occur.

DETAILS: Implementation of instructions set forth in the FBI Records Disposition Schedule requires the preservation and transfer of permanent records to the National Archives after 30 or 50 years or whenever administrative needs have expired, and disposal of temporary records after 20 or 30 years or when agency needs have been met. One of the criteria established by NARA to select permanent records is employment of the systematic evidential or informational sample using a random start number. The evidential sample involves retention of a small number of case files to document how the FBI conducted investigations for specific violations. The informational sample involves retention of only a portion of a classification to accurately reflect the characteristics of the entire classification.

To offer assistance in the effort to alleviate our severe file storage problem, NARA initially provided the random start number and interval ratio for the 42 classification in February, 1985, and the sample of 500 cases was calculated manually to begin the compression project. Thereafter, NARA provided automated printouts for sample cases for 21 classifications, namely; 9, 15, 26, 29, 46, 47, 52, 58, 76, 77, 87, 88, 91, 95, 115, 120, 121, 123, 138, 140, and 163.

NARA has now completed the sample selection and provided automated printouts for 82 additional classifications, namely; 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 17, 19, 23, 28, 31, 39, 40, 41, 43, 44, 45, 49, 51, 64, 65, 70, 73, 74, 75, 78, 79, 82, 86, 89, 92, 93, 96, 97, 98, 100, 101, 103, 105, 108, 114, 116, 118, 122, 124, 126, 128, 130, 131, 132, 133, 139, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 151, 152, 153, 157, 159, 160, 162, 165, 166, 167, 168, 174, 178, 180, 181, 182, 184, 190, 191, 192, 197, and 200.

NARA is currently unable to calculate the sample selection for classifications 90, 183, 186, 194, 196, 198, 202, 206, and 207 due to the lack of sufficient cases, and for the 25 classification which requires destruction prior to application of the sample.

Section F of the Records Disposition Schedule contains a listing of 114 classifications and all have been accounted for. The sample printouts for the 82 classifications, consisting of 302 pages, are enclosed herewith.

DETAILS: The injunction against records destruction or disposal issued on 1/10/80 in the civil matter "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al., U.S. District Court, D.C. District of Columbia (USDC, DC) was vacated by order and memorandum filed in the USDC, DC, 9/9/86. Hence, the Disposition Archival Subunit (DASU), Records Research Unit (RRU), Records Section (RS), Records Management Division (RMD), is engaged in implementation of the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule, hereinafter the Plan.

The Plan permits the destruction of investigative and administrative files and records after files and records having historical or research value have, by applying the criteria of the Plan, been identified and marked for preservation and eventual transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). At the time the historical and research files are transferred to the NARA, the corresponding index cards must be purged, matched with the file(s) and transferred simultaneously. Other index cards are disposable when the corresponding files become eligible for destruction pursuant to provisions of the Plan.

Purging the manual index of cards corresponding to files that are destroyed is being discontinued. Discontinuing this laborious and time-consuming purge task will eliminate the need to review files that are being destroyed to identify information that has been indexed, the preparation of purge cards, alphabetizing the purge cards and subsequently, the searching of the manual index to match the purge card with the original index card for purge and destruction. Additionally, the elimination of this function will reduce the number of employees needed in the DASU to perform these duties inasmuch as the purge activity will be limited to only those files transferred to the NARA.

It is recognized that in the above situation, subsequent searches of the manual index may occcasionally identify an index card that makes reference to a file that has been destroyed. An employee attempting to retrieve a file that has been destroyed will note the gap in the filing sequence and consult the "list of files destroyed" maintained at the beginning of each classification to verify the destroyed status of the file.

O DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

BUDED: 8/28/87

ReBuAirtel 4/7/87, captioned as above requesting all field offices to complete action contained in six separate instructional directives enumerated in reairtel.

To enable the file destruction program to commence at the earliest possible date, all offices were encouraged to complete the instructions set forth in the aformentioned six communications and advise FBIHQ of progress by close of business 6/29/87.

The offices listed below failed to meet the aformentioned deadline and to date, FBIHQ has not received a status report from these offices concerning the communication(s) indicated adjacent to each office:

You are reminded that authorization for the field to commence file destruction can not be granted until all field offices have complied with the instructions concerning the stamping for preservation and eventual transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration files having historical and/or research value. Also, the destruction of a large volume of Legat files stored at FBIHQ must be delayed until all offices have complied with instructions, supra. Further, it is reiterated that file destruction can not take place in any office that is not current with instructions previously furnished the field under the above caption concerning the identification and marking for preservation files and records involved in litigation.

It is recognized that investigative and administrative priorities face the field daily. However, many field offices have exhausted all file storage space and are desperately in need of relief from grossly overcrowded conditions brought about in many instances by the lack of a file destruction program. The file destruction program, therefore, is extremely important and requires that each office devote the attention and resources necessary to complete the instructions outlined in the communication(s) identified with the field offices listed above so that authority to commence with a field file destruction program can be granted in the immediate future.

By close of business 8/28/87, each recipient field office is requested to furnish FBIHQ, attention Records Management Division, Records Section, Records Research Unit, the date by which FBIHQ can expect the completion of the instructions set forth in the communication(s) adjacent to the respective offices identified above.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Reference is made to Bureau teletype dated 9/22/86, captioned as above advising that the injunction prohibiting the destruction of FBI files and records issued on 1/10/80, in the civil matter "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al.," was vacated by order and memorandum filed 9/9/86 in the U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, Washington, D.C., and that resolution of this matter permits the FBI to commence a file destruction program.

Resolution of the above civil matter resulted in the Court approving the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule (hereinafter the Plan) which contains disposition authority and instructions for most file classifications up to and inclusive of classification 258. The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) is scheduled to conduct a review and appraisal of FBI records at five-year intervals to update the Plan and establish disposition instructions for new classifications and/or record systems established during the interim five-year period.

BDV

The file destruction program will be coordinated by the Records Management Division, FBIHQ, on a classification-by-classification basis and the authority to destroy field office files and records will be forwarded to the field on an ongoing basis upon completion of the FBIHQ review.

66-3286-1424

As you are aware, efforts have been underway since 1984 to identify and mark for preservation and eventual transfer to NARA certain office of origin and auxiliary office case files designated permanent by NARA because of their historical and/or research value. Others have been designated permanent after application of the multivolume/multiserial, exceptional, and/or statistical sample criteria of the Plan. Completion of this preliminary work in all field offices now makes it possible for the field to commence with its file destruction.

As a result of the foregoing, the field is now permitted to destroy certain auxiliary office files and, in some instances, office of origin files as outlined herein after observance of the following instructions and restrictions:

Litigation Matters: No field office may engage in file destruction until all litigation matters have been searched through the office indices and relevant files identified and marked for retention pending resolution of the litigation. Case files which bear the notation that the files are being retained due to pending litigation are to be maintained until notification is received from FBIHQ that the litigation has been resolved. Identifying and marking files involved in litigation are essential to the implementation and ongoing file destruction program; therefore, this work must be kept current at all times. Upon receipt of new litigation matters from FBIHQ, all file destruction must cease until the new litigation freeze sheets have been searched through the office indices and related files identified and marked for retention pending resolution of the litigation.

Investigative/Administrative Needs: Case files which continue to serve investigative, administrative or research needs may be retained if deemed necessary. If a case file that has not been marked for archival retention is retained beyond the authorized destruction period, a memorandum should be placed in the case file justifying the need for longer retention.

Copy Destruction: Duplicate copies of communications which do not contain action notations, i.e., notations issuing instructions, notations requesting action be taken, notations of certification that action was taken, etc., may be removed from exceptional/permanent files and destroyed. Copies of documents which contain action notations not appearing on the original communication, are to be retained with the original communication. Similarly, copies of documents in other investigative case files may be purged and destroyed when the case is Closed/Ruc'd. In adminstrative files, copies of documents may be destroyed at any time.

FOI/PA Releases: Case files or contents thereof which have been released pursuant to the Freedom of Information or Privacy Acts are to be retained for five years from the date of release.

FOI/PA Requests: Upon receipt of an FOI/PA request in the field office, the request must be immediately searched through the office indices to identify any relevant files which must be immediately marked to indicate that an FOI/PA request is pending and to preclude premature destruction pending resolution of the request.

Historical Records: Auxiliary office case files which contain 50 or more volumes are to be retained and the stamp "X: DO NOT DESTROY: HISTORICAL VALUE: NATIONAL ARCHIVES" affixed to the file cover(s).

Original Documents: Original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, Latent Fingerprint reports, original surveillance logs, and 1-A exhibits in auxiliary office files are to be forwarded to the office of origin prior to destruction of the auxiliary case file.

Tax Returns/Tax Return Information: Tax returns and/or tax return information are to be removed from an auxiliary office files prior to destruction and forwarded to the office of origin.

Index Cards: Index cards corresponding to files destroyed may be purged from the general indices at the discretion of the SAC.

Auxiliary office files in the following classifications may be destroyed after one (1) year after observance of the foregoing instructions:

Classification 81: Auxiliary office case files in classification 81 may be destroyed after one (1) year in all offices except Butte and Portland after a determination has been made that none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

Classification 163: Auxiliary office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in classification 163 have been determined to contain little or no historical value and may be destroyed if closed for ten (10) years or longer and if none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

Classification 116: Pursuant to earlier instructions, auxiliary office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in classification 116 have been stamped for permanent retention if the case files were created between November, 1947, and September, 1948, and contain no correspondence between the field office and FBIHQ. Remaining auxiliary office case files in the 116 classification may be destroyed if closed for twenty (20) years or longer and none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

Auxiliary office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in the following classifications have been determined to contain little or no historical value and may be destroyed if closed for twenty (20) years or longer after a determination has been made that none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable:

37, 77, 118, 121, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 132, 133, 138, 140, 151, and 161.

NARA has determined that most field offices no longer maintain files in the following obsolete criminal classifications, and that permanent retention is not required. Therefore, office of origin and auxiliary office case files in the classifications set forth below may be destroyed when ten (10) years or one (1)-year old, respectively, if none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable or the files were not previously stamped for permanent retention.

11, 13, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 30, 33, 34, 53, 57, 59, 68, 78, 84, 85, 95, 107, 135, 136, 154, 155, 169, and 171.

Records Checks: Auxiliary offices may destroy, when six (6) months old, results of contacts with various credit, law enforcement, and Federal, state and local Bureaus to determine criminal, credit and/or employment status of individuals related to current investigations.

Record checks in office of origin are to be destroyed/retained commensurate with the disposition authority of the case file to which the record check relates.

Zero (0) Files: Zero (0) files over three years old must be reviewed to determine if any policy material is contained therein. Any policy material identified is to be transferred to the Double Zero (00) file for permanent retention. Thereafter, Zero (0) files in all classifications up to and inclusive of classification 258 may be destroyed when three years old or when all administrative needs have been met, whichever is later.

Destruction of files in classifications identified above will result in the recovery of a substantial amount of prime office space desperately needed in all offices. Therefore, all offices are strongly encouraged to devote all available resources to the file destruction program so that benefits from reclaimed office space can be realized at the earliest possible date. Appropriate notations are to be recorded on FD-478 for all files destroyed. Records are to be maintained to document the volume of records destroyed in linear feet measurements. Information regarding the volume of records destroyed will be requested by the Records Management Division, FBIHQ, semiannually in June and December of each year to monitor the progress of the destruction program.

Legat Files and Records: NARA has designated all Hong Kong and Mexico City Legat files and corresponding index cards as exceptional/permanent, consequently, there will be no destruction of these records. All other Legat files and corresponding index cards are eligible for destruction when five (5) years old after application of the criteria of the Plan to identify exceptional/permanent case files extant in this collection of files. Inasmuch as closed Legat files are stored at FBIHQ the files will be reviewed by the Records Management Division to identify and mark for preservation any exceptional/permanent Legat files. Thereafter, remaining Legat files except Hong Kong and Mexico City will be destroyed according to the five (5) year authority granted by NARA. In conjunction with the destruction process, the files will be reviewed and a list made of all information indexed by Legats. The Legats, except Hong Kong and

Airtel to All SACs and LEGATs
RE: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Mexico City, will be forwarded a list of all files destroyed and a listing of all information indexed by the Legats. These listings are to be used by the Legats to identify and destroy the corresponding microfiche, if extant, and the corresponding index records. The list of information indexed may be destroyed once the index purge and destruction process have been completed. The list of files destroyed is to be retained by the Legat for future reference.

All exceptional/permanent Legat files will be reviewed by the Records Management Division when five (5) years old to identify corresponding index records which, as stated earlier, are permanent. A listing by file number of information indexed will be furnished to all Legats with instructions to purge the Legat indices and forward the index records to FBIHQ to be matched with the corresponding exceptional/permanent file for eventual transfer to NARA. Once the index records have been purged and forwarded to FBIHQ the purge list may be destroyed by the Legat.

Any inquiries regarding the instructions and/or restrictions set forth herein, may be directed to FBIHQ, Attention: Records Research Unit, Records Section, Records Management Division, or telephone extension 2168. Manual changes follow.

NOTE: Based on Legal Counsel memorandum to the Director dated 9/26/86, which advised of the resolution of the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al. Resolution of this civil matter resulted in the approval of the FBI's Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule and authorized the FBI to resume a file destruction program. Field offices are being provided destruction authority for certain office of origin (25 classifications) and auxiliary office (209 classifications) records, inasmuch as preliminary identification of permanent auxiliary office files has been completed by all field offices.

Re: LA letter 6/22/87, Bulet 7/15/87.

In response to your request for assistance in disposing of 72 cartons of negative name checks resulting from inquiries made during the 1984 Olympic Accreditation process, a formal request for records disposition authority was submitted to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA).

NARA has responded favorably and, based upon instant communication, you are authorized to destroy the above-described record material.

DETAILS: On 8/15/77, FBIHQ commenced forwarding to the field a list of FBI cases involved in Civil Litigation (CL) and/or Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts Litigation (FOI/PAL). The field was instructed that the names of each individual, organization, publication, etc., mentioned in each litigation must be searched through the field office general indices to locate case files containing information identical to the person, organization, publication, etc., mentioned and that any such files located must be marked for preservation and excluded from destruction until the litigation is resolved. Since 1977, FBIHQ has, on a regular and recurring basis, continued to notify the field of new cases involved in litigation and instructing that such cases must be handled in accordance with instructions, supra.

In 1984, the Records Section, RMD, recognized that the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule, then pending with the U. S. District Court, Washington, D.C., if modified by the court prior to approval, would not be less restrictive. Anticipating approval of the plan, which was not approved until 9/9/86, RMD commenced with preliminary work to support full implementation of the plan. In this regard, the Records Section

Memorandum to Mr. McCreight from R. W. Scherrer dated 11/4/87
RE: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES
AND RECORDS

RMD being aware that a number of field offices were delinquent with the project of marking for retention files involved in litigation, informed the field that it would be necessary to bring the litigation project into current status and that the current status must be maintained in order for file destruction to begin. This requirement has been reiterated to the field on several ocassions since 1984. It appears, however, that other priorities have taken precedence and/or certain field offices have ignored instructions to keep the litigation project current. Consequently, a number of offices are delinquent and will not be able to destroy files until this situation is rectified. This requirement will again be reiterated when instructions to begin file destruction are forwarded to the field.

The status of identifying and marking case files involved in litigation in each field office is set forth below, including the estimated time necessary to complete the task.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS -
PEN REGISTER TAPES

As the result of inquiries received from several field divisions, disposition authority was sought from the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) to permit destruction of Pen Register Tapes.

NARA has advised that Pen Register Tapes are inextricably linked to the value of the case file itself and cannot be treated as a separate entity. Therefore, upon receipt of this communication, you are authorized to destroy Pen Register Tapes when the file itself is authorized to be destroyed, and consistent with one of the following conditions:

Pen Register Tapes created under the provisions of Title III of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Street Act of 1968 must be retained for a period of 10 years and thereafter destroyed upon approval of a U. S. District Court Judge.

Pen Register Tapes introduced as evidence in criminal proceedings may be destroyed upon approval of an appropriate U.S. Attorney.

All other Pen Register Tapes whether governed by Rule 41 or Rule 57(b), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure may be destroyed when administrative needs have expired.

All offices should ensure that statistics are maintained for record material destroyed.

INDEX

The purpose of this communication is to request guidance regarding the destruction of original ELSUR tapes maintained within the division which were recorded prior to Calendar Year 1978 (10 years). In order to accommodate the increasing volume of current ELSUR materials, guidance is needed in clearing non-evidentiary 10 year and older tapes from ELSUR storage.

It is requested that guidance be afforded regarding procedure for seeking court order from the District Court that authorized the original interception which order will authorize the destruction of original material that is no longer evidentiary in nature and was captured prior to 1978. Furthermore, guidance is requested regarding whether San Juan may consult directly with the court without permission of the Bureau and whether San Juan should consult with the Bureau prior to any contact with the court on a case-by-case basis.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

ReBUairtel dated 12/14/87.

As the result of a recent case decided in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, it was determined that a six-year statute of limitations of claims shall apply to FOIA appeals. As a result, the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) has issued amended instructions establishing a six-year retention period.

Therefore, based on the authority of this communication, you should amend reairtel (page 3, line 3, item captioned "FOIA/PA Releases") to read six years.

NARA BULLETIN

NO. 87-6

April 6, 1987

TO: Heads of Federal Agencies

SUBJECT: Increase in retention period for records relating to denials of FOIA requests.

1. Purpose. This bulletin announces an increase in the retention period for records relating to denials of Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests.

2. Expiration date. This bulletin expires September 30, 1988. The GRS changes transmitted by this bulletin will remain in effect until amended, superseded, or cancelled.

3. Cancellation. NARA Bulletin 86-7, Retention of records relating to denials of FOIA requests, dated September 29, 1986, is cancelled.

4. Background.

a. The GRS 14, Informational Services Records, covers FOIA requests and related records. GRS 14, item 16a(3)(a), covers correspondence and supporting documents for denied FOIA requests which are not appealed; GRS 14, item 17a, covers those denied requests which are appealed; and GRS 14, item 18, covers FOIA control files.

b. In a recent case decided in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, Edward Spannaus v. United States Department of Justice (643 F. Supp. 698), Judge Joyce Hens Green determined that the six-year statute of limitations of claims applies to FOIA appeals.

5. NARA action. In view of this decision, NARA, in consultation with the Department of Justice, has increased the retention period of these records to six years.

6. Agency action. Federal agencies should make pen and ink changes to GRS 14, items 16a(3)(a), 17a, and 18a and b, and to appropriate items in their agency manuals as shown on the reverse of this page.

Re: J. W. Greenleaf memorandum to Mr. McCreight dated 4/29/88, captioned "File Destruction Program, FBI Academy, Quantico, Virginia."

Addendum of the Records Management Division (RMD) CMG:crs 5/16/88

RMD has reviewed the request of the Academy for assistance in determining the appropriate disposition of FD-31 registers and final class rosters. This matter has been discussed with SSA [redacted] at the Academy to note that the foregoing records are temporary and disposable.

b6
b7C

FD-31 registers are time and attendance records and are disposable after three years. This authority is documented in R. W. Scherrer memorandum to Mr. Finzel, dated 9/12/80, captioned "Destruction of Bureau Records - Partial Resumption of Records Destruction Programs."

The class rosters may be considered as workpapers and background data and may be destroyed when three years old. The Academy may choose to retain this material for five years, which is the retention period for material relating to the substance of the training, in the event that prolonged retention is desirable.

Copies of records enclosed with instant memorandum as samples have been destroyed since their intended purpose has been served.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 10/1/03 BY Auc 60290 BCE/DCG/gmw

Enclosed for Headquarters Divisions is one copy of FBIHQ airtel entitled, "Destruction of Field Files and Records", 12/14/87, which outlines destruction parameters for various file classifications.

At present in the FOIMS environment, it is possible to acquire: (A) listing of all files closed for a date range, (B) all files closed by classification for a date range, (C) all files closed by Program for a date range.

In Program (A), the listing contains files not subject to destruction, OO files, and files have assorted destruction parameters.

Program (C), as in Program (A), is no more responsive in creating a listing for destruction process.

In Program (B) a listing could be acquired that would meet the specific needs of the destruction program; however, each classification and alpha must be entered, an extremely time intensive process to acquire the listing.

Butte Division requests the possibility of creating a program to acquire listings of cases closed that would be within the parameters of the file destruction program as mandated in referenced airtel, be examined and possibly address destruction in the automated environment.

Re: Butte letter (BTlet) 4/12/88, captioned "Automation Matters - File Destruction"

Addendum of Records Management Division (RMD) TBD:crs 5/4/88

ReBTlet requests that the Field Office Information Management Systems (FOIMS) software be modified to permit the listing of all closed cases by one or multiple classifications according to the parameters which govern the destruction of field files and records. Presently, FOIMS users must query the FOIMS for each separate classification and separate alpha designator within a classification to obtain a listing of all closed cases. It would be helpful if the field could obtain from FOIMS, without regard for the alpha designator, a listing of all record check cases closed more than six months, auxiliary office cases closed more than one year, criminal cases closed more than ten years, security and applicant cases closed more than twenty years.

The Records Section, RMD, considers the BT proposal to have merit and suggests that the FOIMS software be modified to accommodate the listing of closed cases as indicated above.

Contact with James E. Short, Office of Automation and Information Management (OAIM), RMD, determined that the FOIMS software can be modified as indicated above. Mr. Short has prepared and submitted to the Technical Services Division (TSD) an SDM-70 (copy attached) requesting the modification. Mr. Short indicated that the field will be advised of the modification through routine notification of FOIMS software/program changes.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That the BT request be treated as a suggestion and forwarded to the Suggestion Desk, Administrative Services Division (ASD) and that the BT office be credited with a suggestion submitted and adopted.

APPROVED: Director, Exec. AD-Adm., Exec. AD-Inv., Exec. AD-LES; Adm. Servs., Legal Coun., Off. of Cong. & Pub. Affs., Off. of Eq., Ident., Info. Mgmt., Tech. Servs., Training

2. That the Suggestion Desk, ASD, prepare an appropriate communication to BT to acknowledge receipt of their request/suggestion and express appreciation for their contribution which will result in an enhancement to the FOIMS.

APPROVED: Director, Exec. AD-Adm., Exec. AD-Inv., Exec. AD-LES; Adm. Servs., Legal Coun., Off. of Cong. & Pub. Affs., Off. of Eq., Ident., Info. Mgmt., Tech. Servs., Training

Re: Butte letter (BTlet 4/12/88) captioned "Automation Matters - File Destruction"

ADDENDUM: TECHNICAL SERVICES DIVISION (TSD), EGG:plw, 7/8/88

The FOIMS programming staff has created one menu with five Pf-key options to cover the requested listings. Pf-key<1> is a report to list all record check cases that have been closed for six months or more. Pf-key<2> is a report to list all auxiliary office cases that have been closed for one year or more. Pf-key<3> is a report to list all office of origin criminal cases that have been closed for ten years or more. Pf-key<4> is a report to list all office of origin security cases that have been closed for twenty years or more. Pf-key<5> is a report to list all office of origin applicant cases that have been closed for twenty years or more. These reports will be implemented in the beginning of September 1988.

DESCRIPTION OF DESIRED ENHANCEMENT:

Type of Enhancement: xx New to System ____Change to Existing System Component (report, display, function, etc.)

Please create a new report to list closed cases based on selected destruction criteria. Operationally, this new report could be modeled after the current cases closed by class and date range report. The new report should allow up to six classification entries regardless of any alpha designators and provide for the following selection criteria:

A.) List all Record Check cases that have been closed for six months or more;

B.) List all Auxiliary Office cases that have been closed for one year or more;

C.) List all Office of Origin - Criminal cases that have been closed for 10 years or more;

[xx] See Attachments

PURPOSE - Why Required/Desired:

Destruction practice will adhere to established policy and be done on a case by case basis.

BENEFITS - Tangible & Intangible:

Improved efficiency in highlighting cases eligible for destruction.

D.) List all Office of Origin - Security cases that have been closed for twenty years or more;

E.) List all Office or Origin - Applicant cases that have been closed for 20 years or more.

The following software capabilities should be incorporated into the program:

a.) All time ranges should be generated from the current date;

b.) List cases in file number order with breaks between classifications;

c.) Allow the option to enter classifications with or without alpha designators;

d.) When classifications are selected (C, D, E), verifications for Criminal, Security, and Applicant cases should be on classification only (disregarding any alpha designators); e.) The report title should read:

"CASES ELIGIBLE FOR DESTRUCTION"

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

Reference is made to Bureau teletype dated 9/22/86, captioned as above advising that the injunction prohibiting the destruction of FBI files and records issued on 1/10/80, in the civil matter "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster, et al.," was vacated by order and memorandum filed 9/9/86 in the U. S. District Court, District of Columbia, Washington, D.C., and that resolution of this matter permits the FBI to commence a file destruction program.

Resolution of the above civil matter resulted in the Court approving the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule (hereinafter the Plan) which contains disposition authority and instructions for most file classifications up to and inclusive of classification 258. The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) is scheduled to conduct a review and appraisal of FBI records at five-year intervals to update the Plan and establish disposition instructions for new classifications and/or record systems established during the interim five-year period.

The file destruction program will be coordinated by the Records Management Division, FBIHQ, on a classification-by-classification basis and the authority to destroy field office files and records will be forwarded to the field on an ongoing basis upon completion of the FBIHQ review.

As you are aware, efforts have been underway since 1984 to identify and mark for preservation and eventual transfer to NARA certain office of origin and auxiliary office case files designated permanent by NARA because of their historical and/or research value. Others have been designated permanent after application of the multivolume/multiserial, exceptional, and/or statistical sample criteria of the Plan. Completion of this preliminary work in all field offices now makes it possible for the field to commence with its file destruction.

As a result of the foregoing, the field is now permitted to destroy certain auxiliary office files and, in some instances, office of origin files as outlined herein after observance of the following instructions and restrictions:

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 10/1/03 BY AUC 60290 BCE/DCG/ym

66-3286 - 1431

Litigation Matters: No field office may engage in file destruction until all litigation matters have been searched through the office indices and relevant files identified and marked for retention pending resolution of the litigation. Case files which bear the notation that the files are being retained due to pending litigation are to be maintained until notification is received from FBIHQ that the litigation has been resolved. Identifying and marking files involved in litigation are essential to the implementation and ongoing file destruction program; therefore, this work must be kept current at all times. Upon receipt of new litigation matters from FBIHQ, all file destruction must cease until the new litigation freeze sheets have been searched through the office indices and related files identified and marked for retention pending resolution of the litigation.

Investigative/Administrative Needs: Case files which continue to serve investigative, administrative or research needs may be retained if deemed necessary. If a case file that has not been marked for archival retention is retained beyond the authorized destruction period, a memorandum should be placed in the case file justifying the need for longer retention.

Copy Destruction: Duplicate copies of communications which do not contain action notations, i.e., notations issuing instructions, notations requesting action be taken, notations of certification that action was taken, etc., may be removed from exceptional/permanent files and destroyed. Copies of documents which contain action notations not appearing on the original communication, are to be retained with the original communication. Similarly, copies of documents in other investigative case files may be purged and destroyed when the case is Closed/Ruc'd. In adminstrative files, copies of documents may be destroyed at any time.

FOI/PA Releases: Case files or contents thereof which have been released pursuant to the Freedom of Information or Privacy Acts are to be retained for five years from the date of release.

FOI/PA Requests: Upon receipt of an FOI/PA request in the field office, the request must be immediately searched through the office indices to identify any relevant files which must be immediately marked to indicate that an FOI/PA request is pending and to preclude premature destruction pending resolution of the request.

Historical Records: Auxiliary office case files which contain 50 or more volumes are to be retained and the stamp "X: DO NOT DESTROY: HISTORICAL VALUE: NATIONAL ARCHIVES" affixed to the file cover(s).

Original Documents: Original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, Latent Fingerprint reports, original surveillance logs, and 1-A exhibits in auxiliary office files are to be forwarded to the office of origin prior to destruction of the auxiliary case file.

Tax Returns/Tax Return Information: Tax returns and/or tax return information are to be removed from an auxiliary office files prior to destruction and forwarded to the office of origin.

Index Cards: Index cards corresponding to files destroyed may be purged from the general indices at the discretion of the SAC.

Auxiliary office files in the following classifications may be destroyed after one (1) year after observance of the foregoing instructions:

Classifications:

177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188,
192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203,
204, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217,
218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 256, 257,
and 258.

Classification 81: Auxiliary office case files in classification 81 may be destroyed after one (1) year in all offices except Butte and Portland after a determination has been made that none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

Classification 163: Auxiliary office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in classification 163 have been determined to contain little or no historical value and may be destroyed if closed for ten (10) years or longer and if none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

Classification 116: Pursuant to earlier instructions, auxiliary office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in classification 116 have been stamped for permanent retention if the case files were created between November, 1947, and September, 1948, and contain no correspondence between the field office and FBIHQ. Remaining auxiliary office case files in the 116 classification may be destroyed if closed for twenty (20) years or longer and none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

Auxiliary office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in the following classifications have been determined to contain little or no historical value and may be destroyed if closed for twenty (20) years or longer after a determination has been made that none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable:

37, 77, 118, 121, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 132, 133, 138, 140, 151, and 161.

NARA has determined that most field offices no longer maintain files in the following obsolete criminal classifications, and that permanent retention is not required. Therefore, office of origin and auxiliary office case files in the classifications set forth below may be destroyed when ten (10) years or one (1)-year old, respectively, if none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable or the files were not previously stamped for permanent retention.

11, 13, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 30, 33, 34, 53, 57, 59, 68, 78, 84, 85, 95, 107, 135, 136, 154, 155, 169, and 171.

Records Checks: Auxiliary offices may destroy, when six (6) months old, results of contacts with various credit, law enforcement, and Federal, state and local Bureaus to determine criminal, credit and/or employment status of individuals related to current investigations.

Record checks in office of origin are to be destroyed/retained commensurate with the disposition authority of the case file to which the record check relates.

Zero (0) Files: Zero (0) files over three years old must be reviewed to determine if any policy material is contained therein. Any policy material identified is to be transferred to the Double Zero (00) file for permanent retention. Thereafter, Zero (0) files in all classifications up to and inclusive of classification 258 may be destroyed when three years old or when all administrative needs have been met, whichever is later.

Destruction of files in classifications identified above will result in the recovery of a substantial amount of prime office space desperately needed in all offices. Therefore, all offices are strongly encouraged to devote all available resources to the file destruction program so that benefits from reclaimed office space can be realized at the earliest possible date. Appropriate notations are to be recorded on FD-478 for all files destroyed. Records are to be maintained to document the volume of records destroyed in linear feet measurements. Information regarding the volume of records destroyed will be requested by the Records Management Division, FBIHQ, semiannually in June and December of each year to monitor the progress of the destruction program.

Legat Files and Records: NARA has designated all Hong Kong and Mexico City Legat files and corresponding index cards as exceptional/permanent, consequently, there will be no destruction of these records. All other Legat files and corresponding index cards are eligible for destruction when five (5) years old after application of the criteria of the Plan to identify exceptional/permanent case files extant in this collection of files. Inasmuch as closed Legat files are stored at FBIHQ the files will be reviewed by the Records Management Division to identify and mark for preservation any exceptional/permanent Legat files. Thereafter, remaining Legat files except Hong Kong and Mexico City will be destroyed according to the five (5) year authority granted by NARA. In conjunction with the destruction process, the files will be reviewed and a list made of all information indexed by Legats. The Legats, except Hong Kong and Mexico City, will be forwarded a list of all files destroyed and a listing of all information indexed by the Legats. These listings are to be used by the Legats to identify and destroy the corresponding microfiche, if extant, and the corresponding index records. The list of information indexed may be destroyed once the index purge and destruction process have been completed. The list of files destroyed is to be retained by the Legat for future reference.

All exceptional/permanent Legat files will be reviewed by the Records Management Division when five (5) years old to identify corresponding index records which, as stated earlier, are permanent. A listing by file number of information indexed will be furnished to all Legats with instructions to purge the Legat indices and forward the index records to FBIHQ to be matched with the corresponding exceptional/permanent file for eventual transfer to NARA. Once the index records have been purged and forwarded to FBIHQ the purge list may be destroyed by the Legat.

Any inquiries regarding the instructions and/or restrictions set forth herein, may be directed to FBIHQ, Attention: Records Research Unit, Records Section, Records Management Division, or telephone extension 2168. Manual changes follow.

Referenced communication provided instructions to assist in identifying historical records and furnished field offices with historical case file numbers identified through the review of FBIHQ files. Instant communication will continue to update the Program and provides disposition instructions for more recent classifications resulting from the five-year update of our disposition schedule by NARA. For clarity and convenience, the latter instructions have been set out separately.

The following instructions, by classification, will require a review of files to update your previous efforts from approximately November, 1986. File numbers forwarded to FBIHQ from previous submissions need not be repeated. By the same token, efforts have been made to eliminate duplicate file numbers listed herein for preservation. Historical records identified during the review of the following classifications should have the legend, "DO NOT DESTROY, HISTORICAL VALUE, NATIONAL ARCHIVES," affixed to the file cover(s). Historical cases from the classifications which are prefixed by "*" should be reviewed for the corresponding FBIHQ file numbers which, in turn, will be forwarded to FBIHQ for similar file preservation.

The following category encompasses the additional classifications which were appraised by NARA during their five-year update, at which time disposition instructions, as set forth hereafter, were established. Inasmuch as this category has not been previously addressed, you will be required to review the entire classifications to identify the permanent records. Again, the file cover(s) of the permanent records should be stamped with the legend, "DO NOT DESTROY, HISTORICAL VALUE, NATIONAL ARCHIVES." You are not required to determine the FBIHQ file number.

FIELD OFFICE INFORMATION MANAGEMENT SYSTEM (FOIMS)
DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS/
AUDIT PROCEDURES
BUDED: 8/26/88

FBIHQ is developing automated procedures to enable field offices to identify and track, through FOIMS, files that are eligible for destruction as well as those that have already been destroyed. The automated procedures will also enable field offices to delete from the FOIMS data base all case management information and index records corresponding to files that have been destroyed merely by entering the file number. Individual index records corresponding to files destroyed may be deleted by entering each record separately. The system will generate reports concerning the file destruction program which are to be used to review, monitor, and perform quality assurance audits of information deleted. After the reports have served their purpose, they may be destroyed inasmuch as edit logs will be maintained by FBIHQ and can be used to reconstruct any required case management or index data.

For control purposes, authority to delete above records from the FOIMS data base will be restricted to support personnel designated by the SAC in each field office. The identity and access codes for these individuals will be resident in the FOIMS system and will be updated as necessary due to turnover of personnel prompted by promotion, reassignment, transfer, resignation, retirement, etc. Each office is to maintain a current list of personnel authorized to delete information concerning the file destruction program from the FOIMS system and immediately advise FBIHQ of any changes in personnel granted this authority.

RE: FIELD OFFICE INFORMATION SYSTEM (FOIMS)
DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS/
AUDIT PROCEDURES
BUDED: 8/26/88

To establish the aforementioned controls, each field office is requested to furnish FBIHQ by COB 8/26/88, the name and social security number of each person, as designated by the SAC, granted authority to delete records concerning the file destruction program from the FOIMS system. Persons so designated should be held to an absolute minimum and should be career oriented employees who can reasonably be expected to remain in FBI employment; thereby, minimizing the need to update the data base with the identity and access codes for such persons. Semiannually, each field office will be requested to validate the list of persons authorized to delete information relating to the file destruction program. However, it remains the responsibility of each office to notify FBIHQ, Attention: RMD, Records Section, Records Research Unit, of changes as they occur.

Your cooperation and assistance in maintaining an accurate record of the personnel authorized to delete information regarding the file destruction program is solicited. Any questions, and your responses to this request, should be directed to FBIHQ, Attention: RMD, Records Section, Records Research Unit.

Subject: EXPUNGEMENT ORDER PROCESSING WITHIN THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION

ESR OC

Destruction of Field Files and Records

PURPOSE: To provide the Records Section with the results of research by the Freedom of Information-Privacy Acts (FOIPA) Section concerning statutory and case law requirements for carrying out the different types of expungement orders received by the FBI.

SYNOPSIS: The RMD receives numerous expungement orders from federal and state courts across the country. Properly executing those orders is difficult because the term "expungement" has no common meaning among those who use it, with courts often in conflict concerning how the expunged records should be handled. This memo will treat each of the contexts in which expungement orders have been received.

The procedures followed by the Identification Division for expungements are cited for information and comparison purposes only.

RECOMMENDATION: None, for information.

RE: EXPUNGEMENT ORDERS

DETAILS: Although the term "expungement" is commonly understood to mean the destruction of records, it often means something much different, such as special retention and disclosure procedures. The following is a discussion of the meaning of the term "expungement" in the context of the different types of expungement orders received by the FBI.

FEDERAL YOUTH CORRECTIONS ACT

The Federal Youth Corrections Act (FYCA), codified at 18 U.S.C. § 5021 but repealed on 10/12/84, was a statutory vehicle which allowed a young offender to have a (federal) conviction set aside. Although the FYCA did not explicitly provide for an expungement of records, various courts held that some form of expungement was necessary to afford the young offender the fresh start contemplated by the statute. The courts which addressed this issue, however, were in conflict as to what form of expungement was appropriate. Since it would be impractical to treat each jurisdiction separately, it is suggested that all FYCA expungement orders be treated under the broadest standard, which was enunciated in United States v. Doe, 579 F. Supp. 1351, 1355 (N.D. Ill. 1984), shown below:

> Now all agents of the government, including the Federal Bureau of Investigation, are ordered that all recordation relating to defendant's criminal episode, including the charge, arrest, indictment, court proceedings, record of conviction and sentence, shall be expunged by physically removing them from the central criminal files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and of all other law enforcement authorities, and placed in a separate storage facility which is not to be opened other than in the course of a bona fide criminal investigation by law enforcement authorities, and only where necessary for such an investigation.
> These records shall not be used by law enforcement authorities for any other purpose, nor may such records be disseminated to anyone, public or private, for any other purpose.

> It is further ordered that agents of the government, including the Federal Bureau of Investigation, shall respond, in the negative, to any and all inquiries concerning the set aside and expunged conviction and arrest records. Similarly, defendant whose arrest record and conviction have been set aside and expunged under Section 5021(b) may legally reply in the negative to any and all questions concerning his arrest and conviction in this case. Further, it is ordered that defendant may, and all others must, consider the expunged criminal episode, from arrest to conviction, as having never occurred.

This holding is broader than that of the highest federal court which has decided this issue, the District of Columbia Circuit Court, in that it covers not only conviction records but all records relating to the criminal incident. See Doe v. Webster, 606 F.2d 1226 (D.C. Cir. 1979). Following this broader holding will not only eliminate the need to speculate how different courts might decide the expungement issue, it will also make unnecessary the removal of only "conviction records" from files.

In reaching its decision, the Northern District of Illinois relied heavily on the reasoning of the D. C. Circuit concerning the FYCA's purpose, which was to spare a rehabilitated young offender from the social stigma and economic loss which flow from the "ex-con" label. Both courts were very concerned with the job prospects a young offender faces. While discussing that issue, the D. C. Circuit noted in footnote 51 that the Civil Service Commission allowed a young offender to omit from its Standard Form 171 Personal Qualifications Statement a conviction set aside under the FYCA, and that the Federal Personnel Manual stated that a person need not answer affirmatively to questions regarding convictions if those convictions had been set aside under the FYCA. Later in its opinion, the D. C. Circuit gave examples of the circumstances under which expunged records could be used: "Law enforcement authorities have an interest in knowing, for example, that a definite suspect in a crime under investigation had previously been arrested or convicted, especially if for a similar offense. Likewise, police investigators will be greatly assisted if they are able to check whether persons residing or having been observed at the situs of an offense involving a particular modus operandi have previously been arrested or convicted of an offense involving the same modus operandi." Doe v. Webster, 606 F.2d at 1243. These examples involve reopening expunged records to assist in the investigation of another crime, not to determine whether a job applicant has committed or is likely to commit a crime. Given these examples, the court's concern about the job prospects of a young offender, and the purpose of the FYCA, it seems clear that records expunged under the FYCA cannot be used to determine suitability for employment, either in the public (government) or private sector.

Nor does it appear that expunged records should be disclosed pursuant to a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) or Privacy Act (PA) request. Records subject to nondisclosure orders are not "improperly withheld" under the FOIA or, presumably, the PA. See FOIA Update, Vol. IV, No. 3, p. 5 (a DOJ publication).

In the event that a request for information from expunged records involves unusual circumstances, such as where information is being sought regarding a prospective appointee to a high government position, the Legal Counsel Division should be contacted for guidance.

In the event that any field office of the FBI has any record relating to the young offender's criminal episode, that record must be treated in the manner explained above. Thus, the following record holders should also be contacted: 1) the office of origin for the investigation; 2) all auxiliary offices; 3) all offices shown in the copy count of communications; and 4) any other agencies which may have received disseminated documents. (Note: The repeal of this statute did not affect those who were sentenced under it for offenses committed before 10/12/84. Such persons are afforded the protection of the statute even when discharged from probation after 10/12/84.)

Identification Division procedures for fingerprint cards and rap sheets are explained in Part II of the MIOG, Section 14-16.8.

Memorandum from Emil P. Moschella to Mr. McCreight dated 3/1/89
RE: EXPUNGEMENT ORDERS

Federal Pretrial Diversion Programs

Pretrial diversion programs at the federal level are the creation of the U.S. Attorney's Office and Probation Office in each jurisdiction. In general, the arrestee is required to complete a period of community service, after which the charge is dismissed. Since each jurisdiction has its own program, it would be necessary to contact the U.S. Attorney's Office which handled each case to determine how investigative records should be treated. For the time being, these records should be stored in the same manner as FYCA cases, and a short preprinted notice explaining how the FBI is maintaining the records should be sent to the appropriate U.S. Attorney's Office. That notice should ask for further instructions, with the following language suggested:

> The attached expungement order was received without sufficient instructions concerning the parameters of the "expungement". We will continue to maintain in a separate storage cabinet all investigative records we may have until we receive such instructions. Please advise us of the following: 1) How should the records be stored? 2) How can the records be used in the future (i.e., FBI criminal investigations, state/local criminal investigations, inquiries from regulatory agencies, inquiries from a prospective federal government employer, inquiries from a prospective state government employer)? Your response, which should also provide the authority (i.e., case law, local rule, etc.) which is the basis for your answers, should be mailed to FBI Headquarters, Attn: [redacted] Room 5640, 9th and Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D. C. 20535. b6 b7C

Identification Division procedures are explained in Part II of the MIOG, Section 14-16.7. Special procedures exist for child pornography cases in accordance with a memorandum dated 9/29/87 from Joseph Hartzler, Chief of the DOJ's Criminal Litigation Division.

Presidential Pardons

A presidential pardon remits punishment and restores a petitioner's civil rights which were lost as the result of a conviction, but it does not erase the fact the conviction occurred. See Bjerkan v. United States, 529 F.2d 125 (7 Cir. 1975). Although courts do have broad equitable powers to fashion appropriate legal remedies, the majority view is that those powers are insufficient to order an expungement of records on the basis of a pardon. Since the FBI has at least one expungement order based on a pardon, however, it will be necessary to address this issue.

In the rare case when an expungement order based on a presidential pardon is received, it should be followed if it specifies what form the expungement is to take. Consider returning a copy of any vague order to the originating U.S. Attorney's Office with a preprinted notice as discussed above.

When the Identification Division receives information concerning a presidential pardon, it retains the subject's fingerprint card and rap sheet, but reflects the pardon as a disposition on the rap sheet.

21 U.S.C. § 844 (b)(1) and (b)(2)

These two provisions, which were repealed on 10/12/84, concerned the treatment of records pertaining to a person found guilty for the first time of simple possession of a controlled substance. Pursuant to 21 U.S.C. § 844 (b)(1), the subject was discharged from probation and the proceedings were dismissed without a conviction. A nonpublic record was retained by D.O.J. solely for the purpose of ensuring the subject would not be afforded such treatment more than once. Pursuant to 21 U.S.C. § 844 (b)(2), if at the time of the offense the subject was not over 21 years of age, the court issued an order to expunge all records relating to his arrest, indictment/information, trial, finding of guilt, dismissal and discharge, but of course retained the nonpublic record mentioned above.

Thomas Zeno, Chief of the Special Proceedings Section, U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Columbia (hereafter D.C.), has advised that all records pertaining to an offense covered by this statute should be mailed to the following address: Special Proceedings Section, U.S. Attorney, 555 4th Street, Washington, D.C. 20001. The cover letter from the U.S. Attorney's Office for the expungement order should be annotated "Order complied with", and the responsible FBI official should sign his name and show his position by that annotation. (This can be in the form of a stamp.)

It is suggested that orders from other district courts be handled in a similar manner, with the records and annotated referral letter being returned to the U.S. Attorney's Office covering the jurisdiction in question.

The Identification Division handles these orders in accordance with Legal Counsel's memorandum dated 10/8/76 entitled, "Controlled Substances Act" and DOJ Order 2710.7B dated 8/12/76.

33 D.C. Code § 541 (e)

This is the D.C. version of 21 U.S.C. 844 (b)(1) and (2), the difference being the absence of any age restrictions for the subject. Pursuant to an agreement with Thomas Zeno (see above), all records relating to the subject's arrest, indictment/information, trial, finding of guilt, dismissal and discharge, should be destroyed. This includes the subject's fingerprint card and identification record. The referral letter from the D.C. U.S. Attorney's Office should be annotated "Order complied with", as explained above and it should be returned to the address shown above.

D.C. Rule 118 (f)(2)

This rule provides that if a person is arrested for violating the D.C. Code but has his charges dismissed before trial, he may file a motion to have his records sealed. If the court issues the order, it covers all records of the subject's arrest, including the fingerprint card and identification record. Any computerized record of the arrest must be eliminated, but that may be accomplished by making the record irretrievable by the identity of the subject. These orders, according to Mr. Zeno, should be handled in the same manner as the 33 D.C. Code § 541(e) orders.

24 D. C. Code § 803 and § 806

These provisions are the D. C. version of the FYCA. Mr. Zeno's office is working out an agreement with the D. C. courts concerning these orders and will advise when the agreement is concluded.

Federal Court Orders Issued to Preserve Basic Legal Rights

Federal courts may order the expungement of records to preserve basic legal rights. See Menard v. Saxbe, 498 F.2d 1017 (D. C. Cir. 1974). For instance, if a person is arrested without probable cause, a federal court may order the expungement of his arrest record. Even where the arrest is made by a state or local police department which does not make a formal request to withdraw the record, the federal court's expungement order must be followed by the FBI.

Each order should be read carefully to determine if it specifies what form the expungement is to take (i.e., destruction, sealing of records, etc.). If the order fails to provide that information, it is suggested that the appropriate U. S. Attorney's Office be contacted or, at a minimum, the records be treated in the same manner as FYCA records.

State and Local Court Orders for Expungement

Whether state and local court orders for expungement should be followed by the FBI is an issue which apparently is still undecided by DOJ (See attached memo dated 7-18-84 from Rhoda Mancher, Justice Management Division, to John Mintz, FBI). An inquiry has been made to Miriam Nisbet, Deputy Director, Office of Information and Privacy, Office of Legal Policy, DOJ, to determine the status of this matter.

The Identification Division handles these orders in accordance with Part II of the MIOG, Section 14-17.2.

Memorandum from Emil P. Moschella to Mr. McCreight dated 3/1/89
RE: EXPUNGEMENT ORDERS

Expungement Orders Received from Unofficial Sources

If the subject of an expungement order or his attorney submits a copy of the order, that person should be advised to have an official copy submitted by an appropriate official, such as the clerk of the court which issued the order or the prosecutor's office which handled the case.

Subject : EXPUNGEMENT ORDER PROCESSING WITHIN THE RECORDS MANAGEMENT DIVISION

Destruction of Field Files and Records

PURPOSE: To advise of the procedures currently being followed by the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit, Records Management Division (RMD) in processing court orders under the Federal Youth Corrections Act (FYCA).

RECOMMENDATION: None. For information.

DETAILS: The RMD has received numerous expungement orders from federal and state courts across the country. At the present time, RMD has approximately 1200 court orders awaiting disposition in the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit. Based on information provided in the Moschella to McCreight memorandum dated 3/1/89, it has been determined that the procedures currently being followed would allow the court orders to be handled in the most expeditious manner. The following procedures are the results of discussions between personnel of the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit and the Freedom of Information-Privacy Acts Section.

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight dated 4/20/89
Re: Expungement Order Processing Within The Records Management Division

Main Files

Files are removed from cabinets and placed under the control of the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit. Permanent charge-outs are in place in the filing cabinets in order to maintain the integrity of the filing system.

Cross References

Original serial is removed from the file. Xerox copy is made and information to be expunged/deleted is excised from the serial using the xerox copy. Excised copy is re-xeroxed and redacted copy is placed in the file and the file is returned to the cabinets. Original and excised copy are placed under the control of the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit.

Index Cards

Index cards will remain in the indices. No notations will be made on the index cards.

Field Office Records

All field office (Office of Origin and Auxiliary Office) records will be called into FBIHQ for proper handling.

Field Office Inquiries

Subsequent inquiries by field offices regarding FYCA records will be directed to Legal Counsel Division for proper handling. This procedure is necessary in order to ensure accurate research as to particular United States District Court/Circuit Court rulings which may be determined to be unique to each separate field office territory.

Court Order Retention

All court orders will be retained under the control of the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit. Retention will be by jurisdiction and court order numbers. Court orders will not be filed in the Central Records System.

Co-conspirators Cases

Cases involving co-conspirators will be handled in the same manner as cross references.

b6
b7C

Miscellaneous

Issues involving records other than FYCA matters will be addressed separately as the need arises. Such issues would include records involving Presidential pardons and court orders issued by state and local courts. Handling of state and local court orders involving expungement might require an interpretation of the supremacy clause and is presently under consideration by the Department of Justice.

ADDENDUM: INTELLIGENCE DIVISION (INTD), 4/12/89, AJC

The Records Management Division (RMD) requested both CID and the Intelligence Division (INTD) to assist in determining the appropriate disposition of the numerical publications. INTD questions the origin of the documents. INTD recommends that the documents be reviewed by RMD to determine if the documents were provided to the FBI by assets or if there are any markings, including labels, on the documents which reveal the identity of the assets. Documents provided by currently active assets should not be offered to the Library of Congress for public access. Regarding the remainder of the material, providing no source indicators remain on the documents, INTD recommends first offering the material to the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). The CIA uses material, such as listed in this inventory, for their research. If CIA declines the offer and assets are not identifiable, INTD concurs with RMD to offer the documents, if properly processed, to the Library of Congress.

FROM: Director, FBI (66-3286 Sub B)

TO: All SACs

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
BUDED: 1/27/89

ReBuairtel to all SACs and Legats 12/14/87.

Reairtel provided all field offices with authority to destroy auxiliary office files in numerous classifications and authorized destruction for a limited number of miscellaneous categories. Additionally, reairtel advised that the volume of records destroyed (in linear feet measurements) would be requested semiannually to enable FBIHQ to follow the progress of the field file destruction project.

By COB 1/27/89, all offices are requested to forward to FBIHQ, Attention: Records Section, Records Research Unit, the total volume of records (in linear feet) destroyed since 12/87. Of the total volume of records destroyed, identify (in linear feet) the volume destroyed since 10/1/88.

Inquiries regarding this matter may be directed to [redacted], telephone extension 4844 or [redacted] extension 4770.

DETAILS: During a meeting held on 4/17/89, between FOIPA Section Chief Emil P. Moschella, FOIPA Assistant Section Chief [redacted] and Archives Specialist [redacted] the following information was ascertained regarding the specialized indices previously used by the FOIPA Section.

With the inception of the Freedom of Information Unit (now the FOIPA Section) in 1974, a specialized indices system was developed to serve as a tracking system for the numerous requests received by the FBI. This system involved the use of 3 X 5 index cards, with each of the cards containing the following information:

1) Subject of the request
2) Name of the requester
3) Date of receipt
4) Assignment date
5) Team assignment
6) Analyst assignment

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight dated 4/25/89
Re: Destruction of Bureau Records

This specialized indices system was used as a tracking system for each request received. The system contains the above information for each of the 217,000 requests received by the FBI between 1974 and August, 1981. The 3 X 5 cards did not reflect the final disposition of the requests. The system was fully used until August, 1981, when a computerized tracking system became operational in the FOIPA Section. This computer system contained all of the information which had been previously listed on the 3 X 5 cards, as well as: 1) the final disposition of the request (including pages reviewed and pages released; and 2) other miscellaneous information determined to be pertinent to the request.

Prior to the removal, from the FOIPA Section, all information contained on the 3 X 5 cards was entered into the computerized tracking system and can be retrieved in the form of a computer print-out. Inasmuch as the information pertinent to the early requests received by the FBI can be retrieved, Mr. Moschella advised that the 3 X 5 indices system had no administrative value and could be destroyed.

Authority for destruction of the 3 X 5 card indices system can be found in General Records Schedule (GRS) 14, Item 13 and GRS 23, Item 8.

DETAILS: In November, 1986, employees of the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit began the review and destruction of old applicant folders in the Personnel Records Subunit. These folders consisted of the application and the background investigation of unsuccessful Bureau applicants. The review and destruction of these folders concluded on 3/24/89. The sequential listing of the file numbers for the computer program to delete the records from the automated system was completed on 4/24/89. The actual computer program for the deletion of these file numbers from the automated system is not fully operational at this time. Cumulative totals for the Personnel Records file destruction project are as follows:

Folders reviewed	-	183,019

DETAILS: Resolution of the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al v. William H. Webster, et al on 9/9/86, enabled the FBI to resume destruction of obsolete file and record material after identifying and marking for permanent retention and eventual transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), FBIHQ and field files and records having historical and/or research value.

Since 9/9/86, FBIHQ has destroyed 5,182.8 linear feet of obsolete material. Of this volume 1,675.4 linear feet were destroyed since 10/1/88.

By Buairtel 12/14/87, all field offices were authorized to destroy auxiliary office files in numerous classifications as well as the destruction of obsolete file and record material in a limited number of miscellaneous categories.

By Buairtel 12/20/88, all field offices were surveyed to determine the progress of the Destruction Program. The survey revealed that since 12/87, collectively 52 field offices have destroyed a total of 11,480.35 linear feet (equivalent to 2.2 miles) of obsolete file and record material. Of this volume, 2,282.5 linear feet were destroyed since 10/1/88.

Office of the United States Attorney for the District of Connecticut for filing in Civil Action N-82-363. The purpose of the declarations was to support a motion for summary judgment filed by the United States Attorney on behalf of the FBI. Through Stipulations for Dismissal dated 1/25/85, filed with the District Court, all parties involved in Civil Action Number N-82-363 agreed to dismiss the lawsuit.

By letter dated 8/24/87, from the Office of the United States Attorney for the District of Connecticut, the copies of the declarations, with exhibits, were returned to the FBI. Legal Counsel Division, FBIHQ, requested Records Management Division to determine if the material returned by the Office of the United States Attorney was duplicative of material maintained in the files pertaining to Civil Action Number N-82-363. It has been determined by the Records Disposition/Archival Subunit that the documents are duplicates of material filed in Bufile 197-3478 serial 8 Bulky Enclosure. Therefore, the duplicate material is being destroyed. The duplicate documents consist of ten inches of material.

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight dated 9/29/89
Re: DESTRUCTION OF FBIHQ AND FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

By Bulet 7/10/89, all field offices were surveyed to determine the progress of the Destruction Program. The survey revealed that since 12/87, 54 field offices have, collectively, destroyed a total of 17,955.36 linear feet of obsolete file and record material. Of this volume, 6,957.11 linear feet were destroyed since 1/89. The survey further revealed that Boston, Mobile and San Francisco have not implemented the Destruction Program.

By airtel dated 7/11/89, the Mobile Office advised that the office has not commenced the file destruction program. No indication was given by Mobile as to when the program might begin. No reason was given for the delay in implementation.

By airtel dated 8/31/89, the Boston office advised that the office had not commenced the file destruction program due to a heavy litigation workload. Boston advised that implementation of the program was expected to commence approximately 8/31/89.

By airtel dated 7/31/89, the San Francisco office advised that due to the transfer of closed files to the WRCSC in Pocatello, Idaho,the file destruction program had not commenced. Destruction was anticipated to begin in both SF and Pocatello upon completion of the transfer. No projected date was furnished to HQ by SF.

The attached list reveals the volume of the material destroyed to date by each field office and identifies those offices which have not destroyed any material.

Subject : TRANSFER OF RECORDS TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)

(6) Destruction of Field Files and Records

PURPOSE: To advise of the withdrawal of records within the 87 classification (Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property) from the Washington National Records Center (WNRC).

DETAILS: Reference is made to my memorandum dated 9/28/89, which set out the details pertaining to the review of material within the 87 classification for transfer to NARA and/or destruction in accordance with the criteria set forth in the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule. Referenced memorandum stated that 109,000 case files, within the 87 classification were eligible for review subsequent transfer/destruction. At the present time, 439 case files (24 cubic feet), in the 87 classification, are stored at the WNRC facility in Suitland, Maryland. In order to complete the review for transfer/destruction, of the 87 classification material, it is necessary to withdraw these records from the WNRC.

Attached is a copy of Optional Form (OF) 11 which was forwarded to the WNRC on 11/9/89.

RECOMMENDATION: None. For information only.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
AUDIT PROCEDURE

PURPOSE: To recommend that the audit procedure for the destruction of field office files and related records be captured and tracked via automation.

RECOMMENDATION: That audit information under file destruction be captured through FOIMS.

DETAILS: In support of the FBI's File Destruction Program, the Office of Automation and Information Management (OAIM), Records Management Division (RMD), has been working with the Technical Services Division (TSD) in facilitating the procedure for deleting information from the FOIMS Case Management Sub-System. This procedure will include the destruction of information from the case, index and leads databases. 66-3286

To effectively track records that are affected under file destruction, OAIM, RMD, is recommending that an audit trail of destroyed files be captured through FOIMS. This "destruction file" will be limited to information currently captured on the FD-478 - "List of Files Destroyed/Transferred to FBIHQ." The file will be updated automatically if the case is purged from FOIMS, or the file can be updated by terminal operator for cases being destroyed that existed prior to FOIMS implementation. For this file, a report will be generated showing current file destruction activity by classification and/or program. Software development will be coordinated with TSD through SDM/70 tracking forms.

Memorandum from Allen H. McCreight to Mr. Bayse, dated 7/18/88
RE: Field Office Information Management System (FOIMS)
Destruction of Field Files and Records
Audit Procedure

ADDENDUM: TECHNICAL SERVICES DIVISION (TSD) 7/25/88, LNG:lng

TSD concurs with the RMD recommendation that file destruction audit information be captured through FOIMS. Currently all deletions of Case, Index and Lead records are captured on the FOA-LOG file. In addition, new software has been developed to generate reports containing information about files eligible for destruction and to delete, upon request, these eligible files. To augment this software a new file must be added to capture the audit information for all files that will be destroyed, including those that were never added to online FOIMS. (FOIMS was implemented using a "day-one" approach; therefore any file closed prior to an office's implementation on FOIMS would not appear in the online database.) An SDM/70 request, including conceptual file layout, for this audit file will be forwarded to the Data Administrator. Once approval for this file is received, the audit function will be developed and implemented.

DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS - GENERAL

Subject: RECORDKEEPING FOR VIOLATIONS COMMITTED UNDER THE CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES ACT

1. PURPOSE. This order prescribes the procedures to be followed pursuant to 21 U.S.C. sec. 844 and 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607 for the retention of a nonpublic record by the Department of Justice, and the expungement of official records pursuant to court order.

2. SCOPE. This order applies to all U.S. Attorneys' offices, the Criminal Division, the Justice Management Division, the U.S. Marshals Service, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the * Drug Enforcement Administration, and the Executive Office for U.S. Attorneys.

3. CANCELLATION. Order DOJ 2710.7B is cancelled.

* 4. DEFINITIONS.

a. Expunge. To destroy, delete or obliterate; to blot out; to efface designedly; to strike out wholly; it implies not a legal act, but a physical destruction. As it applies to this order, the expungement of records is not to be greater or less than specified in the order.

b. Seal. Fastened in any manner so as to be closed against inspection of the contents.

66-3286-1456*

5. POLICY. The Justice Management Division, Records Management Section (RMS), will be responsible for the administration of the nonpublic record.

6. RETENTION OF NONPUBLIC RECORD.

DEC 20 1989 DEC 19 1989

a. The U.S. Attorney responsible for the case [illegible] receiving a certified copy of the court order of dismissal and discharge issued under 21 U.S.C. sec. 844(b) (1) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607(a), shall obtain from his/her records all recordation relating to the person's arrest, indictment or information and trial. These recordations shall be prominently identified as nonpublic records under 21 U.S.C.

sec. 844(b)(1) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607(a). A certified copy of the court order of dismissal and discharge, and an executed Form OBD-160, Defendant Information, (with the specific name, address and zip code of each individual or agency or component (Federal, state or local) thereof whom the U.S. Attorney knows or has reason to believe is maintaining a record), shall be forwarded as indicated on Form OBD-160.

b. RMS, upon receipt of a certified copy of the court order of dismissal and discharge and an executed Form OBD-160 from the U.S. Attorney, shall notify the appropriate organizational elements in the department and applicable Federal instrumentalities maintaining records of these matters by Form JMD-96, Retention of Nonpublic Records, and furnish each element with a copy of the court order and Form OBD-160. Said departmental elements and Federal instrumentalities shall be responsible for maintaining their headquarters and field office records as nonpublic and protecting them against disclosure. In addition, RMS shall notify those state and local agencies whom the U.S. Attorney knows or has reason to believe are maintaining relevant records, of the existence and effect of the court order.

7. EXPUNGEMENT OF RECORDS. If the court enters an order under 21 * U.S.C. sec. 844(b) (2) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607(c) to expunge from * all official records (other than the aforesaid nonpublic records to be retained by the Department of Justice) all recordation relating to a person's investigation, arrest, indictment or information, trial, finding of guilty, and dismissal and discharge:

a. The U.S. Attorney responsible for the case shall:

(1) Obtain from the Clerk of Court a certified copy of the court order to expunge.

* (2) Upon receipt of the court order, ascertain the eligibility for expungement based on the age of the defendant to the statute citation.

(3) Immediately appeal, to the district court, a ruling determined to be ineligible based on the age of the defendant at the time of the offense. *

(4) Prepare Form OBD-160 as prescribed in paragraph 6a.

(5) Expunge his/her own records and prepare Form DOJ-329, Certificate of Expungement.

(6) Forward to RMS, the certified copy of the court order to expunge, Form OBD-160, and Form DOJ-329.

b. RMS, upon receipt of a certified copy of the court order to expunge, Form OBD-160, and Form DOJ-329 from the U.S. Attorney, shall notify the appropriate organizational elements in the department and applicable Federal instrumentalities maintaining relevant records by Form JMD-95, Expungement of Records, and furnish each element with a copy of the court order and Form OBD-160. Said departmental elements and Federal instrumentalities shall be responsible for expunging their records and obtaining Form DOJ-329 from their headquarters and field offices, and delivering each Form DOJ-329 to the RMS.

* c. Expungement orders under 21 U.S.C. sec. 844(b) (2) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607(c) require that all records be eliminated, * not sealed, except the nonpublic records to be administered by RMS. The nonpublic record shall consist of a copy of the certified court order to expunge, a copy of Form OBD-160, all applicable Forms DOJ-329, and the fingerprint card forwarded to RMS from the FBI.

8. MULTIPLE DEFENDANTS. If a court discharges a defendant and dismisses the proceedings against him/her under 21 U.S.C. sec. * 844(b) (1) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607(a) and subsequently orders an expungement under 21 U.S.C. sec. 844(b) (2) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607(c), all recordation identifying the defendant and relating * to his/her investigation, arrest, and discharge and dismissal shall be expunged from the records of any co-defendant.

9. AVAILABILITY OF NONPUBLIC RECORDS.

a. RMS shall retain a nonpublic record in accordance with 21 U.S.C. sec. 844(b) (1) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607(a) solely for use by the courts in determining whether or not, in subsequent proceedings, a person qualifies for a dismissal and discharge.

b. When there is reason to believe an individual does not qualify for a dismissal and discharge because of a prior dismissal and discharge under 21 U.S.C. sec. 844(b) (1) or * 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607(a), the U.S. Attorney at the direction * of the court shall submit the individual's fingerprints to RMS, who will request the FBI to match them to existing fingerprint files within the RMS nonpublic record.

c. The nonpublic records retained by the Department shall be available only to a Federal court upon its court order issued to the Attorney General demanding such records, or upon the written request of a U.S. Attorney, for use by a Federal court in determining whether or not a person qualifies under 21 U.S.C. sec. 844(b) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607. Such order or request should be made prior to the application of the sentencing provisions of 21 U.S.C. sec. 844(a), or the dismissal and discharge provisions of 21 U.S.C. sec. 844(b) or 18 U.S.C. sec. 3607.

Dear Mr. Thornton:

[redacted] recently asked us whether or not NARA would approve the substitution of microfilm for paper in the case of permanent FBI case files. Because of restrictions that will limit public access to FBI records after they are accessioned into the National Archives, we would prefer to accession paper records, not film. Consequently, NARA would not approve the destruction after filming of original FBI files that are permanent. NARA approval is not needed if the Bureau wishes to destroy temporary records after filming.

If you have any questions, please let us know.

Sincerely,

DETAILS: Reference is made to [redacted] to Mr. McCreight memoranda dated 7/15/88 and 7/27/88, which advised that numerous alphabetical and numerous publications, dated from the early 1900s, had been removed from the files of the Records Management Division (RMD) and reviewed for final disposition, by the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit (RDAS), Records Research Unit, Records Section, RMD.

b6

RMD requested both the Criminal Investigative Division (CID) and the Intelligence Division (INTD) to assist in determining the appropriate disposition for both the alphabetical and numerical publications. INTD recommended that 1) RMD review the publications to determine if any of the documents had been provided to the FBI by assets and 2) that the documents determined to be appropriate for transfer be offered to the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) for research material prior to the transfer of any material to the Library of Congress. CID concurred with INTD recommendations.

Memorandum from V. R. Thornton to Mr. McCreight, dated 1/31/90
RE: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

In accordance with INTD communications, RDAS has reviewed the publications and those documents determined to have been provided to the FBI by assets have been segregated by RDAS and will be retained by RMD.

By A. H. McCreight to Mr. Geer memorandum dated 5/31/89, RMD forwarded to the Liaison Unit, INTD, for delivery to the CIA, inventories of the alphabetical and numerical publications. On 9/29/89, through the Office of Liaison and International Affairs, the CIA declined the offer to transfer the publications to that agency. Following the CIA declination, contact was made with Mr. [redacted] of the Exchange and Gift Division of the Library of Congress, who agreed to accept the donation of the obsolete publications to the Library of Congress. Written concurrence of Mr. [redacted] agreement was furnished to Mr. [redacted], RDAS, by letter dated 1/8/90. b6 b7C

The attached letter directed to Mr. Kenneth F. Rossman, Director, Records Appraisal and Disposition Division, NARA, requests authority from NARA to complete the transfer of the obsolete publications to the Library of Congress.

Subject: Duplicate Library Materials

ALL FBI INFORMATION CONTAINED

I wish to call your attention to the duplicate publications which the Library of Congress, in accordance with 2 U.S.C. 149, offers to other libraries of the Federal Government, and to ask for your continued cooperation in forwarding to the Library of Congress all library materials which are no longer needed by your agency, in accordance with 41 CFR 101–46.301 and 41 CFR 101–46.405. We are enclosing a copy of a notice that appeared in the December 29, 1977 issue of the Federal Register (Volume 42, Number 250, pages 64934–64935) concerning the Library of Congress' need for excess copies of publications.

The Library's collection of duplicate publications, administered by the Exchange and Gift Division, is housed in the Library of Congress, James Madison Memorial Building, Room LM–B03.

As we have done in the past, we have shelved for your inspection both current and retrospective monographs and bound serial volumes which have proved to be duplicates and excess to our needs; a large portion of these materials comes to us as transfers from other Federal agency libraries.

Although we do not have the facilities to make available to you duplicate single issues of periodicals, selections from these materials are turned over to the Universal Serials and Book Exchange on behalf of all Federal libraries. Consequently, whenever you wish to obtain any publications from the U.S.B.E., it is not necessary for you to furnish the Exchange with any further materials for publications credit.

Under the arrangements described above, our Exchange and Gift Division serves in effect as a clearinghouse for the distribution of excess library materials to the Federal library community (and, subsequently, to non-Federal institutions in the United States). These arrangements are, as mentioned above, dependent upon your continued cooperation in forwarding to us all library materials which are no longer needed by your agency.

The only publications not useful in our program are the daily issues of the Congressional Record and Federal Register. However, it may not be worthwhile, because of the distance and the consequent expense involved in mailing materials from Federal libraries outside the Washington area, for those libraries to send to us all their duplicate publications, particularly U.S. copyrighted materials which are almost certain to be already represented in the collections of the Library of Congress. We do request, however, that you send us all duplicate or unwanted publications which are of more than ordinary value because of rarity, cost, or

Washington, D.C. 20540
STOP 141 (for libraries in the Washington area)

The material from outside the Washington area should be mailed (or shipped pre-paid) to the Exchange and Gift Division. The regular franked mailing label will carry a package weighing up to seventy pounds within the United States.

Each representative who makes selections from the Library's duplicates collection should present a letter from the librarian of his agency authorizing him to select from this collection. This letter, which can name as many representatives as you wish, will be kept on file in the Exchange and Gift Division. We realize that representativees of those libraries located outside the Washington area may not be in a position to visit the Exchange and Gift Division except on those occasions when other business brings them to Washington. They should keep in mind, however, that they may authorize someone in this area to act on their behalf in selecting publications from our duplicate collection.

We shall appreciate your cooperation in sending us your duplicates. The Chief of the Exchange and Gift Division, Nathan R. Einhorn, and Peter H. Bridge, the Assistant Chief, will be glad to answer any questions that you may have about this program. Libraries using the CENTREX system may call 287–5243; those without CENTREX may call Area Code 202, 287–5243.

has prepared a draft supplement to the final environmental statement for the authorized O'Neill Unit Project, Nebr. The final statement, designated INT FES 72-34, was filed with the Council on Environmental Quality and publicly distributed on September 22, 1972.

The supplement addresses the geology of the Norden damsite, ground water quality in the O'Neill service area, wildlife impacts, and researching techniques for improving livestock and crop production without diminishing ground-water reserves by irrigation. This supplement and its four technical appendices are prepared in response to Civil Action 75-L-96 of the United States District Court for the District of Nebraska judgment that the final statement was inadequate in the above categories.

Written comments may be submitted to the Regional Director (address below) by February 13, 1978.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Drug Enforcement Administration

[Docket No. 77-31]

COMMONWEALTH WHOLESALE DRUG CO.

Denial of Registration

On October 18, 1977, the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration ("DEA"), directed to Commonwealth Wholesale Drug Co., Inc. ("Respondent"), an Order to Show Cause proposing to deny the Respondent's application for registration under the Controlled Substances Act as a distributor of Schedule III through V controlled substances. The Respondent requested a hearing and this matter was docketed by the Administrative Law Judge.

On December 8, 1977, pursuant to 21 CFR §§ 1316.54 and 1316.55, and following the exchange of written prehearing statements, the Administrative Law Judge convened a prehearing conference by telephone. Judge Young and counsel for both the Government and the Respondent participated in this conference. Subsequently, the Administrative Law Judge issued his prehearing ruling, containing, inter alia, the issues which he would consider in the hearing of this matter.

On December 12, 1977, the Respondent, through counsel, withdrew its request for a hearing on the issues raised by the Order to Show Cause and, on December 19, 1977, the Administrative Law Judge terminated all proceedings in this matter then pending before him.

Subsections (a) through (e) of section 303 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 823(a)-823(e)), set forth the factors which are to be considered in determining whether the issuance of a registration to manufacture or distribute controlled substances would be in the public interest. These factors include the maintenance of effective controls against the diversion of controlled substances from legitimate to illegitimate channels, compliance with applicable State and local laws, the prior conviction record of an applicant under Federal or State laws relating to controlled substances, the applicant's past experience in the handling of controlled substances, and such other factors as may be relevant to the public health and safety.

In a case, such as this one, in which a new application for registration is involved, the applicant's prior experience in the handling of controlled substances may be scant, remote or possibly nonexistent. In such cases, other factors become relatively more important and relevant. The essence of the aforementioned factors is "trust." That is, can the applicant be entrusted with the responsibility of securing controlled substances, taking adequate measures to prevent their diversion and keeping complete and accurate records with respect to their acquisition, inventory and distribution? Controlled substances, if diverted from legitimate medical, scientific, and industrial channels, pose a danger to the public health and safety. Congress has mandated a system of law and regulations designed to maintain a closed system of distribution and thereby to lessen the potential for diversion of these drugs. Distributors and manufacturers of controlled substances can be expected to handle greater quantities and wider varieties of controlled substances than other types of registrants. Consequently, the public trust to be imposed on these registrants or licensees is relatively greater than that imposed on other registrants whose contacts with controlled substances are fewer or more remote.

The Administrator, pursuant to 21 CFR §§ 1301.54(d) and 1301.54(e), has considered all of the facts and circumstances involved in this matter and has concluded that the registration of Commonwealth Wholesale Drug Co., Inc., to be a distributor of controlled substances would not be consistent with the public interest.

Therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in the Attorney General, and redelegated to the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration, the Administrator orders that the application of Commonwealth Wholesale Drug Co., Inc., be, and it hereby is, denied.

Dated: December 22, 1977.

PETER B. BENSINGER,
Administrator, Drug Enforcement Administration.

NATIONAL FOUNDATION ON THE ARTS AND THE HUMANITIES

FELLOWSHIPS PANEL

Meeting

DECEMBER 22, 1977.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92-463, as amended), notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Fellowships Panel will be held at 806 15th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20506, in room 314, from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on January 25, 1978.

The purpose of the meeting is to review Fellowships in Residence for College Teachers applications in the field of History sumitted to the National Endowment for the Humanities for projects beginning after June 1, 1978.

Because the proposed meeting will consider financial information and disclose information of a personal nature the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy, pursuant to authority granted by the Acting Chairman's Delegation of Authority to Close Advisory Committee Meetings, dated August 2, 1977, I have determined that the meeting would fall within exemptions (4) and (6) of 5 U.S.C. 552b(c) and that it is essential to close the meeting to protect the free exchange of internal views and to avoid interference with operation of the Committee.

It is suggested that those desiring more specific information contact the Advisory Committee Management Officer, Mr. Stephen J. McCleary, 806 15th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20506, or call area code 202-724-0367.

Dear Mr. Rossman,

"Destruction of Field Files and Records

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is in possession of approximately 169 cubic feet of public source material consisting of newspapers, magazines, booklets, pamphlets and other informational type publications which the FBI would like to make available to the Library of Congress.

These public source publications, which were collected by the FBI during the course of bona fide criminal and/or security investigations, are no longer accessed by the FBI. The records are currently in storage at FBI Headquarters. The records will be tranferred to the Library of Congress, at the discretion of the employees of the Library of Congress. No restrictions will be imposed on the use of the records, by the FBI, inasmuch as the records are public source material. The transfer of these publications will permit the recovery of much needed office space by the FBI.

Attached is a letter from the Library of Congress confirming their desire to accept these records in accordance with Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 101, Subparts 46.301 and 46.405.

Subject : DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

PURPOSE: To advise of FBIHQ and Field Office progress in the captioned program.

RECOMMENDATION: None. For information only.

APPROVED: Director, Dep. Dir., ADD-Adm., ADD-Inv., Adm. Servs., Crim. Inv., Ident., Inspection, Inteil., Laboratory, Legal Coun., Rec. Mgnt., Tech. Servs., Training, Cong. Affs. Off., Off. of EEO, Off. of Liaison & Int. Affs., Off. of Public Affs.

DETAILS: Resolution of the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et al v. William H. Webster, et al. on 9/9/86, enabled the FBI to resume destruction of obsolete file and record material after identifying and making for permanent retention and eventual transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), FBIHQ and field files and records having historical and/or research value.

Since 9/9/86, FBIHQ has destroyed 6,920.55 linear feet of obsolete records.

By airtel dated 12/14/87, all field offices were authorized to destroy auxiliary office files in numerous classifications as well as the destruction of obsolete file and record material in a limited number of miscellaneous categories.

FBI/DOJ

Memorandum from V. R. Thornton to Mr. Christensen 3/20/90
RE: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

By Bulet 12/13/89, all field offices were surveyed to determine the progress of the destruction program. The survey revealed that since 12/87, the field offices, except Boston and San Francisco, have destroyed a total of 22,549.20 linear feet of obsolete file and record material. Of this total, 5,617.65 linear feet were destroyed since 7/1/89.

By memorandum 1/12/90, the Boston (BS) office advised that an extreme shortage of support personnel staff has prevented that office from pursuing file destruction. However, a recent increase in personnel resources will now enable BS to commence with file destruction.

On 12/19/89, San Francisco (SF) advised that no file destruction has been accomplished in SF. That SF closed files eligible for destruction pursuant to current guidelines have been transferred to WRCSC, Pocatello, Idaho, and that destruction will be accomplished at the WRCSC. Future statistics regarding the destruction of SF files will be reported by the WRCSC.

Each field office, as requested, has identified the classification/categories of records wherein destruction has not been addressed, and the estimated number of linear feet of shelf/cabinet space that could be recovered if destruction was brought into a current status.

The attached list identifies the volume of material destroyed by each field office, the status of destruction in each office, the two field offices that have not destroyed any material, and the approximate space that would be recovered if destruction were current.

DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS
NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION (NARA)
APPRAISAL OF FBI AND FIELD OFFICE RECORDS
BUDED 2/9/90

The NARA has reviewed the fourth "Name Exceptional" case list and, as a result determined that many of the FBIHQ files meet the "Name Exceptional" case criteria and are of sufficient historical value to warrant permanent retention for eventual transfer to NARA. The "Name Exceptional" category was established during the development of the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule, which was approved by the U.S. District Court, District of Columbia, 9/9/86.

The field "Office of Origin" file numbers identified by the NARA during the review of FBIHQ files are set forth below by field office. By close of business 2/9/90, recipient field offices are requested to advise FBIHQ, Attn: Records Section (RS), Records Research Unit (RRU), Records Disposition and Archival Subunit (RDAS), Records Management Division (RMD), of the volume (section) and serial scope of each respective "office of origin" file listed. Once NARA has reviewed this information and determined if the field "office of origin" file meets the "Name Exceptional" criteria, you will be notified to stamp the file cover with the legend "X, Do Not Destroy, Historical Value, National Archives." Do not stamp any files until so advised by FBIHQ.

Subject : PROPOSED CHANGE IN MANUAL OF ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS AND PROCEDURES (MAOP)

PURPOSE: To place in MAOP instructions regarding the destruction of field files and records and delete from MAOP instructions rendered obsolete by the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule (The Plan) which was approved by the U. S. District Court, Washington, D. C., 9/9/86. The instructions were communicated to the field by Buairtel 12/14/87, entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records".

DETAILS:

REASON FOR CHANGE

From 1/10/80 until 9/9/86, the FBI was enjoined from engaging in a file destruction program. The injunction was predicated upon the civil matter "American Friends Service Committee, et al. v. William H. Webster et al." (U.S.D.C., District of Columbia, Washington, D. C.) Civil Action No. 79-1655.

Plaintiffs, numerous individuals and organizations filed civil action, supra, seeking to prevent the FBI from carrying out its Records Destruction Program on the basis that the FBI's actions violated various laws and interfered with their rights and interests. After review of voluminous memoranda and subsequent to an evidentiary hearing, the District Court (The Honorable Harold Greene) found that plaintiffs had standing to bring suit under Title 5, United States Code (U.S.C.), Section 701, et seq., commonly known as the Administrative Procedure Act (APA). This ruling was based on plaintiffs' perceived need for access to research material in their respective professions (i.e., historians, journalists, teachers) and the need to discover any evidence necessary to commence legal action to remedy alleged wrongs.

The Court also found that the FBI's document disposal plan contravened both the procedural directives and the substantive purpose of the records management laws. Accordingly, the aforementioned injunction was issued and the FBI was enjoined from engaging in a file destruction program until a satisfactory records retention plan was established. As a consequence, the defendants, the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) and the FBI were ordered to develop The Plan for submission to the Court for approval. The Plan was developed and subsequently approved by the Court on 9/9/86; thus, the injunction was vacated.

The Plan renders many of the previously authorized file destruction instructions obsolete. Consequently, new guidelines and instructions have been established and communicated to the field. The new instructions and guidelines are being placed in the MAOP and obsolete instructions are being deleted.

Required contact was made with the Manuals Desk, Records Management Division, for necessary coordination and assistance prior to the preparation of this memorandum.

CHANGED TEXT

MAOP, Part II, Sections 2-4.5 through 2-4.5.8 (9), pages 303 through 307, delete and substitute the following:

2-4.5 Destruction Of Field Files And Records

The destruction of FBI files and records is governed by Title, 44 U.S. Code, Section 3303 and 3303a; Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1220, the General Records Schedule (GRS); and the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule (The Plan) developed by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) and the FBI, which was approved by the United States District Court, District of Columbia, Washington, D. C., September 9, 1986.

Memorandum from V. R. Thornton to Mr. Christensen
RE: Proposed Change in Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP)

FILES AND RECORDS NOT IDENTIFIED HEREINAFTER ARE NOT TO BE DESTROYED WITHOUT SPECIFIC FBIHQ AUTHORITY.

The following field files and records are authorized for destruction after observance of the instructions and restrictions set forth below. The file number and date of destruction are to be recorded on Form FD-478 (List of Files Destroyed/Transferred to FBIHQ). Form FD-478 containing the file numbers and dates files were destroyed is to be maintained at the beginning of each respective classification in the closed files section. For files bearing the Universal Case File Number (UCFN), the FD-478 should be filed at the beginning of the field office breakdown in the closed files section. At the option of each office, an additional copy of Form FD-478 may be maintained in an administrative control file entitled "List of Files Destroyed."

2-4.5.1 Restrictions:

(1) Periodically, and pursuant to criteria outlined in The Plan, FBIHQ issues to the field instructions to stamp certain field files/records, including auxiliary office files with 50 or more volumes/sections, with legends "Do not Destroy: Historical Value: National Archives" and/or "X: Do not Destroy: Historical Value: National Archives." Files so stamped are permanent and must be retained for eventual transfer to the NARA.

(2) Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOI/PA) Request:

Upon receipt of an FOI/PA request in the field office, the request must be immediately searched through the office indices to identify any relevant files which must be immediately marked to indicate that an FOI/PA request is pending and to preclude premature destruction pending resolution of the request.

(3) Litigation Matters:

No field office may engage in file destruction until all litigation matters have been searched through the office indices and relevant files identified and marked for retention pending resolution of the litigation. Case files which bear the notation that files are being retained due to pending litigation are to be maintained until notification is received from FBIHQ that the litigation has been resolved. Upon receipt of new litigation matters from FBIHQ, all file destruction must cease until the new litigation freeze sheets have been searched through the office indices and related files identified and marked for retention pending resolution of the litigation.

(4) Tax Returns/Tax Return Information:

Tax returns and/or tax return information are to be removed from auxiliary office files prior to destruction and forwarded to the office of origin for retention in the office of origin file for five (5) years from date of receipt of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) material from IRS, or five (5) years from the date of any disclosure, whichever is longer.

(5) Original Documents: Original FD-302s, Laboratory reports, Latent Fingerprint reports, original surveillance logs, Agents' investigative notes, original photographs and other original documents maintained in the 1-A exhibit section of auxiliary office case files are to be forwarded to the office of origin prior to destruction of the auxiliary file. Form FD-491 (Transmittal of Original Documents to Office of Origin) may be used for this purpose.

(6) Investigative/Administrative Needs:

Case files which continue to serve investigative, administrative or research needs may be retained if deemed necessary. If a case file that has not been marked for archival retention is retained beyond the authorized destruction period, a memorandum should be placed in each case file justifying the need for longer retention.

where really exhibits?

2-4.5.2 Destruction - Investigative Files and Records:

(1) Index Cards: Automated index records in the Field Office Information Management System (FOIMS) data base should be deleted when the corresponding file is destroyed. Manual index records corresponding to files destroyed may be purged from the general indices at the discretion of the SAC.

(2) Copy Destruction: Duplicate copies of communications which do not contain action notations, i.e., notations issuing instructions, notations requesting action be taken, notations of certification that action was taken, etc., may be removed from files that have been stamped as having historical/research value (exceptional/permanent) and destroyed. Copies of documents which contain action notations not appearing on the original file copy are to be retained along with the original file copy. Similarly, copies of documents in other investigative case files may be purged and destroyed when the case is Closed/Referred Upon Completion (Ruc'd).

(3) Record Checks:

(a) Auxiliary offices may destroy, when six (6) months old, results of contacts with various credit, law enforcement, and Federal, state and local Bureaus to determine criminal, credit and/or employment status of individuals related to current investigations.

(b) Record Checks in office of origin are to be retained/destroyed commensurate with the disposition authority of the office of origin case file to which the record check relates.

(4) Auxiliary Office Files:

(a) Auxiliary office files in the following classifications may be destroyed one (1) year after RUC'd, or one year from the date of the last relevant communication, whichever is later, AND AFTER OBSERVANCE OF THE FOREGOING RESTRICTIONS/INSTRUCTIONS:

Classifications:

(b) Classification 81: After a determination has been made that none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable, auxiliary offices case files in classification 81 may be destroyed after one (1) year in all offices except Portland and former Butte field office. Butte auxiliary office files in the 81 classification created prior to the Butte/Salt Lake City merger 6/6/89, and now resident in Salt Lake City, are permanent and must be retained.

(5) FOI/PA FILES: Files containing correspondence and supporting documents (excluding official file copy of material if filed therein) two (2) years after the date of reply, provided access was granted to all records requested and no appeal was filed, files containing responses to requester for nonexistent records, responses to requester who provided inadequate description, or those where requester failed to pay reproduction fees.

(6) Zero "O" Files: Zero "O" files in classifications one (1) through two hundred fifty-eight (258), exclusive of classifications 192, 213 and 214, may be destroyed when three (3) years old or when all administrative needs have been met, whichever is later. Prior to destruction, Zero "O" file material must be carefully reviewed and any policy material identified transferred to the corresponding Double Zero "OO" file for permanent retention.

(7) Nontax Criminal Information: Destroy when five (5) years old, copies of correspondence maintained in administrative control files concerning nontax criminal information requested and obtained from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). See MIOG, Part II, Section 19.

(8) Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts Requests:

Files and records relating to FOI/PA requests are authorized for destruction six (6) years after the date of last relevant entry, reply to requester, final adjudication by court and/or FBI agreement to amend:

(a) Records involved in litigation;

(b) Those under appeal;

(c) Those records involved in request to amend and/or expunge certain information, and;

(d) Those files where access to all or part of the records requested was denied.

(9) Classification 163: Auxiliary office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in classification 163 may be destroyed if closed for ten (10) years or longer and if none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

(10) Office of Origin files in the following classifications may be destroyed when ten (10) years old if none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

Classifications:

11, 13, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24,
30, 33, 34, 53, 57, 59, 68,
78, 84, 85, 95, 107, 135, 136,
154, 155, 169, and 171

(11) Classification 116: Auxiliary office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in classification 116 created between November, 1947, and September, 1948, and contain no correspondence between the field office and FBIHQ are permanent and must be retained for eventual transfer to the NARA.

Remaining auxiliary office case files in the 116 classification may be destroyed if closed for twenty (20) years and none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable.

(12) Auxiliary Office (FBIHQ is origin) case files in the following classifications may be destroyed if closed for twenty (20) years or longer after a determination has been made that none of the foregoing restrictions are applicable:

Classifications:

37, 77, 118, 121, 124, 126, 127, 128, 130, 132, 133, 138, 140, 151, and 161

(13) Legat Files and Records:

(a) The NARA has designated all Hong Kong and Mexico City Legat investigative case files and corresponding index cards as exceptional/permanent; consequently, there will be no destruction of these records. All other Legat files and corresponding index cards are eligible for destruction when five (5) years old after application of the criteria of The Plan to identify exceptional/permanent case files in this collection. Closed Legat files are stored at FBIHQ; therefore, they will be reviewed by the Records Management Division to identify and mark for preservation any exceptional/permanent Legat files. A numerical list of files to be transferred to the NARA and an alphabetical listing, by file number, of information indexed in exceptional/permanent Legat files will be furnished to all Legats with instructions to purge the Legat indices and forward the index records to FBIHQ to be matched with the corresponding exceptional/permanent file for eventual transfer to the NARA. After the index records have been purged and forwarded to FBIHQ, the index purge list may be destroyed by the Legat. The numerical list of files transferred to the NARA should be retained by the Legat for future reference.

(b) Remaining Legat files, except Hong Kong and Mexico City, will be destroyed according to the five (5) year authority granted by the NARA. In conjunction with the destruction process, the files will be reviewed and a list made of all information indexed by Legats. The Legats, except Hong Kong and Mexico City, will be furnished a list of all files destroyed and a listing of all information indexed by the Legats. These listings are to be used by the Legats to purge and destroy the corresponding microfiche and index records. The list of information indexed may be destroyed once the index purge and destruction process have been completed. The list of files destroyed is to be retained by the Legat for future reference.

2-4.5.3 Destruction - Noninvestigative Files and Records:

Copy Destruction: Duplicate copies of communications may be destroyed at any time if they contain no action notations, i.e., notations issuing instructions, notations requesting action be taken, notations of certification that action was taken, etc. Copies bearing aforementioned notations not appearing on the original file copy of the communication must be retained with the original document until the entire file qualifies for destruction.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
FORM FD-215

Re MAOP: Part II, 2-4.5.6, page 304 and to MEMORANDUM 39-80 dated 11/24/80.

According to the MAOP, the Daily Report for Security Patrol Clerk, Form FD-215, may be destroyed when six-months old. However, this citation is not included in MEMORANDUM 39-80 which granted a limited destruction program for certain administrative records in view of the injunction issued on 1/10/80 which prohibited the destruction of FBI files and records.

Inasmuch as the this injunction was vacated on 9/9/86 and since this form serves no useful purpose after it is six months old, it is requested that Bureau advise Buffalo the disposition requirements regarding this form.

Destruction of Field Files and Records

Dear Mr. Thornton:

This is in response to your letter of January 31, 1990, concerning certain printed materials the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has accumulated. We believe that these materials are nonrecord. Consequently, the FBI does not need approval from the National Archives and Records Administration to transfer them to the Library of Congress.

If you have any further questions regarding this matter, please contact [redacted] at 724-1493.

Destruction of Field Files and Records

Dear Records Officer:

Enclosed are Notices of Intent to Destroy Records. These records are scheduled for destruction in July 1990. Please review these notices and notify us if the records are incorrectly scheduled for destruction or must be retained because of pending litigation or claims. You must notify us if you want these records retained even if you have notified us in the past disposal cycles.

Please note that we have resumed sending notices for accountable officers' files, commonly known as site audit records. The disposition authority for these records is General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1a.

To ensure that no site audit records are destroyed which are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions, please review these notices also and notify us if the records must be retained.

Please note that the disposition authority for accountable officer records was modified in late 1984. General Records Schedule 6 item 1a does not cover accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. These records cannot be destroyed. If the disposition authority for any records scheduled as GRS 6 item 1a contain records pertaining to American Indians please notify us.

Memorandum from V. R. Thornton to Mr. Christensen
Re: Archival Authorization for
Destruction of Bureau Records

Visa Applicant Mail

In 5/88, the Archivist of the United States authorized the destruction of Visa Applicant mail which contains no indexing. This decision was very beneficial to the Records Processing Subunit (RPSU), Records Section (RS), RMD, since approximately 35 percent of the Visa Applicant mail received fell into this category and did not have to be processed for file. However, the volume of Visa Applicant mail is tremendous and the limited personnel resources of the RPSU were unable to remain current with the processing and alternative methods of handling Visa Applicant mail had to be devised.

The Office of Automation and Information Management, RMD, in concert with the Technical Services, Intelligence and Criminal Investigative Divisions, established a procedure whereby Visa Applicant mail will be received from the submitting agency in electronic form and automatically entered into the IIS for storage and future retrieval. The Visa Applicant mail in the RPSU's backlog of mail to be processed (approximately 220,000 pieces) is being transported to the Butte ITC for entry into the IIS by employees at that Center. The electronic information in the IIS is identical to the information on the Visa Applicant mail.

The General Records Schedule (GRS) 20, Item 2.a., captioned "Input/Source Records," address the issue of non-electronic documents or forms designed and used solely to create, update, or modify the records in an electronic medium and not required for audit or legal purposes (such as need for signatures) and not previously scheduled for permanent retention in a National Archives and Records Administration-approved agency records schedule. This section of the GRS authorizes the destruction of these documents after the information has been converted to an electronic medium and verified, or when no longer needed to support the reconstruction of, or serve as the backup to the master file, whichever is later.

Based on the above, the Butte ITC should be instructed to destroy the Visa Applicant mail being processed for the RPSU upon entry into the IIS.

Destruction of Bureau Records

Reference conversation between [redacted], Automated Data Processing and Telecommunications (ADPT) Security Staff, Technical Services Division (TSD), and Mr. [redacted] Unit Chief, Records Research Unit (RRU), Records Management Division (RMD), on 2/9/90, regarding captioned matter.

PURPOSE: To request RMD guidance on the preservation/destruction of automated mainframe computer audit records maintained by TSD.

RECOMMENDATION: That RMD provide guidance on the preservation/destruction of automated mainframe computer audit records maintained by TSD.

APPROVED:	Adm. Servs.	Legal Coun.	Off. of Liaison

DETAILS: TSD is seeking guidance in determining the preservation/destruction schedule of automated mainframe computer audit records. For RRU's information, the Freedom of Information - Privacy Acts (FOIPA) Section, RMD, opines that automated audit records constitute a system of records, as defined in the Privacy Act of 1974. TSD, with FOIPA's guidance, is filing the FBI's mainframe automated audit records in the Federal Register.

FBI/DOJ

TSD maintains audit records detailing the activities of ADP users against the files and databases maintained on the FBI's mainframe computers. These computers are used for official Bureau use, and are accessed only by appropriately authorized users. These types of audit records are maintained for a number of different purposes: a) damage assessments, b) Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) investigations, c) "activity logs", d) security violations, and e) reconstruction of lost automated data. During damage assessments and OPR investigations, TSD may need to determine what information stored in the FBI's mainframe computer systems was accessed (e.g., viewed, modified, updated or deleted) by a specific authorized automated information system (AIS) user. Likewise, such investigations may require that TSD determine what authorized AIS user(s) accessed a specific segment of automated information. "Activity logs" are used to reflect job performance of FBI employees, e.g., capturing the number of new records added to an automated file per day, per employee. In addition, AISs capture security violations occurring on the AIS (e.g., failed log-on attempts). Lastly, TSD can reconstruct lost data by reviewing audit logs detailing recent activities (e.g., updates) against specific AIS files and databases.

The specific type of audit information collected is dependent on the AIS being supported as well as the purpose(s) for which it is being maintained. In general, however, automated mainframe computer audit records include, but are not strictly limited to: a) user ID, b) terminal ID from where the action logged was initiated, c) name of file/databse accessed, d) location of file/database accessed, e) the specific type of action initiated (e.g., query, adds, updates, and deletes), f) information viewed by the user as a result of a specific action, and g) information pertaining to security violations (e.g., attempts to access/update data for which the user is not authorized; an invalid log-on attempt). Audit logs are retrievable by the User ID, which is associated with and unique to each authorized AIS user.

It is recommended that RMD review the above information and provide TSD with appropriate guidance on the preservation/destruction of automated mainframe computer audit records maintained by TSD. Questions regarding this matter may be directed to Mrs. [redacted] ADPT Security Staff, TSD (x2236). b6 b7C

This matter has been coordinated with Mr. [redacted], Database Administration (DBA) Program Manager, TSD.

Memorandum from V. R. Thornton to Mr. Christensen dated 3/23/90
RE: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

On 3/21/90, two employees of the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit, Records Research Unit, Records Section, Records Management Division, delivered 125 cartons, totaling 109.7 linear feet, to the Library of Congress. Additionally, 5.25 linear feet of material, which was determined to be inappropriate for transfer to the Library of Congress, for reasons set forth in referenced memoranda, has been destroyed in view of the NARA determination that the publications were non-record material.

Attached, for record purposes, is a receipt from the Library of Congress acknowledging delivery of the 109.7 linear feet of material.

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20540

March 21, 1990

This is to acknowledge receipt of 109.7 linear feet of obsolete records from the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the above date. The FBI records were packed in 125 cartons and delivered to the Library of Congress in two shipments by two FBI employees. This transfer is in accordance with the regulations set forth in Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 101, Parts 46.301 and 46.405.

DETAILS: On 2/24/90, the Records Disposition/Archival Subunit (RDAS), Records Research Unit, Information Services Section, Information Management Division, began conducting a review of Bufile 66-2058 (Motor Vehicle Accidents Involving Bureau Cars). This destruction review included the main file and all field office sub-files. The purpose of the review was to destroy all material within Bufile 66-2058, authorized for destruction in accordance with General Records Schedule (GRS) 10, Item 5, which provides that all records related to motor vehicle accidents may be destroyed six years after the accident case is closed. Bufile 66-2058 was established in 1938 and the destruction review, of records dated prior to 1/1/84, was completed on 7/21/90. This project was not disruptive to the destruction/transfer review of files in the 42,87, and 91 classifications, which is beneficial to both the FBIHQ Central Records System and to FBI field offices, currently underway in RDAS. If additional overtime funding is provided to RDAS, subsequent destruction reviews will be undertaken in other classifications thereby providing additional benefits, in terms of space gains to FBIHQ. Memorandum from G. Norman Christensen to Mr. Bayse dated 3/26/90
Re: PRESERVATION/DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

On 3/16/90, [redacted], Archives Specialist, Records Disposition/Archival Subunit, Records Research Unit, Records Section, RMD, contacted [redacted] Appraisal Archivist, National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), who advised that the records described by TSD in referenced memorandum can be disposed of in accordance with General Records Schedule (GRS) 20, Item 1 (c), which states as follows: b6 b7C

1. Files/Records Created in Central ADP Facilities to Create, Use, and Maintain Master Files

   c. Electronic files and hard copy printouts created to monitor system usage, including, but not limited to, log-in files, password files, audit trail files, system usage files, and cost-back files used to assess charges for system use.

   Authorized Disposition

   Delete/destroy when no longer needed in accordance with sound business practice and agency standard operating procedures. b6 b7C

[redacted] advises that, in conjunction with the GRS, The Plan will be modified by NARA to indicate destruction authorization for these records.

Date 5/21/90

To: Assistant Director, Administrative Services Division

From: (Suggester's name) SA [redacted]

Division of Assignment: WASHINGTON METROPOLITAN

SUGGESTION: When a pre-Universal Case File Number (UCFN) file is destroyed, a notation should be made on the FD-478 "List of Files Destroyed/Transferred to FBIHQ," showing the Office of Origin (OO) and the OO File Number.

X Form FD-478

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts): (MAOP, Part II, Sect. 2-4.5.1) When files are destroyed, Form FD-478 containing file numbers and dates of destruction is to be maintained in front of each respective section in Closed Files.

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

When an indices search produces a reference to a destroyed file, there is currently no way of determining the OO (pre-UCFN). With the adoption of this suggestion, it would then be possible to contact the OO and obtain needed information.

66-3286-1478X

Disadvantages of suggestion: None. The only costs involved would be in the revision of the current Form FD-478 to include a line for listing the OO and OO File Number.

(SA)

Recommendations and comments of Division Head: This suggestion has merit for pre-UCFN files and SAC, WMFO recommends it be adopted. The benefits which would be derived for Case Agents outweigh the costs to revise the Form FD-478.

Re: Suggestion 50-91, dated 5/21/90, from the Washington Metropolitan Field Office

ADDENDUM OF THE INFORMATION MANAGEMENT DIVISION (IMD), 2/15/91, SHM:shm

The IMD has reviewed referenced suggestion that form FD-478 be revised to include a section that would list the Office of Origin (OO) and OO file number of pre-Universal Case File Number (UCFN) cases when ~~as~~ destroyed. Currently, when an indices search produces a reference to a destroyed file, there is no way of determining the OO when the file is pre-UCFN.

It is the opinion of IMD that this suggestion has merit and, with a slight modification, should be implemented. The suggestion requested that two columns be added to the form FD-478 (for the OO and OO file number in pre-UCFN cases.) However, this would greatly congest the form. IMD suggests that only the OO be captured. Once the OO is known to the Auxiliary Office (AO), if necessary can telephone the OO and obtain the file number.

An example of the FD-478 with IMD's modification to the suggestion, is attached.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That adoption of the modified suggestion (copy attached) proposed by IMD, i.e., capturing only the OO, be implemented.

APPROVED:

(2) If approved, IMD recommends that form FD-478 be revised at the next printing.

Dear Records Officer: Destruction of Field Files and Records.

Enclosed are Notices of Intent to Destroy Records. These records are scheduled for destruction in January 1991. Please review these notices and notify us if the records are incorrectly scheduled for destruction or must be retained because of pending litigation or claims. You must notify us if you want these records retained even if you have notified us in the past disposal cycles.

Please note that we have resumed sending notices for accountable officers' files, commonly known as site audit records. The disposition authority for these records is General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1a.

To ensure that no site audit records are destroyed which are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions, please review these notices also and notify us if the records must be retained.

Please note that the disposition authority for accountable officer records was modified in late 1984. General Records Schedule 6 item 1a does not cover accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. These records cannot be destroyed. If the disposition authority for any records scheduled as GRS 6 item 1a contain records pertaining to American Indians please notify us.

Subject: DESTRUCTION OF FIELD OFFICE FILES AND RECORDS

Reference Honolulu (HN) airtel 7/5/90, captioned as above.

By referenced airtel HN requested authority to destroy material related to the movement of foreign nationals maintained in various HN files.

For information of HN, all requests for authority to dispose of file and record material not covered by the FBI Records Retention Plan and Disposition Schedule (The Plan) must be coordinated with the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). The Plan does not address special categories of records as described in reairtel and contained in various HN files which were forwarded to the Bureau for a review and determination regarding disposition. Thus, the Information Management Division must coordinate the HN requests with the NARA. HN will be advised upon receipt of final disposition authority from the NARA.

The following HN files are being returned at this time for retention pending receipt of disposition authority from the NARA:

Subject : DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS

SUBJECT: To advise of FBIHQ and Field Office progress in the captioned program.

DETAILS: Resolution of the civil matter American Friends Service Committee, et. al., v. William H. Webster, et. al., on 9/9/86, enabled the FBI to resume destruction of obsolete file and record material after identifying and marking for permanent retention and eventual transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), FBIHQ and field files and records having historical and/or research value.

Since 9/9/86, 7,394.05 linear feet of obsolete FBIHQ files and records have been destroyed.

By Buairtel 12/14/87, all field offices were authorized to destroy auxiliary office files in numerous classifications as well as the destruction of obsolete file and record material in a limited number of miscellaneous categories.

By Bulet 6/4/90, all field offices were surveyed to determine the progress of the destruction program. The survey (results attached) revealed that since 12/87, all offices have destroyed a total of 27,146.85 linear feet of obsolete file and record material. Of this total 4,633.15 linear feet were destroyed since 1/1/90.

RECOMMENDATION: None. For information only.

Destruction of Field Files and Records

Dear Records Officer:

Enclosed are Notices of Intent to Destroy Records. These records are scheduled for destruction in July 1991. Please review these notices and notify us if the records are incorrectly scheduled for destruction or must be retained because of pending litigation or claims. You must notify us if you want these records retained even if you have notified us in the past disposal cycles.

Please note that we have resumed sending notices for accountable officers' files, commonly known as site audit records. The disposition authority for these records is General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1a.

To ensure that no site audit records are destroyed which are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions, please review these notices also and notify us if the records must be retained.

Please note that the disposition authority for accountable officer records was modified in late 1984. General Records Schedule 6 item 1a does not cover accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. These records cannot be destroyed. If the disposition authority for any records scheduled as GRS 6 item 1a contain records pertaining to American Indians please notify us.

Archivist of the United States

Washington, D. C. 20408

Dear Mr. Wilson: Destruction of Field Files and Records

Reference is made to your letter dated February 21, 1991, regarding the volume of Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) records from the World War II era that have not yet been transferred to the National Archives.

There are approximately 90,000 (10,000 cubic feet) FBI investigative records from the World War II era. It is estimated that approximately 25 to 30 percent of these records, which to date have not been transferred to the National Archives, would meet the criteria and requirements to accession records as outlined in the FBI Records Disposition Schedule dated May 13, 1987. All are subject to a record-by-record, document-by-document review, primarily for classification rather than declassification. This action is required since, prior to the mid-1970s, very few documents containing classified information were ever appropriately marked. The structure, content, and sensitivity of the records are not suitable for bulk review due to the manner in which classified information may be distributed throughout the record. Approximately four cubic feet of the aforementioned records have been reviewed for declassification in connection with Freedom of Information Act requests. Although these records do not meet the guidelines of the FBI Records Disposition Schedule for transfer when 50 years old, they can be transferred earlier by mutual agreement between the FBI and the National Archives. The FBI will, in the immediate future, contact appropriate officials at the National Archives to determine their interest in making arrangements for early accession of these records.

The FBI is keenly sensitive to the concerns that historical and research records be accessioned to the National Archives, and is aggressively pursuing this endeavor. However, because of limited personnel resources and pressing investigative and administrative priorities, the FBI is unable to provide additional resources to address classification/declassification matters at this time.

I have made a note of the next Steering Committee meeting scheduled for June 3, 1991, and will await further details.

Memorandum from R. G. Prillaman to Mr. Christensen
RE: Destruction of Field Files and Records

By airtel 12/14/87, all field offices were authorized to destroy auxiliary office files in numerous classifications as well as the destruction of obsolete file and record material in a number of miscellaneous categories.

By Buairtel 12/21/90, all field offices were surveyed to determine the progress of the destruction program. The survey (results attached) revealed that since 12/87, all offices have destroyed a total of 32,970.65 linear feet of obsolete file and record material. Of this total, 6,174.96 linear feet were destroyed during the period of 6/1/90 through 12/31/90.

SER
REC

To : Mr. Christensen

Date 4/4/91

From : R. G. Prillaman

Subject: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

PURPOSE: To advise that removal and destruction of the 3 X 5 manual index cards stored at the National Underground Storage (NUS) facility, Boyers, Pennsylvania, has been accomplished.

RECOMMENDATION: None - for information.

DETAILS: In early 1988, approximately 30,348,000 3 X 5 manual index cards (13,464 linear feet or 2,642 cubic feet), which have been automated, were moved to the NUS for storage pending validation of the reliability of the automated index. In mid-1989, it was determined that these records were of no further value; thus, on 8/11/89, the Office Management Services Unit (OMSU) initiated and forwarded to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for approval a request for authority to destroy these records which had been scheduled previously as permanent. By SF-115 "Request For Records Disposition Authority", Job No. NI-65-89-7, dated 1/5/90, NARA approved destruction of the 3 X 5 manual index cards. Predication for the NARA approval of this request is the automated index which corresponds to the 3 X 5 manual index records and provides the same or greater retrieval capability. Accordingly, the NARA scheduled the automated index as permanent; thus, permitting destruction of the 3 X 5 manual index cards.

Memorandum from R. G. Prillaman to Mr. Christensen
Re: Destruction Of Records

During the period 2/25 through 3/7/91, personnel from the OMSU, the Resources Unit, and the Pittsburgh Field Office removed the 3 X 5 manual index cards from the metal cabinets and placed them in large cardboard boxes in preparation for removal from the NUS facility to a recycling facility for destruction. During the period 3/7 through 4/2/91, the cards were transported from the NUS facility under the supervision and control of armed Special Agent personnel, Pittsburgh Field Office, to the Halltown Paperboard Company (paper recycling facility), Halltown, West Virginia, where destruction/recycling of the cards was supervised and witnessed by the Special Agent personnel.

The volume of material (13,464 linear feet or 2,642 cubic feet) destroyed/recycled totaled approximately 136,250 pounds (68.125 tons).

RE: Destruction of Bureau Records

Bufile 67-80008, captioned "Drug Deterrence Program" was reviewed by RDAS employees and it was determined that the file does not meet any of the OPEA destruction criteria. Bufile 66-19378 was not furnished to RDAS by OPEA, however it was reviewed by RDAS employees in view of the identical subject matter.

Completion of the OPEA destruction project resulted in the destruction of 43.54 linear feet of material and the recovery of much needed space in the IMD Filing Unit Bulky Enclosure Room.

From : R. G. Prillaman

Subject: DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

PURPOSE: To advise that removal and destruction of the 3 X 5 manual index cards stored at the National Underground Storage (NUS) facility, Boyers, Pennsylvania, has been accomplished.

RECOMMENDATION: None - for information.

DETAILS: In early 1988, approximately 30,348,000 3 X 5 manual index cards (13,464 linear feet or 2,642 cubic feet), which have been automated, were moved to the NUS for storage pending validation of the reliability of the automated index. In mid-1989, it was determined that these records were of no further value; thus, on 8/11/89, the Office Management Services Unit (OMSU) initiated and forwarded to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for approval a request for authority to destroy these records which had been scheduled previously as permanent. By SF-115 "Request For Records Disposition Authority", Job No. NI-65-89-7, dated 1/5/90, NARA approved destruction of the 3 X 5 manual index cards. Predication for the NARA approval of this request is the automated index which corresponds to the 3 X 5 manual index records and provides the same or greater retrieval capability. Accordingly, the NARA scheduled the automated index as permanent; thus, permitting destruction of the 3 X 5 manual index cards.

Memorandum from R. G. Prillaman to Mr. Christensen
Re: Destruction Of Records

During the period 2/25 through 3/7/91, personnel from the OMSU, the Resources Unit, and the Pittsburgh Field Office removed the 3 X 5 manual index cards from the metal cabinets and placed them in large cardboard boxes in preparation for removal from the NUS facility to a recycling facility for destruction. During the period 3/7 through 4/2/91, the cards were transported from the NUS facility under the supervision and control of armed Special Agent personnel, Pittsburgh Field Office, to the Halltown Paperboard Company (paper recycling facility), Halltown, West Virginia, where destruction/recycling of the cards was supervised and witnessed by the Special Agent personnel.

The volume of material (13,464 linear feet or 2,642 cubic feet) destroyed/recycled totaled approximately 136,250 pounds (68.125 tons).

Dear Mr. [redacted]:

Destruction of Field Files and Records

I am pleased to advise you of the modified adoption of your suggestion to show the Office of Origin (OO) and the OO File Number on ~~Form FD-478 - List of Files Destroyed/Transferred to FBIHQ.~~ It is believed that adding two columns would greatly congest the form. Therefore, it was recommended only the OO be captured, and if necessary, the Auxiliary Office can obtain the file number from the OO. This revision will be included at the time of the next printing.

Offices and the offices of the Legal Attaches (LEGATS). In addition, the FBI was required to make a good faith effort to identify and retrieve records which have been disseminated to other agencies of the Federal government.

Employees of the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit (RDAS), Office Management Services Unit (OMSU), Information Services Section (ISS), Information Management Division (IMD), completed the review and destruction of material identifiable with the plaintiff, maintained at FBIHQ on 2/27/91. This destruction included material which had been retrieved from other agencies of the Federal government. By Buairtel dated 2/25/91, all Field Offices and Legats were instructed to forward all material, identifiable with the plaintiff, to FBIHQ for review and handling pursuant to the provisions of the court stipulation. This review and destruction was completed by RDAS on 4/25/91. Inasmuch as the DOJ has made several telephonic inquiries regarding the status of this project, LCD should advise DOJ of its completion.

Destruction of Field Files and Records

March 27, 1991

Dear Records Officer:

Enclosed are Notices of Intent to Destroy Records. These records are scheduled for destruction in July 1992. Please review these notices and notify us if the records are incorrectly scheduled for destruction or must be retained because of pending litigation or claims. You must notify us if you want these records retained even if you have notified us in the past disposal cycles.

Please note that we have resumed sending notices for accountable officers' files, commonly known as site audit records. The disposition authority for these records is General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1a.

To ensure that no site audit records are destroyed which are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions, please review these notices also and notify us if the records must be retained.

Please note that the disposition authority for accountable officer records was modified in late 1984. General Records Schedule 6 item 1a does not cover accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. These records cannot be destroyed. If the disposition authority for any records scheduled as GRS 6 item 1a contain records pertaining to American Indians please notify us.

Reference is made to telephone conversation 1/27/92, between Seattle (SE) Administrative Officer, [redacted] and Unit Chief [redacted] Office Management Services Unit (OMSU), Information Services Section (ISS), Information Management Division (IMD), regarding FBIHQ approval for SE to use services available at the Butte Information Technology Center (BT ITC) to process a backlog of approximately 1500 to 2000 linear feet of SE files and records to determine their eligibility for destruction and/or retention for archival purposes.

As you are aware, the BT ITC is an FBI staffed facility under the sponsorship of the IMD chartered to address work that can be displaced from other offices.

To assist SE with reducing the file destruction backlog, SE is authorized to forward to the BT ITC files eligible for review to determine if the material can be destroyed or must be retained for eventual transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). An inventory of files shipped to the BT ITC is to be maintained by SE to document the file classification, file number, volume scope, and date of shipment. An inventory of files received at the BT ITC is to be maintained to document the file classification, file number, volume scope, date of receipt, and date of destruction.

SEARCHED INDEXED SERIALIZED FILED

If it is determined during the review process at the BT ITC that a SE file should be retained for eventual transfer to NARA because of its historical/research value, the file is to be returned to SE for retention pending transfer to NARA. Every 60 days the BT ITC is to furnish the SE Office, by classification number, a record of the linear feet of material destroyed.

Files that are marked for pending litigation or FOIPA concerns are not to be shipped to the BT ITC until the litigation/FOIPA concerns are resolved and the file(s) meet the destruction criteria set forth in the Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP), Part II, Section 2-4.5, entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records." Additionally, if a file indicates that evidence corresponding to the file is still in possession of the SE Office, the file is not to be forwarded to the BT ITC until SE has properly disposed of the evidence.

The SE files eligible for review for destruction are to be shipped to the BT ITC in phases and by category (Closed Administrative and Applicant files, Criminal files, and Security files). Use boxes of sufficient size and strength to accommodate the weight of the files. It is suggested that Number Four boxes available on GSA Schedule (order number 8115-00-FBI-0053) are appropriate. The first shipment of files may commence with receipt of this communication and include Closed Administrative Files, Applicant Files and the Corresponding single zero "0" files. Approximately 10 days prior to completing processing/destruction of the initial shipment, the BT ITC should request that SE forward the second phase/category (Criminal files and corresponding "0" files.) Similarly, the third phase/category (Security files and corresponding "0" files) are to be forwarded to the BT ITC.

Transport of files between the SE Office and BT ITC must be by armed Special Agent personnel or registered mail.

Any questions regarding this matter may be directed to FBIHQ, Attention: Unit Chief [redacted] OMSU, ISS, IMD.

Dear Mr. Hastings:

Reference is made to your letter dated December 16, 1991, concerning the destruction of 30 pages of FBI records pertaining to the murder investigation of Harry T. and Harriette Moore in 1951.

A review of the main investigative file revealed that seventeen documents were destroyed on December 28, 1960. The records destruction practices of the FBI, prior to January 10, 1980, were conducted in full compliance with Title 44, United States Code, Chapter 33, and the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 41, Chapter 101, Subpart 101-11.4.

For your information, we are enclosing copies of documents from our file at FBI Headquarters which identify, by file and serial numbers, the seventeen documents. However, we were not able to identify the number of pages involved. It

Memorandum from V. R. Thornton to Mr. Stoops
RE: Destruction of Bureau Records

On 3/19/92, the PEU, OPEA, furnished to the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit (RDAS), Records Policy Unit, Information Services Section, Information Management Division (IMD), a listing of 11 Headquarters (HQ) file numbers to be reviewed in an effort to locate workpapers more than five years old which were eligible for destruction. In addition, 1 HQ file which was previously furnished to IMD by referenced memorandum dated 12/18/90 and determined to be ineligible was reviewed by RDAS in an effort to destroy the workpapers on a timely basis. Following is a summary of the results of the RDAS review and destruction effort.

SUGGESTION

DESTRUCTION of BUREAU RECORDS

FD-478 information should be entered into Case Menu within the FOIMS system, under appropriate file number, or simply, program the computers to automatically transfer information from the Destruction of Case Record Menu, when processed, into case file information before FD-478 is filed in appropriate areas within the Closed Files Section. This would enable office personnel who need to view information, i.e., status of case, relating to a specific case number in FOIMS to know that they will not be able to locate the file as it has been destroyed.

Current practice or rule (Include manual citation as well as facts) MAOP, Section 2-4.5, page 303) FD-478, containing file numbers and dates destroyed, is maintained at the beginning of classifications or field office breakdowns. (Closed Files)

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)

Current system is too time-consuming. The implementation of this suggestion would reduce the amount of time currently spent viewing the Case Menu to find the status of desired case number and then trying to physically locate the file only to discover it had been destroyed. In essence, this would virtually become a one-step system when checking the computer for case information. This suggestion would be highly effective since it would allow employees to have more time to complete other tasks assigned to them.

Re: Suggestion # 153-92 from [redacted] Tampa Field Office, dated 6/3/92

ADDENDUM: INFORMATION MANAGEMENT DIVISION (IMD), 6/24/92, CPL:lms

The captioned suggestion has been reviewed by IMD representatives. It has been determined that once a case has been destroyed on FOIMS there is no "case" record retained on the computer and, therefore, no place to transfer information from the Destruction of Case Record Menu. The suggested activity cannot be accommodated under the current destruction process. It is recommended, however, that Tampa arrange for "Query Only" access to the Destruction of Cases function for those requiring knowledge of cases destroyed. Once this access is provided, the user can query the "cases destroyed" list to determine if a file has been destroyed.

Destruction of Bureau Records

Dear Records Officer:

Enclosed are Notices of Intent to Destroy Records. These records are scheduled for destruction in January 1993. Please review these notices and notify us if the records are incorrectly scheduled for destruction or must be retained because of pending litigation or claims. You must notify us if you want these records retained even if you have notified us in the past disposal cycles.

Please note that we have resumed sending notices for accountable officers' files, commonly known as site audit records. The disposition authority for these records is General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1a.

To ensure that no site audit records are destroyed which are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions, please review these notices also and notify us if the records must be retained.

Please note that the disposition authority for accountable officer records was modified in late 1984. General Records Schedule 6 item 1a does not cover accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. These records cannot be destroyed. If the disposition authority for any records scheduled as GRS 6 item 1a contain records pertaining to American Indians please notify us.

"Destruct... of Bureau Records

Subject: PRESERVATION AND DISPOSITION OF FEDERAL RECORDS

Reference is made to the memorandum of Deputy Attorney General George J. Terwilliger III dated December 1, 1992, and the enclosed memorandum of Assistant Attorney General for Administration Harry H. Flickinger dated November 18, 1992.

The purpose of this letter is to advise that the records disposition practices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) are conducted in complete compliance with the provisions of the Federal Records Act and the Records Disposal Act, as codified in Title 44, United States Code, Section 3301 and Title 36, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 12, Subchapter B, Part 1228. In addition, the removal of records from the FBI by departing officials is handled under the provisions of Department of Justice Order 2710.3A.

Additionally, and as the direct result of the civil litigation of American Friends Service Committee, et al., v. William H. Webster, et al.; United States District Court for the District of Columbia; Civil Action Number 79-1655, the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), in concert with the FBI, undertook a comprehensive study of all types of FBI case files (investigative, applicant and administrative) and all types of miscellaneous records (records maintained outside of the standard case file) of the FBI. During the study, individual case files and other records were evaluated in order to determine if the material:

1) had potential historical signifigance and/or research value, thereby warranting eventual transfer to NARA for permanent retention, or

2) was disposable after FBI investigative, administrative, and research needs had expired.

The by-product of the NARA/FBI study was the FBI Records Disposition Schedule.

The detailed instructions and restrictions of the FBI Records Disposition Schedule are explicit, extensive, and diverse in scope. Application of the statutory regulations, outlined above, coupled with the additional instructions and guidelines set forth in the FBI Records Disposition Schedule, ensures the preservation of official records, which are of lasting value as evidence of the activities of the FBI in view of their potential historical and/or research value.

RETENTION OF DOCUMENTATION AND RECORDINGS
OF CAREER BOARD DELIBERATIONS

PURPOSE: To provide the Executive Development and Selection Program (EDSP), Administrative Services Division (ASD), with Legal Counsel Division's (LCD) opinion concerning the retention of documentation and recordings of Career Board deliberations.

RECOMMENDATION: That all documentation and recordings of Career Board deliberations be retained until the Information Management Division (IMD), Records Policy Unit, Records Disposition and Archival Subunit, in consultation with the Office of Equal Employment Opportunity Affairs Office, the Personnel Sections of ASD, and the Director's Office, determines the retention and destruction requirements applicable to the documentation and recordings of Career Board deliberations.

DETAILS: By Routing Slip dated 9/2/92, Mr. Langford, EDSP Administrator, requested guidance from LCD concerning the length of time the documentation and recording of Career Board deliberations should be retained. Mr. Langford noted that Judge Bunton's order in Perez v. FBI required the FBI to document and record the deliberations of FBI Career Boards. He further noted that several field offices had inquired as to how long such records must be maintained.

Memorandum from Legal Counsel to Assistant Director,
Administrative Services Division
Re: Retention of Documentation and Recordings
of Career Board Deliberations

The duty to maintain documentation and recordings of Career Board deliberations has dual origins. After the court in Perez v. FBI entered its finding of liability against the FBI, the court invited the Bureau to submit any changes to policy and procedure the Bureau intended to make in light of the court's 9/30/88 liability opinion. In response, on 11/25/88, the Director approved a series of policy and procedure modifications to address the court-identified deficiencies in the FBI's Career Development Program (CDP). Among those modifications was the duty to maintain documentation of field office and FBIHQ Career Board deliberations. In its 5/5/89 damages opinion, the court expanded on that obligation by requiring that Career Board deliberations also be recorded. In addition, the court ordered that Career Board records be made available to the Office of Equal Employment Opportunity Affairs, the Office of Personnel Resources, and the Director, who has discretionary authority to allow access to CDP applicants.

While neither the FBI's self-assumed policy modifications nor the court's 5/5/89 Order addressed the length of time such documentation and recordings must be maintained, four legal and policy considerations are instructive on the issue.

First, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) has promulgated regulations under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 governing the filing and prosecution of claims of discrimination based on race, sex, religion, color, and national origin. See, 29 C.F.R., Part 1614. Those regulations require that an employee who claims discrimination must begin the complaint process within 45 days of the alleged discrimination and mandate that untimely complaints be rejected. See, 29 C.F.R. §§1614.214 and 1614.215. Complainants who fail to comply with that administrative deadline cannot thereafter sue in Federal court under Title VII to challenge the alleged discriminatory action. See, Low v. Heckler, 768 F.2d 409 (D.C. Cir. 1985). Since the resolution and defense of discrimination claims may require reference to the contemporaneous documentation and recordings of Career Board deliberations, such records should be kept at least the minimum amount of time in which an employee must begin the EEO complaint process and until final resolution of that claim.

Second, where an employee seeks to challenge a Career Board action on constitutional grounds as opposed to Title VII (e.g., a constitutional equal protection claim), the period of time in which such a suit must be brought is governed by the statute of limitations governing personal injury actions in the state where the suit is filed. See, Wilson v. Garcia, 471 U.S. 261 (1985); Owens v. Okure, 109 S.Ct. 573 (1989); Doe v. Department of Justice, 753 F.2d 1092 (D.C. Cir. 1985); Strum v. Lawn, 940 F.2d 406 (9th Cir. 1991). Since personal injury statutes of limitations can be as long as six years, documentation and recordings of Career Board deliberations which would be necessary to the successful defense of such an action should be kept at least that minimum period of time.

Third, the OEEOA, Personnel Sections of ASD, and the Director's Office were granted access to such records by Judge Bunton's 5/5/89 Order and should be consulted to determine their use for such records and their recommendations for retention and disposition.

Fourth, as a result of litigation in American Friends Service Committee v. Webster, 494 F.Supp. 803 (D.D.C. 1980), aff'd in part, rev'd in part, 720 F.2d 29 (D.C. Cir. 1983), the FBI adopted a records retention and disposition plan which governs when and what records may be disposed, retained, or archived. On 9/25/92, SSA [redacted], LCD, was advised by Mr. [redacted], IMD, Records Policy Unit, Records Disposition and Archival Subunit that IMD had considered the period of retention applicable to records of Career Board deliberations at the time the Perez v. FBI orders were entered by the court and determined it was necessary to wait for a sufficient number of such records to accumulate so they could be reviewed and judged for their historical value before a retention and disposition plan could be assigned. Mr. [redacted] invited the EDSP to make a formal request to IMD for such a determination. b6 b7C

LCD defers on policy matters of IMD and other interested divisions regarding retention of documentation and recordings of Career Board deliberations. However, LCD recommends that the minimum time for retention should be at least six years, with a provision that any record or Career Board action which is the subject of litigation will be retained for purposes of the litigation, regardless of the passage of time.

Memorandum from W. R. Gilbert to William E. Baugh Re: Destruction of Surveillance Tapes

b7E

DETAILS:

(S) [redacted] is the unclassified codename [redacted] b1 [redacted] The field office has asked for permission to destroy any tapes over two years old. (S)

Examination of the Foreign Counterintelligence Manual, Part 1, Section 0-2.6.11 (Destruction of electronic surveillance tape recordings) discloses that all types of foreign counterintelligence tapes are to be retained for ten years. Unlike "Title III" surveillances, the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act of 1978 does not require retention of tapes. Review of the Attorney General Guidelines for FBI Foreign Intelligence Collection and Foreign Counterintelligence Investigations (AG FCI Guidelines) disclosed no specific requirement to retain records other than Section VII.A (Retention), which states that any information shall be retained "in accordance with a records retention plan approved by the National Archives and Records Service."

If the National Archives concurs, the Intelligence Division proposes to authorize the field office in question an exception to policy to allow it to accelerate the destruction of these [Top Secret tapes to anything older than two years.] The normal procedures for destruction would be followed in all other ways.

The Intelligence Division point of contact for this request is SSA [redacted] CI-2B Unit, Room 4072, telephone number (202) 324-8214. b6 b7C

Destruction of Bureau Records.

Dear Records Officer:

Enclosed are Notices of Intent to Destroy Records. These records are scheduled for destruction in July 1993. Please review these notices and notify us if the records are incorrectly scheduled for destruction or must be retained because of pending litigation or claims. You must notify us if you want these records retained even if you have notified us in the past disposal cycles.

Please note that we have resumed sending notices for accountable officers' files, commonly known as site audit records. The disposition authority for these records is General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1a.

To ensure that no site audit records are destroyed which are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions, please review these notices also and notify us if the records must be retained.

Please note that the disposition authority for accountable officer records was modified in late 1984. General Records Schedule 6 item 1a does not cover accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. These records cannot be destroyed. If the disposition authority for any records scheduled as GRS 6 item 1a contain records pertaining to American Indians please notify us.

Memorandum from J. H. Schiman to Mr. Baugh dated 4/20/93
RE: Destruction of Bureau Records
66-3286

Current policy, which was approved by NARA under Job Number N1-65-90-003, permits destruction of audio tapes which have been created under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act of 1978 when the material is ten years old. In view of the extraordinary measures which must be taken to ensure the security of the material, the Field Office which is holding the audio tapes has requested an exception to the current policy in order to allow accelerated destruction of these Top Secret tapes that are two years or older.

The appropriate number of copies of an SF-115 have been prepared and are attached for referral to NARA.

Bureau Records

Per our conversation on 7/27/93 the control file in question to be destroyed in Baltimore is 88-7330. I presented the case agent with this file and to his knowledge no other offices maintain a control file like this. There are no investigations initiated on any of the subjects. This file contains information only on escapees from Maryland's penial facilities. The control file began with May 1975 to present day. Enclosed you will find a copy of the form that is used in this file. It is a simple memo with a description of the escapee and what they were charged with at time of escape. The case agent also agrees that we needn't maintain so many years of this case, he presented a three year hold on it. Any questions pertaining to this control file please give me a call.

requested to examine a series of textual records used as the input/source records for the Public Source Module.

As a result of his appraisal of the SITC material, (Form FD-809a and any corresponding attachments), [redacted] advised that the records may be considered temporary and destroyed pursuant to the provisions of the General Records Schedule (GRS), Part 20, Item 2a. GRS Part 20, Item 2a, provides that textual records, used to create, update, or modify records maintained in an electronic medium may be destroyed after the information has been converted to an electronic medium and verified, or when no longer needed to support the reconstruction of, or serve as the backup to, the master file, whichever is later. b6 b7C [redacted] appraisal was confirmed by letter from James J. Hastings, Director, Records Appraisal and Disposition Division, NARA, to Mr. [redacted], Records Officer, FBI, dated 9/14/93 (copy attached).

Based on above, a review of the material, and discussions between representatives of the Field Services/Information Policy Unit, Information Services Section, Information Management Division, and the Public Source Module, SITC, it was determined that a 30 day retention of the FD-809 (BITC), FD-809a (SITC) and corresponding attachments, would be sufficient to meet the needs of the Public Source Module. Therefore, Public Source material, Forms FD-809, and FD-809a, along with any attachments, presently being maintained by the BITC and SITC respectively, may be destroyed 30 days after the last transaction.

Dear [redacted]

This responds to your oral request on our views of the Public Access textual request/response records at the FBI's Savannah Information Technology Center.

We believe these records fall under General Records Schedule 20, Item 2a (input/source) records. The request forms are used solely to create, update or modify the records in an electronic medium. The hardcopy printout responding to the request duplicates the data that is maintained in automated format. Our understanding is that these paper files have never been used. As they are maintained in rough chronological order, accessibility is next to impossible.

Memorandum from J. H. Schiman to Mr. Baugh dated 10/14/93
RE: Destruction of Bureau Records
66-3286

Current policy, which was approved by NARA under Job Number N1-65-90-003, permits destruction of audio tapes which have been created under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act of 1978 when the material is ten years old. Inasmuch as routine procedures for the storage of the material can not be used, the Field Office which is holding the audio tapes requested an exception to the current policy in order to allow accelerated destruction of audio tapes that are two years or older. b6 b7C

On 10/12/93, [redacted] Appraisal Archivist, NARA, delivered to the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit, Field Services/Information Policy Unit, Information Services Section, Information Management Division, a copy of the approved SF-115, bearing the signature of the Acting Archivist of the United States, thereby authorizing the accelerated destruction of the audio tapes.

A copy of the approved SF-115, bearing NARA Job Number N1-65-93-05, is attached for record purposes.

Memorandum from J. H. Schiman to Mr. Baugh dated 10/27/93
RE: Destruction of Bureau Records
66-3286

By referenced memorandum dated 4/22/93, the Program Evaluation Unit, OPEA, furnished to the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit (RDAS), Field Services/Information Policy Unit, Information Services Section, Information Management Division (IMD), a listing of 8 Headquarters (HQ) file numbers to be reviewed in an effort to locate workpapers more than five years old which were eligible for destruction.

In addition, 1 HQ file which was previously furnished to IMD by referenced memorandum dated 3/19/92 and determined to be ineligible for destruction was reviewed by RDAS in an effort to destroy the workpapers on a timely basis. Following is a summary of the results of the RDAS review and destruction effort.

MR REQUESTED BY: [ ] ORGANIZATION: DENVER EXTENSION: 3079

PROBLEM/CHANGE DESCRIPTION

☑ MR IS FOR DETECTED PROBLEM DATE FIRST OBSERVED: 5/5/93 PROBLEM IS: ☒ Recurrent ☐ Sporadic ☐ Other:

☑ MR IS FOR REQUIRED CHANGE TO: DISREGARD CASE TYPE IN NUMERICAL ORDER FOR DESTRUCTION.

DESCRIBE PROBLEM/CHANGE AS WELL AS YOU UNDERSTAND IT. BE AS DETAILED AS POSSIBLE.

1. Brief problem description: Per Bureau policy, a list of cases destroyed in each classification is maintained with that classification in the closed file room. These lists are in straight numerical order regardless of the case type within the classification. Under the case destruction program, the destroyed cases report breaks the cases into segments with type C, D, R and Z appearing at the end of the report, thus breaking the straight numerical sequence of the case numbers. This has proved to be very confusing to employees consulting the destroyed case lists in an attempt to locate a file. It has resulted in missed searches for destroyed files and added work in continuing to search for a file which had been destroyed. As time goes by and the file destruction lists get longer and longer, the point will be reached when it will be almost impossible to keep searching backwards and forwards thoughout the long report for file numbers not in a straight numerical sequence.

2. Detail (include symptoms and conditions under which error occurred):

SUPPORTING EVIDENCE ATTACHMENTS OR REFERENCES:

See attached.

DESCRIBE YOUR PERCEPTION OF THE PROBABLE PROBLEM CAUSE/SOURCE:

The move from a manual to an atomated system for file destruction did not take into account the traditional way of maintaining file destruction lists, which is the method the majority of employees are familiar with.

IMPACT

DESCRIBE IMPACT TO YOUR OPERATION IF PROBLEM NOT CORRECTED OR CHANGE NOT DONE:

Numerous hours may be spent looking for a file that has previously been destroyed. Under the present destruction guidelines where AO cases are eligible for destruction after one year, this problem could occur repeatedly.

Re: Suggestion #137-93, dated 4/6/93, from the Denver Field Office

ADDENDUM: INFORMATION MANAGEMENT DIVISION (IMD), dated 5/25/93, LDB:mdw

The Field Services/Information Policy Unit (FS/IPU), IMD, has reviewed the referenced suggestion (#137-93) from the Denver Field Office requesting a change to the destroyed cases report in the Field Office Information Management System (FOIMS).

The FS/IPU is in favor of this suggestion. The destroyed cases reports maintained at the beginning of each classification in the closed files section of the field office need to be in numerical order. UCFN's are generated in numeric sequence regardless of classification or case type. The UCFN closed files are filed in the same order, regardless of classification or case type. The destroyed cases report should list the UCFN destroyed cases in the same order in which they would be filed.

Based on the above, the FS/IPU recommends the destroyed cases report be modified to list the UCFN's in numerical order regardless of classification or case type. However, due to the redesigning of FOIMS, the comments and recommendations of the Technical Services Division (TSD) should be solicited regarding the requested changes to the existing FOIMS database.

RECOMMENDATION: That this suggestion be adopted; however, the comments and recommendations of TSD should be solicited.

Re: Suggestions #127-93; 128-93; 129-93; 137-93

The above suggestions will be included in a new application called ~~Integrated~~ Investigative Case Management (ICM).

The ICM will be tested from 11/93 - 2/94; with operational/pilot use available by 3/94

Future status regarding the ICM should be directed to [redacted], TSD 703-751-2144.

Dear Mrs. [redacted]

I take great pleasure in advising you that your suggestion that the case destruction report be enhanced to disregard the case type when sorting by file number has been approved for adoption. Efforts are currently underway by the Technical Services Division to implement the use of a new application called Investigative Case Management (ICM). The ICM will include the changes you recommended and will be available for use by March 1994.

Thank you for your fine contribution to the FBI's Suggestion Program. I hope you will continue to give us the benefit of your concern and insight.

This responds to your oral request on our views of the Public Access textual request/response records at the FBI's Savannah Information Technology Center.

We believe these records fall under General Records Schedule 20, Item 2a (input/source) records. The request forms are used solely to create, update or modify the records in an electronic medium. The hardcopy printout responding to the request duplicates the data that is maintained in automated format. Our understanding is that these paper files have never been used. As they are maintained in rough chronological order, accessibility is next to impossible.

Destruction of Bureau Records

Dear Records Officer:

Enclosed are Notices of Intent to Destroy Records. These records are scheduled for destruction in January 1994. Please review these notices and notify us if the records are incorrectly scheduled for destruction or must be retained because of pending litigation or claims. You must notify us ~~if you want these records retained even if you have notified~~ us in the past disposal cycles.

Please note that we have resumed sending notices for accountable officers' files, commonly known as site audit records. The disposition authority for these records is General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1a.

To ensure that no site audit records are destroyed which are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions, please review these notices also and notify us if the records must be retained.

Please note that the disposition authority for accountable officer records was modified in late 1984. General Records Schedule 6 item 1a does not cover accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. These records cannot be destroyed. If the disposition authority for any records scheduled as GRS 6 item 1a contain records pertaining to American Indians please notify us.

Subject : THE PORNOGRAPHIC MATERIAL REFERENCE FILE (PMRF)
DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS

PURPOSE: To discontinue the Pornographic Material Reference File (PMRF). To determine the method of removal of the PMRF from the laboratory.

SYNOPSIS: The PMRF has been reduced to a library of Interstate Transportation of Obscene Materials (ITOM) related publications (videos, movies, books magazines). With the decreasing activity in this investigation, the file has become out of date and is of little to no value in current investigations. Consultation with the Criminal Investigative Division (CID) and the Information Management Division (IMD) confirmed the following:

1: The CID has no interest in the further maintenance or retention of the file.

2: The IMD recommends destruction rather than storage of the file.

DETAILS: The laboratory is the curator of a large volume of obscene material known as the PORNOGRAPHIC MATERIAL REFERENCE FILE (PMRF). Historically, the file was used to establish ITOM violations. There have not been any testimonies or examinations resulting from the PMRF in decades.

Even with the prevailing emphasis on child pornography investigations, the file has little or no value. The child pornography cases are autonomous. The questioned and known material are predominantly submitted in the same case, thus there is no application for the PMRF.

An estimate of the size of the PORNOGRAPHIC MATERIAL REFERENCE FILE was set forth in memo dated 11/7/86, from COVERT TO GAST, captioned: "PORNOGRAPHIC MATERIALS REFERENCE FILE (PMRF) COMPUTERIZATION EFFORT".

26,880	index cards

Memorandum to Mr. Potts from J.W. Hicks dated 3/3/93
Re: THE PORNOGRAPHIC MATERIAL
REFERENCE FILE (PMRF)

The Bureau control file (80-HQ-662) consists of three sections with a total of 366 serials. It was opened Sept. 30, 1942 and the last activity is serial 366, a U.S. Customs "CUSTODY RECEIPT FOR RETAINED OR SEIZED PROPERTY" dated May 24, 1990.

b6

Historically, Unit Chief [redacted] of the Document Section has been involved with the PMRF in various capacities since the early 1960s and provided the following:

In support of investigations of violations of the Interstate Transportation of Obscene Materials (ITOM) statutes and of investigations of child pornography investigations under the Sexual Exploitation of Children (SEOC) statutes, the FBI Laboratory has maintained the Pornographic Materials Reference File (PMRF) for more than fifty years. It has served primarily as a central dissemination point for investigative developed intelligence data on manufacturers, producers, distributors and others in the pornography industry. It has also served as a repository of seized original pornographic materials to allow technical inter- comparisons with evidentiary materials in new investigations. This is done to assist in determining the source of the materials and to establish whether there is an interstate aspect to its distribution. In this fashion it has served as a unique national resource for the law enforcement community.

The file was very active in the 1970s and early 1980s and provided valuable assistance to investigations and prosecutions of several major OC-related ITOM cases, such as MIPORN, and involving OC figures such as [redacted], Reuben Sturman, Robert DiBernardo and Mickey Zaffarano. The PMRF database was automated in the mid-1980s. With the FBI's investigative de-emphasis on ITOM and SEOC matters there has been decreasing file activity in recent years. In the absence of continuing and timely input from the field, the file has been losing the current intelligence data and sample materials necessary to be of value or to fully justify its continued existence.

b7C

Procedures for disposing of pornographic materials are long standing and well-established through instructions from FBIHQ to the field. The hard-copy pornographic materials in the PMRF were submitted to the FBI Laboratory with authority granted for final disposition, either destruction or addition to the file at the discretion of the Laboratory, and they no longer serve any evidentiary function. All prosecutive efforts were completed prior to the materials being added to the PMRF. Those materials were submitted primarily by FBI field offices and other Federal agencies such as the U.S.Customs Service, who by prior agreement continues to submit seized materials periodically; only a small percentage of materials in the file were provided by state and local law enforcement agencies.

It should be noted that it has been the Laboratory's experience that unusual security problems are involved in storing and safeguarding "vice" materials such as pornography. Merely crating up the PMRF and having the Information Management Division (IMD) handle it would cause IMD some difficulties.

On 1/29/93, [redacted] (Unit Chief, Violent Crime and Major Offenders Section, Violent Crimes Unit, Criminal Investigative Division, CID) was shown the extent of the ITOM classification. [redacted] is the supervisor of ITOM violations. He was unaware that such an extensive file existed.

b7C

On 2/8/93, E. Michael Kahoe, (Section Chief, Section Chief, Violent Crime and Major Offenders Section, CID) advised JOHN HANCOCK (Section Chief, Special Projects Section, Laboratory Division (LD)) that he has no objection to either the storage or destruction of the file by IMD. KAHOE advised that the Violent Crime Section would not be using the reference file and ITOM matters are all but non existent except for the occasional child pornography case.

On 2/12/93, [redacted] (Unit Chief, Records Management Unit, Information services Section, IMD) reviewed the expanse of the file and expressed concern with the security requirements to store the file in bureau records. He concluded that destruction of the file was both appropriate and practical.

Dear Mr. Hastings:

The purpose of this letter is to request an amendment to NARA Job N1-65-90-03, which granted, to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), authority for the destruction of numerous physical intelligence surveillance tapes authorized under the provisions of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) of 1978 and maintained by Field Offices of the FBI.

Item 1 of NARA Job N1-65-90-03 permits the destruction of tapes of individuals who were not the targets of an authorized surveillance, along with related records in accordance with the minimization requirements of the FISA. Item 2 permits the destruction of the remaining tapes, pertaining to an authorized surveillance, after 10 years or when agency use has been exhausted, whichever comes later. However, various Field Offices are maintaining physical intelligence surveillance tapes which were obtained prior to the implementation of the FISA. In view of this, it is therefore requested that Item 2 be amended to permit immediate destruction of pre-FISA material.

Your prompt consideration of this request would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Destruction of Bureau Records

Dear Records Officer:

Enclosed are Notices of Intent to Destroy Records. These records are scheduled for destruction in July 1994. Please review these notices and notify us if the records are incorrectly scheduled for destruction or must be retained because of pending litigation or claims. You must notify us if you want these records retained even if you have notified us in the past disposal cycles.

Please note that we have resumed sending notices for accountable officers' files, commonly known as site audit records. The disposition authority for these records is General Records Schedule (GRS) 6, item 1a.

To ensure that no site audit records are destroyed which are pertinent to pending claims by or against the government, litigation, or similar actions, please review these notices also and notify us if the records must be retained.

Please note that the disposition authority for accountable officer records was modified in late 1984. General Records Schedule 6 item 1a does not cover accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. These records cannot be destroyed. If the disposition authority for any records scheduled as GRS 6 item 1a contain records pertaining to American Indians please notify us.

Sincerely,

Judith A. Barnes

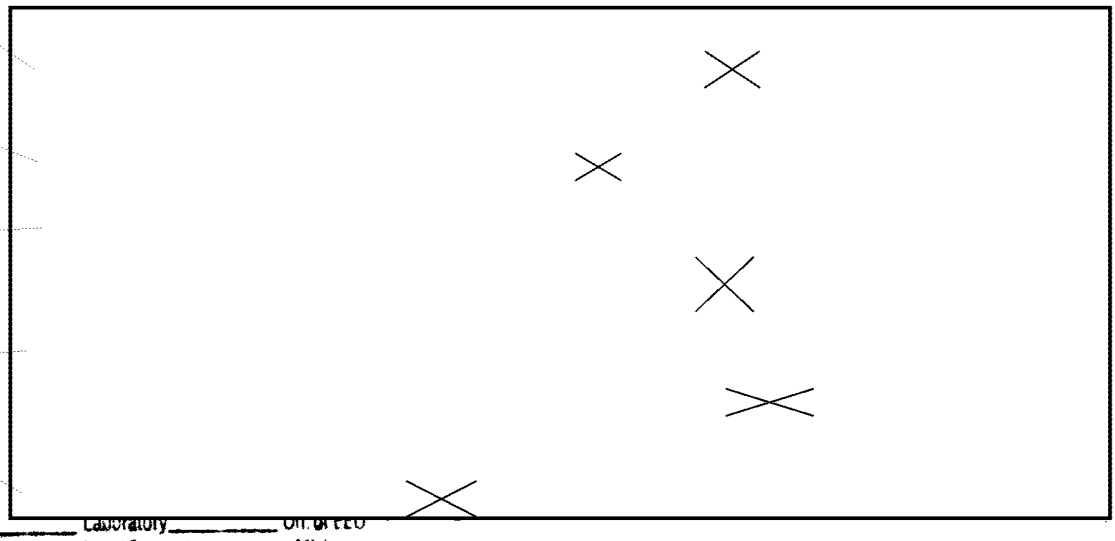
Re: Destruction of Bureau Records

ADDENDUM: INFORMATION RESOURCES DIVISION (IRD) 4/18/94 WS/WS



Referenced memorandum requested the Records Disposition and Archival Subunit (RDAS), Field Services/Information Policy Unit (formerly Records Policy Unit), Field Information Support Section (formerly Information Services Section) Information Resources Division (formerly Information Management Division) review an enclosed inventory and search the Central Records System for original material, file originals as necessary and destroy or archive remaining material.

RDAS has completed the review and determined that the disposition of the material varied inasmuch as the material covered a time span from 1982-90. Portions of the material was eligible for immediate destruction in accordance with provisions of the General Records Schedules (GRS), Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP) and the FBI Records Retention Plan. Remaining material must be temporarily retained for eventual destruction, on an annual basis, based on the closing date of the material.

Dear [redacted]

I am returning the draft SF 115 you sent me to change the retention period for FBI grievance, disciplinary and adverse action files so that it conforms with the General Records Schedules (GRS). You do not need further authority from NARA to replace an approved deviation from the GRS with the current GRS standards. The Bureau therefore can change the disposition instructions for Classification 67, subitem f, originally approved under Job No. N1-65-87-11, to reflect GRS 1/30.

If you need further information, please feel free to call me at (301) 713-7099.

INSTRUCTIONS

This form may be initiated by either the transferring agency or a Federal records center.

INITIATED BY AGENCY:

Agency completes items 1 through 6 (see specific instructions below). Item 6 must be signed and dated. Send original and 4 copies to the appropriate address in item 2 sixty days before planned date of transfer.

INITIATED BY FEDERAL RECORDS CENTER:

Federal records center completes items 1, 2, 3A-F, if known, 4B, 5A and B, D and E and sends original and 3 copies to transferring agency records officer.

Agency completes/corrects items 3, 5A, 5C-F, and 6. Item 6 must be signed and dated. Agency sends original and 3 copies to the address indicated in item 2 sixty days before planned date of transfer.

ITEM 1, TYPE OF ACTION:

If 1B is checked, a reference to the records control schedule number or NARS appraisal job number must be included in 5E. (Item 1B may be checked for unscheduled records if an appropriate appraisal job is cited to reflect an accretion according to prior evaluation of the series).

ITEM 2, TO:

When 1B is checked, requests are sent to the National Archives (NNB) unless the records control schedule or appraisal job specifies a regional archives or Presidential library.

When 2C is checked, include in that block address (number and street, city, State, and zip code) of the regional archives branch being offered the records.

ITEM 3, UNIT THAT CREATED THE RECORDS:

Fully identify the agency, subdivision, and unit that created or originated the records (not the agency records office). If this is not possible, or a successor unit or agency is transferring the records, then explain under Agency Remarks, item 5F.

ITEM 4, CURRENT LOCATION OF RECORDS:

Identify the agency location or the particular records center in which the records are located and provide FRC accession number. The stack location in the center may also be provided.

ITEM 5, RECORDS DATA:

5A. Describe the records. If the records are in a Federal records center, attach SF 135. Arrangement statement must be provided and enough description to substantiate responses in items 5B (with volume for each item) 5C and 5D.

5B. Estimated volume may be indicated in either cubic feet or cubic meters.

5C. Privacy Act notices must be cited for records subject to the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) and should be attached.

5D. Specific restrictions must be fully justified and may not violate the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552).

5E. If the records have previously been scheduled in a records control schedule, the schedule and item number must be cited, and the schedule itself may be attached. If the records are not scheduled but a part of the series has been appraised as permanent in the past and transferred to a NARS depository, then cite the appraisal job number as authority and treat as a scheduled offer.

ITEM 6, STATEMENT OF AGENCY REPRESENTATIVE:

Signature and title of agency records officer is placed here and normally is not the name or office given in item 3.

ITEM 7, ACTION TAKEN BY NARS:

NARS will indicate approval and provide shipping or delivery instructions, or disapproval and recommend appropriate disposition of the records. NARS will indicate quantity of offer approved, disapproved and for which action is deferred.

If NARS approves the transfer, the Office of the National Archives sends SF 258 to the agency (or to the Federal records center if the records are in a center) with a transfer date and shipping or delivery.

If NARS disapproves the transfer, the Records Disposition Division returns SF 258 to the agency with suggestions for disposition of the records.

ITEM 8, RECORDS RECEIVED:

After receipt of records by a NARS depository NARS will sign and return one copy of SF 258 to the agency.

The SITC is an FBI staffed facility under the sponsorship of the IRD chartered to address work that can be displaced from other offices. Therefore, to assist BS with reducing the file destruction backlog, BS is authorized to forward to the SITC Office of Origin and Auxiliary Office files eligible for review to determine if the material can be destroyed or must be retained for eventual transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). An inventory of files shipped to the SITC is to be maintained by BS to document the file classification, file number, volume scope, and date of shipment. An inventory of files received at the SITC is to be maintained to document the file classification, file number, volume scope, date of receipt, and date of destruction.

Airtel to SAC, [redacted] and SITC, dated 2/3/95
RE: Destruction of Field Files and Records
Information Technology Center (ITC)
Savannah, Georgia
66-3286 Sub B

If it is determined during the review process at the SITC that a BS file should be retained for eventual transfer to NARA because of its historical/research value, the file is to be returned to BS for retention pending transfer to NARA. Every 60 days, the SITC is to furnish the BS Office, by classification number, a record of the linear feet of material destroyed.

Referenced BS airtel advised that at the present time BS has a two year backlog in searching the monthly litigation freeze reports. As explained to AO [redacted] during referenced telephone call, files that are marked for pending litigation or FOIPA concerns are not to be shipped to the SITC until the litigation/FOIPA concerns are resolved and the file(s) meet the destruction criteria set forth in the Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP), Part II, Section 2-4.5, entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records". In order for BS to fully benefit from the services provided by the SITC, a waiver of this requirement is granted, thus allowing the SITC employees to assist BS with the required searching of the monthly litigation freeze reports. b6 b7C

BS is reminded that if a file indicates that evidence corresponding to the file is still in possession of the BS Office, the file is not to be forwarded to the SITC until BS has properly disposed of the evidence.

The BS files eligible for review for destruction are to be shipped to the SITC in boxes of sufficient size and strength to accommodate the weight of the files. It is suggested that Number Four boxes available on GSA Schedule (order number 8115-00-FBI-0053) are appropriate.

Transport of files between the BS Office and SITC is to be accomplished by using Federal Express (FED EX) service or armed Special Agent personnel.

Any questions regarding this matter may be directed to FBIHQ, Attention: Acting Unit Chief [redacted], FSIU, FISS, IRD, telephone extension 4844. b6 b7C

SUBJECT : DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS
BUTTE INFORMATION TECHYNOLOGY CENTER

For the information of the Bureau, the Seattle Division has concluded the project of shipping files to Butte for file destruction.

Seattle has been sending files to Butte to process since March, 1992. Approximately 350 linear feet of files have been destroyed, and Seattle is greatly appreciative of Butte's assistance. The quality of the work returned to Seattle has been very satisfactory.

In particular, we would like to recognize Archives Supervisor [redacted] for the manner in which she coordinated this project. Mrs. [redacted] knowledge regarding this program and her attention to detail greatly contributed to its successful completion. The support provided by her and her staff was invaluable to Seattle in light of our own limited human resources to devote to this program.

Memorandum from J. V. DeSarno to Mr. Baugh dated 4/13/95
RE: Destruction of Field Files and Records
66-3286 Sub B

By Buairtel dated 12/14/87, all Field Offices were authorized to destroy Auxiliary Office (AO) files in numerous classifications, as well as the destruction of obsolete file and record material in a number of miscellaneous categories. In addition, by Buairtels dated 4/3/91, 11/6/91, 4/13/92 and 3/1/93, all Field Offices were authorized to destroy Office of Origin (OO) files in Classifications 1, 15, 42, 87, 88, and 91.

By Buairtel dated 1/9/95, all Field Offices were surveyed in order to determine the progress of the file destruction program. This survey (results attached) revealed that since 12/87, all field offices have destroyed a total of 80,741.33 linear feet of obsolete file and record material. Of this total, 823.76 linear feet of OO material and 1,271.42 linear feet of AO material (Total - 2,095.18 linear feet) was destroyed during the period of 7/1/94 through 12/31/94.

The attached Field Office file destruction survey lists separately the accomplishments of the Butte and Savannah Information Technology Centers and the Western Regional Computer Service Center in Pocatello. These accomplishments have been credited to the Field Offices which benefitted through the use of these three facilities.

Destruction of Field Files & Records

Title: FILE DESTRUCTION PROGRAM
DETROIT DIVISION

Details: Detroit is requesting permission to send files to Savannah ITC for destruction. Detroit presently has approximately 20,367 files which are eligible for destruction. It is estimated that this would clear approximately 5,850 linear feet in the closed files section.

Since most AO cases can be destroyed after one year and record checks after six months, the destruction of these files in the UCFN section would allow us to regain critically needed shelf space. Detroit in addition to the needed space is currently preparing for the implementation of the Automated Case Support (ACS) application. By destroying these cases it will eliminate unnecessary information being incorporated into the ACS.

In the past file destructions have been accomplished by utilizing summer employees. Detroit has not benefitted from the summer employee program for the past two years. The number of file clerks on-board responsible for this function has dwindled to 4 and their daily workloads prohibit them from performing file destructions.

Detroit would appreciate favorable consideration to thsi request and would provide all necessary support in preparation for the destruction to ensure that this project is handled in the most efficient manner.

Reference is made to Detroit (DE) communication dated 4/13/95, entitled "File Destruction Program - Detroit Division" requesting approval to use services available at the SITC to process DE files and records to determine their eligibility for destruction and/or retention for archival purposes.

The SITC is an FBI staffed facility under the sponsorship of the Information Resources Division (IRD) chartered to address work that can be displaced from other offices. Therefore, to assist DE with reducing the file destruction backlog, DE is authorized to forward to the SITC Office of Origin and Auxiliary Office files eligible for review to determine if the material can be destroyed or must be retained for eventual transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). An inventory of files shipped to the SITC is to be maintained by DE to document the file classification, file number, volume scope, and date of shipment. An inventory of files received at the SITC is to be maintained to document the file classification, file number, volume scope, date of receipt, and date of destruction.

If it is determined during the review process at the SITC that a DE file should be retained for eventual transfer to NARA because of its historical/research value, the file is to be returned to DE for retention pending transfer to NARA. Every 60 days the SITC is to furnish the DE Office, by classification number, a record of the linear feet of material destroyed.

Files that are marked for pending litigation or FOIPA concerns are not to be shipped to the SITC until the litigation/FOIPA concerns are resolved and the file(s) meet the destruction criteria set forth in the Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP), Part II, Section 2-4.5, entitled "Destruction of Field Files and Records." Additionally, if a file indicates that evidence corresponding to the file is still in possession of the DE Office, the file is not to be forwarded to the SITC until DE has properly disposed of the evidence.

The DE files eligible for review for destruction are to be shipped to the SITC in phases and by category, i.e., closed administrative and applicant files, criminal files, and security files. It is suggested that Number Four boxes available on GSA Schedule (order number 8115-00-FBI-0053) are of sufficient size and strength to accommodate shipment of the files. The first shipment of files may commence with receipt of this communication. While flexible, it is suggested that the first shipment of files include Closed Administrative Files, Applicant Files and the Corresponding single zero "0" files. Approximately 10 days prior to completing processing/destruction of the initial shipment, the SITC should request that DE forward the second phase/category (Criminal files and corresponding "0" files.) Similarly, the third phase/category (Security files and corresponding "0" files) are to be forwarded to the SITC.

Transport of files between the DE Office and SITC is to be accomplished by using Federal Express (FED EX) service or armed Special Agent personnel.

Any questions relative to instructions set forth in this communication may be directed to FBIHQ, Attention: Acting Unit Chief [redacted] Field Services Information Unit, Field Information Support Section, IRD.

Aforementioned NARA appraisals were conducted at FBIHQ and in the Baltimore, New York and Washington Metropolitan Field Offices between October, 1991 and February, 1992. Additionally, NARA appraised numerous automated systems throughout FBIHQ and Field Offices. Upon completion of these appraisals, NARA was requested to provide official disposition authorities for material within Classifications 88, 161, 189, 192, 213, 214, 249-253, 255, 256 and 259-279, as well as the various automated systems in order to ensure that retention is commensurate with archival requirements for retention of official government records.

The enclosed SF-115, dated 11/18/94, bearing NARA Job Number N1-65-93-06 and the signature of the Acting Archivist of the United States, sets the disposition authority for the material within the aforementioned case file classifications and as the various automated systems. The approved disposition authorities have been incorporated into the FBI Records Retention Plan and the 1995 version of the FBI Records Retention Plan will be distributed within FBIHQ after printing and assembly is completed. Twenty copies of the FBI Records Retention Plan will be furnished to NARA for appropriate distribution.

Memorandum from J. V. DeSarno to Mr. Baugh dated 5/1/95
RE: Destruction Of Bureau Records
66-3286

The FBI Records Disposition Schedule contained no disposition authority for VICAP/NCAVC records. Therefore, NARA was requested to provide official disposition authority for this material to ensure that retention is commensurate with archival requirements for retention of official government records.

The enclosed SF-115, dated 4/17/95, bearing NARA Job Number N1-65-94-02 and the signature of the Acting Archivist of the United States, sets the disposition authority for the VICAP/NCAVC material. The approved disposition authority will be incorporated into the FBI Records Retention Plan.

Destruction of Field Files and Records

Mr. James Hastings
Director
Records Appraisal Disposition Division
Attention: NIR
National Archives Records Administration (NARA)
8601 Adelphi Road
College Park, Maryland 20740

Dear Mr. Hastings:

The purpose of this letter is to request an amendment to NARA Job N1-65-90-01, which granted, to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), disposition authority for fingerprint records, jackets containing fingerprint cards, rap sheets and related material, alphabetical name indices, which were generated in connection with the arrest of individuals or background investigations of military personnel and certain Federal civilian job applicants.

Item 2 of NARA Job N1-65-90-01 authorized the transfer of automated criminal history record information of individuals including notations of arrests, court/custody information and personal descriptive data when the records indicate that the individual has reached 80 years of age or if 7 years have elapsed since notification of individual's death. Authorized transfer also included the data system codebooks and record layouts identifying the logical and physical structure if the data. Additionally, NARA Job N1-65-90-01 authorized the destruction of the hard-copy fingerprint cards, fingerprint minutiae and automated indices when the records indicate that the individual has reached 80 years of age or if 7 years have elapsed since notification of individual's death.

Based on recent requests made by fingerprint contributors as well as information gathered during a survey conducted by the FBI Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division (successor to the Identification Division), the CJIS Division is requesting that NARA amend Job N1-65-90-01 to extend the retention period from 80 years to 99 years of age. This amendment request is based on the following:

- Human longevity has increased;
- Older individuals are engaging in criminal acts;
- Individuals of an age greater than 80 years are applying for firearms purchases; and,
- Individuals of an age greater than 80 years are applying for a variety of licensing and employment

SUBJECT : AUTHORITY TO TRANSFER FILES TO THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORD ADMINISTRATION (NARA)
DESTRUCTION of Field Files AND RECORDS

The New Orleans Field Office has a Space Saver System for the storage of closed files. This system is maxed-out and closed files are being stacked on desk tops, and in additional open shelf cabinets scattered throughout the office. The overcrowding and lack of adequate storage space for closed files has placed a tremendous burden on our limited resources. We have recovered valuable space with the File Destruction Program; however, our need for additional space far exceeds the amount of feet recovered through file destruction.

New Orleans has identified and stamped certain field office Origin case files requiring retention for historical value. They occupy approximately 1200 linear feet of space within our Space Saver System. Transfer of these case files to the NARA will recover valuable office space and allow for the proper storage of closed files within this Division.

Therefore, New Orleans is requesting Bureau authority to transfer to the NARA, these field office case files previously identified and stamped for retention.

Memorandum from J. V. DeSarno to Mr. Baugh dated 9/13/95
RE: Destruction of Field Files and Records
66-3286 Sub B

By Buairtel dated 12/14/87, all Field Offices were authorized to destroy Auxiliary Office (AO) files in numerous classifications, as well as the destruction of obsolete file and record material in a number of miscellaneous categories. In addition, by Buairtels dated 4/3/91, 11/6/91, 4/13/92 and 3/1/93, all Field Offices were authorized to destroy Office of Origin (OO) files in Classifications 1, 15, 42, 87, 88, and 91.

By Buairtel dated 7/12/95, all Field Offices were surveyed in order to determine the progress of the file destruction program. This survey (results attached) revealed that since 12/87, all field offices have destroyed a total of 84,068.90 linear feet of obsolete file and record material. Of this total, 859.92 linear feet of OO material and 2,467.08 linear feet of AO material (Total - 3,363.00 linear feet) was destroyed during the period of 1/1/95 through 6/30/95.

The attached Field Office file destruction survey lists separately the accomplishments of the Butte and Savannah Information Technology Centers and the Western Regional Computer Service Center in Pocatello. These accomplishments have been credited to the Field Offices which benefitted through the use of these three facilities.

PURPOSE: To place in MAOP additional instructions regarding the destruction of field files and records and delete from MAOP instructions rendered obsolete by the FBI Records Disposition Schedule (The Schedule).

DETAILS:

REASON FOR CHANGE

Additional disposition authority is being granted in order to permit destruction of Field Office files and records in the auxiliary office and miscellaneous categories, outlined herein, after observance of the indicated restrictions:

In addition, provisions of The Schedule have rendered some previously authorized file destruction instructions obsolete. Consequently, new guidelines and instructions have been established. The new instructions and guidelines are being placed in the MAOP and obsolete instructions are being deleted.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF BUREAU RECORDS Properly

PURPOSE: To provide information and justification for continued destruction of records maintained by Confidential Subunit, Voucher and Payroll Section, Administrative Services Division.

DETAILS: The records in question consist of blue slips (FD-37 and FD-536), FD-221s, receipts, etc., which support Bureau expenditures of a confidential nature, which due to their sensitive and classified nature have historically been isolated from the vouchers (SF 1012 and SF 1129) which support the expenditure of Bureau appropriated funds. These documents have received limited audit by GAO in the past.

In 1954, due to storage problems, authority to microfilm blue slips and supporting documents over five years of age, and destroy the original documents, was requested and obtained from National Archives and Records Service (NARS). The microfilm project was commenced and in 1957 discontinued due to an adverse court decision wherein original documents were not produced.

In 1974, due to security and storage problems, it was again recommended and approved that microfilming of blue slips and supporting documents be commenced inasmuch as photostatic copies would be appropriated for court purposes. Approval to destroy those blue slips and supporting documents previously microfilmed was also granted at that time.

In 1975-76, during destruction of the original documents previously microfilmed, it was noted that an appropriate index for retrieval purposes had not been established and it was virtually impossible to retrieve specific documents from microfilm records. At that time, it was also determined that an approximate outlay of $75,000.00 for appropriate retrieval equipment in addition to the outlay of extensive employee time to prepare, microfilm, index, and store approximately 1,000,000 documents would be necessary to

ekw

66-3286-1579

bring the project up to date. Further, an additional annual outlay of employee time would be required to keep the project current.

In 1977, after closer examination of the documents in question and conferences with NARS personnel, it was determined that these documents were technically nothing more than supporting documentation for the expenditure of Bureau appropriated funds, were appropriate for destruction under General Records Schedule (GRS) 6 and had the documents not been historically isolated due to the sensitive and classified nature of same, would have been destroyed in accordance with GRS 6. It sh ould be noted that each individual payment is manually recorded in a set of ledger records, which records are being retained on a permanent basis for use in production of notorized tabulations of payments if such information is requested for court purposes.

Original blue slips, FD-22ls, receipts, etc., covering confidential payments through fiscal year 1968 have been destroyed in accordance with authority contained in GRS 6. Records for 1969 fiscal year were due for destruction on 11/1/79; however, destruction of same has been held in abeyance pending final resolution of the injunction issued on 1/10/80 regarding destruction of records.

In view of the nature of the documents in question and inasmuch as information contained therein is available from other sources, destruction of these documents in accordance with GRS 6 is appropriate.

RECOMMENDATION: For information.

Destruction of booklets and pamphlets

Several years ago the Laboratory stored in our Gun Vault two boxes of booklets and pamphlets entitled Instructions for the Installation of Telephone Taps and Bell System Practices. The latter booklet consists of four volumes each.

These items have been stored for the last three years or longer and have never been referred to or requested by anyone in the Bureau.

It is requested that permission be granted to destroy these booklets and pamphlets.

Authority granted to destroy logs of technical surveillances referred to in your letter.

NOTE: During the 1937-38 Winter season, Miami was conducting considerable investigation into White Slave Traffic Act activity in the Miami-Miami Beach area. Numerous telephone taps were authorized by the Bureau in connection with this investigation. From January through March, 1938, Miami furnished to the Bureau transcripts of all of the surveillance logs prepared on the basis of these telephone taps. The logs are voluminous and the original logs as furnished by Miami to the Bureau have been microfilmed and the logs destroyed. Miami requests authority to destroy the original ~~and~~ logs of these telephone taps together with the copies thereof, since they are voluminous and now occupy much needed file space.

Bureau Bulletin #30 dated 5/6/42 authorized establishment of a log as a record of the arrival and departure of personnel [redacted]. Bureau Bulletin #47 dated 9/11/46 clarified the use of this record and stated it should be blank, letter-size paper, maintained in longhand and contain the date, name of employee arriving and departing and appropriate remarks as appear necessary. It is to be prepared daily, block stamped, initialed, filed and destroyed after one year. It was pointed out by two offices that these registers were helpful in identifying persons [redacted] and as a result Bureau Bulletin #66 dated 12/26/46 was issued directing that they be retained permanently as some of the information might be of value at future ex parte hearings. These instructions have never been rescinded. (C)

It is believed that these registers need not be retained and may be destroyed. If it is necessary to identify an employee [redacted] since 1946, his name in addition to his initials should be on the chronological log prepared immediately upon receipt of the information by [redacted]. This is based upon instructions contained in SAC Letter #129 dated 12/6/46, which states that after a chronological log is delivered to the appropriate supervisory official that individual must print on the first page of the log the full name of each individual whose initials appeared on the log so that at any future time there will be no difficulty in identifying the employee. Prior to this time [redacted] initials or signature could be placed on the chronological log. In 1949 a new form was issued which contained a space on the chronological log for the "employee's name." Before issuing instructions in this matter it was believed the views of the offices having the majority of the technical surveillances should be obtained. All of these offices, namely, Buffalo, Los Angeles, Newark, New York, San Francisco and Washington Field have replied and the consensus is that regular #1 and #3 registers can be used. These registers are kept for three years. (C)

Destruction of Bureau Records - General

Effective immediately regular #1 and #3 registers should be used to record arrivals and departures [redacted]. These registers should be handled in the same manner as similar registers in your office but they should not be identified with [redacted] should continue to utilize the log described in Bureau Bulletin #47 dated September 11, 1946, and they should be destroyed after three years. Arrival and departure logs which have been maintained in accordance with Bureau Bulletin #66 dated December 26, 1946, and which are more than three years old should be destroyed. If you feel any of these logs should be retained longer than three years, furnish the reasons and request specific authorization to make an exception.

Destruction of Bureau Property

(U) Washington Field Division by letter dated May 6, 1958, requested authority to destroy disc recordings which have accumulated in technical and microphone surveillances. Since the letter was not clear as to what exactly was to be destroyed, Supervisor Oberndorf of WFO was contacted and he advised that they wanted to destroy over twenty thousand recordings accumulated prior to 12-22-49 and in addition all other recordings on Roy Wood and related communist activities accumulated since 12-22-49. Present procedure instituted 12-22-49 requires that only a daily summary log of the information received on a surveillance is retained and the disc recordings, notes, memoranda, or other material connected with the surveillance are destroyed as soon as the pertinent information is placed in the log. Department has furnished opinion that material from wire taps such as disc recordings, and so forth, are temporary in nature and may be destroyed without violation of the law relating to the preservation of Government records. When this policy placed in effect WFO advised by letter of 1-27-50 that it had over 23 thousand old discs which had been retained over a number of years. WFO could not state with certainty that all information in the recordings had been included in the appropriate files. Because of the work involved in insuring that all information on these old discs had been incorporated into appropriate files, WFO was authorized to retain the recordings. This problem was again considered in two subsequent inspections of WFO. The Executives' Conference on July 29, 1952, approved a letter of the same date to WFO instructing that the recordings not be destroyed unless all pertinent material therefrom had been recorded in logs or summaries.

In addition, under our present policy recordings are retained when a special reason exists such as whenever a subpoena duces tecum is issued or a motion is filed in a Smith Act case relative to discovery of evidence. Department by memorandum 2-29-52 advised that all original discs, tapes, etc., on technical and microphone surveillances of defendants in Smith Act cases should be preserved until the conclusion of the trial. Field was so instructed by SAC Letter 4-24-52 and to also retain such material on related installations (such as communist headquarters) which could occasionally cover the defendant's conversations. WFO has advised such recordings have been retained on Roy Wood, convicted Smith Act subject and related cases. Since case involving Wood has been finally adjudicated, pertinent recordings need no longer be retained and

(U) should be destroyed.

WFO is also retaining on temporary basis with Bureau approval certain selected recordings in espionage matters to assist Agents and Special Employees in identifying voices of suspects. Bureau is kept advised of cases in which such recordings are retained. This is a sound procedure and should be followed.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) WFO cannot state with certainty that all information in the old disc recordings accumulated prior to 12-22-49 has been included in appropriate files. This information could well become an issue. It may not be available elsewhere in files. Recently recordings of interviews with Budenz in 1945 became of significance. Because of the work involved in insuring that all information on these old discs is incorporated in appropriate files, WFO has been authorized to retain them. It is recommended that we continue to retain these recordings for five years at which time we will reconsider the matter. For approval, there is attached a letter to WFO directing that these recordings be retained until further notice unless WFO is sure that all pertinent information therefrom has been recorded in logs or summaries.

(U)

(2) Since the Smith Act case in which Roy Wood was a subject has been adjudicated, recordings involving Wood and other related communist subjects should be destroyed if the information is incorporated into appropriate logs. WFO is being directed in the attached letter accordingly. (C)

(3) WFO is also being instructed in the attached letter to make certain that all current and future recordings since the institution of the present procedure are destroyed after the necessary action has been taken to record the information in logs and channelized to appropriate files with the exception of those specific recordings being retained on a temporary basis to assist Agents and Special Employees in familiarizing themselves with the voices of suspects in espionage matters. In the latter instance WFO is being instructed to continue to furnish to the Bureau by June 1 of each year a report reflecting the cases in which such recordings are being retained for intelligence identification purposes.

FROM : SAC, WFO (66-779)

SUBJECT: TECHNICAL MICROPHONE SURVEILLANCES

ReBulet dated 5/21/58, captioned as above relating to the destruction of disc recordings.

A total of 31,461 disc recordings from which all pertinent information therefrom has been recorded in logs or summaries have been destroyed. There are no disc recordings remaining in this office.

All recordings were placed in hot water, the acetate removed and thereafter burned at the city incinerator under supervision of agent personnel. All blank discs have been turned over to the property management section of the Bureau for disposition.

(U) A review of the bulky exhibit file of the Milwaukee Office has reflected a large number of disc recordings obtained from microphone surveillances of the headquarters office of the Wisconsin Communist party, as well as the Wisconsin Civil Rights Congress. (C)

(U) The information contained on these records has been further recorded in log form and indexed, so that there is a written record of the contents of the disc recordings. The period involved is the late 1940's and early 1950's. (C)

The Wisconsin Civil Rights Congress became defunct in approximately 1955. The recordings are designed for use on an outmoded playback machine no longer available in this office. Agents acquainted with security work over a long period of time in the Milwaukee Office have advised that to their knowledge no one has ever found it necessary to play-

SUBJECT: MICROPHONE AND TELEPHONE SURVEILLANCES Destruction of Bureau Property - General

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to obtain approval for the sending of the attached teletype to all offices advising them to discontinue the destruction of any logs and transcripts dealing with electronic surveillances.

DETAILS:

During the conduct of a recent electronic surveillance check in response to a court order, it was determined that the Baltimore Division, under the ten-year rule for destruction of field files and records, had destroyed logs and transcripts relating to electronic surveillances conducted in criminal intelligence matters in the early 1960s. As this is the first instance of such an incident occurring in response to a court order for disclosure, the impact upon cases before the courts is not known. However, the Departmental Attorney handling this case has requested that no more logs and transcripts relating to electronic surveillances be destroyed until the matter can be studied by the Department to determine the legal ramifications in regard to discovery motions and 3504 motions.

MICROPHONE AND TELEPHONE SURVEILLANCES.

RE AIRTEL TO SAC, ALBANY, DATED APRIL 27, 1976, CAPTIONED, "DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS."

IT HAS BEEN BROUGHT TO THE ATTENTION OF THE BUREAU THAT AT LEAST ONE OFFICE, UNDER THE TEN-YEAR RULE FOR DESTRUCTION OF FIELD FILES AND RECORDS, HAS DESTROYED LOGS AND TRANSCRIPTS RELATING TO ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCES CONDUCTED IN CRIMINAL MATTERS IN THE EARLY 1960S. THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE HAS REQUSTED THAT NO FURTHER LOGS AND TRANSCRIPTS DEALING WITH ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE BE DESTROYED UNTIL THE LEGAL RAMIFICATIONS IN REGARD TO DISCOVERY MOTIONS AND 3504 MOTIONS DEALING WITH ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE CAN BE STUDIED.

FIELD OFFICES SHOULD NOT DESTROY LOGS AND TRANSCRIPTS RECORDS DEALING WITH ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE WITHOUT PRIOR APPROVAL OF FBIHQ.

MEMORANDUM FOR DIVISION SIX

Please refer to Fugitive Index No. 3972, CHARLIE _____, and to your memorandum dated November 13, 1931. A review of the Bureau file indicates that the subject of the fugitive index is white, whereas the individual whom you cite as arrested by the New York Police Department on March 11, 1930, is colored. Accordingly, our New York Office is not being requested to attempt a verification.

Very truly yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR:

Please refer to Fugitive Index #3972, CHARLIE -------, file #31-32633.

Our files reflect a fingerprint card on one Charles S. Smith, alias Charlie, colored, 30 years old, 5'9½" tall, weight 190 pounds, medium build, showing his arrest by the New York City Police Department on March 11, 1930, charged with violation of Section 1897 Penal Law, which apparently relates to breaking and entering, since this individual was charged with entering a tenement building.

While it is hardly possible that those individuals are identical, you may desire to make inquiry into this fact. The Fugitive posting, meantime, has been placed as "probably identical" on the fingerprint card of the Charles S. Smith, alias Charlie mentioned above.

Respectfully,

L. C. Schilder.

THE UNITED STATES BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION.

- HISTORICAL -

Just as necessity mothers inventions, it also fosters origins, and nurtures progress. The origin, development, and growth of the United States Bureau of Investigation is in answer to the need for an unprejudiced fact-finding body in the field of efficient governmental operation and service. An unbiased agency of research and investigation became imperative with the first passage of criminal laws by the American Congress in 1790. Its need coincided with the first attempt to defraud the infant Republic. The location of such a service as an integral part of the Federal Department of Justice is as logical as is a government's duty to administer justice, prevent fraud, and protect its citizens.

The beginning of the fourth-ranking executive department is found in the legislation providing for the office of Attorney General in 1789, which was consummated by the appointment of Edmond Randolph to that position by President Washington. United States Attorneys and United States Marshals were placed under the administration of this office during the first year of the Civil War, and nine years later, Congress created the Department of Justice with the Attorney General at its head. In creating this Department, the legislation provided that the Attorney General include in his annual report statistics of crime under the laws of the United States, as well as those arising under the laws of the various states. The next year, 1871, the first appropriation was made for "The Detection and Prosecution of Crimes", which since has been renewed annually. Then, after the new century was but six years of age, the Attorney General referred to Congress the fact that methods of criminal identification were being used in Federal Prisons and specific reference was made to the Bertillon system of identification, which, already found inadequate, was being supplanted by the accurate method of identification by fingerprints. The request was made for authority to exchange identifying records with state officials and institutions.

Thus we find the actions which were forerunners of the United States Bureau of Investigation, with its functions of investigation, research, and identification.

With the creation of the Department of Justice in 1870, the Attorney General appointed an agent, whose title soon became "Special Agent", to make special investigations for the Attorney General. By 1879 the title was changed to "General Agent", and three years later, this official was given three assistants, known as examiners. They aided United States Attorneys in important cases, later aided in the administration of prisons and prisoners, examined accounts of clerks, Marshals and Commissioners, and observed their conduct of official business. The increased necessity for supervision of the Department's officials and duties soon demanded their full time and they had a status similar to that of accountants and examiners. In 1894, the force so employed consisted of a Special Agent, a Special Examiner, and seven Examiners engaged in a general check on the administration of the business of the Department, augmented by one Special Agent who investigated crimes on Indian Reservations. In 1902 another Special Agent was added to make investigations, as an aid in preparing for the defense of claims arising as an outgrowth of the Spanish-American War. In the meantime, the need for additional examiners had arisen and one Special Agent was authorized to investigate Antitrust law violations.

It is observed that these employees were largely engaged in checking administrative functions and operations. The broad field of Federal law violations was, before 1906, practically without investigators, although there were operatives and agents in other departments with limited duties in this field. It is no wonder, then, that following the Civil War, the Attorney General indicated he was without funds and investigators to handle the many problems relative to the detection and prosecution of crimes which arose as an aftermath of that war. Again in 1878, the Attorney General told Congress he had no force to make investigations of Federal crimes. The establishment of Indian Reservations gave the Federal Government jurisdiction over thousands of square miles of territory for the use of the Indian wards of the Government. A multitude of fraudulent claims were filed following the Spanish-American War. Frauds in naturalization matters became enormous. With the opening of the West, land frauds under Federal jurisdiction became numerous. Although Antitrust laws were passed in 1890, the Attorney General in 1906 advised he had no investigators to aid in enforcing these laws. Only the Federal Government had jurisdiction of offenses occurring on the high seas, on military and many other reservations and national parks. Bankruptcy proceedings were administered exclusively by the United States Courts. Interstate commerce violations were by law made punishable by the United States. Fugitives from justice were to be located.

Picture the difficulties, therefore, of those who were to defend suits brought against the Government. They needed facts. They must have the facts to prevent payment of fraudulent claims from the Treasury. The United States Attorney who prosecutes crimes at times is located in a district covering an entire state; again, he is in a thickly populated center, with a large volume of business. He cannot, of course, make investigations to build up every case for prosecution, or even to see if he should or should not prosecute. The problem is even greater when some of the witnesses reside hundreds of miles away.

It is but little wonder, then, that by 1906, in addition to an increased number of examiners and administrative aids, there had been borrowed from another department more than one and one-half score of "operatives", but they were not responsible to the Attorney General. Congress directed that this "loaning" of agents be discontinued in 1908. Action was necessary, so on July 26, 1908, Attorney General Charles J. Bonaparte issued an order placing all of the Department of Justice investigators and examiners, other than bank examiners and naturalization service investigators, under the direction of a Chief Examiner who was responsible to the Head of the Department. Nine "borrowed" operatives were appointed Special Agents, who, with twelve Examiners, and thirteen other Special Agents heretofore inquiring into peonage violations and land frauds, constituted the first organized force of the investigative bureau of the Department of Justice. The following year all naturalization examiners were transferred by Congress to the Department of Commerce and Labor. A small force of accountants was added to this remaining nucleus, particularly to handle violations of national banking laws and kindred matters. In the same year, 1909, at the request of Congress and direction of the President, a report was submitted to show the organization and operations of this new unit, and a list of twenty-five classes of investigations was submitted as being under its jurisdiction. An order establishing this Bureau was made on March 16, 1909, by the Attorney General.

In 1910, the administrative head of the Bureau bore the title of "Chief", an office held by Stanley W. Finch. Administrative and clerical positions were created to supplement the agents in the field. A. Bruce Bielaski became Assistant Chief. Two years later Mr. Finch accepted a position as Special Commissioner for the Suppression of White Slave Traffic, which, with investigators known as White Slave Traffic Officers, established headquarters in Baltimore, however, this unit merged with the United States Bureau of Investigation in 1914. With the departure of Mr. Finch in 1912, A. Bruce Bielaski became Chief of the Bureau. His Assistant Chief was Raymond E. Horn. During the following year a pamphlet of instructions was issued for the use of Special Agents, and for the most part, the agents were under the direct supervision of the Chief. In 1913 Attorney General McReynolds reported to the Secretary of State, William Jennings Bryan, that the Examiners and Special Agents were concerned with the prosecution of crimes, the apprehension of criminals, and the supervision of certain field officials of the Department. This seems to have outlined the general duties of the investigative staff at that time. The investigations of violations of the White Slave Traffic Act were added to the duties in 1914 and further emphasized the need for trained personnel.

The year 1914 marked the beginning of the World War. Violations of neutrality laws demanded investigative attention. Numerous reports were received concerning alleged illegal activities of German agents. Although they were often false, nevertheless, extensive investigation was required. In 1916, international disputes arose along the Mexican border which demanded that further facts be obtained by investigators of this Bureau. On April 6, 1917, the United States declared the existence of a state of war, and immediately it became necessary to arrest and intern dangerous enemy aliens, to enforce the Espionage Act, the Selective Service Act, to investigate charges of war profiteering, frauds against the Government, obstruction of recruiting, violations by camp followers, and numerous indications of subversive activities by alien enemies. Complaints received during the next twelve months averaged 1500 daily, and at times reached a total of more than 3000 per day. It became necessary, of course, to supplement the investigations by voluntary aid which was contributed largely through the American Protective League, a volunteer organization which cooperated with this Bureau. Likewise, it became necessary to assign agents to fleet bases for protective and investigative purposes.

The Armistice was signed, but the usual situations following in the wake of war demanded further investigations, including the adjustment of contracts, the inquiries concerning charges of graft, profiteering, and all these charges demanded more facts which were largely furnished by this Bureau.

Mr. Bielaski resigned in 1919, and William E. Allen of Texas became Acting Chief. Soon afterwards, the administrative examiners of the Department were transferred to the Division of Accounts by the Attorney General. Mr. Allen was succeeded after a few weeks by William J. Flynn, with the title of Director. Frank Burke became Assistant Director and Chief. Increased demands for investigations arose from subversive activities and doctrines which were called to the Government's attention; from charges of profiteering and "high cost of living" conditions which were under regulations of the Food Control Act; and from passage of the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act. In 1914 President Wilson promoted Attorney General McReynolds to the Supreme Court, and in 1917 his successor, Mr. Gregory, appointed J. Edgar Hoover to a position in the Department of Justice, and in 1919, Mr. Hoover was promoted to the position of Special Assistant to the Attorney General. He became administrative head of the General Intelligence Division of the Bureau during the same year, and the creation of this division emphasizes the increased demands for investigations, in view of the need for facts concerning the many and far reaching problems and conditions arising as an aftermath of the World War. There was initiated in this Division a practice later adopted by the entire Bureau of more intensively reviewing all reports of agents, to supervise the information obtained and the investigative steps recorded. During this period, the Bureau was functioning under the direction of an Assistant Attorney General. In 1920, Special Assistant to the Attorney General William J. Neale was directed to perform the duties of Acting Chief of the Bureau. In October of the same year, Lewis J. Baley was appointed as Chief of the Bureau, vice Frank Burke resigned, and in 1921, William J. Burns was appointed Director of the Bureau. J. Edgar Hoover became Assistant Director. Shortly afterwards, a system of training of new employees was initiated, and the demands for investigations continued, as is shown by the fact that the War Department reported nearly 250 cases of alleged violations, bankruptcy frauds were reported in increased numbers, and passport and visa investigations were made by the hundreds. There were also reported for investigation war risk insurance violations, aircraft and cantonment construction frauds, and claims filed against the Government also made demands for investigations by Special Agents and Special Accountants. By 1922, however, the number of positions was decreased, the instruction school for new agents was reestablished, and the Special Agents and Special Accountants were conducting their operations from 52 field office headquarters.

In May, 1924, J. Edgar Hoover was designated Acting Director, and he was promoted to the position of Director on December 19, 1924, by Attorney General Stone. There began a constructive program of retrenchment and progress. The Bureau's functions were made entirely non-political and the relationship with peace officials in every section of the nation was placed on a high plane of cooperation.

In July, 1924, the fingerprints received at the Leavenworth Penitentiary were consolidated with those maintained in Washington by the International Association of Chiefs of Police, and the combined collection became a part of the United States Bureau of Investigation. This marked a step forward in the era of cooperation and administrative development which made this division of the Bureau's work the largest unit of criminal identification in the world, where free of charge there is furnished information based on fingerprint identification to thousands of law enforcement officials and agencies throughout the United States, and through such facilities there is rendered valuable service in civil identifications and a medium for keeping a check on criminals who operate on an international basis. Following the phenomenal development of this identification project, the International Association of Chiefs of Police in June, 1930, sponsored legislative authority for this Bureau to collect and compile uniform crime statistics for the entire United States, a movement previously initiated by that Association. Again there was marked progress as a result of the advancement of this, another cooperative movement for the benefit of peace officers.

In the Bureau's investigative and cooperative work efficient, effective and economical administrative methods have been installed; unnecessary overhead has been eliminated; a codification of regulations and instructions based upon suggestions and cooperative experiences of all members of the Bureau has been effected; required standards of qualifications for new appointees were raised so that personnel is selected from a field of law-trained young men or expert accountants, who are investigated vigorously before appointment. Afterward they receive a course of training in the Bureau's training school, which combines scientific and theoretical instruction, with its practical application by training the new employee with experienced Special Agents. All employees are required to keep pace with the latest development of ethical and intelligent methods of investigative procedure; promotions are based solely on efficiency, and all possible aid is given the Special Agent in order to develop his versatility, general ability and skill as an investigator. A highly trained personnel is required in order that the Bureau with a small force can most economically and effectively handle investigations of diversified classifications, including the following:

Antitrust Violations
Bankruptcy Frauds and Violations Bribery
Contempt of Court
Copyright Violations
Crimes on Indian Reservations
Crimes on Military and Other Government Reservations and Parks
Crimes on the High Seas
Federal Kidnaping Law
Federal Reserve Act
Frauds Against the Government

Interstate Commerce Violations
Intimidation of Witnesses
Location of Escaped Federal Prisoners
Major Crimes in Alaska
Miscellaneous Official Matters and Violations
National Bank Act
National Motor Vehicle Theft Act
Parole, Pardon and Probation Matters Perjury
Patent Violations
Peonage .
Theft and Embezzlement of Government Property
Theft from Interstate Commerce
Veterans Bureau Violations
White Slave Traffic Act

These investigations are conducted in Alaska, Hawaii, on the high seas, on Military, Indian and other Government Reservations, in cities and in rural communities. An Agent may be required to handle an investigation of a hardened criminal on one day and on the next may be assigned to obtain evidence from men prominent in the affairs of the business or political world. Although this Bureau has investigative jurisdiction over all cases in which the United States is or may be a party in interest, in order to avoid duplication of effort its attention is confined largely to the above characters of investigation, which leads many to speculate that perhaps four or five thousand Special Agents are required to handle the work, which is in fact accomplished by less than one-tenth of the number included in such estimates. These Special Agents, highly trained in this work, now conduct investigations from twenty-two field offices of the United States Bureau of Investigation, which, in answer to the need for such service, has a record of progressively increasing accomplishments.

POSTING SECTION RECORDING SECTION
TYPING SECTION
TECHNICAL SECTION
STENOGRAPHERS
MESSENGERS

Effective July 1, 1933, the Typing Section is to transmit copies of letters answering fingerprints only in the following instances:

(A) SEE FOOTNOTE.

(B) The Bureau of Prisons is to be furnished with copies of letters reflecting current arrests of individuals previously confined to any of the Federal institutions where our records show such individuals are on parole. Letters answering current prints received from Federal institutions are to be directed to the Bureau of Prisons with copies to the said institutions.

(C) Copies of letters replying to current prints are to be forwarded to all contributors interested in securing the apprehension of any individual as a fugitive. Those letters are to be sent when they report the fugitive status of an individual and also are to be sent when a print reporting the arrest of a fugitive is answered.

(D) Prints from Federal agencies are to be answered direct to the contributing field office and not to the Washington headquarters as is the practice now. No copy is to be sent to the Washington headquarters unless that headquarters is the contributing agency.

(E) Where it is customary at the present time for copies of letters to be sent to parole or similar agencies, that practice may be followed.

The decision with reference to sending copies of records in "reanswer" cases is to be made in the individual cases by the assistant Chief or by me.

Division of Investigation

U. S. Department of Justice

Washington, D. C.

December 28, 1934.

Special Agent in Charge,

Attention: Mr. Renneberger.

Dear Sir:

The Division has noticed that a tendency prevails on the part of several field offices to designate as "Kidnaping - Extortion" those cases in which a letter is received by a victim, threatening a kidnaping in the event a demand for ransom is not complied with.

For administrative purposes, it is desired that only those cases be characterized as "Kidnaping" where there has been an actual seizure and abduction, or where information is received that a plot has been or is being formulated to effect an abduction.

In other instances, where a letter merely threatens to kidnap a person in an endeavor to extort, the "Extortion" classification should be used.

Very truly yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Sir:

This is with reference to your letter of February 15, 1935, and the package suspected of containing inflammable mechanism to be used in arson plots or a bomb transmitted to you by Deputy Fire Marshal S. S. Blackburn of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

In view of the fact that your letter did not give any of the details of the securing of this package the examiners were forced to treat it as though it were suspected of containing a live bomb. As you know trigger mechanisms frequently render it impossible to open such packages safely. The package was taken to a rifle range where a shot from a high powered rifle was fired through the center. This failed to explode it and another shot was placed through the bottom. As no explosion resulted the package was opened. It was found to be a cylindrical box of wood approximately five inches long by 2 1/8 inches in diameter, the two hollow ends being fastened together by screw threads cut in the wood.

The interior was filled with absorbent cotton packed tightly, in the center of which was found a metal tube one end of which is closed by a tube which simply fits over and is held in place by friction. On the end of this tube stamped in the tin or other metal of which it was composed were the letters "AT PE D. S." All of these letters were not visible because the first bullet from the rifle tore away the end of the metal tube. The visible letters are possibly part of the abbreviation "Pat. Pend." On the opposite end is the figure of a maltese cross which is made by embossing of the metal. Inside this tube there was additional absorbent cotton packed in the end closed by the cap. In the other end there apparently was no cotton but as it was opened by the bullet no positive statement can be made as to this. In the center of the tube was a cylindrical object, practically the diameter of the tube, which was, however, free to move. As it was possible that this contained an explosive, it also was first tested and then filed. It was found to be a solid piece of brass moulded to this shape.

It is obvious that the package is one designed by some abnormal person. It might have been intended for use in connection with an arson plot as all that was necessary to finish its preparation for this purpose was to add some explosive and some means of igniting it. This is somewhat true with reference to the possible use as a bomb, it being unusual, however, for such packages to contain the inflammable materials such as cotton and wood. Also, it would be unusual to find a metal cylinder, its only possible use being as a projectile and there being no means provided for insuring any aim. If the package was designed for use in connection with arson it would seem to be a crude device, probably unsuccessful in most instances. In fact, altogether the package appears to be the work of a mentally deranged person or one lacking experience in things of this type.

The package in its present condition and all the parts described are being returned under separate cover.

This information is being transmitted in order that you may contact Mr. Blackburn and inform him of the results of the examination.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover,
Director.

December 31, 1935.

Mr. L. D. Nolan, Sheriff,
Davidson County,
Nilar, Tennessee.

Dear Sir:

I have been informed of your recent conversation with a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation relative to crime reporting, and am pleased to learn of your interest in that project. In accordance with your request, there has been forwarded to you under separate cover a copy of the manual "Uniform Crime Reporting". In addition, there are transmitted herewith a copy of "A Handbook Containing Suggestions for the Preparation of Uniform Crime Reports" and copies of the forms entitled "Register of Offenses Known to the Police", "Register of Persons Charged by the Police", "Return A, Monthly Return of Offenses Known to the Police", and "Tally Sheet for Return A".

It should be observed that in the system of uniform crime reporting there are three reports employed; monthly Return A, annual Return B and annual Return C. Copies of those forms, bearing sample entries, may be found in the inclosed handbook. It is intended that the Register of Offenses Known to the Police and the Register of Persons Charged by the Police be permanently retained in the files of your office. If employed, they will make readily available the information desired for monthly Return A and annual Returns B and C.

It is desired that reports contributed by sheriffs be limited to the rural portions of the territory under their jurisdiction. Villages, and other places with less than 2,500 inhabitants, should be considered as rural in character. If the sheriff's office also polices places with more than 2,500 inhabitants, offenses committed in such communities should be separately listed.

In the future the necessary Return A forms and Tally Sheets will be mailed so as to reach you on or about the first of the month following that for which they are to be submitted. If the Bureau can be of further assistance in connection with the compilation of crime reports, please do not hesitate to call upon me.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

By your memorandum to Mr. Jenkins dated 6/7/76, captioned as above, you requested comments of any Assistant Director concerning the destruction of investigative records of substance at FBIHQ after same have been retained for ten years.

Providing there are no legal requirements concerning the retention of investigative files, I would assume that one of the more important considerations to be made would be whether or not files older than ten or 20 years are of any investigative assistance to our field investigative personnel.

I would suggest for your consideration that the field be canvassed and consulted on this particular point. Providing the vast majority of Agents actually engaged in investigative matters are of the opinion that files or information contained in files that are ten to 20 years old are of little, if any, assistance to them, then I would be inclined to support the establishment of an appropriate destruction policy. It is believed that the field could provide significant input in this most important policy where it would ultimately have a direct bearing on their investigative endeavors.

RECOMMENDATION:

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

PURPOSE: To furnish Records Management Division (RMD) with General Investigative Division (GID) views concerning retention period for all FBIHQ files.

SYNOPSIS: GID Sections have considered retention policy for FBIHQ files pertinent to their respective supervisory responsibilities. Civil Rights and Name Check Sections recommend files be retained for at least 20 years whereas Accounting and Fraud and Criminal Sections' experience indicates retention period of 10 years sufficient. As it concerns major case investigation, GID believes when date for destruction arrives, RMD should request views of Substantive Division as to the wisdom of destruction at that time.

RECOMMENDATION: That this memorandum be forwarded to RMD.

RE: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

DETAILS: RMD has requested our comments concerning retention period for all FBIHQ files and impact this would have on FBI operations and responsibilities. Each Section in GID has reviewed and Name Check and Civil Rights Sections believe 20 year retention period is necessary for them to carry out their supervisory responsibilities.

Name Check Section had the following comments:

The FBI Headquarters' filing system originated and developed over the years based upon the concept that a strong central records system adequately indexed for full and facile retrievability of pertinent information (mostly indicating criminal, subversive or suitability factors) would assist the Government in maintaining the internal security of the nation, assist in solving crimes perpetrated by repeat offenders, and avoid situations where persons of unsavory or disreputable backgrounds could work their way into positions of trust with the Government. This system started in a period when the mobility of the typical American was rather fixed; that is, a person was born, educated and employed in a somewhat confined area, in most instances within the same state or geographic region. As society and living standards have developed, the shiftability or mobility of the average American has increased tremendously and with it, the changing of names, mores and other factors which could identify an individual with prior unfavorable information. Inasmuch as the question of identity is left begging in many instances, that is, in the absence of fingerprints, the FBI's practice of having volumes filled with old, perhaps outdated, data has really outlived itself due to the changes mentioned above. Accordingly, the name check program does not need information more than 20 years old assuming the period of a person's life between 20 and 40 years is the normal "make or break" stage, that is, the person is during this period well on the way to success or well seasoned as a criminal or subversive threat. Conversely, the files should be maintained for at least 20 years in order to be meaningful.

Accounting and Fraud and Criminal Sections of GID believe a 10 year destruction policy will be appropriate as it concerns handling of violations supervised by those Sections. They note that seldom, if ever, are our files over 10 years old meaningful as it concerns a criminal violation and believe their supervisory responsibilities to be appropriately handled with a retention policy of at least 10 years.

As it concerns individual major FBI investigations, GID believes the Substantive Division handling investigation should have the opportunity to decide whether or not that particular major investigative file should be destroyed when the destruction period arrives. We suggest RMD query Substantive FBIHQ Division as it concerns these major FBI investigations prior to destruction.

SUBJECT: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

Reference memorandum dated 6-7-76 from Mr. Decker to Mr. Jenkins.

PURPOSE: To set forth the views of the Special Investigative Division relative to changing retention periods for Bureau files.

SYNOPSIS: Regarding the proposed adoption of a short retention period because of its significant impact on Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and Privacy Act, 1974 (PA) processing problems, this could be construed as an effort to evade the purpose of these statues and would hamper our ability to defend against unjust criticism and lawsuit. Retention periods must be consistent with the PA requirements, with provisions set forth in the most recent proposed drafts of both the revised Executive Order (EO) 10450 (May, 1976) and the Attorney General's Guidelines for FBI Information Gathering and Retention Policies, and with written agreement entered with the Legislative, Judicial and Executive Branches concerning applicant-type investigations. The importance attached to the uniqueness, relevance and availability of information stored in FBI files should be weighed heavily against an uncertain and immeasurable economic gain to be realized in a short retention period.

RECOMMENDATION: Short retention periods of FBI files should be considered primarily from the viewpoint of elimination of useless information in all files. Secondary consideration should include the results in economic savings.

"CONTINUED OVER"

DETAILS: The establishment of short retention periods for Bureau files because of the burdens of processing FOIA and PA requests invites the conclusion that short retention periods have a primary purpose of avoiding the intent of these statutes. Moreover, a short retention period would hamper the FBI in its ability to defend itself against unjust criticism and lawsuit in that we would be without the evidence to support our objectivity. Such criticisms have already been raised as our files have been opened to requesters. The first letter sent to a requester informing that due to our short retention, we have destroyed information about him might be expected to result in legislation establishing a 30, 40, or 50-year program of retention of files.

The Department of Justice is currently studying retention guidelines and there are specific retention guidelines set forth in several other areas. Our efforts to define retention periods must be consistent with these other guidelines.

For example, the PA, Section (C) (2) states that an accurate accounting of disclosure of a record must be retained for at least five years or the life of the record whichever is longer. Further, the latest (May, 1976) proposed revision of EO 10450 in Section 7 (j) states that reinvestigations of incumbents in positions of special trust may be conducted every five years. This proposed revision would also set forth standards for the control, release, use, and retention of reports (Section 13). Also, the Attorney General's Guidelines for FBI Information Gathering and Retention Policies sets forth proposed standards for the collection and retention of information. The several proposed drafts of these guidelines also deal with our background investigations for Congressional and Judicial positions and the retention of reports resulting from these investigations. We have furnished several memoranda to the Department concerning these guidelines, i.e. Cleveland to Adams memorandum dated 9-15-75; McDermott to Jenkins dated 9-8-75. We are now preparing an agreement to conduct background investigations for the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. This agreement would set forth standards for the dissemination and retention of reports of background investigations.

In view of these varying standards and the need to insure that our consideration of retention periods covers the above situations and other possibilities, reevaluation should include consideration of these several areas.

"CONTINUED OVER"

A short-term retention policy of 10 or 20 years is feasible only as it can be effectively shown that information beyond those years is of little or no value, a demonstration which has not yet been made. Our files are unique and singular and contain information which would not exist elsewhere. If destroyed it could be irretrievable. The study cited revealed that 77 percent of searching requirements are met from file data since 1956. A 23 percent utilization rate for data over 20 years old is not insignificant and without a clearer demonstration such data possesses little or no utility, valuable data could be lost forever. No amount of saved square footage could compensate for destroyed information which could be pertinent to a current investigation.

The ten-year destruction program in the field affords little basis for justifying a shorter retention plan for FBIHQ since the field program is based on the availability of data at FBIHQ. To destroy FBIHQ files would undermine the basis for the field destruction program.

While aspects of FOIA/PA may be oppressive at the moment, this situation could abate considerably once controversial file reviews are settled. It is important that we not allow what may be short-term considerations to generate policies which may disadvantage the long-range investigative responsibilities of the Bureau.

While personnel savings may result, a short-term program should be defensible and justifiable on its own merits and any ancillary benefits should devolve from a sound policy and not form a basis for determining that policy. Furthermore, little personnel savings can be expected in other divisions since they are essentially engaged in managing current investigative activity and not in processing data over 20 years old.

As to organized crime files, in general, either a 10- or 20-year retention period for both substantive and nonsubstantive matters currently handled by this section is acceptable and cannot be foreseen as having a detrimental impact on future FEI operations. Certain nonsubstantive 92-AR files, however--because they contain unique and irreplaceable biographical data on top hoodlums, trace the origins and development of organized crime in America, or represent the only existing sources of such material--have extraordinary historical value and should be retained indefinitely. The Organized Crime Section believes that prior to their destruction nonsubstantive 92 files should be evaluated by this section to determine whether or not they should in fact be destroyed.

"CONTINUFD OVER"

Proposals

1. The computerization of records appears to offer a possibility of providing a means to program a file destruction plan geared to the individual subject. Of prime concern is the availability of data concerning the adult life of an individual. With rare exceptions, an investigative interest in an individual would not extend beyond age 65-70. A computer program could be developed to relate the individual's age at the time of investigation to age 65 or 70 and generate a call for the destruction of that file at that time.

2. In connection with name checks, where a negative response is made because there is no record or no pertinent identifiable information, it may be feasible to simply hold these for a period of 90-120 days and then destroy them without ever placing on record. Where information is furnished another agency, a record of dissemination should, however, be retained.

PURPOSE: To set forth for the assistance of the Records Management Division (RMD) comments and suggestions of the Intelligence Division (INTD) relating to the retention of files within the purview or the responsibility of INTD.

SYNOPSIS: INTD concurs with RMD contention that re-evaluation of retention requirements of FBIHQ file material is warranted. In addition to cost factors, indefinite retention of internal security/intelligence files deters our ability to extract and utilize file material relevant to current internal security/intelligence needs. Retention period as pertains to files in INTD work should be measured from the date of the last significant material in the file as opposed to date file administratively closed. It is also suggested RMD establish a system to appropriately flag files by category to indicate tentative date of destruction.

RECOMMENDATION: That this memorandum be referred to the RMD for its use and its proposed presentation to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) for approval.

Memorandum to Mr. T. W. Leavitt
Re: Destruction of FBI Files

DETAILS: INTD concurs with RMD contention, as set forth in memorandum to Mr. Jenkins from A. J. Decker, Jr., dated 6/7/76 that a current re-evaluation of retention requirements of FBI file material is warranted. In addition to increasingly prohibited cost factors, our present indefinite retention of insignificant and less significant file material at FBIHQ deters our ability to readily extract and utilize file material relevant to our current investigative and intelligence responsibilities. While INTD generally supports the concept of systematic destruction of certain categories of files after periods of specified retention, the comments and suggestions set forth herein relate only to files/records within the purview of the INTD as relates to its investigative/intelligence responsibilities.

It should be noted in the instance of criminal-type substantive investigations customarily the period of file retention commences when the case is administratively closed. In the area of internal security/counterintelligence responsibilities, where investigations are frequently of an open end case with future analytical value, the retention period should be measured from the date of the last filed material recording relevant activity. It should be pointed out there are instances where files have been opened to administer or record intelligence-type material for over 30 years and these files are still utilized.

Policy Files - Current experience with Congressional, investigative and oversight committees has demonstrated the necessity of indefinite retention of policy material such as that dealing with statutory interpretations, executive orders and directives, Department instruction, jurisdiction, certain liaison matters, particularly [illegible] relating to internal security/extremist/counterintelligence investigations. This material must continue to be indefinitely maintained and where practical it should be segregated from files primarily regarding substantive investigations.

Material of Historical Significance - The retention of material based on its possible future historical value is basically a judgment decision, subject to critical hindsight. However, files relating to notorious individuals and highly publicized investigations (the Silvermaster ring, Rosenberg case, Hiss case, Colonel Abel investigation, certain Communist Party leaders such as William Z. Foster and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn), outlining unique or unorthodox investigative/counterintelligence techniques and those relating to key sources, defectors, illegals, intelligence personalities, should be indefinitely retained. In addition to the possible future need of this material for analytical research purposes, files of this nature regularly contain information of a policy and historical significance.

Termination of Intelligence Significance - Social-political factors may alleviate the need for the retention of specific files in whole areas of foreign intelligence interest. For example, with few exceptions, almost all the extensive FBI file holdings on World War II German American, Japanese-American, Nazi, Bund, Custodian Detention and Alien Control matters, could be immediately destroyed without harm to our ongoing or future intelligence needs. Also, excepting those of historical interest, files relating to our investigative/intelligence interests in South America and Central America during World War II (Special Investigative Services) could be destroyed based upon the radically altered social/political alignments.

On the other hand, many of our files dealing with personalities and organizations concerned with Soviet intelligence activities are vital to our analytical intelligence needs as long as the Soviet-bloc presents a military-economic-political intelligence threat to our internal security interests.

Files on Individuals - As regards the internal security-counterintelligence areas, files on individuals may be divided into three basic categories for retention purposes.

1. Investigations where derogatory information was not developed or insignificant to warrant expanded investigative scrutiny (destroy in five years), except in foreign counterintelligence matters (destroy in 20 years.)

2. Investigations where derogatory information has been developed but not deemed of prosecutive or continuing intelligence need (would include rank-and-file members of subversive/extremist groups) (destroy in 10 years).

3. Investigations with significant prosecutive or ongoing intelligence interest. These would include top functionaries and activists of certain subversive/extremist groups (destroy after 20 years or longer if any indication of historical or future analytical value). Known and suspected intelligence officers and important intelligence agents should be retained indefinitely.

It is believed a policy should be developed whereby significant information relating to subversive/extremist involvement of individuals could be, where practical, incorporated into organizational or topical files so appropriate indexing may be effected to meet future possible requirements under Executive Order 10450 (security-loyalty matters).

Organizational Files - Excepting instances where derogatory information is lacking or not confirmed, our files on subversive/extremist organizations and organizations of foreign counterintelligence interest should be retained for a period of 20 years and longer in the event they are deemed to have historical or future analytical value.

Informant, Source, Asset Files - Where an individual is considered for informant, source, asset use and subsequently not used or used on a restrictive basis, it is suggested the file be retained for only 10 years, unless unusual circumstances dictate otherwise.

Internal Security/Extremist Files Without Foreign Involvement - Organizational and individual investigative or intelligence files relating to such transitory organizations as the Klan, Minutemen, Nation of Islam, Black Panther Party, etc., may logically be destroyed 10 years after the last reported relevant activity. Also included in the 10-year category for destruction would be such investigations as those relating to anti-riot and bombing matters and Espionage-X cases, unless circumstances dictate otherwise.

It is suggested the RMD consider establishing a system whereby file covers may be appropriately flagged to indicate proposed category of destruction and, where appropriate, the date of destruction. Such a system could be supported by a card file index which would insure systematic review and destruction of files within specific categories at the termination of appropriate retention dates.

CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS
TITLE 41
PUBLIC CONTRACTS AND PROPERTY MANAGEMENT
CHAPTER 101 (SUB-CHAPTER B, ARCHIVES & RECORDS)
PART 101-11 RECORDS MANAGEMENT

SCOPE OF PART (101-11.000)

This part prescribes policies and promulgates standards, procedures and techniques for the economical and efficient management of records of Federal agencies.

FEDERAL RECORDS; GENERAL
(SUBPART 101-11.1)

Records Defined (101-11.101-3)

(a) Section 1 of the Records Disposal Act (44 U.S.C. 366) defines the term "records," as applied to the disposition of records, to include "all books, papers, maps, photographs, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by any agency of the United States Government in pursuance of Federal law or in connection with the transaction of public business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by that agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the Government or because of the informational value of data contained therein. Library and museum material made or acquired and preserved solely for reference or exhibition purposes, extra copies of documents preserved only for convenience of reference, and stocks of publications and of processed documents are not included within the definition of the word 'records' * * *"

AGENCY RECORDS MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS (101-11.102)

Creation of records (101-11.102-3)

Adequate records management controls over the creation of agency records shall be instituted to insure that important policies and decisions are adequately recorded; that routine operational paper work is kept to a minimum; and that the accumulation of unnecessary files is prevented. Effective techniques to be applied in this are include the application of systems for the control of correspondence, forms, directives and issuances, and reports; the minimizing of duplicate files; and the disposal without filing of transitory material that has no value for record purposes.

Disposition of records (101-102-5)

Provision shall be made to insure that records of continuing value are preserved but that records no longer of current use to an aency are promptly disposed of or retired. Effective techniques for accomplishing these ends are the development of records control schedules; the transfer of records to records centers and to the National Archives; the microfilming of appropriate records; and the disposal of valueless records.

CREATION OF RECORDS
SUBPART 101-11.2

ADEQUATE AND PROPER DOCUMENTATION (101-11.202)

Statutory responsibilities (101-11.202-1)

The Federal Records Act of 1950 requires that the head of each Federal agency "shall cause to be made and preserved records containing adequate and proper documentation of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, and essential transaction of the agency and designed to furnish the information necessary to protect the legal and financial rights of the Government and of persons directly affected by the agency's activities."

Documentation standards (101-11.202-2)

To insure that adequate and proper records are made and preserved in the Federal Government, the following documentation standards will apply in each Federal agency:

(a) The record of the transaction of public business by any Federal official or employee is to be complete to the extent required (1) to facilitate information action by the incumbents and their successor in office; (2) to make possible a proper scrutiny by the Congress, other duly authorized agencies of the Government, and other persons properly and directly concerned, of the manner in which public business has been discharged; and (3) to protect the financial, legal, and other rights of the Government and of persons affected by the Government's actions.

(b) With particular regard to the formulation and execution of basic Government policy, Federal officials are responsible for incorporation in the records of their agencies all essential information on their major actions. Significant decisions and commitments reached orally (person to person, by telephone, or in conference) should be reduced to writing and included in the record. Minutes should be taken at important board, committee, and staff meetings, and these, together with a copy of the agenda and all documents considered at or resulting from such meetings, should be made a part of the record.

(c) The programs, policies, and procedures of Federal agencies are to be adequately documented in appropriate directives. A record copy of each such directive (including those superseded) will be maintained as a part of the official files.

(d) Papers of a private or nonofficial character which pertain only to an individual's personal affairs that are kept in the office of a Federal official will be clearly designated by him as nonofficial and will at all times be filed separately from the official records of his office. In cases where matters requiring the transaction of official business are received in private personal correspondence, the portion of such correspondence that pertains to official business will be extracted and made a part of the official files (see 101-11.406-6).

CREATING RECORDS ESSENTIAL FOR CURRENT BUSINESS (101-11.203)

General requirements (101-11.203.2)

Positive action is to be taken to prevent the making of unnecessary records. Existing and proposed office procedures are to be subject to continuing examination by agency management with a view to determining their effect on recordmaking. Where justified, such procedures will be revised, consolidated, or eliminated to keep recordmaking to a minimum.

DISPOSITION OF FEDERAL RECORDS (SUBPART 101-11.4)

Formulation of records control schedules (101-11.401-3)

Nonrecord materials, such as extra copies of documents preserved for convenience of reference, stocks of processed documents, preliminary worksheets, and similar papers

RE: DESTRUCTION OF FBI FILES

Reurmemo to Mr. Jenkins dated 6/7/76. Enclosed are Write-ups by the Data Processing Section, Mechanical (Printing & Space Management) Section, & NCIC Section. The Exhibits Section, Property Procurement & Management Section, and Uniform Crime Reporting Section have advised that the 10 to 20 year retention plan would have no impact on their operations.

FBI/DOJ

JOHN J. MCDERMOTT
Ext. 3851, Room 7222

that need not be made a matter of record, shall not be incorporated in the official files of the agency. To the maximum extent possible, material not required for record purposes shall be disposed of; it should not be sent to file. In cases where transitory files of such materials are established and maintained in filing equipment, such files shall be controlled by means of instructions in the records control schedule.

DATA PROCESSING SECTION

The Data Processing Section (DPS) provides Automatic Data Processing (ADP) services to all Headquarters Divisions. The automated records generated as a result of such services, although physically maintained by DPS are essentially controlled by the user Division for whom the ADP services were rendered. DPS therefore defers to the appropriate user Division as to the disposition of all automated systems' records.

In regard to destruction of investigative files maintained at Headquarters under a 10 or 20 year retention plan; it should be noted that the soon-to-be implemented (10/1/76) File Automated Control System (FACS) would be of invaluable assistance in the effective operation of the program. If approved, FACS will have the capability of keeping track of those files which have been closed for either 10 or 20 years and thereby serve as an automated tickler for destruction of files. Additionally, FACS will provide statistics reflecting the frequency which closed or inactive files have been requested for file review or other purposes. This capability will allow a greater degree of selectivity to be applied to the destruction process in order that those files which are of continuing interest will not be routinely destroyed.

MECHANICAL SECTION
(PRINTING AND SPACE MANAGEMENT SECTION)
7/1/76

Files and materials, including layouts, drawings and photographs, relating to the J. Edgar Hoover FBI Building, should be retained for the maximum period possible, particularly in view of the fact that any phase of the construction is potential for suit as evidenced by the forthcoming civil action involving the Norair Company (the firm contracted by General Services Administration to construct the foundation to street phase of this building) and Washington, D. C., as to liability for repair of abounding streets.

These materials will often be utilized for reference purposes of building management in the planning of alterations and renovations as the need arises, particularly in view of the fact that our entire Headquarters operations and personnel are limited to the confines of this building.

Destruction of FBI Files - NCIC Section

Some NCIC records which consist of records of Federal (including FBI), state and local agencies may be retained in the NCIC data bank in on-line accessible form for a period greater than six years. The records in this category are (1) Wanted Persons, (2) Missing Persons, (3) Computerized Criminal Histories, and (4) Stolen/Missing Guns.

These retention periods have been subject to periodic review by NCIC users as well as the NCIC Advisory Policy Board (Board). At the Board meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana, April 27-28, 1976, the above retention periods were reaffirmed.

In addition, log tapes of all transactions in NCIC have been maintained since NCIC's inception. The possibility exists that, due to an appeal, information relating to a "hit" on an NCIC record may be relevant for an indefinite period of time. However, it is the opinion of the NCIC Section that the responsibility in retaining such evidentiary information should rest with the arresting/prosecuting agency. Placing such responsibility on NCIC would require that all positive responses be retained indefinitely as NCIC does not have the capability for distinguishing a "hit" which results in prosecution. Furthermore, the quality of the tapes after a prolonged period of time may be suspect and reliance on tapes may be ill-advised. It is, therefore, recommended that NCIC tapes be retained for a maximum of 10 years.

Memoranda relating to the formation of NCIC are in most cases less than 10 years old, however, it is recommended that NCIC memoranda dated prior to 1/27/67 be retained in as much as they document the beginnings of NCIC.

Reference is made to Decker to Mr. Jenkins memorandum dated 6/7/76, captioned "Destruction of FBI Files". The recommendation on this memorandum required a response by close of business 6/10/76. This is being changed to 7/1/76.
